"For many years I have been a constant sufferer from kidney trouble, and have tried a number of largely advertised kidney cures without benefit. At last a friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The use of eight bottles of this remedy entirely cured my malady."—MARY MILLER, 1235 Hancock Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

TRENT CANAL

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Hydraulic Lift Lock at Peterborough

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tenders for Hydraulic Lift Lock" at Peterborugh, will be received at this office up to noon on Tuesday, May 31st, 1898, for the construction of this Hydraulic Lift Lock.

Plans and specifications of the work can be seen at the office of the Chief Engineer of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, on and after the 5th. May, 1898, where forms of tender can be obtained by the parties tendering.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same, and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum $18,000 must accompany the tender; this accepted cheque must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The accepted cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
L. K. JONES,
Secretary.

Department of Railways and Canals,
Ottawa, 2nd May 1898.

Newspapers inserting this advertisement without authority from the Department will not be paid for it.

TESTIMONIALS:

The following are a few from scores as testimonials the Sergt-Major has from people who have used this preparation:

I have used Kenny's Hair Restorer for dandruff and falling out of my hair. It has removen the dandruff, and a few applications prevented my hair falling out. Three bottles of Kennys Hair Restorer has restored the hair on my head to its original state. I can in justice to the manufacturer recommend Kennys Hair Restorer from my own experience as the best remedy I have ever heard of for the prevention and cure of baldness, and I am sure it will accomplish all that it is claimed for it if properly applied as directed.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

FROM YESTERDAY'S EDITIONS

U. S. TROOPS TO MOVE

Washington, May 10.—The War Deartment officials admitted to-day that ll the regular troops now at Chickaauga had been ordered away. They efuse most positively to tell the exct destination of the troops, contendg that to do so would be simply to avite attacks by Spanish naval vesels upon the transports which will onvey them. The volunteers will take p the camp abandoned by the reguars in Chickamauga Park just as soon they can be gotten there so that he movement should begin almost imediately.

40,000 VOLUNTEERS

Washington, May 10.—Reports reeived at Adjutant-General Corbin's ofce up to this morning, show that 9,354 men had been mustered into the olunteer army of the United States. t is probable, however, by this time hat the actual number mustered in is bout 40,000 in round numbers.

RUN THE BLOCKADE

Madrid, May 10.—4 p.m.—A despatch eceived here from Havana this afteroon says the Spanish steamer Monterrat, which with a valuable cargo f troops and a large sum of money, ntended for Havana, which escaped he United States fleet and entered he port of Cienfuegos, Cuba, has now un the blockade of the American quadron and has entered the port of Havana in safety. It is claimed here hat this proves the blockade of the Cuan ports is ineffectual.

GETTING READY FOR CUBA

Washington, May 10.—It is hard to ell whether the naval officials were elieved or disappointed by the news hat came this afternoon to both the avy and State Departments to the ffect that the Spanish flying squadron ad arrived at Cadiz, Spain. The safety f the Oregon from attack is now completely assured and the way is clear or military operations in Cuba without running the risk of having the ccupying army line of communication ut off. On the other hand it is beieved that no enduring peace can be ecured until the Spanish navy has een destroyed and it now appears that o do this United States sailors must ake up their minds to go after the paniards, a task very much more dificult than that of meeting them near he American shore. It was suggestd by some of the members of the War Board that there was just a possibility that the Spanish squadron might make quick passage into the Pacific hrough the Suez Canal and attack Dewey at Manila. It is said that, contrary to the common understanding, the Suez Canal is open to warships of belligerent powers so that if the Spanish chose to take this course they would have a long start of any pursuing fleet from this side of the Atlantic. It is scarcely believed, however, that the Spanish are willing to take the great risk of exposing to attack their own home ports by the withdrawal of so considerable a proportion of their naval strength as would be required to overmatch Dewey. Nothing was heard from Admiral Sampson to-day, but there is a confident expectation that interesting news will be coming from his squadron within the next 24 hours. Whether this means an attack on Porto Rico or not cannot be learned.

One effect of the retreat of the Spanish fleet has been to hasten even more the preparation already under way for the despatching of military expeditions to Cuba. It has also caused a complete change in the concentration plans. Time is now believed to be the great factor. There is no longer opportunity to indulge in extensive drilling and practice manoeuvring. The regular army troops do not need it and desire to be thrown at once into the fray. Many of the regiments of the National Guard, which are entering the volunteer service, are felt to be sufficiently trained from a military point of view, to follow the regulars immediately and the department has indicated its purpose to-day of despatching these volunteer troops directly to the Gulf Coast for shipment, instead of sending them to Chickamauga. This disposition was shown by the change in the new orders issued to the troops although there yet may be a return to the original programme of concentration if the plans show signs of weakness as they develop. The Quartermaster-General has already gotten under charter 27 merchant steamers for the transportation of troops, and, roughly speaking, these should carry about 20,000 men. Others are being procured as rapidly as possible. The plan of the war department is to have these vessels assemble at the different gulf ports, Tampa, Mobile, New Orleans, and Galveston to take on troops which will be sent there. The navy department is expected to furnish convoys for these transports, which would be absolutely helpless against Spanish attack.

A BLOCKADE RUNNER.

On board the Associated Press Despatch boat Kate Spencer, Off Cardenas, May 9, via Key West, Fla., May 10.—The British tramp steamer Strathdee, Captain Currie, attempted to run the blockade yesterday, but was overhauled by the gunboat Machias. The captain of the Strathdee claimed that the vessel was loaded with sugar and that he had on board a number of Spanish refugees from Sagua la Grande. He also said that the steamer was bound for Matanzas, where it was desired to disembark some of the refugees. The commander of the Machias would not allow the steamer to proceed, whereupon the Strathdee put about and steamed away in the direction of New York.

ADMIRAL MONTEJO MURDERED.

London, May 10.—A special despatch from Shanghai says it is reported there that Admiral Montejo, the commander of the Spanish fleet, who escaped from Cavite by running along the shore to Manila with his two sons, was killed by the populace of the latter place.

It is added that the hospital of San Roque, filled with Spanish soldiers, was set on fire by shells from the Boston and that Sisters of Charity were killed while removing the wounded.

Massacres are reported to have occurred outside of Manila, the insurgents butchering even the Spanish women and children.

SPANISH TREACHERY.

Hong Kong, May 10.—A fresh example of Spanish treachery seems to have come to light. It is said there that the priests and Sisters of Charity of the Cavite Hospital, in a procession, bearing crosses, etc., petitioned Rear-Admiral Dewey not to massacre the sick and wounded, which, naturally, he did not do. The Spaniards, it is added, thereupon thanked the Americans for their humanity and repaid them by informing them of a narrow channel, which, they said, was not mined, and through which the sips could pass in safety, while the broad channel, they explained, was fully mined. An investigation on the part of the Americans, however, revealed the contrary to be the case, and the mines were blown up by the sailors of the American fleet, who, if they had accepted the word of the treacherous Spaniards, might, with all their ships, have been sent to the bottom. Rear-Admiral Dewey, it is said here, finds the insurgents growing dangerous. It is added that he cannot control them, nor scan he enable the Spaniards to do so. There is one Japanese warship at Manila.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

Alwin Croft had been many years a resident of Brandon, but originally he was an Eastern man. Detectives flocked to Brandon. They ferreted out many facts, they found much of the stolen property concealed in a cellar under the pavilion, of which no one knew. The servants in the house had never been aware that there was such a place. They found out that the masked men who were caught with Croft were old acquaintances, and men of bad records—professional crooks. They also unearthed another fact, Croft had been a burglar and safe-blower in his youth; his portrait was in the Rogues' Gallery, and he had served a term in the State prison.

CHAPTER III.

The events which followed her birthday party could never be forced into the background of Stella's memory. They stood out against the hazy sky of the past, clear and distinct—just as the disclosures came on her one by one, crowding and jostling each other, appalling her soul with shivering horror at the avalanche of disgrace which had descended upon her.

Algeron Van Cart left for New York after one interview with the girl to whom he had offered his hand and heart.

Stella had felt instinctively what his course would be. He would desert her at the first sound of the moaning breath of the coming storm.

She sent for him, and met him very calmly. She was in the parlor, surrounded by all the evidences of luxury and wealth. She looked pale and worn, yet stately as a queen.

"Mr. Van Cart," she said, bowing gracefully, "I sent for you to give you back your presents, some of which are too valuable to intrust to a messenger."

She held out a parcel neatly sealed.

"I am awfully sorry, Stella—Miss Sterling."

He was pale and agitated. He seemed anxious to say something, but his courage failed him.

"Please consider everything said that can be expressed under the circumstances."

"Oh, but, by Jove, you know, I can't do that. I never was in such a state in my life. I assure you, Stella, if it had only been the loss of the money, you know, it would not have made any difference; but when this other beastly affair, you know—when it comes to people being locked up—jail-brids, you see—regular thieves—'

Stella raised her hand for him to stop. A spasm of pain passed over her face.

"That will do,' she said, with dignity. "No more words. Take the jewels you once besought me to accept and leave me to myself."

She looked like a queen, and the duke shrank back and slunk out of the room, feeling for the first time in his life what a contemptible wretch was the elegant Algernon Van Cart.

Stella sank into a chair and buried her face in her hands. She had known how the first romance of her life would end, but the proof of despicable conduct on the part of the man whom she had loved was painful. How, indeed, could it be otherwise?

A knock on the door roused her.

She sat up and regained her composure instantly.

"A lady, Miss Edith Sloan, wishes to see you, Miss Stella,' said the servant.

"Show her in, Mason."

Edith Sloan had never been an intimate friend of Stella Stirling. Stella had been educated at a fashionable boarding-school in New York, while Edith had made the most of a somewhat shortened course at a public school. Her mother was too poor to spare even time to her daughter; money, she had absolutely none.

Edith was a handsome girl, with somewhat bold, black eyes, thick ebon hair, and an olive and red complexion. Her profile was like that of an Egyptian princess.

One of those odd, unaccountable resemblances to beings of another century, which occasionally crop up to puzzle one. Where had Edith Sloan, the daughter of two thoroughly American parents, got her side-face of an Eastern princess?

The girl came in, biting her lips, looking eagerly around, and tugging at her gloves nervously. She was embarrassed.

"Good-morning, Edith," said Stella, very quietly. She had quite recovered her composure.

"Ah, how do you do, Stella? I am afraid you may think I am intruding, but I could not stay away. I was so anxious to see you, for I want to ask you a favor."

Stella smiled, rather bitterly. Three days had elapsed since the apprehension of her step-father, and she already saw before her a changed world.

How like mockery seemed the recollection of her indignant exclamation, "My father is an honorable gentleman!"

Of all the friends who had so often sat at the hospitable board at Oakdean, very few had called to offer advice or sympathy to the stricken girl

Even the servants had changed; most of them were gone; Stella had paid them their wages, and dismissed them without one word of comment on her changed position.

Mason, the butler, remained, by his own request, until the house was sold. Stella had instructed her lawyer to dispose of it as soon as possible. Everything was to be given up; she refused to retain anything except the simplest articles of her apparel. The lawyer had remonstrated, but Stella was firm.

"Defend Mr. Croft, if you choose," she said.

"I fear it is useless," replied Mr. Dodd, "the evidence is overwhelming."

Stella turned away, crimson with mortification. No other words had passed her lips to any one on the subject of her step-father's disgrace.

"A favor of me, Miss Sloan?" she said haughtily. "Oh, I presume you mean this for a jest. I have always understood that you are esteemed witty."

Edith stared in amazement.

"A jest!" she repeated. "Why, Stella, how can you think such a thing? I'll tell you what I mean. May I sit down?"

"I beg your pardon. Take a seat."

"Now, I'll tell you. Mother's boarding-house is just going from bad to worse; we can't get along at all. My sister, Joe, is married, and mother made up her mind to let me go away from Brandon and see how I could get along in some big city; but she is afraid, to let me go by myself. She says I am too fond of fun and nonsense, which may be true. We heard that your were going to leave Brandon, and mother said that you have behaved so nobly that she knew you were going away to earn your own living, for you had given everything up. Now, what I want, Stella, is for you to let me go with you."

"But, Edith, I am almost penniless."

"Oh, I can pay my own fare; do not think I am going to expect you to keep me. No. I am very strong; of course, I am not accomplished like you; I may have to wait on table in some hotel or restaurant; but you can be a governess or something."

Stella pondered. Edith was not a congenial companion; she was too much spoiled by hard struggles with the world; Stella was naturally sensitive and refined, and Edith's careless way of speaking jarred on her; she had always pitied the girl, and invited her to join in all amusements at Oakdean, but she did not feel in accord with her at any time.

She hesitated; and Edith, who was not destitute of womanly intuition, guessed the reason.

"Now, Stella, you must not say 'No,' because I am such a rattle-brained creature; I shall try and grow just as like you as I can; see if I don't."

Stella's heart was touched; she placed her hand in the slim brown fingers, and said:

"Very well, Edith; let us set out together, partners in the business of battling with fate."

As Stella was about to pay a visit to her step-father in the jail, she bade Edith good-by until the following day, when they were to leave Brandon for Chicago.

LIVELY LAKEFIELD

A SPANISH VICTORY

The Majestic Defeated off Young's Point

Capt. Scollard Surrenders to the Enemy—Spanish Officer Disabled by a Flea in His Ear—The Majestic Completely Knocked Out.

Special to The Times from our own war correspondent.

Lakefield, North Pier, May 11.—Capt. Reynolds has just assumed command of the Golden City, with fire in his eye and 100 pounds of steam in the boiler. He is said to be a great fighter and much is expected of him.

Young's Point, May 11.—3 p.m.—Capt. Reynolds has just received a despatch from Capt. Scollard that he has enough slabs on board to cruise around for a week. The captain's hair has begun to curl with impatience, and as soon as he gets his piano unlocked the vessel will sail in search of gore. It is said that he hopes Tom Eastwood is on board the Majestic.

Belliss's Landing, May 11.—3.30 p.m.—The Majestic has just sighted a merchantman and has gone at full speed in pursuit

Belliss's Landing, May 11.—4 p.m.—The Majestic has just returned with the steamer "Tramp" in tow, which she captured on her way up the lake. This is looked upon by Capt. Scollard as a most important capture, as the Tramp was laden with a full cargo of goods consigned by Commodore Calcutt and Gooderham & Worts, to Jack Morgan, of McCraken's Landing. Experts have already tested the goods and have pronounced them to be of a high order of merit.

THE BATTLE AT LAST.

Young's Point, May 11.—6.43 p.m.—I have just returned on The Times special press boat from the scene of action, and having been refreshed with an ounce of Jim Kearney's best spirits fermenti, I shall proceed to forward full details. It was just 5.20, after the melodious sound of the Young's Point saw mill had died away in the distance, that the Majestic was out about half a mile, staggering under a load of canvas. Billy Casement remarked that he did not think it could be the Majestic as he had never known the commander to stagger while he was on a canvas, but he nevertheless proceeded to serve out the arms and to clear the decks for action. The Majestic got under way at once, running up the Stars and Stripes, she sailed to meet the enemy. When she got sufficiently near the Majestic fired a shot across the bow of her enemy, and the Spaniard hove to and threw to the breeze the glorious ensign of the Spanish nation, and the vessels drew near to each other with warlike determination, the special correspondent of the Times maintaining a good position to view the battle, and where he could hear the orders given by both commanders. The first shot came from the Majestic, and was evidently an aged cheese captured from the cheese factory, for it dirtied the City's sails unmercifully. The worst injury inflicted was the disabling of the Reeve of Lakefield, who was in command of the marines on board the City, and who was struck in the ear. He was carried below and his ininjuries attended to by Dr. Bell, surgeon of the vessel. An examination, however, revealed the fact that the wound had not been caused by the shot, but by a flea that had been put in his ear by Ensign Couch, of the Times staff, concerning fire protection for the village. A couple of the aldermen sang him to sleep with a song on "economy," and he was lost to further participation in the hostilities. The fight continued with vigor, Major Strickland using the machete, and the Majestic replying nobly with shot and shell, with telling effect.

At this stage of the fight, the Sunbeam hove in sight, having been taking on supplies in the meantime at Corporal Billy Macfarlane's, and staggered under the heavy load thus assumed. But before she got her guns trained on the enemy, the Majestic fired another ancient cheese, spattering the commander's shirt front in a horrible manner. The captain turned pale, as the odiferous substance trickled down inside his vest, and in a trembling, tearful voice, he ordered his flag to be hauled down, for as he said: "I never could fight in a dirty shirt."

Meanwhile the battle raged with great vigor, the battleships exchanging shots with the utmost rapidity, and much injury was inflicted. Suddenly Lieut. Munro was seen to throw up his hands and fall to the deck, his head striking upon the handle of his machete and seriously wounding him. At first it was thought that he had been struck with some more cheese, but inquiry revealed the fact that he had not been struck by the enemy, that he had just received the awful tidings that the City's ammunition was exhausted. The situation was a critical one, indeed,—two officers disabled and no ammunition on board. Truly it was an occasion calculated to make the strongest tremble. But the Spanish Jew who had engaged as cook, Senor Billy Bowman, was equal to the occasion.

"Carrambo!" he muttered between his teeth. "I will make the galled jade wince," and he sent down to the storeroom and had a large quantity of second hand fish brought up on deck, and this he fired at Capt. Scollard. At first the Majestic'c commander was puzzled at the odor, but as the fins and tails and the smell began to assail him thicker and thicker, he saw that all hope of success was futile. He had traded in many old things, but he couldn't handle second-hand fish, and reluctantly and sorrowfully he struck his flag and surrendered to the enemy, which, by this means, secured another good fighting ship in the Majestic and at the same time released the Tramp and gave Captain White a chance to go home and get his shirt washed.

The Golden City, the Tramp, and the prize Majestic, at once sailed for Lakefield, and it is said that Major Strickland is a proud man over his signal victory.

WAR NOTES.

Gen. Trimble will not be able to participate in the war. He was hit in the hat during the last conflict and has been half-shot ever since.

Major Simpson has been attacked by his old enemy, rheumatism, and will not be able to get out until after the war.

Col. Brown's wife has been made so nervous by so much talk of hostilities that the colonel coundn't think of leaving her.

Captain Brown is suffering with winter hay fever and has gone to Stoney Lake for several months. He confidently expects to be cured by the time the war is over.

Major Petty has lately been under the doctor's care for an affection of the ears. His hearing has suddenly become so acute that the least sound gives him much pain. The firing of guns, he thinks, would drive him crazy, and, much as he would like to go, he is afraid he will not recover in time to participate in the war.

Progress of the Canal

Messrs. Brown, Love and Aylmer, who have the contract from Lakefield to Nassau, have over one hundred men at work between these points. They expect in the near future to double this force, and, if possible, treble it. Among other things, they are at present finishing the abutments for the high level bridge, the iron work of which has been shipped to them. On their section there were four dams to construct—three of these have been completed. The contractors expect to complete their section about the middle of next summer. There is one section of thirteen miles near Lake Simcoe yet unlet. If this were let and hurried to completion along with the others, the Trent valley canal would not be a matter of future history very long.

The mechanics and skilled laborers employed by Brown & Co. mostly come from Peterborough. The unskilled laborers live nearly all of them in Lakefield. There have been forty carpenters at work since the middle of February. In order to expeditiously prepare the timber used it was necessary to have a special planer built. The one in use here will plane oak twenty-four feet long. Six of the lock-gates have been finished and the others are nearing completion.

A peculiar feature of this work is the apparatus used for mixing cement. It is known as a "mixer," and the two in use here are the first introduced in Canada. The mixer consists of a diamond shaped box which revolves about fifteen times a minute. This has an opening into which the cement and other ingredients are dumped. This is then closed and the box sent revolving. In about two minutes the cement, stone, &c., are thoroughly mixed. The opening, which when being filled, was on top, is now on the bottom and the mixture is dumped into a carrier, which conveys it to the place of storage. Messrs. Brown & Co. have two of these mixers, one with a capacity of 1 1-2 cubic yards, the other being just twice as large.

Bicycle Parade

All bicyclists should be on hand at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-night at 7.30 p.m., to join in the illuminated parade. There will be a deal of sport. and no can afford not to be present. Lanterns can be held at the rooms and placed on wheels without any trouble.

A Great Improvement

The C. P. R. are equipping a large number of their passenger cars, says an exchange, with the wide vestibules on the folding principle, the result of which, when in use, will be to convert each train into a continuous structure enabling passengers to pass from one car to another without going into the open air. One great advantage of the system will be to increase speed, as the resistance of the atmosphere will not exert its force upon the ends of the cars. The vestibule will be unfolded as soon as the train has left the station.

MR. AND MRS. HENDERSON

Are Made the Recipients of a Farewell Address and Presentation

After the Monday evening meeting of the Mark street E. L. of C.E. a farewell address and presentation was made to Mr. and Mrs. S. Henderson, who have been actively associated with the church here, but who are removing to Trehern, Manitoba.

The presentation was made by Miss Emma F. Smith and consisted of a handsome piece of silverware, and the address, which was as follows, was read by Mr. M. W. Matchett:

Mark St., Ashburnham, May 9, 1898.
To Mr. and Mrs. S. Henderson:

Dear Friends,—As you are soon to take your departure from our midst, we feel that we could not let the opportunity pass without expressing to you the deep regret we feel in parting with you, both as fellow Christian workers and as friends.

Your cheerful readiness to assist in the various departments of Christian work here has furnished an example worthy of imitation by each and all of us. We assure you it will not soon be forgotten by us, and it will also be remembered by Him who has said: "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these, ye did it unto me."

Our prayer is that you, with all of us, may continue in the service of Him who will at least reward us, and in future

"Though sundered far, by faith we'll meet Around one common mercy seat."

As a slight indication of the high esteem in which each of you is held by us, we ask you to accept this token of our good will towards you, and of our good wishes for the future happiness and prosperity of yourselves and your little daughter.

Signed on behalf of your many friends at Mark street, Ashburnham,

KNOX VS. MCNEILLY

Mrs. McNeilly to Give an Account of Her Stewardship

Knox vs. McNeilly.—This case was concluded yesterday morning. The plaintiff, John Knox, is a farmer residing in Asphodel and the defendant, who is the wife of Robert McNeilly and widow of the late Thos. Scott, lives in the same township.

The plaintiff, who is sole surviving executor of the will of the late Thos. Scott, asks that the estate now be divided up amongst his children, the youngest of whom is now of age and claims that Mrs. McNeilly refuses to give an account of her trusteeship, which he desires the court to compel.

The defendant states that she already has divided the estate.

Judgment was delivered yesterday morning in favor of the plaintiff as claimed. The defendant, Mrs. McNeilly, is ordered to account to the plaintiff for all monies come to her hand of the estate of the late Thos. Scott, and for this purpose, as well for the administration and final winding up of the estate of the late Thos. Scott, the matter is referred to the Master (Judge Weller) at Peterborough. Hall & Hayes for plaintiff; G. J. Sherry for defendant.

Edmund Johns vs. Jas. McNeilly et al.—In this case the plaintiff is suing to recover land given to his daughter on the understanding that she was to pay to him a certain sum annually.

The defendants deny that there was any agreement to pay such sum.

In this action an agreement was come to between the parties and judgment was entered in terms of consent, minutes filed.

G. J. Sherry, of Norwood, for plaintiff; W. A. F. Campbell, Norwood, for adult defendants; Hall & Hayes for infant defendants.

The case of Stethem vs. Consolidated Gold Mining Co., the last case on the docket, and was not finished when the court rose.

High Wheat

On the local market yesterday the bidding on wheat was brisk and advanced at about two o'clock to $1.15 per bushel. In Chicago $1.75 was offered Tuesday for May wheat.

The Late Mrs. Baxter

On Tuesday one of the pioneer settlers of Otonabee township joined the great majority. The deceased lady, who was eighty-one years of age, was of Irish descent. She was counted among the earliest settlers of Otonabee township, and during her long residence there endured all the hardships incident to an early settler's life in the almost unbroken wilderness of years ago. She really died of old age, no special ailment being detected. The wheel of life simply stood still and her passing away was without pain—like a peaceful sinking into sleep. Mrs. Baxter's maiden name was Abigail Hall, and she was united in marriage to her late husband, James Baxter (who departed this life at the age of 73, in 1887,). in the year 1839. Mrs. Baxter was a Methodist and worshipped, in her years of activity, at Salem church. She leaves behind her four sons and one daughter. The sons are James, of British Columbia; Frank, of Ashburnham; Robert, of Harvey street, Peterborough; and Isaac, of Otonabee. Miss Baxter resided with her mother till the time of her death. The funeral takes place to-day from the homestead residence, lot 26, in the 10th concession of Otonabee, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Killed his Horse

Mr. W. J. Hall thought he would take a day off a short time ago, and have some sport. He loaded up his best gun "to the muzzle" and hitched up his fastest horse and started for his farm, situated on the banks of the picturesque Otonabee, about four or five miles from town. Mr. Hall was after groundhogs, and he soon came across one. He had tied his horse to a sapling and had only gone a couple of dozen yards away from his rig when a large groundhog appeared. He turned and fired, the ball striking a tree and glancing, entered the breast of the horse and killed it on the spot. Mr. Hall's loss, we learn, is heavy, as the horse was a valuable one. People should either take snow shoes or a bicycle when they go gunning.

LYRIC COMEDY CO.

A Deserving Entertainment at Bradburn's Opera House Last Night

The concert given last night in the Opera House by Miss Nella Robinson, Mr. Wilkes Stewart, Mr. J. Nevin Doyle and Mr. Walter Mills, was one of the treats of the season. The attendance was not what the concert deserved, but the audience was a very enthusiastic one. Mr. Mills opened the programme with a piano solo, which was well played and warmly received. A comedy—"Breaking the Ice"—by Miss Robinson and Mr. Stewart was a pretty piece of work, and received generous applause. Mr. Doyle sang "Dear Heart," and in response to an encore he sang "The Yeoman's Wedding Song." He was in grand voice and appeared to the very best advantage. A selection from Richard III. by Mr. Stewart was well interpreted. Miss Robinson in a monologue, "Naughty Zell," was splendid. Mr. Doyle again sang and gave as his number and encore, "Love's Proving," and "Skippers of St. Ives." A comedy, "The Silent System," by Mr. Stewart and Miss Robinson closed the programme. It was a most delightful little piece and caused plenty of laughter.

To-night the company will appear in an entire change of programme and we would bespeak for them a full house.

RELEASED ON BAIL

The Hendren Cases to be Tried at the Court Next Monday

Messrs. Bert Hendren, Stanley Hendren and John Hendren drove up from Norwood yesterday morning and surrendered themselves to answer to the charge of assault, in preventing a constable in the execution of his duty. This is the first step to follow from the episode that occurred in Norwood Monday, of which an account was published in yesterday's Times. At the court yesterday morning they were all released on their own recognizance to appear next Monday.

William Hendren was also admitted to bail on his bond for $200. He is to appear for trial on Monday also.

Grand Deputy High Chief Ranger Brown Does Some Excellent Work

Court Chemong is booming these times and the membership has been increased considerably within the last few days.

Geo. N. Brown, G. D. H. C. R., has been with "the boys" and has done excellent work. Within a few days Mr. Brown has written about 25 applications. At the special meeting on Monday night quite a number of these were duly initiated.

By his courteous and kindly manner, Mr. Brown has won for himself a number of friends, who will regret that his stay in town is limited.

Court Chemong is rapidly forging ahead and Mr. Brown's work is much appreciated by the members.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Interesting Items of Local and District Happenings in Brief

—A regular meeting of the Peterborough Historical Society will be held in the museum, Inverlea, this evening at eight o'clock.

—Hon. Wm. Patterson, Controller of Customs, has notified the Lindsay Council that that town has been made a port of entry for the steamers plying on the inland waters.

—Lindsay is going in for street improvement. It has been decided to macadamize William street from Kent street to the station under the supervision of Provincial Road Commissioner Campbell, who will make this street a model for the Council to follow.

—The 24th is going to be a big day in Norwood. Entertainment for afternoon and evening is being provided for by the High School. In the afternoon there will be two games of football in addition to the Caledonian sports that are being arranged. In the evening a grand concert will be held.

—On Saturday morning Miss Elson of the South Central staff, took her class of fifty little children, out into the country. They went to Chamberlain's woods, where they spent half a day wandering through the woods gathering May flowers and enjoying the fresh air and bright sunshine. This is becoming an annual event to which Miss Elson's pupils eagerly look forward.

—A Harvey township man arrived here yesterday on the Esturion from Bobcaygeon intending to take the 11 o'clock train for Uncle Sam's domain. He happened to have forgotten to square accounts with a Bobcaygeon business man, and was reminded of the fact by Chief Bell immediately upon landing. He was of course profuse in his apologies—"didn't really know how he could have been so careless," etc., and finally handed over the money. He did not leave after having been compelled to pay the amount in that way.—Lindsay Post.

—East week while Mr. Nelson was ploughing a sod field on Mr. Eli Terrill's farm, near Trenton, the plough caught in some bones and upon digging and investigating they found it to be the body of an Indian, buried with his face down. Most of the bones were apparently sound, especially the teeth. He had thirty-two teeth which are sound yet and which Mr. Terrill will keep as a relic. There was found by the body two rusty blades of knives. A piece of flint stone, used for striking fires, a silver buckle, two bright copper buttons, a flitn lock off a gun, a small piece of pure silver and several pieces of cut stone. This body had been buried on a knoll and to the depth of about four feet. The furrow had been always thrown in the one direction when ploughing that field and thereby the knoll has been ploughed away leaving the body near the surface.

APSLEY

SUDDEN DEATH.

It is with deep regret that we have to chronicle the very sudden death of one of our oldest settlers, Mr. Richard Lean, who left here last Wednesday morning in apparently robust health for the purposes of seeking work on the Trent Valley Canal. The deceased was a man well up in years, being 62. He started to walk to Lakefield, and, we presume, on reaching Burleigh Falls was overfatigued with his journey and unable to eat anything substantial, took instead an alcholic stimulant, which had a weakening effect on his overtaxed strength, overcome by fatigue and his long fast, he appears to have laid down by the roadside to rest, and the night being very cold the exposure was too much for his system. On being found he was unconscious and never regained his senses. An inquest was held here by Coroner Bell and a post mortem examination made by Drs. Fraser and Caldwell. A verdict of death by exposure was rendered. His surviving relatives have the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community is such a sad and sudden bereavement. Truly, in the midst of life we are in death.

NOTES.

The Agricultural Society are making preparations to get their new show ground in shape for the fall show. When finished it will be as good a ground for the purpose as can be found anywhere within the county.

The farmers are busy seeding. The season is rather earlier here than usual.

Our bicycle artiste has entirely recovered from the effects of the loss of the combination between himself and the bike and the attachment of the ground to himself.

Our worthy Reeve is forever busy bustling about looking after the interests of his constituents, and seeing to repairs on the roads. He intends taking his clerical boarders on a fishing expedition shortly. We will chronicle the catch on his return. They will be pretty sure to get lots of bites, as the black flies are out in full force.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Mr. E. J. Soilsbury, of Toronto, was in town Wednesday.

Mr. J. H. Brandon, of Fenelon Falls, was in town yesterday on business.

Mr. Thomas Bradburn is still confined to his house with illness.

Mr. E. G. Porter, of Victoria University, Toronto, is down for a week from college.

Messrs. A. White and Ozias de Laplante are down from Osgoode Hall for the vacation.

Mr and Mrs. W. J. Bennett have returned to town after a lengthy visit to the Old country.

Mr John Hart, of this town, spent a few days in Lindsay, the guest of his son, Dr. Hart.

Messrs. Henry Greene, W. J. Scott and W. Faint, are registered at the Simpson House to-day.—Lindsay Post.

Mr. Dickson Hall, of the firm of Richard Hall & Son, left for Toronto yesterday morning on a business trip.

Mr W. J. English has been in Toronto since Monday on business.

Mr. W. S. Given, of the Millbrook Reporter, was in town yesterday.

Mr. P. H. Macarrow, of Kingston, assistant post office inspector, was in town yesterday, making his inspection of the local office.

Mr. Andrew Scott left yesterday for Toronto, where he is entering the office of Dr. Risk, dentist, corner of Yonge and Richmond streets. Andy was a great favorite in town.

Mr. A. P. Coleman, Ph. D., of the Ontario Mining Department, was in town yesterday. It is understood he is here making arrangements for outfitting a surveying and prospecting party that will visit some of the Northern mining properties.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Henderson and daughter Muriel, left on Tuesday evening for Trehern, Manitoba, where Mr. Henderson has secured a good position. They will be much missed here as they have made many friends by their uniform courtesy and kindness.

The feature of the past week has been the increased demand for War Eagle, Iron Mask, Josie, Athabasca, Deer Park, Noble Five, Monte Christo, Con., Van Anda, Smuggler, Tin Horn, Northern Belle, and B. C. Gold Fields, all of which at present market prices are good investments, and, as the market is a rising one, now is a most opportune time to purchase.

Notwithstanding the unsettled state of the industrial market, the present indications bear out our previous prediction that the mining stock market is firmly established, and prices must advance owing to the active development work now being vigorously prosecuted both in Ontario and British Columbia, and especially in the Rossland camp. We are informed on reliable authority that the capacity of the Trail smelter will be immediately doubled to 500 tons per day. This will have a decidedly favorable effect upon all the mines in this vicinity.

Later work on Iron Mask is proving the rich strike recently made upon it. The best proof of the intrinsic value of this stock lies in the fact that in the face of a lawsuit not yet being settled, large buying orders have come from the West for the stock, and from insiders.

Mr. Mulholland, of the Deer Park, is now at Rossland, and will double the force at the mine, and commence shipping immediately. This stock we consider worth a great deal more than present quotations, and a good buy. We also note that work has been commenced on the Evening Star at Rossland and the Noble Five at Slocum. We consider the latter stock in the same position, adopting the same methods of development, and backed by the same class of strong holders, as the War Eagle, and look to see the stock worth much more than the present price. In fact, if we were asked for a pointer we think we could conscientiously recommend "Noble Five" as one of the best.

We enclose herewith prospectus of the Frontenac Lead Mining and Smelting Company. We desire our customers to know that we confidently recommend this stock. It is only capitalized for $55,000, which in itself is a recommendation. We understand that no money will be spent in the acquisition of properties. Application has been made to Parliament for an export duty on lead ores. This will mean that the lead industry will be decidedly benefitted, and we predict a boom in lead. We can offer 1,000 shares of this stock in lots of twenty-five shares upwards at 60 cents a share. After this small block has been disposed of no other stock will be offered at less than par or a premium.

We have at present buying orders for "Eureka Con.", "Josie," "Monte Christo, War Eagle, Old Ironsides (Boundary), Big Three and Iron Mask. We shall be pleased to fill all orders, whether buying or selling, and promise prompt attention and returns. Write or wire orders.

BOMBARDING PORTO RICO

London, May 12.—A despatch from Lloyd's agent at St. Thomas says the American fleet is bombarding San Juan de Poto Rico.

CRUMBLING AWAY

London, May 12.—News is said to have been received here from Hayti saying the fortifications of San Juan de Porto Rico are rapidly crumbling under the bombardment of the American fleet.

FRIENDLY NEUTRALITY

Berlin, May 12.—The semi-official North German Gazette this afternoon, in denying a reported interview between Emperor William and the United States ambassador, Mr. Andrew D. White, relative to the German Government's attitude toward the United States says: "The Americans cannot doubt the character of our strict and perfectly loyal neutrality after the repeated official declarations." Let this also be a hint to the English, French and Austrian papers which are so anxious to represent the Government and public opinion of Germany as hostile to the president and people of the United States. The Imperial policy has a right to feel confident that its more than a century old friendship to a state in which millions of Germans have found a second home will not be destroyed without urgent reasons.

SPANISH WARSHIPS APPROACHING NEW ENGLAND COAST

Portsmouth, N. H., May 12.—Rear Admiral Carpenter, the Commandant at the navy yards here received a despatch from Rear Admiral Erben at New York this afternoon, informing him that the Rear Admiral had information which he considered accurate that the Spanish warships were heading towards the New England coast. Commandant Carpenter immediately informed the Mayor, and Mayor Tilton at once telephoned Governor Ramsdell and telegraphed the authorities at Washington for the necessary orders to bring the New Hampshire troops to Portsmouth as soon as possible. Nothing has been seen off this coast or reported by incoming vessels at this port to furnish a foundation for Rear Admiral Erbin's message, but authorities are moving quickly.

New York, N.Y. May 12.—At the office of Rear-Admiral Erbin, commander of the Mosquito fleet, it was said that the notice to naval officers in the New England district were in accordance with the custom of forwarding all information that might prove useful. The despatch referred to was based upon the report brought in by the officers of the steamer Wenontic, which arrived in New York to-day that they had sighted what they believed to be foreign war vessels yesterday morning off Nantucket. It was thought likely, however, that the vessel assumed to be a Spanish torpedo boat destroyer, was a United States torpedo boat.

SHARE IN THE VICTORY

London, May 12.—There are unmistakeable signs that the Continental powers have already taken steps to share in the fruits of the American victory at Manila. Germany, as intimated to the United States, it is said, here expects to have a voice in the disposition of the Philippine Islands, basing her claim on German interests in these islands. If the United States takes possession of Hawaii during the present war with Spain, it is believed Europe will endeavor to insist that the occupation of Hawaii was an incident of the war and the continental powers will desire to include Hawaii in the appointment of territory perhaps as a partial offset against the Philippine Islands. In the best informed circles confidence is expressed that the United States will not be permitted to acquire such strength in the far east as is involved in the occupation of the Philippine Islands and Hawaii without recognizing with the powers. Great Britain, on the contrary—as the Associated Press has the best grounds for asserting—desires the United States to retain the Philippine Islands even in preference to taking them herself.

GERMANS ARE DISGUSTED.

Berlin, May 12.—The return of the Spanish squadron from the Cape Verde Islands to Cadiz disgusts the Germans. The newspapers indulge in the bitterest invectives against Spain, which they say has completely relinquished her West Indian possessions without a blow. It is generally recognized that the return of the fleet will be followed in Spain by a popular upheaval, which will seal the doom of the Alfonsist dynasty.

The friends of Don Carlos say he is absolutely certain of the throne.

PURCHASING CANADIAN POTATOES.

For the past week a representative of the American Government has been quietly accumulating the stocks of potatoes that are in the farmers hands. The representative of the American Government is Mr. Findlay, of Galt, and already he has secured all the available stocks in the neighborhood of Orangeville. The potatoes are for the use of the army, and as there is a scarcity of tubers in the United States owing to the short crop last season, the representative in Ontario is instructed to secure all he can regardless of cost.

The big shipment made yesterday of 11 carloads were sent through by Mr. Findlay.

PORTO RICO BEING BOMBARDED.

Washington, D. C., May 12.—Two despatches have been received by Secretary Long from Capt. Goodrich, of the scout boat St. Louis, but they did not give any information of any bombardment of San Juan or Porto Rico. Secretary Long had not, up to 11 o'clock to-day, heard anything from Admiral Sampson. An unofficial despatch was made public here to-day and said the bombardment of Porto Rico was in progress and that the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius had been blown up. There was confirmation of the spatch.

A CRUSHING DEFEAT.

New York, May 12.—A despatch to the Herald from Key West says: Your correspondent was informed by the captain of the Vicksburg, when he hailed that vessel Wednesday, that news had reached the blockading fleet of an action between Rear-Admiral Sampson's squadron and the Spanish Cape Verde fleet east of Hayti, in which the latter had sustained a crushing defeat.

BOMBARDING SAN JUAN.

New York, May 12.—A special from Port de France, Martinique, says the American squadron of nine ships are now bombarding San Juan, Porto Rico.

SHOT CRASHED INTO HER BOILER.

Key West, May 12.—The battle of Cardenas, while it lasted, was terrific. The Wilmington and the Hudson were ahead and opened fire on the Spanish boats which were lying at the docks. The firing began at a range of 3,500 yards.

A few minutes after the firing begun the Winslow came up and also opened fire. In an instant the entire attention of the Spanish gunboats and land batteries were directed upon her. From all sides shot and shell seemed to pour in upon the little torpedo boat.

The Wilmington and the Hudson still kept up their fire, but they could not turn aside the terrible storm of fire and death pouring in upon the torpedo boat.

The crew of the Winslow, however, never faltered for a second. But at 2.35 p.m., a solid shot crashed into the hull of the Winslow and knocked out her boiler. In an instant she began to roll and drift helplessly.

Then there was a moment of awful suspension. A fierce cheer of triumph went up from the Spaniards on the gunboats and fire was opened upon the helpless boat. The gunboat Hudson, which was lying near by, started to the assitance of the Winslow. She ran alongside the torpedo boat and tried to throw a line to the imperilled crew.

Up to this time, with the exception of the one shot which disabled the boiler of the Winslow, the firing of the Spanish gunboats had been wild, but as the Winslow lay rolling in the water, the range grew closer and shells began to explode all about her. It was difficult for the Hudson to get near enough to throw a line to the Winslow's crew, so terrible was the fire all about her. Finally, after trying for about 20 minutes the Hudson approached near enough to throw a line.

Ensign Bagley and six men were standing in a group on the deck of the Winslow.

"Heave her, heave her,' shouted Bagley, as he looked toward the commander of the Hudson and called for a line. "Don't miss it," shouted an officer from the Hudson, and with a smile, Bagley called back: "Let her come, it's getting too hot here for comfort."

The line was thrown and at the same instant a shell burst in the very midst of the group of men on board the Winslow

Bagley was instantly killed and a few others dropped by him. Half a dozen more fell groaning on the bloodstained deck. One of the dead men pitched headlong over the side of the boat, but his feet caught in the iron rails and he was hauled back. Bagley lay stretched on the deck, with his face completely torn away and the upper part of his body shattered. The Hudson succeeded in getting a line on board the Winslow and was towing her out of range, when the line parted and again both boats were at the mercy of the Spanish fire. Finally the Hudson was successful in her attempt.

Killed—Worth Bagley, ensign U.S.N.; John Varveres, oiler; J. Denefe, fireman, first class, and Elijah B. Tunnell, cabin cook.

Wounded—J. B. Bernadou, lieutenant, commanding Winslow; Wm. Patterson, seriously, but not fatally; Daniel W. McKeon, quartermaster, first-class, slightly hurt.

The names of Denefe and Patterson do not appear on the department muster roll of the Winslow and are probably other names misspelt. The vessels blockading Cardenas were the gunboat Machias, torpedo boats Foote and Winslow and revenue cutter Hudson.

AMERICAN FORCES REPELLED.

Havana, via Kingston, Jamaica, May 12.—Early yesterday morning an American expedition attempted to land upon Cuban soil near the port of Cienfuegos on the south coast of the island, but was repulsed with heavy losses.

The engagement was one of the hottest which has occurred since the commencement of hostilities in the neighborhood and showed not only that the Spaniards, when equally matched, are good fighters, and also that in the present case, they had information supplied by some traitor which enabled them to make such preparations as were successful in driving back a strong force of invaders.

When daylight broke yesterday morning the inhabitants of Cienfuegos saw to the east of them four American warships anchored within easy range of the land in a small bay with smooth and shelving beach about two miles away. The commandante of the Spanish troops, upon being apprised of the fact, took a look at the vessels through his field glass, and must evidently have been possessed of the American naval signal code, for he was able to make out the signal, "'Prepare to land expedition,' floating from the forepeak of one of the vessels. As there was no artillery at Cienfuegos save the heavy ordinance mounted on the fortifications, he at once telegraphed to Clara, which is on the line of railway some thirty miles away, and where the garrison had a couple of Maxims and a light field gun. These were put upon a special train, and together with their gunners, arrived at Cienfuegos in about an hour.

Meanwhile the preparations to land the American expedition was well advanced. Boats had been lowered and were rapidly being filled with men. The Spanish artillery, followed by several companies of infantry on horses, started to the point of landing at a gallop. They arrived there at the moment when steam launches towing loaded with men left the sides of the ships for the shore. At the asme moment the guns of the war vessels opened fire upon them to cover the landing.

The Spanish artillery wheeled into poistion behind a small grove of trees and opened a galling fire upon the advancing boats, being seconded by the infantry from the shelter of an adjoining block house. After advancing to within a hundred yards of the shore the boats were compelled to return, one of them having been sunk, though the crew were picked up by their fellows, and many of their men having been struck. They returned to the ships and shortly afterwards attempted a landing on the other side of the bay, the launches towing the boats up a small river. Here two attempts were made and both were repelled by a hot artillery and rifle fire. The artillery practice on the American vessels was poor and was, of course, greatly hampered by the fear of striking the boats' crews when at close quarters with the Spaniards. After fighting for eight hours the warships took their men on board again and put to sea. The casualties among the Spaniards are reported to amount to 20 killed and wounded, while the Americans are said to have lost thirty men killed and 50 wounded.

THE GUNBOAT TECUMSEH LOST.

Washington, May 12.—The gunboat Tecumseh, of the United States navy, it is reported here, was blown up in a fight off Cienfuegos, Cuba. No official confirmation of the loss of the vessel has been reached. The Tecumseh was formerly the tug Edward Luclenbach, of New York. She was commanded by Lieut. C. R. Evans.

TEMERARIO AT SAN NICOLAS.

Buenos Ayres, Argentina, May 12.—The Spanish torpedo gunboat Temerario has arrived at San Nicolas, on the Parana, fifty miles below Rosario. It is said she is on her way to Paraguay.

CARDENAS BOMBARDED.

London, May 12.—Cardenas has been again bombarded by the American fleet. The warships appeared off the city yesterday and engaged the defences with a well directed fire. The bombardment of Cardenas was simultaneous with that of Cienfuegos. Three warships took part in it. The American warships then entered the bay and opened a hot fire on the batteries on shore. Many shells dropped in the city. The Spanish gunboats Antonio Lopez began a feeble resistance, but a shell from one of the warships sank her. The Americans also attempted to land several botas, also attempted to land several boats, them back. Several bands of Cubans in the vicinity tried to co-operate with the American force, but gave little aid. Cardenas was one of the points selected by the military strategists at which to land troops for the invasion of Cuba. The transprot Gussie, which left Tampa on Tuesday with two companies of the First Infantry and arms and ammunition for the insurgents was under orders, it is believed, to effect a landing on the north coast of Cuba, near Havana. It is believed the bombardment of Cardenas was a preliminary step to the attempted landing of this expedition.

FOUR MEN KILLED.

Key West, May 12.—There was an engagement off Cardenas near Matanzas yesterday at one o'clock in the afternoon. The United States cruiser Wilmington, Commander C. C. Todd; the torpedo boat Winslow and the auxiliary gunboat Hudson were engaged. One officer and three men were killed and several were wounded.

THE DEAD MEN ARRIVE.

Key West, May 12.—The United States gunboat Hudson came in this morning with the remains of Ensign W. Bagley and three others of the crew of the torpedo boat Winslow, who were killed in an engagement in Cardenas Harbor yesterday afternoon

LIST OF THE WOUNDED.

Key West May 12.—The United States vessels entered the harbor for the purpose of attacking some Spanish gunboats which were known to be there, but the latter were not discovered by the American forces until the Spaniards opened fire. The land batteries of Cardenas supported the Spanish gunboats. The engagement lasted for about an hour. The wounded are R. E. Cox, gunner's mate; D. McKeown, quartermaster; J. Patterson, fireman; F. Gray and Lieut. J. B. Bernadow. All are slightly wounded, except Patterson, whose condition is serious.

THE TEMERARIO WAS INJURED.

Buenos Ayres, May 12.—The Span. gunboat Temerario was damgaed in a storm at sea and is now proceeding up the Parana River in search of a place where she may repair her damages.

DETAILS OF THE FIGHT.

Key West, May 12.—The Hudson managed to get another line of the deck of the Winslow, but there were only three men left there at that time to make it fast.

The line was finally secured and the Winslow was towed up to Pedras Island, where she was anchored, with her dead and wounded on her decks. There some men of the Hudson went on board the Winslow and took the most seriously wounded men off. Three of the latter were taken on board the gunboat Machias and died there shortly afterwards.

Commander Bernadou, of the Winslow, was wounded in the left leg, but not seriously. Lying in the cabin of the Hudson this morning he received a representative of the Associated Press and told the story fo the fight. He said: "We went into the harbor under orders. The torpedo boat Winslow was the worst injured. She had five of her men killed and I don't know how many injured.

"The Winslow was ordered by the commander of the Wilmington to go into the harbor of Cardenas and attack the Spanish gunboats there. We steamed in under a full head and were fired upon as soon as we were in range. The Spanish boats were tied up at the docks and had a fair range on us. The batteries on shore also opened on us and I think we received most of the fire. I don't know whether any one was hurt on the Wilmington or on the Hudson, but I think not.

"I have no fault to find with the Winslow's crew. They acted nobly all the way through. The men who were killed all fell at the same time. We were standing in a group and the aim of the Spanish was perfect. The shell burst in our very faces."

The dead and wounded brought here by the Hudson were taken ashore, in small boats, to the Government dock. This was the first news of the engagement to reach Key West. No

At a reception held in a great hall in England not long ago, says the Ladies' Home Journal, Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone were honored guests. During the evening it happened that Mr. Gladstone was in a gallery directly above the place in the parquet where Mrs. Gladstone was chatting with some ladies. In the course of their conversation a question arose which the ladies could not settle satisfactorily. Finally one said: "Well, there is One above who knows all things, and some day He will make all things plain to us." "Yes, yes," replied Mrs. Gladstone, "William will be down in a minute, and he will tell us all about it."

time was lost in ministering to the wounded. A quick call was sent to the Marine Hospital and an ambulance came clattering down to the dock. The dead were taken to Baker's undertaker shop and the wounded were conveyed to the hospital.

Ensign Bagley was about 26 years old and, while the fleet was stationed here, he was one of the most popular men in the service. The news of his death came as a terrible shock to all who knew him.

It has always been a foregone conclusion that the torpedo boat men would be among the first to fall, as their work is most dangerous. But, in spite of this, when the fleet was stationed here and changes in assignments were frequently made all the young men of the service were eager for torpedo boat duty.

The Hudson shows the effects of the fight. Her smoke stack is punctured with bullet holes and her cabin and decks are smashed and splintered.

TYRANNY IN PORTO RICO.

St. Thomas, West Indies, May 12.—There have been 200 political arrests in Porto Rico recently under the tyrannical measures enforced there. The shipping is suspended and there are no customs receipts. Hunger and smallpox are spreading through the country, and 200 families are starving at Franguez and Mayaguez. Two women are said to have died out of sheer fear of bombardment by a suspicious-looking vessel at sea, and there has been a suicide for the same reason. An incessant coast patrol is maintained and the Spanish authorities are confiscating the coal of private individuals. Exchange is at 120.

THE SINKING FUND SUSPENDED.

Madrid, May 12.—In the Cortes a special war budget of $100,000,000 was demanded with a tax on land and public securities. The sinking fund was suspended. A patriotic syndicate has been formed to borrow a million pesetas to buy grain at Marseilles and Antwerp, as all the provinces but one have refused to send more grain to Madrid.

For Sale or To Rent

That valuable property situated on the corner of Bethune and Edinburgh sterets, for sale or to rent. Parties intending to purchase or rent a handsome and commodious residence should not fail to inspect this place. The house is a four storey brick, 32 x 42, fitted up in modern style, with every convenience, such as city water, bath room, electric light, first class outbuildings, including stable for three horses, driving shed for six rigs, ice house, etc. There is a fine lawn and vegetable garden attached to the house, also a number of fruit trees and shrubbery. The above property will be sold cheap or leased for a term of years. For further particulars apply on the premises to J. R. Donell.

WHEN YOU ARE TIRED

Without extra exertion, languid, dull and listless, your blood is failing to supply to your muscles and other organs the vitalizing and strength-giving properties they require. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures that tired feeling by enriching and purifying the blood. It will give you energy and vigor.

HOOD'S PILLS are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, biliousness. 25c.

The Late Mrs. H. Eastland

The funeral of the late Mrs. Henry Eastland, who died Wednesday afternoon at the ripe age of 80 years, takes place this morning at 10 o'clock. The deceased lady came to Peterborough from Port Hope nearly seventy years ago. She has resided upon the same lot upon which she died, opposite the Lock Works on Simcoe street, sixty-nine years, though, of course, the dwelling has been renewed. The cause of Mrs. Eastland's death was an attack of paralysis. She will be well remembered by many of the citizens, though the number of those, who were her fellow-citizens and acquaintances in the early history of the town is sadly thinned by death.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles

Symptoms—Moisture intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate and become very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. All druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia., Lyman Sons, & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents. Positively refuse all substitutes.

It is economy to profit by the experience of others. Thousands have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparila, why nt you.

The Chrysanthemum.

When the plant was introduced, about 1840, it was only the small daisylike flower, now only seen as a rule in cottage gardens, which was highly prized as a novelty. The taste for growing and showing it began early, and before 1860 there were many chrysanthemum societies in existence, among them the Stoke Newington, which formed the nucleus of the National society. Yet it was not until 1859, when the plants suffered severly from early frosts, that there was any idea of growing it under glass. The Japanese variety was noticed in 1864 as a novelty, "very curious and interesting, but scarcely ornamental." How little did the author of these remarks suspect what a future was before the plant he so summarily set aside! Three years later, however, we find Japanese varieties recommended with pompom and incurved, and since then they have ever increased in favor.

The gorgeously colored, moplike blooms now exhibited every autumn would certainly astonish that writer of 30 years ago. The golden and bronze shades of the chrysanthemum suited the taste of the promoters of the "high art" æsthetic movement of a few years ago, which, if it had no other merit, helped to bring this flower more forward and revived the culture of sunflowers, which were fast becoming extinct in our gardens.—Longman's Magazine.

A Common Cold

and common carelessness can make a combination strong enough to defy all the healing skill of the physician. Common carelessness lets the cold root and grow. Common carelessness says, between paroxysms of coughing, "It will be all right in a day or two," and the common end is confirmed lung trouble, perhaps consumption. The common-sense treatment of a common cold is a prompt dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is the most efficient and reliable cure for colds and coughs, and is constantly prescribed by physicians.

S. HAYNES, M. D., Saranac, N. Y., says :—

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my practice since 1853, and have always found it reliable for the cure of colds, coughs, and all lung diseases."

Cheating the Merchants

The local police, says the Brockville Sun, have received word to be on the lookout for a sharp young man who has been playing an old game on some of the merchants of that town. The stranger goes into a store, asks for a five-dollar bill in exchange for small bills, as he wishes to send the amount away in a letter. Upon getting the bill and sealing it up in the letter, he expresses surprise that he has but four one-dollar bills. Apologizing politely, he takes what purports to be the letter from his pocket and, (leaving it with the merchant, but carefully carrying off his four bills) says he will be back in a few minutes with "the other dollar." Of course the young man cometh not, and the merchant opens the letter and finds a blank piece of paper. He is described as smooth-faced, rather tall, slim, black fedora hat and blue suit.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

CHAPTER IV.

When Doctor Long took up his position on the rustic bench outside the pavillion, he was already partly informed of the truth in regard to Alwin Croft. The duties of his profession, of course, called the doctor out late at night. On more than one occasion he had met and recognized Croft, though latter was always cleverly disguised.

The fact that burglaries were committed on every night that an entertainment was given at Oakdean had not escaped the notice of the doctor. He had also certain information that Croft had speculated heavily and disastrously in Chicago.

"I shall watch that man!" the doctor said to himself, but he did not breathe a word of his suspicions to any one.

While the doctor watched outside the pavillion a somewhat strange scene was enacted in the upper room.

Alwin Croft and two other men were busily engaged in packing in the roomy pockets of loose coats jimmies, slung-shots and all sorts of tools used in house-breaking. Croft was disguised by a comlpete outfit of rough clothes, a low-crowned hat, and a foxy, full beard worn over his smoothly shaved face.

When all was in readiness, they passed out of the pavillion, and through a small gate hidden among the evergreens, into the street.

The doctor followed them at a safe distance. He convinced himself of their designs, and then summoned officers, who apprehended all three.

Alwin Croft took his arrest very coolly. He had been well aware what risks he ran. He had not seen Stella, but had sent her word that he wished her to visit him.

He sent this message by his lawyer, Mr. Dodd, but he had other means of communicating with the outside world. Croft was too experienced a criminal to allow himself to be without funds, and a man with money can always find some one willing to accept a bribe.

The rules in country jails are apt to be less stringent than the discipline in large prisons.

A young man employed about the jail felt a certain sympathy for the fallen man. He was also ambiitous to do better than drudge around a country jail, and he lent an open ear to the flattering promises made by Croft.

"Go," said the latter, "to the Rundell House, and inquire for Mr. Jeffrey Pettus. Tell him I have got permission for him to call on me. He is my nephew, who came on from Chicago when he heard I was in trouble."

Mr. Jeffrey Pettus called, and Stella arrived at the jail at the same time. She walked, and was heavily vailed, for her self-respect was wounded to the quick every time she thought of her unhappy position.

The room where Croft was locked up was a small one; its bare floor and whitewashed walls, small iron iron cot and wooden chair and table, contrasted painfully with his former magnificent house, and Stella felt that even the man himself was changed. He had always been a spare, ill-formed man, with a thin, keen face, and his eyes were of a peculiarly yellow tint, and roved uneasily all the while he talked.

He met Stella with great affection, and, turning back her vail, kissed her fondly. She could not repress a slight shudder. He had always been indulgent, but never demonstrative in his affections.

"Well, my dear child," he said, seating himself on the bed, and signing Stella to the only chair; "What are your plans for the future?"

"I am going to leave Brandon tomorrow."

Stella spoke coldly; she did not like the appearance of Jeffrey Pettus, who stood regarding her with marked attention.

"Leave Brandon? Why, Stella, what will become of the house. You cannot trust it to servants?"

"I have dismissed the servants, and I learn that the house is to be sold immediately by the mortgagee. To my amazement the doctor informed me that the house is already mortgaged to him to about its value, and that there is considerable interest in arrears."

"Well, both you and he have certainly lost no time. When I clear myself of this absurd charge, I will have no home to go to."

Stella arose.

"It is useless for us to continue this conversation," she said coldly. "I cannot understand why you sent for me if you intended to speak in that strain."

"Ah, you believe I am guilty?"

Croft's eyes flashed angrily.

Stella bowed her head.

"Very good, madam. This is your gratitude for years of kindness; your mother was a beggar when I married her, and you have lived in luxury on my money."

"I prefer to return to beggary rather than to live in luxury on money that is not the fruit of honesty."

"Very good, madam; do not let me detain you."

"Good-by," Stella said, and without another word she left the room.

The jailer who had admitted her escorted her to the open air, and she hastened home with a wildly beating heart and flushed."

She tore off her vail when she reached her own room.

"Thank God, he is not my father!" she cried. "I meant to say so much to him, thinking I should find him penitent."

The shock of seeing this man so hardened a criminal was too much for her; she spent the night weeping bitterly, and the next day, when she set off with Edith, she was utterly exhausted, and felt heart-broken.

Edith had also experienced a trying interview with a young man whom she had known for some six months, and who had won a very high place in her esteem.

She was packing her trunk when her mother called her.

"Mr. Dutton is in the parlor, and wishes to see you," said the old lady with a smile of satisfaction.

Edith quickly arranged her beautiful hair, and ran down stairs with glad smiles on her red lips.

Harold Dutton stood by the open window, looking out on the street, gloomily.

"Well, Miss Sloan, I hear you leave us to-day?"

"Yes, I am going to Chicago."

He sat down and turned his hat around in his hands, glancing at Edith in a shamefaced fashion.

"I suppose you will think this a strange time for me to choose to make—well, a declaration, I suppose I may call it."

Edith blushed, and began plaiting up her apron into very small gathers.

"Ah—it is a new feeling, that I wish to tell you about, but formerly it seemed such absurd and utter presumption for me to look for love from one so much above me in every way that I never dared to even think of hoping——"

"I think you scarcely do yourself justice," stammered Edith, encouragingly. She did not understand why he should talk that way, for, if he was only a poor young lawyer, she was no richer, and he was certainly her equal now in every way.

"Well, now, of course, matters are so much changed that I feel I am justified. I suppose you are aware that Mr. Van Cart has left Brandon, and they say the marriage is broken off."

Edith's face grew crimson and she turned cold all over. The man was talking of his love for Stella, and she had almost accepted his offer of marriage for herself.

"I understand that Miss Sterling has released Mr. Van Cart from his engagement," she said, rising from her chair, "but I really cannot discuss her private affairs and I am terribly busy. Had you not better call and see her?"

"I fear I have trespassed on your time, but I only wished to ask you to let me have your address when you settle, so that I may write you, and so learn something of Miss Sterling's movements."

"Ask my mother two or three weeks later," cried Edith, and she fled from the room laughing hysterically.

When Stella left the prison Jeffrey Pettus looked after her with an unpleasant smile on his thin, sallow face. He closely resembled his uncle in appearance, and had no more fixed principles of right and wrong than Croft himself.

"She seems a very excitable young lady," said he, dryly.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Public Building, Rat Portage," will be received until Thursday, May 19th, 1898, for the construction of a Building at Rat Portage, Ont.

Plans and specifications can be seen and form of tender and all necessary information obtained at this Department and at the office of Mr. Geo. Barnes, Custom House, Rat Portage, Ont.

Persons are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted bank cheque, made payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, equal to five per cent. of amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
E. F. E. ROY,
Secretary.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

FROM YESTERDAY'S EDITIONS

RELIEF EXPEDITION.

Cadiz, May 11.—The War and Naval Departments are advancing preparations for a relief expedition to the Philippines, which it is said will be composed of eight thousand regular soldiers and two battalions of marines. Instructions have been sent to General Augusti to hold out as long as possible, fifty days being required for the arrival of an expedition going by way of the Suex Canal and the Red Sea.

The commander of the squadron conveying the relief will be Admiral Butler, if Admiral Camara elects to remain in charge of the remaining vessels of the reserve fleet.

POINT OF INTERNATIONAL LAW.

London, May 11.—The project is treated by military and naval experts here as a mere bluff. In the first place it is considered that the Spanish Government needs all the troops it can muster to maintain its dynasty at home. Secondly, the reserve squadron cannot possibly be ready for a month. Thirdly, there would be the insuperable coaling difficulty for the ships for a voyage of 8,000 miles. Some doubt is expressed whether Spain could send a relief expedition through the Suez Canal. The convention between the great powers concluded in 1883 provides that the canal shall be open to all nations on condition that no act of hostility shall be committed in the canal, or its approaches. The vessels of war of belligerents shall not revictual or take stores, except so far as may be strictly necessary.

The question whether the Spanish fleet could coal at neutral ports on the way to the Philippines raises a novel point of international law, and if the fleet sails at all it is believed that it will probably have a rendezvous with colliers sent in advance at different points along the route.

STRAINING EVER NERVE.

Washington, May 11.—The War Department is straining every effort to hasten troops to Florida and the transportation to Cuba will begin in a few hours. The department will not depend on the insurgents for much help. Officials say that Cuba will be in possession of the United States before June.

BLANCO IS ABANDONED.

Madrid, May 11.—Although the Chambers have voted war credits it is not the intention of the Government to send relief to General Blanco. Cuba, it is said, should be able to support the army now there.

A RAILROAD BATTLESHIP.

San Bernardino, Cal., May 11.—The railroads of this State are raising a fund to build a battleship for the Government.

TRIED TO POISON THE REGIMENT

Atlanta, Ga., May 11.—A special from Mobile, Ala., says: A second dastardly attempt to poison the infantry regiment at Camp Mobile has been made. Several days ago some days ago some soldiers found in the creek which runs alongside the grounds a sack filled with absorbed cotton, which had been saturated with arsenic and tied down beneath a rock which juts out into the stream at a point just above the place where the soldiers get their drinking water. By accident a trooper discovered the deadly trap, removed the sack, and upon the contents being revealed reported his find to the commanding officer. Strict orders were given not to mention the incident and so the matter was hushed up. Since that day, however, the creek has been closely watched and vigilance was rewarded when Corporal John Sullivan, of Company A, 16th Infantry, found a poison bag loaded with arsenic and anchored down just as in the first instance.

Spanish spies are known to be lurking in the neighborhood, where a number of Spaniards reside. They are all under strict scrutiny and sensational disclosures are looked for. No one doubts that agents of Spain are responsible.

FORCED TO CROSS THE SEA.

Washington, May 11.—Ex-Secretary of Navy Herbert says: If the Spanish fleet has gone to Cadiz, I think the Spaniards will get together as strong a fleet as possible and then sail for America. I do not think it will be necessary for us to attack the Spanish coast. The Spanish navy will be forced to come here and give battle. No dynasty could live in Spain that would refuse to do this.

BLOWN UP.

Gibraltar, May 11.—A British str. which has just arrived reports officially that she passed yesterday evening, a Spanish torpedo boat destroyer which was guarding Algiers bay and the Straits. Shortly after the steamer passed her, all the lights of the destroyer were suddenly extinguished a terrific explosion followed immediately and the destroyer disappeared. The disaster, the despatch from Gibraltar adds, was apparently caused by the explosion of the boiler of the torpedo boat destroyer, and it is feared that all on board of her have perished.

IT WAS THE DETSRUCTOR.

London, May 11.—The Spanish torpedo boat destroyer reported blown up near Gibraltar is probably the Destructor. The Destructor was a steel torpedo gunboat, 192 feet six inches long, 458 tons displacement and had a crew of 55 men. She was capable of a speed of 22 knots; her normal coal supply was 104 tons, she was steel clad without protective armor; her main batttery consisted of one 3.5 inch gun, three torpedo tubes, and her secondary battery of four rapid fire six pounders and four machine guns.

PUNISHED FOR DISOBEDIENCE.

New York, May 11.—Governor Black has disbanded the Thirteenth Regiment of Brooklyn, forr disobedience of orders and thus wiped out of existence the oldest body of militiamen in Brooklyn. It will be remembered that the regiment refused to respond to the call for volunteers unless its organization was preserved intact, thereby arousing the displeasure of the Governor and that of all patriotic Americans. There is some talk of an appeal to the courts, as both officers and men feel deeply the stigma cast upon them.

TOBACCO TAX INCREASED.

Washington, May 11.—The Senate Committee on Finance decided to increase the tax on manufactured tobacco in the war revenue bill from 12 cents, the House rate, at 16 per pound, and to exempt the stock on hand.

THE MOB RAMPANT.

London, May 11.—A special despatch from Madrid says a mob burned a huge grain warehouse there early this morning. The structure was reported to be a total loss.

TO SAIL AT ONCE.

Washington, May 11.—The cruiser Charleston will leave San Francisco to-day with ammunition and relief supplies for Admiral Dewey, without waiting for the rest of the relief steamers.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Hydraulic Lift Lock at Peterborough

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tenders for Hydraulic Lift Lock" at Peterborough, will be received at this office up to noon on Tuesday, May 31st, 1898, for the construction of this Hydraulic Lift Lock.

Plans and specifications of the work can be seen at the office of the Chief Engineer of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, on and after the 5th. May, 1898, where forms of tender can be obtained by the parties tendering.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same, and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum $18.000 must accompany the tender; this accepted cheque must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The accepted cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order.

LIVELY LAKEFIELD

A DASTARDLY ACT

Spies from Peterboro' Give Away the Plan of Fort Craig

The Times at Much Expense Learns the Cause of the Sudden Attack of the Majestic The Affinity of Cheese-Three White Fedoras and Two Dozen Calcutt do the Trick—Much Indignation in Lakefield

Special to the Times from our own war correspondent per Otonabee cable.

Lakefield, Pier—4—16—44. — East Side, May 12.—On Sunday, May 9, at about three o'clock in the afternoon, a swell turnout was swiftly driving north along George street, Peterborough. The one policeman on duty who was not asleep, turned to the Times man, who also happened to be awake and said: "There goes the sporty sports—but what's that bundle in the back of the buggy?" It was this remark which later on led to the astounding discovery made by the Times. In the rig there was a brace of sports and an odd one, or, as Mr. Nye would say, they travelled in triplets. After reaching the Lakefield road they gave the horse a feed of long oats and were soon out of sight. An hour after or about 4 o'clock a foam flecked horse was brought to a standstill in the shed adjoining Fort Craig, and three white fedora hats alighted, bearing under them a brace of sports and an odd one. And now the bundle in the back of the buggy comes in play—while the odd one was unhitching the brace raised the covering of the bundle, having previously conversed in whispers with much facial pantomine, and disclosed to view two pounds of cheese, two pounds of biscuits and two dozen Calcutt bombs. The odd one, having hitched the horse and let down the check, rejoined the brace, and a consultation was held. There seemed to be a dispute going on, the odd one pointing several times to the river, each time laying his hand on the bombs—but to every one of his remarks the brace shook their heads in chorus and in the negative, and this view finally prevailed and all three set to work sapping and mining right, as they supposed, under the very noses of the officers of the fort. But, luckily for them, Col. Craig was taking his regular Sunday afternoon siesta. The other officers—Captain Munro and Capt. Leahey—were up town. The ordinary private doesn't know a sapper from a miner, so that there was no risk in operating before them. In less than an hour the three conspirators—the three spies from Peterborough—the brace and the odd one—had placed the contents of twenty of the bombs in the place where they could do the most damage, and the odd one had just turned to the brace with a questioning look, when—

IS IT PREJUDICE?

Marriage Is Happiest, It Is Claimed, if the Wife Be Senior.

Every one has his own idea as to what will constitute a happy marriage, but there is one point on which nearly all agree—the wife must not be older than the husband.

People who look complacently on the spectacle of a girl of 16 or 18 marrying a man twice her age are ready to declare it a profanation of the marriage altar if the bride is a few years older than the bridegroom. It would be a curious study in sociology to trace this prejudice to its source. A prejudice it undoubtedly is, for some of the happiest marriages known to the world have been those in which the wife was the older of the two.

Every one who knows his Boswell knows the extraordinary devotion of Johnson to the fat, ugly widow whose manners were execrable and who was nearly twice his age, so the spiteful biographers say. He knows, too, how happy Tetty made Johnson and what a grief her death was to the great man.

The marriage of Margaret Fuller and the Count d'Ossoli was a brilliant success in point of happiness, though sadly brief. Margaret was seven years older than her husband and refused him several times on this ground, but his devotion and persistency overcame her reluctance, and the result of the marriage fulfilled her dream of such happiness. It is said that all who saw them together were struck by the loverlike fondness and exquisite deference of D'Ossoli's manner toward the plain New England woman, seven years his senior, whose only attraction apparently was her great intellect. Mrs. Story says of him: "No service was too trivial, no sacrifice too great. When she was ill, he nursed her and watched over her with the tenderness of a woman. Such tender, unselfish love I have rarely seen. It made green her days and gave her an expression of peace and serenity which before was a stranger to her."

Disraeli's wife was his senior, yet the marriage was a notably happy one.—Philadelphia Press.

GRAND BALLAD CONCERT

By Mr. Warrington and His Pupils in the Y. M. C. A. Hall Last Night

A most delightful concert was given in the Y. M. C. A. hall last night under the auspices of Mr. F. Warrington, of Toronto, who is conducting here a very large class in vocal music.

Every number in the programme was beautifully rendered and the audience was delightfully entertained.

Mr. Warrington is a singer of more than ordinary merit and last night's programme ably sustained his reputation as public entertainer.

Nearly every number called for an encore.

The programme was as follows.

PART I.

Part Song "The Carnivale."
Mr. Warrington's Choral Class.
Song "Good Company."
Mr. Herb. Morphet.
Song "Because I Love You, Dear."
Miss Annie M. Hall.
Song "Creole Love Song."
Mr. F. Warrington.
Waltz Song "La Farfalette."
Mrs. R. Main.
Duet "The Crookit Baubee."
Miss M. D. Rackham and Mr. F. Warrington.
Song "Jack's the Boy."
Mr. Harold Cluxton.
Part Song, "Where are You going my Pretty Maid."
The Choral Class.

PART II.

Duet "Master and Pupil."
Mrs. R. Mein and Mr. F. Warrington.
Song "Qui Sdegno."
Mr. W. F. Skitch.
Song "He was a Prince."
Mrs. W. A. Sanderson.
Song "The Carnival."
Mr. F. Warrington.
Song "Sleep Little Baby of Mine."
Miss M. D. Rackham.
Song "Boys in Blue."
Mr. Jas. Dawson.
Duet "After the Fray."
Mrs. W. A. Sanderson and Mr. F. Warrington.
Part Song "You Stole my Love."
The Choral Class.

Mr. J. Crane presided at the piano, which was a Gerhard Heintzman, kindly loaned for the occasion by Mr. G. W. Mulligan.

The chorus was comprised as follows: Mrs. R. Mein, Mrs. Turner, Miss M. D. Rackham, Miss E. Tully, Rev. Armitage, Mr. R. Mein, Mr. W. F. Skitch, Mr. W. J. Squires, Mrs. W. A. Sanderson, Miss Annie M. Hall, Miss E. J. Aldridge, Miss Montgomery, Mr. Herb. Morphet, Mr. Harold Cluxton, Mr. Jas. Dawson, Mr. T. R. Land and Mr. Jas. Wyer.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

Mr. Jas. Crowley Has a Leg Broken in a Runaway Last Night

Mr. James Crowley met with a severe acident last night about 8.30 o'clock.

He was on his way home through Ashburnham when his team became frightened and ran away. Mr. Crowley was thrown out of his waggon near the Diamond and sustained injuries which rendered him unconscious for hours.

The horses were caught at Downer's Corners and this fact gave his rescuers a chance to locate the unconscious Mr. Crowley.

He was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Moher.

A Chance for Peterborough

A large glass manufactory in Pittsburg, Penn., says an exchange, who are the inventors of the paragon jars, are desirous of locating a branch factory in Canada, and with that object in view they have placed the matter of organizing a joint stock company and locating the same with the Toronto Patent Agency, Limited. The proposed company proposes capitalizing with subscribed stock of $100,000, and will employ 200 hands. Negotiations are now being conducted with several Canadian cities. Woodstock offering the company to locate exceptional advantages and superior railway facilities.

Big Purchase of Cattle

Yesterday, Market Clerk Baptie was kept busy weighing a large herd of cattle, purchased by Mr. H. P. Kennedy, our enterprising local buyer, for the English market. The cattle were well fed, and were as fine a lot as ever came on the market. The cattle were raised and fed by the following well known breeders J. Johnston, Peterboro', 15 head; J. Shaughnessey, Otonobee, 5 head; J. Franks, Cavan, 2 head; J. Matchett, Otonabee, 5 head; J. J. McBain, town, 20 head; K. P. Kennedy, Otonabee, 60 head; A. Armstrong and J. Grady, town, 2 herd each. The cattle were taken to the Grand Trunk cattle yard, where they were loaded and shipped.

THE MUD LAKEBRIDGE

A Grant Will Likely Be Given by the Dominion Government

The deputation representing the town of Peterborough, the county of Peterborough and the township of Ennismore, which went to Ottawa for the purpose of endeavoring to secure a grant from the Dominion Government towards the construction of a more permanent bridge across Mud Lake, laid the matter before Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock.

The deputation consisted of Mayor Davis, Councillors Langford and McWilliams, Warden Pearce, County Councillors Anderson and Casement, Reeve Costello, of Ennismore, and County Engineer Belcher, and was accompanied also by Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Mr. R. S. Davidson and Mr. Thos. Cahill.

The deputation was introduced by Mr. John Lang, M.P., and the case was put before Hon. Mr. Blair in the most favorable light. It was shown to him that the deputation was asking the Government to bear the expense of the filling in of the lake to an extent corresponding with the rise in the water caused by the Government work at Buckhorn. Mr. Blair seemed to see the justice of the demand and the deputation are satisfied that their visit will result satisfactorily.

The deputation also took the opportunity to draw attention of the Minister to the Trent Valley Canal impressing upon him its great importance as a national work.

Mayor Davis and Councillors Langford and McWilliams also took advantage of the trip to make an inspection of the municipal workings of the capital city, paying particular attention to its experience in permanent pavements and it is expected that their visit will be productive of good in this way as well. They were received and well treated by the obliging city treasurer Mr. Kerby.

Warden Pearce and Messrs. Anderson, Casement, Davidson, Cahill and Belcher returned Wednesday night, Mayor Davis, Councillor McWilliams and Reeve Costello came up on the early train yesterday morning.

Big Shipment of Cattle

Yesterday Mr. H. P. Kennedy shipped over one hundred and ten head of fine cattle to the English markets via Montreal and Bristol. They were weighed on the market scales yesterday morning and were a fine looking lot of animals, averaging in weight from 1,300 to 1,400 pounds per head. Eighty head were of the firm's own feeding, the rest being bought from others. Mr. Kennedy has at present a lot of cattle in his barns which he is fattening for shipment to England in June. The high quality of the animals shipped, was much marked.

SAN JUAN SURRENDERS TROOPS FLEE IN DESPAIR

Residents Fly in Terror—Spanish Markmanship Wretched—The Forts Fire Hundreds of Shots but the New York was Hit Only Once—The Spanish Fleet in Cuban Waters and a Big Battle is Expected on Sunday

FLYING SQUADRON SAILS

Newport News, Va., May 13.—The flying squadron weighed anchor at 3.40 p.m., and moved out to sea—the flagship Brooklyn leading.

THE MANILA FIGHT

London, May 13.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Times says:—"I had a conversation with Admiral Montejo, who admitted that his chief object was to seek the protection of the Cavite forts. He fought in the Reina Maria Christina till she was on fire, fore and aft, and had 52 killed. He transferred his flag to Isla de Cuba and after two and a half hours fighting he gave the signal to scuttle and abandoned her. Commodore Dewey ceased fire and asked permission of forts to destroy the burning ships. Admiral Montejo replied: "The ships are at your mercy—do as you like." The American fire was then resumed till the Spanish squadron was completely annihilated. The captain of the Boston, who carried the flag of truce, said: "You combatted us with four very bad ships—not warships. We have never seen before braver fighting under such unequal conditions. It is a great pity you exposed your lives on vessels not fit for fighting." Commodore Dewey sent this message to Admiral Montejo as follows: "I have pleasure in clasping your hand and offering my congratulations on the gallant manner in which you fought." Admiral Montejo attributes the responsibility of his defeat to the Government in Madrid. He had only obselete vessels though he had requisitioned the Government for ships. He had no torpedos except some which he himself had constructed out of inneffective material. His original intention was to remain at Subic and offer battle, but he returned to Cavite because the Subic forts were inadequate. During the bombardment of Cavite arsenal, Commodore Dewey suspended fire at the request of Spaniards to allow the women and children to be removed to a place of safety. I witnessed the second bombardment. The American vessels were admirably handled. The rebels looted Cavite immediately—the Spaniards flying to Manila. The Spaniards are not expected to capitulate. Commodore Dewey has Manila at his mercy, but it would be useless to bombard the city without a sufficient force to hold it.'

THE CARDENAS SUCCESS

Madrid, May 13.—The entire press greets the "success" of the Spaniards at Cardenas and at Cienfuegos as being a good augury for the future, and hope is also revived on the subject of Manila—the belief being expressed that the Port may be recovered owing to the time which must elapse in preparing reinforcements for Rear Admiral Dewey, which fact will give time for Spanish relief expeditions to arrive at the Philippine Islands.

The majority of newspapers express satisfaction at the arrival of Spanish squadron at the Island of Martinique, while others question the wisdom of exposing Spanish ships to an engagement with Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet, which is admitted to be superior to the Spanish fleet. The naval and military men in this city say they would have preferred to have Admiral Cervera steer direct for the coast of the United States and bombard American ports.

PROVISIONAL CERTIFICATES

London, May 13.—In the House of Lords to-day Baron Musberry, Conservative, asked if measures would be taken to prevent Spanish and American vessels from obtaining provisional certificates of British registery with power to fly the British flag, which power, he asserted, was only intended for war purposes. The Marquis of Salisbury, in reply said the Government was in communication with the Board of Trade relative to the precautions which could be adopted to prevent a merely colorable transfer of ownerships without creating any undue difficulty in way of ordinary commerce. The matter, however, the premier replied, was an extremely difficult one to handle.

PORTO RICO SURRENDERS.

Saint Thomas, D.W.I., May 13.—Admiral Sampson's bombardment of San Juan, Porto Rico, resulted in but one fatality on the American side, Seaman Frank Widemark, of the cruiser New York, who was instantly killed by the bursting of a shell. Four other sailors on the Indiana and New York were injured in the course of the engagement, but their wounds are not dangerous. This was the only damage done to the fleet. So far as any protection from the forts and batteries is converned, San Juan was at the mercy of Admiral Sampson. Admiral Sampson began the subjugation of the forts at the entrance of the harbor at five o'clock yesterday morning. The Iowa began the engagement and seven shots from her great guns reduced Morro Castle to a death-strewn and wreck-littered ruin. The garrison fled in despair when the guns of the Iowa, Indiana, New York and monitors were turned upon the other forts and batteries. The firing lasted about three hours and at its conclusion all the shore defences of the port were disabled and their garrisons driven into the interior for shelter.

RESIDENTS FLY IN TERROR.

Warning was given the city and many foreign residents and noncombatants fled to the hills to be out of danger. The bombardment of the forts had not lasted an hour before it was perfectly evident that the Spanish guns were inefficient and their artillerymen helpless. The troops, both regulars and volunteers, fled in dismay. The shot from Fort Morro and the other forts, either went wide of their marks, or bounded harmlessly from the heavy plates of the battleships and the monitor which bore the brunt of the firing under the direction of Admiral Sampson, from the New York. When the Spanish troops fled through the streets the Governor-General refused to accompany them. He declared he would hold the town himself, and stormed at the soldiers. His daughter, a beautiful young woman, also declined to leave the city, and stood at one time in the street imploring the volunteers to return to the forts and fight the Yankees. Neither the Governor nor his daughter lost their courage when a shell took off the roof of the Governor-General's palace.

SPANISH MARKSMANSHIP BAD.

The fire from the cruiser Detroit was excellent, and though she went closer to the forts than the other ships, not a shot hit her. During the bombardment the torpedo boat Porter, which had been on a scouting trip after the Cape Verde fleet, arrived and began firing within short range of the forts. The Spaniards mounted seven good guns, but their markmanship was wretched. The forts fired hundreds of shots, but the New York was hit only once. The Spaniards in the fortifications were driven from their guns repeatedly before the works were finally reduced. The fleet's first round was aimed too low and did little damage. In the second round, however, the American guns got their proper elevation. The loss of life on shore is not known. After the bombardment the fleet steamed outside to await the Spanish Cape Verde fleet.

SAMPSON'S DESPATCH RECEIVED.

Washington, May 13.—At 7.20 this morning the Navy Department received the following despatch from Admiral Sampson. It is dated St. Thomas, May 12, and is as follows:

"A portion of the squadron under my command reached San Juan this morning at daybreak. No armed vessels were found in the port. As soon as it was sufficiently light I commenced an attack upon the batteries defending the city. This attack lasted about three hours and resulted in much damage to the batteries and incidentally to a portion of the city adjacent to the batteries. The batteries replied to our fire, but without material effect. One man was killed on board the New York and seven slightly wounded in the squadron. No serious damage to any ships resulted.

(Signed), SAMPSON."

Admiral Sampson's statement that he attacked with only a portion of his fleet is taken to indicate that he did not find it expedient to take the entire squadron into the harbor, though it is not believed he has separated his fleet. The Navy Department officials were at a loss to know how his despatch reached St. Thomas until the Associated Press despatch announcing the presence of the Yale at St. Thomas.

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO SURRENDERS.

London, May 13.—The Evening News this afternoon published a despatch from St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, saying San Juan de Porto Rico surrendered at six o'clock yestedray evening. The despatch adds that immense damage was done to the city, and that a number of important buildings collapsed. The Iowa and the Detroit, according to this despatch, fired 430 shots with terrible effect. The Americans did not attempt to take possession of or destroy the town, beyond razing the fortifications.

CASUALITIES IN THE AMERICAN FLEET.

New York, May 13.—A special St. Thomas, W.I., despatch has been received here giving the casualities in the American fleet at the San Juan bombardment: Killed—Seaman Frank Widemark, of the New York; Wounded—Samuel Feltman, leg broken; Samuel R. C. Hill and John Mitchell, slightly hurt. Four others scratched.

SPANISH FLEET OFF MARTINIQUE

Washington, May 13.—Secretary of the Navy Long this morning received official advices from Martinique, Windward Islands, that the Spanish squadron had been sighted to the westward of that island. Martinique is about six hundred miles in a southerly direction from San Juan, Porto Rico, where the American squadron under Admiral Sampson was in action yesterday. The Spanish vessels off Martinique compose the formidable squadron of four cruisers and three torpedo destroyers recently collected at the Cape Verde Islands, and which sailed from there in a westwardly direction two weeks ago to-day. Upon receipt of this information Secretary Long ordered Commodore Schley, at Hampton Roads, to put to sea at once with the flying squadron and it will sail to-day. While its destination is not known, it is believed that the squadron has been sent in pursuit of the Spanish squadron.

HAVANA WILL FALL NEXT.

Washington, D.C., May 13.—The bombardment by the United States fleet at San Juan will probably be followed by further work of the American guns to destroy completely the defences of that port. The immediate occupation of Porto Rico is not contemplated, but the work done yesterday by Admiral Sampson's fleet was accomplished at the suggestion of the Strategy Board, and is in line with the general policy of destroying all possible harbor defences of Spanish possessions in the West Indies in order to prevent the Spanish fleet from enjoying the aid of powerful shore batteries in a naval conflict with the American ships. It is believed that the reduction of the Porto Rico batteries will have a tendency to show the futility of sending a Spanish fleet to these waters. Being cut off from Havana and unable to form an alliance with the batteries there, and with defences of Porto Rico destroyed, Spain's fleet must meet, without the aid of shore guns, the superior American force and disaster to the Spanish navy will be certain. With San Juan in a defenceless condition, it will be comparatively easy for Sampson to carry out the navy department's instructions to permit the Spanish fleet to enter that harbor and then bottle it up and destroy it. Having destroyed the defences of San Juan, and having a fleet of swift scouting cruisers on the lookout for the approach of the Spanish fleet it will be the purpose of the Administration to concentrate the fleet in Cuban waters before Havana and place that city in the same position. This is the next move contemplated by the board. Within a week, if the present plans are carried out, the bombardment of Havana will have ended, and the transports now assembling at Key West will have landed American troops and placed them in possession of the Cuban capital. Henceforth operations by the Americans will proceed rapidly. Everything is now ready for active operations against Cuba.

SECURED THE ARMS.

Berlin, May 13.—The North German Gazette says it learns that the insurgents of the Philippine Islands have secured all the arms which were stored at the Cavite arsenal.

VICTIMS BURIED.

Key West, May 13.—Four of the men killed on the Winslow were buried in the city cemetery yesterday at sunset, close by the graves of the victims of the Maine. The body of Ensign Bigley will be sent home for interment.

MADRID POPULACE ARE GREATLY EXCITED.

Madrid, May 13.—10.30 a. m.—There is great excitement here among public officials at the news of the arrival of the Spanish fleet at Martinique. It is now said the ships went there on purpose to coal and that two large trans-Atlantic steamers, loaded with coal, were awaiting them at Fort De France. Another object of the Spanish fleet at Martinique was to communicate with the Spanish Government and ascertain the whereabouts of the American fleet. Admiral Cervera now knows everything which has transpired since his departure from the Cape Verde Islands, and he has full instructions as to his future movements. The fleet will leave Martinique immediately for unknown destination, and it is added some days may elapse before the Spanish ships are again heard from. Great anxiety has been experienced in official circles here since the receipt of the news of the bombardment of San Juan de Porto Rico by Rear Admiral Sampson.

THE FLEET'S ARRIVAL CONFIRMED.

Madrid, May 13.—A despatch from Martinique to El Heraldo confirms the report of the arrival of the Cape Verde squadron under Admiral Cervera at Fort de France.

THE DESTROYERS REACH MARTINIQUE.

St. Pierre, Martinique, via Hayti, May 13.—The Spanish torpedo destroyer Furor arrived at this port late on Wednesday night, but immediately put to sea. Her arrival caused tremendous excitement. About 5 o'clock on Thursday afternoon the Spanish destroyer Terror arrived. Five Spanish war vessels are in sight, bound northward apparently in the direction of Cuba. They are the Spanish Cape Verde fleet.

SCHLEY'S FLEET ORDERED TO SAIL.

New York, May 13.—Commodore Schley's flying squadron was ordered to leave Fort Monroe at daybreak presumably to assist Admiral Sampson's fleet in battle with the Spaniards. The torpedo boats Talbot, Morris and Gwyn leave Newport under sealed orders.

VESSELS COULD NOT LEAVE TOGETHER.

St. Pierre, Martinique, May 13.—The United States scouting vessel Harvard is in port. She came in here to send despatches to the Government in Washington. As a Spanish vessel was in port, and left after the Harvard arrived, the port authorities served notice on Captain Cotton that he would not be allowed to leave until twenty-four hours after the departure of the Spanish vessel.

CHAOS AT CAMAGUEY.

Neuevitas Cuba, via Nassau, New Providence, May 13.—Chaos reigns at Camaguey and fear and famine at Neuevitas. Every boat in the harbor, steam and sail, has been jammed into the narrow channel, to be sunk at the first sign of an attack. Two thousand soldiers guard the entrance, 12 miles from the city, and four old cannon have been mounted on an island in the harbor. People are starving. Salt pork costs a dollar and a half a pound, rice fifty cents and goats bring one hundred dollars each. The Spanish commander told the starving citizens to go into the country, as he could not feed them. Many soldiers are joining the insurgents to get food. The condition at Puerto Principe is still worse. The surrounding forts are almost abandoned.

A column of 5,000 Spaniards started for Moron, carrying flag of truce. When fired upon by the insurgents the commander sent word that he was no longer making war upon Cubans, but was going to the coast to fight Americans. General Lopez Recio replied: "Spain cannot fight the United States without fighting us. Their war is our war," and again opened fire. The Spaniards lost nine hundred men in the four days march to the sea. Pacificos, spongers and fishermen are being pressed into the Spanish service. The Spanish columns on the way to the coast are burning all the country homes. President Maso has ordered Generals Gomez and Gracia to meet himself and Cabinet at Moron Trocha, where there will be a concentration of Cuban forces.

FAILED TO SILENCE THEM.

St. Thomas May 13.—Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet attacked, but failed to silence the forts at San Juan de Porto Rico yesterday morning. The Americans lost two killed and seven wounded. The Spanish loss is unknown.

DEWEY CAN'T TELEGRAPH.

Washington May 13.—The Manila Telegraph Company have notified the Government that they will not receive or transmit cables from or to Admiral Dewey until the authority of the United States is established in the Philippines. The reason for this step is that the Spanish Government have notified the company that by so doing their concession will be forfeitable, and, seeing that the future of the islands is uncertain, American messages are being refused. Dewey must, therefore, send all messages by steamer to Hong Kong.

FRENCHMEN AT CARDENAS.

Washington, May 13.—The possibility of diplomatic complications between the United States and France is suggested by this question, which is agitating naval officers at the capital to-night: "Did French experts man the guns that carried death to five American sailors on the Winslow?" The suspicion is due to the recent blockade running experience of the French steamship Lafayette, and the improvement of the gunners manning the guns on Spanish forts, which has been so noticeable that it indicates the introduction of more experienced hands. Naval officers in gunnery are inclined to believe that the men who did the work at Cardenas are new comers better trained than the Spanish gunners, and entertain suspicion against the French line Lafayette, which, by courtesy, was permitted within the blockade for the ostensible purpose of delivering despatches to the French consul at Havana, and deporting French residents who desired to leave the Cuban capital.

SPANISH PRIVATEERS.

New York, May 13.—Reports of Spanish privateers along the New England coast continue. The North Atlantic coast patrol is doubly alert to-day and every harbor has been notified. Cruisers of the coast guard are looking for the Spaniards and New York. Boston and other ports are amply protected. There are 17 craft, including cruisers, monitors, torpedo boats and cutters. A picket extending from Nova Scotia to Sandy Hook is on the lookout for the reported Spanish privateers.

SHOULD DEMAND CEUTA.

London, May 13.—It is suggested in the gossip here that the United States demand from Spain as one condition of peace the cession of the Spanish possession of Ceuta, now occupied as a penal colony. With the United States in possession of Ceuta on one side of side of the Straits of Gibraltar and Great Britain in possession of Gibraltar on the other, America and England would command the entrance to the Mediterranean, thereby exerting a controlling influence in the affairs of the world.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

"I didn't know how she would take it—curse her!"

Croft was stamping furiously around the narrow floor.

"Well, she has enlightened you, Winkie. She is a splendid girl, though; I like her."

"I'm glad of it. You must follow her up. She does n t know it, but she will be worth a large fortune in a few years."

"She will, eh? That adds to her beauty, and she is a stunner!"

"She is highly educated; I have treated her like a queen, for I knew that some day she could repay me, and I counted on some affection and gratitude. See how she turned on me."

He gnashed his teeth.

"Well, you can't expect her to be very enthusiastic about this last gilt-edged performance of yours. A high-stepping girl like that don't hanker after a papa that walks this here way."

He grinned and stepped across the room with the regular lock-step.

"And the dude broke off the match?" he resumed. "Well, I'm glad of it. I'll be your step-son-inlaw myself. I'll follow that girl up. She'd do well on the stage."

"You are a fool if you put that into her head."

"Why?"

"Why? Because she would make a big success, and have all sorts of good matches to choose from. Do you think she would look at you then?"

"Fly old duffer! You are right. No she must try the governess, saleslady, sewing-machine kind of dodge; that's the thing to bring a girl to her moorings."

"She will do badly at anything, for she is prouder than Lucifer.'

"Will I go to Chicago on the same train, or trust to luck?"

"Trust to nothing; do not lose sight of her."

"All right; give me the stuff, and I'll gently disappear."

Croft handed him a roll of bills, and he started for his hotel, which was opposite the railway station.

Edith and Stella had no idea that the same train which bore them away from Brandon also carried Jeffrey Pettus. He experienced no trouble in shadowing the girls, who were not a little confused and nervous, for neither was accustomed to travelling.

Day was breaking over the wide expanse of Lake Michigan when they arrived in Chicago.

Edith shook her companion by the shoulder, crying:

"Wake up, Stella, and look out. We are in Chicago. The strugle with fate has begun."

CHAPTER V.

"Now Stella,' said Edith, briskly, "you must let me do all the hustling, for you look too much like a stage princess to tackle hackmen, and fellows that drive express waggons."

Stella smiled faintly. She did not feel much like a princess, being thoroughly tired out and nervous.

"Come to the looking-glass and wash bowl before any one else gets a chance," Edith resumed, buttoning up her shoes with incredible speed, 'for some women would stay prinking their bangs till the crack of doom, while other poor devils—but I must not use 'cuss words—would have to land in a strange city looking like a striped tiger, soot all over them. My bangs are like telegraph wires, but you are just as sweet and dainty as ever.'

How glad Stella felt that she had consented to join fortunes with Edith! The girl was fairly bubbling over with energy. Nothing daunted her. She had the hackman at her feet, and smiled so sweetly on the porter that he brushed her dress and carried out the satchels with as much respect and deference as though he was waiting on the President, and informed the conductor that "Themductor that "Them was ladies, from way back; any dood could see that.'

"The first thing to do is to get a boarding house,' Edith remarked, as she took her seat in the waiting-room "I intend to find a right cheap place, and enter in with quiet grace.' I ought to be pretty well posted on boarding houses, having bossed one so long. Let's see; "elegant rooms with superior board.' No you don't; that is the kind of place where they have silver forks and nothing to eat with them. We must find work at once, so we don't care much about the place, so long as it is cheap and respectable."

"And clean!" suggested Stella, who held one side of the newspaper for form's sake, for she knew less than nothing on the subject of boarding-houses.

"Clean! Well, maybe the less said about that the better. You know I've been in Springfield once or twice on law business for ma, and I am not surprised at anything. Here goes: 'nice rooms and good table board at —— Wabash avenue.' I guess that is about our style. Six dollars or thereabouts, and we ain't safe to go to any cheaper place, for it might prove dear in the by being too noisy for country girls. Now, how do we get to Wabash avenue, I wonder."

"Take a hack,' said Stella.

"Well, it sounds reckless, but maybe it will be best, for we might go from post to pillar half the day, and we need breakfast.'

A hack soon conveyed them to the place, which was respectable, fairly clean, and comfortable, though Stella shuddered when she mounted the stairs and saw the shabby carpets, soiled wall paper and dingy doors. How utterly different to everything she had been accustomed to all her life!

"As soon as breakfast is over," said Edith, ""I'll start out and find an intelligence office. You must put an advertisement in the papers. I'm going to hire out either with a private family or a resturarant, but you must go in for something high-toned. Governess or companion."

"I wish I knew how to work like you do," Stella said, with a sigh. "I think your position will be much more independent than mine."

""Oh, you mustn't feel that way. Keep up your courage."

After breakfast Edith set off, leaving to Stella the task of writing an advertisement, which she intended to insert in the daily papers.

""Ask Mrs. Short which paper is the best for your paper,' Edith advised. "I've paid her a week in advance for this, and she says that will do for both if we get work in three days. She won't hire a room by the day; she's too cute; but she agrees to give us meals at twenty-five cents apiece, which is about twenty cents more than they are worth. Now I'm off. Don't get lost when you go to the newspaper office, and try to study your way around, as it saves time to know how to go straight to places."

It was impossible to grow downhearted while Edith was so practical and full of hope. Stella put away all thoughts of the past, and resolved to imitate her friend, whom she had once rather despised as a girl lacking refinement and culture.

She wrote an advertisement, and after consulting her landlady, who seemed kind and sympathetic, she took a car down town, and after going wrong five or six times, owing to the contradictory advice she received from different sources, she found the right office, and handed in her slip with a heart full of hope.

She walked about a little, looked into shop windows on State street, and never observed that she was followed about wherever she went by the thin-faced young man she had seen in prison when she paid her parting visit to her step-father.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

FROM YESTERDAY'S EDITIONS

BOMBARDING PORTO RICO

London, May 12.—A despatch from Lloyd's agent at St. Thomas says the American fleet is bombarding San Juan de Poto Rico.

CRUMBLING AWAY

London, May 12.—News is said to have been received here from Hayti saying the fortifications of San Juan de Porto Rico are rapidly crumbling under the bombardment of the American fleet.

FRIENDLY NEUTRALITY

Berlin, May 12.—The semi official North German Gazette this afternoon, in denying a reported interview between Emperor William and the United States ambassador, Mr. Andrew D. White, relative to the German Government's attitude toward the United States says: "The Americans cannot doubt the character of our strict and perfectly loyal neutrality after the repeated official declarations." Let this also be a hint to the English, French and Austrian papers which are so anxious to represent the Government and public opinion of Germany as hostile to the president and people of the United States. The Imperial policy has a right to feel confident that it's more than a century old friendship to a state in which millions of Germans have found a second home will not be destroyed without urgent reasons.

SPANISH WARSHIPS APPROACHING NEW ENGLAND COAST

Portsmouth, N. H., May 12.—Rear Admiral Carpenter, the Commandant at the navy yards here received a despatch from Rear Admiral Erben at New York this afternoon, informing him that the Rear Admiral had information which he considered accurate that the Spanish warships were heading towards the New England coast. Commandant Carpenter immediately informed the Mayor, and Mayor Tilton at once telephoned Governor Ramsdell and telegraphed the authorities at Washington for the necessary orders to bring the New Hampshire troops to Portsmouth as soon as possible. Nothing has been seen off this coast or reported by incoming vessels at this port to furnish a foundation for Rear Admiral Erbin's message, but authorities are moving quickly.

New York, N.Y. May 12.—At the office of Rear-Admiral Erbin, commander of the Mosquito fleet, it was said that the notice to naval officers in the New England district were in accordance with the custom of forwarding all information that might prove useful. The despatch referred to was based upon the report brought in by the officers of the steamer Wenantic, which arrived in New York to-day that they had sighted what they believed to be foreign war vessels yesterday morning off Nantucket. It was thought likely, however, that the vessel assumed to be a Spanish torpedo boat destroyer, was a United States torpedo boat.

SHARE IN THE VICTORY

London, May 12.—There are unmistakeable signs that the Continental powers have already taken steps to share in the fruits of the american victory at Manila. Germany, as intimated to the United States, it is said, here expects to have a voice in the disposition of the Philippine Islands, basing her claim on German interests in these islands. If the United States takes possession of Hawaii during the present war with Spain, it is believed Europe will endeavor to insist that the occupation of Hawaii was an incident of the war and the continental powers will desire to include Hawaii in the appointment of territory perhaps as a partial offset against the Philippine Islands. In the best informed circles confidence is expressed that the United States will not be permitted to acquire such strength in the far east as is involved in the occupation of the Philippine Islands and Hawaii without recognizing with the powers. Great Britain, on the contrary—as the Associated Press has the best grounds for asserting—desires the United States to retain the Philippine Islands even in preference to taking them herself.

PORTO RICO BOMBARDED

Port au Prince, May 12.—The American fleet bombarded Porto Rico this afternoon.

SPY HANGS HIMSELF.

Washington, May 12.—George Downing the Spanish spy arrested here several days ago, committed suicide this morning by hanging himself at the barracks.

GERMANS ARE DISGUSTED.

Berlin May 12.—The return of the Spanish squadron from the Cape Verde Islands to Cadiz disgusts the Germans. The newspapers indulge in the bitterest invectives against Spain, which they say has completely relinquished her West Indian possessions without a blow. It is generally recognized that the return of the fleet will be followed in Spain by a popular upheaval, which will seal the doom of the Alfonsist dynasty.

The friends of Don Carlos say he is absolutely certain of the throne.

PURCHASING CANADIAN POTATOES.

For the past week a representative of the American Government has been quietly accumulating the stocks of potatoes that are in the farmers hands. The representative of the American Government is Mr. Findlay, of Galt, and already he has secured all the available stocks in the neighborhood of Orangeville. The potatoes are for the use of the army, and as there is a scarcity of tubers in the United States owing to the short crop last season, the representative in Ontario is instructed to secure all he can regardless of cost.

The big shipment made yesterday of 11 carloads were sent through by Mr. Findlay.

PORTO RICO BEING BOMBARDED.

Washington, D. C., May 12.—Two despatches have been received by Secretary Long from Capt. Goodrich, of the s out b at St. Louis, but they did not give any information of any bombardment of San Juan or Porto Rico. Secretary Long had not, up to 11 o'clock to-day, heard anything from Admiral Sampson. An unofficial despatch was made public here to-day and said the bombardment of Porto Rico was in progress and that the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius had been blown up. There was confirmation of the spatch.

RELIEF FOR DEWEY

Washington, May 11.—The Navy Department has decided to have the cruiser Charleston start at once on its relief mission to Admiral Dewey's fleet at Manila. The orders issued anticipate the departure of the Charleston from San Francisco to-day if it is possible to get the ammunition and stores aboard, and she will leave without waiting to convey the City of Pekin and the other ships loaded with supplies. The order to the Commandant of navy yard at Ware Island is to put on board the Charleston all the ammunition she will carry so long as her steaming capacity is not retarted. It is the understanding here that at least 150 tons of ammunition can be put on board. By extraordinary efforts on the part of the authorities all the powder, shot and shell requisite for this relief expedition have been assembled at San Francisco already. The ammunition includes five hundred rounds of big projectiles for the eight inch guns of the Olympia, about 20,000 six inch shells and 10,000 five inch shells, as all the cruisers of Admiral Dewey's fleet mount five inch and six inch guns. Owing to hurried departure of the Charleston it is not expected that she will take any considerable number of troops. These will follow later.

dred men and this probably will be augmented by a marine guard of a few hundred men.

GOVERNMENT OF SPAIN AFTER DEWEY

London, May 11.—Special despatches from Madrid say it is officially declared that the Government of Spain has no intention of allowing Rear Admiral Dewey to rest upon his laurels. About 40.000 men from the reserves of the Spanish army have been ordered to regain the colors, and it is added that a formidable expedition is being organized for despatch at the Philippine Islands.

ANOTHER EXPEDITION

Tampa, Fla., May 11.—There is good reason to believe that inside of 24 hours another expedition with the same purpose and destination as that of the Gussie which left there yesterday loaded with arms and ammunition and supplies for the Cuban insurgents will ship from Fort Tampa. The Florida, one of the Plant line boats chartered by the Government for use as a transport has taken on a large cargo of Springfield rifles and ammunition and the stalls for horses and mules, have been completed. The boat is lying at the dock with full steam up and no one is allowed on board. General Wade went out to the port to-day and held a long conference with Supt. Fitzgerald of the Plant line of steamers, and it is believed that orders were given to have the boat ready for sailing at a moment's notice.

A CRUSHING DEFEAT.

New York, May 12.—A despatch to the Herald from Key West says: Your correspondent was informed by the captain of the Vicksburg, when he hailed that vessel Wednesday, that news had reached the blockading fleet of an action between Rear-Admiral Sampson's squadron and the Spanish Cape Verde fleet east of Hayti, in which the latter had sustained a crushing defeat.

BOMBARDING SAN JUAN.

New York, May 12.—A special from Port de France, Martinique, says the American squadron of nine ships are now bombarding San Juan, Porto Rico.

FOUR MEN KILLED.

Key West, May 12.—There was an engagement off Cardenas near Matanzas yesterday at one o'clock in the afternoon. The United States cruiser Wilmington, Commander C. C. Todd; the torpedo boat Winslow and the auxiliary gunboat Hudson were engaged. One officer and three men were killed and several were wounded.

THE DEAD MEN ARRIVE.

Key West, May 12.—The United States gunboat Hudson came in this morning with the remains of Ensign W. Bagley and three others of the crew of the torpedo boat Winslow, who were killed in an engagement in Cardenas Harbor yesterday afternoon.

LIST OF THE WOUNDED.

Key West, May 12.—The United States vessels entered the harbor for the purpose of attacking some Spanish gunboats which were known to be there, but the latter were not discovered by the American forces until the Spaniards opened fire. The land batteries of Cardenas supported the Spanish gunboats. The engagement lasted for about an hour. The wounded are R. E. Cox, gunner's mate; D. McKeown, quartermaster; J. Patterson, fireman; F. Gray and Lieut. J. B. Bernadow. All are slightly wounded, except Patterson, whose condition is serious.

THE TEMERARIO WAS INJURED.

Buenos Ayres, May 12.—The Spangunboat Temerario was damgaed in a storm at sea and is now proceeding up the Parana River in search of a place where she may repair her damages.

HOSPITAL FAILURE

CURED THROUGH THE USE OF

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

A CRPPLE RESTORED.

From the Echo, Wiarton, Ont.

The Echo presents to its readers the following plain statement of fact, with the simple comment that a medicine that can perform so remarkable a cure is invaluable, and it is no wonder that the aggregate of its sales throughout the country is enormous.

I, Richard B. Collins, make the following statement, which can confirmed by many witnesses in this section. I first began to complain about five years ago. I had been working in a fish shanty, and was wet the whole time. I was confined to the house for three months. On getting better I commenced work again and continued at it until the next January, when I took a much worse attack. The doctors pronouced it rheumatism, and after treating me for that disease until about the first of May, they discovered that my trouble was disease of the hip joint, and advised me to go to an hospital. I went to Toronto and stayed in the hospital five weeks and then returned home. I did not recover and was compelled the following summer to go back to the hospital, where I remained three months, getting worse all the time. I was told I could not be cured, and when I left was only able to walk by the aid of crutches, I then came home and was not there long before I was taken to my bed. I continued in this state until January following, when I was advised by several friends to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I took their advice, and before I had finished the fifth box I began to improve, and by the time I had completed a dozen boxes I was able to walk without crutches, and have never used them since. I was able to do light work in a short time, and in January last (1897) I commenced working in the woods, and have no trouble from the hip unless over exerted. During the last three years I have spent $300.00 in doctors' bills and medicines, but without any good results until I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to which I owe my restored condition, as the doctors gave up all hope of ever seeing out of bed alive and well, I may say that before I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills during my last attack I put in many a night so bad that I never expected to be alive in the morning.

IN ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL.

Among those who speak in terms of gratitude of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mr. Lemuel McCrady, of Shannon, N. B. He says:—"A year ago I was taken with a pain in my hip, which gradually worked down to the knee, where it settled. At first I thought it an attack of rheumatism and treated it with the medicine ordinarily used for the trouble, but with no benefit. The knee began to swell and the pain became excruciating. I wasted away to a mere shadow, and was no better than a cripple. I then consulted a physician, but got no relief. Then I went to an hospital at St. John. The physician who examined me there said my trouble was consumption of the blood, and that it might be necessary to amputate my leg. Thoroughly discouraged, I returned home Then my mother urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using two or three boxes I found the pain greatly diminishing, and by the time I had taken seven boxes, the limb had regained its normal condition, the pain disappeared, I had gained greatly in flesh and was as well as ever I had been in my life. I feel very grateful, for I believe Dr. Willisms' Pink Pills saved me from a life of helplessness.'

A YOUNG LIFE SAVED.

Mr. Wm. Stoughton, a farmer living near Barryvale, Ont, tells of his daughter's recovery to health as follows:—"In 1893, my daughter, then a picture of health and strength, went to Ardock, North Dakota. In April of that year she caught a severe cold, which brought her to the verge of the grave. The cold was followed by headache, dizziness and palpitation of the heart, and she became so pale and emaciated that her doctor there said she was going into consumption, and advised her to return home. She was so weak as to be almost helpless, and we decided the best thing to be done was to return home. She was to send her to the Kingston Hospital, where she could have better treatment than was possible in our country home. She remained for two months in the hospital, gradually growing weaker instead of stronger, and as it seemed to us that there was no hope of recovery, we brought her home. At this time she was so weak as to be scarcely able to walk across the room. She was pale and terribly emaciated, and had constant pains in her back and limbs, had no appetite, and was to all appearance gradually sinking. My wife and I had read much of the cures wrought by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as all else had failed, we decided to try them. Words cannot express how thankful we now are that we came to this decision. We got six boxes, and before they were all gone there was a decided improvement. Hope returned and we procured another six boxes. She took them, and the story is now summoned up in two words—was cured. She now feels neither pain nor ache, her color has returned, she is strong and healthy, and does not now look like one who had ever seen a day's sickness. And this great change was brought about by the use of twelve boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, after months of medical treatment had failed, and at a time when death was thought to to be not far off. We will always sound the praises of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and we hope that some other sufferer reading this will take hope and find renewed health in this wonderful medicine.'

Hospital Failures

The cases here related were treated in vain in the best Hospitals in Canada. After all other medicines had failed a cure was obtained through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People.

No other medicine in the world has offered such undoubted proof of merit. What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for others they will do for you.

But You Must Get Dr. Williams'

Substitutes will do you no good and may do you harm. The genuine pills are always put up in a package just like this

HOSPITAL TREATMENT FAILED.

The Fort William, Ont., Journal relates the cure of Mrs. Jane Marceille, of that town, as follows:—Nervous prostration, heart disease, consumption, and other names were given to her malady by physicians, but months passed, during which she suffered untold agony, without finding any relief. Palpitation of the heart, dizziness, extreme pain in the chest, loss of appetite and nervousness were some of the symptoms of the disease; gatherings that caused excruciating pain formed at the knee joints and other parts of the body, and at last she became perfectly helpless and unable to walk or even sit up. At this stage she was advised to enter the hospital, that she might have the benefit of skilled nurses as well as best medical treatment; but after spending some time there without obtaining any relief the poor woman gave up all hope of recovery and asked to be taken home. So emaciated and weak had she become that her friends we shocked at her appearance, and so utterly hopless was her condition that it was like mockery to speak hopefully of her ultimate recovery. What then was the asstonishment of all who had known her dreadful condition to hear that she had at last found a remedy whose magical power at once demonstrated the fact that where is life there is hope. The name of this remedy that worked such a wonderful change in such a short time was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking five boxes she was able to walk about and visit her friends. Her strength gradually but surely returned, and in a few months from the time she began using the medicine she was able to resume her work.

WASTED TO A SLELETON.

Mr. Jas. Davis, of Vittoria, Ont., says:—"Knowing that I am a living monument of the wonderful curing properties of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I deem it my duty as a grateful man, to give my testimony for the aid of such as are afilicted as I was. I am a resident of the village of Vittoria. Three years ago I was stricken with and partially paralyzed by rheumatism, and after being under the care of two physicians I was given up to die. I wasted away to a skeleton. I lost the use of limbs entirely and food was given me by a spoon and such an existence was indeed miserable. I was persuaded by my friends to try medical treatment in the General Hospital in Toronto, and after spending several weeks there came home disheartened and even worse than before. While writhing in the pangs of pain discouraged and ready to die. I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. While doubting that they would cure me, I was prevailed upon to take them. The effect was marvellous. For two long years I had not enjoyed a single night's rest and I then slept a sweet sleep, which seemed like heaven to me. I revived, could eat, and gradually grew stronger, and as I gained strength my hope of living increased. I have taken forty-one boxes, which may seem a large quantity, be it remembered I had taken many times their value in other medicines and had been declared incurable by doctors. The result is I am now able to undergo hard physical exercise. The fact is beyond a question that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a last and only medicine proved successful in reaching the germs of my disease and saved me from a life of misery and pain.

IF LOVE WERE OTHER THAN PERFECT

If love were other than a perfect thing,
Love were no gain, but only all a grief,
And better were to check its blossoming
Ere one poor bud could struggle into leaf
To kill it in the spring,
If love were other than a perfect thing.

If love were other than most sweet of all,
Love were the bitterest gift of bitter fate,
And better were to spurn beyond recall
Its magic cup more jealous than hate.
Its sweetness were but gall,
If love were other than most sweet of all.

If love were other than the love of you,
Love were a poverty, and nothing worth,
And all the task that memory had to do
Would be to loathe the hour that gave it birth.
Love were not sweet nor true
If love were other than the love of you.

But love is love, and you are you, and I
Am I that dare to love you with a will,
Knowing that love is perfect, true and high,
And always greater than its greatest ill;
Knowing it cannot die,
Since love is love of you, and I am I.

—J. Colmore in Woman's Journal.

A VILLAGE ROMANCE.

There could be no doubt about it. Molly had been a different girl since she and John Lock had been "keeping company." At least this was what the village gossips declared, and surely no one would have the temerity to contradict authorities so well informed. And the village gossips had spoken truth this time. Molly, the pride of all Longville, the pretty country girl whom nature had endowed with a superabundance of animal spirits; Molly, the fascinating coquette, had been subdued, and John Lock, the village carpenter's son, had conquered. At least that was what all Longville thought.

John in himself, although boasting no ancient lineage, was, as the laborers termed him, "a cut above the ordinary run." Somehow without having had any educational advantages he had developed a strong love for books, and when the day's work in the little carpenter's shop was done he would go out into the soft summer eve, and a brisk walk over the hills would bring him to the rugged cliffs by the sea. Here he would throw himself down, and as long as the red shoots of the setting sun gave light over the land he would read with rapturous intent, and when at last it had disappeared in a blaze of color in an opalescent sea he would watch the stars and talk learnedly of their distances and of what constellations they formed part.

The good people of Longville could never quite understand John. He would astound them with his enthusiastic descriptions of fleeting clouds, would bid them hear a poem in the constant roaring of the sea and tell them that there were new worlds, of which they knew nothing, in pictures and books. But John was genial and kind hearted, and so, although his personality eluded definite analysis by them, they yet recognized him as the village favorite for the humbler and maybe more useful qualities of good fellowship and unselfish courage.

It was little wonder that when Molly and John commenced "keeping company" that Longville should talk. Never two persons had less in common, so far as temperament and tastes were concerned, and yet somehow, for a reason which even old Mrs. Knight, who had seen two generations of village courtships, could not explain, these two people of opposite dispositions were destined to share life's storm and sunshine together.

How they came to be engaged I cannot say. There was a meeting of the two, when the usual cheery "Good night, John," and "Good night, Molly," ceased to have the old prosaic significance. The untamed, restless little heart of Molly beat convulsively, and the roses on her cheeks burned a deeper hue when that evening John stopped her and insisted on her talking with him. I was not there, so that of what was said I am unaware.

This much, however, all Longville soon knew—that John Lock and Molly Lane had become sweethearts. How the good wives enjoyed standing at the doorway of their cottages and discussing the probabilities of a village wedding and what it involved! These good souls would have made the devious, sinuous track of these two lives much straighter and more direct than it was fated to be.

No event is too wonderful to become familiarized with, and so it was that the wonder ceased, and Molly and John for months pursued their pleasant way, dreaming the old love dreams common to youth since the world began. It was true that sometimes John imagined "his Molly" was restless and scarcely contented. She seemed to sigh for new opportunities of conquest. The old spirit, which he thought dead, reared its head again and gave warning of, although it never actually broke out in, open rebellion. Then John would be troubled and would search his generous, simple heart in the hope of discovering some excuse for the discontent which only too obviously was smoldering in his sweetheart's mind.

One week in the midsummer of the following year Squire Hurst's only son came of age, and the event was celebrated with great eclat by the whole of the inhabitants of the village. The lovely old park surrounding the hall was thrown open, and numerous were the al fresco attractions provided to amuse the assembled guests. The sports of the day terminated with a grand villagers' ball, at which the heir to Longville Hall himself was present. There had been many a rumor that Harry Hurst had been "a gay young spark" in his time, but tonight all ugly memories were lost in the pleasure and excitement of his presence among the common folk at the ball.

All seemed happy save one, and that was John. In spite of his best attempts to suppress it a great pain was at his heart—almost as severe as a physical one—as he saw his Molly being claimed for dance after dance by the squire's son. How she seemed to enjoy the distinction, too, as with flushed cheeks she was waltzed around in a whirl of excitement!

And when the evening's amusements had ended Molly seemed cross when John pushed his way to the front and claimed his right of seeing her from the park to her father's cottage gate. She was irritable and moody. John had never known her so before, and it was with a heavy, aching heart that he kissed her good night. Nor was the unhappiness of his mind diminished when for several nights after she refused to take her customary walk with him.

At length the climax came, and one evening, after he had succeeded in inducing her to come with him over the hills, he received the dread ultimatum which he had almost expected would fall. Molly was frank. She avowed shyly that she did not and could not love him and then, with a pretty, disdainful toss of the head, declared that she would be glad if he did not worry her any more. John took the blow quietly, but the agony of soul he suffered no one but himself knew.

Then grave whispers and nods and winks passed around from house to house in the village. There were talks in bated breath of secret meetings at night, and of Molly and the young squire being seen together. And John would be questioned, but he never answered. His sorrow was for himself alone—so he would tell himself—it could not be shared by the curious. It was his wont to go and sit by the sea, and there find a sort of melancholy satisfaction in the low wail of the billows as they broke in at the foot of the cliffs. As for Molly, after one final attempt to reclaim her, John avoided her. To have met her would have increased the inconvenience of both, and in his case would have opened afresh the wounds but hardly healed. In the months that followed the whispers took an uglier form, and Longville delighted its soul at last in a village scandal.

And so Molly went away and left her poor old father sorrowing.

There was only one who ever defended the fair name of Molly when it was made a byword with the young roughs of the place, who loafed outside the village inn or at the roadsides. John was never known to have become so incensed as when one evening in his hearing one of these thoughtless youths mentioned inappropriately Molly's name and coupled it with a foul epithet. Then he thrashed the young lout within an inch of his life.

After awhile the sad incident was forgotten—at least until Molly's return to her home again. Then trouble began anew. She was very much altered, and the roses had faded from her cheeks. In tearful sorrow she would sit and nurse her baby all day long.

The last act in the tragedy came when one day Molly's father received a note from the hall. The steward brought it round, and as Molly's father was growing old and feeble and his sight waning the steward read the note aloud. It was a formally worded epistle giving the poor, old, sorrow stricken parent a month's notice because the squire felt that it was "not conducive to the morale of the village that people of Molly's stamp should be harbored" in the midst of his cottagers. Needless to say Molly's father was almost broken hearted at the thought of leaving the house he had occupied for so long, while as for Molly herself her distress was too piteous for words.

One morning not long after John stepped down the old roadway, his face haggard, but the expression firm, resolute and determined. He presented himself at the door of Molly's cottage and was admitted. It was only a look they exchanged, and the floodgates were opened again, and, having sobbed on his shoulder awhile, Molly gradually recovered herself, while John, with a choking sensation in the throat which he tried in vain to keep down, avowed: "I have always waited for you, Molly. I knew you would come back to me."

"But I can't. You forget that is his," and she pointed in her anguish to the cot wherein the babe was slumbering peacefully.

John didn't turn his head to look, but he took Molly in his arms again.

And love was consummated in service.—London Sun.

The Newest Stationery.

The latest fad in paper is a sheet the size of the envelope, which goes into its envelope without folding. In the usual correspondence size—that small size used for a hurried note or invitation—the style goes very well, but when it comes to larger sizes stationers say it will not take. In this connection it is reported in the New York Herald that the most popular style is a sheet of paper which folds in half and fits into an envelope which has a square flap. This style comes in billet, note and letter sizes, and the envelopes are graduated to match. The favorite colors are white, cream azure, regimental gray and bond blue. The fancy tints of pinks and heliotropes, yellows and greens, though carried to meet a certain demand for them, are considered in poor taste.

A very dainty little machine is made for weighing letters, useful to a woman with a large correspondence or to a business woman who must needs send letters inclosing samples or circulars.

Smooth Roads and Traffic.

The increase of efficiency in vehicles having a smooth surface on which to travel is very great. Perfect rails are a necessity for the steam engine, and a smooth roadbed is essential if high speed is to be obtained. The motor carriage, which has already become an established fact abroad, depends for its efficiency on good road surface. The bicycle gains enormously in ease of propulsion, in speed and in adaptability to new fields of usefulness by having good roads. About these three there is no dispute, but it seems necessary to prove by argument, illustration and statistics that carriages, wagons, trucks, carts and all other vehicles are equally benefited by a smooth traveling surface.—Exchange.

"Three from two you can't," says the schoolboy. Right! Three from two you can't, either in dollars or dividends or sarsaparilla. It takes the best sarsaparilla root to make the best sarsaparilla extract. The best sarsaparilla comes from Honduras, C. A., and the Dr. Ayer Co. practically controls the entire product. Yet others claim to be making "best" sarsaparilla. They must be making it out of the remainder left after subtracting three from two. But, "three from two you can't." You can't make the best sarsaparilla without best root. You only get the best when you which is made wholly from the best root imported from Honduras.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 14 1898

PETERBORO' AND BOBCAYGEON

It will be seen by reference to our local columns that the steamer Maple Leaf has been taken off the route between Bridgenorth and Bobcaygeon, which will be a serious loss to Peterborough, as there was a good deal of trade from this direction brought to town. It is to be hoped that Mr. W. B. Kelly, the enterprising lumber manufacturer at Bridgenorth, will put his boat on the route and thus fill the gap. All Mr. Kelly requires is to put an ad. in the Times, announcing the time each day of the arrival and departure of the stages in town connecting with his boat, and the venture is sure to be a success. The trouble with the Maple Leaf was the proprietor hid his light under a bushel, as it were, by using only the advertising columns of papers that few people read.

TOO MANY LAWMAKERS

Next year Orillia will have a council made up of a mayor and six councillors. The wards will be done away with, and the whole council will be elected by a general vote. An amendment to the Municipal act passed as the last session of the Ontario Legat the last session of the Ontario Leg. towns credited with a population of less than five thousand by the last census of Canada. The section reads: "The council of every town having a population of not more than five thousand by the last Canadian census shall consist of a mayor, who shall be the head thereof, and of six councillors to be elected by a general vote." A sub-section provides that if after two years trial the electors prefer to return to the ward system, they can do so, one councillor to be elected by each ward and the remainder by the whole town. We think the change both in reducing the number of councillors and in doing away with the ward system, which fostered sectionalism and jealousies, a decided improvement. A council of seven can do the business of the municipality just as well as one of thirteen, and it will be so much easier to find enough good men for the position. We hope Mr. Hardy may see his way clear to extend the scope of the Act so as to take in places like Peterborough.

In D'Alton McCarthy's death Canada loses a good citizen and a true patriot.

A DOCTOR'S HOMAGE.

Prescribed for his Patient South American Rheumatic Cure, and the Man's Own Words for it: "It Saved my Life."

Wm. Erskine, Manager for Dr. R. R. Hopkins, Grand Valley, writes: "I have a patient who has been cured by South American Rheumatic Cure. He had been trying everything on earth without the slightest relief, and had taken to his bed. Three doses relieved him, and when he had taken two bottles he was able to drive out. He immediately came to me and said this great remedy had saved his life. This remedy relieves in a few hours and is curing the world.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB

By Nicklby Finn

When the President took his seat at the Hall of Wisdom last night it was noticed that he wore a very handsome bouquet of flowers on the lapel of his coat, a present from Bro. Jordan, the well known florist. After Bro. Fonent Talbot had made a place for his feet, and Bros. Jackplane Rutherford and Bicycle Metheral settled the Spanish-American unpleasantness, the Chairman of the Committee on Pains and Anxieties announced that the Hon. J. L. Briggs failed to appear last week, as advertised, having been absent through the death of his aunt, his presence was now announced by the keeper of the Bear Traps, and he was escorted to the platform by the above committee. After a general introduction to the club, he began:

"Gentlemen,—The object of my appearing here at the present time is to warn you all to beware of the present and all future provincial legislators! The popular idea is that that body is composed of men of high honor and noble minds, but don't you believe it! It was stated in the papers that I went to Toronto at the front end of the last session to secure the place of head waiter in the cloak room. So I did. They have to have such an officer, and if I can't run a hat-rack as well as a man with a mole on his ear then I want to die before night! Well, I got to Toronto on time. I spoke to members with bald heads and all other kinds, and they were pleased to pat me on the back and remark that I was fourteen rods ahead of all the other candidates. They smiled on me; they winked at me; they said that Providence must have tumbled me into Toronto for the special good of the Legislature. I walked high and was happy; I felt sure of the place, and the way I made common men stand back was tough on shoe-leather. But am I bossing that cloak room? (Lone cheer by mistake from Dr. Bell.) Am I hanging up hats and bowing before the great statesmen? I reckon not and why not? (Sensation.) Because those bald-heads sold me out and gave the place to a man who shows every tooth in his head when he bits into a peanut. They are all on the sell, and the truth won't stick to them unless nailed on and clinched on the other side. I warn you all to beware of the whole crowd! I hear that the club is reckoning on going to Toronto during the next session of the Legislature on an excursion. Don't you go! They will smile on you with one elbow and knock your front teeth down your throat with the other!"

At this juncture the President motioned the janitor and that officer seized the speaker and led him to the rear stairs. There was a sound as if the paddle blades of the City of Peterborough were striking the water, and then the building shook as if something very heavy had fallen 360 feet and hit the stairs in two places. The janitor soon after returned, and was noticed by Flowery Bell, of Lakefield, to be breathing heavily.

A SOLEMN WARNING.

Smokestack Grills, Chairman of the Committee of Claims and Accounts, submitted written charges as follows:

1. That Alexander Goldibon Swipes, an honorary member of this club, residing at Young's Point, had represented that the club had endorsed his new tooth-ache cure and corn eradicator, when the club had done nothing of the sort.

2. That the above-mentioned person has falsely represented himself as Hon. Sodawater Macfarlane, President of the Young's Point Liver Complaint Society.

3. That he has contracted debts and had the bills sent to the club for payment.

His case was taken up under a suspension of rule three, and, at the finish of the debate, Hon. Richard said:

"The Secretary will write Mr. Swipes that the club unanimously repudiates his actions, and that just one more complaint, even if no bigger than a three cent piece, will obviate his name off our rolls without unnecessary slowness. He will be held up and shook over the yawning gulf of corruption as a solemn warning that no crookedness is allowed in this club even on a call of the eyes and noes."

COL. CLARKE.

The distinguished visitor, mentioned last week could not remain to address the club as was hoped for, but but Col. Clarke, of Lakefield, declared his willingness to deliver a brief address on the subject of "On Time." When escorted to the platform he seemed to be as much at home as a Major-General three miles in the rear of a battle, or Bro. Gingerale Craig on the price of spring chickens for his Lakefield hotel, and in a few words on the organization and growth of the Club were well received.

"Time," the speaker said, as Spiritual Monroe finished breaking out a pane of glass with his elbow, "had considerable to do with the daylight of the country. If some sharp man hadn't thought of inventing clocks and watches the world would have been in a bad muss. No one could have told whether it was yesterday, to-day or day after to-morrow. Some people would have been eating breakfast while others were splitting kindling wood for the night. (Sensation.) Some men would have been starting out for a day's fishing while others were going home to attend Bethoven Graham's singing class. (Wild cheer by mistake from Skipper Scollard, who was promptly fined $400 and costs.) Luckily for the world, time has been invented, patented and divided up to suit everybody but a man with a bank note to meet. He believed it was of the greatest importance that every man should be on time. Fortunes had been lost by people being two or three minutes late. Kingdoms had been won by men who were on time. The Colonel argued that even a murderer going to the gallows should step right off and be on the drop at the right tick. His prompness might not bring a reprieve, but it could not fail of exciting the admiration of those accustomed to having dinner at 12.30.

When the Colonel concluded his remarks, Lemonsour Leahey, of Lakefield, presented him with a spring bouquet on behalf of the Club, and a resolution was passed to escort him to the depot in a body.

VENTILATION.

Flowery Bell, of Lakefield, Chairman of the Committee on Sanitary Matters, reported that his committee had spent thirteen days in Lakefield and Peterborough investigating the enquiry: "Do the poorer classes appreciate the benefits of proper ventilation?" The committee rather thought they did. Out of 200 houses visited 180 had broken windows, cat holes in the roof, and door panels busted out, and it was very plain that the inmates were having all the ventilation any one family could take care of.

There was no need of disinfectants. Dead cats and decayed vegetables were passed from yard to yard until the outskirts were reached, and the presence of dogs in the house effectually crippled the presence of sewer gas.

MORE SPRING POETRY.

The Harmony Club now secured the floor, and tuned up the following lines by Inkstand Redpath, entitled an "Ode to Spring":

Oh, these here days o' sweetness what comes afore the spring,
When the trees has started sproutin' an' the robins take the wing;
When a balmy soothin' sadness seems to permeate the air,
An' the world is full of gladness an yer free from doubt an' care.

Then a kinder lazy feelin' seems to take yer by the hand
An' she leads yer through the medders like they was the Promised Land;
An' she takes yer to the river and she leaves yer stanin' there,
A breathin' in the sweetness of the fresh and springy air.

When a yearnin' and a longin fer to fish 'll take yer soul,
An', yer'll cut a likely saplin' fer to make a fishin' pole;
An' yer'll finger in yer pockets till yer'll find a hunk of twine,
An' yer'll tie it to the saplin fer to be yer fishin' line.

An' yer'll amble in yer waistcoat in in a meditatin' way
Till yer find that lucky fish hook what yer bought the other day;
An' yer'll bait her an' yer'll tie her good an' fast onto that line,
An' yer'll settle down fer business an' a good ol' lazy time.

An' it really ain't no diff'rence whether fish are bitin' fast,
Though yer livin' in the present, but yer thinkin' of the past;
An yer mem'ry is retrospectin' with a triflin' kind of joy.
An' yer ain't got time fer trouble, for yer feelin' like a boy.

An' yer'll sit there jest a dozin' an' a dreamin' care away,
Till er see the sun a droppin' an' it's most the close of day;
An' yer'll realize quite sudden that yer wasted lots of time,
But that don't make no diff'rence when yer holdin' to a line.

When the last strains of the touching melody had died away, it was found that Bro. Tob Fitz had been so overcome with the effects of the music that he advertantly planted both feet in Bro. License Commissioner Graham's plug hat and kept them there for the remainder of the evening.

THE SICK.

Huster Matill, Chairman of the Committee on Sick, reported that Bro. Walkabout Grady had fallen off the woodshed where he had climbed to view a street procession, and would be laid up for two weeks. The treasurer was ordered to forward the amount per week for his relief, and the committee was instructed to see that no part of it was used to purchase oxtail soup or white sugar.

REPRIMANDED.

The janitor was called from the ante-room and asked if he had made any special study of the radiation of heat, as requested at a late meeting, by a unanimous vote of the Club. The nights were still chilly and a fire was needed. After considerable hesitation he replied to the effect that when the stove began to cool off he had to radiate around in the alleys after dry goods boxes and barrels, and on several occasions had narrowly escaped arrest. He was ordered to continue his specialty, and thoroughly post himself in the science of heat, and the meeting then awoke Bro. Croft from his eighth nap and fell asunder.

The Committee further reported that Bro. Greenhorn Brown had fallen down stairs and driven his eyebrows clear up to the roots of his hair, but they had no recommendation to make.

The President said that falling downstairs did not come under the head of accident, and the matter was laid on the table to see if the eyebrows wouldn't settle down to their place.

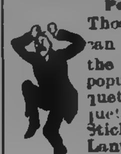
TYPEWRITING—COPYING AND WRITING of every description to order, at low rates. Bring in anything you want written with a typewriter and it will be handsomely executed. Apply a TIMES OFFICE.



Positive Arguments

Those who are open to reason can easily be convinced that the Times Bookstore is the popular place to purchase Croquet Sets, Lawn Tennis Racquets, Baseball Goods, Lacrosse Sticks, Chinese and Japanese Lanterns, etc. Our stock is most complete, and our goods are new and well selected. Besides, we are the cheapest store in town. Call and be convinced.

LIVELY LAKEFIELD

A REMARKABLE FEAT.

One of our lady bicyclists has become very proficient in the handling of her wheel. She can tie her shoe lace while sitting on her wheel. We have not heard when she will make her first appearance in public yet. Truly the art of teaching is a great thing sometimes. —Lakefield News.

Truly the art of English is a great thing sometimes. The Times don't quite know what a "public yet" is; but then, of course, it may be a Lakefield game that the Times correspondent never saw played. This proficient lady can tie her shoe lace while sitting on her wheel. But we are not told who holds her wheel while she is tying the knot. Who is this lady? The Times, with a view to give all the news, tried to find the editor of this "News," but it was learned at a late hour that he was busy repairing the punctures made by the Billy goat in "Mary's" wheel. Different business men were interviewed, but nobody could give any information. The fire bell was rung and the citizens turned out en masse for fun; but nobody knew, in the absence of the editor of the "News," who this most wonderful lady bicyclist was. Finally in desperation, the Times went on a still hunt, and what do you think was found? A young lady who rides a wheel asked a young gentleman who also rides a wheel, and is familiar with Youngs' Point punctures, to hold her wheel while she tied her shoe on the high pedal. The gentleman offered to do the tying but she knew better; and so there you have the history of a remarkable offer, of a determined refusal, and of the outgrowth of a local editors lively imagination.

LOCALS

For combs, tooth brushes, &c., go to Tanner's.

The Lakefield News sheepishly remarks:—"The price of mutton is still the same as last week, and the demand seemingly very poor."

Lakefield has one great drawback: When the truth is told about it, either as a business centre or a residence situation, the story seems too good to be true.

Yesterday, the 13th of May, was the sixty-sixth anniversary of the wedding of Mrs. C. P. Trail. Mrs. Trail is to-day hale and hearty at the age of ninety-seven years. Her color is good, her cheeks are red, and she can read without spectacles. In giving in her subscription for the Times Mrs. Trail said she was deeply interested in the war news, and glad that Peterborough could support a morning daily which received the news as early as the Toronto papers.

The posters are just out for the annual mammoth picnic given under the auspices of the Roman Catholic church, on the 24th of May. It will be held as usual at Lakefield. The Lakefield and Peterborough business men have contributed a large number of valuable prizes and the competition should be strong. An address will be delivered by the local member and the music will be furnished by the Peterborough orchestra. There will be a football contest between Lakefield and Young's Point. There will be a morning and afternoon train service. Everything will be done that can be to make this the crowning picnic of the series.

WALRUS LEATHER.

Used For Making Wheels For Polishing. Other Polishing Leathers.

Walrus leather is used for making buffer wheels for polishing brass, steel and silver. It has a peculiar, coarse grain that holds the emery or polishing powder well. It takes about five years to tan a walrus hide. Some walrus leather is made in this country, but the bulk of it is imported from England. Leather made from the hide of a cub walrus would be about half an inch thick. The hide of an old bull might be two inches thick. The value of the leather depends upon its thickness. Half inch would sell for about 50 cents a pound; 1¼ inches would be worth $1.40 a pound, and walrus leather from 1½ to 1¾ inches thick, smooth and well trimmed, would be worth $2 a pound, and a side of such leather would cost about $300.

Walrus wheels are made in a variety of shapes, depending upon the work on which they are used. They are made with a flat face, grooved, cone shaped or of any shape that may be desired, and by cementing layers of leather together wheels of any desired thickness are made. Walrus leather is also used for valve packings.

Bull necks are used also for polishing purposes. Three-quarter inch bull necks sell at about 50 cents a pound. Leather made from the hide of the sea lion is used for polishing purposes. This is a smoother and softer leather used for softer metals. Sea lion leather of an average thickness costs about 50 cents a pound. Built up wheels of any thickness are also made of sea lion and of bull neck leather.—New York Sun.

The Lost Purse.

"I have had my pocket picked!" exclaimed a middle aged woman as she hurriedly entered a suburban police station a day or two ago.

Where did it occur?"

"In a shop in the High street, and I know it was a man who stood near me took it."

"How much was in it?"

"I can't say, sir. You see, it was this way: I came out to do some shopping. I put my purse in my pocket when I left home. When I went to pay for the goods, it was gone. I think I had about 30 shillings."

"Did any one have an opportunity to pick your pocket?"

"I suppose they did."

"Sure you brought the money with you?"

"Yes."

"Are you certain you did not lose it?"

"Do you think I'm a fool, sir?" she indignantly exclaimed. "When I say I had my pocket picked, I know what I'm talking about."

"I hope you do, ma'am, but"—

At this moment a boy entered the room with the purse in his hand and said:

"Here's your money, ma. We found it on the piano after you left the house, and Sarah sent me down to the shop after you."

The woman and the sergeant looked at each other for a few seconds. Then he smiled. Then she got red. Then he said he was glad she had found her money, and she retorted:

"I don't believe it! You wish I had lost it! I'll never come here for help again, never!"—Pearson's Weekly.

He Had a Record.

A person who was bargaining for a mule in southwest Georgia asked the youth who owned the mule:

"Is he a good, lively creetur?"

"I reckon he air," replied the young man. "He kicked dad through a circus tent, broke Uncle Bill's leg in two places and throwed a preacher three times on a Sunday mornin!"—Atlanta Constitution.

THE EMPEROR WORSTED.

A Plucky Little Hungarian Girl Got Revenge For Sadowa.

The present kaiser would probably not admit that he had often been thwarted in any of his plans, but an anecdote has recently become known which shows that he at least once "got the worst of it," and it is all the more piquant from the fact that he was defeated by a girl.

When the kaiser, who was then Prince Wilhelm, was about 10 years old, he and Prince Heinrich spent some time at Cassel with their tutors, who sometimes allowed the little princes to play with other children. One day when several of them were gathered together it chanced that a little French girl was among the number, and the young Germans conceived the brilliant idea of making her a representative of the country they all so cordially hated. The delightful plan was immediately put into execution, and the poor child was tied to a tree. Then began a fusillade of pine cones, sticks, etc., and whenever anything struck her there was a cry of "Here's for Sedan!" This went on for a few minutes, when a little Hungarian girl, Helena von D——, who was watching, could bear the injustice no longer, and, singling out Prince Wilhelm as chief offender, she threw herself on him. The attack being unexpected, he was completely taken by surprise and fell down, whereupon she began to pound him, crying out at each blow, "Here's for Sadowa!"

The prince was fast getting the worst of it, for his little adversary was thoroughly in earnest, when the imperial tutors, hearing the noise, rushed up and separated the combatants. After that the princes were more carefully watched, and Wilhelm had no opportunity to "get even" with the little champion of justice. Some days afterward, hearing that the princes were leaving, Helena went down to the gate to see them go by. As they passed Wilhelm spied his foe, and leaning out behind his tutor he stuck out his tongue.

Helena was the daughter of titled parents, and later she was married to an Englishman. When the kaiser was in London, she told this story to one of his gentlemen in waiting, who in turn repeated it to his majesty. The latter exclaimed: "Is that devil of a girl here now? I would like to see her." A meeting was arranged, but Helena became ill, and so they never met after that one encounter to make friends or renew hostilities.—New York Tribune.

A SAVAGE CRITICISM.

The Teacher's Artistic Cleverness Received a Hard and Cruel Blow.

In one of the Cleveland public schoolrooms of the primary grade the teacher has been reading Longfellow's "Hiawatha" to her pupils. Of course this is a rather ambitious work for the little ones, says The Plain Dealer, but they enjoy it, and the rhythm seems particularly pleasing to them. When they come to a hard word, the teacher goes to the blackboard and draws a picture to illustrate its meaning. This the pupils find highly entertaining, and it helps in quite a remarkable way to fix the text in their minds.

A few days ago they came to this line in the early part of the poem:

At the door on summer evenings sat the little Hiawatha.

"At—th' door on sum-mer eve-nings sat th' lit-tle"—read the children.

"Go on," said the teacher.

But they couldn't go on. The name of Hiawatha was too much for them. They knew who Hiawatha was, but they didn't recognize his name. So the teacher went to the board and took considerable pains in drawing:

First.—A wigwam with poles sticking up above it, and a rude aboriginal drawing above it, and a rude aboriginal painting on the side.

Second.—Little Hiawatha, with feathers in his hair, squatted at the wigwam door.

Third.—A fine harvest moon.

Then she pointed at Hiawatha and asked what it was.

There was a general craning of necks and shaking of heads.

"Come, come," said the teacher, "you know what that is."

Then one little girl spoke up:

"I guess it's a mud turtle."

And instantly, with one accord, the class glibly repeated:

"At th' door on sum-mer eve-nings sat th' lit-tle mud-dy tur-tle."

And the teacher feels that her artistic cleverness received a hard and cruel blow.

Stylish Evening Bodice.

The simplest and perhaps the most fashionable bodice for evening wear, says a New York fashion authority, is the full blouse shape of chiffon, drooping over a fitted silk lining, the top cut out in square or rounding fashion, with a full tulle ruche, a narrow band of fur, a fall of lace or beaded revers to finish the edge. The sleeves consist of short, full puffs similarly trimmed. This is a basis for any kind of flower trimming that taste suggests. Rows of shaded pink roses devoid of foliage are in great use on evening gowns this winter, as are maidenhair fern and lilac sprays, laid upon strands of pink or orange satin ribbon not more than an inch and a half wide.

THE REFORMED FAKIR.

He Had a Great Graft the Winter He Spent In Albany.

"I've earned an honest living in many ways," said the reformed fakir, when he was raking over the dead leaves of his past the other night, "but I never struck such a graft as I was up against the year I wintered in Albany. A friend got me a little job there that paid me a couple of dollars a day. Besides that, I was entitled to a pass down to New York and back every week. I might have starved if I had been so exclusive as to try to live on this alone. So I set my wits to ferreting.

"I hadn't been there long before all the pretty girls in town were after me. No, as I don't pose as a handsome man I did not take it to heart. They didn't want me, but they wanted the autographs of the statesmen. I'd sing 'em a song like this:

"'Why, cert, girls, I'd be delighted to oblige you. Nothing would give me greater pleasure. But you know I can't go on the floor. My friend the doorkeeper, however, can get just what you want, but it will be some trouble to him, and he may charge 10 or 15 cents, and'—

"'Oh, that's all right,' the girls would say, and nearly every one would put down a quarter a sig. And every quarter went into my pocket, for that guff about not being allowed to go on the floor was all a blind. So's they wouldn't see me, I'd just tackle the statesmen somewhere else.

"Then I got on to the money to be made in strikes. Every time a bill was introduced that would hurt some one or some interest in New York, I learned all I could about the matter there and wrote to a friend in New York who looked up the other end. Then I would write to the parties something like this:

"'A bill detrimental to your interests has been introduced here. Better come up and see about it.'

"When they reached Albany, I never failed to get my reward for putting them on.

"There was another way of coining an honest plunk—I worked all the boys I could for passes. Those who didn't go home over Sunday were willing to give up, and those who could get more than one I jollied into turning the extras over to me. Then I sold them to fellows who couldn't get even one pass, or who wanted two or three.

"By these grafts I managed to live well, and save every cent of my salary."—New York Press.

A THOROUGH ARTIST.

Sir Edward J. Poynter's Great Care For Minute Details.

It may almost be said that it is impossible to appreciate the finished work of this artist without some knowledge of the contents of those portfolios which contain his drawings. It at all events increases our respect for the man and his art to know how much thought and labor and thorough craftsmanship have gone to the making of his more important compositions. For the figure of St. George, for instance, which we see clothed in a complete suit of Maximilian armor, gleaming through the dusk of the lobby of "the house," he thought it necessary to draw the figure nude, and not only nude, but ecorche, and it was not unusual for him about this time to make a study even of the skeleton in the attitude required for a figure. Such a drawing I have before me now—a drawing for one of the men, who is stooping to pick up a stone to hurl at St. Stephen, on one side the figure nude, but fully fleshed; on the other, trunk and legs and arms "in the bones."

Contrasted with such studies there are others of great completeness and finish, but still preparations—one, for example, of the same St. George, but fully armed, with his attendant figures of Purity and Fortitude fully draped and underneath the shield of the United Kingdom, with naked children on either side holding a festoon. The work is bordered with a band of roses conventionally treated and executed in water colors with the utmost care, yet so broadly that when photographed it looks like a fresco. This little drawing, almost as beautiful in color as in design, was experimental only. The shield and the children were replaced by a more formal design for the mosaic.—"Sir Edward J. Ponyter, P. R. A.," by Cosmo Monkhouse, in Scribner's.

"At the age of 15 I commenced to ruin my health. Later on as "ONE OF THE BOYS" I contracted a serious blood disease —SYPHILIS. I was weak and nervous, despondent, pimples, sunken eyes, bone pains, ulcers, hair loose, sore tongue and mouth, drains in urine, varicocele—I was a wreck. I was in the last stages when a friend recommended Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. A dozen other doctors had failed in curing me. Drs. Kennedy & Kergan cured me in a few weeks by their New Method Treatment. I would warn similar diseased men to beware of Medical Frauds. They are reliable honest and skillful physicians." W. M. MILLER.

DIGGING DOWN DEEP

"Wait till you get hungry; then you can eat." We hear that said every day. The idea is old human ignorance and folly. And almost everybody believes in it. Probably you do. And more than half the time it's true. Yet the exceptions are so numerous as to make us ask questions. Is it possible to be hungry, and still practically to have no appetite?

In a letter Mrs. Mary Hopkinson says, "I often had a craving for food yet when it was placed before me I couldn't eat a mouthful."

This sounds strange. It seems as though Nature were contradicting herself on the surface, but not deep down. Let us then dig deeper down.

"In the spring of 1892," continues Mrs. Hopkinson, "I fell into a low, weakly state of health. I couldn't imagine what I had done to bring on this kind of illness. I felt weak, weary and tired. My elasticity and ambition were gone. I had a foul taste in the mouth, and a sensation of sinking and failure at the pit of the stomach. I often had a craving for food, and yet when it was placed before me I couldn't eat a mouthful.

"More and more my strength fell away until I could hardly drag myself about. Often I was obliged to lie down several times a day, being completely exhausted. For a whole year I was in this condition. None of the various medicines I used did me any good. Finally, my mother recommended Mother Seigel's Syrup. Knowing of nothing better I tried it, obtaining the medicine from Mr. Drury, chemist, Southwell. After taking one bottle I was better, and when I had used the second I could eat and digest anything I desired. All the bad symptoms passed away and I was once more able to do my work and get comfort and pleasure out of my life. You are at liberty to make my statement public. (Signed) Mary Hopkinson, Carleton-le-Moreland, near Newark, April 19th, 1894."

Before we decide on what really ailed the writer of the foregoing letter we quote a sentence or two from Mr. Thomas Walton. "'I could eat,'" he says, "but my meat never did me any good." I suffered a good deal from headache, and was often so dizzy I could hardly stand at my work. I was never easy, and rolled about the bed all night long and heard the clock strike every hour. My skin and the whites of my eyes turned yellow. I was tired, heavy, dull and listless, and got weaker and weaker all the time. .. cines did me no good, and I often told my wife I should never be any better. My trouble began in March, 1891, and continued a year. After everything proved useless I was finally cured by Mother Seigel's Syrup. I first learned of this remedy through a little book which was left at our house—a fortunate thing for me. After I had used one bottle of the Syrup I was better; and soon I could eat, digest my food, sleep and work. (Signed) Thomas Walton, 22 Frederick street, Littleborough, near Rochdale, July 9th, 1894.

Now, let us make a discrimination which I hope you will remember. Hunger is the demand of the whole body for food; appetite is Nature's announcement that she is ready to receive and digest it. Do you tell me this distinction is fanciful—that it doesn't really exist? I tell you it does. Don't be in a hurry to debate the point. Think it over. Ask people who (like the writers of the above letters) suffer the mysterious pains and experiences of indigestion and dyspepsia. They will assure you that one may hunger from head to heel, yet starve because the stomach refuses to do its work. It is the hunger of the deaf for sound, of the blind for light.

We could praise Mother Seigel's Syrup in this connection, but why need we? The people do that.

HIGHEST PLACE IN THE TEMPLE OF FAME

Paines Celery Compound the Hope of the Civilized World

A MARVELLOUS CURE IN ST. JOHNS, NFLD.

Another Proof that Paine's Celery Compound Cures When the Doctors Fail.

To gain admittance to the Temple of Fame, honor, reputation, worth and wondrous achievements must be some of the necessary qualifications.

Paine's Celery Compound has gained all of these in its work of life-saving in the world. It has saved husband, wife, sister, brother and child to the family after the efforts of the best physicians proved unavailing.

Paine's Celery Compound is doing its grand work every day, bringing joy and happiness to thousands of homes.

The cure of Mr. E. Landy, of St. John's, Nfld., is worthy of the attention of all sick and suffering people. The results as described by Mr. Landy should induce every suffering man and woman to use Paine's Celery Compound at once.

Wells & Richardson Co.,

Gentlemen,—With great pleasure I make known what your Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. Last December I was sick and suffering a severe cold. My doctor said I was run down and advised me to give up my work—the tailoring business—as he thought it was not conductive to my health. He gave me medicines for my trouble, also for indigestion and nervousness. The medicines, however, produced no good results and I was reduced to a mere skeleton, and came to the conclusion that I was going to die.

Through the influence of an old friend who came to see me, I was prevailed upon to use Paine's Celery Compound, which, he said, would soon let me on my legs again. After using the first bottle, and the pills that go with the compound, I had such good results that I continued with the medicine until I had taken seven bottles, when I found myself as strong and healthy as ever before in my life. I am able to work at my trade as well as in former days, and see no necessity for giving it up. From the results that have blessed my efforts with Paine's Celery Compound I would strongly advise every sick person to use the great medicine which has no equal in the world.

Edward Landy.

SHOT CRASHED INTO HER BOILER.

Key West, May 12.—The battle of Cardenas, while it lasted, was terrific. The Wilmington and the Hudson were ahead and opened fire on the Spanish boats which were lying at the docks. The firing began at a range of 3,500 yards.

A few minutes after the firing began the Winslow came up and also opened fire. In an instant the entire attention of the Spanish gunboats and land batteries were directed upon her. From all sides shot and shell seemed to pour in upon the little torpedo boat.

The Wilmington and the Hudson still kept up their fire, but they could not turn aside the terrible storm of fire and death pouring in upon the torpedo boat.

The crew of the Winslow, however, never faltered for a second. But at 2.35 p.m., a solid shot crashed into the hull of the Winslow and knocked out her boiler. In an instant she began to roll and drift helplessly.

Then there was a moment of awful suspension. A fierce cheer of triumph went up from the Spaniards on the gunboats and fire was opened upon the helpless boat. The gunboat Hudson, which was lying near by, started to the assitance of the Winslow. She ran alongside the torpedo boat and tried to throw a line to the imperilled crew.

Up to this time, with the exception of the one shot which disabled the boiler of the Winslow, the firing of the Spanish gunboats had been wild, but as the Winslow lay rolling in the water, the range grew closer and shells began to explode all about her. It was difficult for the Hudson to get near enough to throw a line to the Winslow's crew, so terrible was the fire all about her. Finally, after trying for about 20 minutes the Hudson approached near enough to throw a line.

Ensign Bagley and six men were standing in a group on the deck of the Winslow.

"Heave her, heave her," shouted Bagley, as he looked toward the commander of the Hudson and called for a line. "Don't miss it," shouted an officer from the Hudson, and with a smile, Bagley called back: "Let her come, it's getting too hot here for comfort."

The line was thrown and at the same instant a shell burst in the very midst of the group of men on board the Winslow.

Bagley was instantly killed and a few others dropped by him. Half a dozen more fell groaning on the blood-stained deck. One of the dead men pitched headlong over the side of the boat, but his feet caught in the iron rails and he was hauled back. Bagley lay stretched on the deck, with his face completely torn away and the upper part of his body shattered. The Hudson succeeded in getting a line on board the Winslow and was towing her out of range, when the line parted and again both boats were at the mercy of the Spanish fire. Finally the Hudson was successful in her attempt.

Killed—Worth Bagley, ensign U.S.N.; John Varveres, oiler; J. Denefe, fireman, first class, and Elijah B. Tunnell, cabin cook.

Wounded—J. B. Bernadou, lieutenant, commanding Winslow; Wm. Patterson, seriously, but not fatally; Daniel W McKeon, quartermaster, first-class, slightly hurt.

The names of Denefe and Patterson do not appear on the department muster roll of the Winslow and are probably other names misspelt. The vessels blockading Cardenas were the gunboat Machias, torpedo boats Foote and Ladies who desire to have their hair Treated, Trimmed, Singed, Champooned, Grey Hair Restored etc., or in want of stylish Bangs Fringes, Waves, Wigs, Headcoverings, Switches, Puffs Curls, etc., should write a few lines at once to our representative at the above hotel, and take the time for an appointment either at the hotel or at your residence, so that when he arrives he will lose no time in calling on you or your calling on him, mention the hour of the day you send the letter, because first come first served. He carries a full line of Hair Ornaments of latest designs.

Gentlemen with thin hair or bald at the top would do well in calling on our representative either to have the hair treated or put some more hair on to it. We make the most perfect natural Touches and Wigs, which not only add to the personal appearance and comfort, but protect the head from colds and neuralgia, etc.

Our work speaks for itself. We obtained the Highest Award at the Chicago World's Fair, 1893, for excellence of workmanship, durability, Quality and natural effect.

If your hair is dry, colorless, falling out, grey, or thin, consult J. Trancle-Armand & Co's representative. He will advise you the best way free of charge, you need not buy or have your hair treated unless you are satisfied as to our ability and superior articles. Remember the date

May 19, 20 & 21, 1898, at Snowden House Peterboro'

Our representative will also give the ladies new ideas of how to dress the hair to suit their physiognomie. Make your appointment at once and state if you want your hair treated or want a certain style of hair goods, per letter addressed to J. Trancle-Armand & Co., of Toronto, at the Snowden House, Peterborough.

I use Pond's Extract a great deal in my practice. I think it very valuable in all venous enlargements.

J. L. BRADFORD, M. D.

SANTA BARBARA, CAL.,
Nov. 27, 1894.

I have been using Pond's Extract in my practice for twenty years. I frequently have the experience you mention of druggists insisting they can put up as good as yours. I don't believe it. I use Pond's Extract a great deal as an antiseptic in combination with glycerine and carbolic acid. I think it far superior to any antiseptic known.

Apprentice Wanted

A good stout boy is wanted at The Times Bindery to learn bookbinding.

R. J. Lane, 144 Hunter St.

Is giving extra bargains in toilet and laundry soaps this week. 2in.

Conference With Mr. Bradburn

Port Hope Times: A number of leading citizens met Mr. Bradburn yesterday afternoon relative to the opening of the new St. Lawrence hall, and Mr. Bradburn expressed himself as well pleased with the interest manifest by the townspeople in the matter. His liberal propositions are such as should secure an early reopening of this thoroughly "up-to-date hotel,' and affording ample accomodation for summer tourists.

Navigation Notes

—It is said that Mr. W. B. Kelly, of Bridgenorth, will place his boat on the route between Bridgenorth and Bobcaygeon. We hope the rumor will prove correct. Mr. Kelly will make a success of it.

—The Calcutt Brewing Company shipped a waggon load of goods to Bobcaygeon a few days ago, but when it got as far as Bridgeworth it was found that the steamer Maple Leaf had been taken off the route. The company were forced to send the rig all the waythrough to 'Caygeon, as the genial Smiff had to have his beer.

For Sale or To Rent.

That valuable property situated on the corner of Bethune and Edinburgh streets, for sale or to rent. Parties intending to purchase or rent a handsome and commodious residence should not fail to inspect this place. The house is a four storey brick, 32 x 42, fitted up in modern style, with every convenience, such as city water, bath room, electric light, first class outbuildings, including stable for three horses, driving shed for six rigs, ice house, etc. There is a fine lawn and vegetable garden attached to the house, also a number of fruit trees and shrubbery. The above property will be sold cheap or leased for a term of years. For further particulars apply on the premises to J. R. Donell.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Mr. and Mrs. Packenham are spending a week or so in Dummer.

Mr. Boyd, General Superintendent of the Confederation Life, is in town.

Mrs. Dr. Gillespie of Lindsay, is in town with her little son, who is ill at the Nicholls Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Gough and family are leaving town to take up their residence in Toronto.

Mr. Theodore McWilliams is back at Burleigh for a few days, superintending repairs at Tecumseh Lodge.

Misses Mamie and Elenor Rackham left last night for England, via C.P.R. and Montreal. They will spend the summer in the old country, making their stay chiefly with their uncle.

Mr. Walter Phelan was in Orillia yesterday, representing the local club at the meeting of the district executive to draw up the schedule of the C.L.A. district lacrosse matches.

The Galt Reformer says:—"The Hespeler baseball club had a meeting last night and formed a team to play on Saturday. They also decided to get "Danny" McCabe, the one-armed wonder, back to town again. Nothing need be said about Danny, as he is already well known in Hespeler, and everybody knows what he can do. He will arrive from Peterborough here about Saturday.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. T. Bradburn, who has been laid up with a bad cold, is rapidly recovering.

Orillia Packet: Miss Margaret J. Staunton, daughter of Mr. W. A. Staunton, of Peterborough, has passed a successful examination for graduation at the Sanatorium Training School for nurses, Clifton Springs, N.Y. Miss Staunton has also decided to take a post-graduate course in the hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

Poultry Thieves

Three black Java fowl were taken from Mr. Robert Bradburn's, 17 Union street, early yesterday morning. The parties who committed the theft are known and will be prosecuted if the fowl are not returned by Monday morning.

Young's Point vs. Norwood

To-day at Norwood the Young's Point Football Club will play a match with the Norwood club. The Young's Point people feel confident of winning a victory.

A Denial

The Times has been asked to give an emphatic denial to the statement made by a Lakefield correspondent to the effect that the Young's Point football team—in its recent match with Lakefield—had in its composition players belonging to Norwood and Lakefield. Every man on the Young's Point team was a member of the club.

A Loss to Peterboro'

We notice that the steamer Maple Leaf has been taken off the route between Bridgenorth and Bobcaygeon. In speaking of the proposal to enlarge the wharf at Lindsay, the Post says: There is an important feature to be considered in this connection. For years past Peterborough has controlled a certain amount of Bobcaygeon and north country trade by means of a steamer plying between Bobcaygeon and Chemong. Superior connections and the inducements offered by our enterprising merchants have gradually attracted this trade to Lindsay, and we have now the pleasure of stating that Capt. Varcoe, of the steamer Maple Leaf, has abandoned the Peterborough route and will run this season between Lindsay and Coboconk. He made his first trip to-day.

We suggest that the Peterborough' Navigation Company at once place the Eclipse on this route.

HEART SIGNALS.

Quick as a Flash They Appear, but Just as Quickly Will They Vanish Under the Healing Spell of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart.

When the breath is short—when you tire easily—when there is palpitation—when there is smothering sensation—and dropsical tendency—all of these indicate heart weakness, and are the danger signals if you procrastinate. Dr. Agnew's cure for the Heart is saving lives which in many cases have been proclaimed by eminent physicians as beyond hope. It will relieve most acute cases in thirty minutes, and patience and the remedy will cure any case of heart trouble in existence.

SPECIAL MEETING TO-NIGHT

At Which the Town Council Will Settle a Number of Important Matters

A special meeting of the Town Council will be held to-night, when several important matters will come up for discussion. Among these is a petition presented by a number of ratepayers in regard to the permanent pavement enterprise. The question of submitting a by-law to the ratepayers empowering the Council to raise $7,000 for the construction of bridges and $3,000 for the purchase of a steam roller will also be settled. Another matter which may be discussed is the idea that has been advanced of reducing the number of Councillors from 12 to 10 and having them elected by a general vote instead of by the ward system now in use.

It is understood that the petition regarding pavements asks for the construction of a permanent walk from Brock street to the C.P.R. station.

Resuming Operations To-day

The street railway company will resume operations to-day, after several days suspension of traffic, owing to the line being blocked by sewer construction on George street.

Preparing for the 57th.

Kingston News: Now that the Peterborough Battalion is coming to Kingston on May 24th. Secretary Drennan will have to collect an additional $300 for the celebration. He commenced yesterday to look for money, and will continue his efforts until the 24th. Merchants should be liberal.

—Lots of candy at 5 cents to those who patronize the Spot Cash.

Epworth League Anniversary

Mark street Epworth League anniversary sermons will be preached next Sabbath by Rev. C. E. Cragg. There will be a special collection, both morning and evening, in aid of the Epworth League funds. It is hoped there will be a liberal response. On Monday evening a very interesting lecture will be delivered by Rev. M. E. Wilson, of Newtonville, on "Life and Times Before Eden." There will also be a number of excellent selections on the graphophone. All will be welcome.

A Battle Royal

The Picton Gazette says: There is a battle royal on between Chas. Stevens sr., of Napanee, and his son, George Stevens, of Peterborough. They are both in the ash exporting business. How it originated we are unable to say, but Geo. Stevens is now offering to deliver unleached hardwood ashes at $8 per ton. Hitherto $20 per ton has been realized from the export of ashes. Knocking $12 off the ton will no doubt take the cream off the business, although it is claimed that at $8 per ton a fair margin of profit will still be left.

Railway Notes

—The freight business on the C.P.R. is unprecedented.

—The rush of grain from Midland to Belleville continues unabated. Another large vessel arrived from Chicago on Tuesday with a cargo of 250,000 bushels of corn, and others are en route. At the outset of the rush, trains of 25 cars, with two engines attached were run through to Belleville, but orders have been issued to divide the trains here in future, as the grades on the Campbellford division are so steep and the line so crooked, that trains constantly break apart owing to the snapping of link pins.

Death of Mrs Jory

Lakefield News: It is our duty this week to record the death of Elizabeth Jory, wife of Mr. John Jory, of this place, at the ripe old age of 71 years and 8 months. Mr. and Mrs. Jory had retired from farming in the township of Dummer some ten years ago and came to reside in the village. The deceased was greatly respected by all who knew her, and she will be sadly missed among her circle of friends. The bereaved husband and family have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement. The funeral took place to the Warsaw cemetery on Monday and was largely attended.

The C. N. and W. Railway

Campbellford Herald: Every day the monotonous question is asked, "What about the railway?' and it is quite evident that for the time being the enterprise is dead. The long continued delay will necessitate further legislation and by and by the municipalities will be asked again for an extension of time, and two or three of them may fail to comply. No news of a special charter has been received for a month past, but the surveyors are still tinkering along the route somewhere. Unless Mr. Bowen hastens on the work we may safely predict that he will lose the bonus voted by Campbellford as there is an increasing dislike for it, and if the by-law were put tothe vote of the people again it would not be carried.

SMILELESS WOMEN.

Nervousness, Indigestion and General Debility have driven away the Sunshine, but South American Nervine Brings back the Heart Gladness.

Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, says: "For a number of years I was a great sufferer from indigestion and general debility, and many times was unable to attend to my household duties. I was treated by nearly all the doctors in the town and got no permanent relief. I read of a cure by South American Nervine which seemed to exactly fit my case. I procured one bottle and got great relief, and six bottles cured me absolutely. It certainly has not an equal."

—Victoria Park is being trimmed up and put into condition for the season.

—The annual picnic in aid of St. Paul's church, Lakefield, will be held on May 24th.

—Mr. Ed. Young, of Young's Point, has secured the position of first mate on the steamer Crandella, plying on the Lindsay waters.

—Dan McCarthy, the popular comedian, is coming, and will appear in "The Dear Irish Home," at an early date.

—Mr. Louis Cocks, of Seymour, is acting in the capacity of deputy fishery overseer for the Trent river between Hastings and Chisholm's Rapids.

—The annual convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Peterborough district, will be held in the Methodist church, Lakefield, on Thursday May 19th. The convention will consist of three sessions. Miss Spence a returned missionary from British Columbia, will address the evening meeting.

—Dr. Jebb, the eye specialist, well known in Peterborough, has been granted from the Dominion Government, on March 11th, 1898, nine patent claims on his new and improved Optometer, for testing the eye and sight—the very latest invention. The doctor's many friends in Peterborough will be pleased to hear of his success.

—Orillia Packet: Mr. W. H. Bennett, M.P., has obtained from the Department of Railways and Canals and forwarded to Mayor Sheppard the original sketch of the survey of the Ragged Rapids, made by the party who inspected the Severn with a view to utilizing it for the Trent Valley Canal. The tracings show a normal fall of between thirty-five and forty feet. They have been forwarded to Mr. Kennedy for use in preparing his report on the power scheme.

De Lesseps Statue.

M. Fremiet has finished the head of the enormous statue of the late Comte Ferdinand de Lesseps which is to be placed at the entry of the Suez canal. The canal projector is to be represented standing, covered with an Arab burnoose, and pointing toward the new waterway opened up to navigation. On one of the sides of the pedestal—which is to have a granite foundation—will be a medallion containing the portraits of the khedives who patronized the canal. —Boston Transcript.

Seeing Oneself.

Next to the power of standing outside oneself and looking at me as other folks see me the most remarkable is this of (by the insight of genius and imagination) becoming you. The first makes one sometimes only too reasonable, too humble; the second warms the heart and enriches the soul, for it gives the charm of selfhood to beings not ourselves.—Jean Ingelow.

Canada's Greatest Medicine

Is Hood's Sarsaparilla

GREATEST, Because Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine to which the bulk of the people naturally turn when overtaken by sickness, caused by impure blood, scrofula, dyspepsia, etc., or when recovering from debilitating blood-poisoning diseases like diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc.

GREATEST, Because of the vast number of testimonials which come from every city and hamlet in the land, telling of marvelous cures and overflowing with gratitude.

GREATEST, Because it eradicates every vestige of scrofula, cures the worst cases of hip disease, subdues the itching and burning of eczema, heals all sores, boils and eruptions, and every ailment due to impure blood.

GREATEST, Because it conquers dyspepsia by toning and strengthening the stomach, cures rheumatism by neutralizing the acid in the blood, overcomes catarrh by removing the scrofula taints that cause it.

GREATEST, Because unequalled by any other medicine for supplying the nerves with pure, rich, nourishing blood, and thus curing nervousness, neuralgia and nervous prostration.

GREATEST, Because of economy and strength, Hood's Sarsaparilla being the only medicine of which it can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar."

GREATEST, Because it is prepared in the largest Laboratory on earth—a building which contains more than three acres of floor space.

GREATEST, Because it is peculiar in combination, proportion and process and possesses curative properties unknown to any other medicine.

GREATEST, Because Hood's Sarsaparilla actually purifies and enriches the blood, tones the stomach, creates an appetite, energizes, vitalizes and strengthens the whole system.

GREATEST, Because it is the result of scientific knowledge, careful study and wise experiment in adapting Nature's own remedies to the needs of the human system.

GREATEST, Because it holds the first place in thousands of households as the medicine which, having accomplished so many marvelous cures of serious diseases, may be depended upon to overcome lesser ills.

GREATEST, Because of the greatest cures, greatest merit, greatest sales, greatest hold upon the confidence of the people as an honest medicine, while other preparations fail to do any good.

"For a number of years past I have been afflicted with acute rheumatism in my left side and all the way down my limb into my foot. I live five blocks from my work and I had to stop and rest several times in going and coming. I from my trouble and was on the point of giving up my job when I happened to hear of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I purchased a bottle of this medicine and a vial of Hood's Pills and began taking them. Before I had half finished them I was relieved and by the time I had taken all of this medicine I was cured. I never lose an opportunity to praise Hood's Sarsaparilla, for my cure meant a great deal to me as I have a family and must always be at my post." WILLIAM HASKETT, Brantford, Ontario.

SPANISH CABINET RESIGNS

But the War Will be Prosecuted to its Bitter End Notwithstanding

GUNBOAT CAPTURED

Cardenas Re-Bombarded and the British Consulate Destroyed—The U. S. War Vessel Terror Disabled—Steamer Gussie Fails to Land Arms for the Cuban Insurgents—A Canadian Killed—Warlike News from Port Tampa

(Special Despatches to the Times, 4 a.m.)

THE YALE HAS SAILED.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 15.—The Yale, upon receipt of orders from Washington, and upon information learning that the Spanish vessels were at Martinique, cleared from St. Thomas at five o'clock, and sailed west.

THE TERROR DISABLED.

Washington, May 5.—The Spanish torpedo boat Terror is at Port of France, Martinique, disabled.

BRITISH CONSULATE DESTROYED.

Madrid, May 15.—10 a.m.—A despatch from Havana says three American warships have re-bombarded Cardenas with shell and have destroyed the British Consulate. The Americans attempted to land men and ammunition when the cannonade was the hottest. The Spaniards drawn up on shore replied hotly to the American fire, inflicting severe loss to the enemy. Seven Spaniards were wounded.

FAILED TO LAND THE RIFLES.

Key West, Fla., May 15.—The expeditionary steamer Gussie returned here this morning, having failed to land the rifles intended for the insurgents.

SPANISH GUNBOAT CAPTURED.

Hong Kong, May 15.—The Spanish gunboat Callas has been captured by the American fleet at Manila.

SENOR SAGASTA DESERTED.

Madrid, May 15.—via Paris.—All the members of the Spanish cabinet have resigned. Senor Sagasta will to-night communicate the situation to the Queen Regent who will intrust him with the task of forming a new ministry.

THE WAR WILL GO ON.

Madrid, May 15.—4 p.m.—It is officially denied that the Cabinet changes are connected with a peace movement On the contrary it is declared that Premier Sagasta's Ministry when the new Cabinet forms will continue to prosecute the war with the full resources of the country. The Spanish Cabinet which has just resigned, was composed as follows: President of the Council—Senor Sagasta, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Senor Gullon, Minister of Finance; Senor Puigcerver, Minister of the Interior; Senor Capdepon Minister for War; General Correa, Minister of Marine; Admiral Bermejo, Minister of Agriculture and Commerce, and of Public Works; Count Xiquena, Minister of the Colonies, Senor Moret. The Liberal Cabinet, under Senor Sagasta was formed shortly after the assassination of Senor Canovas Del Castillo, who was assassinated on August 8th, 1897, by an Italian anarchist named Golli.

Madrid, May 15.—5 p.m.—It is officially announced that the new ministry when formed, will continue to prosecute the war to the utmost.

A CANADIAN KILLED.

Key West, May 15.—A party of four American College graduates, who, for the past two years and over have been with Garcias' army as officers of artillery, were passengers on the Mascotte, which arrived here last night. They were Major Arthur J. Joyce, Yale; Captain Osman Latrobe, Jr., Pennsylvania; Lieut. James Pennie, St. John's College, Annapolis, and Ceptain Stuart Janny. John Hopkins Latrobe and Janny were companions of Major Osgood, the University of Pervas' full back, who lost his life near Guimao, and of Charles Huntington, a young Canadian, but who had lived for some time in Colorado, and who was killed near Lass Villes. All four have resigned their positions with Garcias' army and will go to Washington to offer their services as guides.

STATE OF AFFAIRS IN CUBA.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 15.—The French cruiser Fulton from Havana on May 8th, arrived here yesterday and landed thirty-eight refugees at the quarantine station. The Fulton will now proceed to Santiago de Cuba with provisions for the French Consul there, who has cabled to Kingston, requesting that food be sent to him and announcing that famine prices prevail at Santiago de Cuba. It appears from what the officers of the Fulton say that the pouplace and solicitors at Havana are disheartened by the blockade and the improbability of any succor reaching the city. On the other hand, a great American invading army is expected to land in Cuba shortly. The prices of imported food, salt, meat, fish, and flour are steadily mounting at Havana; but vegetables are to be had there in plenty and there is no probability of the troops actually starving until the city is beleaguered from the land side. The British troop ship Dilivara has arrived here from Halifax with the Leinster Regiment. There is no communication, the cable at St. Lucia having been cut as already reported.

WARLIKE NEWS FROM FORT TAMPA.

Tampa, Fla., May 13.—A correspondent writing from Tampa says: "The people in this hot southern country do not appear to be as much excited over the prospects of an engagement in Cuba between the United States and Spanish troops as are the more enlightened residents of New York and Washington, but this may be explained by the fact that there are a great many more newspaper men in the larger cities. So far as Cuba is concerned the war has been conducted principally by these enterprising journalists, but there is every evidence that the war will come on in earnest in that unfortunate country in the immediate future. Already there are eight thousand regulars encamped on the heights within a mile of the place in which I am writing and reports received allege that during the next few days there will be 20,000 more ready to start from the port of Tampa. It seems to me that whoever had the naming of the places in this locality must have had a shocking fondness for that word Tampa. In the first place there are the heights of Tampa, where the regular infantry is encamped; then there is Tampa Bay, although the bay part is represented by a sluggish river; next there is the city of Tampa, near which two regiments of artillery and one of cavalry are encamped, and finally there is Port Tampa, where four transport ships are being laden with ammunition, arms and stores for the invading forces. The Port of Tampa is a magnificent one, but like many another important locality in this semi-tropical country, its advantages not being considered seriously, being occupied principally by indifferent sailors and steamboat men, lazy Cubans and good-for-nothing negroes. The bay spreads out for miles east and west and to the south in the entrance to the Gulf of Mexico.

When I visited Port Tampa this morning I found about two hundred soldiers and as many negroes engaged in carrying stores on to the transport ships Almo, Macon and Florida, of which Mr. John A. Ewan, a Globe representative, appeared to be taking minute observations. Of course there was no danger in this, as no sane person, even a soldier or a negro, would ever mistake the blonde Mr. Ewan for a dark-browed Spaniard. There were two trains of ammunition and stores, but it is evident that under any circumstances many days must elapse before the troops can be transported to Cuba. The officers appear to believe that they will leave within a week, basing their opinion on the fact that it will require an immense amount of money to feed men, horses and mules here, but the question of securing and conveying a proper supply of water is proving a most serious embarrassment and may delay the troops for weeks. Already there are many condensers at work, but those who understand the capacity of a horse or a mule will understand the contract the condensers have on hand, and at present they have in the artillery and cavalry camps insufficient for general purposes.

From one of the wealthiest and most important of parts of Uncle Sam's domains, Florida has become its most impoverished state, principally on account of a sudden and unlooked for visit of Jack Frost, who killed off hundreds of thousands of acres of orange groves three years ago, leaving the State without a single marketable feature. Along the line of railway from Savannah through Jacksonville, to this sun-baked soil, the land is an utter waste, so far as agriculture is concerned, occupied in the country principally by negroes and without a redeeming feature, except its wonderfully bright sunshine and extraordinary foliage. Grand palm trees, seventy and eighty feet high, rear their stately heads over a grey and sandy soil, but out of this apparently barren surface grows an endless variety of plants, flowers and shrubs, their thick and glossy leaves throw off in millions of reflections the eye-tiring brilliancy of a tropical sun. I am informed that when this sun failed to protect the orange groves from the frost the owners gave up without another struggle and allowed their properties to be sold for taxes.

I was about to remark, when I interrupted myself, that I came South to furnish war news to Canadians, but up to the present juncture they will have to rely on general information, as the most of the people from Jacksonville to the Gulf appear to know little about the matter. But they know it all in New York and Washington, and by dint of repeating the Cuban invasion story from Tampa the papers will be bound to strike it some time, although they may guess for weeks. Of this the people may rest assured the troops are not prepared, either by drill, or acclimatization, to invade Cuba, the commissariat department will require it may be weeks to perfect its arrangements, and President McKinley and his Ministers are well acquainted with the facts. It is expected that General Miles and his staff will arrive here on Thursday to review the troops, and confer with the commissariat department on the serious problem of transporting a proper water supply to Cuba. There are some rumors here about outbreaks of yellow fever on board ships and at most southerly points in Cuba, but they are not believed here. The most prodigious, prolific, pernicious vicious and persistent product of this part of the world is the Florida mosquito, and he is simply cannibale."

SPANISH STRATEGY.

London May 14.—A Madrid despatch throws interesting light, gathered from an official source, on Admiral Cervera's movements since he left the Cape Verde Islands. It appears that he headed for St. Pierre Miquelon, off the coast of Newfoundland, where sailing instructions awaited him; there colliers from Sydney were met and the Spanish fleet coaled. Admiral Cervera's instructions then were to raid Portland, Boston and Newport, and if Rear Admiral Sampson bombarded Havana to draw him off. But the news from Manila changed the plans. The next proposed move was to decoy Admiral Sampson to Porto Rico and then sail rapidly for Havana and destroy the few ships left there. Finally, should Admiral Cervera, on reaching Santiago de Cuba, learn that two American squadron were coming to meet him, thus leaving the sea free, his plan would be to avoid them, sail straight for Charleston and bombard that city.

DESECRATE THE SABBATH.

Washington, May 14.—Representative Northway had an extended interview with President McKinley to-day. He said as he left the White House, "The President fears that the Sabbath will be desecrated, as we are likely to lick Spain on Sunday."

ARGENTINA MOVING.

Rio Janeiro, May 14.—The Radicals in the Chamber of Deputies are preparing to declare in favor of the United States.

AN EX-CONFEDERATE.

Tampa, May 14.—Major-General Jos. H. Wheeler reported for duty to General Wade to-day. His reception by the regulars was very cordial, especially in view of his being the first ex-Confederate to report at headquarters. It is understood he will have a cavalry command.

INCREASING THE GARRISON.

Berlin May 14.—The French garrison at Martinique is being increased by the addition of 300 marines and a battery of heavy artillery.

A SPANISH PROTEST.

Washington. May 14.—Spain has protested to France against the Harvard being allowed to remain in Martinique ports to make repairs. France replied upholding the right of the Harvard.

CIENFUEGOS BATTLE.

Key West, May 14.—The auxiliary gunboat Windom arrived to-day from the south coast of Cuba, bringing the American dead and wounded from the bombardment of Cienfuegos and confirming the news of that battle. Two sailors died of their wounds on the way from Cienfuegos. The wounded will be taken to hospital in barracks. The wounded were put on board the Windom at Cienfuegos. When the Windom left Cienfuegos the city was in flames from the shells of the American ships. The Cienfuegos light house was totally destroyed, and one of the forts guarding the city was razed to the foundation. The bombardment was commenced at eight o'clock on Wednesday morning by five American warships. They began by engaging the shore batteries, which at once replied with a heavy cannonade. Under cover of their fire the American ships attempted to send landing parties in lighters to the entrance of the Arimao River. The Spaniards shelled the lighters and made the accomplishment of the landing a difficult and hazardous manoeuver. For this reason the attempt to land was abandoned and the American vessels directed their fire upon the forts, the lighthouse and the Spanish vessels in the harbor. Many of the Spanish pieces were dismounted and demolished. The Spanish gunboats sought to get the range of the American ships, but failed They were repeatedly struck by shots from the American squadron.

OF INTEREST TO TRAVELLERS

Change of G.T R. Train Time to Take Effect To-day

A new schedule of train time on the Grand Trunk Railway takes effect today. The changes are not very great, but sufficient in some cases to make a traveller accustomed to the old time table lose a train.

The morning train from Belleville now arrives at 7.55 a.m. instead of 8, as formerly. The evening train arrives as usual, at 8.40. The leaving time in the morning for the Belleville train is 8.10 instead of 8.20, and in the afternoon the train leaves at 12.15 instead of 12.35.

The Port Hope morning train will arrive at 8.01, instead of 8.03, and will depart for Toronto at 8.05 instead of 8.10. The evening train from Port Hope arrives at 5.33 p.m., and leaves for Toronto and intermediate points at 5.35 p.m., instead of 5.25 p.m. and 5.30 p.m., respectively as before. The Toronto train, via Lindsay, arrives at 11.43 a.m. and leaves for Port Hope at 11.45 a.m. instead of 11.55 a.m. and 12 noon as before. There is no change in the evening train from Toronto and Lindsay, the time being 8.45 for arrival and 8.55 for departure. The local for Lindsay in the evening leaves at 9.10 p.m., instead of 9 p.m., the old time. The morning train arrives at 7 a.m. On the Lakefield branch, the morning train leaves as before at 7.25 a.m. There is a change in the midday departure, the train leaving at 12.05 p.m., instead of 1.45 p.m. The morning train from Lakefield arrives at 9.55. The evening train arrives from Lakefield at 5 p.m., instead of 4.50 p.m.

On and after June 20th, when the summer service begins, a train will leave Peterborough at 6.30 p.m. and arrive from Lakefield at 8.05 p.m.

An Elopement

The old story of an erring wife and forgiving husband was re-enacted at the police station shortly before noon Saturday, when W. H. Stevenson, of Fenelon Falls overtook his spouse who was eloping with another man, and persuaded her to return home.

Early Saturday morning the woman left her husband and family and eloped with Geo. Kennedy, a man of 32 years who was just fourteen years her junior. The pair drove to Lindsay and took the morning train for Peterborough, arriving here at 7 a.m. In the meantime the husband started out after his wife and traced her to Lindsay. From there he telephoned to Peterborough and arranged for the detention of the couple until his arrival by the next train. Officer Stewart was detailed for the duty and had no trouble in spotting the giddy young elopers and escorting them to the police station, where they were placed in separate cells.

Mr. Stevenson came on over on the 11.45 train, accompanied by one of the children, a boy about ten years of age. On confronting his wife she broke down, and, with sobs and promises of reformation, begged to be reinstated in her place in the household. The husband consented, and a few minutes after his arrival in town the chief escorted Kennedy and the husband and wife to the Grand Trunk station, where the baggage of the eloping couple was separated and Kennedy allowed to proceed on his trip alone, whilst the repentant wife and her better half repaired to a hotel to wait the next train home.

There are some very interesting figures as to the amount of firing done by the American ships during the battle of Manila. The flagship Olympia fired 1,764 shells, aggregating twenty-five tons in weight. The next largest cruiser, the Baltimore, did even heavier firing, being called upon to reduce the forts after the first engagement, and sent no less than thirty-five tons of metal into the Spanish ships and the land batteries. The remainder of the fleet shot a total of eighty tons of metal, making a grand total of 140 tons.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

After a long stroll, during which Stella, who was naturally quick and observant, got a fair knowledge of the busy portion of the city, she returned to the boarding house, where she expected to find Edith.

She was not disappointed.

Edith was waiting for her, her cheeks glowing and her eyes bright and eager.

"Say, Stella, I've got a place; private family on Drexel Boulevard—mother and two sons. I'm just tickled to death I have not seen the sons yet, but the mother is the sweetest old lady you ever set eyes on. She wants a parlor maid she called it. I have to wait on table, wash glass and silver, and sweep the parlors and dust them; and if I suit I am to get five dollars a week. It's a splendid house, something like Oakdean with lovely parlors. She is going to write to Mr. Kent, our parson in Brandon, because she says she never takes a girl without references. I'll stay here a couple of days and help you to find a place.'

Stella was very glad to have Edith's companionship for the first few days, for she was not the kind of girl who made friends readily; she was too reserved and sensitive.

"You are lucky and you deserve to be,' said Stella, as she kissed Edith's brown cheeks heartily.

She felt that she had always rather undervalued her friend.

Next days both girls were disappointed to find no replies to Stella's advertisement.

"Tell you what we'll do," Edith spoke up with her usual cheerful alacrity, "we'll buy all the papers and go some place and look them over.

They entered the Boston Oyster House and sat down at a table in a secluded corner. The large and fashionable restuarant was almost deserted at that hour, and the girls ordered some chocolate and set to work at the "female help wanted" columns of the various papers.

"If we don't have luck to-day, we'll try again to-morrow. I think people who want governesses are too mean to pay for an advertisement might turn out too mean to live with."

"So you think mean people don't advertise?"

Stella was amused at Edith's train of reasoning.

"Indeed I do! Say, Stella, who is that skinny fellow I see every time I look around? I saw him at the drug store before we got on the car, and there he is now."

Stella glanced in the direction indicated by Edith, and met the gaze of Jeffrey Pettus whom, however, she failed to recognize.

"I do not know; it must have just happened that he took the same car as we did, and wanted a lunch at the same time."

"It might and it mightn't. Don't look pleasant, Stella, for you are too pretty to do so safely in Chicago. It is chock-full of mashers, I've always heard. They stand up on the corners waiting for just such girls as we—good-looking and green."

"I don't believe we are so very green,' Stella said, rather indignantly.

"No, we aren't, but we look green. You see there is something about a girl from the country that gives her away. We have not got any hayseed in our hair, that I know of, but, like the child in the poem, we have a rustic, woodland air, and the mashers catch on every time."

They returned to their advertisements, and forgot about Jeffrey Pettus.

"Say, this sounds promising, Stella.'

'Wanter.—A young, well-educated girl, of refined manners, to take full charge of a girl of fifteen, whose education has been neglected; must possess a knowledge of the modern languages, music and drawing. Apply in person at oRom No. —, Rookery Building, between the hours of one and two, to-day.

"I'll ask the waiter where the Rookery Building is," said Stella. "It sounds funny.'

The waiter was full of information. The Rookery was one of the handsomest office buildings in the city; none but wealthy firms and corporations had offices there. Room No. —, he thought, was the office of a lawyer of high standing.

This was satisfactory, so far as it went.

"Now, we need not go home until we have seen the neglected girl," said Edith. "I'll have to keep my mouth shut, or her fond parent may think your friend an objection on account of her 'low, course manners, as some would say."

Stella laughed. She was already in a healthier frame of mind. Her love for Algernon Van Cart was dead, and would speedily be buried beyond all regret; but never should she forget the shock she experienced when she realized the utter meanness of the man she had consented to marry.

"What an escape," she said, with a shudder. "What a life I should have led, fettered to such a shallow-brained, contemptible wretch."

"Now," Edith said, drawing on her gloves and picking up her check, in a businesslike way, "now for the lawyer with the neglected daughter, who will turn out a handfull, or I shall leave off prophesying."

CHAPTER VI.

Jeffrey Pettus felt considerable satisfaction when he found that Stella had not recognized him. Her visit to the jail had been of so painful a nature, she had felt so humiliated and wretched, that she had paid no attention to the young man; and haivng left Brandon, with all its harrowing associations, behind her, had sought successfully to orccuppy her mind with her new surroundings and aspirations.

"So she has forgotten me. I am more than pleased Nunkie does not appreciate that girl. She is a stunner. I wouldn't mind marrying her if she hadn't a cent. She is a tip-top beuty and would do first-class on the stage. I'll try and work the racket so I can keep Nunkie out of it. He is a selfish old card, and, if I get him out of quod, might go to work and spoil my game.

He lunched elaborately, but never lost sight of the girls. He know why they were so intent on the morning papers.

"I hope that tall one will get to work soon," he said. "She looks fly. If Stella goes in for cloak making, or such games, I must hustle and get her talked about. Nothing like good cold shoulder in a place for breaking a girl in. These sewing shops are regular scandal-factories, and once they are set on a green-horn, the old hens that work in them tear her to tatters. That's the time to get in your fine work. When she begins to look kind-like at Lake Michigan, and thinks it is the best place for her, then you step up and do the 'noble friend' act. What fools girls are and what a pile of guff they will swallow, especially the kind like this Stella. Been raised a pet, and brought up so darned dainty that she doesn't know beans.

He easily followed the two girls to the Rookery Building. He was too sharp to go up on the same elevator, for he had not allowed Edith's suspicious glances to escape him; but he managed so well that he saw which door they entered, and put down the number of the room in his pocketbook.

When Stella and Edith came out he followed them out.

"Got some kind of a job,' he said. "Now, I've got to find out which girl is going to the old duck with the neglected dauhter.

Of course it was an easy matter for Jeffrey Pettus to ifnd out the advertisement when he knew the situation they had applied for.

"They made for the Rookery just as soon as they found an ad. to suit them," he said, "so it must be a man in the Rookery who advertised for help.

He easily ascertained that the lawyer who inserted the advertisement was a Mr. Jameson. He was a childless widower, so Jeffrey was at a loss to know who the neglected girl could be; but this was a minor detail.

The lawyer's priatve house was a handsome mansion on Michigan avenue, and Jeffrey made up his mind to pay it a visit once he had seen Stella safe for the night. Consequently he watched the boarding-house till nine o'clock; and then, believing the girls would not leave the house after that hour, felt safe to relax his vigilance.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS
FROM YESTERDAY'S EDITIONS

FLYING SQUADRON SAILS

Newport News, Va., May 13.—The flying squadron weighed anchor at 3.40 p.m., and moved out to sea—the flagship Brooklyn leading.

THE MANILA FIGHT

London, May 13.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Times says:—"I had a conversation with Admiral Montejo, who admitted that his chief object was to seek the protection of the Cavite forts. He fought in the Reina Maria Christina till she was on fire, fore and aft, and had 52 killed. He transferred his flag to Isla de Cuba and after two and a half hours fighting he gave the signal to scuttle and abandoned her. Commodore Dewey ceased fire and asked permission of forts to destroy the burning ships. Admiral Montejo replied: "The ships are at your mercy—do as you like." The American fire was then resumed till the Spanish squadron was completely annihilated. The captain of the Boston, who carried the flag of truce, said: "You combatted us with four very bad ships—not warships. We have never seen before braver fighting under such unequal conditions. It is a great pity you exposed your lives on vessels not fit for fighting." Commodore Dewey sent this message to Admiral Montejo as follows: "'I have pleasure in clasping your hand and offering my congratulations on the gallant manner in which you fought." Admiral Montejo attributes the responsibility of his defeat to the Government in Madrid. He had only obselete vessels though he had requisitioned the Government for ships. He had no torpedos except some which he himself had constructed out of inneffective material. His original intention was to remain at Subic and offer battle, but he returned to Cavite because the Subic forts were inadequate. During the bombardment of Cavite arsenal, Commodore Dewey suspended fire at the request of Spaniards to allow the women and children to be removed to a place of safety. I witnessed the second bombardment. The American vessels were admirably handled. The rebels looted Cavite immediately—the Spaniards flying to Manila. The Spaniards are not expected to capitulate. Commodore Dewey has Manila at his mercy, but it would be useless to bombard the city without a sufficient force to hold it."

THE CARDENAS SUCCESS

Madrid, May 13.—The entire press greets the "success" of the Spaniards at Cardenas and at Cienfuegos as being a good augury for the future, and hope is also revived on the subject of Manila—the belief being expressed that the Port may be recovered owing to the time which must elapse in preparing reinforcements for Rear Admiral Dewey, which fact will give time for Spanish relief expeditions to arrive at the Philippine Islands.

The majority of newspapers express satisfaction at the arrival of Spanish squadron at the Island of Martinique, while others question the wisdom of exposing Spanish ships to an engagement with Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet, which is admitted to be superior to the Spanish fleet. The naval and military men in this city say they would have preferred to have Admiral Cervera steer direct for the coast of the United States and bombard American ports.

PROVISIONAL CERTIFICATES

London, May 13.—In the House of Lords to-day Baron Musberry, Conservative, asked if measures would be taken to prevent Spanish and American vessels from obtaining provisional certificates of British registery with power to fly the British flag, which power, he asserted, was only intended for war purposes. The Marquis of Salisbury, in reply said the Government was in communication with the Board of Trade relative to the precautions which could be adopted to prevent a merely colorable transfer of ownerships without creating any undue difficulty in way of ordinary commerce. The matter, however, the premier replied, was an extremely difficult one to handle.

PORTO RICO SURRENDERS.

Saint Thomas, D.W.I., May 13.—Admiral Sampson's bombardment of San Juna, Porto Rico, resulted in but one fatality on the American side, Seaman Frank Widemark, of the cruiser New York, who was instantly killed by the bursting of a shell. Four other sailors on the Indiana and New York were injured in the course of the engagement, but their wounds are not dangerous. This was the only damage done to the fleet. So far as any protection from the forts and batteries is converned, San Juan was at the mercy of Admiral Sampson. Admiral Sampson began the subjugation of the forts at the entrance of the harbor at five o'clock yesterday morning. The Iowa began the engagement and seven shots from her great guns reduced Morro Castle to a death-strewn and wreck-littered ruin. The garrison fled in despair when the guns of the Iowa, Indiana, New York and monitors were turned upon the other forts and batteries. The firing lasted about three hours and at its conclusion all the shore defences of the port were disabled and their garrisons driven into the interior for shelter.

RESIDENTS FLY IN TERROR.

Warning was given the city and many foreign residents and noncombatants fled to the hills to be out of danger. The bombardment of the forts had not lasted an hour before it was perfectly evident that the Spanish guns were inefficient and their artillerymen helpless. The troops, both regulars and volunteers, fled in dismay. The shot from Fort Morro and the other forts, either went wide of their marks, or bounded harmlessly from the heavy plates of the battleships and the monitor which bore the brunt of the firing under the direction of Admiral Sampson, from the New York. When the Spanish troops fled through the streets the Governor-General refused to accompany them. He declared he would hold the town himself, and stormed at the soldiers. His daughter, a beautiful young woman, also declined to leave the city, and stood at one time in the street imploring the volunteers to return to the forts and fight the Yankees. Neither the Governor nor his daughter lost their courage when a shell took off the roof of the Governor-General's palace.

SPANISH MARKSMANSHIP BAD.

The fire from the cruiser Detroit was excellent, and though she went closer to the forts than the other ships, not a shot hit her. During the bombardment the torpedo boat Porter, which had been on a scouting trip after the Cape Verde fleet, arrived and began firing within short range of the forts. The Spaniards mounted seven good guns, but their marksmanship was wretched. The forts fired hundreds of shots, but the New York was hit only once. The Spaniards in the fortifications were driven from their guns repeatedly before the works were finally reduced. The fleet's first round was aimed too low and did little damage. In the second round, however, the American guns got their proper elevation. The loss of life on shore is not known. After the bombardment the fleet steamed outside to await the Spanish Cape Verde fleet.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles

Symptoms—Moisture intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate and become very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. All druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. 20 Years in Mich. 40 Years Experience

250,000 CURED.

Thousands of young men are made nervous wrecks, unfit for business, social pleasures or home duties by evil habits in youth, later excesses, or private diseases. W. O. Andrews, of Akron, O., says: "I read this paper and have seen many reports of remarkable cures made by Drs. Kennedy and Kergan. I decided to treat with them. Indiscretion was the cause of my trouble. I was weak and nervous; no ambition; back weak, pimples on the face; thin and haggard; eyes sunken and cheeks hollow; dreams and drains at night; memory poor; varicocele and weak parts; irritable; sinking spells; specks before the eyes; lack of confidence; no energy; and many other complaints. I had tried fourteen doctors, bought four electric belts took scores of bottles of patent medicines—all failed. I tried the New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, and it cured me. I am a Man Again. I have gained twenty-six pounds and am strong mentally, physically and sexually. It is a wonderful treatment."

Blood Disease—with the worst symptoms: Ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, blotches, eruptions, hair fallen out, bone pains, eyes red, stomach troubles, sore throat, etc., positively cured forever. You dare not marry until cured. Cures guaranteed or no pay.

LIVELY LAKEFIELD

THE LAKEFIELD BRANCH

Extension of the Lime Juice Club to this Suburb

The President and Strong Delegation From the Parent Club on Hand The New Branch Starts With Flying Banners but Must Remain Loyal to the Parent Club

A preliminary meeting was held in the village on Tuesday evening last, for the purpose of forming a branch of the Lime Juice Club. There was a large attendance of citizens. The chair was occupied by Brother Anvil Davis, while on his right sat the President and many of the leading members of the parent club at Peterborough, amongst whom we noticed Hon. Henroost Bell, Cripes Malcahey, Tiedup Garley, Jamfed Jones, Anvil Davis and others.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS.

The Hon. Richard McBride, President of the parent club, stated that he was more than pleased to see so many persons present, which was no doubt largely due to the individual efforts of Bro. Davis and one or two associates. This club was destined to become famous—not, perhaps, so much so as the parent organization, for that could not be expected—but it would wield an important influence on the destinies of the human race. (Wild cheers by mistake from Bro. Spiritual Munroe, who was promptly fined $300 and costs.)

The speaker, continuing, said that he had just returned from Ottawa, where he had been in connection with the T. V. Canal, the Mud Lake bridge, the high level bridge and other matters. He and all the Lakefield delegates had occupied the same spacious bedchamber at the Russell House, and although he had slung his pants over the back of a chair on retiring, such is the characteristic honesty of the members of this great club, that on counting his cash in the morning he found that it had panned out to a cent. He would impress strongly upon the attention of the new society, the fact that no special privileges could be granted to any member without the sanction of the home organization. He would stay in town several days, being the joint guest of Bros. Munroe, Leahey and Craig, where those brothers who had a loose quarter in their inside pocket could find him. He would now declare the branch open for the transaction of business.

BUSINESS BEGINS.

Anvil Davis was unanimously elected to the chair. He said:

"Friends and Romans—I mean Lakefield lambs—and countrymen, we are met together this evening to inaugurate a new era in the history of this ancient village. (Wild cheers and a dog fight.) I mean the formation of the Lakefield branch of the Lime Juice Club. (Cheers for 17 minutes.) Having said this we will now proceed to biz., and I will take down and then read over the names of the charter members: Cautious Casement, Flowery Bell, Discount Benson, Anvil Davis, Spiritual Munro, Smokestack Grills, Gingerale Craig, Lemonsour Leahey, Henroost Bell, Beethoven Graham, Sodawater McFarlane (Young's Point), Skipper Scollard, Sailor Reynolds, Inkstand Redpath, Whitewasher Shadgett, Two Forty Calder, Ole Bull Scrimmager, Poobah Doidge, Worthy Sherin, Rollaway Griffin, Process Server Nicholls."

OBJECTS OF THE CLUB.

Grand Organizer Henroost Bell explained the objects of the club, and said he intended to spend his days and his money in Lakefield. (Wild cheers, during which Nutmeg Cunningham wept on Discount Benson's neck.) G. O. Henroost Bell then walked to his seat over the chairman's toes and was fined $400, and ordered to leave his boots in the ante room at future meetings.

ACKNOWLEDGED.

The chairman announced that the following articles had been presented to the club, it showed that public interest was roused:

Model, in tin, of the steam fire engine.—The Council.

Photograph of Water street as it will appear in 1921.—J. P. Strickland.

Calendars for 1898.—C. J. Bloomfield.

Two hundred and forty-three almanacs.—Mr. E. A. Tanner.

Advertising card of the Golden City with reduced print of himself.—Sailor Reynolds.

Straw hat won at the last local election.—Mr. W. Graham.

Felt hat won at the last Dominion election.—Mr. R. C. Strickland.

Photographic group of Lakefield's last T. V. C. deputation.—Mr. Strickland.

THE OFFICERS.

The ballot for election of officers and committees resulted as follows:

President, Anvil Davis; Secretary, Flowery Bell; Treasurer, Discount Benson; Keeper of Archives, Worthy Sherin; Janitor, Poobah Doidge.

COMMITTEES.

Music—Ole Bull Scrimmager and Beethoven Graham.

Refreshments—Spiritual Munro and Process Server Nicholls.

Excursions—Sailor Reynolds, Smokestack Grills and Skipper Scollard.

A DISTURBANCE.

On hearing the result of the election read, Two Forty Calder, Trent Valley Canal Innes and Skipper Scollard sprang to their feet, and, during a great disturbance, demanded why they were left out of office. They were as good as those elected, and Two Forty Calder was understood to say that "not one of the members had a colt that could come within 200 yards." (Confusion.) Bro. Innes said that "as an employee of the Government at Ottawa, who could not be turned out, he thought—" (Ironical cheer from Process Server Nicholls.) During the racket the President calmly scratched a mosquito bite on his left ankle with his right hand. When peace was restored he arose and said: "Brother Two Forty you have disturbed the harmony of this meeting, you'll be fined according to your cognomen. (Sensation, during which Poobah Doidge pulled out a pair of handcuffs.) I fine you $2.40, and direct that you drive no horse for the next month except you can prevail on Bro. Anvil Davis to lend you his trotter. Brother Innes you are fined $1,250, and ordered to tell no story or get off no spil for 9,999 days, and Brother Scollard, in consideration of your mild disposition, I only fine you 30 cents, but order you for 3 days to spar with gloves with anyone under 17 who wishes it.

The Chairman, after kicking Spiritual Munro's dog "Pug" off the platform on to the knees of Blowhard McIlmoyle, said: "Brethren, order must be maintained. The next time I have to call a member up I will fine him $15,000 and exclude him from all meetings of the Lakefield Municipal Council for ten years. (Severe sensation, with cheer by mistake from Brother Poobah Doidge.) You will now vamoose the ranche! Alons! Scoot!" And they scooted to meet again next week or the week after.—(Com.)

A Narrow Escape

Mr. Wm. Graham had an experience on Saturday he will not soon forget. Mr. Graham took a trip up to see his cottage on the Government boat the Empire. After dinner at Burleigh Mr. Graham went out with Mr. Rogers, Inspector of Slides, to watch the logs being run through. Mr. Dwyer, Superintendent for A. Macdonald, Peterborough, was in the act of releasing a couple of logs that had floated over boradside. This was being done by means of a cant hook attached to the centre of a long rope, one end of which was held on one side of the slide by Mr. Dwyer, the other end was held by two workmen, who were pulling one end of the log so as to let it swing free. Mr. Dwyer, as soon as the log swung free was to pull the hook loose. The rope got tangled around his leg without his knowing it, and when the log felt the current he was pulled violently from his feet and would have gone on the slide to certain death if Mr. Graham had not grabbed him. Mr. Rogers came to his assistance, and for nearly two minutes they held on to Mr. Dwyer, and the two men hung on to the rope on the other side, the log all the time pulling like a ton weight. In the meantime an attempt was made to cut the rope, first with a knife and afterwards with a cross-cut saw, but ineffectually. An axe was all the time being called for, but none was around. Finally, an Indian, who had his boat moored below the runway, heard the calls and came with an axe and severed the rope with two strokes. Mr. Dwyer nearly slipped out of the hands of Messrs. Graham and Rogers when the tension was relieved. "My God, boys," he said, "don't let me go now!" He was severely bruised by the fall, and swears that his leg that was pulled is about two feet longer than the other.

TESTIMONIALS:

The following are a few from scores as testimonials the Sergt-Major has from people who have used this preparation:

I have used Kenny's Hair Restorer for dandruff and falling out of my hair. It has removed the dandruff, and a few applications prevented my hair falling out. Three bottles of Kennys Hair Restorer has restored the hair on my head to its original state. I can in justice to the manufacturer recommend Kennys Hair Restorer from my own experience as the best remedy I have ever heard of for the prevention and cure of baldness, and I am sure it will accomplish all that it is claimed for it if properly applied as directed.

Gold in Haliburton

There has been a new development in Haliburton gold mining. Within a mile of the village a quartz rock has been found containing gold in large quantities. It is a well developed vein of a volcanic rock.

This has been secured by a company who have abundant capital, and who have decided to work the mine thoroughly. Operations have already commenced and whatever may be the ultimate result it seems certain that the mining will furnish employment for a dozen men for the next three or four months.

Mr. D. Keith has the management of the company's business and is arranging for the immediate introduction of the machinery. The prospects are very bright at present, for not only is there work proceeding on the Haliburton mine, but the Haliburton gold mining is proceeding with increased vigor.

GRANOLITHIC WALKS FOR GEORGE STREET

Town Council so Decided at a Special Meeting Saturday Night.

Proposed Reduction in the Number of Councillors The $10,000 Money By-Law for Purchase of a Steam Roller and the Erection of New Bridges Defeated on Its Second Reading- A Stormy Sessin

A special meeting of the town council was held in the council chamber on Saturday evening.

There were present, Mayor Davis and Councillors McWilliams, Dawson, Denne, Langford, Hamilton, Allen, W. H. White, J. M. White, Cobb and Robertson.

On motion the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was dispensed with.

Communications

From Elizabeth S. Boswell, Elizabeth Burnham and others asking that a granolithic sidewalk be constructed on the east side of George street, from Brock to Charlotte, and on the west side from Brock street to the C. P. R. station.—Received.

From T. M. McFadden, tendering his resignation as inspector of sewer construction.—Resignation accepted.

From S. Fry, asking to be appointed inspector of sewer work.—Referred to the Sewerage Committee.

From Richard King, M. D., and Robt. Neill, asking that a sewer pipe be laid on Charlotte street from Stewart street to Rubidge.—Referred to the Sewerage Committee.

From S. R. Armstrong, enclosing the resolution of the Board of Health regarding earth closets on George street.—Received.

From W. G. Armstrong and a number of others asking that a sidewalk be laid on the south side of Antrim street, from George street to the railroad track.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

From J. J. Hartley and a number of others drawing attention to the bad condition of the sidewalk on the north side of Antrim street, and asking that the street be graded and a new sidewalk be laid.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

From the Guelph Pavement Co., offering to furnish estimates for permanent walks.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

Accounts

A number of accounts were referred to the Finance Committee, with the exception of that of Wm. Logan, which was ordered to be paid.

Granolithic Walks

The petition for granolithic walks on George street was signed by nearly every property owner on the street, and the council disposed of the matter in short order.

Councillor McWilliams moved, seconded by Councillor Langford, that the Town Engineer be instructed to prepare plans and specifications for a granolithic walk on George street west from the C. P. R. track to King street, six feet wide, and from King street to Brock street, ten feet wide; on the east side of George street, from Charlotte street to Brock street, ten feet wide; and also—if petition receive sufficient signatures—to have similar plans and specifications prepared for a six foot walk on both sides of Water street, from Brock street to Murray street; and that tenders be solicited and the work proceeded with as rapidly as possible.—Carried unanimously.

Steam Roller and New Bridges

Councillor McWilliams introduced a By-Law providing for the expenditure of $10,000 on the erection of new bridges and the purchase of a steam roller—$3,000 on the latter and $7,000 for the former.

Councillor Dawson could scarcely keep his seat while the By-Law was being read and as soon as Councillor McWilliams had concluded, sprang to his feet and denounced it in language that was more forcible than parliamentary. He claimed Peterborough had not the slightest need for a steam roller, and as for the new bridges they could be erected with the annual street appropriations.

Councillor Robertson was of the opinion that a steam roller would be a good investment for the town but he objected to having such matters sprung on the council. The first intimation he had that any such move was on foot was when the By-Law was read.

Mayor Davis said that the bridges of the town were in bad condition and that it would be better to erect new ones than to run the risk of suits for damages. As to the steam roller, the inauguration of a system of permanent walks and roadways made the purchase of one an absolute necessity. Ottawa, Hamilton, and other cities had purchased steam rollers and found them of inestimable value. The present roller was not equal to the work and cost $14 a day to operate it, while a steam roller could be operated for one-quarter that amount.

Councillor Langford wished to remind Councillor Dawson that ten years ago he (Councillor Dawson) had supported a $20,000 by-law for the erection of bridges and that the bridges then erected had cost us little or nothing since. The by-law presented to-night called for only $7,000. They could not take the money out of the current funds—it would have to be borrowed. Councillor Dawson's attitude was inexplainable.

Councillor Dawson acknowledged that he had ten years ago supported a $20,000 bridge by-law. He had changed his views since that time. He didn't believe in asking for a lump sum of money from the people. Tenders should be asked for and then the people could vote on a definite sum for a definite purpose. As to the steam roller—Peterborough hadn't the slightest need for one.

Councillor McWilliams said that the bridges had to be built and that a by-law for that purpose would have to be voted on by the ratepayers, and he could see no reason why they should not at the same time express an opinion on the advisability of purchasing a steam roller. There was no necessity of submitting two by-laws.

Councillor Cobb claimed that the meeting and the steam roller and bridge by-law had all been sprung on the council. He was opposed to the whole outfit and wished most emphatically to protest against Saturday night sessions of the council.

On the second reading the by-law received its quietus. The following motion did the business:

Moved by Councillor Denne, seconded by Councillor Cobb, that the by-law be not read a second time but that it be referred to committee of the whole council.—Carried.

Reducing the Number of Councillors

Councillor Langford gave notice that at the next meeting of the council he would introduce a by-law providing for the reduction of the council to eleven members—ten councillors and a mayor—to be elected by a vote of the whole people, instead of by wards, as at present.

A Nuisance on the Market

On motion of Councillor Robertson, the Market Committee was authorized to have certain repairs, etc., made to the market building.

Councillor Denne drew the attention of the council to the fact that the cattle pen on the market—owing to its being improperly built—was proving a nuisance to people living in the vicinity. The police were after the market clerk in this connection, and it would be necessary for the council to take action at once.

Considerable discussion ensued—the concensus of opinion being favorable to having the pen connected with the sewer and the present floor replaced by a concrete one.

On motion of Councillor McWilliams, seconded by Councillor Hamilton, the matter was referred to the Market Committee—that committee to report as to cost, etc., at next meeting of the council.

Mud Lake Bridge Deputation

Moved by Councillor McWilliams, seconded by Councillor Langford, that a cheque covering the expenses of the town's deputation to Ottawa re the Mud Lake bridge, be issued, when the account is certified to by the Mayor.—Carried.

A Breeze

Councillor McWilliams said that the Chief of Police had suggested the advisability of the town securing the services of a detective for the C.W.A. meet. He thought the idea was a good one and that the suggestion should be acted upon.

Two or three motions to adjourn were hurled at the chair and some three or four councillors who had manifested a disposition throughout the entire session to quarrel on slight provocation rose to their feet.

Councillor McWilliams was speaking in favor of the Chief's suggestion when Councillor Cobb interrupted him.

Councillor Cobb said he was opposed to action being taken in the matter. He thought it strange that the council should grant $300 to the bicycle people and then be compelled to hire detectives to protect themselves from the very people they had thus assisted.

Councillor McWilliams was indignant and repudiated Councillor Cobb's insinuation that the bicycle people needed detectives to keep them in order.

Several sharp passages between the two councillors followed.

The sound of the Mayor's gavel finally rose above the din and compara- —the meeting then fell asunder.

Sidewalk for Auburn

Councillor White, during the confusion, managed somehow to get the council to consent to have the Street and Bridge Committee report at the next meeting as to the cost, etc., of a sidewalk for Auburn.

Like the historical Lime Juice Club the meeting then fell asunder.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Interesting Items of Local and District Happenings in Brief

—Everybody reads the Times.

—The market was well attended on Saturday.

—Rev. J. C. Davidson officiated last evening at All Saint's, and Rev. W. L. Armitage at St. John's.

—The Times Bookstore has just received a large stock of base ball and lacrosse goods.

—The Port Hope Guide says that Mr. H. Hall, brickmaker, is shipping 65,000 bricks to Peterborough. What's the matter with our local brick men.

—Rev. Mr. Shorey will perform the ceremony of laying the corner stone of Eden church, near Bobcaygeon, on May 24th.

—The first league match of the north-eastern C.L.A. district will be played here between Orillia and the Peterboroughs on Thursday, June 2nd.

—The Bay of Quinte conference of the Methodist church meets at Lindsay from June 1st to 8th. A preliminary meeting of the ministers will be held in the same town on the 17th and 18th inst.

—Mr. Arthur Dewdney, of North Harvey, shot a large black bear in the woods near his house this week. He put three balls into the animal before he killed it. The pelt when stretched out to dry was as large as an ox skin.

—Large quantities of potatoes are being bought and sold on the market every day and throughout the country districts. They are being purchased for the great United States wholesale firms and are shipped direct to New York. The demand is caused by the Spanish-American war, as the potatoes are all taken by the United States Government for their troops now massed in the Southern States.

—Information from fruit growing centres of Ontario is to the effect that there is a profusion of blossoms of every variety, and promises of an abundant fruit crop. The tent caterpillar and green aphis, which are numerous, owing to the mild spring, have, however, already begun their work on the blossoms, but it is thought that their ravages will be checked by spraying.

—The results of the semi-annual examination at the Ontario College of Pharmacy are just announced, and in the list are the names of three young men deserving of congratulation at their success, all Peterborough boys. They are Will C. Dixon, medalist in dispensing; Harry A. Davidson, medalist in materia medica, and A. G. Borland, whose name stands high in the honor list of passes. Mr. Dixon was a student with Mr. Madill, Mr. Davidson with Mr. H. S. Macdonald and Mr. Borland with Mr. J. D. Tully.

RUSSIANS ARE JEALOUS

They Believe that an Anglo-Saxon Alliance Would be Inimical to their Interests

SYMPATHY WITH U. S.

Russia Opposed to the Sale of the Philippines to Great Britain—The Whole Affair is a Misunderstanding

(Special Despatches to the Times, 4 a.m.)

RUSSIANS ARE JEALOUS.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—The Navoe Vremya, commenting upon the the recent speech at Birmingham of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain the British Secretary of State for the Colonies, said: "We doubt if the United States desires an alliance and whether it would be agreeable to the other powers that the United States after wrestin the Philippine Islands from Spain should afterwards sell them to Great Britain."

The Navoe Vremya considers such an intention "sufficient to induce the powers to reconsider their neutrality during the present war."

FRENCH SYMPATHIES WITH THE U. S.

Paris, May 16.—The Journal Des Debating during the cruise of a long article to-day reflects the anxiety experienced in Government circles here respecting the feeling aroused in America on account of the French open sympathy with Spain. It says: "The whole affair is a misunderstanding and French opinion at the outset of the war certainly considered the United States was wrong and some of the papers expressed this opinion in an aggressive form. The Americans, however, should not have taken the matter tragically for of all foreigners our natural sympathies are for the United States and our Government throughout has acted most correctly." After charging Great Britain with bein at the bottom of the mischief and declaring it is America's own business if she decides to intervent in distant affairs the articles concludes: "What concerns us is that America shall not, in taking up the great role of international domain start with preconceived ideas against us and renounce the good understanding with France which has been so useful in the past and which is still more desirable in the future. The French nation was never really hostile to the Americans who will realize this when the present friction has had time to disappear.

THE PORTER TOUCHES A REEF.

Port au Prince, Hayti, May 16.—The United States torpedo boat Porter returned to Cape Haytin this morning, having left Rear Admiral Simpson's fleet in the offing. Lieut. Bennett conferred with the United States Consul at Cape Haytin and filed despatches from the Rear Admiral. The rendezvous of the fleet is north of Cape Haytin. The Porter left here at 10 o'clock to rejoin the fleet, and while going to Cape Haytin yesterday the Porter scraped a reef, but sustained no damage. The destination of the fleet is uncertain. The United States store ship Supply was expected to await the Minneapolis at Cape is said to be due to a mistake which will probably be rectified by the Porter's return. The United States cruiser Minneapolis is likely to be intercepted with new orders.

NAVY DEPARTMENT BULLETINS.

Washington, May 16.—The Navy Department issued the following bulletin at the close of office hours to-day emboldying such official information of the day as the department regarded proper for publication: "Admiral Dewey was informed that officers, men and supplies would be sent to Manila by the City of Pekin. About 12,000 troops will go. Mr. Knight, correspondent of the London Times, having received the necessary permission from the Spanish Government to land at Havana if conveyed to that port by a neutral vessel has been granted permission by the Navy Department to take passage by the German steamer Polaria, which vessel is given permission to pass the blockade. The Department hopes to makes an exchange of prisoners at an early date. The British steamer Myrtleden has been granted the same permission to go to Cardenas as was previously granted to the Norwegian vessel Foloo. The Austrian man of war Empress Maria Teresa will visit Cuban ports.

SESSION SUSPENDED.

Madrid, May 16.—A communication has been sent to the Chambers announcing the Cabinet crisis and asking them to suspend their sessions, pending a solution. Senor Sagasta believes the new Ministry will be formed by Wednesday next. Orders have been issued by Senor Sagasta countermanding the reception which was to have been held to-morrow upon the occasion of the King's birthday, and he has instructed the Captains-General in all districts not to hold their usual receptions.

A HUGE DEFICIENCY.

Washington, May 16.—The Secretary of the Navy has prepared a deficiency estimate of over $20,000,000 for ordnance, equipment, construction, etc., of the navy. It may be submitted to the House to-day.

WILL SWEEP THE WORLD.

London, May 16.—A topic that in Europe is transcending in importance even the Spanish-American war, is the important speech made by Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the British Colonial Minister, in which he practically advocated an Anglo-American alliance. Mr. Chamberlain, who is not in the habit of speaking unless he means something, observed that if the past policy of England of remaining isolated is pursued, then the fate of the Chinese Empire will be decided without reference to British interests. If, on the other hand, it is determined by Great Britain to enforce the "open door" policy she must not reject the alliance with those whose interests approximate most nearly to her own. As there are no interests in China which equal those of Great Britain as much as those of the United States, there is little doubt that the whole object of Mr. Chamberlain was to advocate an alliance of Anglo-Saxons, and consequently the whole political world of Continental Europe is in a ferment, for it is well known that, such an alliance being assured, the Anglo-Saxons would sweep the world before them.

DELAYED DESPATCHES

Fort De France, Island of Martinique, May 16.—The manager here of the French Cable Company explicitely denies the statement that a despatch filed by Captain Cotton, of the United States auxiliary cruiser Harvard was delayed 24 hours at St. Pierre, this island. He says: "Captain Cotton presented himself at St. Pierre and asked by what cable messages were transmitted to Washington. When informed that such messages went by way of Fort de France and Hayti he refused to give his despatch because a Spanish torpedo boat was at that moment at Fort De France. He told the American consul that he preferred to give his despatches to the English company in spite of the delay of twenty-four hours which they would have to submit to on account of the accumulation of business. "I have obtained the following statement on the subject: To whom it may concern: I certify that the agent of the French company at St. Pierre, Martinique, has never stated to me that despatches from St. Pierre, Martinique, to New York, U. S.A., would have to suffer a delay of twenty-four hours. George L. Datt, U. S. Consul. Cotton, captain Harvard."

DEWEY'S COAL EXHAUSTED.

Hong Kong, May 16.—Reports received here show that Rear Admiral Dewey is not in a position of very great security in the bay of Manila. Although he has reduced the batteries and has the town at his mercy, he himself will shortly be at the mercy of the first attacker unless quickly relieved. The admiral is almost at the end of his coal supply. When he and his fleet set sail from this port, it was supposed that the capture of Manila and its supply of coal would be an easy matter, but events have proved otherwise. It is now 17 days since the bombardment and all that time the American admiral has been obliged to keep his vessels under steam ready for instant action. On this account the supply he brought from Hong Kong is nearly exhausted and can only last another day. The vessels containing supplies which were despatched from San Francisco a few days ago, cannot reach their destination less than three weeks. Long before this time all Dewey's coal will be gone. The problem is what will become of the fleet without a supply of fuel? It is impossible for coal to be obtained from shore, seeing that Augusti and his troops are strong enough to repel any attack by the present force at Dewey's disposal.

CELEBRATE THE VICTORY.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 16.—Advices which have just been received from Cienfuegos, Cuba, says, the Spaniards at that place attended the chanting of a Te Deum in celebration of the "news" circulated by the Spanish Government that the Spanish forces had been victorious at Manila. All the bells were rung and General Pando and his staff attended the church of St. Sulphice in full uniform. A ration of wine was served to the soldiers and, though the blockading ships were outside the harbor and meat was costing two pesetas a pound, the city was gay and rejoiced at the "success" of Spanish arms. Since then, ugly rumors of defeat have been in circulation, but "officially" Spain has won a "victory" in the Philippines. The refugees who arrived at Jamaica from Cienfuegos by the Adula were released from quarantine yesterday. Threats of cutting off the heads of Americans have been made at Cienfuegos but no violence has actually occurred.

RAID EASTERN STATES.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 16.—When the Spanish fleet reached Martinique the Madrid authorities ordered it to the relief of Porto Rico. Intelligence came, however, of Admiral Sampson's withdrawal and caused the order to be countermanded. Part of the Spanish fleet remains in the vicinity of Martinique awaiting the return of the other vessels, when the combined force will seek to demolish the American fleet and raid the Eastern States.

SEVEN BOILERS DISABLED.

Kingston, May 16.—Refugees from Cienfuegos say the shots fired by the blockading fleet at the forts of Cienfuegos on April 20 did not result in any loss of life, and that only a few houses were struck. The Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes, of 3,000 tons, now at Santiago de Cuba has seven of her ten boilers disabled, and she is otherwise so unseaworthy that she has been anchored at the harbor entrance as a guardship. There was some complaint among the fifty Americans aboard the Adula in regard to the departure of Consul McGarr. They aver that he left Cienfuegos without notifying the other Americans of their danger.

SPANISH DALLIANCE CRITISED.

London, May 16.—It is considered in London that the Washington Board of Strategy has a difficult problem to solve on account of the mysterious movements of Admiral Cerveras' squadron, every alleged detail of which is now regarded with the utmost suspicion. It is recognized that Spain's dalliance will do her no good in the end, but also that the war will be more prolonged than was first expected, and that the invasion of Cuba may prove a difficult matter.

WON'T EXCHANGE PRISONERS.

Key West, May 16.—The Government tug Osceola reported this morning that while cruising along the Cuban coast with the torpedo boat Ericsson on Friday afternoon they saw a large body of Spanish soldiers patrolling the shore eight miles off Havana. The boats sent in a fusilade of shots, which scattered the troops. It is not known if any of the soldiers were killed. The Spaniards did not return the fire.

The United States Government tug Uncas has returned here from off Havana without the two American newspaper correspondents, said to be Charles Thrall and Hayden Jones, captured by the Spaniards and imprisoned in Fort Cabanas, whose release the commander of the Uncas attempted to consummate on the basis of exchanging them for Spanish prisoners held in the United States.

Neither Captain Brainerd, of the Uncas nor any other person on board will give details of the result of the expedition until the official report on the subject has been made to Commodore Remy.

READY TO KILL A MILLION.

Havana, May 16.—In all the pulpits yesterday the American "practice of bombarding defenceless towns without previous notification" was severely censured. Those who administered the rebuke said that towns ought not to be bombarded solely to destroy property or to kill people, or for mere pleasure, and pointed out that in the interests of humanity international law had provided that towns must not be bombarded until the forces of the attacking party were ready and in condition to assault and take the towns.

In political circles it is said that the Americans, while pretending that they do not wish the reconcentrados to die of starvation, are, nevertheless, ready to kill over a million peoplpe by their blockade.

Governor-General Blanco is holding a series of conferences with leading politicians to settle definitely the constitution of Cuba and the personnel of the Cabinet. It is believed that the original secretaries will be appointed to permanent positions, with the exception of Senor Doise, the present Secretary of Public Works and Communications.

WAS WASTING AWAY

"I could not eat, sleep, walk or sit down for any length of time. I was always in pain and was wasting away. I grew very weak and had a bad cough. It ried many different remedies, but did not get relief. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, however, I am able to attend to my business." Minnie Jaques, Oshono, Ont.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Interesting Items of Local and District Happenings in Brief

—Manvers Sunday School Convention will be held in the Methodist church, Pontypool, on Thursday, May 26th, at 2.30 o'clock.

—An addition of ten rooms and a parlor is to be built to the Lakeview hotel, Young's Point.

—The Dan McCarthy theatrical company have some very artistic advertising done around town.

—Rev. J. E. Moore preached at South Cavan church on Sunday and administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

—Next year Orillia will have a Council made up of a mayor and six councillors. The words will be done away with, and the whole council elected by a general vote.

—Messrs. Crossley and Hunter have just closed a successful four weeks' union campaign with eighteen churches in St. Paul, Minn., and began union services on Sunday in Markham.

—Work on the canal cutting at Bobcaygeon has ceased for the present owing to the appropriation being exhausted and the dredge has been taken to Burleigh.

—Mr. J. H. Beamer, of Brampton, Ont., has invented what he claims will be a punctureless tire. It is made from the finest steel and woven in a unique manner. There is no rubber whatever about it and no air in the tire so if it were full of holes it would not make any inconvenience to the rider. It has all the resiliency of the pneumatic.

—Orillia Packet: Instead of holding the usual excursion the Fire Brigade has decided to hold a tournament in Orillia during the first week in August. The fire brigades of the neighbouring towns will be invited to take part, and excursions will be run into town from all directions.

—Sunday school anniversary services will be held at Cavanville on Sunday, May 29th, and tea meeting on Monday, the 30th. Sermons will be preached on Sunday morning and evening by Rev. D. N. McCamus, of Port Perry.

—Dr. Hazzard, Millbrook, carried home one of the prizes from Toronto Horse Show last week on his Tyrone colt, winning second place in the two year old class against heavy competition. He refused a very tempting offer for his colt when in the city.

—The editor of a Missouri paper says he stepped into the store of a business man who did not advertise and was surprised to find him busy. The storekeeper had the itch and a Waterbury watch, and when he was not scratching himself he was winding his watch.

—Rev. Father McGuire, during the past week, has made some very noticeable changes around the Presbytery, says the Hastings Star. The grounds have been nicely levelled with a gentle slope to the east. The fence west of the church moved to the east side of the church lot, and the planting of a number of trees makes the changes very imposing and greatly improves the whole church property.

—Lindsay Post: The Rathbun Co. sawmill staff have reason to feel proud of the record made on Thursday last. During the run of 11 hours they turned out 1,460 ties and 400 posts—an average of almost three per minute. If there's another tie mill in the country that can equal this the men think that by putting on a bit of a spurt they could better the above output by a few hundred pieces.

—Messrs. McDougall, Brandon & Austin, of Fenelon Falls, are doing a brisk shipping business these days. On Wednesday a double deck load of hogs passed through to Peterborough to-day they sent through two cars of stockers from Deer Lake, on the I. B. & O. R. to Buffalo. In addition to the above they have shipped about a dozen cars of potatoes to New York points.—Lindsay Post.

Take Your Choice

WE ARE SURE YOU WILL SELECT THE DIAMOND DYES

There are several kinds of wretched imitation and soap grease dyes that are sold by some dealers for the sake of large profits. These dyes bring consternation and despair to every inexperienced housewife who uses them. The results may be summed up as follows: mixed, muddy colors, ruined garments and materials, bad temper, and a shower of wrath on the dealer who has sold the deceptive dyes.

For long years the women of Canada have had before them the celebrated Diamond Dyes for home coloring work. These chemically pure dyes have carried satisfaction and delight to all who have used them. Old, faded and dingy garments have, by the aid of Diamond Dyes, been transformed into new and beautiful creations; money has been saved, and the happiness of families increased. Where directions have been faithfully followed, not a single failure has been recorded.

If you are a novice in the work of home dying, you have now presented to you the varied classes of dyes that you can purchase and use. If you desire success, profit, an unruffled temper, and home happiness, you must surely decide in favor of Diamond Dyes—the only warranted dyes in the world. You cannot be deceived in the name "Diamond" is found on each packet of dyes you bye.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 17, 1898

WILL IT PAY?

The Lindsay Post appears to take great interest trying to prove that there is no money for a steamer on the Bobcaygeon-Bridgenorth route. Our contemporary, after quoting the Times, suggesting that a "boat" be put on the route, says:

"No use, there is not sufficient traffic to pay for the oil used on the machinery. For a few weeks during the coming season there might be a little money made, but not enough to pay for keeping the boat in commission during the season."

Capt. Bottum, as everybody knows, made money out of this route, and there is still money to be made here. Peterborough should, and no doubt will, encourage any one who may be induced to put a boat on the route. We hope in a few days to be able to announce that steamboat connection between Bridgenorth and Bobcaygeon will have been resumed.

GREAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES

All men of good-will should hope and pray that Great Britain and the United States may be joined by the eventualities of this war for the furtherance of peace and of free commerce on the earth. It is not unlikely that an essential unity in character and aim between the two nations may unite them. The causes which separate the Empire and the Republic are few and small compared to the "causes which should unite them. They are both in profession Christian nations. They are both in practice commercial nations. "And neither Great Britain nor the United States has a great deal in common with the military despotisms which glorify the sword as an end and not as a means.

Aside from the moral elements which should draw the United States closer to Great Britain there is the self-interest which must teach American statesmen that when the other great powers control the markets of the world to the disadvantage of British commerce they at the same time injure American commerce. But the new responsibilities which the United States will assume will be the greatest of all reasons for enduring peace between the two branches of the Anglo-Saxon family.

The very isolation of the United States makes its statesmen irresponsible and reckless. They had no distant colonies or merchant vessels to think about. They had given no hostages which might be sacrificed by war. They thought they had everything to gain and nothing to lose. It will be another story when the United States has a merchant navy to take care of, and when to go to war with Great Britain would expose Cuba and Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines to danger. The far-sighted Canadian has good reason for wishing to see "the Stars and Stripes float over the isles of the sea. The more isles the United States has to govern, the less likely her statesmen will be to make trouble for Canada. Better for humanity that the American flag should fly over the Philippines than that the Spanish flag, the German flag, and the Russian flag or any flag but the one ensign, the Union Jack, which Canadians have chosen for goal and all in life, and even unto death, as the Flag of their Country.

"Ah! this is nuts for me!" exclaimed Sampson. Thereupon he proceeded to shell San Juan.

BILIOUSNESS

bosses many a body and burdens many a mind. You can't enjoy the food you like because you are bilious. You take all sorts of precautions, and yet the bilious attack leaps on you like a tiger from ambush. You know the feeling! The blood seeming on fire with a dull heat; the boring pains in the eyes; the head seeming to open and shut; the horrible nausea. You know the irritability which precedes and the languor that follows the attack. It's miserable, isn't it? Why not cure the trouble? There's a pill that will cure biliousness. Dr. J. C. AYER'S PILLS are an acknowledged specific for this derangement.

A. Swanger, Texarkana, Tex., writes: "For fifteen years I have used Ayer's Pills, and find them very effective in bilious complaints. I have yet to see the case where they have failed to cure."

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

Proceeding to Michigan avenue, he found the house of the lawyer, and saw that there was a stable at the back of the garden.

"The coachman probably 'likes a glass of something to drink,' said Jeffrey reflectively, so he stepped into the nearest saloon.

It did not take such an adroit questioner as himself long to find out that the coachman, who had been with Mr. Jameson for fifteen years, was a Scotchman, named Sandy Bayne.

"Does he take a little whiskey now and then? If he is the man I am looking for, he takes a drink. It is queer that I couldn't recall that man's name."

"Sandy does like whiskey, but he is very careful; he never wants Mr. Jameson to know it," said the bartender.

"No; I suppose the old man is a bit of a crank on the subject of drink, eh?"

"He is a clear-headed man and very strict. He is as quick as brush-fire, but generous and charitable.'

"And Sandy is a good fellow, too?'

"Yes Sandy is good enough, as men go, but closer in money matters than the bark on a tree. He has a wife that is a daisy."

"Indeed?"

"I should smile. She is a laundress for a family in Forty-second street. Now and then she comes in here, and of course as you are a friend of Sandy's, you won't give it away, but the way that lady can put away 'hot Scotches' is a caution to the snakes of Jersey.'

"I should like to meet her."

"I suppose you are a Scotchman, though you don't talk like one."

"Oh, I was born in this country, but my mother came from Scotland, the same place as the Baynes.'

"Edinburgh? Well, I'll tell Sandy you want to see him. When will you drop in again?"

"On Wednesday night. This is Monday. Tell Sandy not to disappoint me, as I may have to leave the city."

Thoroughly satisfied with his day's work, Jeffrey Pettus returned to his home, a chamber in a furnished-room house on South Halsted street.

When Stella and Edith opened the door of the office in the Rookery Building, they found an elderly gentleman sitting at a desk, reading the morning paper and expecting callers.

"Good-morning, ladies!"

He rose and placed chairs for them with great politeness. He was short and stout, and wore a short sandy beard and gold eye-glasses.

Stella made up her mind at once that the old gentleman possessed one characteristic in a marked degree; in fact, it might be termed his ruling passion; and that was what the old gentleman would term firmness, and his friends probably call by the less complimentary name of obstinacy.

"I called,' began Stella, timidly, "because I saw your advertisement, that is, if you are the gentleman who advertised?"

"Yes', I am."

"'I should like very much to secure the position, sir."

"Do you possess the necessary qualifiactions, miss?"

"I think so. I received an excellent education at Madame Vignette's Seminary, on Fifth avenue, New York."

"Indeed? Rather an expensive school for a young lady who is about to turn her accomplishments to such good account.'

The old man did not say so, but Stella understood him to mean:

"Why does a girl who, after attending such a fashionable school, have to go out looking for employment."

She at once answered the unspoken question.

"'Reverses in fortune are not uncommon, sir. I can furnish the best references.'

a princess,' and Mr. Jameson liked her princess,' and Mr. Jameson liked her all the better for her dignified answer.

"Far from it, unfortunately. Now, I must tell you I have made up my mind that you are the very young lady I am looking for. I am a childless old man, but a nephew of mine, who spent some years in the isalnd of Santa Cruz, in the Danish West Indies, has left me a legacy in the shape of a little girl, who seems to have run wild all her days. She has the temper, my servants tell me, of a wild-cat, and no one can do anything with her."

"Not a very promising pupil, sir."

"No. If your friend, or sister, that other young lady there, had applied for the position, I should have unhesitatingly answered no, for I do not think she is endowed with the requisite firmness. Firmness is a quality I very much admire; I am rather firm myself.'

Stella wtih diffculity repressed a smile.

"Now, as to references, I shall call on, or write to——"

"Write to the Rev. Mr. Kent, Brandon, Ill. Ask him, if you please, if Stella Sterling is qualified to undertake the care of such a young lady as you describe.'

"I have no doubt the reference will prove all that I could wish. Now, as to salary?

"I should prefer leaving that question until other preliminaries are arranged.'

"You are right, Miss Sterling, very right. Allow me to take down that address, and you will hear from me in the course of a few days. Good-morning; I am very glad to have had the pleasure of meeting you."

He bowed the girls out into the corridor, where they encountered a sour-faced woman of forty, who had evidently come on the same errand as themselves.

"Say, Stella; look at that young, well-educated girl. How do you like her? She, I think, possesses the requisite firmness; don't you think so."

Stella glanced around, to see if their merriment had any witnesses, for she could not help laughing at Edith's attempt to look like Mr. Jameson."

""Well, we have both got places; so let us go home and rest. It is very hot in Chicago. Come on, let us catch a car.'

CHAPTER VII.

Alwin Croft was found guilty of all the charges brought against him, and sentenced to seven years' imprisonment, with hard labor.

He wrote to his nephew, requesting him to visit him before he left Brandon for the State prison. Jeffrey complied with his request, for two reasons; in the first place, he wished to learn all the particulars in regard to Stella Sterling's parentage, and the fortune which Croft had asserted was hers; secondly, he wished to obtain some money. He knew Croft had a secret hoard and being almost penniless, he was determined to draw on it.

"Nunkie thinks I am working for him," said the artful Jeffrey, "so of course he must pay me; but if I can only get the 'lay of the land,' as sailors say, I'll play him a trick. Who wants that old jail-bird around after he is married to an heiress and a high-toned beauty? No, Nunkie, not much."

With this reflection, Pettus started for Brandon; he did not do so, however, till he had had an interview with Sandy Bayne.

That worthy was shrewd. He did not know why this strange young man was so anxious to claim acquaintance with him, but he was tolerably certain that they had never met in their lives till they met in the saloon by the appointment made with the bartender, whose name was Clem Nugent.

For Sale or To Rent

That valuable property situated on the corner of Bethune and Edinburgh sterets, for sale or to rent. Parties intending to purchase or rent a handsome and commodious residence should not fail to inspect this place. The house is a four storey brick, 32 x 42, fitted up in modern style, with every convenience, such as city water, bath room, electric light, first class out-buildings, including stable for three horses, driving shed for six rigs, ice house, etc. There is a fine lawn and vegetable garden attached to the house, also a number of fruit trees and shrubbery. FREE TRIAL TO ANY HONEST MAN

The Foremost Medical Company in the World in the Cure of Weak Men Makes this Offer

HAPPY MARRIAGE, HEALTH, ENERGY AND LONG LIFE.

In all the world today—in all the history of the world—no doctor or institution has treated and restored so many men as has the famed ERIE MEDICAL CO., of Buffalo, N.Y.

This is due to the fact that the company controls some inventions and discoveries which have no equal in the whole realm of medical science. So much deception has been practised in advertising that this grand old company now makes this startling offer:

They will send their magically effective appliance and a month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial, without expense, to any honest and reliable man!

Not a dollar need be paid until results are known to and acknowledged by the patient.

The Erie Medical Company's Appliance and Remedies have been talked of and written about till every man has heard of them.

The highest medical authorities in the world have lately commended them.

They possess marvelous power to vitalise, develop, restore and sustain.

They create vigor, healthy tissue, new life.

They stop drains that sap the energy.

They cure all effects of evil habits, excesses, overwork.

They give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.

Failure impossible; age no barrier.

This "Trial Without Expense" offer is limited to a short time, and application must be made at once.

No C.O.D. scheme nor deception; no exposure—a clean business proposition by a company of high financial and professional standing.

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, Buffalo, N. Y., and refer to their offer in this paper.

We pay duty and send all goods from Canadian side.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

THE CABLE WAS CUT.

Key West, May 14.—The United States cruiser Marblehead, the gunboat Nashville and the auxiliary cruiser Windom steamed up to the harbor of Cienfuegos early Wednesday morning with orders to cut the cable connecting Havana with Santiago de Cuba. The task was accomplished after a terrific fight between the warships and several thousand Spanish troops which lined the shore and lay concealed behind improvised breastworks. Soon after the arrival at Cienfuegos four boats were launched and proceeded to shore for the purpose of grappling for the cable in order to cut it. The warships lay to about 1,000 yards or more off the harbor. The Spanish troops had assembled ashore. The heavy guns had been placed in a masked battery and the old lighthouse, on a neck of land, had been transformed into a fort. Suddenly, just as the work of cutting the cable was completed, the shore battery and the Spanish infantry opened fire upon the boats. The Marblehead, Nashville and Windom immediately sent a storm of shot inland. Spanish bullets fell in every direction around the small boats. The bluejackets were not dismayed, and, protected by the fire of the ships, cut the cable.

When the boats returned to the ships Regan, who was in one of the Marblehead's boats, of which there were two, was found to have been killed and six men were seen to be badly wounded. The Spaniards suffered severe loss. Shots from the lighthouse having struck the ships several times, fire was concentrated and the improvised fort was blown to pieces. There is no doubt that many of its garrison were killed.

GREAT WAR PROPHESIED.

London, May 14.—A member of the British Government is reported to have prophesied war between France and Great Britain within a month. Precautionary insurances are reported to have been effected against the risk of such a war within the next six months.

ANOTHER CABLE CUT.

New York, May 14.—The central cable offices of the Western Union Telegraph Company this morning sent out the following notice: "The cable between St. Lucia and St. Vincent, in the West Indies, is interrupted, cutting off telegraph communication with St. Vincent, Barbadoes, Grenada, Trinidad and British Guina."

FAMINE PRICES AT CIENFUEGOS.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 14.—A correspondent of the Associated Press who penetrated into Cienfuegos and succeeded in getting a good idea of its situation, says: There were two two thousand ton steamers and three coasting steamers inside the harbor. The vessels were caught by the American blockade fleet and will doubtless fall into the hands of the fleet in due course of time. Blockade prices for food are charged in Cienfuegos. Flour sells at twenty-five cents per pound, meat costs forty cents a pound, and if you want milk you must pay twenty cents a quart for it. There are at least 35,000 or 40,000 people in Cienfuegos and vicinity, including about 15,000 regular Spanish troops and 5,000 volunteers.

SENTIMENT FRIENDLY.

Port au Prince, May 14.—The Government of Hayti declares it is impossible to cede the coal in the station to the United States, although the sentiment is friendly to that country.

TO STOP AT CHARLESTON.

Washington, May 14.—The flying squadron will stop at Charleston for orders.

HEADING OFF THE OREGON.

Rio Janiero, May 14.—Information has been received here that three Spanish warships have been sighted near Pernambuco, off San Agostinho. They were sailing southward at a high speed. The ships were only a short distance from the coast and could be made out plainly. Their course and haste is taken as confirmation of the report that they were on their way to head off and engage the United States battleship Oregon, the gunboat Marietta and the dynamite boat Nichetroy.

GERMANS WISH TO ENLIST.

New York, May 14.—Germans in this city are anxious to fight against Spain. Nearly three thousand of them have offered to enlist, at Seventy-second avenue, and they cannot understand why their services are not taken by the United States. Many of the men have seen service.

CRUISERS SET SAIL.

Newport News, Va., May 14.—The cruiser New Orleans and the auxiliary cruiser St. Paul have sailed from here to join the flying squadron, which they will probably overtake to-night or early to-morrow morning. There is a rumor that Spanish ships have been sighted off Virginia capes.

THE FLOUR IS NEARLY GONE.

New York, May 14.—A special to the World from London says: "There is only enough flour left in Madrid to last four weeks, a Chronicle special reports. The patriotic bull fight is reported to have netted about $60,000.

A TRIPLE LATIN ALLIANCE.

New York, May 14.—A special to the World from Paris says: Henri Rochefort suggests in the Intransigeant that Spain and Italy become republics and join the French republic in forming a triple Latin Republican alliance to offset a probable Anglo-American and German alliance. Referring to the proposition to boycott the Paris fashions, Yves Guyott's paper, the Aurore, expresses indignation at the insults printed in the French boulevard papers to American women. It says it will cost the Paris workmen and workwomen $50,000 a year.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles

Symptoms—Moisture intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate and become very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. All druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia., Lyman Sons, & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents. Positively refuse all substitutes.

For that tired feeling you must enrich and purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine you need.

RIOTS HAVE NOT ABATED

Italian Government Suppresses as Much News as Possible About the State of Affairs

London, May 14.—Despatches received here state that the bread riots in Italy have not abated, but that the Government suppresses the news.

A despatch to the Daily News from Milan, by way of Chiasso, Switzerland, says: The soldiers declare that during the riots in the Rue Garibaldi a sharp rifle fire was directed at them from behind the blinds of the windows. They immediately lined up and fired at the windows and crowd and many fell dead. In many other streets ladies and children were shot at the windows and on the balconies. Almost all the firing was by grape shot.

MILAN HELD BY REBELS.

The Rome correspondent of the Times says, that on Sunday General Bava Becarris, commander of the army corps at Milan, was unable to muster the insurgents, and was shut in by a ring fence of barricades erected at every gate of the city until General Pelloux with half an army corps, marched on Milan from Lodi and cleared out the rebels with round shot. General Pelloux, brother of the late Minister of War, who a week ago was in command at Tavia, holds the suburbs of Milan with a strong force. The latest accounts say that during Saturday, Sunday and Monday last detachments of picked marksmen were stationed on the highest roofs whence they could shoot down the stone throwers, whose corpses rolled into the streets below, or were found on the roofs afterwards.

Two Killed on C. P. R.

Winnipeg, May 14.—An accident occurred to an east-bound freight train at a point eight miles east of Walsh Station on the C.P.R. near Dunmore, N.W.T., at about three o'clock yesterday morning, by which A. Baker, the engineer of the train, and J. Smythe, fireman, were both instantly killed. Baker was a married man and lived with his family at Moose Jaw. The fireman was a single man and also a resident of the same place. A tramp name unknown, was also injured. The accident was caused by a culvert being burned by a prairie fire.

How to Cure all Skin Diseases

Simply apply "Swayne's Ointment." No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, &c., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for Swayne's Ointment. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents. Avoid imitations.

TRENT CANAL

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Hydraulic Lift Lock at Peterborough

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tenders for Hydraulic Lift Lock" at Peterborough, will be received at this office up to noon on Tuesday, May 31st, 1898, for the construction of this Hydraulic Lift Lock.

Plans and specifications of the work can be seen at the office of the Chief Engineer of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, on and after the 5th, May, 1898, where forms of tender can be obtained by the parties tendering.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same, and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum $18,000 must accompany the tender; this accepted cheque must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The accepted cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
L. K. JONES,
Secretary.

250,000 CURED.

Thousands of young men are made nervous wrecks, unfit for business, social pleasures or home duties by evil habits in youth, later excesses, or private diseases." W. O. Andrews, of Akron, O., says: "I read this paper and have seen many reports of remarkable cures made by Drs. Kennedy and Kergan. I decided to treat with them. Indiscretion was the cause of my trouble. I was weak and nervous; no ambition; back weak. pimples on the face; thin and haggard; eyes sunken and cheeks hollow; dreams and drains at night; memory poor; varicocele and weak parts; irritable; sinking spells; specks before the eyes; lack of confidence; no energy; and many other complaints. I had tried fourteen doctors, bought four electric belts took scores of bottles of patent medicines—all failed. I tried the New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, and it cured me. I am a Man Again. I have gained twenty-six pounds and am strong mentally, physically and sexually. It is a wonderful treatment."

Blood Disease—with the worst symptoms: Ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, blotches, eruptions, hair fallen out, bone pains, eyes red, stomach troubles, sore throat, etc., positively cured forever. You dare not marry until cured. Cures guaranteed or no pay.

LIVELY LAKEFIELD

The Andrew's Dramatic Co.

This company, which is now playing a three nights' stand here, gave their first entertainment last night. They are deserving of every word of praise they have received from the press of the towns in which they have played. Their performance of Monte Cristo was a revelation of what actors can do although not surrounded by all the modern accessories of scenery and properties which seems so necessary to the modern actor, who, it must be admitted, depends too much upon these externals and but little on his feeling. The Edmund Dantes of Mr. D'Oive was a realistic performance and if this young man continues his painstaking work he will yet reach the top of the ladder. The Mercedes of Miss Warrenton was a clever bit of emotional acting. Miss Claire gave a fine character sketch of La Carconti. Nor should the work of Messrs Brooke Andrews and Conlon be overloked.

Mr. Andrews, the manager, is a native of Boston, that home of actors, and entered the profession at the early age of eight, starting in with the Boston Theatre Co. This is his first attempt at management and he has surrounded himself with clever young people. We can recommend this company to all who wish to see clear, strong plays well presented. The wonder is that they can continue at the ridiculously low prices of 10, 20 and 30 cents.

At Division Court, Toronto.—Brisbois vs. Corry—D. O'Connell, Peterborough, for the plaintiff, moved to set aside verdict and judgment in favor of defendants as to the main part of plaintiff's claim, and for a new trial; or, if in the event of a new trial not being granted, to reverse the order of the trial judges as to costs. The action was for damages for breach of contract to accept gravel, and was tried before Ferguson, J., and a jury at Peterborough. The plaintiff was allowed $61.50, with Division Court costs only, and the defendants were allowed the excess of their costs over Division Court costs, to be set off pro tanto. The defendants were contractors for the building of a line of railway in the township of Douro, and the plaintiff made a contract with them to supply gravel. The main question in the action was whether, under the terms of the contract the defendants were bound to accept a specified quantity from the plaintiff, or so much only as they required for the railway ballasting. Watson, Q.C., and Moore, Peterborough, for defendants, contra.

Order made directing a new trial before a judge without a jury. Costs of first trial and of defendants' cross-motion to abide the results. Costs of plaintiff's motion to him in any event. Leave to both parties to amend.

Thousands are in a condition of misery and woe brought on by sleeplessness and nervousness. It is from the ranks of such people that the inmates of our insane asylums are recruited. If you are sleepless, nervous, despondent or irritable, act at once before your case becomes serious and alarming. Use Paine's Celery Compound, nature's food for the nerves, brain and blood. It is the great modern prescription—the heaven-sent blessing that the best physicians recommend.

Wells & Richardson Co.,

Dear Sirs:—I consider it a pleasure and duty to put on record what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I have been afflicted with sleeplessness and nervousness, and at times have been without sleep for fifty hours. All ordinary medicines failed, and nothing met my case until I used Paine's Celery compound. Now I never miss a night's sleep. I strongly recommend your medicine to all nervous sufferers.

Wind as a Motive Power

Lindsay Post: The promoters of the Bobcaygeon electric railway scheme have not given up hope of securing connection with Peterborough by utilizing power generated by the Gull River and Burleigh Falls. There are many difficulties in the way of the proposed scheme, not the least of which is Peterborough's rooted objection to vote aid to such enterprises. If wind and promises could be compressed into motive power the Lakefield and Chemong Park Electric Railway would already be in operation.

A Narrow Escape

A little girl belonging to a family living on Parnell street had a rather narrow escape Sunday. She swallowed a dose of carbolic acid, mistaking it for some other liquid. Fortunately the accident was discovered in time and Dr. Moher was called in. He administered preventatives and the girl recovered from the effects of the poison. She is almost well to-day.

A Douro Cemetery Consecrated

The Bishop of Peterborough spent Sunday at Joseph's, Douro. The Bishop's secretary, Father Scanlan, celebrated solemn High Mass at ten a.m. The Bishop was assisted at his throne by Father Keilty, Rector of St. Joseph's After Mass the Bishop preached a sermon on the efficacy of prayer. After the sermon, the Bishop, with his crozier in his hand and clad in the panoply of his high and holy office, proceeded to the new cemetery which he solemnly blessed in the presence of a large concourse of people.

Annual District Meeting

The annual meeting of the district of Peterborough Methodist churches will be held in the Charlotte street church on Wednesday and Thursday. The clergymen of all the churches in the district will be present, and also one layman from each circuit. The business of the meeting will be to hear reports from the different circuits in the district, and also to elect a layman to attend the annual conference which meets in Lindsay on June 1st.

Married at Omemee

Christ church was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 6.30 on Wednesday evening, when Ella Secord, daughter of Mr. Thomas Stephenson, Treeve of Omemee, was married to Robert, only son of William Adamson, reeve of Emily. Rev. W. McCann, B. D., of Toronto, performed the ceremony. The bride was attired in pale grey cashmere, with white chiffon and pearl trimming, and her sister, Miss Daisy Stephenson, of the Public school staff, Lindsay, who assisted her wore pale green organdy. The bride, who has acted as organist for some years, was presented with a handsome clock by the congregation. The members of The Mission Band also gave a chair. Other handsome presents testify to the esteem in which the happy pair are held.—Lindsay Post.

LEAVING FOR LINDSAY

Mr. Wm. Quinn Presented With an Address and Jewel by Otonabee Lodge, I.O.O.F. Last Night

Mr. Wm. Quinn, one of Peterborough's most popular citizens, and a valued member of the staff of the Bell Telephone Co. here, was, last night, handsomely remembered by his brother Oddfellows of Otonabee Lodge, on the eve of his departure for Lindsay to accept the management of the exchange at that place.

The Past Master's Jewel presented was a work of art in gold and silver. On its face it bears the following inscription: "Presented to Bro. Wm. Quinn, on the occasion of his departure from the town of Peterborough, by the members of Otonabee Lodge No. 13, I. O. O. F. Peterborough, May 16th, 1898."

On the reverse side was: "Past Grand, Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, I.O.O.F."

The address was read by Dr. Rose, N.G., and the presentation was made by Mr. Dixon Jewett, V.G.

Brother Quinn:—We, your brethren of Otonabee Lodge No. 13, I. O. O. F., desire to express in some slight degree, our appreciation of your faithful attention to the duties imposed upon you, as a member, both private and official, of this Lodge, and also to give some practical expression to our estimation of your value to the Lodge during your stay amongst us.

It is with feelings of gratification though somewhat mingled with regret, at the necessary separation to follow, that we learned of your late promotion to a position of greater responsibility and corresponding emoluments.

And, while we feel like congratulating you, we are convinced that your employers have only accorded you a promotion you have richly earned in their services, while your cheerful, earnest attention to the various duties of life are but visible evidences of a good true heart within, actuated by a due regard for the principles of Friendship, Love and Truth.

On behalf of the members of Otonabee Lodge, allow me to present you with this Past Grand's Jewel, trusting that you may long be permitted to wear it with that dignity and respect with which it is your nature to adorn any position which you have been called upon by your fellowmen to occupy.

We also wish for you and your good wife, a continuance of the respect and esteem among your new associations, which it has been yours to enjoy among us; and we further assure you of a hearty reception amongst us, should it ever be our good fortune at any future time, to be permitted to welcome you back to Peterborough and Otonabee Lodge.

ANDREW ROSE, N.G.
W. DIXON JEWETT, V.G.
FRED J. MIGHT, Sec'y.

Mr. Quinn, who was visibly affected, replied in suitable terms.

Refreshments were afterwards served in the spacious dining hall of the Lodge and a pleasant evening spent.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT

Last Night in a Charlotte Street Boarding House

The old-time explanation—"didn't know it was loaded"—was called into requisition last night at a Charlotte street boarding house.

A young man named Ruttan was being shown the workings and possibilities of a six-shooter, when the "gun" went off, unaccountably, the bullet lodging in the upper lip of the unfortunate young man who was an interested spectator.

Dr. Greer was telephoned for, and after an examination of the victim, decided that it would be necessary to remove him to the hospital before attempting to extract the bullet.

Mr. Ruttan was accordingly removed to Nicholl's Hospital, but the operation necessary for the removal of the bullet has been deferred until this morning.

It is the old, old story—playing with loaded firearms—and we suppose such things will continue as long as the world lasts, notwithstanding everyday warnings.

Dr. Greer informs the Times that the wound is not dangerous and that barring complications, Mr. Ruttan may expect a speedy recovery.

HELD UP!

Mr. Grose Held Up at Burnham's Cut on the C. P. R. Last Night

In view of what is to follow any person possessed of any available cash is foolish to walk abroad.

Last night as Mr. Grose was pursuing his homeward way along the C. P. R. track just east of the bridge, a couple of "weary Willies" deemed it essential to their welfare to inquire into the finances of the lonely pedestrian.

A demand for money in the face of a "gun" called forth expletives more numerous than necessary.

The outcome resulted in the escape of the offending "hoboes," and a consequent sharpening of the ideas of those in pursuit.

So far the highwaymen implicated have managed to keep themselves outside the pale of the law.

TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY

The Reason why P. C. Stewart Looks so Happy These Days

That an event of unusual moment had occurred, and brought tidings of great joy to the household of Police Constable Stewart, was clearly evident yesterady. His customary debonnir smile was more fascinating than usual, and a look of dignified serenity marked his countenance. Friends inquired the cause, and strangers sought information as to who the man wearing all the smiles was, but their thirst for knowledge was not satisfied.

It transpired however during the day that the minion of the law had become the father of a charming and captivating daughter, whose smiles and winning ways have already made her princess of the household.

Congratulations are now the order of the day.

THE HENDRENS DISCHARGED

The Case Occupied the Attention of the Court the Greater Part of the Day

Police Magistrate Dumble yesterday settled the celebrated Hendren case.

Wm. Hendren was arraigned on a charge of larceny in having disposed of goods from the store of John Cameron in the summer of 1893. The prisoner was defended by Mr. Sherry, of Norwood. Mr. G. Hendren and Messrs. John Stanley and Bert Hendren, the prisoner's father and brothers were also present.

Mr. John Cameron testified first. His testimony was to the effect that the prisoner was in his employ about a year and a half. Hendren left in July, 1893, for his holidays. In consequence of suspicions which had been aroused in his mind he went to the house of Mrs. Fox, where Hendren boarded and searched the prisoner's room. Therein he found certain articles which he recognized as belonging to himself. He also visited the house of Mr. George Hendren at Norwood and found goods in Mr. Hendren's trunk which he believed belonged to himself. He paid Hendren $5 a week salary, always paying him by check and never by shop account either for himself or for anyone else. If prisoner took goods and paid for them it would have been no offence. This might have been done. He expected Hendren back after his holidays but he never came. The goods found in Norwood were locked in drawers in the house and some of them bore the private mark of the witness.

Chief Roszel was the next witness. On the strength of two warrants he went first to Mrs. Fox's house and afterwards to Norwood also having a warrant for Wm. Hendren's arrest. This was on Aug. 3rd, 1893. He described the finding of some goods at Mrs. Fox's and also at the house of the prisoner's father in Norwood, which Mr. Cameron identified. At Hendren's they found some of these goods in a trunk of Wm. Hendren's some in a sideboard and some in an old trunk in the hall which was covered with bedding. The people there said that Wm. Hendren had gone to Colborne but Hendren had left. He had tried ever since to effect his arrest through the High County constable, County Constable Moore, Roland Scriever, constable at Norwood, McLaughlin, the county constable at Norwood, Ross, the C. P. R. detective, and had also sent P. C. Adams down but all had failed. He also wrote to Reeve Buck of Norwood to have Hendren arrested and at last gave Constable Flos the warrant and a pair of handcuffs to effect the arrest.

John Cameron was recalled, and gave $19 as the probable value of the goods he identified as belonging to him, instead of $6 as he had stated in his first evidence.

Mrs. Jas. Fox, Harvey street, was the next witness. Wm. Hendren had boarded with her a year and a half, up till August, 1893. Off his room was a clothes closet and a smaller closet. This latter was kept locked by Hendren. There was no lock on this at first, but Hendren had put a padlock on it. Sometimes she would give Hendren an order for groceries, generally to the amount of his week's board, she supposing that he bought the groceries with the money. Hendren had never asked her to. It was her own suggestion. She never suspected anything crooked in the matter. Hendren never brought any parcels himself. They were always delivered. She sometimes gave the orders in the shop to Hendren.

Jas. Houlihan next testified. He drove the delivery rig for Mr. Cameron for seven or eight months before Hendren left. He delivered goods at Mrs. Fox's at Mr. Cameron's dinner and tea hours but never realized anything wrong in it. Before Hendren went away for his holidays he asked witness if Mr. Cameron should ask if goods had been delivered to Mrs. Fox to say no. Did not know whether this refered to that particular time or generally. Took two trunks to the C. P. R. station for Hendren just before the prisoner left.

After the hearing of this evidence the court adjourned till 1.30.

Court resumed at 1.30 and continued till 3.45. The witnesses examined were George Eagleson, who roomed with the prisoner, A. Moore, constable, Mrs. George Hendren the prisoner's mother and Stanley Hendren.

Mr. Sherry, for the prisoners, elected to have a summary trial and pleaded guilty for all the accused — for Wm. Hendren on the charge of larceny and for the brothers on the charge of assault and begged for the clemency of the Court. The Magistrate, taking into consideration the youth of the prisoner, the trouble which the family has had and the fact that it is five years since the offence was committed, discharged the prisoners with the consent of the County Crown Attorney, ordering them to pay the costs of the case, amounting in all to $20.95. This was done and the prisoners were set at liberty.

FLEET OFF VENEZUELA

The Spanish Fleet is now Supposed to be Off the Coast of Venezuela or Off Columbia—Only a Portion of the Fleet Was Allowed to Enter Curacoa to Obtain Provisions, Cattle and Coal

(Special Despatches to the Times, 4 a.m.)

AUXILIARY CRUISERS.

Madrid, May 7.—Instructions have been given to the maritime authorities of Barcelona not to permit the departure of large steamers which might be used as "auxiliary cruisers."

A BIG FLEET.

St. Thomas Danish West Indies, May 17.—It was reported here this morning that on Sunday last, from noon until six p. m., twenty-seven vessels slowly steamed westerly, north of Torola Island, 40 miles east of St. Thomas, which approached the land and showed the Spanish flag.

SPANISH FLEET OFF COAST OF VENEZUELA.

Curacoa, May 17.—The Spanish fleet is now supposed to be off the coast of Venezuela or off the coast of Colombia. Only a portion of the fleet was allowed to enter this harbor to obtain provisions, cattle and coal, which were purchased here.

Confirmation was obtained of the report that the Spaniards left one of their torpedo gunboats at Fort De France, Island of Martinique.

U. S. REPRISALS.

Madrid, May 17.—9 p. m.—The newspapers here assert that letters from Spain even letters containing checks and other valuables have been stopped at New York and destroyed. The papers demand that the Spanish Government make reprisals upon Americans resident in Spain, especially in the case of the correspondents of American newspapers.

JAPAN TAKES A HAND IN.

Washington, D. C., May 17. — The statement cabled from London yesterday that Japan intends to protest vigorously against the seizure of the Philippines by the United States and with that object in view is taking steps to secure the co-operative of certain European powers is not credited by the Japanese Minister. He said to-day that he had received no intimation official or unofficial of any such purpose on the part of his Government. He was confident that the report was without foundation.

U. S. NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENTS TREATED AS SPIES.

Madrid, May 17.—It is announced here in a despatch from Havana that after the arrival of the Uncas off that port the two captured American newspaper men were examined and it is added that the inquiry revealed the fact that they could not be considered as prisoners of war but must be looked upon as spies, one being, it is claimed, a Cuban employed in Havana. It is further alleged that upon the prisoners were found revolvers, cartridges interesting documents, and a camera.

Advices received here confirm the reports that Mr. Freeman Halstead, the American newspaper correspondent, arrested at San Juan de Porto Rico, was taken into custody while in the act of taking photographs of the fortifications. A report is current here that: "The Spanish flotilla at Havana is about to make another sortie." This kind of news keeps up the spirits of the people here.

STILL UNSOLVED.

It is probable that little news regarding the movements of either the American or Spanish fleets in the Caribbean Sea will be received until one of the other of these fleets has been vanquished. To all intents and purposes the curtain has been drawn over both squadrons, only to be raised upon a victory and a defeat. As the decisive moment draws near both nations are taking extraordinary precautions to prevent the publication of information regarding naval movements and are showing great readiness in allowing misleading details to be given out. Up to the present the censors of the United States have have permitted news of the enemy's movements to be transmitted by telegraph, although references to their own fleet have been rigorously erased. Now, however, it is feared that if information respecting Spanish vessels is made known the enemy's plans may be changed and stragical plans made abortive. The censorship is, therefore, being strictly exercised and cable companies have been notified that they will be held personally liable for despatches injurious to the United States. Moreover, only information of such movements as have actually occurred will be given out at Washington to the press. The Spaniards on their side, have long ago adopted similar regulations, and have been dealing largely in telegrams containing false information. Latterly they have threatened to treat as treat as spies all captured newspaper reporters—which means hanging. Meanwhile Admiral Cervera is still successful in avoiding Admiral Sampson and will probably do so as long as he wishes, seeing that his fleet is superior in speed. The Cadiz fleet is now ready for sea and may sail to join him at any moment, when the problem will arise as to Cervera's ability to keep the sea until the junction is effected.

VESSEL BLOWN UP.

Madrid, May 17.—A despatch received here from Havana says that a small naval boat, having a crew of 17 men has been blown up off Cardenas while engaged in removing torpedoes from that harbor. The despatch adds that the torpedo exploded through the negligence of those engaged in the work and that all the crew of the boat referred to perished. The despatch does not indicate whether the boat was an American or a Spanish craft.

ATTACKS BY DESTROYERS.

New York, May 17.—A special cable to the World from Madrid says: Admiral Cervera's fleet will dodge about in the Carribean Sea and Gulf of Mexico it is expected by naval men here. Cervera will avoid a fight in case he finds himself overmatched.

His chief aim is to draw the American squadrons away from the Cuban coast so that he may make a dash and get into Havana. The principal object of such a dash, it is asserted, would be to allow to cruiser Vizcaya to go into dry dock to clean her bottom and thus improve her sped, for in her present condition she cripples the movements of the remainder of the fleet.

Great expectations are founded also upon night raids by the Spanish torpedo boat destroyers upon the American blockading squadron.

Later, when the rainy season sets in, fast blockade runners, both Spanish and foreign, will undertake to carry ammunition and provisions to Cuba and Porto Rico.

COMMEMORATIVE CRACKERS.

St. Louis, Mo., May 17.—Captain Duval, of the United States Commissary Department, has made a contract with local bakers for 610,000 pounds of army crackers. This is equivalent to 30,000 barrels o fflour. On each cracker will be printed the words "Remember the Maine."

WOODS FULL OF THEM.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, May 17.—Two Spanish cruisers or gunboats are making their base of operations at Badiquiri, or Guantanamo Bay. They are known to be moving every night in the waters between Hayti and Cuba. A Haytien schooner plying between the Mole, St. Nicholas, Jean Rabel and Giatinagua reports through an agent of the Cuban insurgents at Port De Paix, having met the Spanish vessels several times during the past few weeks. The Spaniards are supposed to hide in the Cuban ports during the day and go out cruising at night.

LOOKING FOR THE OREGON.

Santa Lucia, West Indies, May 17.—A large strange warship was sighted last night lying off the west coast of this island. Others were also seen to the northward of St. Lucia. These vessels are believed to be a Spanish squadron watching for the U.S. battleship Oregon, which may pass close to this island on its way to Key West.

SPAIN ARMS HER ENEMIES.

Kingston Jamaica, May 17.—The Cuban provisional Government has directed insurgent sympathizers not to try to evade in garrison cities. General Blanco's conscription order forcing into the ranks of the volunteers all males from 15 to 15 years of age.

Refugees who arrived here by the French steamer Fulton from Havana, and who have since been released from quarantine, say that the Cubans in Havana are joining the volunteers by hundreds. Spain is thus arming enemies ready to rise at an opportune time and to desert. The Spaniards in Havana, for a communal police purpose, spy out Cuban sympathizers and cause their arrests.

Eggs there were ten cents a piece, meat was fifty cents a pound and flour 30 cents a pound when the Fulton left on May 7. The Atlas Line steamer Adula sailed for Santiago de Cuba to-day with provisions and to bring back refugees. Three or four schooner cargoes of food leave Jamaica ports for Santiago weekly.

INJURED BY A MUZZLE LOADER.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—Three men were severely injured at the Union depot last night by the premature discharge of one of Battery A's old muzzle-loading field pieces. The cannon was being used to salute the departing volunteers

JOINT RULE AT MANILA.

Hong Kong, May 17.—Despatches from Manila say that there are no signs that the Spanish authorities are prepared to capitulate. All the Spanish inhabitants and many British and German families have sought safety in the suburbs, taking all their belongings. In the business quarters the buildings are covered with foreign flags. The British predominate, with a view of protection should the insurgents capture the city.

There is much feeling against the British residents, but, fortunately, the number of foreign men-of-war off Manila is constantly increasing and the position of Europeans is becoming daily less precarious.

Aguinaldo the former insurgent leader, is now in Hong Kong, actively negotiating with President McKinley. He is seeking to arrange for the future government of the Philippines by a native administration under the protectorate of the United States. At present there is a deal of dissension among the rebel factions, one of which are negotiating with the Americans and others with the Spanish authorities. Whether Aguinaldo possesses enough influence to reconcile these differences and to induce the insurgents to pursue a common policy is questionable.

Admiral Dewey is well advised in waiting for reinforcements since the fall of Manila would produce anarchy throughout the islands. The English here advocate a joint Anglo-American administration.

SPANIARDS WON'T FIGHT.

Washington, May 17.—Ex-Secretary Herbert, in an interview, expresses the opinion that "there will not be in the immediate future any battle between Admiral Sampson's fleet and the Spanish squadron. The Spaniard, if he had been seeking a fight with Sampson, would have gone straight toward Porto Rico, where he could have found a possible refuge and a base of future operations. He did not seek Sampson, because his fleet is distinctly inferior to ours in fighting capacity, and for that reason he will continue to avoid him. This he can do successfully. The four Spanish vessels are each rated at twenty knots. They can probably make, all of them, at least sixteen knots, and the four torpedo vessels can keep well up. The Spanish admiral by this time well knows the sea-going powers of these boats. Sampson's fleet cannot keep together and make over eleven knots. Even if Sampson should adopt the daring expedient of leaving his monitors behind to take care of themselves, he still could not make within two knots an hour of the speed the Spaniards can. This accounts for the venture of the Cape Verde fleet into the waters of the Carribean Sea."

TRIED TO DESTROY MINES.

New York, May 17.—Three men have been arrested and are held as prisoners of war on suspicion of cutting the wires connecting Sandy Hook with the mainland. They were captured by a patrol boat late at night and were detected by means of the Sandy Hook search light. Their craft was seen in the center of the mine fields between the main ship channel and the Hook. Captain Patterson, who had observed their suspicious actions from shore, jumped into a surfboat with a detail of men, rowed out and arrested them. They refused to give their names and were locked up in the guard house. They are being held to await identification.

CRISIS PROTRACTED.

Madrid, May 17.—Marquis Vega de Armijo, President of the Chamber, has advised Senor Sagasta to end the crisis as quickly as possible. Senor Monto Rios, President of the Senate, has offered his support, but does not desire to enter the new Cabinet. Senor Gamazo, who is ill, also declines to enter the Cabinet; but he promises to support any Ministry organized by Senor Sagasta. The general impression is that the Cabinet crisis will be protracted.

Senor Romero y Robledo thinks that Marshal Martinez Campos ought to be the chief of the new Ministry.

SAILORS CONSTANTLY IN THE TOPS

On board the Associated Press despatch boat Kate Spencer, off Havana, May 16, via Key West, Fla., May 17.—The ships of the American blockading fleet are keeping a vigilant watch for the appearance of the Spanish fleet, and will not be taken by surprise should the Spanish men of war round Cape Antonio, the westernmost point of Cuba and swoop down at Havana. All our ships have been warned by Commodore Watson of the possibility of such a move, and sailors are kept constantly in the tops, where they can sweep the horizon for thirty miles, looking out for the first sign of a hostile ship.

All the naval officers on the blockade station are anxious for a meeting with the Spaniards, and when informed that the latest reports placed them off Venezuela they jubilantly declared that the enemy could be hemmed in between the Windward Islands and the Yucatan Channel, to be destroyed.

The only fear expressed was for the safety of American ships blockading Cienfuegos. But they do not doubt that precautions have been taken to safeguard the ships now on the southern coast of Cuba. The torpedo boats and fast yachts of the American fleet keep the blockading ships in constant communication with Key West, where the movements of vessels are being directed.

The general opinion is that there will be no movement of the army in the direction of Cuba so long as the Spanish fleet remains in American waters, or until it is met and beaten.

The blockade of Havana has been maintained without incident since the Donde de Venadito and Legazpi attempted to draw our ships under the big guns of the Santa Clara battery on Saturday evening.

The activity along the coast continues Squads of Spanish cavalry and parties working upon fortifications have been seen daily along the shore, but have not been molested.

Orders have been given not to expose the small vessels of the squadron to unnecessary danger.

SENT TO THE BOTTOM.

Key West, May 17.—The United States cruiser Wilmington, Commander C. C. Todd, when about 30 miles east of Havana yesterday, fired four shell into a Spanish trap, in the shape of a derelict, staking it and thus doing away with another piece of Spanish trickery. The commander of the Wilmington had been warned that dangerous wreckage was drifting and steamed in that direction. An old Spanish schooner, her deck loaded to the rails with rusty iron, cartwheels, etc., closely packed together, was found floating in the track of torpedo boats. The schooner had evidently been sent out of Havana harbor in the hope that a torpedo boat or some small craft of the blockading force would crash into it and be sunk. As wires were noticed around the iron rails on the schooner, Commodore Todd believed the Spanish trap might also contain explosives and, therefore, lying off a considerable distance from her, her guns promptly sent her to the bottom.

Mr. John F. Jova, the former United States Vice-Consul at Sagua la Grande who was landed by an American gunboat on the coast of Cuba about ten days ago, was picked up yesterday afternoon after an exciting experience with a Spanish gunboat, which the American gunboat chased into her harbor. Mr. Jova succeeded in reaching General Gomez and has brought back despatches to Commodore Watson. He reports that General Gomez and the several thousand troops with him are in the best of spirits, and that Spanish troops are moving westward, keeping in the cities. He made part of the journey along the coast in a small boat and was being chased by a Spanish gunboat when the American gunboat hove in sight.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 18, 1898

LORD ABERDEEN

It is intimated that Lord Aberdeen's term is nearly closing, a statement in accordance with what His Excellency said at the recent McGill convocation. Lord Aberdeen has had some awkward experiences as Governor-General. He got into politics and if he reads the papers must have seen some things to pain him. He has been misunderstood too, in other things. Possibly he will feel relief as well as regret, when the time for departure comes. When the time comes, however, there will leave our shores a public man who has, from the day of his arrival, been anxious to aid in every good movement or work, and has spared neither personal exertion nor expense to show his interest in all that promised well for the country in whose government he fills the first place.

Spain has not gained a victory at sea since the Turkish fleet was destroyed in the Gulf of Lepanto by the combined Spanish and Italian fleets. This was 326 years ago.

"Remember the Maine," Americans are saying, and they will probably keep up the cry, seeing that the drowning of the Maine's crew is likely to be the only really serious occurrence in the course of the whole embroglio with Spain.

It was sudden the announcement of the resignation and early departure of Lord Aberdeen, but latest reports would seem to indicate that Sir Chas. Tupper, Bart., will not be entirely prostrated with grief.

The London Advertiser refers to Sir Charles Tupper as a "physical marvel," and asks where another man of his years can be found who "can talk as long, as often and as hard as he." The Tiser is correct, and doubtless earnestly hopes, as we do, that the honorable baronet may long be spared to occupy his position of leader of Her Majesty's opposition.

An alliance against the Saxons is the latest idea of that eminent statesman, Henri Rochefort. His alliance is to consist of France, Italy and Spain. In view of what the term Saxon implies, it is evident there is nothing mean about Mr. Rochefort. France has had some experience of it already, and would probably hesitate in forming one in a trinity, however apparently strong, whose sole object would be, according to Mr. Rochefort, to war on that mighty breed.

Shaving a Pursued Bandit.

"I shaved Jesse James, the once noted outlaw, down in southern Kentucky a long time ago," said an old gray haired fellow on the train the other day, "when the man's life wasn't worth a penny. Jesse rushed into my little country place, down in the Red river country, one day in the latter part of December and asked me if I wouldn't shave him while he looked after his colt's revolvers and watched the door. I was not a barber by trade, but those persuaders Jesse had induced me to try my hand with a new Wade & Butcher razor I took out of my showcase. As I shaved, the man of iron nerve sat with a cocked pistol in each hand and told me in a few hurried words that a posse was pursuing him, bent on capturing him, dead or alive, on the charge of robbing a bank at Russellville, a crime, he averred, of which he was not guilty. He wanted his beard shaved off that he might fool his pursuers if they should happen to catch up with him. I finished the job of scraping. The much wanted individual thanked me, and, mounting a horse, which had been hitched in the rear of my store, bade me good evening and rode away. I didn't know for certain who my visitor was, although I suspected it, until the next day, when I heard that a man in the neighborhood was telling that he had seen the elder James the afternoon before. I suppose that was the last shave Jesse James got in Kentucky, and I have never seen him after that day."—Louisville Post.

Get More and You Get Less

Why is it every sarsaparilla which tries to sell itself, ranges itself against Ayer's as the standard? Why is it that all have to offer extra inducements—bigger bottles, fancy wrappers, cheaper price—anything, everything, but the one inducement of quality?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has never been equaled by any cheap imitation of it, and quality tells, just as blood tells.

It Is the Standard.

"I have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla for more than twenty-five years, and have never heard anything but words of praise from my customers; not a single complaint has ever reached me. A preparation must possess great merit to maintain such a reputation. I believe your sarsaparilla to be the best blood purifier that has ever been introduced to the general public. I often hear other manufacturers say that this is "as good as Ayer's," but no one ever yet heard it said that Ayer's was "as good" as any other kind. They always set Ayer's up as the standard of excellence."—S. F. BOYCE, Duluth, Minn.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

Jeffrey was doubly fortunate, for not only was Sandy in the back room of the saloon at the appointed time, but Sandy's wife was also there. She was a tall, stout, brunette, with raven hair that waved naturally, and big gray eyes, with curling, jetty lashes, and overarched with heavy black eye-brows. Her full, red lips told of a pleasure-loving nature, and the narrow brow and eyes, set closely together, bore evidence to a want of principle.

Mrs. Payne was a woman after Jeffrey Pettus' own heart.

"She will do anything for money, and never be afraid to go any length," he said to himself, as he stood in the back part of the room studying the actors in the drama.

Sandy was a small man, with a crafty face, deep-set eyes, sleek red hair, and thin-lipped mouth.

Sandy was also a man after Jeffrey's heart. He felt thoroughly satisfied with the pair.

"Now Mr. Bayne," said he, advancing with outstretched hand, and the appearance of great cordiality, "don't say you do not remember me. My mother never stopped talking about you till the day of her death."

"Eh—ah, what might be your mither's name, lad?"

"Margaret Burns."

This was said on the spur of the moment, and as sometimes happens, hit the nail on the head.

"Mar'get Burns!" said Mrs. Bayne, with a burr on the 'r' that set Clem's teeth on edge, "surely, man, that was the name of my ain cousin, Meg."

"Well, well, so we are cousins," cried Jeffrey, dropping Sandy's hand and affectionately grasping that of his wife.

"Weel, mon,' Sandy said, coolly, "how does it happen that Mistress Bayne's cousin, Meg, claims friendship wi' me an' says naything about bein' kin to the wife.'

This was a poser, but Jeffrey was well used to wriggling out of tight places.

"That's more than I can tell you," he said, winking to Mrs. Bayne. "If my poor mother wasn't dead, maybe Mrs. Bayne might have reason to be jealous of her. As it is, the son thinks more of his kinship with the lady than he does of his friendship with the gentleman. It ain't every day in the week a fellow gets acquainted with such a handsome cousin."

This remark was received with much applause and called for the production of unlimited 'hot Scotches,' of course at the expense of the newly discovered relative.

"Now, then, Bayne, what sort of a place is this you have got?" inquired Jeffrey, after healths had been drunk to every one he could think of, and several old-timers proposed by Mr. and Mrs. Sandy, such as: "Here's to them that's awa'," a delicious vagueness attaching to the last toast.

"Weel, I'm no saying anything about the palce,' Sandy said slowly, putting down his empty glass; the more whisky he imbibed the more Scottish he became, and naturally more cautious.

"But you would chuck it up if a better offered?' said Jeffrey, smiling slyly at Mrs. Sandy, with whom, in the capacity of cousin, he was, of course, very sociable.

"Weel, an' I'm no so certain of that."

"Fiddlesticks, Sandy!" cried his wife impatiently. "If our cousin, honest man, offered to set you up in business, in a bit of a saloon, for instance, do ye mean to tell us you'd refuse? Yer daft, man.'

Much of this was not quite clear to Jeffrey, but as his role called for a familiarity with the Scottish dialect, he said nothing.

"I said nothing o' the sort, Jean."

"Oh, I don't want to interfere in Mr. Bayne's business," Jeffrey interposed, somewhat coldly.

He knew the couple would not be disposed to quarrel with their generous entertainer just when the festivities were at their height.

"Don't mind, Sandy, he's daft, clean daft, about old man Jameson, an' all his clan."

Mrs. Sandy was indignant: her gray eyes were black and her cheeks crimson with anger.

"I'm no daft, and I do not care a snap about old Jameson or his blackamoor,' replied Sandy, off his guard for once in his life.

"What's blackamoor?" asked Jeffrey with studied carelessness.

"Oh, the niece from the West Indies."

We will drop Sandy's broad Scotch for our readers' sakes.

"Niece from the West Indies? So there is a young lady in the case?"

"You had better say there is a tiger cat in the case," Mrs. Sandy said shortly.

"I fail to understand, Cousin Jean."

"Well, old man Jameson was all alone in the world till a girl arrived from the West Indies. She is a quadroon or some such thing, and has a temper like a tiger, and no one dares to cross her."

"Ah, she needs a maid or a governess, or something?"

"She has much need of some one to teach her; and they say in the house that the old man has engaged a lady who is coming the end of the week."

This was all valuable information to Jeffrey.

"This young lady is very handsome, I suppose?' he said, carelessly.

"Handsome! Huh! She's thin and dark, and savage-looking, and she is greedy, and ill-mannered, and hateful. The housekeeper, who is Scotch, threatens to leave on her account, and the old man is terribly upset. He tried her at a boarding-school, but the mistress sent him a telegram to come and fetch her away; she would not keep her at any price.'

"It will be a nice position for a young lady to teach a girl like that."

"They did not dare to tell her yet. It will be a surprise to her."

Jeffrey thought he had acquired all the information the Baynes could afford; so he bade them farewell, promising that he would write to Jean, appointing another place of meeting on his return to the city.

CHAPTER VIII.

"I don't care; I shall hate her, and slap her, and ill-use her every way I can."

The words were spoken with the full force of intention. The speaker meant every word she said.

"That is not the way for a young lady to speak," said Mr. Jameson sternly.

He sat at his breakfast, looking very much disturbed, and facing a slender hold the will and spitefulness of Lucifer himself.

"I am a young lady; my mamma was a lady; yet I heard a boy on the street say I was a darky!"

Her eyes fairly blazed with rage, and the slim, brown fingers that held her frock trembled.

"Of course you are a lady, but no one will know it if you do not behave like one."

This was diplomatic, and the old gentleman took up his newspaper with a satisfied air.

"Darkies are humble; no one can say that I am humble."

"Darkies sometimes know how to behave themselves, but sometimes they are rude. Probably that is what the boy meant."

This was a master-stroke, and the girl felt it. Her lips quivered, and her nostrils quivered also, a strange peculiarity in a human being, reminding one of some sensitive-natured, dumb creature.

"The fools think I am a colored person because I came from the West Indies. Plenty of people are dark besides me. I heard that old fool of a Mrs. Auld, the housekeeper, telling the butcher I was a cree-owl. Of course I am a creole, but they are not necessarily darkies. There are white creoles and colored creoles."

"Act like a young lady, and do not talk of slapping and clawing people and then people will know you are not a savage."

"That is silly talk. You could easily put a piece in the paper saying that your niece, Miss Nina Dunlap, is not a nigger."

Mr. Jameson had a very small portion of the sense of humor, but he burst into a hearty laugh, greatly to Nina's indignation, which, indeed, amounted to fury. She dashed her her coffee-cup down so violently that the frail china was shattered, and then bounded out of the room, shrieking out:

"I hate you! I hate you! and I shall abuse your young lady all the more!"

"A charming creature!" soliloquized the lawyer. "What have I done, or my forefathers done, to be cursed with such a charge? Well, I hope Miss Sterling may be able to do something with her. I'll pay her anything she likes to ask, if she can only reduce this lunatic to reason and decent behavior."

Rescue for Weak Men

We invite weak men to give our remedies and appliances a fair trial. We ask to be judged solely by what we do, not by what others have failed to do. We have supreme confidence in our treatment. We know it has cured thousands of men who were sexually weak, who had lost all ambition, whose lives had been miserable on account of past abuses and indiscretions, overwork, etc. We want the confidence of all weak men. Our business is honorable.

Free Trial

We will send our medicines and appliances for a ten-days' trial to any sufferer who will promise to give them a fair test. No money is to be paid unless our treatment is found to be just what we claim for it. If no relief is found, send the outfit back to us, and that will end the matter. We want no pay in cases which we cannot cure. Write us freely and confidentially. Our advice is valuable. If you have never seen our famous book, "Complete Manhood," send for a free copy. SPECIAL WAR NEWS

RUSSIANS ARE JEALOUS.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—The Navoe Vremya, commenting upon the the recent speech at Birmingham of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain the British Secretary of State for the Colonies, said: "We doubt if the United States desires an alliance and whether it would be agreeable to the other powers that the United States after wrestin the Philipppine Islands from Spain should afterwards sell them to Great Britain."

The Navoe Vremya considers such an intention "sufficient to induce the powers to reconsider their neutrality during the present war."

FRENCH SYMPATHIES WITH THE U. S.

Paris, May 16.—The Journal Des Debating during the cruise of a long article to-day reflects the anxiety experienced in Government circles here respecting the feeling aroused in America on account of the French open sympathy with Spain. It says: "The whole affair is a misunderstanding and French opinion at the outset of the war certainly considered the United States was wrong and some of the papers expressed this opinion in an aggressive form. The Americans, however, should not have taken the matter tragically for of all foreigners our natural sympathies a.. for the United States and our Government throughout has acted most correctly." After charging Great Britain with bein at the bottom of the mischief and declaring it is America's own business if she decides to intervene in distant affairs the articles concludes: "What concerns us is that America shall not, in taking up the great role of international domain start with preconceived ideas against us and renounce the good understanding with France which has been so useful in the past and which is still more desirable in the future. The French nation was never really hostile to the Americans who will realize this when the present friction has had time to disappear.

THE PORTER TOUCHES A REEF.

Port au Prince, Hayti, May 16.—The United States torpedo boat Porter returned to Cape Haytin this morning, having left Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet in the offing. Lieut. Bennett conferred with the United States Consul at Cape Haytin and filed despatches from the Rear Admiral. The rendezvous of the fleet is north of Cape Haytin. The Porter left here at 10 o'clock to rejoin the fleet, and while going to Cape Haytin yesterday the Porter scraped a reef, but sustained no damage. The destination of the fleet is uncertain. The United States store ship Supply was expected to await the Minneapolis at Cape is said to be due to a mistake which will probably be rectified by the Porter's return. The United States cruiser Minneapolis is likely to be intercepted with new orders.

NAVY DEPARTMENT BULLETINS.

Washington, May 16.—The Navy Department issued the following bulletin at the close of office hours to-day embodying such official information of the day as the department regarded proper for publication: "Admiral Dewey was informed that officers, men and supplies would be sent to Manila by the City of Pekin. About 12,000 troops will go. Mr. Knight, correspondent of the London Times, having received the necessary permission from the Spanish Government to land at Havana if conveyed to that port by a neutral vessel has been granted permission by the Navy Department to take passage by the German steamer Polaria, which vessel is given permission to pass the blockade. The Department hopes to makes an exchange of prisoners at an early date. The British steamer Myrtleden has been granted the same permission to go to Cardenas as was previously granted to the Norwegian vessel Foldjo. The Austrian man of war Empress Maria Teresa will visit Cuban ports.

SESSION SUSPENDED.

Madrid, May 16.—A communication has been sent to the Chambers announcing the Cabinet crisis and asking them to suspend their sessions, pending a solution. Senor Sagasta believes the new Ministry will be formed by Wednesday next. Orders have been issued by Senor Sagasta countermanding the reception which was to have been held to-morrow upon the occasion of the King's birthday, and he has instructed the Captains-General in all districts not to hold their usual receptions.

A HUGE DEFICIENCY.

Washington, May 16.—The Secretary of the Navy has prepared a deficiency estimate of over $20,000,000 for ordnance, equipment, construction, etc., of the navy. It may be submitted to the House to-day.

WILL SWEEP THE WORLD.

London, May 16.—A topic that in Europe is transcending in importance even the Spanish-American war, is the important speech made by Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the British Colonial Minister, in which he practically advocated an Anglo-American alliance. Mr. Chamberlain, who is not in the habit of speaking unless he means something, observed that if the past policy of England of remaining isolated is pursued, then the fate of the Chinese Empire will be decided without reference to British interests. If, on the other hand, it is determined by Great Britain to enforce the "open door" policy she must not reject the alliance with those whose interests approximate most nearly to her own. As there are no interests in China which equal those of Great Britain as much as those of the United States, there is little doubt that the whole object of Mr. Chamberlain was to advocate an alliance of Anglo-Saxons, and consequently the whole political world of Continental Europe is in a ferment, for it is well known that, such an alliance being assured, the Anglo-Saxons would sweep the world before them.

DELAYED DESPATCHES

Fort De France, Island of Martinique, May 16.—The manager here of the French Cable Company explicitely denies the statement that a despatch filed by Captain Cotton, of the United States auxiliary cruiser Harvard was delayed 24 hours at St. Pierre, this island. He says: "Captain Cotton presented himself at St. Pierre and asked by what cable messages were transmitted to Washington. When informed that such messages went by way of Fort de France, and Hayti he refused to give his despatch because a Spanish torpedo boat was at that moment at Fort De France. He told the American conusl that he preferred to give his despatches to the English company in spite of the delay of twenty-four hours which they would have to submit to on account of the accumulation of business. "I have obtained the following statement on the subject: To whom it may concern: I certify that the agent of the French company at St. Pierre, Martinique, has never stated to me that despatches from St. Pierre, Martinique, to New York, U. S.A., would have to suffer a delay of twenty-four hours. George L. Dart, U. S. Consul. Cotton, captain Harvard."

DEWEY'S COAL EXHAUSTED.

Hong Kong, May 16.—Reports received here show that Rear Admiral Dewey is not in a position of very great security in the bay of Manila. Although he has reduced the batteries and has the town at his mercy, he himself will shortly be at the mercy of the first attacker unless quickly relieved. The admiral is almost at the end of his coal supply. When he and his fleet set sail from this port, it was supposed that the capture of Manila and its supply of coal would be an easy matter, but events have proved otherwise. It is now 17 days since the bombardment and all that time the American admiral has been obliged to keep his vessels under steam ready for instant action. On this account the supply he brought from Hong Kong is nearly exhausted and can only last another day. The vessels containing supplies which were despatched from San Francisco a few days ago, cannot reach their destination less than three weeks. Long before this time all Dewey's coal will be gone. The problem is what will become of the fleet without a supply of fuel? It is impossible for coal to be obtained from shore, seeing that Augusti and his troops are strong enough to repel any attack by the present force at Dewey's disposal.

CELEBRATE THE VICTORY.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 16.—Advices which have just been received from Cienfuegos, Cuba, says, the Spaniards at that place attended the chanting of a Te Deum in celebration of the "news" circulated by the Spanish Government that the Spanish forces had been victorious at Manila. All the bells were rung and General Pando and his staff attended the church of St. Sulphice in full uniform. A ration of wine was served to the soldiers and, though the blockading ships were outside the harbor and meat was costing two pesetas a pound, the city was gay and rejoiced at the "success" of Spanish arms. Since then, ugly rumors of defeat have been in circulation, but "officially" Spain has won a "victory" in the Philippines. The refugees who arrived at Jamaica from Cienfuegos by the Adula were released from quarantine yesterday. Threats of cutting off the heads of Americans have been made at Cienfuegos but no violence has actually occurred.

250,000 CURED.

Thousands of young men are made nervous wrecks, unfit for business, social pleasures or home duties by evil habits in youth, later excesses, or private diseases. W. J. Andrews, of Akron, O., says: "I read this paper and have seen many reports of remarkable cures made by Drs. Kennedy and Kergan. I decided to treat with them. Indiscretion was the cause of my trouble. I was weak and nervous; no ambition; back weak, pimples on the face; thin and haggard; eyes sunken and cheeks hollow; dreams and drains at night; memory poor; varicocele and weak parts; irritable; sinking spells; specks before the eyes; lack of confidence; no energy; and many other complaints. I had tried fourteen doctors, bought four electric belts took scores of bottles of patent medicines—all failed. I tried the New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, and it cured me. I am a Man Again. I have gained twenty-six pounds and am strong mentally, physically and sexually. It is a wonderful treatment." [illegible]

Every community has its queer characters but Lakefield will put up War Cry "Dutchy' against the world. When he gets on his red suit he certainly looks old, but when he comes to bazoo with his squeaky voice everyone is forced to laugh out in his face; and he laughs back and then the fun begins in earnest. The man who can stage Dutchy need never dream of the Klondyke.

Dr. Blanchard picked up a side of bacon last night, which had been left hanging outside Stewart's butcher shop. This is the second time that the doctor has picked up some bacon left out at the same place. The first time he returned it. This time it was suggested to put the meat up at public auction and donate the price to the Library fund.

The following clipping appears in a letter to the Brighton Ensign from Fred P. Purdy, of Wrangel, Alaska, and is dated May 13th. He says:—"I have a craft in my possession which is very much admired by all who see it. It is a canoe made by Strickland & Co., of Lakefield, near Peterborough. You can hear the Siwash say, 'Hyas kloslie caniui'—(very good canoe).

Lieutenant J. M. Kennedy who said good-bye to his family at home, was making his way to the cars when his attention was arrested by hearing a little sobbing voice call "Papa." He turned and found one of his little girls had followed him to the train to say a final farewell. The tears came to his eyes as he stooped to kiss his heartbroken little girl, and those in the crowd who witnessed the scene turned away to hide their feelings."—Anaconda Recorder. The Lieutenant Kennedy referred to, who is the speaker of the Montana Legislature, is a son-in-law of Michael Sullivan, corner George and Edinborough streets, Peterborough, and brother-in-law of our own Count Leahy of the Midland.

The Times, the only morning paper between Toronto and Ottawa, goes to press at 4 a.m. and reaches Lakefield at 9 a.m. The Toronto papers go to press at 1 a.m. and reach Lakefield at 3 p.m., that is, they are fifteen hours old. The Peterborough evening papers, not having a press franchise, clip from the Toronto papers news which is 12 hours old, go to press at 3 p.m., be in the postoffice till next morning and reach Lakefield with news 32 hours old. Is it any wonder Lakefielders are dropped Peterborough's evening papers and subscribing for the Times?

A THRILLING ADVENTURE.

An Incident In Brescia During the Italian Revolution of 1848.

The Count de Hubner tells in his "Memoirs" a thrilling story of an adventure in the Italian city of Brescia during the days of the revolution of 1848. When the trouble began in the streets, he contrived to get into a house, taking with him two or three other persons, including the wife of a minor official who had intrusted the lady for awhile to the count's care, but who was to have certain news of her as soon as possible.

The firing grew heavier, and the rebels soon had possession of almost every house in the street.

On the 19th of March, Count de Hubner decided that he must do something toward bettering his position in case of an assault, and he forced his only remaining servant to make a dash across the street to the palace where the Austrian general, Rath, was quartered, two blocks away and on the other side. The man was merely to let the general know that De Hubner himself was coming, and to ask that the gates be held ready for him.

"Myself, prudence and my honor had a long and heated argument " says Count de Hubner. "Finally I pulled myself together. I had to let Prince Metternich know about myself, to make a last report, and to keep my word about poor Mme. M. I undid the door, drew a long breath, and plunged down the street.

"The bullets flew all around me, spattering leaden showers from the stone pavement. As I arrived at the gates of the palace, they swung [illegible]d, and in a second I was inside, u[illegible]hed. But only half my journey was done; I had still to go back again.

"A letter—my last report—was soon completed for Metternich and my message to the husband of Mme. M. was given. I had to return.

"Again the gates were opened and I bounded forth. A veritable fusillade followed. From every window and house top came the spurts of white smoke, and I tried to dodge 40 bullets at once. In a minute I had reached my own door, and as I did so I turned to look back.

"Another man left the palace gates at full speed, but before he had half crossed the street a puff of smoke shot out of a window, and he fell flat and was instantly lying like a log across the gutter. The fire stopped at once—what use would even an Italian see in shooting a dead man?

"But on the second that all became quiet to my great astonishment I saw this 'dead man' rise to his legs like a cat and dash across the street into the half open door waiting for him. The sharpshooters were taken by surprise and he escaped.".

The Good Old Times.

"An increase of salary!" exclaimed the pompous manager of a small omnibus company to a clerk who had just made that request. "I am afraid, sir, that you are too extravagant."

He toyed with his heavy watch chain and looked severely at the young man, who returned his stare boldly. It was the set phrase on such occasions, and the applicant had heard it all before. He meant to have that rise or—go somewhere else.

"Excuse me, sir," he replied respectfully, "I haven't any chance to be extravagant on what I earn."

"Young man," continued the pompous gentleman, "I have risen from the monkey board. How? By being careful. When I was young, I made money by saving bus fares."

"Ah, that was in the old days," said the young man, with a knowing wink. "But with the bell punches and the present system of inspection you would find you couldn't save sixpence without being collared, however careful you were."

The manager nearly fainted, and the young man had to seek other employment. —Pearson's Weekly.

Luxurious Traveling.

The height of luxurious traveling has been reached by the czar and czarina. The empress' private car is upholstered in pale blue satin. The electric lamps are all in the form of lilies, and it contains writing and tea tables made of mother of pearl. The nursery is the next apartment, and is as comfortable and handsome as the same rooms in any of the czar's palaces. There are dining rooms and drawing rooms and several sleeping apartments. In fact, this train is a miniature palace. The wheels are covered with india rubber tires.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ladies who desire to have their hair Treated, Trimmed, Singed, Champooned, Grey Hair Restored etc., or in want of stylish Bangs Fringes, Waves, Wigs, Pompadours, Switches, Puffs Curls, etc. should write a few lines at once to our representative at the above hotel, and take the time for an appointment either at the hotel or at your residence, so that when he arrives he will lose no time in calling upon you or your calling on him, mention the hour of the day you send the letter, because first come first served. He carries a full line of Hair Ornaments of latest designs.

Gentlemen with thin hair or bald at the top would do well in calling on our representative either to have the hair treated or put some more hair on to it. We make the most perfect natural Toupees and Wigs, which not only add to the personal appearance and comfort, but protect the head from colds and neuralgia, etc.

Our work speaks for itself. We obtained the Highest Award at the Chicago World's Fair, 1893, for excellence of workmanship, durability, Quality and natural effect.

If your hair is dry, colorless, falling out, grey, or thin, consult J. Trancle-Armand & Co's representative. He will advise you the best way free of charge, you need not buy or have your hair treated unless you are satisfied as to our ability and superior articles. Remember the date

May 19, 20 & 21, 1898, at Snowden House, Peterboro'

Our representative will also give the ladies new ideas of how to dress the hair to suit their physiognomie. Make your appointment at once and state if you want your hair treated or want a certain type of hair goods, per letter addressed to J. Trancle-Armand & Co., of Toronto, at the Snowden House. Big Demand for Produce

Messrs. McDougall, Brandon & Austin, at Fenelon Falls, are doing a brisk shipping business these days. On Wednesday a double deck load of hogs passed through to Peterborough, and today they sent through two cars of stockers from Deer Lake, on the I. B. & O. R. to Buffalo. In addition to the above they have shipped about a dozen cars of potatoes to New York points.—Lindsay Post.

Right up To Date

Give McQuay & Collins your next cake or pastry order. Their baker is direct from Harry Webb's, Toronto, and of course is right up to date. George street, opposite Adam Hall's.

Bicycle Baskets

Bicyclists, have your seen the new lunch basket and parcel carrier combined? They are just the thing for picnic parties and those taking long journeys. They have not been on sale here, but hundreds are being used in the cities. The Times Bookstore are sole agents for them.

For Sale or To Rent

That valuable property situated on the corner of Bethune and Edinburgh streets, for sale or to rent. Parties intending to purchase or rent a handsome and commodious residence should not fail to inspect this place. The house is a four storey brick, 32 x 42, fitted up in modern style, with every convenience, such as city water, bath room, electric light, first class outbuildings, including stable for three horses, driving shed for six rigs, ice house, etc. There is a fine lawn and vegetable garden attached to the house, also a number of fruit trees and shrubbery. The above property will be sold cheap or leased for a term of years. For further particulars apply on the premises to J. R. Donell.

SPECIAL FOR THE LADIES

Silcoton for crocheting, all colors, 5 cents a ball, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at Miss Melville's.

STOLE A BICYCLE

John Walker, of Ernsville, in the Cells on the Charge of Stealing a Bicycle

Two tramps occupied cells at the Police Station last night.

They had company, however, in the person of one, John Walker, of Ernsville, a hamlet situated about 20 miles north of Napanee, who was charged with stealing a bicycle from Mr. R. J. Wolstenholme, liveryman, Charlotte street.

It appears that the prisoner hired a bicycle yesterday afternoon from Mr. Wolstenholme. The wheel was only rented for an hour or so and the non-appearance of the rentor, long after the specified time had elapsed, aroused the suspicions of Mr. Wolstenholme, who immediately instituted inquiries as to the whereabouts of his customer.

The still hunt instituted revealed the fact that the prisoner had disposed of the wheel to Mr. John Marvin, butcher, Hunter street, for the munificent sum of five dollars each.

The police were notified and a search was at once inaugurated. The town was scoured, but Walker evaded arrest until nearly midnight when he was discovered in the vicinity of the C. P.R. station by P. C.'s Adams and McGinty, where he was, no doubt, awaiting a chance to skip on a passing train.

He will appear before Police Magistrate Dumble in the morning.

WAS THERE A BALL?

Every Ostensible Evidence that Such an Event Took Place Last Night but Like the Current War News, It Lacks Confirmation

This great family journal "supposes" that a ball was held in the Opera House last night, but as the press representatives were refused admittance as spectators we are unable to say positively whether such an event "really" did take place or not.

We do know, however, that the orchestra was hired in Toronto and that possibly it wasted its sweetness on the desert air; also that the caterers hailed from "Hogtown," and even the printers for Toronto's 400 were called into requisition.

Peterborough wasn't in it no more than the local papers were—for we presume the censorship extended to the Times, professionally, covered our contemporaries.

In view of all these adverse circumstances our readers will have to try and struggle along without the details of last night's ball.

The courtesies ordinarily extended the press—even in God-forsaken Turkey—were withheld in supposedly enlightened Peterborough.

FALSE ALARM

The Fire Laddies Have a Futile Run Last Night

A false alarm was sent in from number one ward last night.

The fire laddies responded promptly, but, of course were unable to locate the supposed fire.

The blaze, in fact, did not have an existence and the firemen had their run for nothing.

A Thoughtful Move

Councillor McWilliams is always alert when the interests of the people are involved. The resolution providing for the presence of a detective at the great bicycle meet on the 1st of July was in order. There no doubt will be a number of crooks here, who are only known to the detectives, on that occasion, and the presence of such an officer will hamper their movements, no doubt, for these gentry will be spotted and watched.

The Market Hog Pen

The question of the market hog pen came before the council at its Saturday night meeting, and there was considerable discussion over the matter. If it is necessary to weigh hogs on the market scales, we presume it is also necessary to have a pen to keep them in. Councillor Denne was right when he said that he wouldn't allow them on the market at all. The filthy character of the market hog pen is enough to breed a plague. If it is necessary to bring hogs to market for the sake of creating a few dollars' extra revenue, by the great horn spoon, let us pass around the hat to make up the amount, and do away with the awful stench that now exists on the market.

Game and Fish Laws

The Ontario Game Warden has issued an abstract of the game and fish laws for circulation in the northern districts. From the abstract the prohibition against the shooting of moose by Indians in unorganized territories has been eliminated. This is done for the reason that it has not been definitely decided that the Government has the power to prohibit Indians in such sections from killing game for use as food and clothing. It has been decided that it can do so in organized townships, but the Government wishes to be on the safe side. It proposes, however, to prevent the indiscriminate slaughter of game by other means. The regulations against the purchase of skins by fur traders and dealers will be rigidly enforced, so that the Indian will have no motive for slaughtering game which he cannot consume himself.

The close season for fish is as follows: Bass, April 15th to June 15th; maskinonge, April 15th to June 15th; pickerel, April 15th to May 15th; speckled trout, September 15th to May 1st; salmon trout, November 1st to November 30th; whitefish, November 1st to November 30th.

In each instance both dates are inclusive and the fish cannot be legally caught, sold or had in possession. Maskinonge can, however, be caught in Rice lake after June 1st. The abstract calls attention to the fact that fishing with nets or other apparatus without a license is prohibited, also the use of firearms, explosives or snares.

GLADSTONE'S CONDITION

He Rallied a Little and is Now Sleeping Soundly

Mrs. Gladstone Remains at the Patient's Bed-side Constantly He is no Longer in Pain

(Special to the Times.)

Hawarden, May 17.—9.15 p. m.—Mr. Gladstone has rallied a little and is now sleeping calmly.

Hawarden, May 17.—Mrs. Gladstone remains at the patient's bedside. The attending physicians said this evening: "It is a strange fact that when addressed in English Mr. Gladstone murmurs a few words in French and sometimes seems to be trying to pray in French. He has had very serious attacks of the heart since yesterday evening and there has been an an altogether very rapid failure. He lies partially unconscious, is delirious and has what is medically called changed stroke in breathing. He is no longer in pain."

Late this evening all the servants of the household were admitted to the sick room for a final farewell. They found Mr. Gladstone lying on his right side in deep sleep as if dead. Each in turn touched his hand and left the room tearfully.

—Two citizens were charged at the Police Court yesterday morning with infractions of the dog tax by-law. They paid the tax and the costs imposed by the Court.

—Work on the canal cutting at Bobcaygeon has ceased for the present owing to the appropriation being exhausted and the dredge has been taken to Burleigh.

—At a meeting of the teachers and officers of St. Andrew's Sabbath school held on Sunday afternoon Mr. W. Mulligan resigned his position as superintendent of the school.

—On Monday a fine Beattie & McBurney bicycle was shipped by the Times to a party in the country in exchange for a club of 100 paid subscribers to the Weekly Times.

—Bobcaygeon Independent: The run of suckers continues, and the dam is frequented all day and most of the night by men and boys with nets and lines. The quantity taken away must be enormous. All the farmers of the country around come in with their waggons and buggies, and the catch daily must weigh tons. Those taken by the farmers are usually salted in barrels for future use, many being kept till winter. The heads and insides are removed, but they are not scaled, and after laying in salt for a time it is said they cook firmly and make a good food.

English Jacobite Societies.

To judge from the list of Jacobite clubs and associations given in the "Legitimist Calendar For 1895," which includes the order of the White Roses, the Devon White Rose club, the Legitimist Jacobite League of Great Britain and Ireland (ponderous title!), the Eastern Counties' (shade of Cromwell!) White Cockade club, the Forty-five club of Grimsby, the Glasgow Jacobite club, the Oxford University Legitimist club, the St. Ives (Hunts) Jacobite club, the Jacobite Restoration league, the Surrey White Rose league, the Mary Stuart club of Lanark, the Legitimist Registration union, the National Royalist and Jacobite association, the order of St. Germain and the Hemingford Grey Royal Oak club, not to mention our old familiar Thames Valley Jacobites and two or three foreign legitimist bodies, it ought not to be difficult for the supporters of the lost house of Stuart to put several hundred adherents in the field (or even Ludgate circus) if they so decide.—London Mail.

SPAIN NOT DEFEATED

Refugees Reach St. Thomas—Spanish Fleet May Touch at Colon, Colombia—A Big Spanish Fleet Assembling for the Philippine Islands—Powerful Help at Hand for Havana—A New Spanish Cabinet Formed

(Special Despatches to the Times, 4 a.m.)

REFUGEES ARRIVE AT ST. THOMAS

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 18.—Over thirty Porto Rican refugees mostly women, with very little money, arrived here last night on board the French steamer Rodriguez. It is reported that the Governor-General of Porto Rico has issued a proclamation saying eight soldiers were killed and 34 wounded as a result of the bombardment of the forts at San Juan by a portion of Rear-Admiral Sampson's fleet on May 12. He adds that two guns were dismounted at Morro Castle, which otherwise was little damaged. He says the other forts were not much hurt. In the town one shot penetrated the palace and the corner of a powder house was carried away. The Spanish transport Alfonso XIII. and the Spanish freight steamer Manuel were damaged by the American fire. The Spaniards, as usual, claim they won a victory, basing this assertion upon the fact that the American warships departed [illegible]. But the refugees say the city [illegible] is still terrorized, [illegible] being in hourly fear of the reappearance of the American fleet and a repetition of the bombardment. People are camping in the country out of range of the American guns. The Spaniards claim that Mr. Freeman Halstead, the newspaper correspondent who was captured and sentenced to nine years' imprisonment for photographing the fortifications of San Juan was wounded by a shot which struck the town jail, but the refugees say he was probably shot by the Spaniards.

FOOD SUPPLY ASSURED.

Madrid, May 18.—10 p.m.—An official despatch says: "The food supply is assured for a long time. Vessels are arriving here from all ports even from the United States with provisions.

MAY TOUCH AT COLON.

Colon, Colombia, May 18.—It is rumored here to-day that the Spanish squadron may probably touch at this port.

BIG FLEET FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Gibraltar, May 18.—The first class battleship Pelayo, the armed cruisers Emperador Carlos V, Alfonso XIII, Vittoria and Giralda, the auxiliary cruisers Rapido, Alfonso XIII, Buenos Ayres and Antonio Lopez and three torpedo boats now at Cadiz are ready for sea. They are expected to sail for the Philippines before the end of this month with 11,000 troops.

A DIFFICULT PROBLEM.

"What is Spain doing with her fleet?" is a question which is on the lips of a good many persons. The Spanish Government are certainly most successful in keeping the movements and positions of their war vessels secret. In addition to the seven warships with Admiral Cervera, the 11 vessels destroyed at Manila and the three ships at Cadiz, Spain has two battleships, one armored cruiser, three protected cruisers, six cruisers, ten torpedo gunboats six destroyers, nineteen torpedo boats and seventy gunboats, or 117 vessels in all. These have been entirely lost sight of, and nobody seems to know where they are. Of course it is well known that a large number of the gunboats are in the keys of Cuba, but what has become of the rest, and what they are doing? It would appear that Spain is either neglecting her opportunities or that her sailors are afraid to venture away from land.

BRITAIN PREPARES FOR A CRISIS.

New York, May 18.—A special to The Herald from Washington says: Great Britain is evidently preparing for a crisis which she expects will occur in the Far East. Official information which has been received at the Navy Department shows that she is buying up great quantities of coal in the far Western States and is storing it at her yard at Esquimalt. The cause for Great Britain's action is not known in naval circles but it is thought that the British Government desires to have on hand a large supply of fuel, which will be useful for her squadron in Asiatic waters in case the situation in the Far East should be productive of war.

Because of these purchases by Great Britain the price of coal has gone up and the Navy Department is compelled to pay a higher rate per ton than heretofore. For the purpose of preventing dealers from taking advantage of the Government, as well as for the benefit of the navy ships, the department has determined to store coal of its own at Puget Sound, and Secretary Long has directed Civil Engineer Endicott to build a coal shed at that point.

It is proposed to keep 5000 tons already on hand, so that ships will not suffer embarrassment or delay in coaling when they put into the navy yard at Puget Sound for repairs or docking.

THE VICTORY INEVITABLE.

New York, May 18.—A cable despatch to The World from Paris says: La Patrie publishes an interview with General Mansilla, a well-known South American soldier and a nephew of Rosas, who says: "The victory of America is inevitable, but I deplore the fact that [illegible] to prevent her extending her [illegible] and maritime power. [illegible] declaration about Cuba is sincere, the relations of [illegible] protector and creditor and [illegible] and steel must end in annexation. After Cuba America will [illegible] Mexico. Cuba is [illegible] and will be one of [illegible] when the Nicaragua Canal is made."

A NEW SPANISH CABINET.

Madrid, May 18.—8 a. m.—The new Spanish Cabinet has been formed as follows: President of the Council of Ministers, Senor Praxedes Sagasta.

Minister of Foreign Affairs, Senor Leon y Castillo.

Minister of War, Lieut.-General Correa.

Minister of Marine, Senor Aunon.

Minister of the Colonies, Senor Romero Giron.

Minister of Finance, Senor Lopez Puigcerver.

Minister of the Interior, Senor F.R. Capdepon.

Minister of Justice, Senor C. Groizard.

Minister of Public Instruction, Senor Gamazo.

Senor Sagasta will submit the names of the Ministers to the Queen Regent during the day and the Cabinet officers will be sworn in this evening. The Premier will act as Foreign Minister, pending the arrival here of Senor Castillo.

CERVERA IS REINFORCED.

London, May 18.—It is reported that the Spanish reserve fleet left Cadiz on Friday last and arrived at the Canary Islands on Monday night on its way to effect a junction with Admiral Cervera in the Carribean Sea. It is also stated on the best of authority that three additional Spanish cruisers, the Princess de Asturias, the Cataluna and the Cardinal Cisneros, all first-class armored cruisers, have already arrived at Martinique, having stolen away from Cadiz unobserved about the same time as the Cape Verde fleet sailed from St. Vincent on April 29. The announcement of the Spanish Government that these three vessels would convoy a relief expedition to the Philippines was merely a ruse to hide their real movements. If this report is correct, Cervera has now at his disposal seven fast cruisers and three torpedo destroyers, with the possibility of further powerful additions at an early day.

BRYAN'S REGIMENT.

Lincoln, Neb., May 18.—William J. Bryan is to organize a third regiment of Nebraska volunteers to tender their services to the President as soon as mustered. Governor Holcomb has issued him a commission as colonel with authority to proceed, and Mr. Bryan told the Associated Press correspondent that he would accept the commission.

EVADING THE BLOCKADE.

Key West, May 18.—A. F. Sanvedra, a wealthy Cuban, has arrived here from Santiago de Cuba on his way to Paris. He reports that large cargoes of ammunition, guns and provisions, etc., are arriving at that city from Spain and are being sent to Havana by rail. Many trainloads leave daily for the relief of Blanco, and the insurgents frequently attack and attempt to wreck the cargoes.

CRUISERS AT HAYTI.

Cape Haytien, May 18.—The cruisers Minneapolis and Yale arrived here to-day and received orders by cable.

WITHIN A WEEK.

Washington, May 18.—Secretary Alger says he hopes to see an advance made into Cuba next week and that as soon as the forward movement is begun there will be no halting until the force landed is sufficient to invest Havana.

FAVOR THE ALLIANCE.

Shanghai, May 18.—The newspapers here and public opinion in general strongly favors an Anglo-American alliance, as proposed in the speech which Mr. Joseph Chamberlain recently made at Birmingham.

ANOTHER SHIP LAUNCHED.

Philadelphia, May 18.—The battleship Alabama was successfully launched at Cramp's Ship Yards at 12.50 to-day.

SPANIARDS MEET REBELS.

Havana, May 18.—It is announced at the palace that a Spanish force on Saturday last was engaged at Chimborazo, province of Havana, with a combined force of insurgents under the leadership of Maya, Acea, Colazo and Jacinto Hernandez. The whole insurgent force is said to have numbered eight hundred men and it is alleged that the enemy lost eleven men killed. The Spanish loss is officially represented as being two lieutenants and three soldiers wounded.

Captain-General Blanco yesterday definitely appointed the Secretaries of the Colonial Council who have been [illegible]. They are: Senor Galvez President of the Council; Montoro Secretary of Finance; Govin Justice; Dolz, Public Works and Communication; Rodriguez, Commerce; Zayas, Public Instruction.

LANDING REPULSED.

London, May 18.—A [illegible] despatch from Havana published [illegible] there has been an [illegible] of the [illegible] expedition [illegible] Province of Santa Clara [illegible] has been repulsed.

THE OREGON SAFE.

Washington, May 18.—The Oregon is believed to be safe and probably now is part of Sampson's squadron.

A NOCTURNAL EXPEDITION.

Key West, May 18.—A feat of extraordinary boldness was performed by a boat's crew from the cruiser Wilmington engaged in the blockade of Havana. About 12 o'clock last evening, which was dark and cloudy, the commander of the Wilmington, under special instructions from Washington ordered the second lieutenant of the cruiser to take ten men and endeavor unobserved to enter the inner harbor with the object of ascertaining the number and size of the Spanish war vessels at anchor there and what, if any, preparations had been made to defend them from torpedo or other attack. The boat left the side of the Wilmington without attracting attention and by means of muffled oars succeeded in passing close under the guns of the batteries defending the approach to Havana. In the innermost harbor the lieutenant found a fleet of some ten or a dozen gunboats together with two armed cruisers. They were all at anchor close up to the Castillo batteries behind an exceedingly strong boom which would effectually prevent any torpedo boat approaching near enough to discharge its missile. Additional strong batteries with heavy guns had been constructed and commanded the anchorage completely. The lieutenant and his crew had a narrow escape from being cut off from the fleet, as he was discovered and chased by an armed Spanish launch, but escaped, owing to the superior rowing of his men, one of whom was struck in the arm by a bullet.

WHAT NAVAL OFFICERS SAY.

Washington, May 18.—Naval authorities here express the opinion that the Spanish fleet will make Havana. They base their opinion on the fact that at this port they will receive more assistance than any other point in Cuba, and will be in a position to obtain supplies of coal sufficient to last them three months. The Spanish vessels are more speedy than the American warships and from Havana sharp movements can be made that will keep both Sampson's and Schley's fleets guessing as to their whereabouts.

SQUADRON ARRIVES.

Key West, May 18.—The flying squadron under Commodore Schely arrived here this morning to receive instructions, as to it's future movements from Washington.

GENERAL BLANCO SOON TO BE ISOLATED.

Washington, May 18.—The complete isolation of General Blanco from the outside world is now looked upon by leading military and naval authorities as an essential move to be executed at the earliest possible moment. The pressing need of this has become more evident within the last few days, since General Blanco is known to have been in constant cable communication with the admiral of the Spanish squadron, and also with Madrid. He has thus been an intermediary between the Government and the admiral, informing them of his own needs and advising them on matters of policy. Official inquiry has developed that there will be little difficulty in isolating Captain-General Blanco. Havana's communication with the outside world is carried on by means of five distinct cable lines. Two of these run to the United States and are, of course, closed against General Blanco. The remaining three cables leave Havana by way of Santiago, and also by one shore cable with Santiago. Two of the lines run to Jamaica and one to Hayti. When a message has once left Cuba by one of the three lines still open, it has no less than six different cable routes it can adopt after leaving Jamaica or Hayti. From Jamaica one route goes to Colon, Pernambuco, Cape Verde Islands, and thence to Spain; a second route goes to Bermuda, Halifax, and thence to Spain; a fourth route goes to Windward Islands, Dutch Guiana, Pernambuco, Cape Verde and Spain. From Hayti there are two routes, one to Venezuela, Pernambuco, Cape Verde and Spain, and a second by way of the Windward Islands to British Guiana.

The authorities here have, with much labor figured out, all of these various means by which General Blanco can keep up his communications. They are satisfied that if this triple route is cut the entire system of communication between Cuba and the outside world will be at an end.

Santiago is not a strongly fortified town, and it is believed there would be little danger attending the cutting of the three cables at that point.

The right to cut these cables is not doubted by the authorities, although most of them are British cables.

POWERFUL HELP AT HAND.

Key West, May 18.—The Spanish fleet is expected in Havana. For the last two nights Morro Castle light, which has not been burning since the blockade occurred, has blazed a red signal to guide the Spanish warships into the harbor.

Some information regarding the movements of the fleet has reached General Blanco from Madrid, and he has officially announced that a powerful fleet, with reinforcements and supplies, has eluded the American fleet and is approaching. This news was brought by a Cuban sent out picked up in a row boat near Cojimar on Sunday night, who brought out the information to the blockading squadron under cover of darkness and then returned to land. General Blanco evidently expects the Spanish fleet [illegible] the western end [illegible] Havana [illegible] and supplies [illegible] the blockading squadron [illegible] the presence of the Spanish fleet in these waters have [illegible] whose [illegible] operations along the [illegible].

AN AMERICAN RUSE.

The American Board of Strategy have been compelled by the elusiveness of the Spanish fleet to change their tactics. They now recognize that so long as Cervera wishes he can avoid an engagement, seeing that there are only two American cruisers, the New York and the Brooklyn, capable of overtaking his vessels. It has, therefore, been given out that the search for the Spaniards has for the present been abandoned and that the fleets of Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley are converging upon Cuba, which will be invaded as soon as possible. At the same time comes the announcement that a new flying squadron equal in speed to that of the Spaniards will be formed, and will consist of the New York and Brooklyn, together with half a dozen protected cruisers. It is suggested that the two armored cruisers might prove a match for two of Admiral Cervera's vessels while the protected cruisers could dispose of the other two and the destroyers. In the opinion of the Times these announcements are merely a ruse de guerre, the invention of which is to draw the Spanish fleet into Cuban waters and make it the attacker instead of the attacked. The Board of Strategy recognizes the futility of trying to bring Cervera to battle with the present slow vessels at their disposal, and also [illegible] continuing the pursuit and [illegible] in Cuba they are simply playing into the hands of the Spaniards, who wish for delay until the Cadiz fleet can effect a junction with Cervera. If, however, a fleet is [illegible] landing troops in Cuba [illegible] the United States think the [illegible] of Spain [illegible] in the Caribbean Sea [illegible] compelled to go to the rescue and thus come into collision with the powerful American squadron. Latest reports say that Cervera has been joined by three additional armed cruisers, and that the Cadiz fleet is already on its way from the Canaries. If so, it is the evident intention of Spain to make a great struggle in front of Cuba.

Fatal Accident at Creemore

Creemore, Ont., May 18.—While Mr. John O'Brien, of the firm of O'Brien & Fowden, millers here, was working in the mill yesterday afternoon, he was caught in the machinery and had both legs and one arm broken in several places, and also all the ribs on one side. He died about ten o'clock last night.

Polo Leaves Canada

Montreal, May 18.—Senor Polo y Bernabe, the ex-Spanish Minister to the United States, will sail from this port for Liverpool on Saturday.

THE PLEBISCITE CAMPAIGN

The plebiscite campaign may be said to have begun. In many parts of the country the fight is on in earnest. Both parties are stripping for the fray, so that a lively campaign is likely to eventuate. The local temperance workers have not made a move as yet, although we understand an early start is to be made. Should the vote be in favor of prohibition it will close all the bar rooms, breweries and distilleries in Canada—a tremendously important thing to contemplate.

GOOD TIMES IN CANAL

There are good times in Canada now. From all parts of the country come reports of factories working overtime and merchants increasing their business, says the Toronto World. The people are buying freely both necessaries and luxuries from the retail merchants so that the manufacturers and importers are kept busy supplying the demand. The activity is not confined to any particular line, but extends to all departments of industry excepting a few which were crippled by losing their protection. The banks, the insurance companies, the railways all report great increases in business, and shipping at Montreal shows a phenomenal development.

LIKES CHAMBERLAIN'S SPEECH

Chamberlain's speech is the clear, full voice of a national spirit, speaking in the name of a common race, a common mission, a common civilization. Like the Times, he is really important, because he is representative, not of parties or governments or policies, but of national feeling. The Anglo-American alliance he announces is no pact of intriguing Ministers pledged by secret treaties, like an usurer's loan. Neither England nor America makes alliances with treaties in the Continental fashion. We do not sign and seal in chancelleries. We just put our backs together, like the 150 Anglo-American tars who scattered 400 Continental sailors in some Japanese port. This we have done now. It began when England championed civilization in Asia and was finished when the United States took up the mission of civilization in the West Indies. The people ran together to defend a common purpose, and the governments had no choice but to follow. No treaty is needed to cement such a union as this. There is all the Anglo-American alliance there ever will be, but there is enough to give pause to the world.

WARNING BUT NO MENACE

The words of Salisbury and Chamberlain may be intended to make for peace by suggesting to Russia and France that the limit of British forbearance has been reached.

Neither Russia nor France is ready for a fight with Great Britain. France is able to put in the field 350 soldiers for every thousand of her population and Russia can muster 320 for every thousand of her population. The immensity of these two forces would make a France-Russian union terrible to any European power but Great Britain.

Britain has no reason to dread the shock of battle between Russia and France separately or jointly. The French navy is notoriously unready for war. The army has been the chief care of French statesmen and it is only lately that France and Russia have begun to devote attention to the navy.

Britain is ready for war on the sea, and the dispute as to territory in Africa which is the only possible cause of trouble between Britain and France, would be settled in favor of Britain by the inability of the French to bring troops to the scene of the trouble without first overpowering Britain on the sea. France is just now in no position even with the aid of Russia, to display that naval superiority which is a condition essential to the victory of any Franco-Russian combination over Great Britain.

It seems doubtful whether the Spaniards are training for a sea fight or a boat race.

One who cannot help it says that the Philippines should be easily guarded, because Manila is a good place to put a cordon.

According to advices from Cuba, the Spaniards there celebrated the battle of Manila as a victory. It is said of the English that they don't know when they are beaten, but it is questionable whether English denseness about a licking ever approached that of the Spanish contingent in Cuba.

Egyptian Tombs.

These tombs, considered the oldest monuments of Egypt, are supposed to have been erected before or during the time of Joseph, and are profusely ornamented with a variety of colored figures, demonstrating ocularly that those ancient people were as gay and nimble as they were depicted, solemn and immovable in their usual sculpture. On some of the walls were hunting scenes, women playing the sackbut and dulcimer, or applying with cheerfulness the bastinado to those of either sex who stood in need of reformatory measures; glass blowers, brickmakers, barbers, plying their vocation and even a chiropodist attending to business. Over each picture was written what the artist intended to represent—an idea that might be employed to advantage by some of our fin de siecle painters.—Outing.

A Tiny Well Digger.

The mole is one of the thirstiest of animals. It never burrows at any great distance from water, and at times of drought when the supply of the needful element is diminished or cut off the "little gentleman in the velvet coat" counteracts the scarcity by digging wells until it comes to a depth at which water may be obtained.

Hair Treatment

Premature Grey Hair Restored

Scalp and Hair scientifically treated in all cases of the hair falling out.

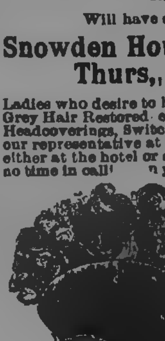
J. Trancle-Armand & Co.

The Largest Best and most Reliable Hair Goods and Dressing Establishment of Toronto

Will have one of their able representatives staying at the

Snowden House, Peterborough,
Thurs., Fri. and Sat., May 19, 20 and 21

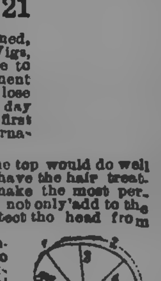
Ladies who desire to have their hair Treated, Trimmed, Singed, Champooned, Grey Hair Restored etc., or in want of stylish Bangs Fringes, Waves, Wigs, Headcoverings, Switches, Puffs Curls, etc., should write a few lines at once to our representative at the above hotel, and take the time for an appointment either at the hotel or at your residence, so that when he arrives he will lose no time in calling on you or your calling on him, mention the hour of the day you send the letter, because first come first served. He carries a full line of Hair Ornaments of latest designs.



Gentlemen with thin hair or bald at the top would do well in calling on our representative either to have the hair treated or put some more hair on to it. We make the most perfect natural Toupees and Wigs, which not only add to the personal appearance and comfort, but protect the head from colds and neuralgia, etc.

Our work speaks for itself. We obtained the Highest Award at the Chicago World's Fair, 1893, for excellence of workmanship, durability, Quality and natural effect.

If your hair is dry, colorless, falling out, grey, or thin, consult J. Trancle-Armand & Co's representative. He will advise you the best way free of charge, you need not buy or have your hair treated unless you are satisfied as to our ability and superior articles. Remember the date



May 19, 20 & 21, 1898, at Snowden House, Peterboro'

Our representative will also give the ladies new ideas of how to dress the hair to suit their physiognomie. Make your appointment at once and state if you want your hair treated or want a certain style of hair goods, per letter addressed to J. Trancle-Armand & Co., of Toronto, at the Snowden House, Peterborough.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

AUXILIARY CRUISERS.

Madrid, May 7.—Instructions have been given to the maritime authorities of Barcelona not to permit the departure of large steamers which might be used as "auxiliary cruisers."

A BIG FLEET.

St. Thomas Danish West Indies, May 17.—It was reported here this morning that on Sunday last, from noon until six p. m., twenty-seven vessels slowly steamed westerly, north of Torola Island, 40 miles east of St. Thomas which approached the island showed the Spanish flag.

SPANISH FLEET OFF COAST OF VENEZUELA.

Curacoa, May 17.—The Spanish fleet is now supposed to be off the coast of Venezuela or off the coast of Colombia. Only a portion of the fleet was allowed to enter this harbor to obtain provisions, cattle and coal, which were purchased here.

Confirmation was obtained of the report that the Spaniards left one of their torpedo gunboats at Fort De France, Island of Martinique.

U. S. REPRISALS.

Madrid, May 17.—9 p. m.—The newspapers here assert that letters from Spain even letters containing checks and other valuables have been stopped at New York and destroyed. The papers demand that the Spanish Government make reprisals upon Americans resident in Spain, especially in the case of the correspondents of American newspapers.

JAPAN TAKES A HAND IN.

Washington, D. C., May 17. — The statement cabled from London yesterday that Japan intends to protest vigorously against the seizure of the Philippines by the United States' and with that object in view is taking steps to secure the co-operative of certain European powers is not credited by the Japanese Minister. He said to-day that he had received no intimation official or unofficial of any such purpose on the part of his Government. He was confident that the report was without foundation.

U. S. NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENTS TREATED AS SPIES.

Madrid, May 17.—It is announced here in a despatch from Havana that after the arrival of the Uncas off that port the two captured American newspaper men were examined and it is added that the inquiry revealed the fact that they could not be considered as prisoners of war but must be looked upon as spies, one being, it is claimed, a Cuban employed in Havana. It is further alleged that upon the prisoners were found revolvers, cartridges, interesting documents, and a camera.

Advices received here confirm the reports that Mr. Freeman Halstead, the American newspaper correspondent, arrested at San Juan de Porto Rico, was taken into custody while in the act of taking photographs of the fortifications. A report is current here that: "The Spanish flotilla at Havana is about to make another sortie." This kind of news keeps up the spirits of the people here.

STILL UNSOLVED.

It is probable that little news regarding the movements of either the American or Spanish fleets in the Caribbean Sea will be received until one of the other of these fleets has been vanquished. To all intents and purposes the curtain has been drawn over both squadrons, only to be raised upon a victory and a defeat. As the decisive moment draws near both nations are taking extraordinary precautions to prevent the publication of information regarding naval movements and are showing great readiness in allowing misleading details to be given out. Up to the present the censors of the United States have have permitted news of the enemy's movements to be transmitted by telegraph, although references to their own fleet have been rigorously erased. Now, however, it is feared that if information respecting Spanish vessels is made known the enemy's plans may be changed and stragical plans made abortive. The censorship is, therefore, being strictly exercised and cable companies have been notified that they will be held personally liable for despatches injurious to the United States. Moreover, only information of such movements as have actually occurred will be given out at Washington to the press. The Spaniards, on their side, have long ago adopted similar regulations, and have been dealing largely in telegrams containing false information. Latterly they have threatened to treat as treat as spies all captured newspaper reporters—which means hanging. Meanwhile Admiral Cervera is still successful in avoiding Admiral Sampson, and will probably do so as long as he wishes, seeing that his fleet is superior in speed. The Cadiz fleet is now ready for sea and may sail to join him at any moment, when the problem will arise as to Cervera's ability to keep the sea until the junction is effected.

VESSEL BLOWN UP.

Madrid, May 17.—A despatch received here from Havana says that a small naval boat, having a crew of 17 men, has been blown up off Cardenas while engaged in removing torpedoes from that harbor. The despatch adds that the torpedo exploded through the negligence of those engaged in the work and that all the crew of the boat referred to perished. The despatch does not indicate whether the boat was an American or a Spanish craft.

ATTACKS BY DESTROYERS.

New York, May 17.—A special cable to the World from Madrid says: Admiral Cervera's fleet will dodge about in the Carribean Sea and Gulf of Mexico. It is expected by naval men here, Cervera will avoid a fight in case he finds himself overmatched.

His chief aim is to draw the American squadrons away from the Cuban coast so that he may make a dash and get into Havana. The principal object of such a dash, it is asserted, would be to allow to cruiser Vizcaya to go into dry dock to clean her bottom and thus improve her speed, for in her present condition she cripples the movements of the remainder of the fleet.

Great expectations are founded also upon night raids by the Spanish torpedo boat destroyers upon the American blockading squadron.

Later, when the rainy season sets in fast blockade runners, both Spanish and foreign, will undertake to carry ammunition and provisions to Cuba and Porto Rico.

COMMEMORATIVE CRACKERS.

St Louis, Mo., May 17.—Captain Duval, of the United States Commissary Department, has made a contract with local bakers for 610,000 pounds of army crackers. This is equivalent to 50,000 barrels of flour. On each cracker will be printed the words "Remember the Maine."

WOODS FULL OF THEM.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, May 17.—Two Spanish cruisers or gunboats are making their base of operations at [illegible], or Guantanamo Bay. They are known to be moving every night in the waters between Hayti and Cuba. A Haytien schooner, plying between the Mole, St. Nicholas, Jean Rabel and [illegible] reports through an agent of the Cuban insurgents at Port De Paix, having met the Spanish vessels several times during the past few weeks. The Spaniards are supposed to hide in the Cuban ports during the day and go out cruising at night.

LOOKING FOR THE OREGON.

Santa Lucia, West Indies, May 17.—A large strange warship was sighted last night lying off the west coast of this island. Others were also seen to the northward of St. Lucia. These vessels are believed to be a Spanish squadron watching for the U.S. battleship Oregon which may pass close to this island on its way to Key West.

SPAIN ARMS HER ENEMIES.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 17.—The Cuban provisional Government has di-

JOINT RULE AT MANILA.

Hong Kong, May 17.—Despatches from Manila say that there are no signs that the Spanish authorities are prepared to capitulate. All the Spanish inhabitants and many British and German families have sought safety in the suburbs, taking all their belongings. In the business quarters the buildings are covered with foreign flags. The British predominate, with a view of protection should the insurgents capture the city.

There is much feeling against the British residents, but, fortunately, the number of foreign men-of-war off Manila is constantly increasing and the position of Europeans is becoming daily less precarious.

Aguinaldo the former insurgent leader, is now in Hong Kong, actively negotiating with President McKinley. He is seeking to arrange for the future government of the Philippines by a native administration under the protectorate of the United States. At present there is a deal of dissension among the rebel factions, some of which are negotiating with the Americans and others with the Spanish authorities. Whether Aguinaldo possesses enough influence to reconcile these differences and to induce the insurgents to pursue a common policy is questionable.

Admiral Dewey is well advised in waiting for reinforcements since the fall of Manila would produce anarchy throughout the islands. The English here advocate a joint Anglo-American administration.

INJURED BY A MUZZLE LOADER.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—Three men were severely injured at the Union depot last night by the premature discharge of one of Battery A's old muzzle-loading field pieces. The cannon was being used to salute the departing volunteers

250,000 CURED.

Thousands of young men are made nervous wrecks, unfit for business, social pleasures or home duties by evil habits in youth, later excesses, or private diseases. W. O. Andrews, of Akron, O., says: "I read this paper and have seen many reports of remarkable cures made by Drs. Kennedy and Kergan. I decided to treat with them. Indiscretion was the cause of my trouble. I was weak and nervous; no ambition; back weak, pimples on the face; thin and haggard; eyes sunken and cheeks hollow; dreams and drains at night; memory poor; varicocele and weak parts; irritable; sinking spells; specks before the eyes; lack of confidence; no energy; and many other complaints. I had tried fourteen doctors, bought four electric belts took scores of bottles of patent medicines—all failed. I tried the New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, and it cured me. I am a Man Again. I have gained twenty-six pounds and am strong mentally, physically and sexually. It is a wonderful treatment."

Blood Disease—with the worst symptoms: Ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, blotches, eruptions, hair fallen out, bone pains, eyes red, stomach troubles, sore throat, etc., positively cured forever. You dare not marry until cured. Cures guaranteed or no pay.

We cure Syphilis, Nervous Debility, Varicocele, Failing Manhood, Stricture, Gleet, Unnatural Discharges, Weak Parts, Bladder and Kidney Diseases.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

He left the house, with a sigh. This scene was the result of an attempt on his part to prepare Nina Dunlap for the arrival of her governess, who was expected to take charge of the wayward West Indian that afternoon. Mrs. Auld had steadfastly refused to communicate the tidings, and the old lawyer had at last reluctantly undertaken the task himself.

Nina was in her room, sobbing noisily and viciously.

"I hate them all!" she cried, her nostrils quivering like those of a startled horse. I hated old Kaffman in Santa Cruz badly enough, but not so much as I hate this old man, that beast of an Auld, and this wretch of a governess. I know she has hair the color of mashed turnips, and white eyes and she smiles all the time, and speaks so softly—I know she does. I hate her! I shall pull her hair and bite her!"

She looked like a perfect fury, and yet her face was not an ugly one, save in expression. Her eyes were deep-set and black as jet with a strange, cold glitter, like the glitter of glass under water; her nose was rather broad, and her lips curling, and deep red, almost purple; her skin was sallow, and lacking in youthful bloom and freshness; and her form was almost painfully slender, her fingers long and taper, and her feet small as those of a Chinese woman.

She was the daughter of Mr. Jameson's nephew, Ronald Dunlap, and a West Indian lady. Nina knew perfectly well that a trace of African blood ran through her veins and the thought was hateful to her. Pride was her besetting sin and she was over-sensitive.

It was just two o'clock when Stella rang the bell at Mr. Jameson's door. A quiet man in a black suit opened it and saying, "Miss Sterling I presume? Please walk in," led the way to the reception-room.

If the man had not been so well trained—he was an Englishman and had been a servant all his life—he would have smiled when he saw Stella's look of utter amazement as she beheld her future pupil.

Nina sat in a large chair in what she intended for a very graceful attitude.

She wore a low-necked, short-sleeved dress of pale blue satin trimmed profusely with gold passementerie; she was fairly loaded with heavy old-fashioned jewelry, diamonds, emeralds, and also sapphires, and thick strings of pink coral surrounded her neck and slender arms. She also wore a pair of gold spectacles and sat in dignified silence pretending to read, though her sight through the unaccustomed glasses was so imperfect that she held her book upside down.

Stella hesitated at the door a moment and the butler announced "Miss Sterling" with all the emphasis he was capable of, but Nina never stirred.

Stella realized the situation; she signed to the man to leave the room and he instantly obeyed her.

"You are Miss Dunlap, I believe?" said Stella, advancing to the side of her prospective pupil.

No reply.

"Are you Miss Dunlap?"

The girl started a little at the tone of voice in which the question was asked. A faint dull crimson began to flush her thin cheeks; it was the danger signal.

"Are you dumb? Mr. Jameson surely did not engage my services to teach a dumb girl or—an idiot?"

The book was dashed on the floor and Nina was on her feet like a fury.

"How dare you?" she hissed; "you are nothing but a servant, my servant; you shall not dare to interrupt me when I am reading, but wait till I speak to you, like any other hired menial."

Stella viewed her with a contemptuous smile.

She did not make any reply for fully five minutes.

Meanwhile Nina was stalking about like a peacock, glorifying herself over the impression she had made. At the end of five minutes Stella rose and calmly rang the bell, then walked to the window and stood looking out at the carriages and riders passing by. In a few seconds Chisholm, the butler, opened the door. Ignoring Nina, he addressed himself to Stella, inquiring respectfully:

"Did you ring, miss?"

"Yes. Please send Mrs. Auld, the housekeeper here."

Again silence fell over the room. In a moment Mrs Auld entered, and bowing politely, said:

"You wished to see me, miss?"

"Yes; Mr. Jameson engaged me as governess to a young lady, but he forgot to mention that the young lady was out of her mind."

Mrs. Auld smiled; she had suffered much from the creole, and she was glad that the governess seemed disposed to make herself "master of the situation."

"I don't think Miss Dunlap is out of her mind," she said quietly.

"Indeed? Well, it appears so to me. If I am to fill the position of keeper to a violent lunatic, I must have protection and suitable appliances. I must stipulate for the attendance of two strong nurses from Jefferson Insane Asylum, and leather bands to strap her down, also a straight-jacket. I think it would be cheaper and more satisfactory for Mr. Jameson to have the young lady taken to an insane asylum at once; and one can see that she is crazy, and it must be unpleasant to have her around."

"Very true, miss," said the housekeeper, who was delighted to be revenged on Nina.

Nina stood like one pertified. She could not utter one word.

"Now, Mrs. Auld, until I see Mr. Jameson I prefer not to be left alone with the patient, so I shall trouble you to show me to another room and stay with me until the master of the house returns."

So saying, Stella swept from the room without bestowing one glance on the discomfited Nina.

Edith meanwhile, had moved her belongings to the mansion on Drexexl Boulevard.

"Now Edith," said Mrs. Rush, Mrs. Derwent's cook, who liked to be called housekeeper, though Mrs. Derwent was too energetic to allow anyone to keep her house, "now, Edith, you have got into the nicest home in Chicago, only you must be very careful and modest. Mrs. Derwent cannot bear any boldness or fastness in a girl. The two gentlemen, Mr. Arthur and Mr. Walter, are noble young men; I've known them since they were babies in arms."

Edith listened with due deference, though she felt inclined to make use of a word she often had on her lips in the boarding house in Brandon days. When any boarder worried her, she generally said "Rats!" It would never do, however, to say "Rats" to this stout motherly old lady, so she said:

"Yes, ma'am," instead.

Edith was very bright and quick, so she felt quite at home by dinner-time, which was seven o'clock.

"Go and put on a black dress. Have you a black dress?" inquired Mrs. Rush, anxiously.

"Yes."

"Well, a black dress and white apron and collar, that is the rule for the parlor-maid. Many people who are not so wealthy as Mrs. Derwent keep men-servants, but she is real American in her ideas, and thinks men ought to work outdoors. They are in the best society in Chicago, but they are very unpretentious."

Edith put on her black cloth dress and white collar and cuffs. She wondered what kind of apron was orthodox in the Derwent family. A gay affair with lace frills was discarded as "too fancy," and she finally settled the question by putting on a severely plain white linen one, deeply hemstitched.

The sons were home; she heard them chatting with their mother in the parlor for a few moments before they retired to their rooms to dress for dinner.

Edith felt nervous over the table setting.

The dazzling array of crystal and silver, the exquisite hot-house flowers brought in and handed to her by the gardener, all confused her, but she was soon at her ease, and the old parlor-maid, who was leaving to get married, comforted and encouraged her by saying she had never seen a girl "take hold so."

NEARLY ALL MEN

experience a sexual weakness sooner or later in life. That kind of weakness comes both from abuses and from overwork. It is an affliction that may well be dreaded. It destroys ambition, and life becomes a burden. These weak men can be cured—no question about that. The flight of years can not be stopped, but healthful, natural feelings and powers can be restored. If those powers have been lost, our treatment and appliances will restore them beyond a doubt.

OUR FREE OFFER

In order to show our implicit faith in our treatment, we will send our medicines and appliances for a free trial of ten days to all men whose sexual vigor is gone and whose organs are small. Not a dollar is to be paid for the trial. If it is satisfactory, then we are to be paid. If unsatisfactory, send the outfit back to us.

We will send our free book, "Complete Manhood" on request. Cut out this notice or mention this paper.

LIVELY LAKEFIELD

Our Eligible Bachelors

This great family journal proposes for the benefit of the young ladies of the village to publish a list of the eligible bachelors in Lakefield and surrounding district at an early date. The list will comprise the names, occupation, business habits and commercial standing of every unmarried man in the village and country between the ages of 21 and 60. This g. f. j. intends to make itself solid with the Lakefield girls, if it knows itself.

He Found the Money

About a week ago Mr. Robertson, the barber, lost fifteen dollars in bills. He advertised by written posters and through the Times. As days flew by he gave up all hope of ever seeing his money again. Just as he was opening up yesterday, Mr. Dan Kennedy, an employee on the canal, asked Mr. Robertson to give the denominations of the bills he lost. He did so and Mr. Kennedy handed him his money. In doing so, he said that in removing an old lumber pile near the bridge he found the bills near the bottom. The money must have been found by some person and hidden there, as Mr. Robertson has no recollection of ever having been at that place. Dan. Kennedy is an honest man.

LOCALS

The steamer Idle Hour, Capt. Tom Hall, came down from the head of Stony Lake yesterday.

Capt. [illegible] Reynolds proved himself a corker yesterday. His paint is watertight now.

Mr. H[illegible]nes, of Hughes & Green, the new proprietors of the Burleigh Falls Hotel, was in town yesterday, completing arrangements for the summer season.

If you borrow a wheel from the owner on the sly be sure you have a pair of pant clips of your own, or you may regret your ride as did a Lakefielder the other day.

There have been at least forty car loads of lumber shipped from Lakefield this week.

Don't forget the concert in aid of the Library Fund Thursday night.

Remember the mammoth picnic of the 24th.

If the Andrews Dramatic Co. wish to continue to draw respectable houses they must not make any more nasty breaks.

The circulation of the Times still increases.

Lakefield was well represented at the Grand Masonic Ball in Peterborough Tuesday night. There were present: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Hilliard, Mr. and Mrs. Munro, Mrs. F. J. Tate, Mrs. Lefevre and the Misses Lefevre, Miss Alice Strickland, Mr. Lemprerie, Mr. E. R. Tate and Dr. T. H. Bell.

The Times, the only morning paper between Toronto and Ottawa, goes to press at 4 a.m. and reaches Lakefield at 9 a.m. The Toronto papers go to press at 1 a.m. and reach Lakefield at 3 p.m., that is, they are fifteen hours old. The Peterborough evening papers, not having a press franchise, clip from the Toronto papers news which is 12 hours old, go to press at 3 p.m., be in the postoffice till next morning and reach Lakefield with news 32 hours old. Is it any wonder Lakefielders are dropped Peterborough's evening papers and subscribing for the Times?

Luxurious Traveling.

The height of luxurious traveling has been reached by the czar and czarina. The empress' private car is upholstered in pale blue satin. The electric lamps are all in the form of lilies, and it contains writing and tea tables made of mother of pearl. The nursery is the next apartment, and is as comfortable and handsome as the same rooms in any of the czar's palaces. There are dining rooms and drawing rooms and several sleeping apartments. In fact, this train is a miniature palace. The wheels are covered with india rubber tires.—Philadelphia Ledger.

[illegible] Manure

Conclusions reached by a German authority are that the manure pile must be carefully constructed and protected from extremes of moisture and sunshine. It should be kept moist, but not wet. It is well to turn cattle in upon it occasionally to tramp it down, and thus exclude excess of air. When the heap is completed it should be covered with earth. If these precautions are observed, the use of preservatives may be dispensed with.

THE EXCITABLE FRENCH.

Scene In the Chamber of Deputies With the Members Enraged.

Upon arriving at the anteroom of the chamber of deputies, says Colonel T. W. Higginson in The Atlantic, I found the hall full of people waiting, each having to send his card to some member, naming on it the precise hour of arrival. The member usually appeared promptly, when an immense usher called in a stentorian voice for "La personne qui a fait demander M. Constant"—or whoever it might be. Then the constituent—for such it usually was—advanced toward the smiling member, who never looked bored, the mask of hospitality being probably the same in this respect throughout the legislative halls of the world. At last M. Talandier appeared and got me a place among the corps diplomatique. The chamber itself was more like our representatives' hall at Washington than like the house of commons. The members had little locked desks, and some were writing letters, like our representatives, though I saw no newspapers.

The ordinary amount of noise was like that in our congress, though there was happily no clapping of hands for pages, but when the members became especially excited, which indeed happened very often, it became like a cage of lions. For instance, I entered just as somebody had questioned the minister of war, General Borel, about an alleged interference with elections, and his defiant reply had enraged the Lefts, or radicals, who constituted the majority of the assembly. They shouted and gesticulated, throwing up their arms and then slapping them on their knees very angrily, until the president rang his great bell, and they quieted down lest he might put on his hat and adjourn the meeting. In each case the member speaking took his stand in the desk or tribune below the president, and the speeches were sometimes read, sometimes given without notes.

The war minister, a stout, red faced man—always, the radicals say, half intoxicated—stood with folded arms and looked ready for a coup d'etat, yet I heard it said about me that he would be compelled either to retreat or resign. One saw at a glance how much profounder political differences must be in France than with us.

Married on Thirty Minutes' Courtship.

"You may talk about your brief courtships and marriages on short notice," said Captain Arm Cardwell once, "but I think I once witnessed the quickest made match on record. I was running as a conductor between Russellville and Owensboro, as I did for many years, and on a trip in the winter of 1881 I got a pretty country girl passenger at a little flag station south of Central City about 9:45 a. m. A few miles farther on at another small station a big strapping looking farmer, dressed in brown jeans, with his trousers tucked in his tall boots, got on my train. The fellow hadn't opened the car door till he spied the rustic lass, and before he took his seat in front of the girl he had smiled at her.

"I punched his ticket, went in the smoking car, and on my return to the regular passenger coach found the Green river tiller of the soil sitting in the same seat with the maiden, chatting with her as if he had known her since birth. In 25 minutes after they had first met the fellow called me to him and said: 'See here, podner, we want to get hitched. I hain't knowed Mirinda Jane here but 30 minutes, but we both like, an she's willin an so'm I. Whur's the nighest parson, podner?' I took them on to Owensboro, and the happy bridegroom and his blushing other half were passengers back on my train that afternoon. For hurry up nuptials it does strike me that these ought to have the cake and other special prizes offered for quick yeast love matches."—Louis-

EDWIN BOOTH.

Story of the Great Actor and Lawrence Barrett's Death.

The sudden death of Lawrence Barrett was a great shock and a great surprise to Booth. His friend had recovered from the serious operation performed a year or two before, and he was seemingly in robust strength, likely long to outlive Booth, who was beginning to become conscious of his own physical decay. They were playing together a successful engagement in New York when Barrett was taken ill and was obliged to leave the theater before the close of the performance. The next night he did not appear, and the third night his name was taken out of the bill. Booth, who had no thought of anything serious, asked Mr. Bromley, the manager, to call at the Windsor hotel and see how "Lawrence was getting on."

An hour later Booth was sitting at his supper of bread and milk in the grillroom of The Players when Mr. Bromley entered and said simply and seriously, "Mr. Barrett has gone." Booth, still suspecting nothing, asked, "Where to?" supposing that Mrs. Barrett had carried her husband off to their home in Boston. He was naturally very much depressed for some time. Indeed he never fully recovered from the blow. He closed his theater at once, although he continued the salaries of his company, and finally he played a short engagement in Brooklyn, which proved, as so many of his friends feared, his last.

During this engagement a copy of the death mask of Barrett was sent to the club. It came in as Booth was starting out for the theater. He saw it in the hall, learned from whom it had come and told the boy in charge to "carry it up stairs." The lad, not understanding the order, took it to Booth's own room, removed the wrappings and placed it on a small table by Booth's bed. And there when he went up stairs and turned on the electric lights, in all the ghastly whiteness of the fresh plaster, he found it. This was, if possible, a greater shock to him than was the death of Barrett itself.—Laurence Hutton in Harper's Magazine.

PE STEALS SPECTACLES.

Which Makes Nearsighted Admirers Indulge In Strong Language.

There is a monkey in Lincoln park with a penchant for snatching eyeglasses from the noses of the spectators, bending them double and stuffing them down into his pouch. The startled loser of the auxiliaries to sight then has the pleasure of watching the lump of expensive ground lenses and bent and twisted bows joggle about in the pocket that a monkey wears in the region of his Adam's apple and of occasionally being tantalized with the appearance of them in the paw of the purloiner and of learning that the more fuss he makes the less likely is he to recover his property soon.

If the losers at once begin begging for their glasses and expostulating with the wayward monk, he seems delighted and alternately sits in melancholy abstraction gazing at the faraway "keep off the grass" sign, apparently thinking of his old jungle home and the cocoanuts there, or he is restlessly active in performing an aerial act on the topmost perches. His countenance is fixed in the dolorous expression of recent bereavement, and he hasn't time anyway for minding the talk of the common, everyday sightseer.

"Come here, you naughty monkey! Give me those glasses! What am I going to do? Nice Jocko"—in bewitching, insidious tones—"give me back my glasses."

Mr. Jocko Monk, however, is unmindful until suddenly a great light seems to burst upon his heart and brain. He nervously drags out those shapeless eyeglasses, holds them up and looks through them at the person outside the bars, red faced and stamping, in the serious, quizzical way of the dean of a medical college who believes he is discovering a new disease germ. Suddenly he looks up and begins chattering.

"Hello! You here?" he seems to twitter. "What's the matter? You're looking mad. Can I do anything for you? Say, got a peanut in your pocket? Just push it this way, will you? I'm feeling bad—really I am. I'm feeling tough. I need a light lunch. Oh, what you bothering about those old glasses of yours for? Let up, will you? Poor fellow, poor fellow! Can't you get along without those things? They ain't any good now anyway."

Then he flaunts the stolen property before the owner and puts it immediately back into the seclusion of the cavity at the roots of his tongue.

By the time the keeper has come to the rescue of the ill fated goggles the monkey has produced them and stowed them away again some three or four times, and the nearsighted individual whose nose they formerly graced is in rage and despair and swears that the monk is in collusion with some optician in the interest of the latter—Chicago Times-Herald.

Related.

"You and I must be related," said the baby's sweater to the monkey on a stick.

"How's that?" asked the monkey.

"We are both baby jumpers," said the small sweater.

And the wax doll laughed until her complexion rolled down her cheeks.—Harper's Bazar.

Greece's national hymn, taken from Dionis Salomo's "Hymn to Liberty," was first written and published in London. The first part of the original poem was a eulogy of the land of Washington.

Adelina Patti has a superb collection of jewels, her diamonds alone being valued at $375,000. She has sung before most of the royalties, most all of whom have made her presents of jewelry.

Blacking.

Liquid blacking, such as is now used, was invented early in the present century. Previously various mixtures were used. There are many allusions in last century literature to shoeblacks and blacking. In the London World of Jan. 31, 1754, Edward Moore, describing the miseries of an author, says that he would rather have started in life as a shoeblack had he but had the money to buy or credit to procure "a stool, brushes and blackball." An old kind of blacking consisted of ivory black, very coarse moist sugar and water, with a little vinegar. A mixture of whale oil and soot was used in Gay's time. The author of "Trivia" has several allusions to the "black youth" who stood at street corners then, as now:

Hark! The boy calls thee to his destin'd stand,
And the shoe shines beneath his oily hand.

De Foe makes his Colonel Jack describe himself when a boy as a dirty vagabond, "like a 'Black your shoes, your honor?' a beggar boy, a blackguard boy or what you please, despicable and miserable to the last degree."

Here is another quotation from "Trivia" (1715?):

His treble voice resounds along the mews,
And Whitehall echoes, "Clean your honor's shoes!"

—Notes and Queries.

Quick Journeys Made Now.

A French statistician has just drawn up an interesting document showing at various periods in what time certain frontier towns could be reached from Paris. The years chosen are 1650, 1782, 1834, 1854 and 1897. In 1650 it took five days to go from Paris to Calais. One hundred and thirty-two years later, in 1782, the duration of the journey had been reduced to 60 hours. In 1834 it had been reduced to 28 hours and in 1854 to 6 hours 40 minutes. Today one of the boat expresses takes 3 hours 42 minutes.

The journey to Strassburg took 218 hours in 1650, 105 hours in 1792, 10 hours 40 minutes in 1854 and today a matter of 8 hours 20 minutes.

The difference for Marseilles is still more phenomenal. From 15 days in 1650 the duration of the journey was reduced to 80 hours in 1834, and today it takes 12½ hours. The distance from Paris to Bayonne two centuries ago took 888 hours. Today it occupies 11 hours 11 minutes. Brest can be reached in 13 hours 37 minutes, while in 1650 it took 270 hours. Finally, for Havre, 97 hours was considered quick traveling in 1650. It took 15 hours in 1782 and 17 hours in 1834. Today it is a matter of 3 hours 15 minutes.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

New Way to Catch Rabbits.

Will Brooks was in town the other day, and told us of a new way of catching rabbits. A lighted lantern placed on the frozen surface of a pond attracts the rabbits. They gather around the unfamiliar object and sit and gaze upon the light until the tears drop from their eyes and freeze to the ice, and the next morning one only has to take a sack and gather them in.—Savannah (Mo.) Republican.

Blind Tom.

Blind Tom although otherwise an idiot had a remarkable musical memory, and wonderful ability to reproduce compositions which were played in his hearing. When repeating what he had heard he imitated even the blunders and mistakes of the players, sometimes in a most comical fashion. He could play by ear, having no knowledge of the scientific side of music, over 400 different compositions.

TESTIMONIALS:

The following are a few from scores as testimonials the Sergt-Major has from people who have used this preparation:

I have used Kenny's Hair Restorer for dandruff and falling out of my hair. It has removen the dandruff, and a few applications prevented my hair falling out. Three bottles of Kennys Hair Restorer has restored the hair on my head to its original state. I can in justice to the manufacturer recommend Kennys Hair Restorer from my own experience as the best remedy I have ever heard of for the prevention and cure of baldness, and I am sure it will accomplish all that it is claimed for it if properly applied as directed.

An Exploded Idea

Chief Roszel has received word from Detective Ross, of the C. P. R., thatthe man arrested in the wood yard of the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo railway on Sunday 8th inst., is the noted Irwin who made his escape from Detective Ross a year ago by pointing a revolver in the detective's face. It was thought some time ago that the man giving his name as James McDonald, who is awaiting trial for the Norwood burglary might be Irwin, but that idea was exploded.

A NERVOUS WOMAN.

PETERBOROUGH LOAFERS

There are Men in the Town who Never Contribute to the Support

Of Their Families They Seek Charity in the Winter and Refuse Work in the Summer A Very Bad Lot

Summer is here and the professional town bummer is again in evidence. Reference is thus made to the individual who lives on his wife's earnings and the charity well disposed persons hand out ungrudgingly but unwisely. Peterborough is blessed with an overplus of these indviiduals. They toil not, neither do they spin, but they are on hand at every meal provided by the patient, faithful wife. Devoid of any conscience, these parasites look only for drinks and something to eat. When they do work a few days they squander the little amount they receive, and save not a penny for the home. One instance, well known is where a big, lazy loafer contributes nothing to the support of his family. He will not work, but his wife does. He walks about the street summer and winter, and she has been compelled to provide for both him and the family, and even shovel the snow from her own door. She works and a portion of her earnings have to go towards buying this creature clothing and tobacco. In the winter he appeals to the relief institutions and in a whining voice tells a tale of woe and he never misses any opportunity to score on charitably disposed individuals. Another, the father of four children has never contributed one cent toward the purchase of clothing. He drinks all he can get and is a perfect nuisance to those he meets when in his maudlin mood. A favorite practise of his is to place his hat on his head in bowery style and sail home to give the wife and children a pleasing evening. This woman goes out working when she can get it, but not being overly strong, she has several times been compelled to give up and seek assistance from those willing to help. There is no objection to aiding the woman, but the fault is when the loafing husband is fed and kept warm too, and encouraged in his idleness. These men will say in the winter time when asked why they do not go to work, that they cannot get it. That may be true in some cases, but not in all. Then in the summer, when they can obtain work of some kind or the other; when farmers pay high wages for harvest hands, these very men prefer to sun themselves to going and earning what they can for the approaching winter. Last summer a man walked the street month after month, and would not take employment when offered him. He lived with his wife, and at the price of her honor they existed. Last fall this debased specimen of humanity was offered work by a charitably disposed citizen who was not aware of the neglected opportunities of the summer. He started to work, but only remained a few days—his back was sore. Any day this may be seen in public, parading the back streets, and when winter comes again with its chilling blasts and long nights he will be as before, found soliciting from those who will give. Many other cases could be alluded to, but these will suffice to show that some men deserve to be compelled to work if they do not wish to do so voluntarily. If there is a bylaw that will compel a man to support his wife, it should be enforced, and these characters taught that if they will not work neither shall they eat.

The Tramp Nuisance

Citizens living in the outskirts of the town complain greatly of being pestered with tramps. They solicit food, money, and raiment, and if refused threten dire vengeance.

46th to go to Camp

Navigation Notes

—The steamer Eclipse arrived yesterday with the first excursion of the season, from Curtis' Point and Harwood with 100 passengers. The steamer will bring a load of hogs to-morrow for H. P. Kennedy.

—The posters for the Farmers Picnic at Jubilee Point will be issued in a few days.

—The City of Peterborough is almost ready to launch.

An Expensive Drunkard

His Lordship Justice Rose, before the Criminal Assizes at Toronto yesterday addressed the jury on the subject of the need of classification for drunkenness. As an instance of the latter, a man was referred to who had been in jail in Toronto 111 times, and had spent 9 years 11 months in jail, and had cost the city $1,800. No good had been done to him.

A Quiet Wedding

A quiet but interesting wedding was celebrated in the sacristy of St. Peter's cathedral Tuesday evening, when Mr. Robt. J. Begley and Miss Rebecca Preston, both of town, were united in matrimony. Ven. Archdeacon Casey performed the ceremony, which was of a private character. Miss Bridget Gertrude Belin was bridesmaid, while Mr. Dan Foley supported the groom. Both bride and bridesmaid were prettily attired. A large number of the friends of the contracting parties were present in the sacristy and witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Begley enter upon their married life with the best wishes of many friends attending them.

MR. GLADSTONE'S DYING HOURS

All Attempts to Administer Food Seem to Bore the Patient Reading of Prayers and Hymns

(Special to the Times.)

Hawarden, May 18.—During the crisis, at four o'clock this morning, Mr. Gladstone's breathing was thirty-six to the minute and the members of his family were summoned. The Rev. Stephen Gladstone read prayers and hymns including Mr. Gladstone's favorite, "Rock of Ages." When this was concluded Mr. Gladstone was heard to murmur, "Our Father."

The weather is fine and the window of Mr. Gladstone's room is open.

WILL DIE PEACEFULLY.

Dr. Dobie, in an interview, this afternoon sais: "Mrs. Gladstone does not leave the bedside. She is always holding Mr. Gladstone's hand. Although extremely distressed she is bearing up with considerable fortitude.

'Mr. Gladstone may expire at any moment and he may live another twenty-four hours. Any attempt to administer food seems to bore him. His attendants keep his lips moist with spirits and water at intervals. He will probably die peacefully during slumber.

"Mr. Gladstone's strength has been sustained in a great measure by his extraordinary constitution. Most of his internal organs are perfectly healthy.'.

SCENE IN THE DEATH CHAMBER.

London, May 18.—According to a special despatch from Hawarden, received early this morning, Mr. Gladstone is sinking rapidly. The correspondent says: "He lies on a small iron bed peacefully sleeping away into the land of shades. His death chamber faces south. The family and others are all sitting around him, or moving noiselessly in and out.

"The scene is pathetic. Dr. Dobie doubts that his patient was conscious at any time on Tuesday, though he said, 'Yes' and 'No;' nor does the physician believe that Mr. Gladstone recognized anyone. Nevertheless, he suffers no pain whatever, but just lies with his head facing the light, his eyes closed, his hands sometimes outside the counterpane and sometimes hidden beneath.

'His grand face bears an almost peaceful and beautiful look. A few days ago the deeply indented wrinkles that so long market it were almost gone; but now, strangely enough, they seem as strong and deep as ever. He looks, also, in wonderfully good color."

THE DEATHBED WATCH.

Hawarden, May 18.—All night long a weary vigil was maintained. The whole family was in and out of the sick room. Mrs. Gladstone remained throughout the night at the bedside of her dying husband. She could not be induced to leave him even to take refreshments. The scene at about four o'clock this morning, when it was supposed Mr. Gladstone's last hour had come, was most painful. But he again showed his almost superhuman vitality, fought death away, and relapsed into slepp.

It is believed, however, that very few hours will see the end. The family expressed the opinion that Mr. Gladstone will pass away about noon to-day.

At ten o'clock this morning Mr. Gladstone was still in a comatose state, apparently hovering on the brink of death.

1.20 p.m.—The temporary improvemnet in Mr. Gladstone's condition has not continued. He is again very prostrate and is still unconscious.

A bulletin issued at 5.30 o'clock this afternoon said that Mr. Gladstone's strength was gradually failing, but that possibly he would yet linger for hours.

SATURDAY 21ST, BARGAIN DAY

On Saturday we have Decided to Reduce all Goods Sold

Don't forget to come to the Times Bookstore on Saturday, May 21st., if you want bargains. We will sell Croquet Sets, Bicycle Lunch Baskets, Lacrosse Sticks, Base Ball Bats, and Mits, in all sizes and quality; hard and soft Rubber Balls, Fireworks and Firecrackers for the 24th; Bound Books, Novels and Magazines, Stationery of every description, etc. Besides reducing the price of every article lower than goods are sold in any other place, we will give away a present for a child, to everyone making a purchase of ten cents or over. Times Bookstore Market Block.

Loaded With Orders

The Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company have been kept unusually busy for some months. Indeed, so rushed is this company that day and night gangs have been on duty. This is a good omen, especially when it is known that nearly every other industry in town, where labor is employed, is in a similar satisfactory position.

Obituary

Mr. Cornelius Driscoll died on Tuesday after a brief illness. He was the second white child born in Otonabee, being born there in 1825, and spent his youth there when the township was practically a wilderness. His father was the late Florence Driscoll, who came to Canada from the County Cork, Ireland, with the Robinson emigration, settling in Otonabee. Shortly afterwards Mr. Cornelius Driscoll was born, being, as said before, the second person of white descent born in Otonabee. The deceased gentleman was married to Alice Kennedy, who is still living. One son survives the union, Mr. Florence Driscoll, of Otonabee. Mr. Cornelius Driscoll was a Roman Catholic in religion and a Conservative in politics. He was highly respected by all his acquaintances. The funeral will take place to-day at 1.30 p. m. to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

THE SPANISH SOUADRON AT SANTIAGO DE CUBA

And Another Spanish Fleet Arrives off Havana—An Engagement Cannot be Much Longer Averted—U. S. Fleet Will Not Bombard Canary Islands Ports in Deference to British Interests—A Strict Press Censorship

SPANISH FLEET AT HAVANA

Madrid, May 19.—4 p. m.—It is rumored in Madrid that the Spanish Cape Verde squadron, commanded by Admiral Cervera, has arrived off Havana.

WON'T BOMBARD CANARY ISLAND FORTS

London, May 19.—The agent at the Canary Islands of a Liverpool firm writes that the British Consul there has been informed that the United States will not bombard the Canary Islands as the result of an agreement between Great Britain and the United States, while Great Britain remains neutral. The United States will abstain from such a bombardment, which would mean great destruction of British property in the Canary Islands.

THE NEW SPANISH CABINET

Madrid, May 19.—The new Cabinet Ministers took over their portfolios this afternoon. The Spanish newspapers censure the government of Hong Kong for permitting the American warships to revictual, and they say they can't understand Great Britain allowing the United States to cut the British West Indian cables.

The Cabinet will present itself to the Chambers to-morrow, when Senor Romero y Robledo will ask for a statement on the crisis. The Carlists and Republicans want to prolong the budget debate until the end of June. The Epoca announces that the railroad officials have offered the government 250,000,000 pesetas, in return for a prolongation of their concessions.

BOMBARDMENT DISCREDITED

Key West, May 19.—The report of the bombardment of Santiago de Cuba is discredited here. Nobody has even heard a rumor to that effect.

STRICT CENSORSHIP OF THE PRESS

Tampa, May 19.—The strictest kind of censorship has been established here and absolutely nothing pertaining to military or naval movements from this port would be permitted to be sent out from this time on. An official bulletin of such news as the officials consider advisable will be provided. It is estimated that this censorship will continue until after the final movement of troops to Cuba has taken place, it being the purpose of the Government to keep the Spanish Government in ignorance so far as possible of our plans for the invasion of Cuba.

AN U. S. WARSHIP DAMAGED

Madrid, May 19.—4 p. m.—An official despatch received here to-day from Havana says that American ships fired eighty shots during the reported recent bombardment of Santiago De Cuba, but that no damage was inflicted. The despatch adds that the batteries at Santiago De Cuba replied to the fire of the ships and that one of the latter was damaged.

A BIG SPANISH FLEET WILL SHORTLY SAIL FROM CADIZ

Madrid, May 19.—Senor Leon y Castillo, the Spanish ambassador at Paris, the newly appointed Minister for Foreign Affairs has not yet replied accepting the foreign portfolio. In spite of the veto placed upon the publication of Spanish naval movements the newspapers here have been allowed to announce that Admiral Camaras' squadron, consisting of the battleship Pelayo, the first-class armored cruiser Carlos V., the cruiser Patriota and the cruiser Rapido, formerly the Hamburg-American Line steamers Columbia and Normania, the cruiser Alfonso XIII., the cruiser Antonio Lopez, three torpedo boat destroyers and the armored yacht Giralda, will shortly sail from Cadiz, while the reserve squadron, consisting of the Vittoria, Numancia, Elepanto and another vessel, will be organized immediately.

SPANISH SQUADRON ARRIVES AT SANTIAGO DE CUBA

Madrid, May 19.—Midnight, via Paris.—The Spanish squadron has arrived at Santiago De Cuba without accident.

BERNABE BUYS A COAL DEPOT.

London, May 19.—A despatch to The Times says Senor Polo y Bernabe has secured, by cable, a coal depot near St. Pierre Miquelon, the French colony off the south coast of Newfoundland, at which the Cadiz squadron will coal previous to attacking the Atlantic seaboard of the United States, while the Cape Verde squadron, commanded by Admiral Cervera, draws off the squadrons commanded by Rear-Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley.

THE CADIZ FLEET.

New York, May 19.—A special cable to the World from Kingston, Jamaica, says a telegram from Port Morant, dated at 4 o'clock, states that the lighthouse keeper at Morant Point, on the extreme east end of Jamaica, reports that a number of steamships, apparently warships, were passing. They were going northward at a tremendous rate of speed, heading in the direction of Santiago de Cuba.

MONTIJO BOMBARDED CEBU.

Vancouver, May 19.—News was brought by the Empress of India yesterday that prior to the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Manila by Commodore Dewey, the Spaniards bombarded Cebu, the third city of the Philippines, which was completely wrecked, thirty Chinese being killed. It is said that no necessity existed for shelling the city, as if troops had been landed they could have defeated any number of rebels.

The Spanish troops met with no opposition on landing, the rebels having absconded before they fired, taking with them, it is said, $200,000 in hard cash. No European casualities were reported. On the bombardment the foreigners hoisted their national flags, which were respected by the Spanish admiral. It is stated that priests were at the bottom of the Cebu rising. A short time ago the friars took forcible possession of a large tract of land belonging to the natives. The island of Cebu, besides producing large quantities of hemp and sugar, is rich in coal and petroleum and a company has just been formed with a capital of $1,600,000 to develop its natural resources.

SPANISH SHOOT DOWN REBELS

Manila, May 19.—A panic was caused in the city the other day when the Civil Guards surprised a meeting of insurrectionists in the Calla de Cambs. The house had been watched, and the occupants, upon leaving, noticed that they were shadowed and fled. The Guards pursued; an alarm was raised and a number of persons were discovered to be escaping on the roof of the house. While one party of Guards opened fire upon them, a second contingent burst open the door, being met by conspirators with long knives, of whom eleven were killed, eight of the Guards being wounded, two of whom have since died. Sixty or seventy persons were captured and shot without a moment's notice as rebels. Some of the conspirators fled into the country and were pursued by the 73rd Native Regiment. Several prisoners were captured and stated that it was the intention to set fire to Maylo in several places. During the panic rebels were to swoop down upon the city from a neighboring hill. The rising in Bolenia has been subdued, the Spaniards having killed Indians and numbers of women and children.

TRIED TO CUT THE CABLE.

Washington, May 19.—In accordance with the plan of the Administration to isolate Captain-General Blanco in Cuba and following the recent cutting of the cable at Ceinfuegos, an attempt was made yesterday to cut the cable that connects Santiago de Cuba with Jamaica and which was General Blanco's only means of communication with the other side of the world. While boats were endeavoring to grapple for the cable, the works of Morro Castle at Santiago were bombarded. What damage was done to the forts is not known nor is it known if the attempt was successful. No details of the fight have yet been received.

KILLED THE PRIEST.

Manila, May 19.—Crime is rampant in the Philippines. A priest named Santos was recently murdered under diabolical circumstances, near the town of Malalos. He had gone there to resign his charge when armed men set upon him in a quiet spot and stabbed him to death.

GREAT BRITAIN THE LOSER.

Washington, May 19.—A new light has been thrown upon the seizure in Cuban waters of numerous Spanish vessels as American prizes. It has been communicated to the department that most of the captured vessels are insured by Lloyds' Underwriters' Association in London, England. This information came in the form of a cablegram from the committee of the association, which asks that the true state of things be pointed out to the American people, and the fact made known that Great Britain, with which the United States is hoping, in case of complications, to form an alliance, is really the loser by the captures, and not the Spaniards.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.

New York, May 19.—The cruiser Columbia arrived off Sandy Hook this morning. It is thought her presence here is due to important information the Government has received.

BLOW UP THE MAGAZINE.

Boston, May 19.—There is great excitement at the State camp, South Framington, over an attempt to blow up the magazine last night. Hereafter extra guards will be stationed there.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

St. Thomas, May 19.—Several English-speaking residents of St. Thomas and one of Santa Cruz are reported to have been arrested at San Juan de Porto Rico and held on suspicion of being American sympathizers.

A VAST INCREASE.

Washington, May 19.—The number of enlisted men in the navy on May 1st was 20,424, an increase of 80 per cent. over the regular establishment in peace. There is an increase of 130 per cent in the mechanical forces employed at the navy yards and gun shops. It is believed that 35,000 men will be the number oft he enlisted force of the navy by July 1st.

CHASED A GUNBOAT.

Key West, May 19.—The cruiser Montgomery chased a small Spanish gunboat off Neuvitas yesterday. The Montgomery is with Sampson's squadron and this indicates that he is on the north coast of Cuba, probably moving toward Havana.

CERVERA'S FLEET LOST.

Washington, May 19.—All the energies of the war administration are still devoted to the hunt for Admiral Cervera and his squadron of four cruisers and three torpedo boat catchers. The representatives of the Government in South and Central America and the West Indies were ordered yesterday to exhaust all resources in the effort to obtain information of the whereabouts, movements and purposes of the Spanish fleet, and for the past twenty-four hours the wires leading to Washington have been hot with reports of consuls and consular agents. Yet this morning the Navy Department was obliged to confess that it had been unable to get the faintest clue to the missing enemy. There is an inclination to believe that the story that the enemy had gone to San Juan was born of the hope that this might be true, for, thus located, Sampson's squadron it is confidently believed could crush them as Dewey did the Manila fleet. The consulat St. Thomas reports that the only Spanish ships seen in the Virgin Passage were three small gunboats and a transport, probably part of the fleet of old vessels that fled Cuban waters a month ago. They were headed toward San Juan, however, and it may be that an effort is being made to concentrate the whole Spanish floating strength in that harbor for a last stand against the squadrons of Sampson and Schley.

A SPECIAL DUTY.

New York, May 19.—A special train of nineteen coaches and three baggage cars passed through Hackensack this morning, with the Second Pennsylvania Regiment ordered to Pompton N. J., to protect extensive powder works.

ANOTHER RUSE OF SPAIN.

Washington May 19.—Information has been received here from London, Eng. that Admiral Cervera has been instructed to make an attempt upon some American port, but the Naval Department think it is extremely likely that the rumor is merely a ruse of the Spanish Government to cause American ships to be withdrawn from Cuban waters. They consider that any effort on the part of Cervera to harry the coast would be futile, as it would either result in the destruction of the Spanish fleet by shore batteries, or cause the fleet to run out of coal and fall a victim to the United States battleships.

FLEET AT PORT LIMON.

Colon, Isthmus of Panama, May 19.—The French steamer Ferdinand De Lesseps cleared yesterday for Port Limon. It is reported she has a big cargo of supplies and ammunition for Admiral Cerver'a fleet. The Spanish squadron is said to be near Port Limon, on the Isthmus, and almost opposite the city of Panama.

GERMAN GUNNERS.

Washington, May 19.—Information has reached the State Department that German gunners have been assigned to the Spanish fleet fitting out at Cadiz. The German ambassador will be asked whether the report is true.

CORRESPONDENTS FREED.

Washington, May 19.—Arrangements are completed by which the newspaper correspondents Thrall and Jones will be exchanged for Colonel Cortijo, a relative of General Weyler, and Surgeon Julian Spanish officers now at Fort McPherson, Ga.

BATTERY FOR CUBA.

New York, May 19.—A battery of heavy artillery left Fort Hancock, Sandy Hook, this morning, for Tampa. This battery is one of the best in the service and will take part in the siege of Havana.

TO DEFEND NEW YORK.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19.—The monitor Jason started for New York this morning. She is manned by the New York naval reserve and is to be used for the defence of New York Harbor.

THE HARVARD DARTS TO SEA.

St. Pierre, Martinique, May 19.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Harvard suddenly darted out of this harbor and there is much speculation as to her destination. She got away without being followed, as the Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Terror is still coaling at Fort De France.

THE OREGON AT BARBADOES.

Washington, May 19.—The Oregon yesterday stopped at Barbadoes for despatches. Capt. Clark notified the Navy Department of the arrival of the battleship in good condition and received orders to proceed as rapidly as possible to Key West. It is expected that the Oregon will reach Key on Tuesday.

BIG FIRE IN CONSTANTINOBLE

The Stamboul Quarter is in Flames—Hundreds of Houses Destroyed

Constantinople, May 19.—A great fire is raging int he Stamboul quarter. The flames are spreading with startling rapidity, and hundreds of houses have been destroyed. Great loss of life is feared.

The languor so common at this season is due to impoverished blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures it by enriching the blood.

GONE TO A HIGHER CABINET

The Right Hon W. E. Gladstone, England's Greatest Statesman Dead.

Hawarden, May 19.—Mr. Gladstone died at five o'clock this morning. Mr. Gladstone's family were by his bedside at the last moments. Mrs. Gladstone exhausted by her long watching, only now and then reluctantly yielded to the persuasion of the physicians and her family to recline briefly on a couch in the same room with her husband. The death chamber is immediately above the terrace, from which Mr. Gladstone used to address admirers visiting Hawarden. The window is surrounded by blossoming creepers, through which the pale light of the early morning fell upon the last scene.

The London newspapers had gone to press before the end came, but all editorially refer with deep appreciation to the life that was known to be swiftly closing. They all paid tribute to Mr. Gladstone's devotion to duty, his lofty ideas, his religious fervor and his influence on Great Britain and the world's history

SCENES AT THE DEATH BED

Hawarden, May 19.—Though the news of Mr. Gladstone's death, which occurred at five o'clock this morning, spread rapidly, it was the tolling of the Hawarden church bell which carried the sad tidings to every sorrowing home in this vicinity. Slowly the details of the last moments of the great statesman are coming out of the castle, where the grief is too profound to be intruded upon.

The family was summoned at 2 a.m., owing to the perceptible sinking noticed by the medical watchers. From that time until Mr. Gladstone peacefully passed away no one left the death chamber. The only absentee was little Dorothy Drew, who had tearfully complained that her grandfather did not recognize her.

Even in that hour of agony, kindly thoughts for others were not wanting. The old coachman, who had been unable to be present when the servants bid farewell to the dying man, was summoned and remained to the end with his master.

At 8:20 a.m. Dr. Dobie took his leave of Mrs. Gladstone and returned to Chester, deeply affected. Indeed, almost everyone around the castle was in tears. Dr. Dobie said he had been assisting Dr. Bliss and Dr. Henry Gladstone to draw up a statement of Mr. Gladstone's last hours, which will shortly be ready.

MR. GLADSTONE'S LAST WORD

London, May 19.—While the Rev. Stephen Gladstone read prayers and repeated hymns, the only other evidence that Mr. Gladstone realized his surroundings was when his son recited the litany. Then the dying man feebly murmured "Amen." This was the last word spoken by Mr. Gladstone.

THE FEELING IN AMERICA.

Washington, May 19.—Chaplain Couden in the House to-day referred feelingly to the late Mr. Gladstone.

"In the death of this grand old man," the chaplain said, "our hearts go out in gratitude to Thee for his great character as a writer, statesman, and Christian which has been felt throughout the world."

In the Senate the death of Mr. Gladstone was made the theme of the chaplain's invocation.

"Oh, eternal God," the chaplain prayed, "with the whole English-speaking race we stand as mourners beside the bier of the most eminent man of our generation."

Reference was made to the influence of Gladstone upon the life of the world and praises were given for the examples of his own noble life."

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 20, 1898

THE WARD SYSTEM

The principal objection to our Municipal Government is the Ward system in operation in many municipalities. This system has done a great deal to promote sectionalism and petty jealousy in municipalities, and often prevents good men from entering municipal life.

There is no inducement to a ward member to interest himself in the general affairs of his municipality; the idea of an election irrespective of ward divisions is the correct one; it enlarges the constituency of a councillor, and calls for a wider application of his influence—the aim should be to adapt the public expenditure and improvements without consideration of ward boundaries.

It may be said that the system of electing members of a council by ward boundaries, is not in itself objectionable; but when the council endeavors to divide the annual expenditure equally between the wards, irrespective of other considerations, a serious fault, leading to extravagance is the result.

The town is a small enough unit for local government. Find a town, the four wards of which require the same amount of money each year. A ward councillor who succeeds in securing the largest expenditure in his ward, irrespective of actual requirements, is sure of re-election—the ward is his first, last, and only consideration. On the other hand, in a council elected by the whole municipality, the members are not interested in any particular section, and each receives what its actual requirements demand. The ward system is sometimes introduced for political considerations, to secure the election of one or more representatives of a particular party to the Council, and keep alive the feeling created during political elections.

The Legislature will advance the best interests of municipal government by abolishing the ward system altogether. The first step has been taken. The conditions existing in towns are to be found in other local municipalities. The legislation of last session should apply to all.

HON. W. E. GLADSTONE DEAD

Yesterday, the cable flashed the news across the ocean of the death of the Hon. W. E. Gladstone. His demise has been expected hourly for weeks, but nevertheless the sad intelligence will cause an entire nation to mourn.

He has been in the public eye for so many years that his career is well known, and writers have discussed his conduct and his motives with a measure of frankness that has resulted in every mature person having formed an opinion of the dead statesman. Some things in his life are objected to, and others extolled, but when an average is struck it will in all probability be found that no other British statesman who ever lived enjoyed the confidence of the people as he did, nor had the admiration of the whole world as he had it. Men who disagreed with his policy and voted against his candidates conceded his sincerity and admired his courage. His policy and his personality were more generally separated than has been the case with any of his contemporaries. His remarkable ability, wonderful memory, and untiring industry were always in the British mind, and the recognition of these qualities tempered the harsh judgments that were formed of him because of his policies. He was Britain's Grand Old Man with both parties for the past decade of his life, and he will go into history as such and as a helpful example to the rising generation of British statesmen.

ROADMAKING PAYS

Statistics showing the benefits of good roads are to be had in abundance. The farmer who has the opportunity of choosing between a good and a bad road to market hardly needs the evidence of statistics, however. Still to the average citizen who only has the use of one road, generally moderately bad, it may appear that the making of a good road would be more a matter of increased convenience to him than a saving of money. Such a man may well read the estimate of General Ray Stone, an American road expert, who calculates that the people of the United States lose $600,000,00 a year through bad roads. These read like tremendous figures, but when it is remembered that they are based upon a total of 1,500,000 miles of public roads over which 500,000,000 tons of freight are hauled every year they do not appear so much exaggerated. General Stone enters into a farther calculation to show that this sum would pay the interest at three per cent upon a large enough amount of money to rebuild every mile of road in the United States and then maintain them properly afterwards.

We do not deal with such colossal figures in Canada, but we do an immense amount of business on bad roads at a great loss to our people. And the lesson taught by these figures is as applicable here as across the line—i. e. that it costs more than it comes to "to get along" with inferior roads. It will always pay a community to borrow the money necessary to prvoide itself with good roads and then pay interest on it. If special taxation is necessary to keep up the interest, the people will more than save the amount in the advantage they gain from the roads.

Farmers who are troubled about the competition of Argentina and India and Russia, and the uttermost parts of the world, can equip themselves for the more effective meeting of this competition by building smooth roads to market. The less it costs them to get their grain to market, the greater the profit there is in them for selling it at any fixed price to which this world-wide competition beats them down. It is just as if the same labor brought them forth more wheat to the acre, or if they more nearly approached the cheap labor of Argentina, or in any other way lessened the cost of production. The reason they fear the competition of these countries where labor is cheap is because cheap labor means cheap production, and consequently a profit at a low price. Better machinery here, better soil, lower freight rates, or any other condition which will enable them to put a larger quantity of wheat on the world's market at a certain cost, increases the profit with which they can meet the competition of these rivals. Good roads furnish such a condition—a condition that these competitors do not share and which consequently enables the Canadian farmer having the use of it to put in his pocket as clear gain all the benefits it brings to him.

The unscientific patching of bad roads may not pay. But the equipment of a community with first-class public roads is as certain to pay as any investment of money open to organized society.

Chamberlain (whose wife is American), having tried the British-American alliance, strongly recommends it.

The Times has long been advocating a reduction of the number of Councillors as well as the abolition of the ward system. We are therefore pleased to see that Councillor Langford has given notice that he will move in that direction at the next council meeting.

BILIOUSNESS

bosses many a body and burdens many a mind. You can't enjoy the food you like because you are bilious. You take all sorts of precautions, and yet the bilious attack leaps on you like a tiger from ambush. You know the feeling! The blood seeming on fire with a dull heat: the boring pains in the eyes; the head seeming to open and shut; the horrible nausea. You know the irritability which precedes and the languor that follows the attack. It's miserable, isn't it? Why not cure the trouble? There's a pill that will cure biliousness. Dr. J. C. AYER'S PILLS are an acknowledged specific for this derangement.

A. Swanger, Texarkana, Tex., writes: "For fifteen years I have used Ayer's Pills, and find them very effective in bilious complaints. I have yet to see the case where they have failed to cure."

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

By and bye the family came into the drawing room, and Edith saw that a lady and gentleman were to dine with them.

Walter Derwent was a tall, blonde man over six feet in height; he wore a full beard of a golden hue; his features were regular and his complexion fair as a child's. His blue eyes were very large and full of life, but they never softened; his lips, soft and full though they were, shut very firmly, and the first thought that occurred to Edith was: "That man does not know how to forgive;" the second, "He is handsome as Apollo."

The strangers were a newly wedded pair, who had just returned from Europe, and their conversation was one pean of rapturous praise of the old world.

Edith noticed that Mrs. Derwent did not care for this style of conversation, and her younger son, Arthur, resembled her; but joined the bride in her raptures over London, Paris and Rome.

After dinner the three gentlemen adjourned to the billiard room and Walter took up his cue and began to chalk it."

"Waddy," said he to the bridegroom, whose name was Wardell Marshall, which, during college days, had been abbreviated to Waddy, "did you see that new girl that mother has engaged?"

"Yes, she's a stunner. I saw her the other day in Willoughby Hill's Boston Oyster House with another girl, the greatest beauty I ever laid eyes on."

"What about your wife?" asked Arthur Derwent, quietly.

He was a short man, fair like his brother, but of a very different type. To Arthur, Mrs. Rush's term of noble did apply.

"Oh, no lecturing, Arthur," laughed Waddy Marshall. Hasn't he got over his namby-pamby notions yet, Walt?"

"No, he is as strict in his views as a newly appointed deacon of a colored church. But what about the girls."

"Nothing much, only they are too pretty for servants," said Waddy, who was weak-minded enough to be termed an idiot if he had not been the son of a millionaire.

Walter lighted a cigar and placed it between his full, red lips.

"I don't think it would pay to tell this girl so. I also saw the other one that day in the Boston Oyster House. She looks fit to be a queen." If that girl is not an accomplished lady, with good blood in her veins, my name is not Derwent."

"Ho, ho, Walt!" laughed the semi-idiotic Waddy. "You are the one to go into ecstasies."

"You are as great a fool as ever, Waddy," said Walter, slowly.

"Ah, fool, am I? Well, the girls don't think so. I've pretty fair success among the dears. When I married Clara, she told me half the girls she knew were breaking their little hearts for me."

Arthur Derwent looked at his watch, then threw down his cue and left the room.

"Ah, Arthur, got an engagement?" inquired Waddy. "Probably going to escort some pious grandma to a prayer-meeting," he sneered.

"Never mind Arthur; he knows how to take care of himself," said Walter contemptuously.

"Say, Walt, I'll bet you don't dare to ask your mother's new girl to introduce us to her friend."

"I have no such intention and shall not allow anyone to insult a girl who is under my mother's roof."

"Ah, that's your song. Well, you cannot prevent me from getting acquainted with her some other way."

"Certainly not. Come, let us go into the parlor."

They left the billiard room, and as they stepped into the hall, met Stella Sterling face to face.

CHAPTER IX.

Nina Dunlap stood in dismay. She had succeeded beyond her most sanguine expectations in alarming the new governess, but her own success seemed likely to prove disastrous to her.

"Good gracious! Suppose this governess gets Mr. Jameson to put me in a mad-house!" she said to herself. "The old man is always telling me I am not lady-like, but he never said I was crazy and that old cat of an Auld said, "Very true, miss," when this governess said it "must be unpleasant to have me around." She said any one could see I was crazy. Uncle is dying to get rid of me; he was as sorry as he could be when they sent me back from that beastly school in New York. I can't go back to Santa Cruz, for I bragged so about my rich uncle in Chicago, they would laugh at me. I told them I was going to be a fashionable heiress. What shall I do if the Hausen and Ingholm girls hear I am in a mad-house. They hate me, and used to make fun of my tawny complexion. Oh, dear, I wish I had listened to uncle, and behaved myself. She pretended to be afraid of me, but she isn't onebit. She hasn't got yellow hair or white eyes; she is as dark as I am. What had I better do? Mrs. Auld hates me, I'd ask her if I can't get this business fixed before uncle comes home. She will put it in his head to send me to a mad-house."

She rang the bell, and when the butler came, carefully repressing a smile she said, in quite a different tone from the one she usually employed in addressing a servant:

'Oh, Chisholm, Miss Sterling is awfully angry with me, and I am afraid she will get me in trouble wtih my uncle. What would you advise me to do?'

Chisholm disliked Nina as much as any of the other people in the house, but he felt rather sorry for her.

"Well, miss," he said, hesitatingly, "if I were you I'd go to the lady and beg her pardon for being so hasty. You might say as how you felt yourself too old to 'ave a governess; but seeing she was here you would try to make it pleasant for her."

Nina pondered. She felt no appetite for eating humble pie, but she was in danger of doing worse.

"Do you think it would do any good, Chisholm?" she asked doubtfully.

"Why yes, miss; of course the lady can't stay here governessing if there is no one to governess, so she won't want to quarrel with you if you don't quarrel with her."

"Oh, Chisholm, if you only knew how I hate to beg anyone's pardon!"

Chisholm smiled. He was not averse to seeing Nina, as he said, "taken down a peg.

"It ain't very pleasant, miss; but, bless you, there are things a great sight unpleasanter than that."

Nina felt as certain that Chisholm meant insane asylums as if he had uttered the dreadful words

"Where is the young lady?"

"Upstairs with Mrs. Auld."

"Then I'll go up to her."

"Say, Miss, if you'll excuse me for taking the liberty of offering a bit of advice, like, I'd take that dress off if I was you; it don't look so sensible as a plainer dress at this hour of the day."

"Why, Chisholm, what's the matter with it?" inquired the girl humbly.

"Well, you see, miss, ladies don't wear decollete dresses—that is French for low-neck—in the day-time, no more than gentlemen wear swallow-tail coats."

"Don't they?"

"No, miss, You see there is certain rules on such subjects; just as it would not do for Mr. Jameson to ask me to take wine with him at a dinner-party, while I was waiting on table."

Chisholm began to feel quite paternal toward Nina now that she was listening to his adivce. As he said afterward, in the fulness of his heart, in the ktichen, "Hafter hall, she is young yet."

PE STEALS SPECTACLES.

Which Makes Nearsighted Admirers Indulge In Strong Language.

There is a monkey in Lincoln park with a penchant for snatching eyeglasses from the noses of the spectators, bending them double and stuffing them down into his pouch. The startled loser of the auxiliaries to sight then has the pleasure of watching the lump of expensive ground lenses and bent and twisted bows joggle about in the pocket that a monkey wears in the region of his Adam's apple and of occasionally being tantalized with the appearance of them in the paw of the purloiner and of learning that the more fuss he makes the less likely is he to recover his property soon.

If the losers at once begin begging for their glasses and expostulating with the wayward monk, he seems delighted and alternately sits in melancholy abstraction gazing at the faraway "keep off the grass" sign, apparently thinking of his old jungle home and the cocoanuts there, or he is restlessly active in performing an aerial act on the topmost perches. His countenance is fixed in the dolorous expression of recent bereavement, and he hasn't time anyway for minding the talk of the common, everyday sightseer.

"Come here, you naughty monkey! Give me those glasses! What am I going to do? Nice Jocko"—in bewitching, insidous tones—"give me back my glasses."

Mr. Jocko Monk, however, is unmindful until suddenly a great light seems to burst upon his heart and brain. He nervously drags out those shapeless eyeglasses, holds them up and looks through them at the person outside the bars, red faced and stamping, in the serious, quizzical way of the dean of a medical college who believes he is discovering a new disease germ. Suddenly he looks up and begins chattering.

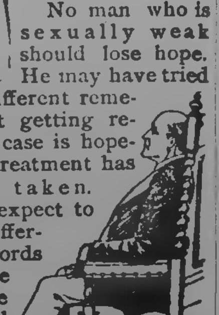
"Hello! You here?" he seems to twitter. "What's the matter? You're looking mad. Can I do anything for you? Say, got a peanut in your pocket? Just push it this way, will you? I'm feeling bad—really I am. I'm feeling tough. I need a light lunch. Oh, what you bothering about those old glasses of yours for? Let up, will you? Poor fellow, poor fellow! Can't you get along without those things? They ain't any good now anyway."

Then he flaunts the stolen property before the owner and puts it immediately back into the seclusion of the cavity at the roots of his tongue.

By the time the keeper has come to the rescue of the ill fated goggles the monkey has produced them and stowed them away again some three or four times, and the nearsighted individual whose nose they formerly graced is in rage and despair and swears that the monk is in collusion with some optician in the interest of the latter. —Chicago Times-Herald.

BE YOUNG AGAIN!

No man who is sexually weak should lose hope. He may have tried a hundred different remedies without getting relief; but no case is hopeless if our treatment has never been taken. We do not expect to convince sufferers with words alone, but we can make them feel young and buoyant again if they will try our medicines and appliances.



OUR FREE OFFER

We put our treatment before you solely on its merits. You may try it ten days without cost. You are to pay us if we help you, but if your case is beyond our reach, there will be no charge. Our offer is made in good faith. We have no C. O. D. or exposure scheme. We will not sacrifice our long-established reputation for the sake of a dollar or two. Our treatment is known the world over as the only scientifically correct method for enlarging shrunken organs, for stopping drains, for restoring ambition, and for bringing back the vigor and strength of young manhood.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

REFUGEES ARRIVE AT ST. THOMAS

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 18.—Over thirty Porto Rican refugees mostly women, with very little money, arrived here last night on board the French steamer Rodriguez. It is reported that the Governor-General of Porto Rico has issued a proclamation saying eight soldiers were killed and 34 wounded as a result of the bombardment of the forts at San Juan by a portion of Rear-Admiral Sampson's fleet on May 12. He adds that two guns were dismounted at Morro Castle, which otherwise was little damaged. He says the other forts were not much hurt. In the town one shot penetrated the palace and the corner of a powder house was carried away. The Spanish transport Alfonso XIII. and the Spanish freight steamer Manuela were damaged by the American fire. The Spaniards, as usual, claim they won a victory, basing this association upon the fact that the American warships departed under fire. But the refugees say the city of San Juan is still terrorized, its inhabitants being in hourly fear of the re-appearance of the American fleet and a repetition of the bombardment. People are camping in the country out of range of the American guns. The Spaniards claim that Mr. Freeman Halstead, the newspaper correspondent who was captured and sentenced to n[illegible] years' imprisonment for photographing the fortifications of San Juan was wounded by a shot which struck the town jail, but the refugees say he was probably shot by the Spaniards.

FOOD SUPPLY ASSURED.

Madrid, May 18.—10 p.m.—An official despatch says: "The food supply is assured for a long time. Vessels are arriving here from all ports even from the United States with provisions.

MAY TOUCH AT COLON.

Colon, Colombia, May 18.—It is rumored here to-day that the Spanish squadron may probably touch at this port.

BIG FLEET FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Gibraltar, May 18.—The first class battleship Pelayzo, the armed cruisers Emperado Carlos V, Alfonso XIII, Vittoria and Giralda, the auxiliary cruisers Rapido, Alfonso XIII, Buenos Ayres and Antonio Lopez and three torpedo boats now at Cadiz are ready for sea. They are expected to sail for the Philippines before the end of this month with 11,000 troops.

A DIFFICULT PROBLEM.

"What is Spain doing with her fleet?" is a question which is on the lips of a good many personss. The Spanish Government are certainly most successful in keeping the move- and positions of their war vesels secret. In addition to the seven warships with Admiral Cervera, the 11 vessels destroyed at Manila and the three ships at Cadiz, Spain has two battleships, one armored cruiser, three protected cruisers, six cruisers, ten torpedo gunboats, six destroyers, nineteen torpedo boats and seventy gunboats, or 117 vessels in all. These have been entirely lost sight of, and nobody seems to know where they are. Of course it is well known that a large number of the gunboats are in the keys of Cuba, but what has become of the rest, and what they are doing? It would appear that Spain is either neglecting her opportunities or that her sailors are afraid to venture away from land.

BRITAIN PREPARES FOR A CRISIS.

New York, May 18.—A special to The Herald from Washington says: Great Britain is evidently preparing for a crisis which she expects will occur in the Far East. Official information which has been received at the Navy Department shows that she is buying up great quantities of coal in the far Western States and is storing it at her yard at Esquimalt. The cause for Great Britain's action is not known in naval circles, but it is thought that the British Government desires to have on hand a large supply of fuel, which will be useful for her squadron in Asiatic waters in case the situation in the Far East should be prdouctive of war.

Because of these purchases by Great Britain the price of coal has gone up and the Navy Department is compelled to pay a higher rate per ton than heretofore. For the purpose of preventing dealers from taking advatage of the Government, as well as for the benefit of the navy ships, the department has determined to store coal of its own at Puget Sound, and Secretary Long has directed Civil Engineer Endicottt oo build a coal shed at that point.

It is proposed to keep 5,000 tons already on hand, so that ships will not suffer embarrassment of delay in coaling when they put into the navy yard at Puget Sound for repairs or dcoking.

THE VICTORY INEVITABLE.

New York, May 18.—A cable despatch to The World from Paris says: La Patrie publishes an interview with General Mansilla, a well-known South American soldier, and a nephew of Rosas, who says: "The victory of America is inevitable, but I deplore the fact that Europe does not intervene to prevent her extending her military and maritime power. I dare say her declaration about Cuba is sincere, but the relations of protector and protected, debtor and creditor and saviors and saved must end in annexation. After Cuba America will one day take Mexico. Cuba is America's Gibraltar and will become of immense value when the Nicaragua Canal is made."

A NEW SPANISH CABINET.

Madrid, May 18.—8 a. m.—The new Spanish Cabinet has been formed as follows: President of the Council of Ministers, Senor Praxedes Sagasta.

Minister of Foreign Affairs, Senor Leon y Castillo.

Minister of War, Lieut.-General Correa.

Minister of Marine, Senor Aunon.

Minister of the Colonies, Senor Romero Giron.

Minister of Finance, Senor Lopez Puigcerver.

Minister of the Interior, Senor F.R. Capdepon.

Minister of Justice, Senor C. Groizard.

Minister of Public Instructions, Senor Gamazo.

Senor Sagasta will submit the names of the Ministers to the Queen Regent during the day and the Cabinet officers will be sworn in this evening. The Premier will act as Foreign Minister, pending the arrival here of Senor Castillo.

CERVERA IS REINFORCED.

London, May 18.—It is reported that the Spanish reserve fleet left Cadiz on Friday last and arrived at the Canary Islands on Monday night on its way to effect a junction with Admiral Cervera in the Carribean Sea. It is also stated on the best of authority that three additional Spanish cruisers, the Princess de Austurias, the Catalunia and the Cardinal Cirneros, all first-class armored cruisers, have already arrived at Martinique, having stolen away from Cadiz unobserved about the same time as the Cape Verde fleet sailed from St. Vincent on April 29. The announcement of the Spanish Government that these three vessels would convoy a relief expedition to the Philippines was merely a ruse to hide their real movements. If this report is correct, Cervera has now at his disposal seven fast cruisers and three torpedo destroyers, with the possibility of further powerful additions at an early day.

BRYAN'S REGIMENT.

Lincoln, Neb., May 18.—William J. Bryan is to organize a third regiment of Nebraska volunteers to tender their services to the President as soon as mustered. Governor Holcomb has issued him a commission as colonel with authority to proceed, and Mr. Bryan told the Associated Press correspondent that he would accept the commission.

EVADING THE BLOCKADE.

Key West, May 18.—A. F. Sanvedra, a wealthy Cuban, has arrived here from Santiago de Cuba on his way to Paris. He reports that large cargoes of ammunitoin, guns and provisions, etc., are arriving at that city from Spain, and are being sent to Havana by rail. Many trainloads leave daily for the relief of Blanco, and the insurgents frequently attack and attempt to wreck the cargoes.

CRUISERS AT HAYTI.

Cape Haytien, May 18.—The cruisers Minneapolis and Yale arrived here to-day and received orders by cable.

WITHIN A WEEK.

Washington, May 18. — Secretary Alger says he hopes to see an advance made into Cuba next week and that as soon as the forward movement is begun there will be no halting until the force landed is sufficient to invest Havana.

FAVOR THE ALLIANCE.

Shanghai, May 18.—The newspapers here and public opinion in general strongly favors an Anglo-American alliance, as proposed in the speech which Mr. Joseph Chamberlain recently made at Birmingham.

ANOTHER SHIP LAUNCHED.

Philadelphia, May 18.—The battleship Alabama was successfully launched at Cramp's Ship Yards at 12.50 today.

LANDING REPULSED.

London, May 18.—According to a special despatch from Havana, published here to-day, there has been an engagement off the Port of Caibarien, Province of Santa Clara, and, it is alleged, the American landing party has been repulsed.

250,000 CURED.

Thousands of young men are made nervous wrecks, unfit for business, social pleasures or home duties by evil habits in youth, later excesses, or private diseases. W. C. Andrews, of Akron, O., says: "I read this paper and have seen many reports of remarkable cures made by Drs. Kennedy and Kergan. I decided to treat with them. Indiscretion was the cause of my trouble. I was weak and nervous; no ambition; back weak, pimples on the face; thin and haggard; eyes sunken and cheeks hollow; dreams and drains at night; memory poor; varicocele and weak parts; irritable; sinking spells; specks before the eyes; lack of confidence; no energy; and many other complaints. I had tried fourteen doctors, bought four electric belts took scores of bottles of patent medicines—all failed. I tried the New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, and it cured me. I am a Man Again. I have gained twenty-six pounds and am strong mentally, physically and sexually. It is a wonderful treatment."

Blood Disease—with the worst symptoms: Ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, blotches, eruptions, hair fallen out, bone pains, eyes red, stomach troubles, sore throat, etc., positively cured forever. You dare not marry until cured. Cures guaranteed or no pay.

We cure Syphilis, Nervous Debility, Varicocele, Failing Manhood, Stricture, Gleet, Unnatural Discharges, Weak Parts, Bladder and Kidney Diseases.

LIVELY LAKEFIELD

An Electric Railway

Editor Morning Times:—

Sir,—I understand that Mr. Stair, the electric railway promoter, is likely to find some difficulty in securing money to carry out his project of taking over the Grand Trunk line betweent his village and Peterborough. It is said that the "little unpleasantness" between the United States and Spain has made money hard to obtain on the other side, and hence the difficulty.

Now, if this is true, would it not be wise for our people to put in a protest against turning the road over to Mr. Starr and his friends? We all know that it will do incalculable injury to our merchants. Our people will naturally do their shopping in Peterborough instead of at home, and Lakefield will practically become a suburb of Peterborough.

I am pleased, Mr. Editor, to know that the columns of the Times is open to those who desire to argue the pros and cons of the case. Ninety per cent of our people read the Times, so I understand, and its columns should therefore be used to discuss matters of such momentous importance to us as this one is.

I would suggest that strong action be taken by the council against the proposed change. If necessary let them apply for an injunction to prevent the the road changing hands. We helped to build this road, and I am certain that our rights will not be disregarded by the courts.

Apologizing for troubling you, I am, Mr. Editor, yours, &c.

LAKEFIELDER.

A Busy Teacher

It is more than probable that the summer will be a lively one for those who cater to the tourist. Already, we learn, there are quite a number booked to stay at the Stoney Lake hotels, while our local hotels are assured of their quota. Would it not be a good idea to advertise Lakefield as a summer resort? There is no prettier place on the top of this green earth, and it is more than advantageously situated. Hundreds of Americans will come here this year that never were in this section before. Let us keep them with us as long as we can.

Disappointed

Scores of your readers were very much disappointed on opening their paper on Wednesday to find that no report of the Masonic ball appeared in the Times. Your explanation, however, was satisfactory. Your Lackfield correspondent can tell you, however, that it was a big disappointment; for very many take no other paper and will thus be deprived of reading the interesting details of the proceedings.

[It is seldom the Times takes a back seat in the way of supplying its readers with news. This is an exception, however, as we already explained. We are sure our Masonic friends never intended to deprive this paper of what was legitimately a matter of news. It was rather due we believe, to an oversight, or perhaps to the overzealousness of the committee in charge, who refused to admit our press representative in his professional capacity.—Ed. Times.]

LOCALS

—Everybody reads the Times.

The recent rains will do a "power" of good to the country.

Quite a number of Stoney Lake cottagers have passed through the village en route for their summer homes, to prepare them for the season.

A young dude from Peterborough met with a serious fall from his wheel last night, near the bridge. He took a header, and endeavored to plough up a portion of the roadway with his nose.

The Chrysanthemum.

When the plant was introduced, about 1840, it was only the small daisylike flower, now only seen as a rule in cottage gardens, which was highly prised as a novelty. The taste for growing and showing it began early, and before 1850 there were many chrysanthemum societies in existence, among them the Stoke Newington, which formed the nucleus of the National society. Yet it was not until 1859, when the plants suffered severly from early frosts, that there was any idea of growing it under glass. The Japanese variety was noticed in 1864 as a novelty, "very curious and interesting, but scarcely ornamental." How little did the author of these remarks suspect what a future was before the plant he so summarily set aside! Three years later, however, we find Japanese varieties recommended with pompom and incurved, and since then they have ever increased in favor.

The gorgeously colored, moplike blooms now exhibited every autumn would certainly astonish that writer of 50 years ago. The golden and bronze shades of the chrysanthemum suited the taste of the promoters of the "high art" æsthetic movement of a few years ago, which, if it had no other merit, helped to bring this flower more forward and revived the culture of sunflowers, which were fast becoming extinct in our gardens.—Longman's Magazine.

Sale of Burnt and Other Timber

A quantity of pine timber, estimated at five million, seven hundred and fifty thousand feet, board measure, situated north and west of the east branch of the Spanish River, in the vicinity of Ramsey Lake, having been partly damaged by fire, the undersigned hereby calls for tenders for the right to cut the same.

Tenders will be received up to and including the SECOND DAY OF JUNE NEXT, and must state the rate per thousand feet board measure, if made into saw logs, or per thousand feet cubic, if made into square timber, which the tenderer is willing to pay as bonus, in addition to the ordinary crown dues of one dollar and twenty five cents per thousand feet board measure on saw logs and twenty five dollars per thousand feet cubic on square timber. Parties tendering may make an alternative tender of a lump sum as bones in addition to the crown dues, at the rates hereinbefore stated. Tenders must be accompanied by a marked cheque for $1000. The party awarded the right to cut will have to give a bond with satisfactory sureties, for the performance of all the terms and conditions which may be required by the department.

Mr. A. W. Belding, Forest Ranger at Biscotasing Station, C. P. R., will give information with respect to the situation of the timber, etc., and further particulars as to the conditions may be obtained from this department.

The figures as to quantity represent the department's estimate only, and intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to quantities and purchase upon their own estimates. The Department does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender. Tenders should be marked "Tender for Burnt Timber," and addressed to the Honorable the Commissioner of Crown Lands, Toronto.

The company owns extensive smelting works in the city of Kingston, Ont., and the expectations are that facilities thus afforded to owners of lead properties of having a home market for their ores, will tend to the rapid development and the holding of this industry, for Canadian ores will be treated at custom rate, or purchased outright at the works.

The public hardly realize that there is more money in Lead than Gold.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

Apprentice Wanted

A good stout boy is wanted at The Times Bindery to learn bookbinding.

Personal

Tweed News: Miss Maggie Falconer is visiting her sister, Mrs. Gibson, Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Mulholland left yesterday for Clifton Springs, N. Y., where they will spend a month or so.

Bicycle Baskets

Bicyclists, have your seen the new lunch basket and parcel carrier combined! They are just the thing for picnic parties and those taking long journeys. They have not been on sale here, but hundreds are being used in the cities. The Times Bookstore are sole agents for them.

How to Cure all Skin Diseases

Simply apply "Swayne's Ointment." No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, &c., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for Swayne's Ointment. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents. Avoid imitations.

Bushels of Counterfeit 5c. Pieces

Bushels of counterfeit Canadian five cent pieces are in circulation, and the issue only commenced a couple of days ago. The deception is so complete that unless one is watchful it is hard to discern the coin. The make is perfect, the stamp being a good representation of the genuine. The coin is made, it is thought, of a mixture of German silver and Canadian silver, consequently the coin is much lighter and can be detected by feeling the surface. The edge is the same as that of the genuine coin.

For Sale or To Rent.

That valuable property situated on the corner of Bethune and Edinburgh streets, for sale or to rent. Parties intending to purchase or rent a handsome and commodious residence should not fail to inspect this place. The house is a four storey brick, 32 x 42, fitted up in modern style, with every convenience, such as city water, bath room, electric light, first class outbuildings, including stable for three horses, driving shed for six rigs, ice house, etc. There is a fine lawn and vegetable garden attached to the house, also a number of fruit trees and shrubbery. The above property will be sold cheap or leased for a term of years. For further particulars apply on the premises to J. R. Donell.

SPECIAL FOR THE LADIES

Silcoton for crocheting, all colors, 5 cents a ball, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at Miss Melville's.

Shown About

Kingston Times: Yesterday after- Col. Bell, Major Longford and Lieut. Matthews, of the 57th Battalion, arrived in the city and were taken to the fair grounds and shown the accommodation that will be afforded them on their visit on the 24th. This morning they left for their home.

Lightning's Freak

Yesterday morning the lightning struck a tree just opposite Mr. Jas. Swanson's, on Brown street, Ashburnham, and running up the road to Douro street, turned there and took to the railway track. Several ties were torn out of their place.

Half the Cost of Plank Walk

Cobourg is going in for pavements. The tender of the Guelph Paving Co. of $834 for a section has been accepted, as it covered all curbing, and work about gratings. This is at the rate of 12c. per foot, and as owners pay half the cost of construction, the cost to the town will be the same as the first cost of a plank walk.

A Cheaper Rate

A Grand Trunk official has expressed the opinion that the present rate of war will ultimately result in a rate of two cents a mile. This is supported by the present increase in total receipts, showing that the travel caused by cut rates more than recoups the road for the reduction. Railway two cents a mile and penny postage must come.

A Belleville Project

Arrangements are being made in Belleville for the establishment there of the Mitchell Rolling Mills, which have been operating at Norwhich, Connecticut for the past 55 years. The pay roll is about $90 a day, and 56 men are employed. The company have asked for a bonus of $50,000, the city also to pay the duty on the machinery coming over, and exemption from taxes for ten years. The council has approved of the terms, and a by-law will be submitted to the people.

A Hint to Wheelmen

There is a large number of bicycles in Campbellford just now, and riders should not abuse the privileges which the law has allowed them for movement along the highways. It is expected of a rider on overtaking a conveyance of any kind to give audible warning of his approach, otherwise he is liable to a heavy penalty. Horses sometimes become frightened at the flying past of the noiseless wheel, and to guard against accidents the law demands that warning should be given.—Herald.

Navigation Notes

—The steamer Eclipse brought a load of hogs to the Geo. Matthews Co. from Harwood yesterday.

—The steamer City of Peterborough will be launched to-day or to-morrow. She will, it is expected, by reason of the overhauling, make better time than formerly by at least two miles per hour.

—Capt. Burnet's new steamer, which is now under construction at Rice Lake, is approaching completion. It is expected she will be ready in a couple of weeks.

—The Beaver, Capt. Harris, is in good shape this year, and appears to have all she can conveniently handle.

Lacrosse

So far as Orillia is concerned, at all events the Peterborough lacrosse team will have its work cut out for it. The Toronto News says:

"Orillia," though losing two good men, have secured several decided acquisitions and will line out very strong. Wert, Watson, Quinn, Dan O'Connor and the Stouffville and Toronto players of last season. "Micky" O'Connor, will be found on the defence, with Fielder Thompson filling the vacancy at midfield and W. Dunn, Ed. Dunn, Fred Grant, "Bunty" Armstrong, Wilkinson, Hammond, Tucker and Trask, all available for the home division. R. Frost will be between the poles.

Committed for Trial

John Walker, who is charged with stealing a wheel from Robt. Wolstenholme, Charlotte street, the particulars of which appeared in the Times, appeared before Police Magistrate Dumble yesterday morning.

Robert Wolstenholme identified the prisoner as having hired a wheel from him on Tuesday last. He also identified a bicycle produced in court as the one which had been hired.

John Mervin bore witness to having purchased the same bicycle from the prisoner for five dollars on Tuesday afternoon.

The prisoner went into the box and swore that he never saw Wolstenholme before, but that he had purchased the wheel from a man named Coxall in Tamworth last October for $35. He stated that he could not ride the wheel but had walked to Peterborough from Erinsville, pushing the bicycle ahead of him.

He was committed for trial.

The 57th. at Kingston

Lt.-Col. Bell, Major Langford and Lieut. Matthews have returned from Kingston after arranging for the visit of the 57th Battalion to that city for May 24th. All arrangements were satisfactorily made, the military and civic authorities of Kingston manifesting the greatest interest in the proposed visit, and showing much anxiety in making the stay of the Peterborough Rangers as pleasant as is possible. The battalion will be camped in the agricultural grounds, where the tents will be pitched on a pleasant site and every accommodation will be provided.

The 57th Batt. Band have their work cut out for them, as they will have to do most of the playing—quite an honor, by the way.

A military field day has been arranged for the 24th, in which the regulars in Kingston, the Battery, the 14th, the 57th and an American regiment which has been given permission to enter Canada will participate. On Sunday the military will have a church parade in the morning. Monday the soldiers will have to themselves, and they will find much to interest them in Kingston. A sail down the river is also under negotiation, and the boys can count on a most enjoyable outing.

This being the case it behooves every man to get ready and make as good a showing as possible.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, M. A., who will accompany the battalion in his capacity as chaplain has received and accepted an invitation to preach in St. George's cathedral there on Sunday evening.

June Camp

The 14th Field Battery, better known perhaps as the old Durham Field Battery, goes into camp at Port Hope on June 14th.

We'll Make Them Hustle

Upward, onward,
Is our motto,
The Times does hustle,
(It's contents, have got to.

Charged With Perjury

Yesterday morning Mark Black was charged in the Police Court with having committed perjury on April 19th by stating in his testimony on that occasion before Magistrate Dumble that Mary Irwin had struck him with a shovel, and also that he had never appeared in the police Court before, otherwise than as a spectator and witness. The case was enlarged until Thursday.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Interesting Items of Local and District Happenings in Brief

—Everybody reads the Times.

—The Gun Club will hold a shoot this afternoon at three o'clock.

—The Eclipse brought up a load of hogs yesterday for Mr. H. P. Kennedy.

—Forty car loads of lumber have been shipped from Lakefield this week.

—The regular meeting of City Lodge Good Templars was held last night.

—The flag over the post office was flying at half mast yesterday for Mr. Gladstone's death.

—Mr. James Connally returned yesterday from New York. He says there is less war talk there than in Peterborough.

—On Sunday, May 29th, a number of the salvationists and part of their army band of brass and stringed instruments will visit Campbellford and conduct the services of the day in the army barracks.

—The annual church parade of Lansdowne Lodge, Sons of England, will be held next Sunday afternoon at 2.45 o'clock to St. John's church.

—Yesterday being Ascension Day the Holy Communion was administered at St. John's at eleven o'clock. There was also an evening service.

—Mr. Dan Simons has decided to hold his concert on Thursday, June 30th. He will be assisted by local talent, and will introduce an entirely new line of clever specialties.

—The flag floated at half mast on the tower of St. John's church yesterday out of respect to the memory of the late Mr. Gladstone, who was one of the leading laymen of the Church of England.

—Mrs. Cooper, of Sherbrooke street, while sewing Wednesday had the misfortune to break the needle, a piece of which entered her hand and disappeared. Dr. Pigeon was summoned and after lancing the hand succeeded in extracting it.

—Mr. W. E. McCamus formerly of Peterborough, who was a clerk in Mr. J. D. Tully's drug store for some years has enlisted in the United States army and has been ordered to the Philippines with the troop which he joined.

—Mr. Chas. Munn, night operator at the C. P. R. station for about a year and a half, has been promoted to the position of station agent at Bathurst, near Perth. He left for his new work the day before yesterday. Mr. Cress, of Norwood station, who succeeds him as night operator, entered upon his duties last night.

—The Rathbun Co's drive of logs is now in Gull River, having made a splendid run being favored with a suitable wind to further their progress until within the past few days. Their run has certainly been an unusually rapid one for the large quantity of timber they are taking through.

—Present indications point to a large yield of plums and pears as well as apples. Everywhere you go the trees are white with blossom, and if there is no May frost to wither the opening flower, or injure the early development of fruit, there will be an abundant supply when harvest time rolls round again.

—As an instance of the destructiveness of the tent caterpillar, it may be stated that upon a certain farm on the Percy boundary last year the entire foliage of a piece of woods was completely stripped, not a vestige of a leaf having been left except on the black oak trees which seemed to have been unpalatable to the ravaging worms.

—Mr. Alex. Couch finishes up his canvas of Lakefield and Young's Point to-day. Three hundred subscribers have been added to our list for the daily as a result of his labor. He goes to Havelock next week. Our regular daily issue exceeds 2,200. We intend to make it an even 5,000 or better in a few months.

—A couple of young men from the vicinity of Hill Head, Ops, appeared before County Magistrate Deacon yesterday to settle a dispute which originated at a barn-raising. The Colonel talked to them like a father, and finally induced them to shake hands and agree to forget their differences.

—The Toronto Saturday night refers to the case of a street lounger being fined $1 for jostling a young woman on the street, and expresses the opinion that if he was guilty the punishment was too light. With that opinion all decent people will agree. It is not pleasant for women to have to pass by staring, gaping crowds of corner or doorway loafers; it is intolerable that they add insult by sign, word or touch. And there are some youths in this town who might take a hint and mend their ways.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE MEETING

Preparing for the General Conference Meeting. The Business Transacted

The special Ministerial Session of the Peterborough District began in the Charlotte street church church at 10 a. m. Wednesday morning. After the singing of a hymn, Revs. Geo. Robinson and Jos. Kilgour led in prayer.

Rev. S. J. Shorey presided, and the first business taken up was the election of a secretary. Rev. N. D. Drew was appointed with Revs. C. E. Cragg and H. S. Spence, B.A., B.D., as assistants.

The role of Ministerial members was then called, the following being present: Revs. S. J. Shorey, D. O. Crossley, J. E. Moore, Leonard Phelps, Jos. Kilgour, C. E. Cragg, T. S. McKee, T. J. Edmison, W. D. Harrison, J. W. Coone, Geo. Robinson, N. D. Drew, H. S. Spence, W. V. Sexsmith, H. W. Foley, J. M. Clarry, Prosper H. Neville.

The ministers and probationers were found blameless in life, conversation and doctrine.

In the case of Rev. G. H. H. Davis, left without a station at his own request, it was resolved that as his residence has been out of the Conference—in the United States—during the year and as no communication from him had been received, nothing known of his case, and still no reason was advanced why he should not be allowed to pass.

The afternoon session was opened by the consideration of the probationers under the following rule: "Who have been on probation for the ministry five years and are now recommended to be received into full connection and ordained?"

Messrs. Prosper H. Neville and H. S. Spence, B. A., B. D., were recommended to Conferences to be received into full connection and ordained.

Messrs. S. J. Green, G. D. Harrison, Chas. E. Cragg, J. W. Coone, H. W. Foley, B. A., and J. N. Clarry, not having completed the term of their probation, were recommended to be continued on trial.

Revs. Robt. Johnston and Edw. Cragg were continued as superannuated ministers.

Rev. Mr. Kilgour, who has served the church for forty-one years was recommended for superannuation on motion of Rev. T. J. Edmison and Rev. D. O. Crossley.

It was resolved to recommend that the catechism be taught and catechism classes be formed wherever possible.

Revs. T. S. McKee and W. D. Harrison were appointed a provisional auditing committee.

The district meeting opened yesterday morning with the following lay delegates in attendance in addition to the members present yesterday: Messrs. Thos. Morrow, Isaac Richardson, Thos. Johnston, R. W. Clark, W. J. Graham, Jas Brock, Thos. Brown, Jno. Hall, W. C. Manning, W. J. Northey, T. R. Graham, Silas Beer, John Barnicott, John Elliott and Thos. Lean.

The opening devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Geo. Robinson and Mr. Thos. Johnston. Rev. W. D. Harrison and Mr. R. W. Clarke were appointed to audit the schedules.

The following were recommended for college: D. G. Harrison, S. J. Green, C. E. Cragg, —Clarry and J. W. Coone.

THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Much Hostility is Manifested Towards the Scheme

By Which the United States, Great Britain or Germany, Individually or Jointly, are to Retain Possession of the Islands Latest Despatches up to 1 a.m.

(Special to the Times, 1 a m.)

Gibraltar, May 20.—The Spanish Government has decided to reinforce strongly the Spanish lines and towns of San Roque, Algeciras and Tarifa. A thousand infantry arrived yesterday at San Roque.

Washington, May 20.—Secretary Alger has sent to the Secretary of Treasury for transmission to Congress supplemental estimates of appropriations aggregating $88,638,340 required by the War Department for support of regular and volunteer armies of the United States for six months of fiscal year ending June 30th, 1899, in addition to amounts appropriated in the acts of March 15th and May 4th, 1898. The principal items for which appropriations are asked as follows:—

Signal service of the army, $111,000; pay, etc., of the army, [illegible]; for volunteers $25,026,256; subsistence of army, $19,219,6[illegible]; regular supplies, quartermaster's department, $[illegible]000; incidental expenses, quartermaster's department, $2,500,000; horses for cavalry and artillery, $2,000,000; army transportation, $20,000,000; clothing and camp and garrison equipage, $[illegible].

Washington, May 20.—The Navy Department posted the following bulletin at the close of office hours: "The department has information which is believed to be authentic, that the Spanish squadron under Admiral Cervera is at Santiago de Cuba."

Madrid, May 20—The Ministers in full uniform appeared in the Senate to-day. Owing to circumstances the new Cabinet is already named the circumstantial Cabinet. The Premier Senor Sagasta explained the ministerial crisis and asserted that the new ministry would continue the policy of the former ministry. He related how Spain did everything to avoid war until America, violating all recognized diplomacy, attacked Spain with an injustice unprecedented in annals of civilized history and compelled Spain to respond with war which Spain would continue to the utmost until an honorable peace is obtainable. "This, the Premier continued, "is a strong policy, and the new Government will also energetically conduct negotiations with Europe and other States."

Count Penaramito proposed the Senate's congratulations to Admiral Cervera on his arriving safely at Santiago de Cuba, and cleverly dodging American squadrons."

Captain Aunon, the Minister of Marine, responded in the name of the Navy, highly extolling Admiral Cervera. In so doing he said the arrival of the Spanish squadron in Cuban waters would cement the friendship of Cubans and Spain, and will prove to the world that Spain will never abandon Cuba while the mother country retains her vitality. The congratulations were voted unanimously. A Spanish official version of the engagement said to have taken place off Santiago de Cuba yesterday previous to arrival of Spanish fleet, says that American warships were repulsed, and adds that one of them was damaged.

Key West, May 20.—Over forty cases of ammunition were found to-day on the Spanish steamer Argonauta, captured during the first days of the war. It was on board this steamer that Lieut.-Col. Cortijo, Weyler's brother-in-law, was captured with other Spanish soldiers, now prisoners in Fort McPherson.

New York, N.Y., May 20.—The U. S. ship Resolute, which was formerly passenger steamer Yorktown, of the Brooklyn navy yards today with a crew of 100 men all told, composed of regular blue jackets and some volunteers from New Jersey naval militia. While her destination is not officially given, it is understood she will be used for the purpose of carrying troops from Tampa, or Key West to Cuba. The Resolute is one of most commodious and best ventilated vessels on which United States troops will be put aboard. A first class refrigerating plant and an improved system of ventilation were constructed on board of her. The ice making machine has a capacity of making ten tons per day.

St. Petersburg, May 20.—The public and press here are evincing great interest in the future of the Philippine Islands. Much hostility is manifested towards the scheme by which the United States, Great Britain, or Germany, individually or jointly, are to retain possession of the Islands, and some newspapers urge the Russian Government to endeavor to obtain from Spain a lease of some of the Philippine Islands, in order that they might serve as a Russian food base in the Pacific.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 20.—The transport steamer Justin sailed from League Island navy yard to-day. The Justin will proceed to Newport News to take on 2,000 tons of coal and provisions and will then go to Key West. She will probably be used to transport troops to Cuba, provision having been made for accomodating 1,000 men, besides the crew.

WILL GIVE BATTLE

Key West, May 20.—Great activity prevails on all the warships here, and preparations are rapidly being made for sea. It is expected that Admiral Sampson will sail before night for the south-east coast of Cuba to give battle to the Spanish squadron under Admiral Cervera.

FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Barcelona, May 20—Large forces of troops are embarking here for the Philippine Islands. They have been drawn from Catalonia, Andalusia, Aragon and Valencia.

THE FLEET'S ARRIVAL.

Madrid, May 20.—8 a.m.—At ten o'clock yesterday evening the Minister of Marine, Captain Aunon, received a despatch from Admiral Cervera, in command of the Cape Verde squadron of the Spanish fleet. It read,

"Santiago de Cuba, May 19.—This morning I have, without incident, entered this port, accompanied by the squadron. (Signed), Cervera."

The Minister immediately communicated the information to Premier Sagasta. He then proceeded to the palace and informed the Queen Regent. Captain Aunon cabled his congratulations to Admiral Cervera.

SEARCH FOR THE FLEET.

Washington, May 20.—Instructions have been sent to Admiral Sampson to so re-arrange his fleet as to permit him to take a squadron of his strongest ships and go in search of the Spanish ships, drive them from West Indian waters or destroy them.

A SPLENDID EXAMPLE.

Madrid, May 20.—In taking possession of the Admiralty, the Minister of Marine made a patriotic speech to the assembled officers, during which he recalled, "The splendid example set by Spanish sailors at Cavite in dying for Spain."

STRUGGLE TO LEAVE CUBA.

Havana, May 19, via Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 20.—Business is almost at a standstill and there is [illegible] excitement in the streets. The docks are almost deserted and there were very few people to be seen last week on the Plaza de Armas at night. [illegible] feverish [illegible] to leave [illegible]. Many [illegible] without [illegible] money from [illegible]. There is considerable [illegible] who [illegible]

Vancouver, B. C., May 20.—[illegible] The Sydney papers [illegible] in favor of a union of the Anglo-Saxon race throughout the world. The Sydney Daily Telegraph says: "The best good ground for hope that the approaching war may prove an agency for that union of the Anglo-Saxon race throughout the whole world, which, with every passing year, seems less like a vision of political optimism, and more like practical necessity. It has long been recognized that the millions of the United States could be brought to say 'yes' or 'no' in the large issues of international policy with the millions of Great Britain and her colonies. The greatest conceivable guarantee of peace to the world would be assured."

WORTHY OF PRAISE.

Madrid, May 20.—The Minister of Marine is quoted as saying: "I am greatly rejoiced at the safe arrival of the Spanish fleet at Santiago de Cuba. It is an immense triumph for the Spanish navy. The sailors who executed the movement and those who planned it are worthy of praise."

ROYAL CONGRATULATIONS.

Madrid, May 200.—The Spanish fleet on arriving at Santiago de Cuba found there two American warships which retired with all speed. The Queen Regent has cabled congratulations to Admiral Cervera.

MORE CONGRATULATIONS.

Madrid, May 20.—The Minister of Marine has cabled congratulating Admiral Cervera on his arrival at Santiago de Cuba.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM.

London, May 20.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says: "The success of Admiral Cervera in eluding the American fleets and keeping them on the alert excites much enthusiasm, and causes the press to clamor for a prompt despatch of the reserve fleet to the front. Senor Sagasta will make a statement of the policy of the new Cabinet to-day, Friday."

A SPANISH RUSE.

Washington, May 20.—The Navy Department has nothing that would confirm the Madrid despatch that the Cape Verde fleet has safely reached Santiago. The report is regarded as a Spanish ruse to attract this Government's attention from the real course of the fleet. Naval experts do not believe it was possible for the fleet to get into Santiago without the knowledge of the scouts. Such a movement would be immediately communicated to Washington. Rear Admiral Sampson continues hunting the seas for Admiral Cervera. News of a battle between the two opposing fleets is expected at any hour.

Get More and You Get Less

Why is it every sarsaparilla which tries to sell itself, ranges itself against Ayer's as the standard? Why is it that all have to offer extra inducements—bigger bottles, fancy wrappers, cheaper price—anything, everything, but the one inducement of quality?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has never been equaled by any cheap imitation of it, and quality tells, just as blood tells.

It is the Standard.

"I have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla for more than twenty-five years, and have never heard anything but words of praise from my customers; not a single complaint has ever reached me. A preparation must possess great merit to maintain such a reputation. I believe your sarsaparilla to be the best blood purifier that has ever been introduced to the general public. I often hear other manufacturers say that this is "as good as Ayer's," but no one ever yet heard it said that Ayer's was "as good" as any other kind. They always set Ayer's up as the standard of excellence."—S. F. BOYCE, Duluth, Minn.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB

By Nicklby Finn

When the President ascended the dias at the Hall of Wisdom last night, every seat in the immense building was held down by a member. Gumboil Fair was explaining to Discount Benson how he used to do various things when he was a youth, and Nutmeg Cunningham was paring his corns, while Anvil Davis went to take a drink out of the dipper and got a quantity of water down the wrong pipe, and a half a dozen members were slapping him on the back. The sharp sound of the gravel put a stop to every noise, and in less time than it takes One-eyed Wilson to swallow a cocktail, the regular weekly meeting of the Lime Juice Club was open for the transaction of business.

A BOLD DEFENSE.

Anvil Davis, of Lakefield, said he arose to defend the Canadian people from the aspersions of the American press. He had lately read in a New York paper that Canada was living too fast, and that it must soon become bankrupt. Such unwarranted attacks on his native country thrilled him with indignation clear down to his last bunion, and if the press of this country would not resent them he would.

"Living too fast!" As he repeated the words he drew himself up. "I have worn this same shirt and collar for three weeks. Is that living fast? Here is a vest over ten years old by the almanac! Is that dressing to kill? Look at the patches on the knees of many of the members of this club, and tell me if it looks as if this nation was death on store clothes! Living too fast! Why, the very idea is imposterous! Is potatoes boiled with their hides on and pieced out with bacon and brown bread living too fast? On behalf of the Canadian people I protest! On behalf of this great people, I warn the United States that we can't be sassed beyond a certain point. When that point has been passed there will come a demand for gore and revenge."

This speech was received with great applause and Anvil McCann, of Douro, next took the floor and said:

"Civil war and its horrors is to be deplored and shunned—but if it must come—if we must resort to force of arms to preserve our honor, then let us resort. Let us gird on the armour of right and march forward with brave hearts. He who sasses the country sasses the Lime Juice Club."

A PAINFUL REPORT.

Bro. Ever True Thompson, of the Committee on Hereditory Privileges, arose with business in his eyes and announced that he was ready to report. Two weeks ago his committee had been informed of a dastardly attempt to wrest one of the most cherished hereditory privileges from the hands of the members of this great club, and he had sent to Lakefield for full particulars. He was now ready to report that a citizen of that village had invented and brought out a machine known as "The Dead Give Away." It was an explosive torpedo made up to resemble a spring chicken, and its position on the roost at night was so natural that a person who had eaten 10,000 hens would be deceived. It had been brought out on the quiet, and before the members of the Lakefield Branch of this Club knew what was up, the place was full of shattered constitutions. Large orders had poured in on the inventor and one from Peterborough had telegraphed for 250. In six months every hen roost in the country would have its torpedo chicken, and a large majority of the members of the Lime Juice Club might as well prepare for a change of diet, unless something could be done. He would urge prompt and speedy action. Every day of delay put fifty addition torpedo chickens on the market.

"I have never said that the members of this great club were even the victims of suspicion when a hen roost was robbed,' replied the President; "but yet it seems to me that this torpedo business ought to be squelched. (Startling applause). They may accidentally go off and kill all the hens; they may blow up little children who go out after eggs; they may explode while the fence is being whitewashed; they may get mixed up with the poultry on the market, and be the means of separating fond husbands and loving wives. The Committee on Emergencies will therefore meet with the Committee on Hereditory Privileges to take such action as is deemed best."

WHERE DUTY ENDS.

"I am in receipt of a query from Port Hope,' said the President, as he displayed a letter, "asking me where our duty to our neighbor begins and ends up. To be neighborly with a neighbor is one of the highest and greatest principles on earth. Our duty begins when we let his children ride our gate and his dog chase our cat without complaint. Our duty ends when we have lent him our hoe, shovel, spade, ice-tongs, bicycle, axe, sugar, tea, coffee, milk, butter, and our swallow-tailed coat to attend a swell Ball in, and he has forgotten that he owes us anything beyond a request that we will come over and turn the grindstone for him to sharpen a crow-bar."

NO REPORT.

Gumboil Fair, Chairman of the Committee on Decorative Art, stated that he would be unable to present his lengthy report owing to the condition of his throat. Three or four days ago he was advised to hold a brass overcoat button in his mouth to cure the earache. In whistling for his dog he accidentally swallowed the button and it will be some time before his throat gets over the strain.

NOTHING SPECIAL NEEDED.

The Secretary announced a letter from Lindsay, in which the writer asked what special qualifications were necessary in this province to fit a man for the office of Justice of the Peace.

"So far as I have observed," replied the Hon. Richard, "nothing special is "required to known anything of law. He need have no character for sobriety or honesty. He is expected to decide every case in favor of the plaintiff, and he will do so every time unless he is afraid the defendant will appeal. The position of Justice of the Peace is one which anyone can fill, and which few decent men hanker after."

THEY WERE CONSIDERING.

Mixer Sullivan, of the Lakefield Branch, announced that he had received a letter from a man signing himself Si Dobrat, (pronounced Dubray) complaining that his application for membership had been neglected.

The President called upon Postcard Dale, of the Committee on Petitions, to explain, and the Chairman said that he had been investigating the character of the applicant. He had written Mayor Davis regarding the petitioner, and the information might be summed up as follows.

1. He wears two watch chains.
2. He carries a cane, wears an ulster, and one eye-glass, and is followed by a four-ounce dog wearing a red blanket.
3. He goes to the post office three times a day and loudly inquires for letters—but never gets any.
4. On several occasions he tried to pass himself off as a member of the new Ontario Legislature, and attended the ball on Tuesday night.

The Committee having discovered that he was this sort of a man, were waiting for further evidence, and the President endorsed their action and told them to go slow.

HISTORICAL.

A letter was read from the Secretary of the Peterborough Historical Society asking the co-operation of the Club in preserving to future generations the historic spots of Peterborough county.

The President was scratching his head and re-reading the letter, when Henroost Bell arose and said:

"Perhaps the worthy President of this club don't exactly know what these historic spots are. If so, I'll—"

"What! interrupted the President; "I don't know what historic spots are? Mister Bell, do you imagine that I was brought up in the second story of a cider mill, and that no books and papers were printed until you were born?"

"I simply threw it out as a suggestion,' was the humble reply, as the brother sat down.

"Don't throw out any more suggestions, Mister Bell! When the time arrives that I can't point out all the historic spots in this part of the country, I'll resigns my position in the Club. The Secretary will answer to the effect that the Club will preserve the spots. If any member of this Club happens to run across a new historic spot that I don't know of, a postal card will reach me at my house, or he can drive up in a coupay."

LAID ON THE TABLE

The Secretary announced a petition from Mary Jane Crawford, Omemee, asking the club to secure the right of women in the Province to cast a ballot.

Opportunity was given for debate and it was discovered that Bro. Subpoena Tell was the only member present who favored the idea. The petition was therefore laid on the table.

ADJOURNED.

The remainder of the business of national importance was placed on ice, the water-pail turned bottom side up, and the meeting slid down stairs while the Harmony Club sang "Daddy's Coming Home."

JONATHAN TO JOHN.

You've used us well, John Bull, we'll own,
Far better than we thought,
When all the world we faced alone,
And Cuba's freedom sought.
You've shown your hand as well befits
The glorious fighting race,
That in its zenith proudly sits,
In honor's cheifest place.

And we have read the signs John Bull,
And feel the sweeping tide,
That makes the hearts of nations full
While battling side by side.
There is a Providence that rules
In all affairs it swells,
Beyond the wisdom of the schools,
And then it's blood that tells.

And so, while England touches strings
With no uncertain sound,
The Yankee drops all meaner things,
To meet on common ground,
Where Angli-Saxon can attack
With "hands across the sea,"
And Stars and Stripes and Union Jack,
Can make the whole world free.

"The thin red line' that never yields,
"The hearts of oak," that dare,
Could face the fire on any field,
If Yankees too, were there;
Could dare a frenzied world in arms,
'Mid shot and bursting shells,
And answer Europe's wild alarms,
With loud triumphant yells.

Your hand, John Bull, your honest hand,
There'll never more be war
Between two nations that must stand
For righteousness and law;
Our differences have passed away,
The days we fight are done,
And John and Jonathan to-day,
Behold the rising sun.

And soon the world will hear a song
In every plain and valley,
As resonant it rises strong,
While millions join the rally;
And Yankee Doodle will awake
Your English meadows green,
While Yankee tongues from sea to lake
Will sing, "God save the Queen."

A SPECIAL OFFER,

Sale of Burnt and Other Timber

A quantity of pine timber, estimated at five million, seven hundred and fifty thousand feet, board measure, situated north and west of the east branch of the Spanish River, in the vicinity of Ramsey Lake, having been partly damaged by fire, the undersigned hereby calls for tenders for the right to cut the same.

Tenders will be received up to and including the SECOND DAY OF JUNE NEXT, and must state the rate per thousand feet board measure, if made into saw logs, or per thousand feet cubic, if made into square timber, which the tenderer is willing to pay as bonus, in addition to the ordinary crown dues of one dollar and twenty five cents per thousand feet board measure on saw logs and twenty five dollars per thousand feet cubic on square timber. Parties tendering may make an alternative tender of a lump sum as bonus in addition to the crown dues, at the rates hereinbefore stated. Tenders must be accompanied by a marked cheque for $1000. The party awarded the right to cut will have to give a bond with satisfactory sureties, for the performance of all the terms and conditions which may be required by the department.

Mr. A. W. Belding, Forest Ranger at Biscotasing Station, C. P. R., will give information with respect to the situation of the timber, etc., and further particulars as to the conditions may be obtained from this department.

The figures as to quantity represent the department's estimate only, and intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to quantities and purchase upon their own estimates. The Department does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender. Tenders should be marked "Tender for Burnt Timber," and addressed to the Honorable the Commissioner of Crown Lands, Toronto.

J. M. GIBSON,
Commissioner Crown Lands,
Department of Crown Lands,
Woods and Forests Branch.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

SPANISH FLEET AT HAVANA

Madrid, May 19.—4 p. m.—It is rumored in Madrid that the Spanish Cape Verde squadron, commanded by Admiral Cervera, has arrived off Havana.

WON'T BOMBARD CANARY ISLAND FORTS

London, May 19.—The agent at the Canary Islands of a Liverpool firm writes that the British Consul there has been informed that the United States will not bombard the Canary Islands as the result of an agreement between Great Britain and the United States, while Great Britain remains neutral. The United States will abstain from such a bombardment, which would mean great destruction of British property in the Canary Islands.

THE NEW SPANISH CABINET

Madrid, May 19.—The new Cabinet Ministers took over their portfolios this afternoon. The Spanish newspapers censure the government of Hong Kong for permitting the American warships to revictual, and they say they can't understand Great Britain allowing the United States to cut the British West Indian cables.

The Cabinet will present itself to the Chambers to-morrow, when Senor Romero y Robledo will ask for a statement on the crisis. The Carlists and Republicans want to prolong the budget debate until the end of June. The Ep[illegible] announces that the railroad [illegible]'s have offered the government 2[illegible] 00,000 pesetas, in return for a prolongation of their concessions.

BOMBARDMENT DISCREDITED

Key West, May 19.—The report of the bombardment of Santiago de Cuba is discredited here. Nobody has even heard a rumor to that effect.

STRICT CENSORSHIP OF THE PRESS

Tampa, May 19.—The strictest kind of censorship has been established here and absolutely nothing pertaining to military or naval movements from this port would be permitted to be sent out from this time on. An official bulletin of such news as the officials consider advisable will be provided. It is estimated that this censorship will continue until after the final movement of troops to Cuba has taken place, it being the purpose of the Government to keep the Spanish Government in ignorance so far as possible of our plans for the invasion of Cuba.

AN U. S. WARSHIP DAMAGED

Madrid, May 19.—4 p. m.—An official despatch received here to-day from Havana says that American ships fired eighty shots during the reported recent bombardment of Santiago De Cuba, but that no damage was inflicted. The despatch adds that the batteries at Santiago De Cuba replied to the fire of the ships and that one of the latter was damaged.

A BIG SPANISH FLEET WILL SHORTLY SAIL FROM CADIZ

Madrid, May 19.—Senor Leon y Castillo, the Spanish ambassador at Haris, the newly appointed Minister for Foreign Affairs, has not yet replied accepting the foreign portfolio. In spite of the veto placed upon the publication of Spanish naval movements the newspapers here have been allowed to announce that Admiral Camaras' squadron, consisting of the battleship Pelayo, the first-class armored cruiser Carlos V., the cruiser Patriota and the cruiser Rapido, formerly the Hamburg-American Line steamers Columbia and Normania, the cruiser Alfonso XIII., the cruiser Antonio Lopez, three torpedo boat destroyers and the armored yacht Giralda, will shortly sail from Cadiz, while the reserve squadron, consisting of the Vittoria, Numancia, Elepanto and another vessel, will be organized immediately.

SPANISH SQUADRON ARRIVES AT SANTIAGO DE CUBA

Madrid, May 19.—Midnight, via Paris.—The Spanish squadron has arrived at Santiago De Cuba without accident.

BERNABE BUYS A COAL DEPOT.

London, May 19.—A despatch to The Times says Senor Polo y Bernabe has secured, by cable, a coal depot near St. Pierre Miquelon, the French colony off the south coast of Newfoundland, at which the Cadiz squadron will coal previous to attacikng the Atlantic seaboard of the United States, while the Cape Verde squadron, commanded by Admiral Cervera, draws off the squadrons commanded by Rear-Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley.

THE CADIZ FLEET.

New York, May 19.—A special cable to the World from Kingston, Jamaica, says a telegram from Port Morant, dated at 4 o'clock, states that the lighthouse keeper at Morant Point, on the extreme east end of Jamaica, reports that a number of steamships, apparently warships, were passing. They were going northward at a tremendous rate of speed, heading in the direction of Santiago de Cuba.

MONTIJO BOMBARDED CEBU.

Vancouver, May 19.—News was brought by the Empress of India yesterday that prior to the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Manila by Commodore Dewey, the Spaniards bombarded Cebu, the third city of the Philippines, which was completely wrecked, thirty Chinese being killed. It is said that no necessity existed for shelling the city, as if troops had been landed they could have defeated any number of rebels.

The Spanish troops met with no opposition on landing, the rebels having absconded before they fired, taking with them, it is said, $200,000 in hard cash. No European casualities were reported. On the bombardment the foreigners hoisted their national flags, which were respected by the Spanish admiral. It is stated that priests were at the bottom of the Cebu rising. A short time ago the friars took forcible possession of a large tract of land belonging to the natives. The island of Cebu, besides producing large quantities of hemp and sugar, is rich in coal and petroleum and a company has just been formed with a capital of $1,600,000 to develop its natural resources.

SPANISH SHOOT DOWN REBELS

Manila, May 19.—A panic was caused in the city the other day when the Civil Guards surprised a meeting of insurrectionists in the Calla de Cambs. The house had been watched, and the occupants, upon leaving, noticed that they were shadowed and fled. The Guards pursued; an alarm was raised and a number of persons were discovered to be escaping on the roof of the house. While one party of Guards opened fire upon them, a second contigent burst open the door, being met by conspirators with long knives, of whom eleven were killed, eight of the Guards being wounded, two of whom have since died. Sixty or seventy persons were captured and shot without a moment's notice as rebels. Some of the conspirators fled into the country and were pursued by the 73rd Native Regiment. Several prisoners were captured and stated that it was the intention to set fire to Maylo in several places. During the panic rebels were to swoop down upon the city from a neighboring hill. The rising in Bolemia has been subdued, the Spaniards having killed Indians and numbers of women and children.

TRIED TO CUT THE CABLE.

Washington, May 19.—In accordance with the plan of the Administration to isolate Captain-General Blanco in Cuba and following the recent cutting of the cable at Ceinfuegos, an attempt was made yesterday to cut the cable that connects Santiago de Cuba with Jamaica and which was General Blanco's only means of communication with the other side of the world. While boats were endeavoring to grapple for the cable, the works of Morro Castle at Santiago were bombarded. What damage was done to the forts is not known, nor is it known if the attempt was successful. No details of the fight have yet been received.

KILLED THE PRIEST.

Manila, May 19.—Crime is rampant in the Philippines. A priest named Santos was recently murdered under diabolical circumstances, near the town of Malalos. He had gone there to resign his charge when armed men set upon him in a quiet spot and stabbed him to death.

GREAT BRITAIN THE LOSER.

Washington, May 19.—A new light has been thrown upon the seizure in Cuban waters of numerous Spanish vessels as American prizes. It has been communicated to the department that most of the captured vessels are insured by Lloyds' Underwriters' Association in London, England. This information came in the form of a cablegram from the committee of the association, which asks that the true state of things be pointed out to the American people, and the fact made known that Great Britain, with which the United States is hoping, in case of complications, to form an alliance, is really the loser by the captures, and not the Spaniards.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

New York, May 19.—The cruiser Columbia arrived off Sandy Hook this morning. It is thought her presence here is due to important information the Government has received.

BLOW UP THE MAGAZINE.

Boston, May 19.—There is great excitement at the State camp, South Framington, over an attempt to blow up the magazine last night. Hereafter extra guards will be stationed there.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

St. Thomas, May 19.—Several English-speaking residents of St. Thomas and one of Santa Cruz are reported to have been arrested at San Juan de Porto Rico and held on suspicion of being American sympathizers.

A VAST INCREASE.

Washington, May 19.—The number of enlisted men in the navy on May 1st was 20,421, an increase of 80 per cent. over the regular establishment in peace. There is an increase of 130 per cent in the mechanical forces employed at the navy yards and gun shops. It is believed that 35,000 men will be the number of the enlisted force of the navy by July 1st.

CHASED A GUNBOAT.

Key West, May 19.—The cruiser Montgomery chased a small Spanish gunboat off Neuvitas yesterday. The Montgomery is with Sampson's squadron and this indicates that he is on the north coast of Cuba, probably moving toward Havana.

CERVERA'S FLEET LOST.

Washington, May 19.—All the energies of the war administration are still devoted to the hunt for Admiral Cervera and his squadron of four cruisers and three torpedo boat catchers. The representatives of the Government in South and Central America and the West Indies were ordered yesterday to exhaust all resources in the effort to obtain information of the whereabouts, movements and purposes of the Spanish fleet, and for the past twenty-four hours the wires leading to Washington have been hot with reports of consuls and consular agents. Yet this morning the Navy Department was obliged to confess that it had been unable to get the faintest clue to the missing enemy. There is an inclination to believe that the story that the enemy had gone to San Juan was born of the hope that this might be true, for, thus located, Sampson's squadron it is confidently believed could crush them as Dewey did the Manila fleet. The consulat St Thomas reports that the only Spanish ships seen in the Virgin Passage were three small gunboats and a transport, probably part of the fleet of old vessels that fled Cuban waters a month ago. They were headed toward San Juan, however, and it may be that an effort is being made to concentrate the whole Spanish floating strength in that harbor for a last stand against the squadrons of Sampson and Schley.

250,000 CURED.

Thousands of young men are made nervous wrecks, unfit for business, social pleasures or home duties by evil habits in youth, later excesses, or private diseases. W. C. Andrews, of Akron, O., says: "I read this paper and have seen many reports of remarkable cures made by Drs. Kennedy and Kergan. I decided to treat with them. Indiscretion was the cause of my trouble. I was weak and nervous; no ambition; back weak; pimples on the face; thin and haggard; eyes sunken and cheeks hollow; dreams and drains at night; memory poor; varicocele and weak parts; irritable; sinking spells; specks before the eyes; lack of confidence; no energy; and many other complaints. I had tried fourteen doctors, bought four electric belts took scores of bottles of patent medicines—all failed. I tried the New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, and it cured me. I am a Man Again. I have gained twenty-six pounds and am strong mentally, physically and sexually. It is a wonderful treatment."

Blood Disease—with the worst symptoms: Ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, blotches, eruptions, hair fallen out, bone pains, eyes red, stomach troubles, sore throat, etc., positively cured forever. You dare not marry until cured. Cures guaranteed or no pay.

Rheumatism Cured
after seven years suffering.

GENTLEMEN: Having suffered with Rheumatism for the past seven years was recommended to use Walton's Rheumatic Pills, which gave me immediate relief, and am as well as ever and can follow my trade again. I have tried all different remedies that came to my hearing without any relief, and been to the mineral springs year after year, but with no such results as from Walton's Rheumatic Pills.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

"Well, I'll go and put on another dress; and, Chisholm, would you mind asking the lady if she would come in the parlor to speak to me?"

That "Chisholm, would you mind," quite touched the honest heart of the butler.

"Certainly not, Miss Nina; and I 'ope you won't mind my saying I never saw a nicer young lady in my life than you can be when you chooses."

"Thank you," said the subdued Nina gratefully. She was on the point of asking the butler if he thought she was a shade too dark to be pretty, but stopped in time.

Stella was not much surprised when Chisholm appeared bearing the flag of truce. The butler added, on his own account:

"Please, miss, I wouldn't be too hard on her, for the poor child 'ave been indulged and spoiled all her life, and she feels 'erself too big for a governess; and yet, bless you, miss, she is terrible hignorant."

Stella smiled.

"I am not inclined at all to be severe with Miss Dunlap," she said, "but I am responsible for her conduct, and there can be no discipline without obedience."

"No, miss, I am aware of that."

Chisholm bowed with much respect, and withdrew after requesting Miss Sterling to meet Nina in the parlor.

Stella was too proud herself to permit Nina to humiliate herself.

"That will be all right, Miss Dunlap," she said, as soon as the West Indian had stammered a few words of apology. "We must have no nonsense of this kind in future, for I am certain you do not wish it to reach your uncle's ears, and if such things occurred again, I should consider it my duty to inform him, and resign the position."

"Oh, don't say any more about it," said Nina penitently. "I shall try to be as good as gold. I only get mad because every one seems to think my complexion is so dark."

"Why need that worry you? You are no darker than I am."

"Oh Miss Sterling!" cried Nina gratefully, "if I ever thought I should look like you!"

"Why not? You are tall and slim, very much my build at your age, and as you grow and fill out, your skin will grow clearer; I am not nearly so dark as when I was fifteen."

This was the best news Nina had ever heard. She kissed Stella's hand in her gratitude.

Stella was not demonstrative, but she leaned over and tenderly pressed her lips to thin, brown cheek, thereby winning Nina's heart forever.

When Mr. Jameson came home to dinner, he was no less surprised than delighted to find the two young ladies in the parlor smiling and happy, and evidently the very best of friends. Nina's hair which was glossy and thick, was fashionably arranged, a soft fringe falling on the brow, and the rest of the jetty locks forming a thick braid. A frill of white set close around the thin neck, and falling ruffles of lace concealed the thin wrists.

"Why, the child is actually pretty!" exclaimed Mr. Jameson in his astonishment. He had shaken hands with Stella cordially, and then turned to his niece.

"Oh, Uncle Jameson," cried Nina, "I am so glad you found Miss Stella; she is such a dear, kind lady, I shall be good with her; I love her already."

"Yes, I knew you would," replied the old gentleman. "Miss Sterling will teach you all that a young lady ought to know, and you must make her happy by being obedient and dutiful."

This was much better than going to a mad-house. Her uncle had said she was "pretty," and it was all Stella's doings. She began to regard Miss Sterling with an affection that was almost adoration. How happy she was! She could not help smiling even to Mrs. Auld when she met her on the stairs. Stella had looked over all her garments which were gaudy and in bad taste, simply telling Nina that they were "too old" for present wear.

"By the time she is older she will know better than to wear them," she said to herself, and it was proof how great an ascendancy she had gained over the creole when she obeyed her request to abstain from wearing any but the simplest jewelry until after she had finished with the school-room.

"A pretty ring and a breastpin are all young ladies should wear till they are out,'" she said gravely.

"What does 'out' mean?"

"It is an English term, and a girl is 'out' when she has made her debut in society. When you finish your education your uncle will give a large ball or reception and introduce you to all his friends, and the newspapers will announce that Miss Nina Dunlap has made her debut and entered society. Then all the people will call on you, and you will be invited out with your uncle."

Nina's eyes sparkled. What a delightful prospect! This was just what she had told her friends in Santa Cruz, and it was all to be accomplished through this dear, delightful Miss Sterling, whom she had abused so!

"Oh, Miss Stella," she said, hugging the governess ardently, "but you won't leave me when that happens, will you? Can't you stay and put it in the papers that you are 'out' too?"

Stella smiled rather bitterly.

"I came out a long time ago, Nina, more than two years ago."

"Did you? And did you have a lovely time, and—and—lovers?"

"Oh no. Nothing of that kind," said Stella, hastily. "Come, now, let me see the books you brought home from the New York school. Madame Vignette! Why, that is my old school!"

"Is it? Isn't it a horrid den?"

Stella smiled.

"No, I would not call it a horrid den," she said; "but never mind about it."

So it happened that Stella had, as Mrs. Auld said, "tamed the tiger-cat."

(To be continued).

FELL DEAD.

What More Every-day Heading do you Read in This Paper than that?—They are Legion.

Don't dally with heart disorders. There is but one cure. "I had been for a number of years sorely afflicted with heart disease. At times my life was despaired of. Doctors had prescribed, and I had taken every known heart remedy made, I had supposed, and did not get any benefit. I read of the wonderful cures wrought by Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. I procured a bottle, and in less time almost than it takes to tell it, the distress was relieved. I followed the directions closely and to-day I am a well woman again, and I shall do all in my power to make known to everyone suffering as I did the wonderful cure it worked for me. Mrs. Wm. SIX DAYS OF ROYAL BARGAINING

IN EVERY DEPARTMENT AT

R. H. Kells & Co.

Six Days of Unusually Early Summer Reductions all over the Store, starting SATURDAY of this Week and ending with SATURDAY of Next Week—The Two Saturdays Included.

We intend to wind up the last week in May with a Wholesale General Reduction in Prices, in gratitude for the remarkably successful spring season's business up-to-date. On SATURDAY, MAY 21st, the whole of our new, clean, fresh selected stock of Summer Goods will positively be sold AT and BELOW COST. During these six Days we are going to sell TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS WORTH OF GOODS, being an average of $333.33 per day. We can do it, for the prices must do the selling. The public know that we do as we say, without pretence of any kind. Every regular shopper at this store knows well that we have been selling goods at closer prices than other stores doing excessive advertising; but for these Six Days, prices will be CUT TO THE QUICK.

The principle attractions during this Six Days' Sale will be in goods particularly in demand by ladies at this season, such as:—Summer Silk and Dress Stuffs, Black Crepons, Plain and Fancy Lustres, Cloth Suitings, Summer Dress Waists and Corsets, Hosiery and Underwear, Parasols, Millinery and Jackets, Table and Bed Linen, Factory and Bleached Cottons, Shirtings, Sheetings, Towelling, Cretonnes, Lace Curtains, Portiers, etc.

When every item in the store will be cut in price, and Sweeping Reductions will affect every department, it would be useless to quote prices fully; but such facts as these will indicate the general trend of the figures:—

50 Ladies' and Children's Jackets,	worth $4 to $10, each	$1.00
100 Ladies' Print Wrappers,	- -	83c, $1.10, $1.25
20 dozen Ladies' Blouses,	worth 75c and $1.00, - -	44c
450 Ladies' Parasols, plain and shot effects, about Half Price.

Nothing will be offered at regular prices. No unworthy goods will be put forward, no matter how cheaply they may be offered. The relation of this store to the community is such that we cannot afford to resort to "jewing."

LOVELY LIVELY LAKEFIELD

Its Flourishing Industries and Summer Advantages Graphically Depicted

Its Opportunities Told—Its Resources Unfolded—Its Business Men Described, and Its Beauties Said to be Beyond Description

Lakefield and the Lakes

If the fertility of the central counties of Western Ontario entitle that half to be termed the garden of Canada, with equal propriety do the the central counties of the Eastern half give good title to its claim to be known as Picturesque Canada. And of this portion the Midland District, of which the Thousand Islands is but a continuation, offers, at its center in Stony Lake, a most remarkable kaleidoscope of nature. With eight hundred islands of all sizes and shapes, enclosed in an area two miles long and about two miles wide, with water as clear as crystal, reflecting upon its surface at nightfall every image mirrored there—truly a sunset on Stony Lake leaves upon the mind an indellible impression of weird and fantastic beauty. But if in the evening its influence leads to reflection, no less in the heat of the day do its clear limpid waters invite to cooling embraces; and the vigorous will nowhere find in more indulgent quantities that elasticity which comes from the re-action of a morning plunge, and which carries them with bright eye and springing step throughout the day. On its waters the lover of fantastic nomenclature can pass through "Hello Gate" and perch upon the "Devil's Elbow." The believer in the "Banshee" who will take a walk of one hundred yards on the north shore off "Hurricane Point," can visit Fairy Lake, which has neither visible inlet or outlet, and amuse himself by trying to fathom the depth of its four acres of water. Many have tried, but none have succeeded. It is known to be more than two hundred feet, how much more no one knows. Its waters are chilling cold, and its white marl bottom shows clear at immense depths, without a fish to break the view. The traveller who goes to the head of Stony Lake will get a wondrous view of the Blue Mountains, and, landing, can visit Canada's celebrated mica mines. The Islands are of all sizes and shapes—some bare rocks others covered with luxuriant verdure; everywhere changing views and new beauties.

Stony Lake is only one of dozens in the Midland District; true, it is more islanded than the others, and offers better facilities for cottages, but on every lake, on every island, there are views of wonder, views of beauty. Nature being governed by laws cannot be a fickle jade, but she manages nevertheless to introduce contrarities in a most remarkable manner. Just south of Stony Lake, with its eight hundred islands, lies Clear Lake, a body of water five miles long and one wide, without a single island, and east again of this lies a large lake known as Lake Chemong or Mud Lake, the latter name sufficiently describing its beauties (?) South of Clear Lake is Lake Katchawanooka (Many Rapids), and at the lower end of this lake the Otonabee River commences; and at this point cosily nestled in a basin lies lovely, lively Lakefield—growing, and as it grows gradually climbing the surrounding hills.

North-west of Stony Lake and running clear into Georgian Bay, is an innumerable series of lakes and rivers, large and small, islandless and studded with islands, constituting the waterway to the finest combined shooting and fishing frounds on the continent, and being themselves the finest fishing waters in Ontario. Here may be tempted with rod or line maskinonge, bass and trout, and here may be laid with gun, deer, duck and grouse, and the adventurer who seeks more exciting sport will find it in bear, wolf and lynx.

But it is not alone of sport that much herein might be said. This system of lakes and rivers from the route of the nearly completed Trent Valley Canal. Entering at Matchedash Bay an arm of Georgian Bay, and continuing southeast until it emerges into the Bay of Quinte below Trenton, this canal is destined in the near future to play no unimportant part in the development of the West and North-West. It is shorter by some six hundred miles than the route through the Detroit River and Welland Canal. The upper portion is nearly all completed, except one section of thirteen miles upon which work is about to commence. South of Peterborough the channel through Rice Lake and the Trent River needs improvement. It is the stretch of the Otonabee River between Peterborough and Lakefield that demands the most excavation, and that mostly through rock. But the very necessity here noticed has been the making of Peterborough, and will, as Lakefield becomes better known, make it no unworthy rival of its large neighbor. Railroads are said to make or destroy towns and cities but even railroads are forced to to acknowledge natural advantages and it may not be long ere the C. P. R. must meet its great rival at the head of the Otonabee. Between Lakefield and Nassau, a point six miles below it on the river, there have been constructed five dams and five locks the largest and most important of the former being at Lakefield, and furnishing the head for the great water power.

Lakefield

is in the County of Peterborough, ten miles north of the town of Peterborough, which is on the main line of the C. P. R. and immediately connected with the main line of the G. T. R. Its population of fifteen hundred enjoy all the advantages of modern life. It has a fine electric light service, and also a local system of telephones, as well as connection with all the large cities through the trunk line. Its school accommodation is up to date, consisting of a central school under the direction of a male principal and four assistants, as well as a ward school, looked after by a male teacher. It has a full complement of churches belonging to the different denominations—Episcopalian, Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist and Roman Catholic, while the town is so orderly that a policeman is rarely needed; still if the occasion arises the officer will be there. It has two mails daily, and is the distributing point for a number of surrounding post offices. It has daily stages from several points. It has in the season three trains daily over the G. T. R. from Peterborough. From its doors three steamers ply daily to the upper lakes. It is the official headquarters of the Indian Agent for the Stony Lake Reserve, as well as of both the Provincial and Dominion Fishery Inspectors for the district. Its public interests are looked after by a Reeve—Mr. J. F. Lillicrap—and four councillors—Messrs. J. R. Fraser, M. D., J. O. Burgis, James Moore and Robt. Bradin.

It has a town hall constructed at a cost of ten thousand dollars. In this is kept the Waterous steam fire engine, which with a hook and ladder truck and two hose reels running ten thousand feet of hose, afford ample protection against fire. Here also is the distributing station, and free reading room of its public library, which contains over one thousand volumes and out of which eighteen hundred were taken the year just closed. The reading room, which is open three nights in the week is well supplied with magazines and periodicals.

Perhaps to an intending residenter the most important item to take into consideration in selecting a place of residence is the rate of taxation. In this Lakefield shines. Her rate has averaged thirteen mills for several years. This makes Lakefield a very desirable place of residence for retired people and those with fixed incomes.

Broken stone from the canal excavations was placed on three miles of the streets last year, making the main streets of the village unequalled perhaps in the Dominion; add to this its six miles of sidewalk, its full complement of sewers, its main street watered, its dark places lighted by electricity, and its telephones at $15 a year and Lakefield becomes a very desriable place of residence.

Docks and Shipping

The Grand Trunk Railway, in order to handle its large business, and especially the vast quantities of timber brought down the lakes every year, the running and rafting of which ends at Lakefield, were obliged to build a dock four hundred feet in length. The Dominion Government has also built, at right angles to that of the G. T. R. a dock five hundred feet long. Then there is besides over a hundred feet of private docking. A number of private yachts owned by Americans winter-port here. Three fine steamers leave the Government dock every day in the season and make the tour of Stony Lake. The largest, the Sunbeam, owned by Messrs. White and Grills, Capt. Millige, can accommodate two hundred passengers. The Golden City, Capt Reynolds, which carries the mail, can accommodate one hundred and seventy-five passengers. The Majestic of Young's Point, Capt. Stoddard, meets the early train every morning, and also makes the tour of the lakes. All three of these boats are under the management of competent and gentlemanly officers, and a sail on any one of them is truly a pleasure trip.

As a Manufacturing Center

With a water power inexhaustible in supply and having a head of fifteen feet, Lakefield is in a position to offer splendid manufacturing facilities. When to this is added the fact that the whole upper country is covered with magnificent birch, cedar, hemlock, and such hardwoods as ash, beech, maple and elm, it seems strange that neither a furniture factory nor a wood-pulp mill has as yet been established here. Both would find everything to their hand. The Scott Limits, owned by Dickson & Co., have enough white pine to last them about fifteen years, and they expect to start cutting in July in their large new mill at Lakefield. This mill, which has a capacity of 125,000 feet a day. This mill is fitted up throughout with most modern machinery, has steam elevators and a saw-dust consumer. The main building alone covers an area of 150 feet by 60 feet. There is also near by two large planing mills, owned, the one by Jonathan Griffin, the other by

J. F. LILLICRAP & CO.

This firm commenced business in Lakefield in 1894. When running at full capacity they employ fifteen hands. They have a full complement of lathes and other manufacturing machinery. They carry a large stock of manufactured material, as well as undressed lumber, and are builders of dwellings, and especially summer cottages. The head of the firm, Mr. J. F. Lillicrap, after being a member of the council for seven years, retired in order to be elected reeve, which office he now holds, having been elected by acclamation for last term. Mr. Lillicrap takes a great interest in the progress of the community, and is at all times only too glad to furnish information to enquirers. The other member of the firm, Mr. J. F. Moore, is also a member of the council.

Lakefield has two very extensive grist mills. The smaller one, the Trent Valley mills, have a capacity of 175 barrels a day; the other, the Hull mill, has a capacity of 250 barrels a day. Both are working at full capacity. Mr. J. Griffin, the owner of one of the planing mills, has in contemplation the erection of a third flour mill on a co-operative plan. When this is accomplished Lakefield will be one of the largest flour milling centers in Canada. There are three canoe manufacturers here—Messrs. T. Gordon, Brown and STRICKLAND & CO.

This firm started in business here in 1892, and have for the past five years averaged two hundred canoes a year for the English market and practically monopolize it. They use only the best material, employ the most skilful workmen, and have a superior model. They have just completed an order for one hundred Klondike canoes, which are giving great satisfaction. They also do an extensive business in renting canoes, skiffs, etc.

Lakefield offers a splendid opening for the manufacture of all kinds of wooden-ware.

As a Mercantile Center

Lakefield is the center of a fine farming country, and as a consequence contains a large number of business houses of unquestionable standing and carrying heavy lines of stock to meet the ever-increasing demand. Although but a large village Lakefield has within its borders one store which would be a credit to any city, in that of

MADILL BROS.

Away back some years ago two young men began clerking in a village store. They were open to learn and soon understood the business, and it was but a short time ere they started in for themselves, and Goddess Prosperity seems to have made them favorites. For a number of years they ran a general store on the old credit style, but about two years ago they switched to the cash system, dropping their grocery and allied lines, and they are to-day the only purely Dry Goods and Clothing store in Lakefield. They carry a $16,000 stock of dry goods, ready-made clothing, gents furnishings, boots and shoes and hats and caps. The Messrs. Madill—J. E. and J. S.—also own the electric light plant of the village, and their success in operating the home plant led them to branch out. They are now owners of the Whitby plant and are said to be looking around for other worlds to conquer.

R. GRAHAM & CO.

This is where the ladies come in. The Messrs. Graham are the only house in the village carrying a full line of millinery. But this of course is hidden up stairs out of sight of prying male eyes. After the visitors to their store have seen their large stock of dry goods, gents furnishings, boots and shoes, hats and caps; and their ready line line of choice groceries, he may be invited upstairs, and after viewing a large room full of crockery and such things, he enters the sanctum of the milliner; and there language fails him. A dude might manage but a male man is helpless before an array of millinery. The Messrs. Graham also make a specialty of supplying camping parties with canned fruits and meats, etc.

J. C. SHERIN & CO.

Away back in the early days when Lakefield was only cutting its first teeth, Mr. J. C. Sherin started the first store in the village, and with the exception of a short interval he has stayed with it ever since, and the large store now full of goods, as well as the handsome residences of himself and his son, Mr. J. H. Sherin, would indicate that the business stayed by him. This firm carry a large well-selected assortment of staple and fancy dry goods, mantles, furs hats and caps, ready-made clothing, boots and shoes, hats and caps, as well as groceries and crockery. Mr. Sherin the elder has served in a number of official capacities, but at present holds no office.

In an agricultural and manufacturing community no business is more important than the hardware and tinware lines; and no village of its size in the province can show as large a stock of those kinds of goods as is that of

W. H. CASEMENT.

It would take a column of this paper to enumerate the kinds of goods Mr. Casement carries, but without exhausting the patience of the reader notice may be taken of shelf and heavy hardware; rifles and Winchester repeating shot guns, and ammunition; paints and oils and especially Unicorn mixed paints; tinware of all kinds and tinsmithing, and enamelled ware; pocket cutlery, scissors, etc.; stoves of all kinds and makes, and all guranteed; screen wire for windows and doors; bicycle supplies and repairing; and yet a commencement has hardly been made. Mr. Casement commenced business in his present stand in 1875. He was Reeve of the village for ten years and retired to become a County Councillor, which office he now holds. Mr. Casement is also Postmaster of Lakefield.

The discussion of the hardware business introduces that other dealer in precious metals (precious ones this time), the watchmaker and jeweller, and the trade finds in Lakefield a worthy representative in

H. R. PATTERSON.

Mr. Patterson started in business here in 1878. In 1890 he suffered a severe loss ($1,500) his safe being blown open and his stock burglarized to that large extent. Mr. Patterson, who is cata-corner to the post office, carries to-day as ever a very full line of all the goods usually found in a first-class jewellery store. He makes a specialty of repairing high-grade watches and tourists needing his services can rely upon his skill and workmanship.

From metal to wood is but a step, as the village wit said when he stepped from Mr. Patterson's to his next-door neighbor.

"Friends Say My Cure is a Miracle"

Paine's Celery Compound Did the Wonderful Work After Doctors and Ordinary Medicines Failed

Raised From Helplessness to Vigor and True Life

Health and Long Years the Portion of All Who Use Paine's Celery Compound

The almost miraculous cure of Mr. A. Daignault, of St. Hyacinthe, P.Q., by Paine's Celery Compound is already ready too well known to require any minute details. This important case is still the leading topic of conversation of the business and professional men, clergy and everday people of St. Hyacinthe, and is another strong proof of the claims established long ago, that "Paine's Celery Compound makes people well.

We recommend the following letter to the attention of every sufferer in Canada:

Wells & Richardson Co.

Dear Sirs,—I desire to say that had it not been for your Paine's Celery Compound, I would not be living to-day. Five years ago I was taken sick, and suffered from dyspepsia and catarrh. For three years I was unable to work, and would lose consciousness several times a day. I was tired of life and could realize that death was my only deliverance from suffering.

At that time one of my friends urged me to use Paine's Celery Compound. As all other medicines had failed I tried your Compound merely to please my friends. The first bottle did truly produce good results, and I got strong enough to walk a little. After using one bottle with such benefit I bought six bottles more, and from regular use of the medicine I am as well as ever before in my life, can do a full day's work and my appetite is fully restored.

My friends say my cure is a miracle as I was surely condemned to die. I cannot thank you sufficiently for your wonderful life-giving medicine. I send this testimonial for the benefit of all who are sick and suffering, and can assure them that Paine's Celery Compound will cure.

Yours truly,
Albert Daignault,
St. Hyacinthe, P.Q.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

Apprentice Wanted

A good stout boy is wanted at The Times Bindery to learn bookbinding.

Queen's Birthday

The steamer City of Peterborough has been chartered by the Salvation Army for the Queen's Birthday. There will not be any dancing on the boat, but the other events will be run off as advertised. A full programme of sports at Jubilee Point. Tickets have been reduced to 40 cents for adults and children 20 cents. H. Calcutt, Manager, P. N. Co., (Limited).

A Snap for the Merchants

A week from to-day there will probably be five or six hundred farmers in town from Alnwick and points on Rice Lake, as the City of Peterborough will carry a large excursion to town on that date. On June 3rd, it is expected, there will be as many more from Bewdley and Gore's Landing brought here under the ausipces of the Epworth League. They will arrive at 11 a.m., and leave again at 4, which will afford ample time to purchase goods.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles

Symptoms—Moisture intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate and become very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. All druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia., Lyman Sons, & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents. Positively refuse all substitutes.

COULD DO NO WORK.

"Large sores broke out on my body, head and limbs, and also on my hands, so that I could not do any work, and my hair came out. My trouble was called eczema. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken several bottles the sores and itching disappeared and I was cured." Mrs. J. G. Brown, Brantford, Ont.

HOOD'S PILLS are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Cure all liver ills.

THE BOYS IN RED

All Preparations Have Been Made for the Great Kingston Outing

The Parade Last Night Largely Attended and Everybody Enthusiastic The Orders Issued A Big Time Ahead for the Citizen Soldiers'

The "Rangers' turned out in large numbers at last night's drill. The trip to Kingston has been instrumental in adding largely to the strength of the battalion and our citizens may expect to see the "boys in red' turn out in full strength to-night for their outing to Kingston.

The battalion will leave the drill hall at 9 o'clock, proceeding down George street to the C. P. R. station, where they will entrain for Kingston.

The following orders were issued last night:

Headquarters.
Peterborough. May 20. 1898.
Orders by Lieut.-Col. R. W. Bell, Commanding 57th Batt., Peterborough Rangers:

No. 1.—The Commanding Officer has been pleased to make the following promotions: A Co.—To be Sergt. (prov.), Pte. Layfield, vice Cheverill, retired; A Co.—To be corporal (prov.), Pte. Mulligan, vice Webster, resigned.

No. 2—Attention is directed to orders No. 2 to 7, of, the 16th inst.

No. 3.—Captains of companies will detail one man from their respective companies to look after baggage.

By order,
GEO. MATTHEWS,
Capt. and Acting-Adjt.

The orders, from 2 to 7, inclusive, referred to in order No. above, are as follows:

No. 2. The Battalion will parade in review order on Saturday, May 21st, at nine o'clock sharp, and proceed to the C. P. R. station and there entrain for Kingston.

No. 3. Each N. C. O. and man will provide himself with towel, soap, brushes and blacking, and the necessaries for cleaning all brasses, belts, etc., also with hair brush, comb and change of socks.

No. 4. Ball bags and haversacks will be issued immediately after parade to-night.

No. 5. Every man must appear on parade with all clothing, buttons, badges, numerals, buckles and belt thoroughly cleaned, also boots properly cleaned. No colored boots can be worn. Hair must also be properly cut.

No. 6. The front plates of the helmets, badges on forage caps, and numerals on shoulder straps being regimental property, there must be no account be given away or exchanged by any N. C. O. or man. Any one so disposing of them will be punished.

No. 7. Any extra baggage required to be taken by any of the companies bands etc., must be brought to the drill hall on Saturday night, whence it will be sent to the station in charge of company orderlies.

THE MORNING TIMES

Peterboro's Popular Paper Passes all Previous Records

Mr. Alex. Couch returned from Lakefield and Young's Point yesterday, where he has been for ten days in his capacity of outside circulation manager for the Times. Mr. Couch's success has been phenomenal. He placed a copy of the Daily Times in nearly every house in the village and suburbs. The names that have been secured are permanent subscribers—that is, they have subscribed, in most cases, for a full year—so that a steady circulation is assured for the future, which is more liekly to increase than diminish.

Mr. Couch will take up Havelock, Norwood, Keene, Warsaw, Millbrook, Omemee, Lindsay, and many other points as rapidly as possible, and, judging from the great results obtained in Lakefield, he hopes to add several thousand new names to our lists during the coming summer.

How to Cure all Skin Diseases

Simply apply "Swayne's Ointment." No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, &c., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for Swayne's Ointment. Lyman. Sons & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents. Avoid imitations.

Death of Dr. Hart

We regret to be forced to chronicle the death of Dr. Hart, L.D.S., of Lindsay, which sad event occurred on Thursday. Dr. Hart was the son of Mr. John Hart, Bethune street, and a brother of Mrs. Robert Arnott, of this town. The deceased had been suffering from consumption of the throat and bronchial tubes for some months. He spent some weeks on a visit to his parents here, in the early spring, in the hope of obtaining relief, but returned home without experiencing any change. He was highly esteemed and enjoyed a large and lucrative practice in his native town. Dr. Hart was a widower and leaves an only son aged 11 years. The funeral will take place to-day.

Chosen Friends

A branch of the Order of Chosen Friends has been established in town with the following officers:

P.C.—Friend F. J. Jameson.
C.C.—F. J. Bradd, M.D.
V.C.—Mrs. J. H. Powell.
Recorder—A. C. Herridge.
Asst. Recorder—Mrs. Dr. Bradd.
Treasurer—W. H. Gordon.
Prelate—Mrs. J. Penrose.
Marshal—Robt. McGill.
Warden—Mrs. J. T. Pue.
Organist—Mrs. F. J. Jameson.
Guard—F. L. Scollie.
Sentry—Thos. Magee.
Trustees—T. B. Staples, D. J. Hooey, John Kerr.

Mr. T. Z. Webster, who has been a baker, confectioner, and restauranter for the past ten years in Lakefield, has determined to place his business on a cash basis. He also wishes to do away with the delivery end of his trade, and as an inducement thereto he will sell the 14c loaf hereafter for 12c. This price, of course is regulated by the present price of flour, and subject generally thereto; of course, if delivery is demanded the old price will have to be paid. All those who wish to call for their bread and pay cash can save 2c. a loaf.

A SHOCKING DEATH

Alex. Smith, of Dummer, Trampled to Death by a Vicious Bull

Mr. Alexander Smith, a well known resident of Dummer, met his death in a shocking manner shortly before ten o'clock yesterday morning. It appears that he was leading an Ayrshire bull down to water, when in some manner the brute overcame him and trampled him to death. He left the barn leading the animal by a rope down to a spring. It is supposed that the bull escaped in some way and attacked him and that Mr. Smith ran backwards towards the house. It evidently overtook him in the barnyard, for there his boy found him lying dead on the ground with the bull standing over the prostrate body. There was every evidence that Mr. Smith had met a terrible death death for the chest and ribs were crushed in and the body mangled. The annimal had been dehorned and must have knocked Mr. Smith down and afterwards butted and trampled him to death. When discovered there was no sign of life in the unfortunate was no sign of life in the unfortunate man's body.

Alexander Smith was one of the best known residents of Dummer, where he has lived for many years. He was about sixty years of age. He was a member of L.O.L. No. 284 and a Past County Master. He was an elder of the Presbyterian church at Warsaw and had been President of the Dummer and Douro Agricultural Society for many years. He was also a member of the Dummer township council for many years and established the Warsaw cheese factory, one of the best factories in the county. He leaves a wife and family. The entire community will be shocked to learn of his sudden and tragic death.

GREAT OUTING

Farmer's Ninth Annual Picnic at Jubilee Point

For eight years the farmers of East and West Peterborough, East and West Northumberland, and East Durham, have assembled at Jubilee Point, Rice Lake, and enjoyed an outing in June—just previous to the busy season of harvesting.

This year the picnic will be held on Thursday, June 9th, just a day earlier than last year. In every detail this great reunion will excel that of previous years. The arrangements—down to the smallest details—were never more perfect, and the picnic this year will eclipse in grandeur and magnitude all previous efforts.

Returned Home

Mr. William Snowden, of the Snowden House, returned home last night from Clifton Springs, N. Y., much benefitted in health. His many friends will be glad to hear that Mr Snowden's trip proved so beneficial and to learn that his health is so much improved.

Officers Elected

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Mission Circle, of the Park Street Baptist church, the following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. M. Mowry.
Vice-President—Mrs. T. G. Gillespie.
Treasurer—Mrs. A. L. Grover.
Secretary—Miss M. Mann.
Collectors—Mrs. R. Wright and Mrs. J. Booth.

Excursion to Jubilee Point

The Salvation Army has chartered the steamboat City of Peterborough, and palace barges attached, for a trip to Jubilee Point on Tuesday, May 24th. S. A. brass and string bands in attendance. Ice cream and other refreshments on board the boat. Everybody cordially invited. Return tickets, adults 40c, children 20c. This excursion is under the control of the Salvation Army, and will be run on army lines. For particulars see small bills. Ensign Kerr in command.

Last Night's Attraction

"The Dear Irish Home," a play of Irish life, filled with exciting scenes and patriotic sentiment, was presented by the Dan McCarthy company at Bradburn's opera house last night. In the play the comedy element is strongly developed and the characterizations unusually good. Incidentally, there was introduced some very taking songs and specialties. The company is "all the way," and will appear again to-night with an entire change of programme.

LOVELY LIVELY LAKEFIELD

er." Mr. Hendren is an old-timer, having started in business in 1863. His credit is of such a high order that he gets the choice of the factories, and is enabled to keep constantly stocked with the best makes and latest styles of all kinds of furniture. A visit to his store and overflow warerooms will well repay curiosity. Mr. Hendren makes a specialty of outfitting summer cottages.

In a place like Lakefield, the terminus of a railroad and the starting point for the steamers, no business is more necessary than a livery. Lakefield has three, Calder & Co., Hendren Bros and JOHN COOPER.

Mr. Cooper started in 1888. He carries the mails and operates a cab to and from the boats and G. T. R. station. He has twelve horses in his stables and is ready at all hours to furnish all sorts of vehicles, single, double or tandem, as well as furnish large parties with carryalls.

In 1889 a small ordinary bake shop was started in Lakefield by

T. Z. WEBSTER.

A year after Mr. Webster moved into the commodious quarters he now occupies where his business has grown to its present large dimensions. He carries a large stock of confectionery and pastry, and is prepared to furnish parties with lunch on the shortest notice. Mr. Webster is going to put in an oven on Juniper Island, Stony Lake, and will be prepared to furnish cottages with all kinds of bread and pastry on shortest notice.

The baker suggests the butcher, and in

W. F. TRUDE

Lakefield has one of the best men in his line. He has been in business for a number of years understands how to buy so as to be able to sell to advantage, and is employed constantly by those who desire their own stock dressed. Mr. Trude is ready at all times to furnish cottages with the choicest cuts at reasonable prices.

Lakefield possesses a tradesman in the person of the tailor, who won first prize in London, England, over competitors from all parts of the world. A photo was furnished of the model and a pattern was to be cut and forwarded, and Mr. Fischer won. He has been in business in Lakefield for six years, and does a large trade keeping four tailoresses busy. Mr. Fischer gets considerable work from Peterborough.

The medical profession is well represented in Lakefield as in all summer resorts, the oldest practitioner being who has been in practice there for thirty-three years. Dr. Bell is senior coroner of the county, having held the office for fifteen years. He also acted for ten years as assistant surgeon of the Peterborough Rangers. Dr. Bell has been clerk of the village for fifteen years and is one of the most efficient clerks in the province. He is also Medical Health Officer of the village.

About ten years ago

who had practiced for ten years previous to that in Metcalfe, Carleton Co., removed to Lakefield for the health of his family. The Dr. is a graduate of McGill in the class of '78. He has a very large general practice.

The drug business is well represented by two large establishments, both carrying a more extensive stock than is usual to village drug stores.

E. A. TANNER.

in whose store the "hello" central is situated, has been in business in Lakefield for a number of years. His business is of such an extent that he can guarantee fresh drugs, which is an important item in prescription work. Mr. Tanner also carries a large and varied stock of stationery.

As a Summer Resort

When all has been said about Lakefield its desirability as a summer resort will stand out preeminently being the entry port to the Stony Lake region alone would be sufficient to stamp it with approval. But with its elevation, its clear pure water, its bracing atmosphere, its absence of typhoid, death occurs only from old age. A test of all well waters can be obtained from the medical health officer on application. Its death rate is exceedingly low, and would be lower were it not that old and retired people and those who despair of life often come here only to die.

Lakefeld has three good hotels—the Queens Robert Munro proprietor, which makes a specialty of catering to the commercial trade; the Midland W. J. Lenhey, proprietor, which gets the bulk of the farming trade; and the which is one of the most complete summer resort hotels in Eastern Ontario. This house, which came into the possession of John Craig, the present proprietor and a well-known Peterborough business man about two years ago has been re-painted and repapered and refitted throughout. Although a summer resort hotel it has been full all winter, which is an exception so far as summer resort hotels are concerned. The Craig House is between the G. T. R. station and the docks, and only a few steps from both. Its table is known as one of the best, and its bar is o. k. Mr. Craig does a large local business, especially with his old neighbors of Peterborough, and this perhaps is the highest recommendation he could receive.

LOCALS

Lakefield possesses a baker's half dozen of very unpublic spirited citizens.

"Jimmy" has broken loose again. Will not some of his friends please hold him, or he may injure himself with his contortions.

These are the times for the Times.

Don't forget the football game at Young's Point to-day.

The concert in aid of the Library was postponed until the evening of Tuesday, May 24th.

SPECIAL FOR THE LADIES

Silcoton for crocheting, all colors, 5 cents a ball, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at Miss Melville's.

Not Exactly Right

"Not Sick Enough for the Bed or Well Enough For the Table."

A Minister's Wife Aptly Describes a Well Known Condition and Tells How It Was Overcome.

There are thousands of people in all walks of life, particularly at this season, who are "not exactly right" and yet are not sick, for whom a single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla would do a world of good, as it has done for others. Business and professional men as well as the busy housewife are especially susceptible to this debilitated feeling. It is the peculiar combination of the best tonic, anti-bilious, diuretic and alterative agents of the vegetable kingdom, carefully and scientifically combined, which enables Hood's Sarsaparilla to reach simple as well as serious ailments when all other medicines fail. Read Mrs. Hunt's letter:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I trust that the publication of my testimonial may serve to introduce Hood's Sarsaparilla to many who need physical improvement, and lead them to give it a trial. My husband, is a corpulent man weighing 230 pounds. He has taken Hood's Sarsaparilla every spring for the last eight years with good results. With the approach of spring he has had an indescribable feeling of ill health. 'Not sick enough for the bed or well enough for the table.' In a few words,

Rev. Granville Hunt

He Became Run Down

each year from constant mental and physical action. Hood's Sarsaparilla has relieved and invigorated him in every instance. Last month we purchased four bottles of the medicine. I took two of the bottles, being weak, Without Appetite and Vigor.

After I had used half a bottle of Hood's I realized quite an improvement and soon felt quite comfortable. I gained so much that I recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla to my nearest neighbor, who has had malarial symptoms. She has also taken the medicine and its effect upon her for good was almost magic. She has now prevailed upon her husband to take it to build him up. I have also given Hood's Sarsaparilla to my two little girls, one nearly 3 years old, who is not strong, consequently languid, and the other, 15 years old, for pimples which indicate bad blood and disfigure her complexion. Both have been helped by Hood's Sarsaparilla which I am glad heartily to recommend." MRS. G. HUNT, 101 West 31st Street, N. Y. City.

Japan Is Willing

THAT THE U. S. SHOULD OCCUPY THE PHILLIPINES

No Truth in the Rumors of a Great Naval Battle in Which Twelve U. S. Vessels Were Destroyed—An Immediate Naval Engagement is not Likely to Occur—Insurgent Leaders Join at Jamaica on Their Way to Washington

(Special Despatches to the Times, 4 a.m.)

JAPAN DOES NOT PROTEST

London, May 22.—The Paris correspondent of the Sunday special reports an interview with Secretary of State of the Japanese Legation, in the course of which the secretary declared that there was absolutely no foundation for the statement that Japan had protested against American occupation of the Philippines. The Japanese Government he said, after the Chinese war, signed a convention with Spain, renouncing forever territorial rights south of Formosa.

GREAT INDIGNATION IN MADRID

Madrid, May 22.—Great indignation is felt here over the statement contained in General Blanco's telegram that the American warships hoisted the Spanish flag before attacking Gauntanamo. The newspapers contain savage attacks upon America regarding the alleged action of the United States vessels.

INSURGENT LEADERS AT JAMAICA

Kingston, Jamaica, May 22.—Senor Mondez Capote, Vice-President of the Cuban Republic, who is on his way to Washington, arrived here yesterday. With him were Senors Manuel De Spaigue, his private secretary, Alberto Herrera, military aide, and Orencio Noarse, the Controller General, and commandant. They were taken off the Cuban coast twelve miles east of Cienfuegos, on Tuesday night, by the filibuster Captain Gervasio Safio, and had a tempestuous voyage of two days in an open three-ton sail boat. They were nearly swamped several times while journeying here from Montijo Bay with an Associated Press correspondents. Senor Capote, after hearing two week's news, and the truth regarding Manila victory, said, "I go to Washington to set forth the aspirations of the Provisional Government in conjunction with Senor Palma. I cannot disclose the precise nature of the representations. I shall make. Their object is to establish a firm understanding between the Governments, and to arrange a basis of co-operation in military designs, and a civil reorganization of the Island. We feel immensely grateful to the United States for their aid. The non-decisive character of the war so far is a little disappointing to us, but we know the American plans must be wise and certain in the end to effect the result striven for. The result for us is not liberty alone, but independence for the United States as well as Spain.

NUEVITASA SHELLED BY U. S. FLEET

Madrid, May 22.—An official despatch from Captain-General Blanco says: Some American warships shelledt he forts guarding the water approach to Nuevitasa, Province of Porto Principe, on Thursday night last. Senor Leon y Custillo, the Spanish Ambassador to France,, who was recently offered the portfolio of Minister of Foreign Affairs, had a long conference today with the Premier, Senor Sagasta. Absolute reticence is observed as to the matters discussed.

RUMORED BATTLE OFFICIALLY DENIED

Washington, May 22.—The rumors of a great naval battle current last night were disposed of by the Navy Department to-day in the following bulletin: "'Not ruth in the published statement concerning an engagement off St. Nicolas, Hayti, in which 12 ships were sunk.

This was posted not only for general information, but also to quieten the alarm among relatives and friends of those on board the American ships. As a rule, the department adopts the cautious phraseology of stating that no official information has been received, but to make assurance doubly sure in this case the department declared there was "no truth in the reports." This indicates that the official information is such as to warrant the statement that the American and Spanish squadrons have not met. The Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, where official despatches are received, was open throughout the day, but the officials were engaged in routine work, and there was no evidence of that activity which would attend the receipt of important information. In the absence of exact information as to the location of the two fleets, the serenity in naval circles was a fair indication that the official advices did not give promise of an immediate engagement. It is evidently the view of the war board that an engagement, if it can be brought on, will be decisive of the whole war, and there is no purpose to allow such momentous results to go off on a fluke or on a too precipitations move in deference to the public pressure for results, but to move firmly yet cautiously, and to insure a victory when there is a fight.

BIG BATTLE IMMINENT.

Key West, May 21. via Jacksonville, Fla.—To-night sees the close of the most intensely anxious and most vexatious day Key West has known since the war began. Everything indicates the proximity of a big naval battle with an unseen foe, which may appear at any one of several points, and possibly strike a blow and get away before force can be massed to crush them. Day break found Commodore Schley's squadron, that had sailed from Hampton Road on Friday, anchored off Sand Key Light, six miles below Key West. They had joined Captain Sigsbee's big greyhound the St. Paul, which left the Roads a day later than they did and beat them here almost a day and a half.

A PRESS RACE.

The appearance of the flying squadron was supplemented about 8.30 by two of the despatch boats that had been with Admiral Sampson's fleet, racing in, neck and neck, the Associated Press boat Dauntless in the lead. The necessity of cutting the cable at Santiago de Cuba has already been evidenced in Key West by several cablegrams from Madrid, via London, sent after the bloody fight at Cienfuegos last week, when the Marblehead's boats crew cut the cable at that point.

Admiral Sampson's fleet arrived here at 5 p.m. This confirmed the forecast made in these despatches on Sunday as to the whereabouts and intentions of these two fleets. Both had been slower in arriving than well posted naval officers here supposed at the time. All this was interesting enough, but not a word of it was allowed past the censor's office, and a corps of correspondents who had been beseiging the cable office all the morning were consequently helpless to get a line on the cable.

WILL STEAM TO HAVANA.

London, May 21.—The Chronicle's special from Madrid says Admiral Cervera telegraphs from Santiago de Cuba that he will wait to coal and water and will proceed as ordered. The Madrid special to the Daily Mail says that Admiral Cervera telegraphed that after coaling he would sail for Havana.

ENTHUSIASM IN MADRID.

New York, May 21.—A despatch to the World from Madrid, May 19, by way of the French frontier, says: There is great enthusiasm caused by the rumors that Admiral Cervera's squadron has succeeded in entering Havana. There is a perfectly absurd report that the battleship Cardinal Cisneros, the cruiser Princess Austurias and two other vessels have joined Cervera. The two first named ships will not be ready for months, and the only vessels ready at Cadiz were eight men-of-war composing the reserve fleet, with half a dozen auxiliary merchant cruisers. Admiral Camara, commander of the Cadiz squadron, has arrived at Madrid to confer with the Minister of Marine. Both decline interviews, even with Spanish reporters.

AN EARLY CONFLICT.

London, May 21.—The Madrid correspondent of The Chronicle telegraphs: "It is believed here that a conflict between the American warships and Admiral Cervera's fleet cannot be deferred long. The new Spanish cabinet desires to force the war to an issue, it is said, with a view to evoking intervention by the European powers as quickly as possible. The internal economic situation of Spain is known to be desperate."

A STRATEGIC VICTORY.

New York, May 21.—A despatch to The World from Berlin says: The newspapers here consider the arrival of the Spanish fleet at Santiago the result of brilliant seamanship, a distinct gain to the Spanish cause, and a strategic victory over Sampson.

HAS LEFT SANTIAGO.

New York, May 21.—An Evening World special from Washington says: It is believed at the Navy Department that Admiral Cervera has left Santiago de Cuba.

LANDED IN CUBA.

New York, May 21.—A despatch to the World from Key West, Fla., says: The smart little steamer Tecumseh has conducted two landings upon the Cuban coast, thirty-five miles apart, and both within six hours.

AN AMERICAN PROTEST.

Constantinople, May 21.—The United States Minister here, Mr. James B. Angell, has entered a protest with the Turkish Government against the action oft he authorities in refusing to grant passports to Americans so as to enable them to travel in the interior. In contravention of existing treaties, these passports are withheld from American citizens and British subjects only.

SUFFERINGS OF A CONSUL.

New York, May 21.—A despatch to The World from St. Thomas, W. I., says: Consular Agent Bordino, of Mayaguez, Porto Rico, has written that he does not dare to describe what he has undergone recently. San Juan advices say that the city has recovered from its panic. The injury done by Sampson's fleet to the forts has been repaired. The Spanish fleet is expected there.

RAN THE BLOCKADE.

Corunna, Spain, May 21.—The Spanish auxiliary cruiser Montserrat arrived here unexpectedly yesterday evening from Cienfuegos, having escaped the American blockading ships. Large crowds of people thronged the quays and the members of the crew received an ovation when they went ashore. The people embraced the captain and the officers of the steamer. Popular demonstrations followed throughout the city.

The commander of the Montserrat declared he was not charged with any mission and said he was not carrying despatches. But the Spaniards claim he is patriotically concealing the real facts in the case. The Montserrat is to be sent to Ferrol or Cadiz in order to have her guns mounted.

EXPLOSION WORKS HAVOC.

Madrid, May 21.—A despatch from San Juan, Porto Rico, says that there was an explosion in the fortress at Cartagena yesterday in which 10 men were killed and 62 injured, including the Governor of Porto Rico.

GOOD-BYE TO BERNABE.

Montreal, May 21.—Senor Polo and his staff sailed this morning for England on the Dominion Line steamer Dominion at 9 o'clock. It is stated that his secretary, M. Dubose, will remain off at Quebec for some time to reprot developments. The party were followed as far as Rimouski by U.S. secret service men.

The local Veterans Association have received an invitation to take part in the first camp fire and reunion of Veteran volunteers of '66, '70, and '85 to be held in St. Catharines on July 25th, 1898.

The Way Cobourg Does

At a meeting of the Cobourg Town Council, Councillor Bickle asked for information about the coming of Dan Godfrey's Band. Mayor Hayden repliedt hat when he learned that the band was coming to Canada, he communicated with the manager, Mr. Harris, who informed him that it would cost $500 to have the band stop at a town like Cobourg. However, after considerable negotiation had gone on between the Mayor and Mr. Harris, Mayor Hayden said that he succeeded in securing the band for one night. The Mayor stated that he informed the manager that he was desirous of securing something out of the proceeds of such a concert for Victoria Park and also for the Cottage hospital, in which several benevolently disposed ladies in the town are so deeply interested, and for which they have raised already $1,000 or $1,200. So an arrangement was effected whereby the band are to come and give a concert. Mr. Harrsi to assume all expenses and he, the Mayor said, promised to use the town liberally. Here is an example of enterprise worthy of imitation.

ON THE WAY TO KLONDYKE

Another Interesting Letter from Mr Thos. J. Kearney

We Publish Another Interesting Letter from Mr. T. J. Kearney, Formerly of Young's Point, While on the Way to the Klondyke Gold Fields. We are sure it Will be Read With Interest

Lake Marsh, N.W.T., April 26, 1898.

My last letter to you was written at Lake Tagish about two weeks ago, and was sent out to Skaguay by a traveller, and if he did not go that far he was to mail it at Bennett, so I put both an American and Canadian stamp on it. It old you in my letter that I would post it at Tagish, but when we reached there the sergeant of police said the mail only went out monthly, and I said, "When does it go?" and he said, "Yesterday." My heart dropped a foot, so I decided not to mail the letter there but send it out.

Mr. Strickland has charge of the station there, but was not in when I called to get my clearance, though I saw his wife and little boy. That morning we broke camp about 5.30 and arrived at the post at 2.30, and it was about 3.30 when we had dinner, and perhaps we were not hungry. The next morning we left about 6 o'clock, and at first the trail was fine but about 9 o'clock it got soft, and at 10.30 we went, taking cooking material and built an open fire to cook dinner, which consisted of oatmeal, mush, ham, [illegible] cakes and coffee. After eating we continued for about two hours and as the trail was very soft, we made camp. We got up at 3.30 the next morning, and that day had dinner here, which is the foot of the lake, where Billings and Russell got caught with the ice last fall, and we are now living in the cabin they built to live in during the winter. I suppose you understand they came in this far last fall and then returned to Seattle in January.

During the past week we have been sawing lumber and building a boat, and about two days will finish her. She is 21 feet long, 5 feet wide, and 3 deep, and she is to be named the 999, after the fast engine on the New York Central Railway.

To-morrow Russell is going to Tagish post, and I will send this letter with him—the last, probably, that you will receive till I write from Dawson.

About Monday we will start down the river, but cannot go very far on account of the ice. However, we might as well go as far as we can.

With the exception of a snowstorm Sunday evening we have had delightful weather—frost every night and bright days.

We are living well and enjoying good health. We had beefsteak for breakfast yesterday morning, but as the veneralbe beast had hauled a sled on the trail for many weeks, it was tough eating. This evening we had corn meal mush, beef stew, potatoes browned to a turn, bread, peach cobblers, and stewed apricots. For breakfast we usually have mush and hot cakes.

I have not seen a paper later than the date we left Seattle.

—Cobourg has increased in population 171 and $15,000 in assessment. It evidently pays to run summer boarding houses on a big scale. There is every indication that the rush of Americans to Cobourg this year will be greater than ever. All the hotels have booked every guest it can accomodate.

—Charles Gilchrist, the Fishery Inspector, is having trouble at Harwood. One night last week some parties filled his boat with stones and then scuttled it. The Inspector is on the war path and is bound if he can identify them to make it hot for the miscreants.

—It is said that gold has been discovered within a short distance of Haliburton, and that a company had been formed, rights secured and operations commenced. The gold bearing rock is reported to be quite rich enough in the precious metal to make mining profitable, and we hope the good news may prove to be true.

—The Bobcaygeon Independent says: Last Wednesday a meeting was held and Messrs. W. C. Moore elected President, S. H. Thorne, vice-president; W. J. Reid, secretary-treasurer of the electric railway that is being agitated to run between Bobcaygeon and Peterborough. Rev. Mr. Innis and J. T. Robinson are directors, and with such energetic representatives an electric railwayt o Bobcaygeon cannot be doubted.

—The conductors on the Grand Trunk railway are taking objection to the new regulation issued by the management of the road. This calls for an inspection of their watches by an expert, and if the watches vary over thirty seconds in a week they have to get new ones. The company offer to furnish substantial watches at $20. The watches are in future to have a weekly comparison and quarterlyi nspection.

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 23, 1898

THE PROPOSED ALLIANCE

It is reported that Bismarck does not altogether like the idea of an Anglo-American alliance, and his dislike may be sympathized with and comprehended. No European power would like to see such an alliance. Nor does he approve of the term "Anglo-Saxon" being applied to the Americans. "Theirs," he is reported to have said, "is a mixed blood, British, Irish, German, Scandinavian and French. The Anglo-Saxon does not even predominate." The same might be said of the individual calling himself an Englishman and his language shows an equal mixture. But this theory of Bismarck is not new. It has always been a favorite weapon with a certain class of Anglophobes in the United States. It was revived noly the other day by Mr. Michael Davitt, M.P., whose hostility to the nation in whose parliament he has a seat, is well known, a hostility which has certainly been provoked by harsh treatment, and the application of an ill-timed and mistaken policy. But there is another side to the question, and the New York Tribune has within a few days expressed itself strongly on the subject, and its views may be read with profit in connection with the declaration of the Iron Chancellor. The Tribune says:

It is scarcely conceivable that Mr. Davit believes himself when he says that 'the Anglo-Saxon in America is a mith.' If he does not he is the victim of an unparalleled delusion, for this statement is absolutely incorrect. "The Anglo-Saxon in America is the one great, dominant, triumphant fact in America to-day. It is true that Irishmen, Germans, Frenchmen, Dutchmen, and Norweigans are numerous, though that they constitute, as he says, three-fourths of the nation is a preposterous exaggeration. But Anglo-Saxons settled this country, in both Massachusetts and Virginia; they won the continent from the Dutch and Swedes and French and Spanish, who at first had a far greater foothold than they; they made it independent and they have developed it to its present magnificent state. To deny the Anglo-Saxon in America, as Mr. Davitt pretends to do, is to deny Plymouth and Jamestown, Washington and Grant, Lincoln and McKinley. It is true that the other nationalities mentioned by Mr. Davitt have greatly contributed to the growth of the nation both in masses and in individual leadership. But they have not become dominant, but have become assimilated, absorbed into the dominant old Anglo-Saxon stock, whether Puritan or Cavalier, so that just as the British are Norman and Saxon and Dane, but all British, so are we British and Irish and Teuton, but all American. And to be American is to be Anglo-Saxon. "Blood is thicker than water," and the blood that rules this continent is Anglo-Saxon blood, modified and enriched by alien mixtures, but still a part of the crimson tide that pulsates all around the globe and that confirms all English-speaking tribes and nations in a world-wide sympathy and unity of race.

Sir Wilfrid's neutrality—"We take no sides in this war. We observe a rigid neutrality. I may add that we would like to see the United States knock the stuffin' out of Spain."

According to a report issued recently by the Bureau of Industries, Belleville's assets amount to $318,207, while its liabilities amount to $168,234. Its indebtedness is larger than that of any other city in Canada. This is the city that is now submitting a by-law to its property holders, granting a bonus of $50,000, a site of ten acres, free water, exemption from taxation for ten years, and payment of duty on plant, to the Thames Iron Works, of Norwich, Conn., as an inducement to the company to remove its plant to Belleville.

THINKING ALOUD.

A Ruse Which Roused Lord Dudley and Formed a Friendship.

One of the earls of Dudley, who was addicted to the practice of thinking aloud, found himself in a very awkward predicament on a certain occasion, if a story told of him may be credited. He was to spend the evening at the house of a friend and ordered his carriage early, as he had a long drive back to his own home.

When the hour arrived, the carriage was not forthcoming. Seeing that Lord Dudley was considerably annoyed by the delay, one of the guests, whose way homeward lay past his lordship's house, politely offered him a seat in his carriage. The gentleman was almost a stranger to Lord Dudley, but the offer was accepted.

The drive did not prove a very sociable one. Lord Dudley took his seat and immediately relapsed into silence, his thoughts apparently engrossed by some unpleasant subject. Presently he began to speak in a low, but distinctly audible tone of voice, and his companion, to his astonishment, heard him say.

"I'm very sorry I accepted his offer. I don't know the man. It was civil certainly, but the worst is I suppose I must ask him to dinner."

Silence followed this bit of audible thinking. His lordship was unaware that he had betrayed his thoughts and was probably still meditating upon the same unpleasant subject when the voice of his companion broke the stillness.

Apparently this stranger was afflicted with the same malady from which his lordship suffered, for he exactly imitated Lord Dudley's tone as he said:

"Perhaps he'll think I did it to make his acquaintance. Why, I would have done the same to any farmer on his estate. I hope he won't ask me to dinner, for I shan't accept his invitation."

Lord Dudley's abstraction was all gone. He listened to the other's words, immediately comprehending the joke against himself, and frankly offered his hand to his companion, making many apologies for his involuntary rudeness.

The stranger proved magnanimous, and from that night the two became fast friends.—Youth's Companion.

Hebrew Texts of the Old Testament.

The most ancient Hebrew manuscript of any part of the Bible is in St. Petersburg and dates no earlier than the tenth century. More than 2,000 copies of the Hebrew Old Testament have been compared, and very few variations have been found. This is accounted for by the fact that from the time when the Hebrew canon was formed, and even before that time, very strict rules were laid down for the scribes who copied the Bible. The lines and letters were counted, and each copy had to correspond precisely with the one from which it was taken. They calculated, for instance, that there were 5,245 verses in the Pentateuch, 22,206 in the whole Bible and 78,100 letters in Genesis. All of these rules and calculations were called the Massorah tradition, and about the tenth century the college of rabbis of Tiberias, on the Euphrates, decided upon a standard Bible, or "authorized version."

The Hebrew consonants alone had been written down up to that time, the pronunciation being a matter of tradition. Now a system of vowel signs was devised, fixing the sense in many instances. The vowels are just as important in Hebrew as in English; so it is easy to see how necessary this reform was. The English consonants b r d may be read board or bread, or bored or braid, and if they occurred in a sentence without the vowels we should have to guess by the connection which vowels were necessary. It is possible that after a text had been adopted all older manuscripts were destroyed, or more probably were neglected because of their defects, and hence they have altogether disappeared.—Review of Reviews.

Scrofula is Snake-Like

in its subtlety. It lies hidden for years in the ambush of the blood, and when it strikes it voids its venom alike on strength and beauty, disfiguring the one and undermining the other.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is a specific for scrofula in its worst and most malignant forms. Scrofula is a blood disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a blood purifying medicine. Mineral medicines only drive scrofula below the surface. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a vegetable remedy and it eradicates the disease. There is no remedy for scrofula equal to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"I was cured of a long-standing case of scrofula by Dr. J. C. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The disease first manifested itself when I was a child, by breaking out in red blotches all over my body. I was not free from the trouble until I took several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. That effected a permanent cure."—MRS. E. H. SNYDER, Lehighton, Pa.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

Gibraltar, May 20.—The Spanish Government has decided to reinforce strongly the Spanish lines and towns of San Roque, Algeciras and Tariaf. A thousand infantry arrived yesterday at San Roque.

Washington, May 20.—Secretary Alger has sent to the Secretary of Treasury for transmission to Congress supplemental estimates of appropriations aggregating $88,638,340 required by the War Department for support of regular and volunteer armies of the United States for six months of fiscal year ending June 30th, 1899, in addition to amounts appropriated in the acts of March 15th, and May 4th, 1898. The principal items for which appropriations are asked as follows:—

Signal service of the army, $114,000; pay, etc. of the army, $4,017,804; pay for volunteers, $25,026,266; subsistence of army, $10,219,635; regular supplies, quarter master's department, $6,000,000; incidental expenses, quarter master's department, $2,500,000; horses for cavalry and artillery, $2,000,000; army transportation, $20,000,000 clothing and camp and garrison equippage, $130,000.

Washington, May 20.—The Navy Department posted the following bulletin at the close of office hours: "The Department has information which is believed to be authentic, that the Spanish squadron under Admiral Cervera is at Santiago de Cuba.

Madrid, May 20.—The Ministers in full uniform appeared in the Senate to-day. Owing to circumstances the new Cabinet is already named the Circumstantial Cabinet. The Premier, Senor Sagasta explained the ministerial crisis and asserted that the new ministry would continue the policy of the former ministry. He related how Spain did everything to avoid war until America, violating all recognized diplomacy, attacked Spain with an injustice unprecedented in annals of civilized history and compelled Spain to respond with war which Spain would continue to the utmost until an honorable peace is obtained. "This, the Premier continued, "is a strong policy, and the new Government will also energetically conduct negotiations with Europe and other States."

Count Penaramiro proposed the Senate's congratulations to Admiral Cervera on his arriving safely at Santiago de Cuba, and cleverly dodging American squadrons."

Captain Aunon, the Minister of Marine, responded in the name of the Navy, highly extolling Admiral Cervera. In so doing he said the arrival of the Spanish squadron in Cuban waters would cement the friendship of Cubans and Spain, and will prove to the world that Spain will never abandon Cuba while the mother country retains her vitality. The congratulations were voted unanimously. A Spanish official version of the engagement said to have taken place off Santiago de Cuba yesterday previous to arrival of Spanish fleet, says the American warships were repulsed, and adds that one of them was damaged.

Key West, May 20.—Over forty cases of ammunition were found to-day on the Spanish steamer Argamanta, captured during the first days of the war. It was on board this steamer that Lieut-Col. Cortijo, Weyler's brother-in-law, was captured with other Spanish soldiers, now prisoners in Fort McPherson.

New York, N.Y., May 20.—The U. S. ship Resolute, which was formerly passenger steamer Yorkton, of the Brooklyn navy yards to-day with a crew of 100 men all told, composed of regular blue jackets and some volunteers from New Jersey naval militia. While her destination is not officially given it is understood she will be used for the purpose of carrying troops from Tampa, or Key West to Cuba. The Resolute is one of most commodious and best ventilated vessels on which United States troops will be put aboard. A first class refrigerating plant and an improved system of ventilation were constructed on board of her. The ice making machine has a capacity of making ten tons per day.

St. Petersburg, May 20.—The public and press here are evincing great interest in the future of the Philippine Islands. Much hostility is manifested towards the scheme by which the United States, Great Britain, or Germany, individually or jointly, are to retain possession of the Islands, and some newspapers urge the Russian Government to endeavor to obtain from Spain a lease of some of the Philippine Islands, in order that they might serve as a Russian food base in the Pacific.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 20.—The transport steamer Justin sailed from League Island navy yard to-day. The Justin will proceed to Newport News to take on 2,000 tons of coal and provisions and will then go to Key West. She will probably be used to transport troops to Cuba, provision having been made for accomodating 1,000 men, besides the crew.

WILL GIVE BATTLE.

Key West, May 20.—Great activity prevails on all the warships here, and preparations are rapidly being made for sea. It is expected that Admiral Sampson will sail before night for the southeast coast of Cuba to give battle to the Spanish squadron under Admiral Cervera.

FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Barcelona, May 20.—Large forces of troops are embarding here for the Ppilippine Islands. They have been drawn from Catalonia, Andalusia, Aragon and Valencia.

THE FLEET'S ARRIVAL.

Madrid, May 20.—8 a.m.—At ten o'clock yesterday evening the Minister of Marine, Captain Aunon, received a despatch from Admiral Cervera, in command of the Cape Verde squadron of the Spanish fleet. It read:

"Santiago de Cuba, May 19.—This morning I have, without incident, entered this port, accompanied by the squadron. (Signed), Cervera."

The Minister immediately communicated the information to Premier Sagasta. He then proceeded to the palace and information the Queen Regent. Captain Aunon cabled his congratulations to Admiral Cervera.

SEARCH FOR THE FLEET.

Washington, May 20.—Instructions have been sent to Admiral Sampson to so re-arrange his fleet as to permit him to take a squadron of his strongest ships and go in search of the Spanish ships, drive them from West Indian waters or destroy them.

A SPLENDID EXAMPLE.

Madrid, May 20.—In taking possession of the Admiralty, the Minister of Marine made a patriotic speech to the assembled officers, during which he recalled, "The splendid example set by Spanish sailors at Cavite in dying for Spain.'

STRUGGLE TO LEAVE CUBA.

Havana, May 19, via Vera Cruz, Mexico May 20.—Business is almost at a standstill and there is hardly a movement in the streets. The parks are almost deserted and there were very few people to be seen last week on the Plaza de Armas at night. There is a feverish desire to leave the island. Many families without means are striving to emigrate, trying to borrow money from more fortunate people. There is considerable feeling against the men who are desirous of leaving the city, and posted on the corners of houses all over the town one may see such notices as "Here are sold women's shirts for men who are abandoning the Island of Cuba."

Vancouver, B. C., May 20.—Mail brought by the S. S. Aorangi, which arrived here this morning from Sydney, shows that in both Australia and Hawaii an intense feeling in favor of the United States, as against Spain, prevails. The Sydney papers are strong in favor of a union of the Anglo-Saxon race throughout the world. The Sydney Daily Telegraph says: "There si good ground for hope that the approaching war may prove an agency for that union of the Anglo-Saxon race throughout the whole world, which, with every passing year, seems less like a vision of political optimism, and more like practical necessity. It has long been recognized that the millions of the United States could be brought to say 'yes' or 'no' in the large issues of international policy with the millions of Great Britain and her colonies. The greatest conceivable guarantee of peace to the world would be assured."

WORTHY OF PRAISE.

Madrid, May 20.—The Minister of Marine is quoted as saying: "I am greatly rejoiced at the safe arrival of the Spanish fleet at Santiago de Cuba. It is an immense triumph for the Spanish navy. The sailors who executed the movement and those who planned it are worthy of praise."

ROYAL CONGRATULATIONS

Madrid, May 200.—The Spanish fleet on arriving at Santiago de Cuba found there two American warships which retired with all speed. The Queen Regent has cabled congratulations to Admiral Cervera.

Navigation Notes

—Jubilee Point is now in good shape, having been all cleaned up and put in trim for the season.

—The steamer Eclipse left yesterday with a scow for a heavy shipment of grain for Stevenson's Landing and Harwood to Peterborough. The entire shipment will consist of over 4,000 bushels. She will then return on her regular Saturday excursion to town, and will bring the grain up on Monday.

—The Harwood hotel, under the management of Mr. D. Corkey, has been re-painted and thoroughly renovated, while a number of shade trees have been planted in the grounds adjacent to the house.

Methodist District Meeting Concluded

The district meeting of Methodist clergy and laymen has been concluded The following were nominated on the different committees at the Bay of Quinte Conference which opens in Lindsay on June 1st. Stationing Committee, Rev. L. Phelps, Millbrook; Epworth League Committee, Rev. W. D. Harrison, Bridgenorth, and Thos Merrow Peterborough; Sustentation Committee, Rev. T. J. Edmison and Mr. John Hull, of Lakefield; Sabbath School Committee, Rev. Thos. McKee, Frazerville, and Dr. Couch, Warsaw.

From the different reports submitted it was shown that the district was in a highly satisfactory condition in all branches of the church work. The financial reports were especially gratifying. There was an increase of over $400 of missionary money collected in the district while the educational funds also showed a substantial increase.

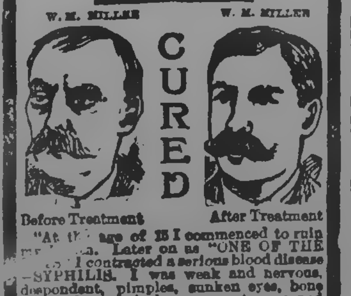
Our NEW METHOD TREATMENT WILL CURE YOU AFTER ALL ELSE FAILS.

Emissions, Varicocele and Syphilis Cured



"At the age of 15 I commenced to ruin my health. Later on as "ONE OF THE BOYS" I contracted a serious blood disease—SYPHILIS. I was weak and nervous, despondent, pimples, sunken eyes, bone pains, ulcers, hair loose, sore tongue and mouth, drains in urine, varicocele—I was a wreck. I was in the last stages when a friend recommended Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. A dozen other doctors had failed in curing me. Drs. Kennedy & Kergan cured me in a few weeks by their New Method Treatment. I would warn similar diseased men to beware of Medical Frauds. They are reliable honest and skillful physicians." W. M. MILLER.

SHERMAN WAS KIND.

A SOUTHERN POET'S RECOLLECTIONS OF THE GENERAL.

Frank L. Stanton Recalls Some Incidents of the Closing Days of the War—General Sherman's Goodness to the Elder Stanton, Who Was Very Ill In Savannah.

Frank L. Stanton, the popular Georgia poet, always speaks up for General Sherman when he hears any severe criticism of that famous commander's methods.

The story told by Stanton has never found its way into print, but it deserves a place among the minor incidents and reminiscences of the war period.

"When Savannah fell," said Stanton, "I was a little chap about 8 years old. The confusion and tumult in the streets frightened me, and I was afraid to go very far from the house.

"Young as I was, I understood that something very serious had occurred. Instead of seeing Confederate soldiers parading the streets with a few Federal prisoners I saw thousands of Federals swarming through the town, and they had a great many Confederates under guard.

"The situation had been reversed. That was plain, even to a child.

"My father was very ill, in the last stages of consumption, and my mother was worn out with anxiety and the cares of the household. Our neighbors were panic stricken, and everybody seemed to be expecting some awful calamity.

"Penned up there as we had been for a long time, without supplies and without any money except worthless Confederate currency, the outlook was gloomy enough. How was my sick father to get the things he needed? That was the problem with my mother.

"Somebody told General Sherman about my father and mentioned the fact that he was a kinsman of a very distinguished and powerful officer on the Union side.

"One day when I entered my father's room I found three Federal officers sitting there in pleasant conversation with the invalid and my mother.

"I was scared and started to run, but one of the strangers, a middle aged man with a roughly trimmed brown beard, called me back. He asked my name, and before I knew it had me on his knee, and he said so many nice things to me that I took quite a fancy to him.

"He was General Sherman, and he had called with two of his staff officers to see my father. When the visitors left, the general told my mother at the door that he knew all about the inconveniences of a siege and insisted upon sending from the army stores something that would suit a sick man.

"Under the circumstances such an offer could not be declined. It was a picnic for the children of the family, I can tell you.

"After that, while the general was in the city, something was sent to the house every day. Brandy, wine, loaf sugar, lemons, beef, chickens, coffee, vegetables and I don't know what else came in generous quantities. We had plenty for the family and for our nearest nighbors.

"Nor was that all. The general sent one of the best physicians in the hospital service, and the last days of my father were made far more comfortable than we had hoped for under the adverse conditions of those dark days.

"General Sherman came to the house once more before he left Savannah. I cannot remember what he said, but he was sympathetic and he said something about the pleasure it gave him to aid a relative of his distinguished friend at Washington.

"At that time I was very fond of a showy uniform, and it vexed my childish mind to see my friend the general always dressed so shabbily. His staff officers presented a better appearance, and some of them were really gorgeous in their spectacular rig.

"The other boys and the negroes agreed with me that the commander must be in very hard luck or he would certainly dress better. Still, I was then convinced that he was a wonderfully wise man. With my pockets full of his loaf sugar, which I had surreptitiously abstracted from the pantry, I would have been ungrateful if I had formed any other opinion.

"Sherman left the city and marched onward through the Carolinas, and that ended the war.

"No, I never saw him again. My father died, and I lived in different places, my work keeping me so busy that I had no time to think of the general or anybody else not connected with my immediate business. I wish now that I had seen him before he passed away. As it is, I can only recall him as he appeared to my boyish and wondering eyes, under circumstances which did not give me an opportunity to study him. No matter what may be said of his conduct in war, I cannot help liking him. He was a good friend just when we most needed one."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Doubtful Compliments.

The compliments paid by the poor are often put in an amusing way. One old woman who was very fond of the rector said to Mr. Bernays: "You know, sir, us likes the rector; 'is ears are so clean." Surely an odd reason for parochial affection. Another admirer once declared with regard to the whole staff of clergy, "You are all so plain" (a word of high commendation), "but as for the vicar, 'e's beautiful." The greatest compliment, though at the same time the most curious Mr. Bernays ever heard, was paid by a workingman to a certain bishop, famous for his simple kindliness, "What I likes 'bout the bishop is 'e's not a gentleman."—Westminster Gazette.

Ethnologists, apropos of the statement that the original inhabitants of America were Asiatics, tell of a Chinook Indian woman found in the last century by Father Huk wandering in the far interior of Asia.

DAY OF THE CLIPPER PAST.

So the Stunsail Has Disappeared For Good From Most American Ships

"Stunsails out of fashion!" said the clipper as he puffed vigorously at his [illegible] pipe, which has been around the Horn almost as many times as its owner. [illegible] they may be, but it is because the economy has abolished them on American ships. However, an old shipmate of [illegible] who is a bit of a crank and left the [illegible] the other day, still carries a topmast [illegible] sail. It may be for sentimental reasons, just as a Confederate veteran might display the flag under which he went to battle, but stunsails are just as practical to-day as ever.

"'Studding sail,' you say? Oh, yes. Studding sail may be literally correct, but Jack says 'stunsail.' He objects to mouthing participles and words with long endings. He wants brevity all the time—in everything perhaps except rum. The corruption of language by sailors is proverbial. Stunsail may be a corruption of studding sail. But studding sail itself is a corruption of steadying sail or steering sail, which in my opinion was the original term. The stunsail, although used only in moderate weather, was a driving sail. Our yachts carry stunsails today in the form of the immense side sail that is called the spinnaker.

"It costs to fit a ship with a suit of stunsails. Their use means extra labor for the crew, or a larger crew, and their storage takes valuable cargo room. This means expense for the ship, which her earnings in these days of railroads and ocean tramps do not warrant. The cargoes that sailing vessels carry today do not demand quick transportation, with its high freight rates. The modern sailing ship is little better than a floating warehouse. It is not driven. Spars and canvas are not pressed as they were before the advent of the steamship. Sailing a ship to make a short passage is one of the lost arts. There is no demand for auxiliary canvas such as stunsails. The Yankee clipper is out of it—defunct.

"Away back in the middle of the century the stars and stripes floated over ships that were really clippers below and aloft. In competition with one another and with foreign craft our clippers carried valuable cargoes—tea from China, coffee from Rio and fancy merchandise to San Francisco. The steamships do the tea and coffee carrying now. It was not in those days a go as you please run. The clippers were under orders to get there to catch the top of a market. Hours saved on their voyages, long though they were, meant many dollars for all concerned. Ships were driven then with canvas that fairly smothered them in fair weather and foul, and Yankee seamanship, with its characteristic judgment and nerve, was recognized and rewarded.

"But all this is merely a memory now. I can fancy the clipper of the fifties coming head on, rising against the clear sky of the lower latitudes, her sails mounting above the blue horizon, tier upon tier—skyscrapers, moonrakers, cloud cleaners—a snow white pyramid, an angel's footstool, as Jack says. Did they carry stunsails? Aye, up to the royal yards."—New York Sun.

Silly Modern Magic.

It would be quite wrong to conclude that the crystal sphere is discredited among the faithful. Large numbers are sold every year—few, by comparison, with the parchment talismans, of course, and for excellent reasons. In the first place, the parchment worn next the skin requires periodical renewal; in the next, the crystal ball will last forever, and is, moreover, expensive. The genuine article—real crystal—may cost as much as £30, but that is a luxury only accessible to the wealthy and earnest prober into the future; for 15 shillings or a guinea you may possess yourself of a composition or glass ball nicely served up in a morocco case lined with satin like a jeweler's casket, and this will answer the purpose equally well. They are usually made perfect spheres, but if you prefer it egg shaped you can order an "ovoid crystal."

I understand that astrology recognizes no difference in the relative merits of the two forms. The chief essential to success in using the crystal ball is great concentration. A north light is recommended, for reasons I am unable to explain, but is not absolutely necessary. You recline in an easy attitude, hold the ball up to the light, and center your mind upon it until you see something; that which you see is going to happen. My knowledge of this particular matter is so slender that I will say no more about it.

That crystal balls have their sincere believers would seem to be proved by the prices they command. The richest man or woman does not pay 30 sovereigns for a sphere of crystal the size of a lawn tennis ball unless he or she confidently anticipates some return for the money.—Chambers' Magazine.

A Mountain of Basalt.

There is a mountain of dark brown basalt on the Columbia river nearly 2,000 feet in height and stretching along the stream for six or eight miles. When the white settlers first came into the country, the Indians told them this mountain was traveling; that some day it would move across the Columbia and form a lake which would reach from the cascades to The Dalles. What the Indians said has been found true in some respects. The mountain is in motion. Its movement is forward and downward. The railroad builders who constructed their line along the base found the tracks continually forced out of place. In some places the movement has amounted to eight and ten feet in a few years. Geologists attribute the phenomenon to the fact that the mountain rests on a substratum of conglomerate or of soft sandstone, which is steadily being washed away by the current of the big river.—New York Tribune.

Black and White.

The Boston Budget says that a merchant who lives near Boston numbers among his acquaintances and friends an old colored preacher, by whom he was recently invited to make a Sunday morning call at the church over which the latter presides. The merchant, although wishing most heartily to accept the invitation and to bring his wife also, was somewhat in doubt as to the propriety of so doing. "I am afraid," he said in explanation, "that our presence would not be wholly pleasant to your congregation." The shepherd reassured him. "Why, sah," he exclaimed, "dere's so many white folks in dat church some Sundays, mah congregashun looks like a han'ful of blueberries in a bowl of milk!"

No Inconsistency.

THE EMPEROR WORSTED.

A Plucky Little Hungarian Girl Got Revenge For Sadowa.

The present kaiser would probably not admit that he had often been thwarted in any of his plans, but an anecdote has recently become known which shows that he at least once "got the worst of it," and it is all the more piquant from the fact that he was defeated by a girl.

When the kaiser, who was then Prince Wilhelm, was about 10 years old, he and Prince Heinrich spent some time at Cassel with their tutors, who sometimes allowed the little princes to play with other children. One day when several of them were gathered together it chanced that a little French girl was among the number, and the young Germans conceived the brilliant idea of making her a representative of the country they all so cordially hated. The delightful plan was immediately put into execution, and the poor child was tied to a tree. Then began a fusillade of pine cones, sticks, etc., and whenever anything struck her there was a cry of "Here's for Sedan!" This went on for a few minutes, when a little Hungarian girl, Helena von D——, who was watching, could bear the injustice no longer, and, singling out Prince Wilhelm as chief offender, she threw herself on him. The attack being unexpected, he was completely taken by surprise and fell down, whereupon she began to pound him, crying out at each blow, "Here's for Sadowa!"

The prince was fast getting the worst of it, for his little adversary was thoroughly in earnest, when the imperial tutors, hearing the noise, rushed up and separated the combatants. After that the princes were more carefully watched, and Wilhelm had no opportunity to "get even" with the little champion of justice. Some days afterward, hearing that the princes were leaving, Helena went down to the gate to see them go by. As they passed Wilhelm spied his foe, and leaning out behind his tutor he stuck out his tongue.

Helena was the daughter of titled parents, and later she was married to an Englishman. When the kaiser was in London, she told this story to one of his gentlemen in waiting, who in turn repeated it to his majesty. The latter exclaimed: "Is that devil of a girl here now? I would like to see her." A meeting was arranged, but Helena became ill, and so they never met after that one encounter to make friends or renew hostilities.—New York Tribune.

A SAVAGE CRITICISM.

The Teacher's Artistic Cleverness Received a Hard and Cruel Blow.

In one of the Cleveland public schoolrooms of the primary grade the teacher has been reading Longfellow's "Hiawatha" to her pupils. Of course this is a rather ambitious work for the little ones, says The Plain Dealer, but they enjoy it, and the rhythm seems particularly pleasing to them. When they come to a hard word, the teacher goes to the blackboard and draws a picture to illustrate its meaning. This the pupils find highly entertaining, and it helps in quite a remarkable way to fix the text in their minds.

A few days ago they came to this line in the early part of the poem:

At the door on summer evenings sat the little Hiawatha.

"At—th' door on sum-mer eve-nings sat th' lit-tle"—read the children.

"Go on," said the teacher.

But they couldn't go on. The name of Hiawatha was too much for them. They knew who Hiawatha was, but they didn't recognize his name. So the teacher went to the board and took considerable pains in drawing:

First.—A wigwam with poles sticking up above it, and a rude aboriginal drawing above it, and a rude aboriginal painting on the side.

Second.—Little Hiawatha, with feathers in his hair, squatted at the wigwam door.

Third.—A fine harvest moon.

Then she pointed at Hiawatha and asked what it was.

There was a general craning of necks and shaking of heads.

"Come, come," said the teacher, "you know what that is."

Then one little girl spoke up:

"I guess it's a mud turtle."

And instantly, with one accord, the class glibly repeated:

"At th' door on sum-mer eve-nings sat th' lit-tle mud-dy tur-tle."

And the teacher feels that her artistic cleverness received a hard and cruel blow.

Stylish Evening Bodice.

The simplest and perhaps the most fashionable bodice for evening wear, says a New York fashion authority, is the full blouse shape of chiffon, drooping over a fitted silk lining, the top cut out in square or rounding fashion, with a full tulle ruche, a narrow band of fur, a fall of lace or beaded revers to finish the edge. The sleeves consist of short, full puffs similarly trimmed. This is a basis for any kind of flower trimming that taste suggests. Rows of shaded pink roses devoid of foliage are in great use on evening gowns this winter, as are maidenhair fern and lilac sprays, laid upon strands of pink or orange satin ribbon not more than an inch and a half wide

In a Chicago Art Gallery.

"It seems to me the perspective in this picture is faulty."

"The—er—what?"

"The perspective."

"Oh, yes, that part of it is very ugly. It's laid on too thick, and you can buy better frames than that one for $6 a dozen."—Chicago Tribune.

A Bad Bargain.

"Jane, did you break the china plate?"

"Yes'm. You got fooled on that plate, mum. It's a weak un. It broke the fourth time I dropped it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Lindsay Elopement

John A. Andrews, a laborer residing in Lindsay, eloped with his dead brother's widow, deserting his wife and two young children. It appears that Mrs. Andrews went to Tweed to visit friends and the widow kindly agreed to look after John's comfort in the meantime. The subsequent actions of the pair excited comment, and when it was seen that Andrews was disposing of the household effects, Mrs. Andrews was notified by some of the neighbors. She arrived home a day too late, Andrews and his paramour with the two children of the latter, having taken their departure. A post card from the widow, addressed to Andrews, telling him to meet her at Lefroy, fell into the hands of the wronged wife, and simplified matters very much. A warrant was issued and Andrews was arrested and brought to Lindsay, where he appeared for examination at the Police Court. The hearing was adjourned till Monday.

WHEN YOU ARE TIRED

Without extra exertion, languid, dull and listless, your blood is failing to supply to your muscles and other organs the vitalizing and strength-giving properties they require. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures that tired feeling by enriching and purifying the blood. It will give you energy and vigor.

HOOD'S PILLS are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, biliousness. 25c.

—Dr. Burrows received a telegram last week from the Minister of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, stating that in compliance with the request to the town council, Lindsay, is to be made a port of entry.

TRAINMAN'S TOOTH ACHED

So He Decided to Get a Freight Train to Pull It.

"Say, did you hear about my friend Bill?" said a trainman. "Well, that fellow has made me laugh more times than once. Not long ago Bill gets a jumping toothache. He wants to have that tooth out, but he don't want to pay the money, nor he ain't got the nerve to have the thing done. All the same that tooth is keeping him up at night, and Bill he almost goes wild. 'Either me or that tooth,' says Bill; 'one or the other. I ain't going to stand this sort of life.'

"All the same, when Bill starts to go to the dentist his knees begin to bend, and he is so scared that the tooth stops hurting. But when he turns back and reaches the house the tooth is plugging him again. Now, Bill thinks of a great scheme. What does he do but buy a piece of strong string (say, you know this kind of silk thread?), and he waxes that and ties it to his tooth so tight that it cannot come off. Then Bill walks down to the railroad station. You see, it was his idea to tie the string to a freight car, and then when the train started it would jerk the measly tooth out.

"He finds a freight and ties the string to the coupler of the last car and stands around to wait until the train starts. Well, sir, he begins to feel chilly about the gills. The more he thinks of the time when the train is going to move the worse he feels. Every time a whistle blows he jumps. 'Well, I guess I'd better untie,' thinks Bill, 'and come again another day,' but when he goes to loosen the string he finds that it's no go, and he can't jerk the thing loose because the other end is on the tooth.

"Well, sir, that train begins to start, and Bill he doesn't have the nerve to stand back, so he just trots on behind like a little pup on the end of a chain. 'Where are you going, Bill?' hollers out a feller. 'You seem to be in a hurry.' Well, sir, Bill starts to swear like mad, but the train is beginning to go a little fast, and he has to commence to lope like a jack rabbit. You see, the train had been going through the city, but now it started to get outside. Bill didn't have the nerve to stand still, so he just humped himself after the train like it was something that he wanted bad.

"'Say, mister, why are you running that way?' asked a brakeman who got on to the thing. Of course that sort of guy made Bill madder than ever, but he had to lope on. Lucky for Bill the train had to slow up for a crossing, and while it stopped he borrowed a knife and cut the string. But, say, it was funny to see Bill chasing the freight."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Catching Thieves by Code.

"Most folks think an elevator starter has a very easy job, but they're wrong," said the man who has charge of the elevators in a La Salle street skyscraper.

"It seems to keep you busy, but the work looks easy," remarked a bystander.

"You think just what the others do—that we have nothing to do but tell the conductor of each elevator when to start up," replied the starter. "Seeing that the elevators are not overloaded and that they are not all either at the top or bottom of the building at once is the easiest part of our work. The hardest is stopping thieves. Pickpockets and overcoat lifters work the skyscrapers regularly. I've spoiled their game in this building, though."

"How?"

"I have arranged a code of signals by which I can, without attracting the attention of anybody else, warn the elevator conductor to keep his eye on certain persons while in the car, see them if they do any pocketpicking and notice at which floor they leave the car. For instance, if on a cold day like this two men well dressed, but without overcoats, come in here, as soon as they step into an elevator I say, 'That's all right, No. 7.' All you see is that the elevator starts up at once. The elevator man, however, knows that I suspect the last persons entering his car may be overcoat thieves, and it is his duty to notice at what floor they leave the car and, if possible, which room they enter. If instead of saying, 'That's all right, No. 7,' I had said, 'Go ahead, 7,' the elevator conductor would have known I suspected the last two men—for pickpockets work in pairs—in his car were pickpockets, and he would keep a constant watch on them."

"How does your system work?"

"Well, we've caught four pickpockets and seven overcoat thieves already this winter, and the season isn't half ended. The public doesn't realize how much it owes to the elevator starters, who are generally considered a lazy lot of fellows with an easy job."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

WARSAW

The Warsaw correspondent of the Examiner appears to be considerably exercised over the paragraph which appeared in the Weekly Times of a recent date. It is a well known and recognized fact that when an individual or a company of individuals are successful in anything they undertake, they become the target for criticism and, oftimes, abuse. The Young's Point football club stands exactly in this position. The clubs of Warsaw, Lakefield, Peterborough, or, in fact, any part of the district, are simply not in it with them, hence the jealous resentment which occasionally bursts forth from some people like the writer in the Examiner. As a matter of fact, there was not a Warsaw man on the Young's Point team on the occasion referred to. This wily juggler of facts in the Examiner should try again.

POND'S EXTRACT

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29, 1893.

I have used "Pond's Extract" for many years and always insist upon my patients getting "Pond's," not the ordinary Extract, which is often a very poor article. W. K. BROWN, M. D.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9, 1895.

I use Pond's Extract a great deal in my practice. I think it very valuable in all venous enlargements.

J. L. BRADFORD, M. D.

SANTA BARBARA, CAL., Nov. 27, 1894.

I have been using Pond's Extract in my practice for twenty years. I frequently have the experience you mention of druggists insisting they can put up as good as yours. I don't believe it. I use Pond's Extract a great deal as an antiseptic in combination with glycerine and carbolic acid. I think it far superior to any antiseptic known.

F. G. FLOURNOY, M. D.

COLUMBIA, PA., Jan. 18, 1895.

I have been a constant user of Pond's Extract since 1852, and do not expect to discontinue it while I live. S. ARMOR, M. D.

CHELSEA, MASS., Nov. 8, 1894.

I have made diseases of the skin a specialty for thirty years, and am free to say I know of no remedy that has given me such perfect satisfaction as Pond's Extract in cases for which it is recommended.

G. W. BABCOCK, M. D.

ASTHMATICS' INSTITUTE, Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 8, 1894.

I know Pond's Extract to be a valuable remedy, and shall continue its use whenever the opportunity offers.

How to Cure all Skin Diseases

Simply apply "Swayne's Ointment." No internal medicine required. Cures tettar, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, &c., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for Swayne's Ointment. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents. Avoid imitations.

Mr. T. Z. Webster, who has been a baker, confectioner, and restauranter for the past ten years in Lakefield, has determined to place his business on a cash basis. He also wishes to do away with the delivery end of his trade, and as an inducement thereto he will sell the 14c loaf hereafter for 12c. This price, of course is regulated by the present price of flour, and subject generally thereto; of course, if delivery is demanded the old price will have to be paid. All those who wish to call for their bread and pay cash can save 2c. a loaf.

Five Watches and Three Rings Worth One One Hundred Dollars Stolen from Shaw's Second-hand Store Thursday Night

Some time during Thursday night thieves entered the second-hand store of W. Shaw, and stole five watches and three gold rings valued at over $100. One oft he watches was solid gold and cost $85.

Entrance was effected by way of the cellar, the thieves going under the bridge and through another cellar to get into the cellar beneath Shaw's shop.

Mr. Shaw has for months when closing up placed the watches and rings and other very valuable articles in a small valise which was hung up on the wall. The theft therefore was committed by local parties who had seen Mr. Shaw put the jewelry away, as the thieves went straight to the satchel and disturbed nothing else.

Don't forget the Lacrosse Match on Queen's Birthday, between Brampton and Peterborough clubs, on the P. A. A. A. grounds. The excelsiors were the C. L. The "City" Launched

The steamer City of Peterborough which was undergoing repairs at the Ashburnham dockyard was successfully launched on Saturday morning by ship carpenter Hicey and his men. The steamer took the water like a duck and glided gracefully down the ways on to the smooth surface of Little Lake. She will run her first trip to-morrow to Jubilee Point, having been chartered by the Salvation Army.

Dan Simons' Vaudeville show

Dan Simons, Peterborough's clever comedian and dancer, intends giving a vaudeville and variety entertainment in the Opera House on Wednesday evening, June 29th, when he will be supported by the pick of our local talent. On this occasion Dan will present his many new specialties, includingt he "'New Tramp, Dusty Roads,' his impersonation of which is poignantly symbolic, having secured for him extensive popularity in his late successfult our of the Eastern States. From past experience of Dan's undertakings and ability we bespeak for this event a crowded house, which the galaxy of talent is sure to merit.

Entrained at 1 a.m.

The 57th Battalion, Peterborough Rangers left the drill shed en route to Kingston at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. They marched down George street to the C.P.R. station, where it was ascertained that they would have to wait until the midnight express and two freights passed through before their special secured the right of way. This delay made it one o'clock Sunday morning before the men were entrained. Notwithstanding this unlooked-for delay, quite a number of citizens remained at the station to see the men off. The battalion turned out 250 and the band 38 strong. They arrived in Kingston about 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

SUDDEN DEATH

Mr. Aruthur McGarrity Suddenly Expires at His Home Last Night

The hand of death was suddenly and unexpectedly laid upon Mr. Arthur McGarrity, corner of Stewart and Edinburgh street, last night. Although deceased had complained of feeling unwell two weeks ago he had apparently regained his normal condition of health, and attended eight o'clock mass at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday morning. Between nine and ten o'clock last night he bade a hearty good-night to a friend with whom he had been conversing, and entered the house apparently in the best of spirits. A few minutes later he fell back a corpse, while in the act of preparing kindling for the morning's fire. Some of his family who were present rushed to their father's assistance, and horrified at his deathlike appearance, hurriedly summoned Drs. McGrath and Moore, who, on their arrival pronounced life to be extinct, the result of heart failure. The deceased, who was about sixty years of age, was one of Peterborough's oldest residents, and had been employed at Wm. Hamilton's foundry, as a moulder, for many years. He leaves a widow five daughters, and three sons, together with a large circle of friends and acquaintances to mourn his sudden demise.

Injured at Ottawa

Rev. W. L. Scott, of Ottawa, was struck by an electric car at the corner of Bank and Queen streets on Wednesday last and received a severe shaking up. His injuries are not serious however. Mr. Scott is well known in Peterborough and for four years filled the Keene circuit of the Methodist church.

Ordained at Kingston

The young men were ordained into the ministry of the Presbyterian church at Kingston last week: J. H. Turnbull, M. A. Orangeville; J. R. Hall, M.A., Teeswater; G. D. Campbell, Renfrew; R. Herbison, M.A. Jand Bay; T. J. Glover, B.A., Peterborough; H. Carmichael, M.A., Spencerville; R. Young, B.A., Menie; W. M. Kannawie, B.A., Shelborne.

W. M. S. Convention

The annual district meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society in connection with the Methodist church, Campbellford district, will be held in Norwood on Thursday, May 26th. Delegates are expected from all the societies within the bounds of this district. Sessions will be held int he morning, afternoon and evening. Music will be supplied by Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Liddy, of Keene, Mrs. Jewell, Hastings, and the chior of the church.

Large Order for Papers

On Saturday last a telephone message was received from the Corporation of Lakefield, ordering 500 extra copies of Saturday's issue of the Times for the use of the municipality. The write-up, which appeared in that issue is evidently appreciated. Other orders were received from merchants and others, running the total "extra" copies required up to nearly one thousand. This speaks for itself. Verily, "everybody reads the Times.

Street Loafing

The Toronto Saturday Night refers to the case of a street lounger being fined $1 for jostling a young woman ont he street, and expresses the opinion that if he was guilty the punishment was too light. With that opinion all decent people will agree. It is not pleasant for women to have to pass by staring, gaping crowds of corner or doorway loafers, and judging from some things we have heard of late there are a few youths in this town who would do well to take a hint and mend their ways.

Its Sure to Fetch Them

Messrs. R. H. Kells & Co. have no reason to regret having placed the advertisement of their great sale of dry goods in The Times. This enterprising firm have heretofore always used the evening papers in making their announcements, and we presume the investment brought moderate results. This time, however, Mr. Kells decided to try the Times, daily and weekly, and the result was that his staff were totally unable to wait on the crowds that presented themselves at times on Saturday. Thousands of people read the announcement of the sale in the Times that could have seen it in no other way. This is no idle boast, but an actual fact. "Everybody reads the Times.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Hon. Senator Cox was in town on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Davis have returned from Stoney Lake.

Miss Kempt, of this town, is visiting Miss Ethel Neelands, Lindsay.

Miss Annia Hickey, Port Hope, is visiting friends in town for a few days.

Mr. Norman Lewis, of Montreal, is in town, the guest of his sister, Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Davidson.

Mr. W. G. McConnell, of the Montreal Herald staff, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. H. H. Buxton, physical director of the Y.M.C.A., left Saturday for a month's vacation in the United States.

Mr. Ernie Neelands, son of Dr. Neelands, Lindsay, who spent last summer with a surveying party in the far north has again left on a similar expedition with Mr. Niven, C.E., of Haliburton. Winter in the school of practical science and summer on the survey ought to make "Toot" a pretty thorough engineer when he gets through.

Mr. A. L. Maycock, the popular clerk of South Monaghan, was in town on Saturday, and gave the Times a call. Mr. Maycock says that the Times is the popular paper in South Monaghan. "Everybody reads the Times."

Mr. Rolly Griffin, of Lakefield, was in town on Saturday and drove home in the morning. He carried with him a valuable cargo, consisting of 300 copies of Saturday's Times, which had been ordered too late to catch the morning mail. Rolly says that everybody in the north country reads the Times.

As intimated a short time ago the Rev. Father Conway, pastor of St. Paul's church, Norwood, intends to visit his native land this summer. He has engaged passage on the commodious steamer Scotsman, sailing from Montreal on June 4th next. We wish him a safe journey across the now troubled waters of the Atlantic, a pleasant sojourn among his old friends and associates and a safe return to his home and friends here.—Norwood Register.

For the Amateur Gardener

An eastern farm paper thus answers a correspondent who wanted to know how to keep his neighbor's hens out of his garden: "Take a lot of stiff cards about 1x2 inches, write on them, "Please keep your darned hens at home.' Tie a short string to each card with a kernel of corn at the other end of the string, and scatter them where the hens congregate. When the hungry biddy gobbles up the grain that draws the prize, she follows up the string, stowing it away until she comes to the card. Then you will see her pull out for her home, carrying in her mouth your polite request."

A TREATY BETWEEN AMERICA AND BRITAIN SIGNED

A War Crisis is Imminent Military and Naval Leaves Cancelled—China Describes the Contest as a Holy War—Spain Denounces Uncle Sam's War Methods as Cowardly

(Special Despatches to the Times, 4 a.m.)

U.S. WAR METHODS DENOUNCED

Madrid, May 23.—In the Senate today, Count Almenas vehemently protested against the alleged action of some American warships in displaying the Spanish flag in order to deceive the garrison of Guantanamo, as announced on Saturday last in despatch from General Blanco, who added that American ships were "immediately recognized and repulsed." The count asked if the Government had notified the powers of this incident. The Minister of the Interior, Senor Capdepon relpied that he had notified the powers and denounced this reported action as "cowardly and iniquitous." Count Almenas then said that "in view of America's manner of making war, Spain must immediately decree privateering in order to utterly destroy American shipping." To this the Minister of Interior replied that the Government had deliberated upon the matter, and had even taken certain decisions which would shortly be known Count Guendulain and the America's act of piracy was admitted by certain theorists as international law. Senor Martinez Pacheco remarked that it was doubtful whether such an act was legal. "But," he added, "in face of the Americans' conduct in war with Spain, we must not show consideration for them." The speaker protested against Spain's adherence to the Geneva Convention, whereupon the Minister of the Interior replied that Spain had not yet entered the convention.

Senator Conde, Professor of International Law at Madrid University, warmly denounced the base proceedings of the United States, declaring that if Washington authorized such acts, it did not deserve the name of a civilized government. The professor then proceeded to unfold a lengthy indictment of the war methods of the Americans, insisting that they have shown no respect for the right of peoples in the capture of merchantmen and bombardists, reiterating that the acts of the United States are not those of a civilized country.

ANGLO AMERICAN TREATY

New York, May 23.—A special to the Evening World from Kingston, Jamaica says, a despatch received by the military authorities here, on Saturday, announces the signing of a defensive Anglo-American treaty, and intimated that a war-crisis is imminent, immediately affecting Jamaica. All military and naval leaves have been cancelled, and supplies for 18 months are being stored.

CANNONADING HEARD FRIDAY

Port Au Prince, Hayti, May 23.—The following despatch has been received here from Port De Paix, dated Saturday last, telegraphs a communication having been interrupted up to to-day—a furious cannonading was heard on Thursday last, in the direction of the north of Cuba. To-day, Saturday, the cannonading continues in a very lively fashion.

A HOLY WAR

Shanghai, May 23.—The crisis between the United States and Spain is arousing exceptional interest in great cities in China—Hong Kong, Shanghai and Tientsin being the greatest commercial centres, are much aroused. There is great unanimity of feeling on the part of leading Chinese, British and American residents. All seem to unite in the belief that it is a holy war, a war of humanity.

The attitude of China is voiced by the North China Daily News, which says editorially: "There is a popular belief founded on experience, that the hour will [illegible] over the [illegible] satisfactory to know that so far President McKinley has admirably undergone the ordeal. He has not been hurried by the jingo element, nor has he allowed himself to be controlled by the peace at any price capitalists, who are afraid of a fall in stocks, and a possible suspension of gold shipments. His course throughout the dispute with Spain, has been calm, temperate and dignified. Throughout he has borne himself as the chief magistrate of a great nation should, and he goes into the war with the sympathy of Britishers all over the world; and with the approval of practically the whole people of the United States.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED.

London, May 23.—The Times this morning editorially dismissed as premature the rumor to which the Paris Figaro gives credence that an Anglo-French agreement has been signed with reference to West African complications but says that an agreement is evidently near completion.

THE VENEZUELA DISPUTE.

Washington, May 23.—The Tribune, which is to adjust the dispute between Venezuela and Great Britain as to the boundary between the former country and British Guianna, will meet in Paris next February.

AMERICANS RETREAT.

New York, May 23.—A despatch to the World frmo Kingston, Jamaica, says direct Santiago advices say that the appearance of the Spanish fleet off that port compelled four American cruisers then bombarding it to retire.

REPORTED NAVAL ENGAGEMENT.

New York, May 23.—A cable to the World from Potr Au Prince says: Heavy cannonading was reported to-day from Port De Paix and Conaives. It is supposed that a naval engagement has been fought. Rumors are current that the Spanish were defeated disastrously Port De Paux reports that the firing was heard for a considerable time early this morning.

COMPELLED TO RETIRE.

Madrid, May 23.—An official despatch from Havana says: Two American warships attempted to force an entrance at Isabella Sagua. The troops were massed on the shore and compelled the Americans to retire.

FRANCO-SPANISH ALLIANCE.

London, May 23.—The St. James Gazette this afternoon in its financial article says: In the foreign market this morning several leading dealers were said to be in possession of advance news of the forthcoming announcement of a Franco-Spanish alliance. Hence the rise in Spanish fours. In connection with the above it is currently reported that the recent speeches of the Marquis of Salisbury and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain did not refer to West Africa but to this impending alliance against which Mr. Chamberlain's allusion to an Anglo-American alliance was intended as a counter blast.

New York, May 23.—A Washington despatch says: The battleship Oregon arrived off Key West this morning.

Savannah, Ga., May 23.—Early this morning a special train on the Florida Central and Pennsylvania Railway, carrying North Carolina troops, collided with a north bound vegetable train. Private Wm. Barlee, Durham, killed; Private Wm. Calquhon fatally inujred.

FIRED ON A BRITISH SHIP.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 23.—British steamer Aldborough arrived from San Juan De Porto Rico yesterday. She reports an American cruiser captured Spanish bark six miles north of San Juan. The Spanish cruiser Isabel, while at San Juan fired on British steamer Rooth, it is alleged, which was loaded with coal, with intention of crippling her and preventing her departure. The officers of the Isabel however claim the firing was the result of an accident.

SPAIN GETTING GAY.

London, May 23.—The Madrid correspondent to the London Times says: "Since the ministry has been reconstructed publicity and prominence are being given by leading organs to certain movements of troops, which seems to indicate an intention to warn all whom it may concern that Spain is ready to assist any unjustifiable scheme of aggression from whatever quarter they may come. These movements have reference to the idea that Spain may be helpful to the powers in the event of any combination against an Anglo-Saxon alliance.

A VICTORY FOR SPAIN.

Madrid, May 23.—An official despatch from Havana says: "Two American warships attempted to force an entrance at Isabela Sagua, near the mouth of the Sagua river, Santa Clara province, on the north coast. The troops were massed upon the shore and compelled the Americans to retire.

ENGLAND'S COAST DEFENCES

A few words from any point on the coast, be it an isolated coastguard station or a lonely guardship, may in an hour or two have led to orders of national import being flashed over sleeping towns and villages to the naval commanders-in-chief at the coast, and before the outside world knows of impending danger all the machinery of defence will be in readiness for any emergency. That this is no exaggeration those may judge who remember the hasty commissioning of the particular service squadron in January, 1896, when the German Emperor's ill-judged telegram to President Kruger set England ablaze with anger.

Before even the Times announced the decision of the Government to form this new squadron "to do anything and go anywhere," as Mr. Goschen explained, the telegraph instruments in Whitehall had been vigorously ticking, and, unknown to the public, the Admirals at Chatham, Portsmouth and Devonport had had their orders. By the time the world was awake the preparations for commissioning the ship had commenced, and in a few days a squadron of powerful modern vessels was fitted out and ready for any task. When the necessity arises no less promptly will the machinery of defence be [illegible] put to the test, possibly

Domestic Felicity

Maintained in Families Where Diamond Dyes are Used

The happiest, best regulated and most economical families in the Dominion are regular users of the world-famous Diamond Dyes. Domestic felicity is ever maintained, because the Diamond Dyes are true and unfailing in work, and money is saved by their use. No other dyes can boast of such strong words of praise from users.

Mrs. T. Lavin, Newark, Ont., says. "Have used many other makes of dyes but find the Diamond Dyes ahead of all, as they give the best and fastest colors."

Mrs. Silas Daury, Mahone Bay, N. S., says: "Your Diamond Dyes give me entire satisfaction. I have used other makes, but have settled on the good, old reliable Diamond Dyes."

Mrs. Joseph Weir, Sutton Junction, P.Q., says: "Have used Diamond Dyes for the last ten years and they have given me great satisfaction; I can recommend them to all as the best."

Mrs. G. A. Tory, Red Deer, N.W.T., says: "I have given your Diamond Dyes a fair trial and find them excellent; failure is impossible if the directions are followed."

Miss Gussie Crawford, Kingston, N.B., says: "Have just dyed an old skirt a beautiful seal brown with your Diamond Dyes. I make my black ink from your Slate Diamond Dye, and it is the only kind of ink I have used for years, and I do a great deal of writing."

Mrs. John Leslie, Port Colborne, Ont, says: "I have used Diamond Dyes in all the colors, and I can safely say they do all you claim for them." 0

REPLY OF TRANSVAL

No Suzerainty Has Been Recognized and no Suzerainty Wanted

BRITISH AND DR. JAMESON

The South Affrican Republic Re-affirms Its Right to Arbitration

(Special to the Times.)

London, May 23.—The Pretoria correspondent of the Times says.

The Star publishes without the knowledge or approval of the Government the text of the reply of the South African Republic to Mr. Chamberlain's despatch.

The note justifies the Transvaal's contention that it cannot recognize any suzerainty since the convention of 1884, and quotes a letter from Lord Derby written in 1884, which it contends shows that Lord Derby intended to abandon the suzerainty.

The note reiterates the charge that British officials countenanced the Jameson raid, and reaffirms the claim of the Transvaal right of arbitration.

SMOKED CANARY BIRDS.

Do Clouds From a Pipe Develop a Rich Color In Their Plumage?

A little old shoemaker who has a busy, old style cobbling shop on the eas side is a bird fancier, and he has pe culiar ideas about canaries. One nigh he was sitting on his leather covered bench, smoking an extremely odorous quality of tobacco in a black pipe. A customer was waiting for him to finish straightening up a worn heel, and he made several remarks concerning the birds which hung about the cobbler's shop. They were fancy birds, and he could not help noticing it. Finally he asked the shoemaker how he got such richly colored birds.

"It's part in the breeding and part in the atmosphere," said the cobbler. "You raise birds in a shop where two or three men are constantly smoking, and in time you will get the darkest orange color if you use a little judgment in mating and they don't [illegible] to green."

"I should think that tobacco smoke would be unwholesome for the birds," said the visitor.

"On the contrary, it makes them hardy and seems to be good for them every way. Women who have canaries would do well to put them where they can get a little tobacco smoke once in awhile, although I don't think cigarette smoke would do them much good. What they need is strong tobacco smoke from an old pipe like this or the smoke from a black cigar. I've raised my best birds when I had two jours working in this little shop with me and all of us smoking pretty nearly all the time."

Then the old man sighed and said: "That was before they half soled and heeled shoes while you wait—before machines were used for cobbling. No two or three jours and an apprentice for me now. I sit here alone, with my birds, pegging away and keeping them well smoked."—New York Sun.

Road and River.

The brave Pierre Stuppa, the Swi general, having been deputed by the cantons to solicit the arrears of pa which had been owing for a long time to the Swiss officers in the French service, M. de Louvois, the war minister, who was present, said to the king, Louis XIV:

"Sire, those Swiss are very importunate. If your majesty had all the money that your royal predecessors have given to that people, it would form a road from Paris to Basel."

"That may be," observed Stuppa with an air of firmness, "but at the same time if your majesty had all the blood that the Swiss have shed in the service of France it would form a river from Paris to Basel."

The king was so struck with the observation that he ordered M. de Louvois to pay the whole of the money without delay.—Nuggets.

SHYSTER LAWYERS

A story is told of an Illinois lawyer who worked up a damage case "on shares' and before it came to trial the client settled it, says the Ottawa Citizen. Thereupon the lawyer sued him for his "share" of the settlement, and the Supreme Court has decided that a suit for personal injury is not assignable, and therefore the shyster lawyer got nothing.. The Toronto News says there are some lawyers in Toronto who deserve a similar lesson. The Hamilton Times finds them in the Ambitious City also. "Some," says the Times, "not only hunt up clients and urge them to bring suits but have their touts to help them. This is not only degrading to the profession and provocative of unnecessary litigation, but it is unjust to prominent men in the profession. The offence is hard to prove, and few care to go to the expense of prosecuting the shysters, but all will be glad to read of one of them being beaten at his own game."

The overcrowding of the profession has, perhaps, much to do with the manufacture of these shyster lawyers. These, to make a living, resort to the practice of trumping up trivial actions "on speculation." They watch the newspapers for circumstances upon which legal actions may be based. They interview their "clients," impress them with the grave nature of their grievances, and gain their consent to the institution of legal proceedings. It matters not how frivolous the case may be, the speculative suit is threatened in the hope that the defendant will, to avoid the worry and expense of a trial, agree to "settle." If that is not blackmail, there is no need for such a word in the English language.

It is too bad that the Canadian Bar Association did not discuss this question at its meeting in Ottawa last week. The profession is being degraded and prostituted by the large and increasing shyster element. The Law Society is given large and comprehensive powers of self-government and, for its own good and the protection of the public, it ought to pursue a vigorous and unrelenting crusade against every member that resorts to such a villainous practice.

The Ottawa Citizen says: "The Anglo-American alliance is working. Here comes an Englishman who suggests that Dewey be made the Hemperor of Manila." Few things are calculated to make a Manilla than a joke like this.

CANARIES

They Are Subject to Many Diseases—How They Should Be Treated.

To neglect the cleanliness of food, cage or water is a sure means of bringing on disease. The cups should be so arranged as to be easy of access for the bird's head, and the bathing dish should be shallow and large enough to prevent the bird from injuring his plumage in his vigorous plunges.

Perches which are too small are a source of misery to the bird. They should be—when of the same size throughout—about twice the diameter of a common lead pencil.

If a young canary is observed to sleep more than usual or if it has the appearance of a puff ball, it should be taken in hand at once. Probably it is suffering from indigestion, arising from unwholesome or stale food, or from being given too many delicacies. The bird should be caught and a couple of drops of castor oil dropped down his throat, or the drinking water may be removed from the cage for a couple of hours and then put back with a few drops of cod liver oil floating on the top.

Either of these remedies will probably afford relief. The bird should then be removed to a dry, warm place and fed on crushed hemp for a few days.

Diarrhœa is caused by giving too much green food, food which is wet or decayed or stale seeds. Bad drinking water is another frequent cause.

When the first symptoms of moult are observed, give a little magnesia in the drinking water, 10 or 15 grains to a wineglassful, or put in the fountain a senna leaf, changing it every day.

To catch cold when moulting is almost always certain death to the bird. Therefore avoid drafty places for the cage.

At this time an abundance of food is necessary, and must be given by additions of a little hemp seed, white bread soaked in milk and lettuce or endive. The bird should also be kept warm.

Canaries are subject to many diseases. A common complaint is asthma. This generally arises from indigestion and yields to plaintain and rape seed moistened with water as the sole food. In very bad cases leave off hemp seed and use rape only; give abundance of bread soaked in water and pressed; lettuce or watercress, according to season; twice a week give a boiled bread and milk ball about as large as the end of the thumb.

This is made by throwing a piece of the crumb of bread into a cup of milk, boiling and stirring with a wooden spoon till it is of the consistency of pap. It must be given cold and always freshly made. If allowed to sour, it will give indigestion. This paste acts as a purge and its effects must be watched.

For overgrown claws and beak use sharp scissors and take care to avoid drawing blood. The long claws are a source of discomfort and danger, especially when the female is nesting.

A bird which is egg bound needs immediate treatment. Give coarse brown sugar and drop some sweet oil into the duct.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Singular Pet.

In a "Tour Around Hawaii," written in 1825, is this amusing description of an odd pet, the favorite of two native women:

When we reached the house of our host, the head man of Kapapala, we met a cordial reception.

Few of the Hawaiian females are without a pet, usually a dog. Here we observed a species of favorite that we had not seen before. It was a curly tailed hog about a year and a half old, three or four feet long and in tolerable order. He belonged to two sisters of our host and joined the social circle around the evening hearth.

During the evening he closely followed every movement made by his mistresses, and at supper put forth his nose and received his portion at their hands. According to custom, they washed their hands after the meal, and then passed the bowl to the hog.

At the usual time for retiring to rest these two ladies spread their mats and tapas on the ground in one corner, and, as is the usual practice, lay down to sleep with their clothes on. The hog waited very quietly till they had taken their places, when he marched over their tapas and stretched himself between them. The large tapa that covered them all was then drawn up by one of them to his ears, after which she reclined her head on a pillow by his side.

I could not forbear smiling broadly at seeing the three heads in a row. This disconcerted the women a little, and they raised their heads and the hog grunted.

The brother said that his sisters had a great attachment for the hog, having fed it since it was a few days old, and did not like to have it sleep out with the other hogs in the cold, adding that if it were put out it would make such a noise all night at the door that no one in the house would be able to sleep.

Klondike Gold.

He had spent two or three winters in the Klondike country, or said he had, and he was telling his friends about it.

"It isn't so awfully cold up there when one gets used to it, is it?" asked a listener.

"Well," he hesitated, "I don't really suppose it is; anyhow, it isn't to the one that's used to it. He don't know a thing about it. He's been froze to death a month by that time."

"Oh, indeed," stammered the inquirer, who seemed to be disturbed by the sad fate of the person accustomed to it.

"Yes, and I've seen it so cold that a bullet shot up in the air would freeze up there and not come down till the spring thaw. But that isn't as bad as it was last winter. By jingo, I'm a liar if we didn't have a Boston girl up there last winter teaching school and the weather was so cold that that Boston girl actually set the schoolhouse on fire by spontaneous combustion—she was that warm by comparison. Cold? Well, if we could only ship the cold down to this country like we can the gold you would be playing golf on snowshoes all summer long right here in the city of Detroit."—Detroit Free Press.

Hair Hints

It is much easier to keep the hair when you have it than it is to restore it when it's lost. If your hair is "coming out" it needs instant attention. The use of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR will promptly stop the hair from falling, and stimulate it to new growth.

"Some years ago my hair began to fall out and I became quite bald. I was advised to try and had used it but a short time when my hair ceased to fall out and a new and vigorous growth made its appearance. My hair is now abundant and glossy."

Must Have the Times.

A lady (?) was seen, as she was on her way down street yesterday morning, to stop and pick up a copy of the Daily Times, which had just been left on a door-step of a George street store by a carrier boy. She quickly slipped the paper under her cape and continued on her way. People will have the Times if they have to steal it. Everybody reads the Times.

FANTASTIC VAGARY.

A PUBLIC MAN WHO CONSULTED THE OUIJA BOARDS.

This is One of the Grounds on Which it is Sought to Show That He Was Incapable of Making a Proper Will—The Estate Involved is a Large One.

The Ouija board, that curious little device which attracted so much attention and furnishd so much amusement to many people a few years ago, has got into the courts. It is cited as evidence of a man's mental weakness and his incapacity to make a proper will. This man was Charles M. Pond, once State Treasurer of Connecticut, a Senator in the same State and a director of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad. A suit is now under way in New York to break his will. It was instituted by his brother, Anson Phelps Pond.

Among the property which Charles M. inherited from his father was the Prospect Hill farm, on the outskirts of the city of Hartford, and this, with about $150,000 worth of other realty, he willed to Hartford. The disputed farm or homestead which Hartford proposes to turn into a public park, is now valued at about $250,000.

The claim is made by the contestant that his brother had no right to devise away this tract, and counsel bring forward his father's will in substantiation of this position, and quote that part of it which reads: "It is my express desire that my said son, Charles M. Pond, will not alienate or sell my farm known as the 'Prospect Hill Farm,' but that the same may descend and be from time to time devised to my lineal descendants."

Among the testimony already introduced is that of Mrs. Frank A. Porter, a sister of the Ponds, which it is said showed the deceased brother to be an extraordinary and eccentric person.

In his public career Charles M. was known only as a man of rare judgment and brilliant parts, but it seems that for some time previous to his death his mind was clouded or weakened by dissipation, and he displayed qualities of intellect that were entirely at variance with his character as the public and all but his intimates knew it.

According to Mrs. Porter's statement, some of the evidence that would be important and valuable as corroborative proof has been deliberately destroyed. The destroyed evidence consisted of works on Spiritism and the several Ouija boards that were the property of Charles M. Pond, and were used by him. It is said that the dead man was a firm believer in Spiritism and was an easy dupe of mediums. Luther R. Marsh was not more thoroughly fooled by Miss De Bar than he was by the men and women who pretended to be able to rematerialize those who had passed to the shining shores.

After the death of his wife, it is said, he was almost constantly under the influence of mediums. He had implicit confidence in the oracular qualities of the Ouija board which is a rudimentary sort of planchete. In the latter case the spirits are supposed to communicate with their friends in the flesh by means of writing, in the former the spirits have not got so far in the three R's, and they spell out their communications.

A panchette is a small heart-shaped bit of wood, mounted on two tiny legs with casters, and having for the third leg a pencil. When the little table is placed on a sheet of paper and the hands are permitted to rest lightly upon it, the pencil moves, and some people pretend that the lead-marks made by the pencil are legible messages, and they go through the solemn formality of reading them.

Ouija has a three-legged, heart-shaped little table, too, which the hands rest upon, but it travels not over writing paper but over a smooth rectangular board, on which the alphabet and the numerals are stenciled so that they make the segment of a circle, and the words "yes" and "no" are stenciled in two of the corners. Messages are read by following the movements of the leg at the apex of the heart. It travels from letter to letter and spells out words, the nerves and muscles of the manipulators having much to do with the direction of its movements.

Chalres M. Pond had several of those Ouija boards and he consulted them dozens of times a day. Through them he communicated with his dead wife. The story is told that often he would arise in the midst of a group of friends, excuse himself and hurry off to another room to ask Ouija certain questions.

These Ouija boards with all of her brother's Spiritistic books, Mrs. Porter says, she burned. Her statement is that she went to the office of one of the executors of the will and in his absence obtained from his father, who drew up the will, permission to remove the books and boards from the house, which she did and made a bonfire of them.

This is only one of the strange proceedings of the executors, it is claimed.

There is a great deal of secrecy about the proceedings and a whole lot of mystery, but the plaintiff feels confident that he will be able to show the mental insufficiency of his brother to make a will as well as to clinch his own right to the disputed part by the restricting clause in his father's will, which insists that the property shall not be devised away from the family.

The dissipated habits of Pond's brother have been pretty well established. He seems to have had a wild and terrible mania for morphine and administered it to everybody and everything on his place, even the dogs. The Ouija board weakness, though, appears to be the most fantastic of all his vagaries

Tactics in the Band.

A colonel in the French army, who had a great eye for neatness, but not much of an ear for music, took occasion one day to compliment his bandmaster on the appearance of his men. Their uniforms are neat, said the colonel, and their instruments are nicely polished and kept in order, but there is one improvement that I must insist upon.

What is it, colonel!

You must train your men, when they perform, to lift their fingers all at exactly the same time and at regular intervals on their instruments, so—one, two! one, two!

The Military College.

The Kingston Military College is a very expensive luxury to the people of Canada, and some of the items we have to pay for are very peculiar. An opera glass, $9.25; Prince of Wales hunting belt $8.52; emigrant's knife, $7.48; trout rod, twelve feet long with three joints, $5.96; a lawn tennis bat, $8.71. The college cost us $70,000. No wonder there is a deficit.—Brockville Recorder.

WOMEN IN FRENCH FICTION.

Distorted Portraitures of French Wives and Mothers Presented by Novelists.

Miss Anna L. Bicknell, who lived for some years in the Tuileries as a governess in the household of Napoleon III, contributes to The Century an article on "French Wives and Mothers." This is richly illustrated by drawings by Boutet de Monvel. Miss Bicknell says:

Those who have gathered their opinions as to the real character of the average Frenchwoman from the romantic literature of the present century, more especially that of the last few years, would necessarily bear a severe judgment, tinged with a considerable amount of contempt. Such an opinion would, however, be unjust and wholly undeserved, as any impartial observer, having been privileged to share French home life, could truly tell them. The average English woman is very graphically depicted in English novels, and a foreigner can form a fair estimate of her merits and demerits from the descriptions of English domestic life presented by popular writers. But it is not so in France or in French literature. The real French gentlewoman deserves to be better understood, for she is totally unlike the heroines of modern novels, whose writers know about as much of aristocratic life as the author of "The Lady Flabella" in "Nicholas Nickleby." The pictures presented in Octave Feuillet's writings are perhaps the truest to nature as it is seen in some melancholy cases. But he himself certainly would have been ready to admit that the women he met in daily life had nothing in common with his morbid heroines. As he belonged to a good old family of the upper bourgeoisie, he had better opportunities of knowing the society which he depicted so powerfully in his novels of fashionable life than have the upstarts who describe salons of which they have never crossed the threshold.

But even in the works of Feuillet, although the frame is accurate, the portraits are those of exceptionally diseased minds. Women like Mme. de Champallon in "M. de Camors" or the dreadful Julia de Trecœur may exist in France or elsewhere, but those who know French society will certainly recognize more readily women like Mme. de Camors and her charming mother or the Suzanne of "La Clef d'Or," with the home of Sibylle and the dear old people so delightfully described there. Many examples might be quoted equally sweet and pure among the heroines of Feuillet's impassioned narratives, and one is convinced that these have been more faithfully copied from nature than the others.

The fact is that the great majority of French novelists belong to the Bohemia of literature and are not admitted within the precincts either of aristocratic circles or of the less refined but equally strict burgeois homes. They knew only the borderland, peopled in general by the wealthy and adventurous foreign set which budded and expanded during the second empire and has now taken its place by the side of French society, but not within its pale.

A Realistic Scene.

"Realism is the thing," insisted the garrulous actor while they were taking their night lunch after the show. "Nothing takes like the real sawmill, the cotton mill, train of cars, fire engine, burning block, genuine horse and all that sort of thing.

"I discovered that when I was a kid getting up amateur performances. That's where I learned human nature before we youngsters knew anything about the ways of the world and had a comb with a piece of paper over it and a jew's harp and a mouth organ for the orchestra. I'll never forget when we gave 'Red Handed Antonius' in the barn—3 cents for adults, 1 cent for children over 5 and free seats for the balance. Everything was real. I had a corn knife for a sword, and there wasn't a soldier in the squad that didn't have a musket longer than himself. When we fought, the anger of battle flamed from our eyes, and when one fell he went down so hard that it took weeks to remove the bruises. The audience would get on their feet to cheer, and it took half a dozen husky marshals to keep them from going after the villain with pitchforks.

"When it came time to behead Antonius, the excitement was intense. The music of the orchestra was slow and dismal. The children had to be carried out, and they whooped as they went. The people held their breath as I ground the corn knife on a real grindstone and hissed my vow of vengeance. When I removed my coat and rolled up my sleeves, the breathing stopped. Just here my father entered by way of a granary door and carried me kicking off the stage. If he had not, I would have decapitated the youngster who was playing Antonius as sure as I am alive. If the whole thing hadn't been so realistic, we couldn't have held our audience for ten minutes. It's the same way the world over."—Detroit Free Press.

Laughed Himself to Death.

Among the historical incidents connected with the rathhaus is one relating to an old judge who laughed himself to death. One sultry day, reads the record, during a recess of the council the members were leaning from the windows of the rathhaus in the hope to catch any stray wind. It was the period of hoops and voluminous skirts, and maid shared with mistress the mania for distended attire. On this pulseless summer day a pretty servant girl in a wide hooped skirt and a gay bodice made her way through the loitering groups up to the fountain. She filled her tub and lifted it to her head, but in this movement, lo, the wonderful skirt was wrested from its fastenings and it dropped to the ground. The judge had seen the maid approach the fountain like a ship under full sail, and when he now beheld her, collapsed and abashed, he was filled with such humor that upon the spot he laughed himself to death.—"Stuttgart," by Elsie J. Allen, in Harper's Magazine.

Clerk Worm Turns on Shopper.

She wanted to look at baskets, and for that purpose the clerk took from the shelves a large assortment until all but two were scattered over the counter. The woman did not want to buy, so she turned away, making the excuse, "I only came in to look for one of my friends." The clerk felt rather exasperated and replied, "Madam, if you have the slightest idea that your friends are in either of these two baskets on the shelves, I shall be pleased to take them down for you to examine."—Springfield Republican.

The Rabbit Industry.

It doesn't take much to start the rabbit industry—a few rabbits and a turnip patch or some other pasture—but it takes a mighty hustling to check it after it gets a good start. We kill about 14,000,000 of them in North Carolina every winter, but there are more here now than there were when Mr. Raleigh brought his immigrants over.—Wilmington (N. C.) Star.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

JAPAN DOES NOT PROTEST

London, May 22.—The Paris correspondent of the Sunday special reports an interview with Secretary of State of the Japanese Legation, in the course of which the secretary declared that there was absolutely no foundation for the statement that Japan had protested against American occupation of the Philippines. The Japanese Government he said, after the Chinese war, signed a convention with Spain, renouncing forever territorial rights south of Formosa.

GREAT INDIGNATION IN MADRID

Madrid, May 22.—Great indignation is felt here over the statement contained in General Blanco's telegram that the American warships hoisted the Spanish flag before attacking Gauntanamo. The newspapers contain savage attacks upon America regarding the alleged action of the United States vessels.

INSURGENT LEADERS AT JAMAICA

Kingston, Jamaica, May 22.—Senor Monde[illegible] [illegible]pote, Vice-President of the Cuban Republic, who is on his way to Washington, arrived here yesterday. With [illegible] were Senors Manuel De Spaigue, his private secretary, Alberto Herrera, [illegible]ary aide, and Orencio Noarse, the Controller General, and commandant. They were taken off the Cuban coast twelve miles east of Cienfuegos, on Tuesday night, by the filibuster Captain Gervasio Safio, and had a tempestuous voyage of two days in an open three-ton sail boat. They were nearly swamped several times while journeying here from Montijo Bay with an Associated Press correspondents. Senor Capote, after hearing two week's news, and the truth regarding Manila victory, said, "I go to Washington to set forth the aspirations of the Provisional Government in conjunction with Senor Palma. I cannot disclose the precise nature of the representations. I shall make. Their object is to establish a firm understanding between the Governments, and to arrange a basis of co-operation in miliatry designs, and a civil reorganization of the Island. We feel immensely grateful to the United States for their aid. The non-decisive character of the war so far is a little disappointing to us, but we know the American plans must be wise and certain in the end to effect the result striven for. The result for, us is not liberty alone, but independence for the United States as well as Spain.

NUEVITASA SHELLED BY U. S. FLEET

Madrid, May 22.—An official despatch from Captain-General Blanco says: Some American warships shelledt he forts guarding the water approach to Nuevitasa, Province of Porto Principe, on Thursday night last. Senor Leon y Custillo, the Spanish Ambassador to France,, who was recently offered the portfolio of Minister of Foreign Affairs, had a long conference today with the Premier, Senor Sagasta. Absolute reticence is observed as to the matters discussed.

RUMORED BATTLE OFFICIALLY DENIED

Washington, May 22.—The rumors of a great naval battle current last night were disposed of by the Navy Department to-day in the following bulletin: "Not ruth in the published statement concerning an engagement off St. Nicolas, Hayti, in which 12 ships were sunk.

This was posted not only for general information, but also to quieten the alarm among relatives and friends of those on board the American ships. As a rule, the department adopts the cautious phraseology of stating that no official information has been received, but to make assurance doubly sure in this case the department declared there was "no truth in the reports." This indicates that the official information is such as to warrant the statement that the American and Spanish squadrons have not met. The Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, where official despatches are received, was open throughout the day, but the officials were engaged in routine work, and there was no evidence of that activity which would attend the receipt of important information. In the absence of exact information as to the location of the two fleets, the serenity in naval circles was a fair indication that the official advices did not give promise of an immediate engagement. It is ecidently the view of the war board that an engagement, if it can be brought on, will be decisive of the whole war, and there is no purpose to allow such momentous results to go off on a fluke or on a too precipitatious move in deference to the public pressure for results, but to move firmly yet cautiously, and to insure a victory when there is a fight.

BIG BATTLE IMMINENT.

Key West, May 21. via Jacksonville. Fla.—To-night sees the close of the most intensely anxious and most vexatious day Key West has known since the war began. Everything indicates the proximity of a big naval battle with an unseen foe, which may appear at any one of several points, and possibly strike a blow and get away before force can be massed to crush them. Day break found Commodore Schley's squadron, that had sailed from Hampton Road on Friday, anchored off Sand Key Light, six miles below Key West. They had joined Captain Sigsbee's big greyhound the St. Paul, which left the Roads a day later than they did and beat them here almost a day and a half.

A PRESS RACE.

The appearance of the flying squadron was supplemented about 8.30 by two of the despatch boats that had been with Admiral Sampson's fleet, racing in, neck and neck, the Associated Press boat Dauntless in the lead. The necessity of cutting the cable at Santiago de Cuba has already been evidenced in Key West by several cablegrams from Madrid, via London, sent after the bloody fight at Cienfuegos last week, when the Marblehead's boats crew cut the cable at that point.

Admiral Sampson's fleet arrived here at 5 p.m. This confirmed the forecast made in these despatches on Sunday as to the whereabouts and intentions of these two fleets. Both had been slower in arriving than well posted naval officers here supposed at the time. All this was interesting enough, but not a word of it was allowed past the censor's office, and a corps of correspondents who had been beseiging the cable office all the morning were consequently helpless to get a line on the cable.

WILL STEAM TO HAVANA.

London, May 21.—The Chronicle's special from Madrid says Admiral Cervera telegraphs from Santiago de Cuba that he will wait to coal and water and will proceed as ordered. The Madrid special to the Daily Mail says that Admiral Cervera telegraphed that after coaling he would sail for Havana.

ENTHUSIASM IN MADRID.

New York, May 21.—A despatch to the World from Madrid, May 19, by way of the French frontier, says: There is great enthusiasm caused by the rumors that Admiral Cervera's squadron has succeeded in entering Havana. There is a perfectly absurd report that the battleship Cardinal Cisneros, the cruiser Princess Austurias and two other vessels have joined Cervera. The two first named ships will not be ready for months, and the only vessels ready at Cadiz were eight men-of-war composing the reserve fleet, with half a dozen auxiliary merchant cruisers. Admiral Camara, commander of the Cadiz squadron, has arrived at Madrid to confer with the Minister of Marine. Both decline interviews, even with Spanish reporters.

AN EARLY CONFLICT.

London, May 21.—The Madrid correspondent of The Chronicle telegraphs: "It is believed here that a conflict between the American warships and Admiral Cervera's fleet cannot be deferred long. The new Spanish cabinet desires to force the war to an issue, it is said, with a view to evoking intervention by the European powers as quickly as possible. The internal economic situation of Spain is known to be desperate."

A STRATEGIC VICTORY.

New York, May 21.—A despatch to The World from Berlin says: The newspapers here consider the arrival of the Spanish fleet at Santiago the result of brilliant seamanship, a distinct gain to the Spanish cause, and a strategic victory over Sampson.

HAS LEFT SANTIAGO.

New York, May 21.—An Evening World special from Washington says: It is believed at the Navy Department that Admiral Cervera has left Santiago de Cuba.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

CHAPTER X.

Jeffrey Pettus was in a very happy state of mind when he got off the train at the station at Brandon.

"I'll pump Nunkie so I can dispense with his services in future," he said. "The old duck is safe for seven long years. I'll have time to marry Stella, get this fortune he blows about, and let him sail with the gale."

At the prison he put on a different face.

"So, poor uncle, you are bagged for seven long stretches."

"Pshaw! Let me advise you to keep your sympathy for private use. I am not going to devote so much time to Uncle Sam's service."

Alwin Croft had been in respectable society too long not to realize his nephew's slangy mode of talking and attempts at thieves' wit.

"Ain't, eh? Wonder how you can help yourself?"

"I shall find a way, so make your mind easy. Now, about Stella? Have youl ost sight of her, or what?"

The form of the question suggested an idea to Jeffrey.

"Well," he said carelessly, "I did drop the girl, but I dare say I can easily find her again."

A stamp on the floor and a hasty oath from Croft made Jeffrey start in pretended surprise.

"What's ailing you?" he inquired, opening his eyes, mildly.

"Why, you fool, didn't I pay you to follow her, never to let her out of yuor sight."

"Well, you did say something about keeping her in view, but I didn't know it was so important."

"Important! That girl will be worth five million dollars some day, and this besotted ass lets her slip through his fingers."

"Go easy, old man; she is in Chicago safe enough."

"How do you know that? She may be thousands of miles away from there by now."

"She has no money to go so far."

"She has jewels worth thousands of dollars."

"But I heard she gave them all to the lawyer who defended you, for the benefit, she said, of the people you robbed; and the mortgagee who seized the house and furniture would not let any of the silver be taekn out. He said you had borrowed money on everything. I believe Miss Stella left the biggest part of her wardrobe behind."

"Did she? I wonder what she will will do."

"Go for governness most likely," said Pettus, and then bit his tongue, but Croft did not notice the remark.

"She has no suspicion of the truth; her mother did not know it, and she died when Stella was only ten years old."

"What is this wonderful yarn you are giving us about millions? 'Millions in it,' like Colonel Sellers, I guess."

"You are a fool."

"Glad to hear it; always was under the impression I was a rogue. If I am a fool, I'll reform and join the church'."

"oJin the devil," growled Croft.

"Certainly; I didn't know he was looking for a partner. Now, tell me Nunkie, all about this fortune in the mountains of the moon, and I'll promise tot ake more interest in the heiress."

"The fortune is safe and sure. Stella can claim it when she is twenty-one, which will be in eighteen months."

"Who has it now?"

Croft eyed him sharply.

"You would like to know, Mr. Jeffrey Pettus, no doubt. Then you could play your little game with Alwin Croft safe in the State prison.

"Well, of all the old suspicious cards I ever came across!" cried Jeffrey, in great indignation.

"No doubt. Well, I'll give you a straight tip, Stella Sterling cannot get her fortune without me. If I die in State prison she will continue poor to the day of her death."

Jeffrey Pettus flet nonplused.

"If you marry her and I am in the deal, I'll make you a rich man; but I don't pluck geese for other men to lie at ease on the feathers. I have never been a philanthropist, and I'm too old to begin now."

"Why, Nunkie, you are getting eloquent. Some of our leading orators might learn a thing or two from you. Keep cool, and give me an idea of what you are driving at."

"It is this: You were in great haste to be ffo the other day, and all anxiety to follow up Stella. Now you come here andt ry to bluff me, pretending you don't know where she is. You know very well, but you think you can get enough information out of me to

"See here, Nunkie, if that is your opinion of me, the sooner I get out the better."

"I guess you know my opinion of you; if you don't you have it now. I consider you a treacherous, cold-blooded scoundrel, who only lacks pluck to be the biggest villian unhung."

Jeffrey started to his feet, his sallow face an ugly greenish white with rage.

"Well, if yout hink I'll stand such insults from you or any other man—" he said fiercely.

"Sit down and take it easy," Croft answered with cool contempt. "You wanted my opinion of you and now you have it."

"You are not justified in holding it."

Jeffrey was trembling with rage, but his face was gradually getting back to its color.

"I knew your father, and you inherit his character."

"What about yourself?"

Paine's Celery Compound

Saves the Life of a Lady in Seamo, Man.

The Terrors of Rheumatism Neuralgia and Headaches Are Banished Forever

Health and Happiness Bestowed on all Who Make Use of Paine's Celery Compound

Wells & Richardson Co.,

Gentlemen,—I am very pleased to be able to tell you of the great good that I have derived from the use of your Paine's Celery Compound. Before using your valuable compound I was so crippled with rheumatism that I had to crawl on hands and knees from one palce to another. I also suffered from neuralgia and dreadful headaches, and could not get more than one or two hours of sleep each night. I often thought it would be better to die than live and endure my terrible agony.

I was happily advised to use Paine's Celery Compound, and after the use of six bottles the rheumatism and neuralgia are banished, and I now eat, rest and sleep well. My present improved state of health is due entirely to the health-giving virtues of Paine's Celery Compound, which has done wonders for me. My husband is now using it for dyspepsia, and it is doing wonders for him. My neighbors to whom I have recommended Paine's Celery Compound have been greatly blessed,

Yours truly,
Mrs. Annie R. Cobbm

THE REFORMED FAKIR.

He Had a Great Graft the Winter He Spent In Albany.

"I've earned an honest living in many ways," said the reformed fakir, when he was raking over the dead leaves of his past the other night, "but I never struck such a graft as I was up against the year I wintered in Albany. A friend got me a little job there that paid me a couple of dollars a day. Besides that, I was entitled to a pass down to New York and back every week. I might have starved if I had been so exclusive as to try to live on this alone. So I set my wits to ferreting.

"I hadn't been there long before all the pretty girls in town were after me. No, as I don't pose as a handsome man I did not take it to heart. They didn't want me, but they wanted the autographs of the statesmen. I'd sing 'em a song like this:

"'Why, cert, girls, I'd be delighted to oblige you. Nothing would give me greater pleasure. But you know I can't go on the floor. My friend the doorkeeper, however, can get just what you want, but it will be some trouble to him, and he may charge 10 or 15 cents, and'—

"'Oh, that's all right,' the girls would say, and nearly every one would put down a quarter a sig. And every quarter went into my pocket, for that guff about not being allowed to go on the floor was all a blind. So's they wouldn't see me, I'd just tackle the statesmen somewhere else.

"Then I got on to the money to be made in strikes. Every time a bill was introduced that would hurt some one or some interest in New York, I learned all I could about the matter there and wrote to a friend in New York who looked up the other end. Then I would write to the parties something like this:

"'A bill detrimental to your interests has been introduced here. Better come up and see about it.'

"When they reached Albany, I never failed to get my reward for putting them on.

"There was another way of coining an honest plunk—I worked all the boys I could for passes. Those who didn't go home over Sunday were willing to give up, and those who could get more than one I jollied into turning the extras over to me. Then I sold them to fellows who couldn't get even one pass, or who wanted two or three.

"By these grafts I managed to live well, and save every cent of my salary."—New York Press.

A THOROUGH ARTIST.

Sir Edward J. Poynter's Great Care For Minute Details.

It may almost be said that it is impossible to appreciate the finished work of this artist without some knowledge of the contents of those portfolios which contain his drawings. It at all events increases our respect for the man and his art to know how much thought and labor and thorough craftsmanship have gone to the making of his more important compositions. For the figure of St. George, for instance, which we see clothed in a complete suit of Maximilian armor, gleaming through the dusk of the lobby of "the house," he thought it necessary to draw the figure nude, and not only nude, but scorche, and it was not unusual for him about this time to make a study even of the skeleton in the attitude required for a figure. Such a drawing I have before me now—a drawing for one of the men, who is stooping to pick up a stone to hurl at St. Stephen, on one side the figure nude, but fully fleshed; on the other, trunk and legs and arms "in the bones."

Contrasted with such studies there are others of great completeness and finish, but still preparations—one, for example, of the same St. George, but fully armed, with his attendant figures of Purity and Fortitude fully draped and underneath the shield of the United Kingdom, with naked children on either side holding a festoon. The work is bordered with a band of roses conventionally treated and executed in water colors with the utmost care, yet so broadly that when photographed it looks like a fresco. This little drawing, almost as beautiful in color as in design, was experimental only. The shield and the children were replaced by a more formal design for the mosaic.—"Sir Edward J. Ponyter, P. R. A.," by Cosmo Monkhouse, in Scribner's.

Most fascinating invention of the age. Always ready to entertain. It requires no skill to operate it and reproduce the music of bands, orchestras, vocalists or instrumental soloists. There is nothing like it for an evening's entertainment.

Other so-called talking machines reproduce only records of cut-and-dried subjects, specially prepared in a laboratory, but the Graphophone is not limited to such performances. On the Graphophone you can easily make and instantly reproduce records of the voice, or any sound. Thus it constantly awakens new interest and its charm is ever fresh. Apprentice Wanted

A good stout boy is wanted at The Times Bindery to learn bookbinding.

One on Mac.

An Irishman, blessed with only a single copper, went into the Snowden House, wondering how he could best get a "horn" for his cent. A traveller came in shortly after and called for a drink of the real stuff. Before he could lift it from the counter, Pat advanced to him and said: "Yer hannar, I'll lay ye a copper I'll drink that stuff without letting it go down my throat." The traveller, whom we will for short call "Mac," at once accepted the challenge and each laid a penny on the counter. Pat at once swallowed the whiskey with a hungry gulp, and leaving his penny on the counter walked off saying, "I've lost and there's my penny."

Phrenology

Call and see the wonderful phrenologist, Madame A. D. Baker, the seventh daughter. She reads by the head or hand and has a wide reputation for exactness in looking into the future. Testimonials may be seen from leading citizens throughout Canada and the United States. She will tell the name and read by photograph. Call between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m., at 251 George street, (number on gate) where she will remain for another week. Go and see her and be convinced that you have one genuine in your midst. If you are in trouble about love affairs come to her. She will give you valuable advice. Restores lost affections, removes all difficulties, reunites the separated, and causes speedy and happy marriage with one of your choice. Tells if one you love is true or false. Tells what business you are best calculated to succeed in. Remember the address—Madame Baker, 251 George street. Everybody ought to take advantage to go and see her, as this will be her last week in town.

SPORTING EVENTS

LACROSSE

The Brampton team will be composed as follows: Whitehead, Jennings, Irwin, Peaker, Kirkwood, Neeley, Clarridge, Milner, Lewis, Brown, Holliss, Bain and Pearea. The Globe says: The team is in good condition and should give a good account of itself."

The new lacrosse nets arrived to-day.

The Juniors will leave for Marmora this morning at 11.31 via the C.P.R. and will be met by a bus at the Central Ontario Railway Junction, from where they will be driven to Marmora. The players will be provided with tickets.

The Whitby Chronicle says that a town so successful at hockey should make a good showing in lacrosse, and for that reason advocates strongly the entering of a lacrosse team in the C. L.A. Ontario District, along with Oshawa, Port Hope and Bowmanville.

CRICKET

The Colts have arranged a practice match for this morning on the East Nicholls park. The teams which will be known as the N's and B's, will be as follows:—N—Frank Bradburn, captain, Stanley Brodd, W. Macdonell, H. McBain, Crawford Sowers, Herb. Wood, Harry Rogers, W. Bradburn, Doug. Hammond, W. Hodgson, and Gerald Rackham. B—Jack Fessenden, captain; Clayton Stapleton, Harry McKee, Herold Armstrong, Sidney Shorey, Percy Campbell, Claude Rogers, Warren Deen, Art. Boucher, Geo. Rogers, and Roy Armstrong. The game will commence at 10 o'clock sharp, and every player is requested to be on hand early. The match no doubt will be very interesting and well worth watching, as the boys are playing splendid cricket.

THE TRIGGER

Gun club shoot this morning at 10 o'clock. Riverside Park.

WRESTLING

Mr. Thos. Doyle is in town again. He states that he has $50 in the hands of Mr. J. W. Smith and $25 with the Toronto Globe, to arrange a second match with Harrison, but that the latter refuses to meet him. Doyle tried to arrange a meeting with Harrison at one of the Toronto newspaper offices, but Harrison refused to be present.

Death of Mrs. John Wilson

Mr. Robert Wilson, and daughter, Miss May, were at Janetville Sunday, attending the funeral of Mr. Wilson's mother, the late Mrs. John Wilson, whose death took place Friday. The deceased will be much missed, especially by her aged husband, who, together with their bereaved relatives have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends. The funeral was one of the largest that ever took place in that vicinity, there being over one hundred and twenty-five vehicles in the funeral cortege.

Swing Bridge Wanted at Lakefield

In an interview, Captain Crandell, of the steamer Crandella, stated his strong obejctions to the high level bridge over the Trent Valley Canal at Lakefield. The presence of a bridge of this kind will pervent the passage of his steamer and other steamers of a similar slass now plying on the northern waters from passing down the canal so as to reach Peterborough. With such a bridge these steamers can come no farther than Lakefield. It would seem to be in the interests of this town therefore that a swing should be substituted at Lakefield for the proposed high level bridge. Captain Crandell has brought the matter to the attention of the town council, and hopes that that body will take action that will result in the erection of a swing bridge at the point named, so that steamers of all kinds can come from the northern lakes to the town. The canal is constructed specially for purposes of navigation, and Captain Crandell thinks it a pity that a bridge should be built that will prove an obstacle to the use of the canal for these purposes.

Mr. T. Z. Webster, who has been a baker, confectioner, and restauranter for the past ten years in Lakefield, has determined to place his business on a cash basis. He also wishes to do away with the delivery end of his trade, and as an inducement thereto he will sell the 14c loaf hereafter for 12c. This price, of course is regulated by the present price of flour, and subject generally thereto; of course, if delivery is demanded the old price will have to be paid. All those who wish to call for their bread and pay cash can save 2c. a loaf.

RAWHIDED ON THE STREETS

A Wronged Wife Administers a Severe Chastisement on the Public Highway

Those who happened to be in the vicinity of Dublin street north, on Sunday evening, were startled by the shrieks of a woman, followed by the sound of blows from a whip or rawhide.

It appears that a certain married man had been in the habit of assiduously "keeping company" with a young woman. The two have frequently been together of late, and news of this reached the ears of the wife. She determined to watch for herself, and knowing their haunts, she lit out for her dear hubby with a club. The young wife was successful, as has already been stated. As she sprang on the guilty pair the husband took to his heels, leaving his unprotected companion to the tender mercies of the infuriated wife. A number of sharp blows were inflicted on her neck and face with a rawhide before the unfortunate and [illegible] woman escaped.

To a Times reporter the injured wife said she had no statement to make other than that she did not regret what she had done. She refused to mention any names for her [illegible] for the sake of her [illegible].

Horses Inspected

Captain Snyder, of No. 14 Battery, formerly known as the Durham Field Battery, with Dr. Fisher, V.S., inspected the horses of the battery yesterday. The battery goes into camp on June 14, at Port Hope, for 12 days. There will be 120 men in camp, with 60 horses, six guns and two ammunition wagons. Captain Snyder prides himself on the efficiency of his battery, and not without substantial reasons.

For Sale or To Rent

That valuable property situated on the corner of Bethune and Edinburgh streets, for sale or to rent. Parties intending to purchase or rent a handsome and commodious residence should not fail to inspect this place. The house is a four storey brick, 32 x 42, fitted up in modern style, with every convenience, such as city water, bath room, electric light, first class outbuildings, including stable for three horses, driving shed for six rigs, ice house, etc. There is a fine lawn and vegetable garden attached to the house, also a number of fruit trees and shrubbery. The above property will be sold cheap or leased for a term of years. For further particulars apply on the premises to J. R. Donell.

Music on the Graphophone

Few people appreciate the marvelous powers of the graphaphone as an entertainer. It is an instrument which, though it costs much less than the least expensive musical instrument, will enable its owner to have at pleasure music of any iknd—from that of a bagpipe to that of a grand military band. It reproduces vocal selections and gives one command of every pleasure that appeals to the sense of hearing. No investment pays such large returns in pleasure. Besides reproducing the musical and other records made for entertainment purposes, the graphophone will record immediately and reproduce at once and as often as is desired, your own words or song, or any sound. By writing to the Columbia Phonograph Co., 313 Main street, Buffalo, N.Y., you can obtain a catalogue that will give full information as to prices of graphophone outfits.

Obituary

Mr. Matthew Smith, of Millbrook, at one time a resident of Peterborough, died on Sunday at Millbrook in the 84th year of her age. The cause of her death was paralysis, from which she was a sufferer for years. Her end was peaceful and painless. The deceased lady was a native of Yorkshire, England, from which place she came to Canada in 1841. She had therefore been a resident of this vicinity nearly sixty years. For a few years she was a resident of Peterborough, but most of her life in Canada has been spent in Millbrook and neighborhood. Her husband died fourteen years ago a week, his death taking place in June. Mrs. Smith leaves behind her six sons and three daughters. The sons are Messrs. Robert Smith, of Lindsay, ex-mayor; John Smith, Winnipeg; Matthew Smith, Buffalo; Johathan Smith, of North Monaghan, and James C. and William Smith, of the Public school staff, town. The daughters are Mrs. Bosondi, of Honeyeye, N.Y., and Misses Jennie and Fannie Smith, of Millbrrok.

Misunderstood the Telegram

A clergyman who is fond of dogs bought a couple of pups of rare breed and left them with a dog fancier to train. On returning home one day he found his wife abetted by her mother, about to quit his house and apply for a divorce on the basis of the following telegram from the dog fancier, which had come for him a few hours before: "The little darlings are doing well and looking lovely. Send money for their board."

Men and medicines are judged by what they do. The great cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla give it a good name everywhere.

Kingston News: Mr. C. Maud, traveller for Robertson & Sons, wholesale grocers, is in the city. On his last trip he was attacked by inflammatory rheumatism, and had to spend three weeks in the hospital at Peterborough. He lost a great many pounds in weight.

Mr. J. J. Judge, of Aylmer street, who has had charge of the plating department of the Peterborough Lock Company's works for the past twelve years having severed his connection with the same, was, on the eve of his departure from town to New York, presented by a number of the employes of the factory with a small token of remembrance as a reminder of the esteem and regard in which he was held by them. In leaving town he leaves behind him many warm friends who regret his departure and whose best wishes go with him to his new field of labor.

A Pretty Spot

Mr. C. L. Heck, representing a large paper manufacturing company, Carrolton, Ohio, spent Sunday in Peterborough, and took advantage of the opportunity to visit Chemong. To a Times reporter Mr. Heck stated that he had visited many picturesque spots, but none more beautiful than Chemong. He is so thoroughly infatuated with the place that he will bring over a party to spend a month at Chemong early in July. Mr. Heck has visited all the summer resorts in the United States, and therefore knows what he is talking about.

CUBANS NOT THANKFUL.

Tampa, May 19.—The Cuban district of Tampa is situated in a suburb known as Ybor City, a correspondent says, took a tour through there to-day in order to see just what real Cubans lived like Most of them are refugees from their natuive land living here until such a time as it will be safe for them to return home. Those who could secure employment have done so, and as a result all the cigar factories in the district have their full complement of men and are doing their best to supply the increased demand for domestic cigars, caused by the blockade of Havana. The typical young Cuban is out of sight, short built, with light shoulders, clear-cut features, small, dark eyes, and an olive complexion. When they approach older age they become more robust, but retain their colorless features.

They seem to take but very little interest in the war; in fact, they are evidently uncertain to which nation they should lend their sympathy. I have seen but very few of them around the camps, and these few seemed to take but little notice of their saviors. What regulars I have spoken to express surprise at the ungrateful attitudes of the Cubans generally. It would naturally be supposed that those in a position to do so—and there are many so fixed—would do something to show that they appreciated the efforts of the American Government to save them from further sufferings—to liberate their country. Such (is evidently not the case.

The Cuban shop keepers of Ybor City and Port Tampa seem to take an unnatural and fiendish delight in sharking the soldiers.

The lower class of Cubans are regarded as worse than the lowest class of negroes. The first time that I have ever seen nude children playing in a public street was in the Cuban quarter to-day. You will rarely see such sights in the low colored districts of the Southern cities.

The laboring Cuban lives in a small cottage, apparently erected by the cigar company for which he works. All the cottages are alike. Two blindless windows and a damaged door look upon a little verandah. A flag-staff, from which limply hangs the Cuban colors, stands in then eglected garden. On the doorsteps of these cottages sit faded old women and dirty naked children.

The more prosperous class of men walk lazily around, under large white umbrellas, pulling calmly at huge cigars.

The young women come out of doors after the sun has retired and saunter about with immense cheroots between their teeth, which they seem to relish equally as well as their noonday sleep on the small verandahs.

Volunteer regiments continue to arrive and are fast getting used to camp life. They seem loath to part with their linen collars and have therefore beent ermed, "'The White Collar Brigade' byt he regulars. They certainly do appear ridiculous from a soldier standpoint. Fancy men on the eve of embaring fork a foreign land to fight wearing startched shirts, collars and cuffs, and this under a sweltering hot sun.

Additional supplies of ammunition were to-day handed to the different regiments posted here and at Port Tampa, and altough all regulars have been told to remain in camp as much as possible, nothing definite has so far been made public.

The transports at Port Tampa are still being loaded slowly. The steamship Almo is completed, and loaded with engineers' supplies. She will leave witht he first batch of boats.

Allt he engineers and signal corps are now camped near the beach at Port Tampa, and are doing their share of kicking against the location. It seems that the tide comes within twenty or thirty yards of their furthest tents and when it reaches leaves pools of water, which becomes stagnant and breeds disease.

The more one becomes acquainted with the different regiments of regularst he more one is impressed with the fact that there are a great many Canadian boys in Uncle Sam's service. In one company of the 22nd. regiment of ebraska,t here are two. One is a Hamilton boy, who has already served two years, and the other an ex-Canadian regular of "'C' School, in Toronto.

In a general rough survey of the men of the American regular army, it appears that there are more Germans than any other nationality.

THE "IMMORAL WARFARE."

London, May 25.—In the newspapers to-day there are several striking instances of American and anti-American feeling. While the majority of the papers allude with pleasure to the references to the Queen in yesterday's celebration at New York and Tampa and in the prayer of the chaplain of the Senate, the Morning Post has allowed to appear in its columns a violent denunciation of America from the Hon. Stuart Erskine, a brother of Baron Erskine, who alludes to America's "present immoral warfare against asserts that the sentiment of the country which is worth having, is for Spain.

On the other hand, the St. James Gazette, which has hitherto been bitterly anti-American, seems to be becoming much more friendly. It says, regarding the disposition to blame America for the slow progress of the war, "'Sailors who know the Pacific and Caribbean sea are well aware that delay is the essential of a naval war. They remember that Nelson found difficulty to discover the Spanish fleet somewhere between Jamaica and Cadiz, and they realize that this slow procession is not ingeresting. But the presence of the gunboats around the sullen island means that the American officers are getting the range of every gun in the batteries and will later oppose the landing oft roops just as Nelson did on a similar occasion."

The Westminster Gazette strongly advocates a distinct understanding between the United States and Great Britain. It says: "'The Americans are not going to step out of their continent without raising a variety of questions which will involve them with the European powers. Their Monroeism, in so far as it relates to South America, is likely to be questioned anew, and an European squeeze is likely to be applied to them from many parts. Therefore, it is highly desirable for them, as well as for us, that there should be a British-American understanding, and it behooves both countries to consider betimes some of the assential business aspects of the matter."

The fund being raised by the Countess Valencia, wife of the former Spanish ambassador here, for the relief of the Spanish wounded, has received several important aristocratic additions, including Lady Clanwilliam and the Duke of Wellington, $500.

WILL DESERT BLANCO.

Key West, May 25.—A Cuban despatch says that the Spanish volunteers in Havana are wavering and will desert Blanco if he loses a fight.

CAN HOLD CERVERA.

Washington, May 25.—It is said here that there is no necessity for Schley to enter Santiago harbor. The flying squadron of Spain is as effectively silenced as though it were at the bottom of the sea. Schley can keep Cervera bottled up until the United States Government orders his release.

THE BLASH DENIED.

"ew York, May 25.—A special to the World from Washington says: The report that there had been a class between Admiral Dewey and the German consul at Manila, over the landing of supplies, is discredited at the State Department. The German ambassador has entered no protest at the department and it is regarded as probable had such a thing occurred the German authorities would have taken immediate cognizance of it.

TO SHOOT THE COMMANDER.

Hong Kong, May 25.—The Japanese cruiser Akitsushima, which arrived here to-day from Manila, reports that when she left there rioting had broken out and a number of houses had been burned.

The Spanish volunteers were making angry demands for pay and food which the Spaniards were utterly unable to satisfy.

The cruiser reports that Admiral Montojo is awaiting trial by court martial for alleged incompetency during the engagement with the United States squadron under Commodore Dewey while the captain of the Spanish reveneu cutter Callan, captured by the Americans is to be shot for not making resistnace.

Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader, had a great reception on his arrival at the Philippines from Hong Kong. Rear Admiral Dewey supplied the insurgents with two guns and 300 rifles and at the time the Japanese cruiser left Aginaldo was expected to make an immediate attack.

LEE'S CLASSICAL SPEECH.

Richmond, Va., May 25.—General Lee is receiving an ovation en route for Tampa. At Greenboro the General said: "I spent two years in Cuba and was run out. Now I am going back to run somebody else out." The crowd applouded wildly.

A GREAT ALLIANCE.

Neew York, May 25.—An alliance is proposed between the Cramp Shipbuilding Company, of Philadelphia, and Vickers Sons & Maxim, of Barrow-in-Furness, England, which will result in one of the greatest shipbuilding corporations in the world. The scheme contemplates a doubling of the capacity of the Philadelphia shipyards by increasing the capital of the Cramp Companyf rom $5,000,000 or possibly more, the additional capital being furnished by the Vickers Company in return for stock in the enlarged corporation. The Cramp Company has built warships for the United States and Japan and not long ago secured important Russian contracts for the building of one first-class battleship and one armoured cruiser, each to be of a speed yet unequalled in its respective class. Vickers, Sons & Maxim are also leading shipbuilders, who lately contracted with the British Government for the armoured cruiser Hogue. Byt he alliance they will be able to extend their business at a time when many countries appear desirous of obtaining ships.

TREATED LIKE CONVICTS.

Madrid, May 25.—It is said here that the Spanish prisoners of war in the United States have again complained that they are treated as convicts.

An official despatch from Manila announces that the majority of the chiefs who took part in the last insurrection, have presented themselves to the Spanish Governor-General offering their services to Spain.

TO SEEK FOR DESPATCHES.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 25. — The Spanish Consul here, acting under the neutrality proclamation, asks of the colonial authorities the right to search the steamer Adula when she arrives from Cienfuegos to-night with Americans or any other persons who may have tken advantage of her to leave that city. He is in search of despatches from the American blockading fleet to the Navy Department, and of communications from spies. He avers that on her previous trip from Cienfuegos the Adula brought mail from the United States cruiser Marblehead, and he cites the British neutrality clause declaring that official despatches are contraband.

The colonial authorities, after inquiry, replied that no proof existed of the existence of official despatches from the Marblehead, but only of the personal letters of officers and men, which were accepted as an act of courtesy for mailing here.

The Spanish Consul, persisting in his demand for the privilege to search all packages sealed or unsealed, and the persons of passengers, the Colonial Government replied that such a thing could not be allowed without proof of reasonable probability. The colonial authorities are understood to have inquired of London for advice. They are reluctant to do anything displeasing to the United States and yet are determined to enforce neutrality.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

The Strangers Within Our Gates and Other Paragraphs of a Personal Nature

Hon Senator Cox is in town.

Miss Lillie Staples spent Tuesday in Millbrook.

Mr. O. de Laplante was in Toronto on Tuesday.

Miss Emma Stephens is spending the week in Montreal.

Mr. Will Potter, of Cunningham & Potter, was in Hastings Tuesday on business.

Messrs. George Harvey and Fred. Skitch spent the 24th in Oshawa.

Miss Helen S. Bertram, of Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. Bertram, of Smith.

Mr. George Halpin, of Toronto, spent the holiday in town with his parents.

Mr. R. Buller, of Montreal, formerly of Peterborough was in town Tuesday.

Miss Partlett, of Chicago, formerly of Peterborough, stopped at the Oxford on her way to Lindsay.

Miss Mary L. Armstrong, of Prince Albert, Cnt., spent the Queen's birthday in town.

Miss Mable Thompson, of Omemee, spent the 24th in town.

Miss Ethel Shaw, who spent the 24th in town with friends, returned to her home in Omemee yesterday.

Misses Emma and Bella Morrow were the guests of Miss Minnie Needham, Millbrook, Tuesday.

Mr. Fred Cameron, P. L. S., left Tuesday to take charge of a section of 80 miles of a survey on the James Bay Railway.

Mr. Geo. B. VanBlaricom, formerly on the staff of the Examiner, has secured a position on the city news staff of the Ottawa Citizen.

"Mel." Strickland, the well-known manager of the Canoe Co. of that name, registered at the Snowden House last night, on his return from an outing at Orillia.

Mr. W. F. Young, of Young's Point, a well-known merchant, spent a busy day in town yesterday. It is needless to say that this great family family journal was favored with a call from Mr. Young.

Miss Laura Belleghem spent the Queen's Birthday holidays with her sister in Toronto, Miss Vina Belleghem, who is studying with marked success vocal music at the Toronto Conservatory of music.

Rev. W. H. Shaw, of London conference, father of Mr. W. A. Shaw, traveller, will pay a visit to Peterborough next month and remain with his son a few days.

Mr. R. J. Stuart, of Norwood, special organizer for the Canadian Order of Foresters, has been for the past two months in the Maritime provinces in the interests of the Order, and has succeeded in instituting four new courts in Pictou and vicinity with charter memberships running from 23 to 30.

The "Oxford House"

This House in order to accommodate the ever-increasing patronage has been forced to add to its capacity. At the same time it has introduced separate bath-rooms and appurtenances for ladies and gentleman. Its table has always been known as one of the best in the city and its fifty guests from last year will not be disappointed on their return being run on the European plan and furnishing fruits, fish and game, each in their season. Mine Host Bowman, its proprietor, well deserves his reputation as a caterer.

A Successful Canvas

Our outside representative, Mr. Couch, met with phenomenal success in his canvas of Young's Point. This bright and growing 'burgh contains fifteen housss —this means fifteen families. Out of this number Mr. Couch secured ten subscribers, which practically means—when we consider that of the remaining five three were already subscribers — that Young's Point people, one and all, take the Times. These are the times for the Times. If our statement is questioned all "Examiners" may appeal and we will gladly give space to their "Review" of the situation please don't both speak at once.

A Fake Horse Buyer

The police all over Western Ontario are looking for a man who gives his name as J. E. Wilson and pretends to be buying horses. He gets his board free, is shown every attention, borrows small sums of money and issues bogus checks on which he realizes all the way from 50 cents to $7. He started in Windsor, and his first victim seems to have been Detective Wheeler, from whom he bought a horse for $6.50, giving a $7 check in payment. He got $10 ahead of the Detroit Exchange hotel and then he went to Amherstburg, where he did up J. D. Stokes, butcher, for $3. He is believed to have swindled numbers of persons in other places. The provincial police sent out a circular describing him as a man of fifty-five or sixty years of age, 5 feet 7 inches in height, weighs 145 pounds, has mustache and chin whiskers, defect in right foot, very neatly dressed and always talking about the war.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles

Symptoms—Moisture intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate and become very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. All druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia., Lyman Sons, & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents. Positively refuse all substitutes.

PE STEALS SPECTACLES.

Which Makes Nearsighted Admirers Indulge In Strong Language.

There is a monkey in Lincoln park with a penchant for snatching eyeglasses from the noses of the spectators, bending them double and stuffing them down into his pouch. The startled loser of the auxiliaries to sight then has the pleasure of watching the lump of expensive ground lenses and bent and twisted bows joggle about in the pocket that a monkey wears in the region of his Adam's apple and of occasionally being tantalized with the appearance of them in the paw of the purloiner and of learning that the more fuss he makes the less likely is he to recover his property soon.

If the losers at once begin begging for their glasses and expostulating with the wayward monk, he seems delighted and alternately sits in melancholy abstraction gazing at the faraway "keep off the grass" sign, apparently thinking of his old jungle home and the cocoanuts there, or he is restlessly active in performing an aerial act on the topmost perches. His countenance is fixed in the dolorous expression of recent bereavement, and he hasn't time anyway for minding the talk of the common, everyday sightseer.

"Come here, you naughty monkey! Give me those glasses! What am I going to do? Nice Jocko"—in bewitching, insidious tones—"give me back my glasses."

Mr. Jocko Monk, however, is unmindful until suddenly a great light seems to burst upon his heart and brain. He nervously drags out those shapeless eyeglasses holds them up and looks through them at the person outside the bars, red faced and stamping, in the serious, quizzical way of the dean of a medical college who believes he is discovering a new disease germ. Suddenly he looks up and begins chattering.

"Hello! You here?" he seems to twitter. "What's the matter? You're looking mad. Can I do anything for you? Say, got a peanut in your pocket? Just push it this way, will you? I'm feeling bad—really I am. I'm feeling tough. I need a light lunch. Oh, what you bothering about those old glasses of yours for? Let up, will you? Poor fellow, poor fellow! Can't you get along without those things? They ain't any good now anyway."

Then he flaunts the stolen property before the owner and puts it immediately back into the seclusion of the cavity at the roots of his tongue.

By the time the keeper has come to the rescue of the ill fated goggles the monkey has produced them and stowed them away again some three or four times, and the nearsighted individual whose nose they formerly graced is in rage and despair and swears that the monk is in collusion with some optician in the interest of the latter. —Chicago Times-Herald.

It Couldn't Be Worse.

Mrs. Millem is one of those inoffensive persons who are continually dreading that they may by some mischance hurt the feelings of others. Added to this she has had considerable trouble in getting a suitable cook and does not wish to offend her.

"John," she said to the manservant the morning following the party, "do you happen to know whether—that is—I mean, can you find out, without asking the cook, whether the tinned salmon was all eaten last night? You see, I don't wish to ask her because she may have eaten it, and then she would feel uncomfortable," added the good soul.

"If you please, ma'am,' replied the man, "the new cook has eaten the tinned salmon, and if you was to say anything to her you couldn't make her more uncomfortable than she is." — Pearson's Weekly.

FRENCH SUSPICION.

IT HAS PLAYED AN IMPORTANT PART IN THE COUNTRY'S HISTORY.

In France the Element of Suspicion Has Reached the Preternatural and Is No New Thing—How It Influenced the Actions of Robespierre.

At all the great crises of French life the element of preternatural suspicion has played an important part. Like some mischievous Puck it hovers over the land, whispering doubts here, misgivings there, converting the whole nation into mouchards, whose business it is to set a watch on their neighbors day and night. We have such a profound admiration for many qualities of the French people, such a sincere belief in the necessity of a powerful French factor in the complex mesh of modern civilization, that we can afford to bring this charge of undue suspicion against France as a whole. No student of French history can fail to see the confusion it has wrought. It is not the growth of yesterday, but it is almost as evident in the memoirs of the France of the seventeenth century as on the Paris boulevards at the present moment.

It pervaded the court and the official classes in the time of Richelieu, it was constantly present in the mind of Mazarin when negotiating with Cromwell, and it is visible all through the pages of the memoirs of De Retz. This spirit of preternatural suspicion naturally attained its climax in the French revolution, when, for the first time, the monarchy was involved in its infinite entanglements.

From the moment when the national assembly met at Versailles to the day when Napoleon was banished to Elba universal suspicion filled the air and dictated the cruel aspect of French policy. The queen was, of course, suspected, and justly, in political matters, and perhaps it was not altogether unreasonable that the suspicion in which she was enveloped should have attached to her weak but perfectly honest husband, who was assumed to be absolutely under her fatal influence.

The attack on the Bastille was animated not merely by memories of the past, not in the least because of actual cruelties at the time, for there was none, but mainly because it was suspected that the Bastille was to be utilized as an armed fortress to overawe Paris. The day of the "black cockades" and the march of the Maenads (to use Carlyle's graphic phraseology) were due to excited suspicion. The assembly had scarcely organized itself before the demon of suspicion spread its dusky wings over that body, and Mirabeau and Barnave, at first popular idols, became suspected of intrigue with the court. The vigorous personalities who came to the front all suspected one another. To them the famous warning which Benjamin Franklin addressed to the founders of the American republic, "Gentlemen, we must hang together or we shall hang separately," would have been useless. They could not hang together, and they did hang, or were guillotined, separately. It was Danton's suspicion of an aristocratic plot which caused the September massacres. It was pure suspicion that created the most revolting and unjust of all the revolutionary excesses, the tribunal of Fouquier-Tinville. Danton in his turn was suspected and fell.

We may, of course, justify the suspicion of Dumonriez, but what possible explanation can be given of the suspicion of the harmless astronomer Bailly, with his precisian virtues, who paid with his head for the dangerous folly of meddling with things he did not understand? It was obviously a question of war to the knife between Jacobin and Girondin, for each took an absolutely different view of both foreign and internal politics; but why could not the struggle have been confined to party warfare within the walls of the convention? Why was it necessary to decimate the Girondin chiefs? The only answer that can be made is that suspicion had grown to such a pitch that the very existence of Girondism was considered incompatible with the security of the republic. Men had become frenzied, insane, through constant spying on one another's actions and perpetual attempts to fathom one another's inward thoughts, and the "law of suspects" was simply a formal expression of national craziness. That way madness lies. In the person of Robespierre preternatural suspicion attained its most complete incarnation. His feline nature was ever on the dart for its prey. He could not bear a good word said of any man but he instantly began to revolve in his mind the question as to whether there were not some concealed motive in the praise. The shout of triumphant relief which reverberated over France when Robespierre's head fell into the basket marked the break of the straining point of that suspicion which had created and sustained the terror. When we remember that but for an accident Carnot would have fallen a victim to Robespierre's suspicions and that this suspicious disposition had led a man of sentimental virtue to become a wholesale murderer, we can understand that feeling of relief.—London Spectator.

Nothing to Work On.

"Fellows, I tried to get that blooming mind readah, don't you know, to come up to the club some evening and give us one of his deuced queeah entertainments. By Jove, he said he couldn't come."

"Did he give any reason, deah boy?"

"Why, he said he couldn't make a success of his efforts where there wasn't any material to work on."

"I wonder what the deuce he meant by that?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Scrofula is Snake-Like

in its subtlety. It lies hidden for years in the ambush of the blood, and when it strikes it voids its venom alike on strength and beauty, disfiguring the one and undermining the other.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is a specific for scrofula in its worst and most malignant forms. Scrofula is a blood disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a blood purifying medicine. Mineral medicines only drive scrofula below the surface. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a vegetable remedy and it eradicates the disease. There is no remedy for scrofula equal to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"I was cured of a long-standing case of scrofula by Dr. J. C. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The disease first manifested itself when I was a child, by breaking out in red blotches all over my body. I was not free from the trouble until I took several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. That effected a permanent cure."—MRS. E. H. SNYDER, Lehighton, Pa.

Phrenology

Call and see the wonderful phrenologist, Madame A. D. Baker, the seventh daughter. She reads by the head or hand and has a wide reputation for exactness in looking into the future. SPECIAL WAR NEWS

U. S. WAR METHODS DENOUNCED

Madrid, May 23.—In the Senate to-day, Count Almoras vehemently protested against the alleged action of some American warships in displaying the Spanish flag in order to deceive the garrison of Guantanamo, as announced on Saturday last in despatch from General Blanco, who added that American ships were "immediately recognized and repulsed." The count asked if the Government had notified the powers of this incident. The Minister of the Interior, Senor Capdepon relpied that he had notified the powers and denounced this reported action as "cowardly and iniquitous." Count Almenas then said that "in view of America's manner of making war, Spain must immediately decree privateering in order to utterly destroy American shipping." To this the Minister of Interior replied that the Government had deliberated upon the matter, and had even taken certain decisions which would shortly be known Count Guendulain and the America's act of piracy was admitted by certain theorists as international law. Senor Martinez Pacheco remarked that it was doubtful whether such an act was legal. "But," he added "in face of the Americans' conduct in war with Spain, we must not show consideration for them." The speaker protested against Spain's adherence to the Geneva Convention, whereupon the Minister of the Interior replied that Spain had not yet entered the convention.

Senator Conde, Professor of International Law at Madrid University, warmly denounced the base proceedings of the United States, declaring that if Washington authorized such acts, it did not deserve the name of a civilized government. The professor then proceeded to unfold a lengthy indictment of the war methods of the Americans, insisting that they have shown no respect for the right of peoples in the capture of merchantmen and bombardists, reiterating that the acts of the United States are not those of a civilized country.

ANGLO AMERICAN TREATY

New York, May 23.—A special to the Evening World from Kingston, Jamaica says, a despatch received by the military authorities here, on Saturday, announces the signing of a defensive Anglo-American treaty, and intimated that a war crisis is imminent, immediately affecting Jamaica. All military and naval leaves have been cancelled, and supplies for 18 months are being stored.

CANNONADING HEARD FRIDAY

Port Au Prince, Hayti, May 23.—The following despatch has been received here from Port De Paix, dated Saturday last, telegraphs a communication having been interrupted up to to-day—a furious cannonading was heard on Thursday last, in the direction of the north of Cuba. To-day, Saturday, the cannonading continues in a very lively fashion.

A HOLY WAR

Shanghai, May 23.—The crisis between the United States and Spain is arousing exceptional interest in great cities in China—Hong Kong, Shanghai and Tientsin being the greatest commercial centres, are much aroused. There is great unanimity of feeling on the part of leading Chinese, British and American residents. All seem to unite in the belief that it is a holy war, a war of humanity.

The attitude of China is voiced by the North China Daily News, which says editorially: "There is a popular belief founded on experience, that the hour will discover the man. It is very satisfactory to know that so far President McKinley has admirally undergone the ordeal. He has not been hurried by the jingo element, nor has he allowed himself to be controlled by the peace at any price capitalists, who are afraid of a fall in stocks, and a possible suspension of gold shipments. His course throughout the dispute with Spain, has been calm, temperate and dignified. Throughout he has borne himself as the chief magistrate of a great nation should, and he goes into the war with the sympathy of Britishers all over the world; and with the approval of practically the whole people of the United States.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED.

London, May 23.—The Times this morning editorially dismissed as premature the rumor to which the Paris Figaro gives credence that an Anglo-French agreement has been signed with reference to West African complications but says that an agreement is evidently near completion.

THE VENEZUELA DISPUTE.

Washington, May 23.—The Tribune, which is to adjust the dispute between Venezuela and Great Britain as to the boundary between the former country and British Guiana, will meet in Paris next February.

AMERICANS RETREAT.

New York, May 23.—A despatch to the World from Kingston, Jamaica, says direct Santiago advices say that the appearance of the Spanish fleet off that port compelled four American cruisers then bombarding it to retire.

REPORTED NAVAL ENGAGEMENT.

New York, May 23.—A cable to the World from Port Au Prince says. Heavy cannonading was reported to-day from Port De Paix and Conaives. It is supposed that a naval engagement has been fuoght. Rumors are current that the Spanish were defeated disastrously Port De Paux reports that the firing was heard for a considerable time early this morning.

COMPELLED TO RETIRE.

Madrid, May 23.—An official despatch from Havana says: Two American warships attempted to force an entrance at Isabella Sagua. The troops were massed on the shore and compelled the Americans to retire.

FRANCO-SPANISH ALLIANCE.

London, May 23.—The St. James Gazette this afternoon in its financial article says: In the foreign market this morning several leading dealers were said to be in possession of advance news of the forthcoming announcement of a Franco-Spanish alliance. Hence the rise in Spanish fours. In connection with the above it is currently reported that the recent speeches of the Marquis of Salisbury and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain did not refer to West Africa but to this impending alliance against which Mr. Chamberlain's allusion to an Anglo-American alliance was intended as a counter blast.

New York, May 23.—A Washington despatch says: The battleship Oregon arrived off Key West this morning.

Savannah, Ga., May 23.—Early this morning a special train on the Florida Central and Pennsylvania Railway, carrying North Carolina troops, collided with a north bound vegetable train. Private Wm. Barlee, Durham, killed; Private Wm. Calquhon fatally inujred.

FIRED ON A BRITISH SHIP.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 23.—British steamer Aldborough arrived from San Juan De Porto Rico yesterday. She reports an American cruiser captured Spanish bark six miles north of San Juan. The Spanish cruiser Isabel, while at San Juan fired on British steamer Roath, it is alleged, which was loaded with coal, with intention of crippling her and preventing her departure. The officers of the Isabel however claim the firing was the result of an accident.

Must Have the Times

A lady (?) was seen, as she was on her way down street yesterday morning, to stop and pick up a copy of the Daily Times, which had just been left on a door-step of a Greorge street store by a carrier boy. She quickly slipped the paper under her cape and continued on her way. People will have the Times if they have to steal it. Everybody reads the Times.

BLACKBIRD'S GRAVE.

LAST RESTING PLACE OF THE FAMOUS INDIAN CHIEF.

On a Bluff That Is Now Inside the City of Omaha—On Its Summit the Chief Watched For His White Friends—Romance of the Omaha-Poncas Feud.

Omaha has within her city limits an unknown and uncared for historic spot which in a few decades will be looked upon with far more interest than it has in the past or is now, for the value of historical places grows with the distance in time from the events which made them historical. This spot, which is in Omaha, and yet has been forgotten and neglected by the city, is the grave of the famous Omaha chief and warrior whom even Washington Irving thought worthy of a place in his writings. This chief lived in the latter part of the last century, dying in 1792. In those days, according to Irving, the Omahas looked upon themselves as the most powerful and perfect of human beings, and considered all created things as made for their peculiar use and benefit. The leader of this tribe, Blackbird, or Wash-ing-guh sah-ba, was a warrior of the highest class. Early in life he had been taken a prisoner by the Sioux, where he had his metal tested. Under his leadership the Omahas attained a reputation among the other tribes that they never had possessed before. The Pawnees having inflicted an insult upon an Omaha brave, Blackbird led his men against their town and slaughtered many of the inhabitants and burned it to the ground. He also waged a fierce war against the Otoes until peace was effected by the interference of the whites.

Yet, notwithstanding his fiery disposition, he fell a victim to Cupid's dart. The Poncas had raided the Omaha tribe and carried off many of their women and horses. Blackbird took the field with the sworn determination of eating up his enemy. So fiercely did the battle rage that the Poncas began to sue for mercy. A herald was sent out with the pipe of peace, but he was shot down by Blackbird. A second herald shared the same fate. As a last hope the Ponca chief then sent out his daughter, arrayed in all her finery and bearing the calumet of peace. Her charms conquered. A treaty was made, and Blackbird married the herald. She became his favorite wife, yet nevertheless in one of his ungovernable fits of rage he killed her with a single blow of his knife.

No sooner did he see her lying dead at his feet than his anger left him, and for three days he sat by her corpse—silent, motionless and tasting no food. On the third day his people began to fear that he intended to starve himself to death and entreated him to be comforted. He paid no attention to their entreaties, and at last a warrior brought a little child into his presence and placed it beneath the chief's foot. This appeal brought him to himself, and, arising, he made a speech to his followers and seemingly threw off his grief as easily as he had taken it on. In 1792 the smallpox swept over Nebraska, and Blackbird was one of its victims. The following description of his death and burial is quoted from Washington Irving's "Astoria:"

"When the general horror and dismay were at their height, Blackbird himself was struck down with the malady. The poor savages gathered around his bed and forgot their own miseries. His dominant spirit and love for the white men were manifested in his latest breath, with which he designated his place of sepulture. It was to be on a hill or promontory upward of 400 feet high, overlooking a great extent of the Missouri river, from whence he had been accustomed to watch for the barks of the white men. The Missouri washes the base of the promontory, and after winding and doubling in many links and mazes in the plain below returns to within 900 yards of its starting point, so that for 80 miles navigating with sail and oar the voyager finds himself continually near to this singular promontory as if spellbound.

'It was the dying command of Blackbird that his tomb should be on the summit of this hill, in which he should be interred, seated on his favorite horse, that he might overlook his ancient domain and behold the barks of the white men as they came up the river to trade with his people.

"His dying orders were faithfully obeyed. His corpse was placed astride of his war steed and a mound raised over them on the summit of the hill. On the top of the mound was erected a staff from which floated the banner of the chieftain and the scalps that he had taken in battle. When the expedition under Mr. Hunt visited that part of the country (1862), the staff still remained, with the fragments of the banner, and the superstitious rite of placing food from time to time upon the mound for the use of the deceased was still observed by the Omahas."

"That promontory is now within the city limits of Omaha," says Dr. Mercer, "and I located the grave 20 years ago. When I came to Omaha 36 years ago, the river wound around in the shape of an 'S,' and this promontory upon which I found the grave exactly answers to the description given by Irving. It is in the south part of the city, and Williams street would run through it if extended to the river. Just east of it and under the bluff is a brickyard, the roofs of which reach nearly up to the top of the hill.

"The Omaha camp was located in the bottom beneath the bluff and a little to the north. This point was Blackbird's favorite place for sitting to watch for the coming of the traders, with whom he was very friendly. No doubt you have heard the story. When the traders came up, he greeted them most friendly, made them open up their goods and selected what he wanted himself. Then he called in his tribe and compelled them to trade. The whites made up for their gifts to him by the extra charge they put upon the goods sold, and not an Indian dared kick. The chief had got his bribe and his people had to pay for it.

"There is another story about the old fellow. He was great on superstition, and when pursuing the enemy would fire into their tracks, claiming that would kill them. He posed as a kind of god, but after awhile some of his people grew skeptical of his superhuman power and refused to obey him. In this difficulty he consulted his friends, the white traders, and they told him to prophesy the death of all who disobeyed him. He did so, announcing according to instructions that all who were disobedient would die a mysterious death upon a certain day. When that day came, he invited the whole tribe in to dine with him, and put a dose of arsenic in the bowl of each man whom he wished to serve as an example of his godlike power. Of course they died. From that time on his power was never questioned, and the traders who put him up to the trick and furnished the arsenic stood higher than ever with him."—Omaha World-Herald.

DAY OF THE CLIPPER PAST.

So the Stunsail Has Disappeared For Good From Most American Ships.

"Stunsails out of fashion?" said the skipper as he puffed vigorously at his old pipe, which has been around the Horn almost as many times as its owner. "So they may be, but it is because false economy has abolished them on American ships. However, an old shipmate of mine who is a bit of a crank and left the sea the other day, still carries a topmast stunsail. It may be for sentimental reasons, just as a Confederate veteran might display the flag under which he went to battle, but stunsails are just as practical today as ever.

"'Studding sail,' you say? Oh, yes. Studding sail may be literally correct, but Jack says 'stunsail.' He objects to mouthing participles and words with long endings. He wants brevity all the time—in everything perhaps except rum. The corruption of language by sailors is proverbial. Stunsail may be a corruption of studding sail. But studding sail itself is a corruption of steadying sail or steering sail, which in my opinion was the original term. The stunsail, although used only in moderate weather, was a driving sail. Our yachts carry stunsails today in the form of the immense side sail that is called the spinnaker.

"It costs to fit a ship with a suit of stunsails. Their use means extra labor for the crew, or a larger crew, and their storage takes valuable cargo room. This means expense for the ship, which her earnings in these days of railroads and ocean tramps do not warrant. The cargoes that sailing vessels carry today do not demand quick transportation, with its high freight rates. The modern sailing ship is little better than a floating warehouse. It is not driven. Spars and canvas are not pressed as they were before the advent of the steamship. Sailing a ship to make a short passage is one of the lost arts. There is no demand for auxiliary canvas such as stunsails. The Yankee clipper is out of it—defunct.

"Away back in the middle of the century the stars and stripes floated over ships that were really clippers below and aloft. In competition with one another and with foreign craft our clippers carried valuable cargoes—tea from China, coffee from Rio and fancy merchandise to San Francisco. The steamships do the tea and coffee carrying now. It was not in those days a go as you please run. The clippers were under orders to get there to catch the top of a market. Hours saved on their voyages, long though they were, meant many dollars for all concerned. Ships were driven then with canvas that fairly smothered them in fair weather and foul, and Yankee seamanship, with its characteristic judgment and nerve, was recognized and rewarded.

"But all this is merely a memory now. I can fancy the clipper of the fifties coming head on, rising against the clear sky of the lower latitudes, her sails mounting above the blue horizon, tier upon tier—skyscrapers, moonrakers, cloud cleaners—a snow white pyramid, an angel's footstool, as Jack says. Did they carry stunsails? Aye, up to the royal yards."—New York Sun.

Silly Modern Magic.

It would be quite wrong to conclude that the crystal sphere is discredited among the faithful. Large numbers are sold every year—few, by comparison, with the parchment talismans, of course, and for excellent reasons. In the first place, the parchment worn next the skin requires periodical renewal; in the next, the crystal ball will last forever, and is, moreover, expensive. The genuine article—real crystal—may cost as much as £30, but that is a luxury only accessible to the wealthy and earnest prober into the future; for 15 shillings or a guinea you may possess yourself of a composition or glass ball nicely served up in a morocco case lined with satin like a jeweler's casket, and this will answer the purpose equally well. They are usually made perfect spheres, but if you prefer it egg shaped you can order an "ovoid crystal."

I understand that astrology recognizes no difference in the relative merits of the two forms. The chief essential to success in using the crystal ball is great concentration. A north light is recommended, for reasons I am unable to explain, but is not absolutely necessary. You recline in an easy attitude, hold the ball up to the light, and center your mind upon it until you see something; that which you see is going to happen. My knowledge of this particular matter is so slender that I will say no more about it.

That crystal balls have their sincere believers would seem to be proved by the prices they command. The richest man or woman does not pay 30 sovereigns for a sphere of crystal the size of a lawn tennis ball unless he or she confidently anticipates some return for the money.—Chambers' Magazine.

A Mountain of Basalt.

There is a mountain of dark brown basalt on the Columbia river nearly 2,000 feet in height and stretching along the stream for six or eight miles. When the white settlers first came into the country, the Indians told them this mountain was traveling; that some day it would move across the Columbia and form a lake which would reach from the cascades to The Dalles. What the Indians said has been found true in some respects. The mountain is in motion. Its movement is forward and downward. The railroad builders who constructed their line along the base found the tracks continually forced out of place. In some places the movement has amounted to eight and ten feet in a few years. Geologists attribute the phenomenon to the fact that the mountain rests on a substratum of conglomerate or of soft sandstone, which is steadily being washed away by the current of the big river.—New York Tribune.

Black and White.

The Boston Budget says that a merchant who lives near Boston numbers among his acquaintances and friends an old colored preacher, by whom he was recently invited to make a Sunday morning call at the church over which the latter presides. The merchant, although wishing most heartily to accept the invitation and to bring his wife also, was somewhat in doubt as to the propriety of so doing. "I am afraid," he said in explanation, "that our presence would not be wholly pleasant to your congregation." The shepherd reassured him. "Why, sah," he exclaimed, "dere's so many white folks in dat church some Sundays, mah congregashun looks like a han'ful of blueberries in a bowl of milk!"

No Inconsistency.

LIVELY LAKEFIELD

The Lakefield Picnic

Eight years ago Father Kielty, parish priest of Douro, opened a mission at Young's Point, Peterborough in the meantime supplying the priest. On successive occasions the mission was in charge of Father Kelly, now parish of Trout Creek and also Father ohard, at present parish priest of North Bay. Father Fitzpatrick, who as parish priest of Lakefield, assumed charge of the mission about a year ago and took up his residence there. Ever since the establishment of this mission the Queen's birthday picnic has been its main financial prop and fortunately in every instance has been wonderfully successful. This year, although the day opened with clouds and nature was forbidding, the parishioners of St. Paul's, nothing daunted, turned out en masse and this year's picnic was the largest ever held in the grounds, the entrance receipts alone running over $100. The most popular young lady contest will not be decided for some days, when the Times will give the result. It is rumored that several hundred dollars have already been spent on this feature, and it is believed there are others.

The music was furnished by the Peterborough orchestra, Miss Lottie Bell, violinist; Miss McCabe, organist; E. Hodgson, piccoloist. Mr. W. D. Brooks, of Young's Point, acted as master of ceremonies on the dancing platform. After a pickup football team in Lakefield was beaten by 3 goals to nothing by the Otonabee eleven. Mr. Thos. Cahill interrupted the dancers for a few minutes in order to give Mr. Stratton an opportunity to promise them a calf a piece if he became Minister of Agriculture, and allow Father McGuire to tell a funny story with his French accent. After Father Fitzpatrick had promised to cement all the lovers brought together that day the speech-making ended with three cheers for the Queen, Father Fitzpatrick and everybody and his wife. The entries in the games were very large and each contest was spirited.

The Lakeview House

The Lakeview House has been repainted, repapered and thoroughly renovated throughout. A new building capable of accommodating twenty guests has been added and the Lakeview House is to-day the most commodious hotel on the Midland lakes. Messrs. Lincrap & Co. are building this addition, which is a sufficient encomium upon its finish. A large parlor capable of accommodating a dancing party will be one feature of the new building. Mr. Kearney, the proprietor of the Lakeview, contemplates erecting a handsome cottage on the pretty little island immediately opposite the Lakeview. The fact that the patrons of last year have without exception bespok rooms for this season is the only recommendation necessary.

The Lakefield correspondent of the Weekly Times of last week says: 'The Young's Point football club, with the assistance of two Lakefield, two Norwood and one Warsaw player, succeeded in doing up the Lakefield club to the extent of three goals to two. The reason for this victory for the Point is very apparent. It should be read as follows: One Warsaw player with the assistance of etc., etc., It must surely have been a great strain on the Warsaw man to thus go into game single-handed or almost so because the Young's Point men would only be in the road.

A Warsaw Cry

"The 'Innocents Abroad' of Young's Point passed through here on Saturday morning en route for Norwood to play football with the High School team of that place, and enjoyed a breakdown just outside the city limits. Coming direct from the solitude and loneliness which surrounds Young's Point to the noise and bustle of this great business center seems to have been too much of a shock forr their nerves.' — Warsaw Correspondent to Examiner. The people's paper, the Times, was asked to call attention to this paragraph in the interest of the "Innocents Abroad," these delectable darlings, who, while they may lose their way every time they go from home, have never been known to lose a game to Warsaw. Where is Warsaw? The county map shows a post office of that name, and the Times has been informed that besides the post office there are three other houses within a mile and a half. Perhaps the nervous shock referred to by the Examiner's farmer was due to the fact that these other three houses were sighted at the same time the post office was seen. A stranger striking Warsaw and seeing four houses at one glance would fall dead. It is perhaps needless to say that this was written by the Warsaw correspondent to the Peterborough Examiner. At this distance it is difficult to determine whether it was intended to be funny or to be a fact. As the former it is not a fact; as the latter it is not humorous. Bazoo-like this may go in Warsaw, but they never go any further. Who is this Warsaw player? Did he write this wonderful document? Will he please step out and name himself to relieve the tension of the wondering world.'

AN INQUIRING LAD.

Personal Adornment Which Appeared to Be Unnecessary.

"When I was down in the Tennessee mountains doing my turn in that peculiar and primitive section," observed the special pension agent, "I had at various times such glimpses of life as you pampered children of the luxurious capital never get. I remember one June morning I arose from my simple bed of clapboards on the loft floor of a log cabin and proceeded down a ladder to the earth, thence a hundred yards down to the creek, where I was afforded ample opportunity for my matutinal ablutions, as the stream was big enough to run a sawmill with.

"As I splashed my face in the clear water and splttered over it after the usual fashion of a man who likes to wash his face I was joined by the 10-year-old son of the family with which I was stopping. He stood on the shore watching me with much interest, which I am glad to say I returned with zest, for he was a picture boy. He was sandy and freckled and didn't look as if he had had a bath in the memory of man. His clothes were simple enough, consisting of a cotton shirt, and there was no hat to hide a head of hair which I am positive never felt the penetrating and persuading influence of a comb. He was too much interested in the mysteries of my toilet to say anything until I took out a comb and began to use it on my tangled locks. After a tug or two at it, looking at him meanwhile, he spoke.

"'Say, mister,' he said curiously, 'have yer got to do that there?'

"'Do what there?' I smiled in reply.

"'That there that yer doin.'

"'You mean combing my hair?'

"'Yes.'

"'Of course it has to be done.'

"'Every mornin this erway?'

"'Certainly.'

"'Well, goewhillerkins, mister,' he said, with much feeling, 'yer must be a heap of trouble to yerself.'"—Washington Star.

A STORY OF NAPOLEON.

He Liberated a Scotchman at Oberkampf's Request.

Napoleon had at one time many admirers in England, especially among the commercial classes, who suffered deeply from the war, but he alienated the sympathies of all such by his cruel arrest of the English who were in France at the time of the rupture of the peace of Amiens, in 1808. Some 12,000 English of both sexes were thus detained in irksome captivity till the close of the war, and hardly a family in the middle and upper classes but had to bewail the absence of some friend or connection.

Yet in individual cases Napoleon showed some magnanimity. A young Scotchman, one Robert Hendry, from Glasgow, a scientific dyer and chemist, had taken advantage of the peace to visit the great manufacturing houses of France, and he was staying at Jouy, where Oberkampf has established a huge cotton printing factory, when war suddenly broke out. Hendry was thereupon constituted a prisoner by the authorities, but allowed to remain on parole at Jouy.

Napoleon one day visited the factory unexpectedly, accompanied by Josephine. He made a rapid progress through the works. Villagers and work people, the latter numbering 1,400, assembled to witness his departure, cheering the cortege, and cheering still louder when the emperor was seen to take the cross from his own breast and affix it to that of the modest Oberkampf. Isabey painted the scene, and the picture is still to be found upon the walls of Versailles. But Oberkampf had still something to ask. Napoleon smiled propitiously, but made a wry face when he heard the petition, which was for the release of the prisoner. "An Englishman!" "No, sire, a Scotchman! His mother—his sisters depend on his labors." "Well, he shall be free, then!" said the emperor.—Household World.

Sale of Burnt and Other Timber

A quantity of pine timber, estimated at five million, seven hundred and fifty thousand feet, board measure, situated north and west of the east branch of the Spanish River, in the vicinity of Ramsey Lake, having been partly damaged by fire, the undersigned hereby calls for tenders for the right to cut the same.

Tenders will be received up to and including the SECOND DAY OF JUNE NEXT, and must state the rate per thousand feet board measure, if made into saw logs, or per thousand feet cubic, if made into square timber, which the tenderer is willing to pay as bonus, in addition to the ordinary crown dues of one dollar and twenty five cents per thousand feet board measure on saw logs and twenty five dollars per thousand feet cubic on square timber. Parties tendering may make an alternative tender of a lump sum as bonus in addition to the crown dues, at the rates hereinbefore stated. Tenders must be accompanied by a marked cheque for $1000. The party awarded the right to cut will have to give a bond with satisfactory sureties, for the performance of all the terms and conditions which may be required by the department.

Mr. A. W. Belding, Forest Ranger at Biscotasing Station C. P. R., will give information with respect to the situation of the timber, etc., and further particulars as to the conditions may be obtained from this department.

The figures as to quantity represent the department's estimate only, and intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to quantities and purchase upon their own estimates. The Department does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender. Tenders should be marked "Tender for Burnt Timber," and addressed to the Honorable the Commissioner of Crown Lands, Toronto.

THE FIGHT AT LEXINGTON.

Senator Lodge's Account of the First Battle of the Revolution.

When Major Pitcairn got to Lexington green, about half past 4, thanks to Bowman's warning, there were some 60 or 70 men assembled to meet him. "Disperse, ye rebels, disperse!" cried Major Pitcairn, and rode toward them. There was much discussion then, and there has been much more since, as to who fired first. It matters not. It is certain that the British poured in a volley and followed it up with others. The minutemen, not yet realizing that the decisive moment had come, hesitated, some standing their ground, some scattering. They fired a few straggling shots, wounded a couple of British soldiers and drew off. Eight Americans were killed and ten wounded. One of the eight had carried the standard when American troops captured Louisburg, and thus redeemed for England an otherwise ineffective war. One was wounded and bayoneted afterward. One dragged himself to the door of his house and died on the threshold at his wife's feet.

What matters it who fired first? The first blow had been struck, the first blood shed. The people, in obedience to the orders of a provincial congress, had faced the soldiers of England in arms. They had been fired upon and had returned the fire. It was not a battle, hardly a skirmish; but it said to all the world that a people intended to govern themselves, and would die sooner than yield; a very pregnant fact, speaking much louder than words and charged with many meanings. A wholly new thing this was indeed to have people ready to die in battle for their rights, when a large part of the rulers of the civilized world did not recognize that they had any rights to either die or live for. A great example to be deeply considered, and destined to bear much fruit, was given by those brave men who died on Lexington green in the fair dawn of that April morning.—From "The Story of the Revolution," by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, in Scribner's.

MOST WHOLESOME MEALS.

Mrs. Rorer Tells the Best Foods For Different Times of Day.

In The Ladies' Home Journal Mrs. S. T. Rorer writes at length to show that Americans eat too much meat, but says she does not want to be understood as condemning meat entirely. Individually she uses "all (with the exception of pork and veal) in moderation and toward the close of the day. From long experience," she says, "I have found that a heavy morning's work can best be accomplished on a breakfast composed of a well cooked cereal and fruit, with perhaps a cup of French coffee or cereal coffee and a piece of well toasted whole wheat bread. The noonday meal, especially if work is to be continued in the afternoon, should be composed of a cream soup, with whole wheat bread, an omelet, some of the lighter forms of nitrogenous food, in the proportion of one-third to two-thirds carbonaceous food. Fruits, again, may be taken, if they agree—a baked banana, a baked apple, peaches, pears or any of the very ripe, subacid fruits.

"After the day's work is over and one can take time to rest and thoroughly digest a meal dinner should be served. A warm beef soup, stimulating rather than nitrogenous, should form the beginning of the meal. This may be followed by some light entree, either of fish or vegetable, then the red meat, either boiled, broiled or roasted (never fried), with its accompanying vegetable. With beef serve potatoes or macaroni as the starchy food, with mutton or chicken rice. A green vegetable should be added for its salts, and this may be onions or young peas, beans, cauliflower or spinach. The salad should follow, and with it a tiny bit of cheese, with a piece of whole wheat bread, a bread stick or a water biscuit. Then a simple, light dessert may be served."

Most fascinating invention of the age. Always ready to entertain. It requires no skill to operate it and reproduce the music of bands, orchestras, vocalists or instrumental soloists. There is nothing like it for an evening's entertainment.

Other so-called talking machines reproduce only records of cut-and-dried subjects, specially prepared in a laboratory, but the Graphophone is not limited to such performances. On the Graphophone you can easily make and instantly reproduce records of the voice, or any sound. Thus it constantly awakens new interest and its charm is ever fresh. The reproductions are clear and brilliant.

Graphophones are sold for $10 and up

Missed

Yesterday morning The Times was not issued in consequence of Tuesday being a public holiday. Scores of persons, forgetting that our staff occasionally need a holiday, called at the Times office to know why the paper had not been delivered as usual. Mr. Bert Brown, of the City Hotel, said that a dozen or more who are in the habit of reading the Times at that well-known hostlery, showed that they would about as soon have missed their breakfast as not to get a look at the paper. Verily, everybody reads the Times.

THE SOLDIERS RETURN

A Pleasant Outing at Kingston Notwithstanding the Wet Weather

About 6.30 o'clock yesterday morning the 57th Battalion arrived in town from Kingston. The only thing that interferred with the complete success of the outing was the wet weather which was experienced. The battalion marched to camp on arrival on Sunday morning in a heavy rain and thunderstorm. Sunday night and Monday morning it rained again. On Monday night down came the rain again, and the men had the greatest difficulty in keeping their uniforms and accoutrements in anything like presentable appearance. However, they made the best of the bad weather and made a very favorable impression, both by their appearance and good conduct, every man conducting himself orderly and quietly.

A feature of the trip was the visit to Kingston of the American company from Watertown, a company of the 39th National Guards, who arrived on Monday evening eighty strong with five officers. The Americans were given an enthusiastic reception by the citizens and the Canadian volunteers who cheered their cousins in the warmest and heartiest manner.

On Sunday all the military attended divine service in St. George's Cathedral. The brigade presented a splendid appearance.

The battalion was ordered to parade at six o'clock on Monday morning, but the rain prevented this muster. Monday was, therefore, a holiday. In the afternoon the Mayor and City Council took the battalion down the St. Lawrence for a sail. The trip was greatly appreciated, notwithstanding the rain which was falling. On Monday night the American soldiers arrived and were given a hearty reception, the Canadian volunteers falling in as an escort to the visitors in their parade around the principal streets.

On Tuesday parade was called for 9.30 and the Battalion marched about ten o'clock to join the brigade for the military review. The reviewing officer was Col. Montizambert, who had Col. H. C. Rogers, who accompanied the 57th, associated with him as staff officer. The 57th made a most creditable showing in this review, in which the Battery, the Royal Military College Cadets, the American company, the 14th, the 57th and the boys' brigades participated.

The afternoon was given up to sight-seeing and in the evening the officers were entertained at a banquet at the Frontenac. This was a highly successful gathering, attended by the officers of all the corps in review.

The 57th entrained for home about twelve o'clock and were given a hearty send off. The trip home was without incident.

A FAST GAME

Of Lacrosse—Brampton vs. Peterborough—Visitors Win by a Score of 4 to 3

A very fast game of lacrosse was played on the P. A. A. A. grounds Tuesday afternoon between Peterborough and Brampton.

The match was fast and clean from start to finish and had it not been that the Peterboroughs were minus three of their best players—Dobbin, Rubidge and Phelan—the game would undoubtedly have resulted in a victory for the local team. Brampton won by the close score of 4 to 3.

The teams lined up on the field in the following order:

Excelsiors.—J. H. Perrin, goal, Bert Jennings, point; S. McClure, cover point; R. Peaker, 1st defence; A. Kirkwood, 2nd defence; H. Brown, 3rd defence; W. Neilly, centre; C. Irving, 3rd home; F. Milner, 2nd home; F. Lowes, 1st home; Whitehead, outside home; Hollis, inside home; M. Marshall, field captain; J. Douglas, umpire.

Peterboroughs.—E. Wasson, goal; F. Lynch, point; J. Brown, cover point; J. Mein, 1st defence; W. Borland, 2nd defence; B. Rickey; 3rd defence; Jas. McCabe, center; L. King, 3rd home; R. Glover, 2nd home; W. Galley, 1st home; J. McCabe, outside home; G. Lipsett, inside home; Bert Dolan, field captain; W. Rudkins, umpire.

Referee.—Dickson Davidson.

Peterborough won the first game in two minutes, Lipsett doing the necessary.

Brampton scored the next three games in seven, six and fifteen minutes.

Peterborough scored the next two games and made the score a tie, but Brampton succeeded in again scoring and winning the match.

The visitors are a very fast lot of young players and their style of play is of a nature to popularize the national game in any town which they visit. Their work is clean and their combination as brilliant as any ever seen in Peterborough.

OBITUARY NOTES

A Douro Pioneer and a Respected Citizen of Peterborough Pass Away

THE LATE JAS. MOHER.

Another old resident of Douro has passed away in the person of Jas. Moher who died on the 21st. inst. The deceased was born in the County of Cork, Ireland, on May 21, 1819, and was exactly 79 years of age on the day of his death being just three days older than her Majesty Queen Victoria.

Mr. Moher came to this county with his parents in 1831, and with them settled on lot 5, con. 6, Douro, where he resided for many years the deceased took an active part in municipal and political life, being an ardent and enthusiastic Liberal. He occupied a seat in the township council for many years. His funeral on Sunday last was very largely attended. His widow, to whom he was married in 1841, still survives him.

THE LATE ARTHUR M'GARRITY.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at four o'clock of the late Arthur McGarrity, from the family residence, No. 286, Edinburgh street. The very sudden death of the deceased from heart trouble has cast a gloom over the entire neighborhood. He was universally beloved and esteemed by all his acquaintances. The floral tributes received were indeed profuse, including a pillow from the Iron Moulders' Union No. 191, cross and anchor from Mr. John Dwyer, wreath from Mrs. McAuliffe, cross from Mrs. Hammond, cross of cala lilies from the Auburn Mills, cross from Mr. Chas. Wynn and Miss Wynn, cross from Carroll and Harold Hudson, cross from Mr. Geo. McFadden, basket of flowers from Mr. Archie Bate and handsome bouquets from Mrs. Geo. Parry, Mrs. John Shannon, Miss Logan, Mrs. Wm. Long and Mamie and Mira Geary. Besides a bereaved widow nine children survive, viz: Mrs. P. McAuliffe, town; Mrs. T. O'Reilly, Ennismore; Mrs. D. Bevan, Rochester; Mrs. John McManus, West Patavia; Mrs. W. Geary, town; Misses Lottie and Maggie, who reside at the homestead; Arthur, of Manistiqui, Michigan and John, of British Columbia. The deceased was a faithful adherent of the Roman Catholic church and a staunch Reformer. In his death the children of the neighborhood lose a friend who was ever watchful of their interests.

DEATH OF MISS FAIR.

Miss Carrie Fair died yesterday morning at the residence of her sister, Mrs. W. J. Hall, Brock street. The deceased had been ill for some time, having given up her position on the staff of the Woodstock Collegiate Institute in February last. She was the youngest daughter of the late John Fair and was a sister of Mrs. W. J. Hall. She received her early education at the Public Schools and Collegiate Institute here and afterwards held a position as teacher on the Public School staff. She then took a course at Toronto University, graduating in the class of 1887. After this she spent a year in Europe. She had held several excellent positions on Collegiate staffs, and for five years past had been teaching modern languages in the Woodstock Collegiate Institute. Her untimely demise will be deeply regretted by a very large circle of friends. The funeral is to take place to-morrow afternoon from the homestead, "Linden Hill," south half lot 20, concession 4, Cavan, to St. Paul's burying ground.

—The Norwood football tournament held there Tuesday was very successful, Norwood High School and Gore's Landing teams took the field, the High School boys winning by 2 to 0. The match between the Toronto Scots and Norwood village team was one of the best ever played there. Throughout the game the ball was first on one goal and next on the other, but on account of wild shooting and star work by defence men neither could score. Both teams played splendid combination.

—Mrs. Phalen, of the Corners, lies at her home seriously injured, as the result of a runaway accident which occurred Tuesday. Mr. Samuel Wallace's team has been working for the corporation at Lakefield recently and Mrs. Phelan being up in the village purchasing supplies was offered a ride home by the driver, who was going down the road a piece. The team watered at Mr. Wallace's, and, on being left for a moment while the gate was being fastened, started off suddenly at a gallop. Mrs. Phelan tried to hold them but was unable to check their speed and, on the team making a sudden turn, was thrown out of the wagon and against the fence in such a manner as to sustain a very bad cut across the forehead, which may result seriously. She was driven to her home, where she is now under her physician's care.

—On Friday Mr. Ernest Mann sent a wagon load of cheese boxes from Mr. R. Arnott's box factory, town, to the Star cheese factory, Verulam. The wagon, which was in charge of Mr. James Morrison, had reached the Pigeon Creek bridge, and the front wheels of the wagon had safely crossed the space between the swing and the stationary part of the pontoon, but the swing opened enough to let the hind wheels drop into the water. The result was that the rack of boxes was overturned, and the driver states that he and a lad that was with him had considerable difficulty in saving the horses. The wagon and its load were left till Saturday morning, and it took till two o'clock to get things to shore. In the accident three waterproof covers were lost, besides a blacksmith's anvil, which was a part of the load.

DECISIVE MEASURES

Decided Upon at an American Council of War

WAR TO BE PRESSED

There are Indications that a Decision has been Reached to Embark Military Expiditions, but Whether for Cuba or Porto Rico can only be Conjectured—The Spanish Fleet may not be Cooped up at Sautiago After All

(Special Despatches to the Times, 4 a.m.)

IMPRESSING STEAMERS

Madrid, May 26.—4 p. m.—It is said that all Spanish steamers from 1,000 tons up are to be impressed for use as auxiliary cruisers.

DEFINITE NEWS FROM AMERICAN FLEETS

Key West, May 26.—Definite news from the American squadron operating in Cuban waters was received here this afternoon fully confirming the general situation outlined in these despatches last night and this morning. Commodore Schley is believed to be off Santiago De Cuba to-day and definite information as to the exact situation in so far as it affects Admiral Cervera's squadron may be expected to-night or to-morrow.

Rear Admiral Sampson is in a position to proceed quickly to the assistance of Commodore Schley's ships upon word from Commodore Schley, and at the same time he remains within striking distance of Havana. If, however, Commodore Schley reports that Admiral Cervera is bottled up at Santiago De Cuba the naval view is that he will be permitted to finish the business to that point with the ships now under his direct command.

AN IMPORTANT COUNCIL OF WAR

Washington, May 26.—Secretary Long said at the close of office hours to-day that no word had come from any scouting vessels so numerous in West Indian waters concerning the Spanish flying squadron, wherefore he concluded that Cervera was still in Santiago harbor. Supposedly Schley is lying outside watching the entrance to prevent the egress of the Spanish vessels but while there is evidence of a certain kind on that fact there has been no official confirmation. This is a little remarkable in view of the fact that it is only a day's run for one of Schley's swift torpedo boats from Santiago to a naval port, Hayti. There is also a curious lack of confirmation from the newspaper despatch boats. At this point it was supposed that the censors might have excluded from the despatches of the newspaper men any reference to the fleet, but this would apply, according to the statement of the Navy Department officials here, only to that part of the despatches that might relate to the movements and whereabouts of the United States forces, and the censor's rules would not exclude reference to the Spanish squadron. Notwithstanding that the officials profess unshaken confidence in their original belief that the Spanish squadron is securely bottled up in Santiago harbor there is no concealment by them of an intense desire to secure some absolutely trustworthy information on that point. It is not to be doubted that with the question still open the beginning of the military operations is retarded for as long as there exists an indisposition to start the troop transports for Cuba, it may be depended upon that the Spanish fleet is still a big factor in the invasion of Cuba. Probably it was this uncertain state of affairs that induced the President to call a consultation at the White House to-day between Secretaries Alger and Long, General Miles and the member of the naval war board, Admiral Sicard, Captain Crowninsfield and Captain Wabanaw.

As stated by one of the members of the members of the conference the purpose was to go over the whole situation from the Philippines to Cuba and Porto Rico, and decide just how far the plans already laid should be modified to meet existing conditions. This involved a discussion of such important points as the propriety of the immediate advance of the military forces upon Cuba, the credability of the advice so far had, touching the location of the Spanish squadron, the policy of preceeding the Cuban expedition and or accompanying it.

With one directed against Porto Rico and finally the extent of the military assistance to be sent to Admiral Dewey at Manila as already indicated the proceedings were rather in the nature of a consultation than of a war council where a full decision is demanded at once, so that it is not probable that all of the important questions were disposed of at the council none of the members of the conference felt authorized to tell what had taken place, but there are thought to be patent indications of a decision to embark military expeditions, but whether for Cuba or Porto Rico can only be conjectured in the course of the next few days.

DISABLED BY EXPLOSION.

Madrid, May 26.—Governor-General Augusti, the Spanish commander at Manila, in a dispatch just received here says: "The United States cruiser Baltimore is disabled by an explosion which occurred on board of her. The Americans attempted to land arms and ammunition at Binacayan, and the Spanish troops, who occupied a good position, permitted the Americans to land, when they fell upon them and captured the arms and ammunition."

REFUSE TO PROTEST.

London, May 26.—The European powers have decided to take no action on Spain's recent note requesting them to protest jointly against the Cuban blockade.

URGE RETALIATION.

Madrid, May 26.—The newspapers here continue to urge the cutting of the American cable conections across the Atlantic, if the Cuban cables are severed.

MAY BLOW UP HIS SHIPS.

New York, May 26.—A special to the World from Key West says: With the Spanish fleet caught in the harbor of Santiago an interesting question arises as to what fortifications the American ships will have to encounter if they start in after the Spaniards. The entrance to the harbor is not over 200 yards wide. It is even narrower than that of Havana. Across the entrance the Spaniards have planted three rows of mines. Castle Point, the eastern headland of the harbor, has the more ancient fortifications.

When the St. Louis and Wampatuck were off Santiago last week cutting the cables they had an action with the forts, which gave them a good idea of the strength of the Spanish batteries. Morro apparently had no modern guns. One field piece was drawn up just east of Morro and with another similar gun already there, was all the artillery fired from that point. A short distance east was a small battery.

Inside of Castle Point is a battery of eight inch mortars. The St, Louis and Wampatuck silenced the battery on the shore, but when they withdrew the mortar battery was still firing.

The American ships would have no difficulty in silencing all the batteries now known, including the mortar battery, if they could get around the point where they could reach them. There is plenty of water in the channel, but only one ship could go in at a time. The mines could be exploded by countermines, thus clearing the channel.

Once inside the harbor there is room enough to manoeuvre several ships, but the danger would be that the Spanish ships might defeat the American vessels in detail. The best plan seems to be to sink at the entrance of the harbor one or two large vessels and leave the Spaniards unable to move.

Naval officers here advance the idea that the Spanish admiral has no idea of meeting the American fleet, but when he finds he cannot get out of Santiago he may blow up his ships.

EFFORTS TO STOP THE WAR.

London, May 26.—The Star claims to have information that the French Minister for Foreign Affairs. M. Hanotaux is making great efforts to stop the War. It says that Russia, Austria, and France are endeavoring to induce Germany and Italy to join in a representation to President McKinley, declaring that the powers will induce Spain to grand the indpeendence of Cuba. Should America refuse intervention, it is further alleged, the powers referred to would send a fleet to put Cuba under international rule, similar to the action taken in the island of Crete, untill the withdrawal of the Spanish forces and the constitution of a regular local government.

It is further said that these powers look upon their intervention as being justified on the ground that the war threatens the peace of Europe. The Star's information is not regared seriously here.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: 'All the talk of assistance from Europe is moonshine. Neither France nor any other power is likely to burn its fingers with the Spanish chestnut. Senor Castillo (the Spanish ambassador to France) most probably has a good deal to do in Paris, but it is of a financial nature.

GOSCHEN MAKES A STIR.

Madrid, May 26.—There is no little comment upon the fact that M. Schevitsch, the Russian ambassador to Spain, was the first member of the diplomatic corps to call upon and confer with Duke Almodovar de Rio, Minister of Foreign Affairs, after he took the oath of office yesterday. The approaching visit of Mr. George J. Goschen, First Lord of the British Admiralty to Gibraltar, has created a stir. The newspapers urge the Government to construct batteries on the heights dominating Gibraltar; but it is asserted semi-officially, that the Government will not commit an unfriendly act against England so long as there is no proof of an Anglo-American alliance. If, however, such an alliance should become an accomplished fact the Government would be "constrained to adopt measures to secure the country against the dangers of invasion."

Senor Sagasta has admitted, in the course of an interview, that there are some differences between Senor Puigcerver, Minister of Finance, and Senor Gamazo, Minister of Public Works and Instruction, but characterizes them as "scholastic differences which is peaceful times might lead to the impossibility of working together, but not at the present time."

At this period of storm and stress," continued Senor Sagasta, "both are too patriotic to allow a variance of views on aconomic questions to interfere with their work for Spain. Therefore, I am convinced that harmony will prevail."

In reply to a question respecting the prospects of peace, Senor Sagasta said: "Such a question can be better answered in America than here. America is the aggressor. Spain is only maintaining the right of national existence, which she will continue to maintain to the last.

TRUTH ABOUT MANILA.

Hong Kong, May 26.—Captain Concha, of the ill-fated Spanish cruiser Don Juan de Austria, destroyed at the battle of Manila, says that the Spanish commanders were q[illegible] aware that that fighting was hopeless, but were forced to it by the state of public opinion at Manila. He and other officers wished to steam out of the harbor to meet the Americans, but Admiral Montejo forbade that move. Captain Concha says the Spanish fleet was in a disgraceful condition. The engines of the cruiser Don Antonio de Ulloa were broken; the Castilla was leaking and needed engines to keep the water under, the Don Juan de Austria had only two guns that could be fired, the Marques del Duero had only one gun, while the Isla de Cuba and Isla de Luzon had only their decks protected. He declares, however, that had the Americans not withdrawn by 11 o'clock the Spanish intended to steam out and die to the last man.

PRIESTS AS CHAPLAINS.

South Bend, Ind., May 26.—Rev. Dr. Zahm, Provincial of the Order of the Holy Cross of America, has written President McKinley, tendering him as many priests as he may have occasion to EFFECT ON JAMAICA.

Mr. H. G. Johnston, son of the Hon. Dr. Johnston, of St. Ann's, Jamaica, and member of the Legislative Council, has furnished the news with some facts showing the effect of the Hispano-American war on Jamaica. It is impossible, he says, that during the continuance of the war Canadian letters to Jamaica will have to be sent by way of England. The Atlas line of steamers, which sail between New York and Jamaica, though running under the British flag, carry American mails under contract with the Government. It is likely that the Spaniards will make an attempt to seize and confiscate the mails. At any rate, no mail matter is now going from New York to Jamaica, except merchants' invoices and bills of lading, which, of course, contain no information likely to let light on American naval or military plans. Jamaica itself, at the present time, is full of Cuban refugees, which are being fed on public charity.

120,000 MEN IN A MONTH.

Washington, May 26.—Within a month 120,000 volunteer soldiers have been mustered into service and are practically ready to go to the field. These, in addition to the regular army of 25,000, make a total of 145,000 effective soldiers ready for service within thirty days after the call for volunteers. The additional call for 75,000 issued yesterday will be as quickly responded to. This, it is asserted by advocates of a small standing army, vindicates their contention that the United States can respond quickly to any demand for any army, though, unlike European powers, the United States had no great standing force.

ANOTHER PRIVATE BANK

Finds Business Unprofitable and Unsuccessful

BIG SMASH AT BRACEBRIDGE

Alfred Hunt Assigns and Closes the Doors of His Bank

Clients Looking for Their Money—As a Financial Man Mr. Hunt was Considered Sound and as a Consequence Many Unfortunate People Deposited Their Money With Him

(Special to the Times.)

Toronto, May 26.—Another private banker, Alfred Hunt, of Bracebridge, has closed the doors of his bank and his clients are looking for their money.

For the past few years the failure of these so-called private banks has been one of the unhappy circumstances of Canadian finance. The case of the so-called Midland Trusts Co. of Port Hope was of recent occurrence. In this case the creditors fared badly, as they have done in many previous cases. The estates failed to pan out anything like the value of the money invested by the clients. There have been several other failures of private banks in Ontario during the past few years, and in each case the smash has been complete, and the creditors have lost a large proportion, if not the full amount, of their investment.

NEED OF INSPECTION.

It is beginning to [illegible] a grave question if Parliament should not legislate to prevent the operations of these private banks, or at least to subject them to rigid regulation. The happenings of the last few months have shown that the private bankers of the country have been enabled to do what the chartered banks would not dare attempt.

In the latest instance, the alleged failure of Alfred Hunt, of Bracebridge, it is said that a better showing may be made than in the cases of several others of the private bankers who have been broken during the past few months.

HUNT'S BUSINESS.

According to a despatch from Bracebridge Alfred Hunt has been running a private bank there for 15 years. When he started he was wealthy, and, as a banker, he has done a large and, many people thought, a profitable business. As a financial man he was considered sound, and many people have left their money with him.

Yesterday the bank was closed. This morning there is a notice on the door of the bank in these words: "Closed for the present."

TO A DEPOSITOR.

A depositor interviewed Mr. Hunt at his residence this morning, and he said he intended to assign. According to the despatch, he has "an immense amount of property; and if it brings anything like its value, it is thought everybody will get all that is due.' In the meantime, the temporary loss of money to merchants, as well as the loss to others is causing considerable anxiety.

BANKS AFTER BUSINESS.

The same despatch says that two Dominion Bank officials reached Bracebridge last night, and were closeted with Mr. Hunt.

Mr. Gamble, general manager of the Dominion Bank, said this morning that beyond a small discount account which Mr. Hunt had been running with the bank, the bank had no interest in his affairs. They had heard that he was in difficulties. The reason for the presence of the two Dominion Bank officials in Bracebridge was that the bank had heard that the Bank of Ottawa was thinking of opening a branch there.

I asked Mr. Gamble if the visit of the two Dominion Bank men meant that the Dominion Bank would open a branch there?

"They are just looking around," answered Mr. Gamble.

From this it may be inferred that the chartered banks are prepared and actively engaged in stepping in to secure the business that the private banks have in the past monopolized to the detriment of the rural merchants, farmers, depositors and everybody generally.

BATTLE FOR A SUBSIDY

Ontario Members Want to see the Rainy River Railway Given Aid by the Government

Ottawa, Ont., May 26.—Ontario members of Parliament had a meeting with the Ontario Ministers last evening.

The subject discussed was the subsidy to the Rainy River railway. When the Crow's Nest Pass road got its subsidy last session the Rainy River railway was also promised a subsidy. This had, no doubt, induced some Ontario representatives to vote for a big subsidy to the Crow's Nest Pass line. There is some talk now that no railway subsidies will be brought down this session, and therefore Ontario members met the Ontario Ministers last night and laid the position of the Rainy River road, which is to open up a new portion of the province, wealthy in mineral land, before them.

Sir Richard Cartwright admitted the desirability of the immediate construction of this road, and promised to lay the matter before the Cabinet. The trouble seems to be that if the Government brings down any subsidies at all, there are other roads besides the Rainy River line that will have to be dealt with.

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 27, 1898

THE DOMINION BANK

In no country in the world is the financial institutions more carefully managed than in Canada. Our laws are such that the public are safe-guarded while those who are at the head of the great monetary institutions of the country have ample authority to display their talents and exert their energies. Amongst the Canadian banks that stand high in the esteem and confidence of the public, is the Dominion Bank, the annual statement of which appears in another column. The profits for the year ending 30th of April, 1898, after deducting charges of management, etc., and making room for all bad and doubtful debts, is $182,462.30. To this is added the balance of profit and loss account, $29,925.75, making a total of $212,388.05. From this was paid four quarterly dividends of 3 per cent each, making a total of $180,000, leaving balance of profit and loss to be carried forward, of $32,388.05.

During the year the bank has established agencies in Winnipeg and Montreal, which no doubt will result in substantial advantage to the bank.

The bank is fortunate in having on its board of managers some of the ablest financial and business men of the country with Sir Frank Smith, whom everybody in Eastern Ontario respects and esteems most highly, as President, and Mr R. D. Gamble as General Manager.

Toronto's real estate assessment continues to decline, and the tax rate goes on increasing. This year it will be 29 5-8 mills. That in itself is a heavy tax, but it becomes much heavier when local improvements sewer and water rates are added. The New York Tribune publishes figures to show the size of Great Britain. At the present time it is fifty-three times the size of France, fifty-two times that of Germany, three and a half times that of the United States of America, thrice the size of Europe, with treble the population of all the Russias. It extends over 11,000,000 square miles, occupies one-fifth of the globe, containing one-fifth of the human race, or 350,000,000 people, embraces four continents, 10,000 islands, 500 promontories, and 2,000 rivers.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS

"You needn't sneer; you are ugly enough without that. I am not much better, I allow. Now, as to Stella. I do not care a rap about the girl, though she has always been treated as my own daughter. She is one of those cold, high-and-mighty women, who seem so superior that no man feels comfortable while they are around. She was always like a wet blanket to me, even when she was a child, and I never felt better than I did while she was in New York at school. I loved her mother, who was the sweetest angel that ever breathed; and if she had lived I should never have gone crooked again; but I was not fit to have her, and she was taken from me. Twenty times I had a pistol in my hand to blow my brains out during the first three months after her death, and I wish I had done it. Then I went to Chicago on straight business, and there I met Rusty Rube. He recognized me; I was with him at Sing Sing; I could not shake him off, for he was dead broke, and stuck like a leech. Of course I shook him before I got back to Brandon, but he had put things in my head; and just at that time I lost heavily on a big deal in wheat, when Old Hutch sent a good many solid fellows to grass, so gradually I fell into the old line once more, and here I am."

Jeffrey Pettus' amiability had taken to itself wings when he found that he was not going to have the pleasure of cheating his uncle out of a portion of Stella's fortune.

"Yes, here you are, and here you'll stop till they send you to State prison,' he said, sulkily.

"Well, I'll be in good company, that is one comfort."

"Yes; Rusty Rube goes with you."

"He does. He is the cleverest safe-blower in the world, and it's a shame his talents should lack opportunity for full development; but Rube and myself do not mean to waste our sweetness on the desert air."

"No, I suppose not. Now, what is the next move, governor?"

"The next move is to find Stella, if you have lost her, which I don't believe; then keep her in sight, and try to win her good opinion; I do not say you will succeed. If you don't, I have a friend in Chicago who will."

"Indeed? A hightoned girl, such as you describe this here Stella to be, is very likely to fall in love with your friends."

"The man I mean is a regular swell, blue-blood, a fashionable clubman, and son of a millionaire.'

"How do you suppose he will look at you after he knows you were in State prison?"

"Just as he did before, for I have him under my thumb."

"I'd like to know how."

"Well, I don't mind telling you. He is a fool, who thought he was smart enough to try and be a rogue."

"Hum! If you try any games on him, what's to hinder him from calling you a blackmailing scoundrel, seeing your record is none of the best."

"As I mentioned already, he is a fool. He will indirectly help me out of Joliet."

"When you are free then you will have the advantage of being near Chicago."

"Yes, close to my dear nephew and his intended bride, my step-daughter.'

"Well, here comes the locker-up of injured innocence, so I'll take myself off. I'll see you the first of the month at Joliet."

Jeffrey Pettus departed from Brandon in no jubilant mood. He realized that he was powerless without the superior ability of the old villain.

"Curse him!" he said, savagely, "he will stick to me, and Rusty Rube will stick to him, and I'll never get clear of these jail-birds so long as I live."

He was a jail-bird himself, and the son of a man who had died in prison while serving out a term for half-killing an officer who arrested him in the act of committing burglary.

CHAPTER XI.

Stella had been anxious to see Edith and preferred to visit her at Mrs. Derwent's rather than have her call at Mr. Jameson's, for she felt that Nina required all her attention just at first.

"I have been fortunate enough to make a strong impression on her," she said, "but she may change like the wind, for all I can tell. She has a strange, wayward nature, and she may feel that I should bestow all my thoughts on her, and have no other interests. She is singularly alone, for her uncle only feels toward her as though she were an incumbrance. By and by, if her character develops, as I hope it will, they will appreciate each other."

The third evening of her stay, Stella informed Mr. Jameson that she was going out to visit a friend.

"Take the carriage, Miss Sterling,' said the old gentleman. "I hope you do not feel under obligations to inform me when you wish to be at liberty. I should feel grieved if I thought it so."

"Oh, no," Stella said, repressing a smile at the thought of paying Edith a visit in a carriage, under existing circumstances.

"That is right. Nina and myself are only anxious to make you happy."

"Indeed that is true," said Nina earnestly.

She had improved so much in manner and appearance that Mr. Jameson began to feel her presence in the house might in the end prove a blessing instead of a drawback.

"Now, Nina, I am going to call on a young lady whom I love very dearly, so I may not be home till after you are in bed. You can amuse yourself very well without me, can you not, my dear?"

"I shall be lonely, but I must not be so selfish as to wish to deprive you of all pleasure."

"All pleasure! Why, we have lots of pleasure, Nina; our drives have been so delightful; and now, as Mr. Jameson is going to get saddle-horses for us, we shall enjoy our morning rides so much."

Hair Hints

It is much easier to keep the hair when you have it than it is to restore it when it's lost. If your hair is "coming out" it needs instant attention. The use of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR will promptly stop the hair from falling, and stimulate it to new growth.

"Some years ago my hair began to fall out and I became quite bald. I was advised to try and had used it but a short time when my hair ceased to fall out and a new and vigorous growth made its appearance. My hair is now abundant and glossy."

IF LOVE WERE OTHER THAN PERFECT

If love were other than a perfect thing.
Love were no gain, but only all a grief,
And better were to check its blossoming
Ere one poor bud could struggle into leaf;
To kill it in the spring,
If love were other than a perfect thing.

If love were other than most sweet of all,
Love were the bitterest gift of bitter fate,
And better were to spurn beyond recall
Its magic cup more perilous than hate.
Its sweetness were but gall,
If love were other than most sweet of all.

If love were other than the love of you,
Love were a poverty, and nothing worth,
And all the task that memory had to do
Would be to loathe the hour that gave it birth.
Love were not sweet nor true
If love were other than the love of you.

But love is love, and you are you, and I
Am I that dare to love you with a will,
Knowing that love is perfect, true and high,
And always greater than its greatest ill;
Knowing it cannot die,
Since love is love of you, and I am I.

—J. Colmore in Woman's Journal.

A VILLAGE ROMANCE.

There could be no doubt about it. Molly had been a different girl since she and John Lock had been "keeping company." At least this was what the village gossips declared, and surely no one would have the temerity to contradict authorities so well informed. And the village gossips had spoken truth this time. Molly, the pride of all Longville, the pretty country girl whom nature had endowed with a superabundance of animal spirits; Molly, the fascinating coquette, had been subdued, and John Lock, the village carpenter's son, had conquered. At least that was what all Longville thought.

John in himself, although boasting no ancient lineage, was, as the laborers termed him, "a cut above the ordinary run." Somehow without having had any educational advantages he had developed a strong love for books, and when the day's work in the little carpenter's shop was done he would go out into the soft summer eve, and a brisk walk over the hills would bring him to the rugged cliffs by the sea. Here he would throw himself down, and as long as the red shoots of the setting sun gave light over the land he would read with rapturous intent, and when at last it had disappeared in a blaze of color in an opalescent sea he would watch the stars and talk learnedly of their distances and of what constellations they formed part.

The good people of Longville could never quite understand John. He would astound them with his enthusiastic descriptions of fleeting clouds, would bid them hear a poem in the constant roaring of the sea and tell them that there were new worlds, of which they knew nothing, in pictures and books. But John was genial and kind hearted, and so, although his personality eluded definite analysis by them, they yet recognised him as the village favorite for the humbler and maybe more useful qualities of good fellowship and unselfish courage.

It was little wonder that when Molly and John commenced "keeping company" that Longville should talk. Never two persons had less in common, so far as temperament and tastes were concerned, and yet somehow, for a reason which even old Mrs. Knight, who had seen two generations of village courtships, could not explain, these two people of opposite dispositions were destined to share life's storm and sunshine together.

How they came to be engaged I cannot say. There was a meeting of the two, when the usual cheery "Good night, John," and "Good night, Molly," ceased to have the old prosaic significance. The untamed, restless little heart of Molly beat convulsively, and the roses on her cheeks burned a deeper hue when that evening John stopped her and insisted on her talking with him. I was not there, so that of what was said I am unaware.

This much, however, all Longville soon knew—that John Lock and Molly Lane had become sweethearts. How the good wives enjoyed standing at the doorway of their cottages and discussing the probabilities of a village wedding and what it involved! These good souls would have made the devious, sinuous track of these two lives much straighter and more direct than it was fated to be.

No event is too wonderful to become familiarized with, and so it was that the wonder ceased, and Molly and John for months pursued their pleasant way, dreaming the old love dreams common to youth since the world began. It was true that sometimes John imagined "his Molly" was restless and scarcely contented. She seemed to sigh for new opportunities of conquest. The old spirit, which he thought dead, reared its head again and gave warning of, although it never actually broke out in, open rebellion. Then John would be troubled and would search his generous, simple heart in the hope of discovering some excuse for the discontent which only too obviously was smoldering in his sweetheart's mind.

One week in the midsummer of the following year Squire Hurst's only son came of age, and the event was celebrated with great eclat by the whole of the inhabitants of the village. The lovely old park surrounding the hall was thrown open, and numerous were the al fresco attractions provided to amuse the assembled guests. The sports of the day terminated with a grand villagers' ball, at which the heir to Longville Hall himself was present. There had been many a rumor that Harry Hurst had been "a gay young spark" in his time, but tonight all ugly memories were lost in the pleasure and excitement of his presence among the common folk at the ball.

All seemed happy save one, and that was John. In spite of his best attempts to suppress it a great pain was at his heart—almost as severe as a physical one—as he saw his Molly being claimed for dance after dance by the squire's son. How she seemed to enjoy the distinction, too, as with flushed cheeks she was waltzed around in a whirl of excitement!

And when the evening's amusements had ended Molly seemed cross when John pushed his way to the front and claimed his right of seeing her from the park to her father's cottage gate. She was irritable and moody. John had never known her so before, and it was with a heavy, aching heart that he kissed her good night. Nor was the unhappiness of his mind diminished when for several nights after she refused to take her customary walk with him.

At length the climax came, and one evening, after he had succeeded in inducing her to come with him over the hills, he received the dread ultimatum which he had almost expected would fall. Molly was frank. She avowed shyly that she did not and could not love him and then, with a pretty, disdainful toss of the head, declared that she would be glad if he did not worry her any more. John took the blow quietly, but the agony of soul he suffered no one but himself knew.

Then grave whispers and nods and winks passed around from house to house in the village. There were talks in bated breath of secret meetings at night, and of Molly and the young squire being seen together. And John would be questioned, but he never answered. His sorrow was for himself alone—so he would tell himself—it could not be shared by the curious. It was his wont to go and sit by the sea, and there find a sort of melancholy satisfaction in the low wail of the billows as they broke in at the foot of the cliffs. As for Molly, after one final attempt to reclaim her, John avoided her. To have met her would have increased the inconvenience of both, and in his case would have opened afresh the wounds but hardly healed. In the months that followed the whispers took an uglier form, and Longville delighted its soul at last in a village scandal.

And so Molly went away and left her poor old father sorrowing.

There was only one who ever defended the fair name of Molly when it was made a byword with the young roughs of the place, who loafed outside the village inn or at the roadsides. John was never known to have become so incensed as when one evening in his hearing one of these thoughtless youths mentioned inappropriately Molly's name and coupled it with a foul epithet. Then he thrashed the young lout within an inch of his life.

After awhile the sad incident was forgotten—at least until Molly's return to her home again. Then trouble began anew. She was very much altered, and the roses had faded from her cheeks. In tearful sorrow she would sit and nurse her baby all day long.

The last act in the tragedy came when one day Molly's father received a note from the hall. The steward brought it round, and as Molly's father was growing old and feeble and his sight waning the steward read the note aloud. It was a formally worded epistle giving the poor, old, sorrow stricken parent a month's notice because the squire felt that it was "not conducive to the morals of the village that people of Molly's stamp should be harbored" in the midst of his cottagers. Needless to say Molly's father was almost broken hearted at the thought of leaving the house he had occupied for so long, while as for Molly herself her distress was too piteous for words.

One morning not long after John stepped down the old roadway, his face haggard, but the expression firm, resolute and determined. He presented himself at the door of Molly's cottage and was admitted. It was only a look they exchanged, and the floodgates were opened again, and, having sobbed on his shoulder awhile, Molly gradually recovered herself, while John, with a choking sensation in the throat which he tried in vain to keep down, avowed: "I have always waited for you, Molly. I knew you would come back to me."

"But I can't. You forget that is his," and she pointed in her anguish to the cot wherein the babe was slumbering peacefully.

John didn't turn his head to look, but he took Molly in his arms again.

And love was consummated in service.—London Sun.

The Newest Stationery.

The latest fad in paper is a sheet the size of the envelope, which goes into its envelope without folding. In the usual correspondence size — that small size used for a hurried note or invitation — the style goes very well, but when it comes to larger sizes stationers say it will not take. In this connection it is reported in the New York Herald that the most popular style is a sheet of paper which folds in half and fits into an envelope which has a square flap. This style comes in billet, note and letter sizes, and the envelopes are graduated to match. The favorite colors are white, cream azure, regimental gray and bond blue. The fancy tints of pinks and heliotropes, yellows and greens, though carried to meet a certain demand for them, are considered in poor taste.

A very dainty little machine is made for weighing letters, useful to a woman with a large correspondence or to a business woman who must needs send letters inclosing samples or circulars.

Smooth Roads and Traffic.

The increase of efficiency in vehicles having a smooth surface on which to travel is very great. Perfect rails are a necessity for the steam engine, and a smooth roadbed is essential if high speed is to be obtained. The motor carriage, which has already become an established fact abroad, depends for its efficiency on good road surface. The bicycle gains enormously in ease of propulsion, in speed and in adaptability to new fields of usefulness by having good roads. About these three there is no dispute, but it seems necessary to prove by argument, illustration and statistics that carriages, wagons, trucks, carts and all other vehicles are equally benefited by a smooth traveling surface.—Exchange.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

CUBANS NOT THANKFUL.

Tampa, May 19.—The Cuban district of Tampa is situated in a suburb known as Ybor City, a correspondent says, took a tour through there to-day in order to see just what real Cubans lived like Most of them are refugees from their natuive land living here until such a time as it will be safe for them to return home. Those who could secure employment have done so, and as a result all the cigar factories in the district have their full complement of men and are doing their best to supply the increased demand for domestic cigars. caused by the blockade of Havana. The typical young Cuban is out of sight, short built, with light shoulders, clear-cut features, small, dark eyes, and an olive complexion. When they approach older age they become more robust, but retain their colorless features.

They seem to take but very little interest in the war; in fact, they are evidently uncertain to which nation they should lend their sympathy. I have seen but very few of them around the camps, and these few seemed to take but little notice of their saviors. What regulars I have spoken to express surprise at the ungrateful attitudes of the Cubans generally. It would naturally be supposed that those in a position to do so—and there are many so fixed—would do something to show that they appreciated the efforts of the American Government to save them from further sufferings—to liberate their country. Such (is evidently not the case.

The Cuban shop keepers of Ybor City and Port Tampa seem to take an unnatural and fiendish delight in sharking the soldiers.

The lower class of Cubans are regarded as worse than the lowest class of negroes. The first time that I have ever seen nude children playing in a public street was in the Cuban quarter to-day. You will rarely see such sights in the low colored districts of the Southern cities.

The laboring Cuban lives in a small cottage, apparently erected by the cigar company for which he works. All the cottages are alike. Two blindless windows and a damaged door look upon a little verandah. A flag-staff, from which limply hangs the Cuban colors, stands in then eglected garden. On the doorsteps of these cottages sit faded old women and dirty naked children.

The more prusperous class of men walk lazily around, under large white umbrellas, pulling calmly at huge cigars.

The young women come out of doors after the sun has retired and saunter about with immense cheroots between their teeth, which they seem to relish equally as well as their noonday sleep on the small verandahs.

Volunteer regiments continue to arrive and are fast getting used to camp life. They seem loath to part with their linen collars and have therefore beent ermed, ""The White Collar Brigade' byt he regulars. They certainly do appear ridiculous from a soldier standpoint. Fancy men on the eve of embaring fork a foreign land to fight wearing startched shirts, collars and cuffs, and this under a sweltering hot sun.

Additional supplies of ammunition were to-day handed to the different regiments posted here and at Port Tampa, and altough all regulars have been told to remain in camp as much as possible, nothing definite has so far been made public.

The transports at Port Tampa are still being loaded slowly. The steamship Almo is completed, and loaded with engineers' supplies. She will leave witht he first batch of boats.

Allt he engineers and signal corps are now camped near the beach at Port Tampa, and are doing their share of kicking against the location. It seems that the tide comes within twenty or thirty yards of their furthest tents and when it reaches leaves pools of water, which becomes stagnant and breeds disease.

The more one becomes acquainted with the different regiments of regularst he more one is impressed with the fact that there are a great many Canadian boys in Uncle Sam's service. In one company of the 22nd. regiment of ebraska,t here are two. One is a Hamilton boy, who has already served two years, and the other an ex-Canadian regular of ""C' School, in Toronto.

In a general rough survey of the men of the American regular army, it appears that there are more Germans than any other nationality.

THE "IMMORAL WARFARE."

London, May 25.—In the newspapers to-day there are several striking instances of American and anti-American feeling. While the majority of the papers allude with pleasure to the references to the Queen in yesterday's celebration at New York and Tampa and in the prayer of the chaplain of the Senate, the Morning Post has allowed to appear in its columns a violent denunciation of America from the Hon. Stuart Erskine, a brother of Baron Erskine, who alludes to America's "present immoral warfare against asserts that the sentiment of the country which is worth having, is for Spain.

On the other hand, the St. James Gazette, which has hitherto been bitterly anti-American, seems to be becoming much more friendly. It says, regarding the disposition to blame America for the slow progress of the war, "Sailors who know the Pacific and Caribbean sea are well aware that delay is the essential of a naval war. They remember that Nelson found difficulty to discover the Spanish fleet somewhere between Jamaica and Cadiz, and they realize that this slow procession is not interesting. But the presence of the gunboats around the sullen island means that the American officers are getting the range of every gun in the batteries and will later oppose the landing oft roops just as Nelson did on a similar occasion."

The Westminster Gazette strongly advocates a distinct understanding be-

THE BLASH DENIED.

"ew York, May 25.—A special to the World from Washington says: The report that there had been a class between Admiral Dewey and the German consul at Manila, over the landing of supplies, is discredited at the State Department. The German ambassador has entered no protest at the department and it is regarded as probable had such a thing occurred the German authorities would have taken immediate cognizance of it.

TO SHOOT THE COMMANDER.

Hong Kong, May 25.—The Japanese cruiser Akitsushima, which arrived here to-day from Manila, reports that when she left there rioting had broken out and a number of houses had been burned.

The Spanish volunteers were making angry demands for pay and food which the Spaniards were utterly unable to satisfy.

The cruiser reports that Admiral Montojo is awaiting trial by court martial for alleged incompetency during the engagement with the United States squadron under Commodore Dewey while the captain of the Spanish reveneu cutter Callan, captured by the Americans is to be shot for not making resistance.

Agunaldo, the insurgent leader, had a great reception on his arrival at the Philippines from Hong Kong. Rear Admiral Dewey supplied the insurgents with two guns and 300 rifles and at the time the Japanese cruiser left Agninaldo was expected to make an immediate attack.

LEE'S CLASSICAL SPEECH.

Richmond, Va., May 25.—General Lee is receiving an ovation en route for Tampa. At Greenboro the General said: "I spent two years in Cuba and was run out. Now I am going back to run somebody else out." The crowd applouded wildly.

A GREAT ALLIANCE.

Neew York, May 25.—An alliance is proposed between the Cramp Shipbuilding Company, of Philadelphia, and Vickers Sons & Maxim, of Barrow-in-Furness, England, which will result in one of the greatest shipbuilding corporations in the world. The scheme contemplates a doubling of the capacity of the Philadelphia shipyards by increasing the capital of the Cramp Companyf rom $5,000,000 or possibly more, the additional capital being furnished by the Vickers Company in return for stock in the enlarged corporation. The Cramp Company has built warships for the United States and Japan and not long ago secured important Russian contracts for the building of one first-class battleship and one armoured cruiser, each to be of a speed yet unequalled in its respective class. Vickers, Sons & Maxim are also leading shipbuilders, who lately contracted with the British Government for the armoured cruiser Hogue. Byt he alliance they will be able to extend their business at a time when many countries appear desirous of obtaining ships.

TREATED LIKE CONVICTS.

Madrid, May 25.—It is said here that the Spanish prisoners of war in the United States have again complained that they are treated as convicts.

An official despatch from Manila announces that the majority of the chiefs who took part in the last insurrection, have presented themselves to the Spanish Governor-General offering their services to Spain.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE LIVELY LAKES

YOUNG'S POINT.

The Lakeview House

The Lakeview House has been repainted, repapered and thoroughly renovated throughout. A new building capable of accommodating twenty guests has been added and the Lakeview House is to-day the most commodious hotel on the Midland lakes. Messrs. Lillicrap & Co. are building this addition, which is a sufficient encomium upon its finish. A large parlor capable of accommodating a dancing party will be one feature of the new building. Mr. Kearney, the proprietor of the Lakeview, contemplates erecting a handsome cottage on the pretty little island immediately opposite the Lakeview. The fact that the patrons of last year have without exception bespok rooms for this season is the only recommendation necessary.

The Lakefield correspondent of the Weekly Times of last week says: "The Young's Point football club, with the assistance of two Lakefield, two Norwood and one Warsaw player, succeeded in doing up the Lakefield club to the extent of three goals to two, The reason for this victory for the Point is very apparent. It shoue be read as follows: One Warsaw player with the assistance of etc., etc., It must surely have been a great strain on the Warsaw man to thus go into game single-handed or almost so because the Young's Poine men would only be in the road.

A Warsaw Cry

"The 'Innocents Abroad' of Young's Point passed through here on Saturday morning en route for Norwood to play football with the High School team of that place, and enjoyed a breakdown just outside the city limits. Coming direct from the solitude and loneliness which surrounds Young's Point to the noise and bustle of this great business center seems to have been too much of a shock forr their nerves.' — Warsaw Correspondent to Examiner. The people's paper, the Times, was asked to call attention to this paragraph in the interest of the "Innocents Abroad,' these delectable darlings, who, while they may lose their way every time they go from home, have never been known to lose a game to Warsaw. Where is Warsaw? The county map shows a post office of that name, and the Times has been informed that besides the post office there are three other houses within a mile and a half. Perhaps the nervous shock referred to by the Examiner's farmer was due to the fact that these other three houses were sighted at the same time the post office was seen. A stranger striking Warsaw and seeing four houses at one glance would fall dead. It is perhaps needless to say that this was written by the Warsaw correspondent to the Peterborough Examiner. At this distance it is difficult to determine whether it was intended to be funny or to be a fact. As the former it is not a fact; as the latter it is not humorous. Bazoo-like this may go in Warsaw, but they never go any further, Who is this Warsaw player? Did he write this wonderful document? Will he please step out and name himself to relieve the tension of the wondering world.

Mr. T. Z. Webster, who has been a baker, confectioner and restauranter for the past ten years in Lakefield, has determined to place his business on a cash basis. He also wishes to do away with the delivery end of his trade, and as an inducement thereto he will sell the 14c loaf hereafter for 12c. The price, of course, is regulated by the present price of flour, and subject generally thereto; of course, if delivery is demanded the old price will have to be paid. All those who wish to call for their bread and pay cash can save 2c. a loaf.

DOMINION BANK

Proceedings of the Twenty-Seventh Annual General Meeting of the Stockholders, Held at the Banking House of the Institution in Toronto, on Wednesday, May 25th, 1898.

The annual general meeting of the Dominion Bank was held at the Banking-house of the institution, Toronto, on Wednesday, May 25th, 1898.

Among those present were noticed: Sir Frank Smith, Col. Mason, Messrs. S. Alcorn, William Ince, Thos. Long, William Ramsay, J. Lorne Campbell, W. R. Brock, W. Crocker, A. E. Webb, John Long, E. Leadlay, M. Boulton, E. B. Osler, William Hendrie, John Stewart, Walter S. Lee, W. D. Matthews, Chas. Cockshutt, H. M. Pellatt, Wm. Ross, A. W. Austin, Geo. W. Lewis, J. Risley, Wm. Spry, Thos. Walmsley, J. K. Niven, John Fletcher, H. D. Gamble, George Robinson, R. D. Gamble, and others.

It was moved by Mr. E. B. Osler, seconded by Mr. E. Leadlay, that Sir Frank Smith do take the chair.

Mr. W. D. Matthews moved, seconded by Mr. W. R. Brock, and

Resolved, that Mr. R. D. Gamble do act as secretary.

Messrs. Walter S. Lee and M. Boulton were appointed scrutineers.

The Secretary read the report of the Directors to the Shareholders, and submitted the annual statement of the affairs of the Bank, which is as follows:

To the Shareholders:

The Directors beg to present the following statement of the result of the business of the Bank for the year ending 30th April, 1898:

Balance of Profit and Loss Account, 30th April, 1897		$29,925 75

Dividend 3 per cent., payable 2nd May, 1898	$45,000 00
		$180,000 00
Balance of Profit and Loss carried forward		$32,388 05

During the past year two new offices of the Bank have been opened, one in Winnipeg, Manitoba, in June, under the management of Mr. F. L. Patton, and one in Montreal, to which Mr. C. A. Bogert was appointed manager. Both of these offices promise to be of substantial advantage to the Bank.

FRANK SMITH, President.

Sir Frank Smith moved, seconded by Mr. E. B. Osler, and

Resolved, that the Report be adopted.

It was moved by Mr. S. Alcorn, seconded by Mr. T. Walmsley, and

Resolved, that the thanks of this meeting be given to the President, Vice-President, and Directors for their services during the past year.

It was moved by Mr. Wm. Hendrie, seconded by Mr. J. Risley and

Resolved, that the thanks of this meeting be given to the General Manager, Managers and Agents, Inspectors and other officers of the Bank, for the efficient performance of their respective duties.

It was moved by Mr. Geo. W. Lewis, seconded by Mr. Anson Jones, and

Resolved, that the poll be now opened for the election of seven Directors, and that the same be closed at two o'clock in the afternoon, or as soon before that hour as five minutes shall elapse without any vote being polled, and that the scrutineers, on the close of the poll, do hand to the chairman a certificate of the result of the poll.

Mr. Thomas Long moved, seconded by Mr. W. S. Lee, and

Resolved, that the thanks of this meeting be given to Sir Frank Smith for his able conduct in the chair.

The scrutineers declared the following gentlemen duly elected Directors for the ensuing year: Messrs. A. W. Austin, W. R. Brock, Wm. Ince, E. Leadlay, Wilmot D. Matthews, E. B. Osler, and Sir Frank Smith.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Sir Frank Smith was elected President, and Mr. E. B. Osler, Vice-President, for the ensuing term.

The past week has been marked by the demand for "War Eagle," "Iron Mask," "Cariboo McK.," "Josie," "Deer Park," "Monte Christo," "Van Anda," "Tin Horn," and "B. C. Gold Fields," all of which are being held very steady, and we think at present prices are good investments. The market has been very steady considering the unsettled state of industrials owing to war rumors.

We are pleased to note that "Cariboo" (McKinney) has paid another dividend of 2c. per share ($16.000), and after paying this they have still on hand about $38.000.

The recent strike on "Deer Park" has stiffened the stock considerably, and we look forward to an advance in price at an early date.

The last copy of the "British Columbia Mining Record" gives some valuable information relative to the "Van Anda Copper and Gold Mining Co.," who are now negotiating with the City of Vancouver in connection with the erection of extensive smelting works. We consider this stock at present figures well worth picking up. This paper also gives some information regarding the recent strike made upon the "Tin Horn." We think this stock a good buy at present prices.

The last issue of the weekly "Rossland Miner" states that the new gallows frame of the "War Eagle" cost $25,000, and will be when completed, one of the largest in the world. We are pleased to see by the same issue notice that work has been commenced on the properties belonging to the "Big Three" Company (which adjoin the "Northern Belle"), viz. the "Southern Belle" and "Snowshoe," while the "Mascot" is already being developed by a large force of men.

Probably the largest deal consummated in Canada for some time is that of the "Le Roi," which we understand has been sold to the British-American Corporation for $3,000,000. Canadian investors will be pleased to note that British capital is seeking investment in Canadian mining securities.

We would advise clients to send in their orders for "Frontenac Lead Mining and Smelting Co," stock at once, as negotiations are now pending by which the whole of the unsold block of stock will be withdrawn from the market. We unhesitatingly recommend it as a profitable and safe investment.

Nov. 27, 1894.

I have been using Pond's Extract in my practice for twenty years. I frequently have the experience you mention of druggists insisting they can put up as good as yours. I don't believe it. I use Pond's Extract a great deal as an antiseptic in combination with glycerine and carbolic acid. I think it far superior to any antiseptic known.

TWO PRISONERS BREAK JAIL

Frank Fobes and James Macdonald Make Their Escape from the County Jail

Two notorious criminals escaped from the jail here at an early hour yesterday morning. They are James Macdonald, an American crook, who was waiting trial for burglary at the Norwood post office a few months ago, and Frank Fobes, another character well known throughout the country for his larcenies. It has been established beyond a doubt that the men escaped about one o'clock yesterday morning and were assisted from the outside by parties unknown The prisoners unlocked their cells in some manner and got out of the corridor by cutting the heavy bars of the door with some instrument which had been sent in from the outside. Once in the main hall they went upstairs to the women's ward, where they took the lock off the door leading to the court room by means of a wagon wrench, the hasp on the outside of the door being sprung off by their breaking the fanlight and using the handle of a broom to take off the staple. When they got over the court room it was an easy matter for them to drop to the ground. Of course their escape was not discovered until 6 o'clock in the morning, when the prisoners are mustered for breakfast.

The discovery was a great surprise to Gaoler Nesbitt and a hot chase after the fugitives was at once instituted.

The escape was effected without any noise reaching the gaoler or the turnkey, and it is further evidence of the desperate and dangerous cracksman that Macdonald was.

Fobes, his assistant, is a local boy, about twenty years of age, who was quiet and well behaved as a prisoner and had the complete confidence of the gaol officials. It was because Fobes occupied this position of confidence that Macdonald selected him as his accomplice. Having won Fobes to assist, he must have had some pal outside who supplied the necessary tools. These tools must have been worked in through Fobes, who was doing the cooking, and had more or less access in the front of the gaol. That Macdonald had a pal outside is also certain, for a wrench left behind is not one that belonged to the gaol. Once he got the necessary tools and had the assistance of young Fobes Macdonald had his escape well in hand.

Macdonald occupied a cell in the lower ward in the gaol. In this ward four prisoners were confined. They were Macdonald, Fobes, John Walker, awaiting trial on a charge of stealing a bicycle, and Tommy Corsey, who is awaiting removal to the Central Prison to serve a term of twenty-three months. Fobes was not locked in his cell, as one man is always left free to walk in the ward, so as to be able to sound an alarm in case of fire or sickness. The most trustworthy man in the ward is selected for this purpose, and Fobes was looked upon as the most trustworthy. He had been quiet and orderly, and only had four or five weeks more to serve. The locks on the cell doors are heavy ones, working into the massive stone walls. How Fobes opened this lock for Macdonald it is hard to guess, but a skeleton key must have been used or the lock picked in some way.

The following are descriptions of the two men:

James Macdonald, aged 33 years; height, 5 ft. 8 1-2 inches; fair complexion, medium stout build; grey eyes, dark hair mixed with grey on top; inclined to be bald; brown mustache and whiskers; wore side whiskers and about a six weeks' growth of beard; the latter he would no doubt shave off; has scar on his left cheek about 2 inches long, running from near the ear towards the mouth; this scar is covered by the side whiskers; wore dark clothes and black Christy hat.

Frank Fobes, aged 20 years; 5 feet 5 inches high; dark complexion, stout build, clean shaved, baker by trade; his home is near Guelph, Ont.; had scar on left side of chin near the point.

Up to the time of going to press this morning no news had been received as to the whereabouts of the fugitives.

Still Climbing Upwards

Mr. Couch, outside circulation manager of the Times, returned from Young's Point and Lakefield, where he succeeded in adding a large number of additional subscribers to our list. He is now working in Omemee, where he hopes to secure several hundred subscribers to our daily. Everybody reads the Times.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles

Symptoms—Moisture intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate and become very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. All druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia., Lyman Sons, & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents. Positively refuse all substitutes.

Committed for Trial

Mark Black appeared before the Police Magistrate yesterday on a charge of perjury. He was in Police Court on April 29th charged with assaulting Mrs. John Irwin, and it was at this former trial that the alleged false swearing took place. Two separate charges of perjury were laid against him, the first one being that he swore falsely in saying at his last trial that he had never been in Police Court before except as a witness or spectator, and the other that he swore falsely in stating in his evidence that Mrs. Irwin struck him with a shovel during the assault. At the hearing yesterday morning Chief Roszel, Constable McGinty and Mrs. Irwin swore that at the former trial Black had sworn that he never was in court before as a prisoner. Detective Black, of Toronto, who was present, swore that Mark Black had been convicted of an offence in Toronto in 1895. Prisoner was sent for trial on this evidence. The second charge was then up and Black was also committed to stand his trial on it. The case will come up at the sessions which open the second Tuesday in June. The prisoner declined to elect as to how he should be tried. Mr. D. O'Connell defended the prisoner, while County Crown Attorney Wood looked after the prosecution.

CHARGED WITH CRIMINAL ASSAULT

Four Lindsay Young Men are in Serious Trouble

On Monday evening a young woman named Lily Stockdale, a resident of Lindsay, swore out warrants against four young men whom she charges with having criminally assaulted her on Sunday evening last. Her story is that as she was leaving the Salvation Army barracks she was accosted by one of the four who asked her to go for a walk. She consented and when they had reached a lonely spot on Victoria avenue north, the others made their appearance, forced her into a vacant building and assaulted her. George Oryell, one of those she named, was arrested on Monday evening; the others have flown, but steps are being taken to secure their appearance.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Mr. O. LePlante is visiting friends in Bowmanville.

Chief Justice Armour is in town. He is registered at the Oriental.

Always Welcome

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Young's Point, was in town yesterday morning settling up matters in connection with his big picnic on the Queen's Birthday. The reverend gentleman did not forget to give the Times a call, and took advantage of the occasion to have a look through our establishment. When he saw our half hundred employees at work in the various departments of our business, he was somewhat surprised, having had an idea that we employed no more than the average printer in a place like Peterborough. Our famous type setting machines were a novelty to the reverend gentleman, as they are to all who have never seen them in operation. Father Fitzpatrick, like everybody else, is a constant reader of the Morning Times, and is always welcome to the precincts of our sanctum.

SCHLEY'S CHALLENGE

E. P. Knight, Correspondent of the London Times Captured by Spanish Troops and Imprisoned—Beef Costs $2.50 per Pound at Manila—Great Preparations at Honolulu to Entertain the American Expedition to Manila

(Special Despatches to the Times, 4 a.m.)

CORRESPONDENT CAPTURED

Key West, May 27.—Mr. E. P. Knight, the correspondent of the London Times, who on Sunday night when seven miles off Havana was lowered over the bow of a despatch boat and rowed ashore in ten-foot skiff was heard from to-day. He has been thrown into prison and is now in the Cabanas fortress. The British Consul at Havana has instituted proceedings for his release.

ALL QUIET AT MANILA

Hong Kong, May 27.—The United States auxiliary gunboat Seafiro, formerly a British merchant steamer but now commissioned, mounting four guns and in charge of a Lieut-Commander of the U. S. navy has just arrived here from Manila, having on board the captain of the first-class cruiser Olympia flagship of Rear Admiral Dewey and two officers who have been invalided, the situation at Manila is unchanged. The insurgents are quiet. Beef costs $250 per pound at Manila. The report that the commander of the Spanish gunboat Callao was tried by court martial and shot for not firing on the American ships which captured the Callao is untrue. The Seafiro will return to Manila on Monday next.

THE MANILA EXPEDITION

San Francisco, Cal., May 27. — The steamer China, which stopped at Honolulu on her way from the Orient reports that the people of that city were making great preparations to secure the transport fleet which left this city for Manila, and which will stop at Honolulu en route. The town was being decorated with flags and bunting and the freedom of the city will be offered to the men on the steamship. The China passed the transports City of Pekin, City of Sydney and the Australia last night and reports the three vessels as proceeding westerly at great speed with all well on board.

FIRED ON THE SENTRY AT NIGHT.

Key West, May 27.—Sergt. Charles W. Richards, Battery B, First Artillery, on duty at a mortar battery near Fort Taylor, was fired upon early this morning by three unknown men whom he says he knows to be Spaniards. The fire was promptly returned, but the men escaped.

The affair, which is involved in a good deal of mystery, began yesterday afternoon, when three swarthy men who looked liek Spaniards, even if they were not natives of Spain, made an attempt to enter the gate of the reservation, but were summarily turned off byt he sentry. No further attention was given to the incident until last night when between 10 and 11 o'clock the sergeant of the artillery guard, near the mortar battery, discovered the figures of three men a few yards ahead of him. Almost simultaneously with the discovery they opened fire on him with pistols. Three bullets whizzed harmlessly past the sergeant, but a fourth lodged in the fleshy part of his left arm, just above the elbow.

The sergeant dropped his raised rifle and before he could raise it again, the men turned and fled out of range. He sent several shots after them and then went for the guard. A sharp lookout was kept for the strangers and soon after midnight a suspicious noise was heard outside the gate near which the mortar battery is located. An investigation resulted in the discovery of a carriage int he street just outside the gate. The sergeant gave orders to fire and a volley was sent at the vehicle. A moment later, three men were seen running up the street and the fire of the soldiers was directed upon them, but without effect, the suspects escaping apparently unharmed. The sergeant declares that on the occasion of the last visit of thue strangers one oft he latter carried a suspicious looking package about three feet long.

COMMODORE SCHLEY'S CHALLENGE

Key West, May 27.—Commodore Schley is said to be master of thesituation at Santiago. He sent a message to Admiral Cervera yesterday asking him to come out and give battle or to remain in the harbor and starve.

THE FIRST ACROSS.

Key West, Fla., May 27.—The Oregon is the first American battleship that has crossed the equator. When she passed the line Father Neptune went on board in his legendary garb and performed the orthodox role of the sea god, baptizing every marine with buckets of briny water.

WILL SOLVE THE PROBLEM.

New York, May 27.—The Press says: J. J. Holland, builder of the Holland submarine boat, has gone to Washington with Colonel C. E. Creecey for the purpose of making an offer to the United States Government, which, if accepted, perhaps will solve the problem of how to destroy Cervera's fleet. Mr. Holland will submit his proposition to the Secretary of the Navy at once. He is willing to undertake to sail his submarine boat into the channel of the narrow entrance to Santiago harbor, destroy the mines planted there and, if necessary, proceed into the harbor and deal a few blows at Cervera's vessels.

Mr. Holland declares that his plan to do this is entirely feasible, the boat is in shape and ready for the work and he will agree if the Secretary of the Navy thinks favorably of the proposal, to obtain a crtew of volunteers for the woirk.

Allt hat he will ask of the Secretary is the transportation for his vessel and ment o Cuba. Once there he agrees to do the rest.

Mr. Holland proposes to take his boat to Santiago, fitting her out and getting everything in readiness under the protection of Commodore Schley's squadron. Then, when the [illegible] moment arrives, probably just at dawn, the Holland will start on its mission before it comes within sight of the fortifiactions which frown on both sides oft he entrance, it will sink beneath the surface of the water and steal quietly toward the main channel. When this is reached it will reconnoitre to get the lay out of the minefields, and then, withdrawing to a safe distance, discharge one or more of its sumbirine torpedoes among the mines This is the regular process known as countermining, which is similarly conducted, but by a vessel above the water which lays alongside the harbor mines another series, which, when exploded, opens up the whole channel. Mr. Holland believes that by this method the channel in Santiago could be opened without great difficulty.

He is prepared, if necessary, after this task has been accomplished, to proceed in his craft underneath the water into the harbor and attempt to blow up one or more of Cervera's battleships. If the Navy Department has not another plan for disposing of Cervera, Mr. Holland's scheme may be considered.

A BAYONET CHARGE.

San Francisco, May 27.—Officers of the United States steamer Alert say that vigorous measures had to be taken by the cruiser to secure coal on her recent trip from South America. At Acapulco, a Mexican town, of which half the inhabitants are Spanish, the captain applied to a steamship company for coal. He was told that he could have coal at the rate of $20 per ton in gold, provided she took it himself, as the company could not deliver. The captain accordingly took posession of a lighter and sent the ship's marine guard to protect the coal passers. When they arrived at the wharf it was crowded with natives, who attempted to prevent the coal leaving the dock. The marines cleared the wharf with a bayonet charge, and then stretched a rope across, loaded their rifles and informed the natives that the first one to cross the rope would be shot. After that 150 tons were loaded on the ship without further molestation. Previous efforts had been made through the consul to secure coal, but without success.

THE MINNEAPOLIS SIGHTED.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 27.—The cruiser Minneapolis has been sighted headed south for Monapaumage. Another warship, probably Spanish, has been sighted in the Bahamas, steaming south.

CANADA TAKES ACTION.

The collectors of customs at the various Canadian ports, including those on the lakes received instructions this morning regarding the clearance of vessels with contraband of war and the coaling of warships.

"Clearance may be granted to any trading vessel carrying goods in the ordinary course of commerce to a port which is not blockaded, without regard to the kind of cargo.

"When officers of customs have reason to believe that coal, or articles considered contraband of war, are destined for use of the powers at war clearances are to be withheld until a report has been forwarded to the department and instructions issued by the department.

"All coal cargoes destined for St. Pierre, Miquelon, and West Indies are to be reported to the department and clearance is not to be given without instructions from the Customs Department."

DESTROY THE TRANSPORTS.

London, Eng., May 27.—The American embassy have received a sensational despatch from Madrid, which has caused great anxiety among its members. This despatch states that the plan of the Spanish Minister of Marine has leaked out. It is stated that the intention of the Spanish Government is for Admiral Cervera to hold Santiago and occupy the attention of the American fleet while General Blanco is doing likewise at Havana. Meanwhile the Cadiz fleet, which is already half way across the Atlantic, will steer a course out of the usual track of vessels, suddenly appear at Tampa and destroy the great fleet of transports which have been collected there for the transportation of the American troops to Cuba. This plan being carried out the United States would be crippled for months and would be unable to land an expedition. It would, it is considered, be an easy matter for one or two battleships to sink the transports in rapid succession, as there are only two gunboats and one or two weak shore batteries to defend the seaport from attack.

THE CAMP AT TAMPA.

Tampa, Fla., May 22.—A correspondent says: Special trains continue to arrive with volunteers from the North, principally Ohio regiments which have been in camp at Columbus. The district surrounding Palmetto Grove is already fully covered with tents of the militia.

Palmetto Grove itself, some five acres in extent, has been turned into a kind of a recreation ground for the soldiers and the hospital corps of the different regiments have taken possession of the several covered pavilions and converted them into temporary hospitals. The men in these, now under the care of the doctors, seem to be suffering from heat prostration more than anything else. Sun strokes are seldom, if ever, known in Southern Florida or Cuba. As we know it requires a high pressure of atmospheric temperature, which they have not in these southern lowlands. The heat prostration, from which many of the men, both regular and volunteers suffer, is caused by the overtaxation of already weakened systems by hard work under the tropical sun.

SMALL SOLDIERS.

The same remarks made in reference to the Tennessee National Guard can be here repeated as regards the volunteer regiments in camp in Tampa and its suburbs. They are a very small looking lot of men, taken collectively. Although there are some very fine looking fellows among them, yet as a whole, they do not approach the volunteer regiments of the Dominion of Canada. Some who are strolling around Palmetto Beach to-day in uniforms of blue were mere boys. I am certain from their looks that they could not have been over seventeen years of age. These volunteers like the Tennessee Guard are poorly uniformed and are equipped with the old Springfield rifle.

Uncle Sam is rushing the soldiers here so fast that his quartermaster must have his hands full in keeping up the supplies. Ten trains came in to-day, and as each of them arrived near the proposed camping ground, messengers would be despatched to the Quartermaster's Department to tell him to hurry supplies to such a regiment; that the men had been so many days on the train and were badly in need of a good meal. And shortly you could see coming up the road a string of three-team mule wagons loaded with hard tack, meat, vegetables, etc.

Many people even here believe that most of the Spaniards who previously resided in Tampa went to Havana at the outbreak of the war. Such is not the case.

SPANIARDS WELL TREATED.

When war was declared the council of Tampa issued a circular to the Spanish residents, notifying them that they were free to remain, and that that they could rely on the very best protection, providing they did not interfere in any way with the affairs of the hour. Many of them took advantage of the Council's offer, and remained. To further show that the United States has nothing against Spain other than a disapproval of its inhuman methods of governing a colony, the citizens of Tampa have nominated for councilman a prominent Spaniard, who has resided here some years and have guaranteed his election.

In support of the statement that the Cubans are an easily governed race, providing the government is not severe, it is put forward that there are fifteen thousand of them in Tampa, in a starting population of twenty thousand. That they have no native representation in the Council and will vote as quickly for a Spaniard as an American.

The Cuban volunteers are uniformed in brown duck suits, with leggings and light slouch hats, the brims turned up in front and fastened with a metallic triangle enclosing a star. Their equipment beside the rifle supplied by the United States Government consists of a sword about three and one-half feet in length, which is sharpened on both edges.

The hot weather—and it is hot—has caused an increase in the consumption of lager beer in the camps. The amount sold is simply enormous. Last Monday one of the cavalry regiment's canteens handled forty barrels of this popular beverage. Of course that was very shortly after pay day, and this Monday there will, no doubt, be a marked decrease in the quantity consumed.

WILL SUFFER SEVERELY

The Crash of the Bracebridge Private Bank

LIABILITIES OF $50,000

Admitted, but it is Said that the Total May be Considerably Larger

Hunt Says it is His Intention to Assign Absolutely and to Make no Offer—The Assets Consist Mainly of Real Estate and Securities on Mortgages

(Special to the Times.)

Toronto, May 27.—Alfred Hunt, the Bracebridge private banker, who closed his doors on Wednesday, admits liabilities of $50,000, but it is said that the total may be considerably more than that. He says that it is his intention to assign absolutely, and to make no offer. The assets consists mainly of real estate and equities on mortgages, and it is not thought that the latter will realize largely. An immediate realization of the assets would probably not produce more than 50 per cent. of their face value. It is said, however, that if the assets were carefully handled the result might be satisfactory. But there seems to be small chance that the estate will pan out 100 cents.

THEY'LL SUFFER SEVERELY.

In the meantime, it is feared that many of the depositors, of the poorer classes, will suffer. Most of the merchants in Bracebridge did business with Hunt. There are some 50 Bracebridge creditors alone. Many of the farmers of the surrounding townships banked with Hunt. The claims are all the way from a few dollars to $3,000 in size.

HIS HEAVY LOSSES.

Mr. Hunt is said to have lost heavily in Toronto real estate. Some $3,000 went down recently by the failure of a Bracebridge contractor, and the smash of a saw-mill business at Burks Falls occurred about the same time, with heavy loss to Hunt.

Mr. Hunt says that his estate would be in a better position if one of the banks would release some $14,000, for which it holds his note and has security. It appears that Mr. Hunt recently went security for a firm that failed and settled for $14,000. Of this $14,000 all but $1,500 is paid, and this is to be paid in July when the note will be redeemed.

A PROMINENT CITIZEN.

Hunt was formerly Mayor of Bracebridge, and is still a member of the Town Council. There is $175 of the corporation's money in his bank. It is said that on Monday last he received in deposits over $1,000, mostly from Bracebridge merchants.

Yesterday an informal meeting of the Bracebridge creditors was held. Between 30 and 40 creditors were present. Mr. Hunt attended, but made no statement of his affairs.

INVITATION TO A BANK.

It was decided to invite the Dominion Bank to take over the estate and operate it as a regular branch of the bank, and a committee consisting of James Whitten, Dr. Williams, A. A. McHaffy, H. J. Bird, and W. W. Kinsey, all of Bracebridge, was appointed to communicate with Mr. [illegible], manager of the Dominion Bank, and endeavor to have this bank open up here as a chartered bank, take over Mr. Hunt's business and effect the settlement with the creditors.

Phrenology

Call and see the wonderful phrenologist, Madame A. D. Baker, the seventh daughter. She reads by the head or hand and has a wide reputation for exactness in looking into the future. Testimonials may be seen from leading citizens throughout Canada and the United States. She will tell the name and read by photograph. Call between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m., at 251 George street, (number on gate) where she will remain for another week. Go and see her and be convinced that you have one genuine in your midst. If you are in trouble about love affairs come to her. She will give you valuable advice. Restores lost affections, removes all difficulties, reunites the separated, and causes speedy and happy marriage with one of your choice. Tells if one you love is true or false. Tells what business you are best calculated to succeed in. Remember the address—Madame Baker, 251 George street. Everybody ought to take advantage to go and see her, as this will be her last week in town.

PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS OF A SOLDIER

Would-be recruits for the American army had better see before starting out if they can comply with the specifications given below:

For the infantry and the artillery branch the height must be not less than 5 feet 4 inches and weight not less than 120 pounds and not more than 190 pounds.

For the cavalry branch the height must not be less than 5 feet 4 inches and not more than 5 feet 10 inches and weight not to exceed 165 pounds. No minimum measurement is prescribed for cavalry, but the chest measurement must be satisfactory. The following is the table of physical proportions prescribed for height, weight and chest measurement kept:

Height Inches.	Weight Pounds.	Chest Measure't at Expiration Inch.

DECREASE IN SALARIES

In a series of articles on "What to do with your boy or girl," the Mail and Empire has this to say in discussing the school teaching profession regarding decrease in salaries: The overproduction of teachers has had its direct result in the lowering of salaries all along the line. In almost every case there has been a steady falling off since 1893. Thus the average salary paid to male teachers throughout the province fell from $423 in 1893 to $400 in 1896; and of female teachers from $300 to $291; in the counties the average for male teachers fell from $383 in 1893 to $356 in 1896, and of female teachers from $272 to $262; in the cities the average for male teachers fell from $911 in 1893 to $865 in 1896, and in the towns from $655 in 1893 to $616 in 1896. The only cases where there was a rise in the average were those of female teachers in the cities, where the average salary increased from $409 to $420, and in the towns from $301 to $303; in both of these cases the reaction is probably due to an awakening sense of the poor policy of keeping cheap teachers just because they are cheap. In considering these figures it must not be forgotten that the calculation of the average includes salaries in the cities as high as $1,500, the towns as high as $1,150, and in the country as high as $600. A considerable number of teachers, especially in the rural districts, receive less than $250, and in a recent case which was brought under the notice of the writer there were upwards of one hundred applications from certificate-holders for a vacancy in a school which offered $250 per annum.

THE TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS COMPANY

We publish to-day the annual report of the Toronto General Trusts Company, which has just entered on the seventeenth year of its existence. The report gives evidence of very satisfactory results for the year just closed. The volume of new business assumed by the company during the past twelve months is indeed something surprising, being upwards of two millions and one-half as compared with one million seven hundred and fifty-two thousand in the previous year. This is assuredly an advance by leaps and bounds, and it must be gratifying to the directors to know that the great increase in the new business comes from the strictly trust portion of the company's work, i. e., from its business as executor, trustee, administrator and other cognate offices for the performance of which it was primarily organized.

Canada has just reason to be proud of its financial and similar institutions. Her legislation is such that only corporations possessing ample capital with men of honor and known integrity can secure authority to do business as an association. In the Toronto General Trusts Company, which has just entered the seventeenth year of its existence, we have evidence of what wise legislation combined with prudent management will do. The report will be read with interest by thousands throughout Eastern Ontario, where the company do a large business.

People are only beginning to be educated as to the many advantages of having the Trusts Company act as executor, trustee and administrator. It is a wise man who instead of naming a relative or friend to administer his estate after death appoints the Trusts Company his executor. In the first case there is always trouble and needless expense through inexperience, and oftentimes the property never gets beyond the executor. The Trusts Company was organized mainly to do away with the uncertainty. Its business is to administer estates faithfully, impartially and honestly.

During the year just closed the Company has had a marvellously successful period, the new business assumed being upwards of two millions and a half as compared with one million seven hundred and fifty-two thousand in the previous year. This surely must be gratifying to Mr. J. W. Langmuir, the able managing director, and his co-directors. No better justification probably could be given for the establishment of a trust company in Ontario than the fact that after administering and distributing estates and trusts amounting to many millions of dollars there still remains under the care of the Toronto General Trusts Company a residuum of upwards of fifteen million dollars in value. With the evidence we have now before us of the great public need of such an organization, and of the convenience it has been to the community at large, we can hardly understand how it was that until sixteen years ago there was not a solitary trust company in any part of Canada; the Toronto General Trusts Company being, in fact, the pioneer institution of the kind in the Dominion. The signal success which attended the operations of the company in the early years of its existence naturally led other companies to enter the field on the same lines in the hope of sharing a portion of its work. Accordingly within the last two or three years no less than five trust corporations have been established in various parts of the Province. The necessary result of the competition of so many rival companies in conjunction with the general depression and the subsequent shrinkage in the value of real estate has affected the earnings of the company, which have not increased in proportion to the expansion of the company's work. In the face of these diminished earnings the directors have reduced the dividend for the last half of their fiscal year from 5 per cent. to 4 per cent. Notwithstanding, however, this diminution in their earnings for the past year the directors look forward hopefully to the future. Among the factors which they consider as certain to improve their business they look to the improved condition of the country generally as one of the most important. In its operations as a loan company for the investments of its trust funds, they are already feeling in many ways the benefit of this improved condition of affairs, notably in the prompter payments of interest on their loans, and in the readier sale of the farms and other real estate in their possession. The high commercial and legal ability and standing of the gentlemen who compose the directorate of the Toronto General Trusts Company and the acknowledged business capacity and experience of its managing director are of themselves sufficient to secure for the company the confidence, indeed, which it largely enjoyed from its first organization.

Stomach Trouble

Stomach trouble is the common name applied to a derangement of the system which is keenly felt but vaguely understood. It may mean inability to retain food or to digest it. It may mean nausea, pain after eating, fullness, inordinate craving for food, or entire lack of appetite. Whatever it means, there's trouble, and it's with the stomach. If you have stomach trouble, you will be interested in this letter from a man who had it and was cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For nine years I suffered from stomach trouble. I tried the aid of the best doctors of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, and spent large sums of money, all in vain. One day while waiting a train in Bellaire, O., I picked up a paper with a notice of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I got one bottle to try it. It did me so much good that I purchased five more bottles. I took four of them and gained in flesh, my appetite improved, and now I can eat anything. My stomach is all right, thanks to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—CALVIN M. STEVENS, Uniontown, Pa.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

"Yes, we can ride up to South Park, and canter up and down the lake front. It makes me think of the the seashore, but it is nothing to my darling Santa Cruz, with its beautiful sunsets."

The thought of her island home in the Caribbean Sea suggested another.

"I'll write a letter to Lena Hanser, and tell her what a lovely time I'm having," she said. "That will take the whole evening."

So Stella set off, feeling happy and contented. Edith had not gone to Mrs. Derwent's so soon as Stella had to her situation, for the old lady had been feeling rather ill, and preferred not to change until she was herself again. She had insisted, however, on paying Edith wages from the day she was engaged, so the latter was satisfied, and occupied her time learning her way about the strange city.

"I shall make Edith laugh when I tell her that Mr. Jameson wished me to come in a carriage," said Stella, as she rang the bell.

There was a side entrance, which was used by the help and their friends, but Stella was not aware of the fact.

The door was opened by the parlor-maid whose place Edith had come to fill. She saw a lady, and fancied she was a visitor of Mrs. Derwent's.

"Walk in," she said pleasantly.

"I wish to see Miss Edith Sloan," said Stella.

The girl looked puzzled.

"I think you are mistaken," she began, but Stella interrupted her.

"My friend only came today; I think she is parlor-maid."

"Oh, yes, Edith, I didn't know her second name," said the girl. "Excuse me; come this way."

As the two girls crossed the wide hall, the billiard-room opened, and Walter Derwent and Waddy Marshall walked out. Walter's cold face lighted up as he caught sight of the girl, who had made a deep impression on him the only time he had seen her.

Stella passed the two men, bending her head gracefully in response to the deep bows they both made.

She then followed the girl to a large back room, which was a sort of place of meeting for the help in the house.

It was very comfortably furnished, and Edith, who sat there writing a letter to her mother, welcomed her warmly, but Stella could not help feeling a little humiliated by the change in her position.

She was agreeably impressed by Walter Derwent's appearance, for say what they will, sages cannot do away with the fact—physical beauty does possess the power of awakening interest; and Walter Derwent was "handsome as Apollo," as Edith had decided the moment she saw him. Men of Walter Derwent's standing in society Stella had been accustomed to meet as equals. Now she was the visitor of one of the servants in his mother's house, and her own position differed only in degree from Edith's. She soon put aside the thought as unworthy of her.

Edith was anxious to learn all the particulars of Stella's new life, and Stella told her that she was pleasantly situated, and made no mention of the scene with Nina Dunlap.

"We are fortunate girls, I think," Edith said. "I was afraid I might be in Chicago for weeks without getting anything to do."

"And you are satisfied with your position here?"

"Yes, quite satisfied; it is the only position I am capable of filling; I could not be a teacher, for I have neither education nor capacity; I would not earn enough as a saleslady to pay my board in a respectable boarding house, let alone earn clothes and car-fare. Here I have a comfortable home, and know that I am safe from all the dangers and risks girls run who are exposed to life in a boarding-house in a strange city."

"You are very wise, Edith, and I hope you will be happy."

"Oh, yes, if I had brought any false pride from home with me I should probably have felt mortified because I had to 'live out,' as they call it, but I did not. When I left home it was for the purpose of making my way. Mother was getting behind every month with the boarding-house, though we both worked like horses. She has gone to live with Aunt Patty, so she will be all right until I can support her."

"Or marry a wealthy man," suggested Stella.

"Yes; wealthy men all marry parlormaids. This rule has no exceptions."

"Sometimes they do."

"By the by, talking of wealthy men, did you ever see 'our sons,' as Mrs. Rush calls them?"

"I saw two gentlemen in the hall—one very tall man, with a golden beard."

"That is our eldest son. He is Mr. Walter. Is he not a credit to us? Really, I have heard so much about his engagging qualities as a baby that I begin to feel as if I had raised him."

"He is fine-looking."

"Really, you put it mildly. I think he is the professional beauty of Chicago."

"Was his brother the man with him, with the evil leer, and course, common face?"

"No, that is Mr. Wardwell Marshall. He is the proud husband of a bride who finds nothing in America to compare with Paris."

"Is she French?"

"She is a Parisian from Milwaukee, where her father owns what my friend the printer called a 'beer foundry.'"

"And she loves the old world?"

"Exclusively. Now you don't mean to say you are going?"

"Yews, I must not stay too long. I forgot to tell you that I might have arrived in a carriage."

She then related Mr. Jameson's polite offer, over which the two girls enjoyed a hearty laugh.

Stella left the house by the side door and stood for a moment chatting with Edith, who felt disposed to tell her about Harold Dutton's request to be informed of her movements.

"Perhaps she would be angry," she said, so she was silent.

Stella walked rapidly away. She intended to take a street car.

She had only got a short distance from the house when she fancied she was followed. She wore a vail over her face, and she drew it still closer, and quickened her steps.

"Shall I enjoy the pleasure of seeing you home, miss?"

A hand touched her shoulder and Stella stepped under a street light, and, turning on the man who accosted her, found herself face to face with Mr. Wardwell Marshall.

"What do you mean?" she asked, ahughtily.

A NEW MAN

Paine's Celery Compound
Gave Him a Fresh Existence

HE HAD ENDURED YEARS OF MISERY AND AGONY

Had Given up all Hope and Expected to Die

IT IS THE MEDICINE FOR YOU POOR SUFFERER

You Cannot be Disappointed if You Use Paine's Celery Compound

Wells & Richardson Co.,

Dear Sirs:—I can conscientiously recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all who may be suffering from dyspepsia and liver trouble. For years, while living in Black Brook, I suffered from a complication of troubles, and was so bad with dyspepsia that I could not touch a morsel of food. I found it difficult to sleep, and what little I did get was often broken with horrid dreams. Intense sufferings from liver complaint added to my load of agony; I also had dizziness, pains in the back, and was pale, haggard and despondent.

I kept doctoring and dosing without deriving the slightest benefit, and finally gave up all hope of getting well. One day my daughter, who had read of a wonderful cure by Paine's Celery Compound, begged me to try one bottle of the medicine. I told her it was no use to throw away money, but she pleaded so hard that to please her I bought a bottle, and before it was used up I felt better. Encouraged so much I continued with the medicine and improved every day.

I am now cured, thanks to Paine's Celery Compound the greatest medical discovery in the world. I urge all who are suffering to try this grand medicine and test its virtues.

Yours very truly.

Bustard Shares the Clemency Extended to Dr. Hamilton

Kingston, May 26.—Constable William Bustard and Dr. Wm. Hamilton of Toronto, serving a term in the Kingston Penitentiary for attempted criminial operation, will be liberated on June 28. They were sent down from Toronto in 1896 for a term of three years. Good conduct allowance cut their term short.

L. Davis, sent to the Kingston Penitentiary from Owen Sound in 1895 for arson, has been pardoned and left the institution.

HEALTHY STOMACH!

Happy Man!—Nothing Experimental About Using the Great South American Nervine—What it has done for Thousands it can do for you.

Here are Strong Words from a Reliable Business Man—Read Them.

I have been a great sufferer from Indigestion and dyspepsia. I tried many remedies but obtained very little relief. I saw South American Nervine advertised, and concluded to give it a trial, and I must say I consider it the very best medicine I hav ever used. I obtained great relief from the first few doses. I have only used two bottles, and am happy to say it has made a new man of me. I strongly recommend it to fellow-sufferers." C. PEARCE, Dry Goods Merchant, Forest, Ont.

JAPAN'S PROGRESS

The Franchise to be Extended to Increase the Number of Voters Five-fold

Yokohama, May 26.—Premier Ito has introduced a bill lowering the standard of franchise, increasing the number of voters five-fold, and increasing the members of the House from 300 to 472.

CRUEL SCIATICA.

Incessant Pain—Tormented—Racked—Life Despaired of.

John Marshall, Varney, P.O., Co. of Grey, writes these strong words: "For two years I was completely laid up with sciatica. I doctored without any permanent relief. I had given up hope. A friend saw the notice of a cure of what seemed a parallel case to mine, by South American Rheumatic Cure, and knowing my little faith in the efficacy of any remedy, he procured a bottle himself and brought it to me. I took it, and, to make a long story short, it saved my life. In a day or so I was out of bed, and in three days I was able to walk to Durham, a distance of four miles, to purchase another bottle. I am now entirely cured."

Postal Clerk's Assault on an Inspector—The Investigation Begun at Kingston

Ottawa, May 26.—Judge Senkler of Lincoln, who was here yesterday left last night for Kingston. He has gone to act as commissioner for the Dominion Government to investigate a rather serious dispute which took place between two officials of the Postoffice Department.

Hopkirk is chief clerk in the Kingston postoffice. Merrick, at one time member of the Ontario Legislature, and afterwards an immigration agent in Ireland, is at present postoffice inspector for the district. He and Hopkirk had a disagreement. Merrick says that Hopkirk attacked him with a chair in a violent manner. In reply to this Hopkirk says that Merrick bespattered him with all kinds of abuse which provoked the assault.

Merrick and Hopkirk are both well known in Ottawa and the outcome of the proceednigs will be watched with interest. Judge Senkler is to start taking evidence to-day.

Kingstonians Going to Klondyke Plan to Grow Rich Without Digging

Kingston, May 26.—On Saturday Joseph Swift, Frank Hartley, and E. J. Donoghue leave for Dawson City. They sent forward six cars of first-class provisions some time ago, and these they will take to the Yukon on the steamer Laurander. They go via St. Michael's.

The Kingstonians take the provisions on the advice of Judge McGuire, who claims there is more gold to be obtained in a consignment of provisions than in digging for it. The men will return in the fall. The consignment consists, of meats, flour, dried fruits, dissicated vegetables, canned goods, tobaccos, drugs and hardware supplies.

AN ALASKA TRAGEDY

Fears of an Indian Uprising—A Band near Lake Tagish

San Francisco, May 26.—A special from Skaguay says:

A tragedy that may be the forerunner of an Indian outbreak took place last Monday on McClintock river, which empties into the lower end of Lake Tagish.

The Indians shot and killed Wm. Meehan and wounded Thomas Fox, both white men.

Fox escaped, and reports that there were about eighty Indians, mostly armed.

KIDNEY WAR.

How Insidiously it Wages, but how Quick the Surrender, and how the Flag of Truce is Hurriedly Hoisted when that Great General, South American Kidney Cure, Turns his Guns on the Disease.

This is what James Sullivan, of Chatham, Ont., writes: "For years I was a great sufferer from Kidney trouble. The disease became so acute that I was confined to the house, and was greatly inflicted with insomnia. I was persuaded after using many other remedies without relief to procure a bottle of South American Kidney Cure. I had relief almost from the first dose. I have persisted in its use, and after using six bottles I am well and strong again. I can work fourteen hours out of twenty-four and feel very little, if any, fatigue. It is the best medicine I have ever used."

Sold by H. S. McDonald.

For Sale or To Rent.

That valuable property situated on the corner of Bethune and Edinburgh streets, for sale or to rent. Parties intending to purchase or rent a handsome and commodious residence should not fail to inspect this place. The house is a four storey brick, 32 x 42, fitted up in modern style, with every convenience, such as city water, bath room, electric light, first class outbuildings, including stable for three horses, driving shed for six rigs, ice house, etc. There is a fine lawn and vegetable garden attached to the house, also a number of fruit trees and shrubbery. The above property will be sold cheap or leased for a term of years. For further particulars apply on the premises to J. R. Donell.

GIVING AND TAKING ARE TWO THINGS

Oh, it's easy enough to advise a man to do this, that or the other. Advice is cheap as eggs as three pence a dozen. Cheaper—for it doesn't cost a halfpenny. It may be good or it may be bad; I'm not saying anything on that. It isn't the giving advice, it's the taking it, and trying to act on it—there's where the shoe pinches. When I said to my friend Higgins the other day that I wasn't feeling very fit he advised me to knock off work for a year and take a trip around the world. He said, "You can get a Cook's ticket, which includes, etc, etc.

'Higgi'ns you talk like a fool," said I, walking off in disgust, I couldn't go and he ought to have known that.

For the same reason Mr. Robert Lavender was not able to use the advice his doctor gave him. Yet the doctor's advice was very good, in and of itself. And Mr. Lavender's case is the case of the vast majority of us. It seems that in July 1877, he was ill with inflammation of the bowels. He might have died with that without any trouble; but, fortunately, he recovered—at least partially. Still, he wasn't the man he had been. He was weak, low, and miserable.

"I was so much reduced," he says, "that I hadn't even the power to dress myself. In fact, I was so weak that I could walk only a few yards without ehlp. What little I ate gave me no strength, for after eating I had so much pain at my chest and uneasiness in my stomach that I got no relief until I vomited it all up again. The doctor said my liver was out of order, but the medicine he gave me took no effect. After I had suffered about two months in this way he recommended a change of air, and I went to my native place, Littleport, in Cambridgeshire. There I stayed five weeks, and returned home a trifle better, but was soon as bad as ever.

"Then the doctor gave me more medicine and ordered me to go to the seaside. But there was sufficient reason why I did not act upon his advice: I could not afford it. Owing to my having been so long away from work the money was naturally getting low. If there was no help for me except a trip to the seaside, why I should have to wait until the disease made an end of me. He might as well have ordered me to take a voyage to Australia and back for my health.

"But there was an alternative; and my wife was the one to think of it. She remembered that her brother, Mr. George Taylor, who lives at the Pit, at Throckley, was cured of a serious illness, after the doctors had given him up, by Mother Seigel's Syrup. It was a happy thought. My wife wrote to London for the medicine, and as soon as it was received I began taking it according to the printed directions.

"After having used one bottle I felt much better; my appetite picked up, and food agreed with me and digested without giving me any pain or distress. I was so cheered and encouraged by this that I continued taking the Syrup, and in a few weeks was back at work, as well as ever. My wife, who had suffered from indigestion and great weakness, also used Mother Seigel's Syrup and it has made a new woman of her. She is now stronger and better than she has been for twenty years. I will answer any inquiries that may be made about my case. (Signed), Robert Lavender, 204 Mount Pleasant, Throckley, near Newcastle-on-Tyne, October 19th, 1894."

Thus we see that, after all, Mr. Lavender had only to stop at home and take Seigel's Syrup to be speedily and thoroughly cured of his disease, which was acute indigestion and dyspepsia. It was a process at once simple, easy and cheap. More people than you can count have adopted it with the same results. Even if our friend could have gone to the seaside it is doubtful if it would have done him any good. Mother Seigel's Syrup is better than salt air for some things.

TESTIMONIALS:

The following are a few from scores as testimonials the Sergt-Major has from people who have used this preparation:

I have used Kenny's Hair Restorer for dandruff and falling out of my hair. It has removen the dandruff, and a few applications prevented my hair falling out. Three bottles of Kennys Hair Restorer has restored the hair on my head to its original state. I can in justice to the manufacturer recommend Kenny's Hair Restorer from my own experience as the best remedy I have ever heard of for the prevention and cure of baldness, and I am sure it will accomplish all that it is claimed for it if properly applied as directed.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

THE TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS COMPANY

The sixteenth annual meeting of this company was held at their offices on the 23rd. instant. Mr. John Hoskin, Q.C., LL.D., the President of the Company, occupied the chair, and among those present were Sir Frank Smith, W. H. Beatty, E. A. Meredith, W. R. Brock, R. Jaffray, Samuel Alcorn, T. Sutherland Stayner, James Henderson, J. K. Osborne, H. S. Howland, Alfred Hoskin, A. P. Burritt, Amelius Irving, Ed. Galley, J. G. Scott, A. B. Lee, F. C. Jarvis.

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The Directors of the Toronto General Trust Company beg to submit their sixteenth annual report, which, with the accompanying financial statements, shows the operations of the company for the year ended 31st March, 1898.

The new business committed to the care of the company for the year amounts to $2,569,825.48, being the largest aggregate both in value and in the numbers of estates, of any year in the company's history.

The very varied character of this large volume of new business will be better shown by an examination of the following summarized statement, namely:—

Administrations	$ 162,397.46
Administrations with will annexed	30,190.00
Trusteeships	572,081.93
Executorships	188,679.99
Guardianships	60,077.39
Receiverships	54,500.00
Estate Management Agencies	236,323.88
Liquidatorships under winding-up act	1,100,000.00
Committeeships	21,787.02
Sinking Fund Management	30,000.00
Investment Agencies	113,787.81
	$2,569,825.48

In addition to the new business thus summarized the company has, during the year, been appointed trustee for the issue of bonds and debentures for a large amount, as well as for the performance of other duties, which may ultimately lead to permanent work.

Notwithstanding the business of the company has so largely increased during the year, and that it has in the aggregate assumed such large proportions it will be observed that the net profits have not correspondingly increased. The establishment of five new trusts companies during the past two years, with the keen competition thus created for certain classes of business and the great reduction in the rate of interest as well as the provision that has to be made to meet losses have largely reduced the net profits of the year. The assumption of such a volume of business necessitates the employment of a large and competent staff, even although the transaction of some of it is not attended with corresponding profit.

The profit and loss statement herewith submitted shows the sources from which the revenues of the company are derived and the charges against such revenues. The net profits for the year after making provision for every ascertained or estimated loss amount to $28,039.09. Out of these net profits your Directors have declared dividends during the year of nine per cent on the paid-up stock, amounting to $22,500 and have carried forward to the credit of profit and loss $5,539.09.

At the beginning of the year there stood at the credit of the contingent account the sum of $54,656.78 and during the year $10,154.58 has been written off for ascertained losses, leaving still at the credit of contingent account $44,202.20.

Under the provisions of the Loans Corporation Act it becomes necessary to change the close of the company's fiscal year from the 31st of March to the 31st of December, and the necessary action to that end has been taken.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN HOSKIN,
President and Chairman of the Executive Committee.
J. W. LANGMUIR,
Managing Director.

Dr. John Hoskin, in moving the adoption of the report, said:—The statements submitted to you are, as usual, very voluminous and give indication of the very large amount of work involved in the conduct of the company's transactions. The Managing Director has repeatedly endeavored to curtail the number of statements which accompany the Annual Report, but when it is considered that we had to deal with a large number of estates closed up during the year, and with over twelve hundred estates still remaining in the company's hands, all having more or less active accounts, it will be seen how difficult it is to reduce the number.

The report informs you that during the year the company has been entrusted with over two and a half millions of new business, which is the largest amount assumed in any year since the establishment of the company in 1882.

The aggregate of the company's business is now close upon $15,000,000, comprising every conceivable kind of asset, and any shareholder who has had the management as executor or trustee of one or two small estates can readily form an idea of the care and anxiety, as well as the enormous labor, connected with the administration of estates and business aggregating this large amount. When it is considered that five or six new trust companies have been established within the last two years, and that some of them have been very actively canvassing every part of the Province for business, I think I am warranted in saying that no better evidence can be furnished of the good repute and excellent standing of the Toronto General Trusts Company than a simple statement of these facts.

We have passed through a very long period of serious depression, which, as you are all aware, has been more severely felt in its results, by private individuals as well as corporations, in connection with real estate mortgage investments. I advisedly use the words "we have passed through," firmly believing, as I do, that we have seen the end of the depression, and that everything now apparently points to a restoration of at least fair prices and better returns for real estate.

During the past year it was considered desirable to appoint a sub-committee of the Executive to enquire into the condition of the mortgage securities held by the company. The work was done in a very exhaustive way, and while we cannot and do not claim exemption from losses, the results of the examination have, on the whole, been very satisfactory. Of the properties that have come into the company's hands during the depression, nearly $100,000 worth have been disposed of during the year, without great loss, and we have every reason to hope that we shall be equally or even more successful in making sales in the current year.

Coming now to an examination of the profit and loss sheet, I may at once state that, notwithstanding the largely increased business of the company, and although our compensation for the management of estates has, owing to the increased volume of work, been greater than in any year, still our net profits have been considerably reduced. The explanation of this is one that will readily be understood by every shareholder and more particularly by those who are directors of loan companies.

This company has all along assumed the most drastic measures in its treatment of mortgages in default, which are held for its capital and guaranteed accounts by ceasing to take interest into its profits the moment that such default assumed a permanent form. As a result of this method, a very large amount of interest has been for the past five years excluded from profits. We had, as the report shows, a contingent fund of over $50,000 to meet losses at the beginning of the year, and after writing off all losses that had been ascertained, we start the year with over $40,000 at the credit of that fund.

Owing to the loss of interest referred to, some of which it is hoped will only be temporarily suspended, the profits of the company have ben very considerably reduced. For this reason it has been thought advisable by your Board of Directors to reduce the dividend to 4 per cent. for the half year.

The usual examination of the business and securities of the company has been carried on quarterly by the Inspection Committee, which, with the inspection and audit by the auditors appointed by the shareholders, constitutes the most effective system of security for the public that exists in any company, so far as I am aware.

Mr. Vice-President Meredith, in seconding the adoption of the report said:

If we analyze the extraordinary increase in the new business assumed by the company during the past year we shall find that it is due to the growth of our proper business as a trust company, and not to our business as a loan company for the investment of moneys. It will be found, moreover, that the increase has been caused, not by the acquisition of a few large trust estates, but of a large number of comparatively small trusts. The number last year being nearly double that of the preceding year, we could not have more conclusive evidence of the growing appreciation by the public of the value of the services of the company or of their confidence in the way its work is done.

The net profits of the company have unfortunately, not increased with the growth of our business, but we are, I think, warranted for many reasons some of which have been mentioned in looking to better results in this respect during the current year. We are all rejoicing in the fact that the country, after a protracted period of depression, has apparently entered upon a new era of prosperity and one which, if we do not misread the signs of the times, we may hope to be of even longer duration than the cycle of hard times from which we are just emerging. It cannot but be that this improved condition of affairs will prove an important factor in improving the business of the company. We are, indeed already feeling in many ways its benefits, notably in the prompter payments of interest on loans, and the readier sale of farms and other real estate in the possession of the company.

In conclusion, therefore, I think we may look forward with a resonable confidence, not only to a steady increase of our business during the year, but to a satisfactory profit and loss sheet at its close.

The election of Directors was then held and resulted in the re-election of John Hoskin, Q.C., LL.D.; E. A. Meredith, LL.D.; Hon. Sir Frank Smith, Senator Cox, W. H. Beatty, W. R. Brock, B. Homer Dixon, George Gooderham, Aemilius Irving, Q.C.; J. J. Foy, Q.C.; H. S. Howland, Robert Jaffray, A. B. Lee, J. W. Langmuir, J. G. Scott, Q.C.; Samuel Alcorn, T. Sutherland Stayner and John Bell, Q.C.

At a subsequent meeting of the new Board of Directors, Mr. John Hosikn was elected President, Messrs. E. A. Meredith and W. H. Beatty, Vice-Presidents, and the following directors were appointed members of the Executive Committe:—John Hoskin, Q.C., LL.D., Chairman; E. A. Meredith, LL.D.; Hon. George A. Cox, W. R. Brock, A. B. Lee, J. G. Scott, Q.C.; T. Sutherland Stayner, J. J. Foy, Q.C., Robert Jaffray and W. H. Beatty.

The Inspection Committee of the preceding year was re-elected, viz.: Vice-President, W. H. Beatty, Chairman; Messrs. H. S. Howland and Aemilius Irving, Q.C.

Lindsay Cheese Board

Victoria county cheese board met in the council chamber Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Buyers Whitton and Flavelle were present, but as only 109 boxes were boarded by seven factories out of 23, it was decided to hold them over till the next sale on Tuesday, June 14th, when the whole of the May make will be offered. A very interesting discussion took place relative to the establishment of a butter factory in Lindsay.

Horses for the U. S. Army

The proprietor of the Oriental, Mr. Geo. N. Graham, has received a letter from a firm in Chicago asking him to undertake the purchase of one thousand horses for the United States army. The horses that would be required would be a well bred animal, from 15.1 to 15.3 in height. It might not be practicable to secure that many suitable horses in this immediate vicinity, but the fact that so many horses will be required will be good news to farmers who have horses that will fill the bill.

Auction Sale of Groceries

E. F. Mason & Co. will offer for sale by auction on Saturday night, May 28th, the balance of goods left over from the fire sale. The goods to be offered include general groceries, teas, canned goods, pickles, fruits, fish, etc. In particular the teas are very fine and extremely good value. Much of the stock is practically undamaged, but must be cleared out at once. There will be no reserve whatever. The sale will be held in the flour and feed store next to Mason & Co's newly re-fitted premises. Don't forget the sale begins at 7 o'clock p. m. John Haggart, auctioneer.

A Generous Gift

Senator George A. Cox, of Toronto, has offered to provide money for the purchase of a suitable house in Ottawa for the headquarters and home of the Victoria Order of Nurses. An announcement to this effect was made by Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen at the Executive meeting of the Women's Council. A committee of gentlemen is to be appointed to select a suitable house, and as soon thereafter as possible, the nurses of the Order will be installed in their new and permanent home.

Mr. T. Z. Webster, who has been a baker, confectioner and restauranter for the past ten years in Lakefield, has determined to place his business on a cash basis. He also wishes to do away with the delivery end of his trade, and as an inducement thereto he will sell the 14c loaf hereafter for 12c. The price, of course, is regulated by the present price of flour, and subject generally thereto; of course, if delivery is demanded the old price will have to be paid. All those who wish to call for their bread and pay cash can save 2c. a loaf.

Music on the Graphophone

Few people appreciate the marvelous powers of the Graphophone as an entertainer. It is an instrument which though it costs much less than the least expensive musical instrument, will enable its owner to have at pleasure music of any kind—from that of a bagpipe to that of a grand military band. It reproduces vocal selections and gives one command of every pleasure that appeals to the sense of hearing. No investment pays such large returns in pleasure. Besides reproducing these musical and other records made for entertainment purposes, the Graphophone will record immediately and reproduce at once and as often as is desired, your own words or song, or any sound. By writing to Columbia Phonograph Co., Dept. 60, 313 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., you can obtain a catalogue that will give full information as to prices of Graphophone outfits.

Ashburnham Court of Revision

At a meeting of the Ashburnham Court of Revision, held Thursday, the following business was transacted:

The Dickson Co. appealed to have the assessment reduced on the mill recently occupied by J. Walter Green, which was burned.—Assessment reduced from $2,0000 to $1,000.

Robt. Pollock asked to have his assessment reduced from $575.—Assessment reduced to $525.

The assessment of Block E, west of Lake street, was transferred from the Mark Burnham estate to Jacob Doupe, as tenant.

Jas. Telford's tax assessment was struck off, he having no dog.

The assessment of F. Waldon's dog was confirmed.

THE ISOLATION OF A CHILD.

I once knew a dear little mother,
With a beautiful blue eyed boy.
She constantly bathed and brushed him,
And when he had tired of a toy
She would take it and scald it and scrape it
And lay it away in the sun,
And that is the way she took care of
His playthings, every one.

Pent up in his own little playhouse
The baby grew peaked and pale,
And there were the neighbors' children,
All dirty and happy and hale.
If the baby went out for an airing,
The nurse was to understand
That none of the neighbors' children
Was ever to touch his hand.

But they did, and the injured mother
Brought the dear baby inside
And shut him up in his playhouse,
Where the little one fretted and died.
Then the torn heart turned to the Virgin,
And this was the weight of her prayer:
"O mother, dear, don't let him play with
The other angels up there!"

MR. JORDAN'S MONEY.

The Former United States Treasurer Once Narrowly Escaped Arrest.

Ex-Treasurer Jordan frequently amuses his friends by telling of an exciting experience he had while treasurer of the United States. Mr. Jordan occasionally indulges in joking remarks uttered with a serious countenance. It was the indulgence of this proclivity while connected with the treasury department that came near resulting in his introduction to a pair of handcuffs and incarceration in a dingy cell. Mr. Jordan had occasion to make a trip to New York just at a time when a new $5 bill was issued by the bureau of engraving and printing. It happened that the treasurer on the day of starting on his trip drew a portion of his salary, and the cashier handed him a bunch of the new $5 bills, which had reached the office within an hour. When he arrived in New York, Mr. Jordan proceeded to purchase some needed articles and handed the clerk one of the new bills. The clerk had never seen money that looked like that bill, which was spotless and uncrumpled by handling. He examined the alleged money and the man who gave it to him with equal care. Mr. Jordan watched him with suppressed amusement and remarked in a matter of fact way:

"It's good money. I made it myself."

That was enough for the clerk, who went to the cashier's desk with the bill. There was a hurried conference and a message was sent to police headquarters over the telephone. In a short time a couple of detectives in citizens' attire were standing on either side of the treasurer of the United States. They waited there to watch developments, fumbling their handcuffs in their pockets. In the meantime the cashier studied the new bill further, looked carefully over his counterfeit detector and rummaged through treasury circulars relating to the issuance of money. Finally he came across a description of the new $5 bill which was to be issued by the treasury department. His message had not yet reached the clerk, who was exchanging significant glances with the detectives and watching Mr. Jordan, when the latter, getting tired of waiting for his change and realizing that his new money was probably puzzling the cashier, produced his card. At the same moment the cashier's message that the money was not counterfeit reached the clerk, the detectives wandered off with crestfallen countenances and the treasurer proceeded to the nearest bank, where he exchanged his new bills for money that had passed through a thousand hands and was far from being sanitary.—Washington Star.

An Unpleasant Rencounter.

A shabby man with morose, intellectual features and a well dressed man whose countenance bespoke refinement coupled with a genial disposition rather than with mental power found themselves side by side in a Columbus avenue car.

"Why, Ned!" shouted the prosperous looking man as his kindly eye fell upon his neighbor.

"That's my name," the other grumbled, with anything but welcome in his look.

"How are you, old boy? I have not see you—let me see—since we left college. It's nearly six years, by George!"

The seedy passenger grunted and looked nonplused.

"Well, how is the world treating you, Ned?" the demonstrative man pursued, more intimately than ever.

"Worse than you anyhow," his classmate snarled, jumping to his feet and abruptly disappearing from the car.

The successful man looked sheepish, and as if by way of setting himself right before the other passengers he proceeded quite audibly:

"I pity him, poor fellow. He was one of the brightest in our class, but he never had system in his work or any tact in his dealings with the other students. He always knew any lesson but the one he was called upon to recite, and he would read a lot, but not the books he wanted for his college work, and he always managed to be out of sorts with some classmate or other, if not with the whole class. Still, he is the most honest and good natured fellow you ever came across. I don't know what he is doing, but I have heard he is in pretty hard luck."—New York

The past week has been marked by the demand for "War Eagle," "Iron Mask," "Cariboo McC.," "Josie," "Deer Park," "Monte Christo," "Van Anda," "Tin Horn," and "B. C. Gold Fields," all of which are being held very steady, and we think at present prices are good investments. The market has been very steady considering the unsettled state of industrials owing to war rumors.

We are pleased to note that "Cariboo" (McKinney) has paid another dividend of 2c, per share ($16.000), and after paying this they have still on hand about $38.000.

The recent strike on "Deer Park" has stiffened the stock considerably, and we look forward to an advance in price at an early date.

The last copy of the "British Columbia Mining Record" gives some valuable information relative to the "Van Anda Copper and Gold Mining Co.," who are now negotiating with the City of Vancouver in connection with the erection of extensive smalting works. We consider this stock at present figures well worth picking up. This paper also gives some information regarding the recent strike made upon the "Tin Horn." We think this stock a good buy at present prices.

The last issue of the weekly "Rossland Miner" states that the new gallows frame of the "War Eagle" cost $25,000, and will be when completed, one of the largest in the world. We are pleased to see by the same issue notice that work has been commenced on the properties belonging to the "Big Three" Company (which adjoin the "Northern Belle"), viz. the "Southern Belle" and "Snowshoe," while the "Mascot" is already being developed by a large force of men.

Probably the largest deal consummated in Canada for some time is that of the "Le Roi," which we understand has been sold to the British-American Corporation for $3,000,000. Canadian investors will be pleased to note that British capital is seeking investment in Canadian mining securities.

We would advise clients to send in their orders for "Frontenac Lead Mining and Smelting Co," stock at once, as negotiations are now pending by which the whole of the unsold block of stock will be withdrawn from the market. We unhesitatingly recommend it as a profitable and safe investment.

The GRAPHOPHONE

Most fascinating invention of the age. Always ready to entertain. It requires no skill to operate it and reproduce the music of bands, orchestras, vocalists or instrumental soloists. There is nothing like it for an evening's entertainment. Other so-called talking machines reproduce only records of cut-and-dried subjects specially prepared in a laboratory, but the Graphophone is not limited to such performances. On the Graphophone you can easily make and instantly reproduce records of the voice, or any sound. Thus it constantly awakens new interest and its charm is ever fresh. The reproductions are clear and brilliant.

Graphophones are sold for $10 and up

Manufactured under the patents of Bell, Tainter, Edison and Macdonald. Our establishment is headquarters of the world for Talking Machines and Talking Machine Supplies. Write for catalogue.

A Young Hero

A young lad named Joseph Pyman, of Lindsay, was driving a butcher cart near the river and saw a boy struggling in the water. He dropped his lines, and bravely plunged into the river and after a hard struggle succeeded in keeping his drowning companion above water till assistance arrived. It was a brave deed, and the Lindsay council should reward the boy, as well as secure for him the Humane Society's medal.

THE STEAM ROLLER AND BRIDGES' BY-LAW

Will be Submitted to the People on Tuesday, 28th of June

The By-law for the Abolition of the Ward System to be Considered at the Next Meeting of the Council—Steps Taken to Protect Town Trees and Parks from the Caterpillar Pest

A special meeting of the Town Council was held last night.

The following members were present: Mayor Davis, in the chair; and Councillors McWilliams, Cobb, W. H. White, Allen, Best, J. M. White, Denne, Dawson, Robertson, and Langford.

Committee of the Whole

The Council went into Committee of the Whole for the consideration of a money by-law for building bridges and purchasing a steam roller, and also a by-law for the reduction of the number of councillors to ten and the abolition of the ward system.

Mr. Sylvanus, of the Sawyer & Massey Co., of Hamilton, manufactures of steam road rollers, addressed the Council on behalf of the company he represented, and answered numerous questions relative to the steam rollers manufactured by his company. He showed conclusively that a steam road roller was much cheaper to operate than the one at present in use, to say nothing of its immense superiority in every respect. It was an impossibility to have good macadam roads without a modern steam roller.

The Caterpillar Pest

Councillor Dawson called the attention of the Council to the great need there existed for some action being taken to check the caterpillar pest. He suggested spraying with a solution manufactured by Mr. John McKee, which he said he had been given to understand was deadly.

The Mayor said he had used the solution and found it perfectly satisfactory.

The matter created considerable discussion and was finally left for the Council to deal with.

The Steam Roller and New Bridges

The Mayor accepted the responsibility of bringing, without notice, the Bridge and Steam Roller By-law before the Council at its last meeting, but didn't consider that he should have been accused of having any personal object in view in not having previously brought the matter before a committee. He had no interests to serve except those of the ratepayers and his action was purely disinterested.

Councillor Langford thought that all were unanimous in believing that the new bridges were neded, and if any difference of opinion existed it was probably on the question of purchasing a steam roller. He had visited Kingston on the 24th, and while there had made a thorough inspection of the streets and their cost of maintainance. He found that the entire expenses connected with the strets, including water, light, etc., reached only $9,000 and that the smallness of this sum was due to permanent walks and the use of a steam roller. Kingston had the name of being old-fashioned, but they were away ahead of, Peterborough in respect to walks and roadways. Peterborough's condition in these respects was disgraceful. He thought a steam roller should be purchased. It would mean a great saving of money and would materially assist in raising the town—so far as its strets are concerned, at all events—from the position of a third-rate village.

Councillor Dawson was opposed to the purchase of a steam roller. He was in favor of weighting the present roller up to the required standard, and running it with a traction engine. As to the new bridges to be erected, he believed in building them and getting the money by by-law next January.

Councillor W. H. White thought as it only cost a trifle to run a steam roller, and as the roller at presnt in use did poor work when in operation and owing to the great cost of operating simply prohibited its use, he certainly was in favor of purchasing a steam roller. The town could save money and at the same time vastly improve the strets.

The By-law was finally reported on favorably by the Committee of the Whole and sent on to the Council—Councillors Dawson and Cobb voting against it.

Abolition of the Ward System

The abolition of the ward system and the reduction of the number of councillors was next taken up.

Councillor Langford referred to the abuses resulting from the ward system. Many Councillors worked for the ward they represented to the detriment of the town as a whole. These Councillors appeared to have no other object in view than to pave the way for their re-election. If the ward system was abolished and the Council elected by a general vote better men would be elected and the town generally benefitted greatly. Any Councillor who would oppose this new legislation would have himself to blame if he was accused of cowardice—fear as to whether he could be elected outside his own ward or not.

Councillor Robertson was opposed to the By-law. A lot of dudes who could not be elected in a ward wanted to get seats in the Council and by legislation, such as that proposed, hoped to accomplish their ends. He had no doubt that when this time came the dudes thus elected would form a little mutual admiration society of their own.

The matter was finally left over to the regular meeting of the Council.

Council Meeting

The Council then went into session.

On the second reading of the By-law to raise $10,000 for new bridges and the purchase of a steam roller, the following motion in amendment was submitted:

Moved by Councillor Dawson, seconded by Councillor Cobb, that the clause relative to the purchase of a steam roller be struck out.

The amendment was lost,—the mover and seconder alone voting for it.

The By-law then received its second reading.

It will be submitted to the people on the 28th of June.

Moved by Councillor McWilliams, seconded by Councillor Denne, that Councillors Best, Allen, Cobb and Langford be appointed a committee to take such action as they may deem necessary to destroy the caterpillar pest on the trees of the streets and parks of the town; that the Mayor consult the Town Solicitor as to whether the Council has power to compel property owners to destroy caterpillars on their premises and to submit his reply to a special meeting of the Council on Monday evening.

The Council then adjourned.

ARRESTED AT MONTREAL

Harry Ross, Accused of Burglarizing the Times, Will Arrive here To-morrow, in Charge of One of the Local Force

Our readers will remember that some few weeks ago the Times bookstore was burglarized, the gas meter broken into and other depredations committed. Suspicion fell on Harry Ross, a bookbinder employed in the Times bindery and a warrant was accordingly issued for his arrest. The local force, however, were unable to locate Ross, and some time later it was learned that he had fled across the lines to Uncle Sam's domains. It was supposed he had gone to Buffalo and the police there were duly notified. The Montreal authorities were also notified but nothing could be learned of his whereabouts.

Yesterday evening Chief Roszel was notified by the Montreal chief of police that Ross had been arrested and would be held awaiting the arrival of an officer to bring him to Peterborough.

A member of the local force will leave to-day for Montreal and Ross will be placed behind the bars to-morrow.

He will probably receive his preliminary hearing on Monday.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Mr. Geo. J. Sherry, of Norwood, was in town yesterday.

Miss Staples is home from a visit to Millbrook.

Mr. A. F. Wood, ex-M. P.P., Madoc, was in town yesterday.

The Hon. Chief Justice Armour was in town yesterday on private business.

Mr. Walter Mills, Mayor of Ingersoll, was in town yesterday, the guest of Mayor Davis.

Mrs. W. F. Ferguson, of Stratford, is visiting her mother, Mrs. R. Meharry, Aylmer street.

The Misses Morrow have returned from Millbrook, where they have been visiting Mrs. and Miss Needham.

Capt. McInnes, of Orillia, owner of the new large commodious steamer Isay, was in town yesterday.

Mr. James H. Brown, Inspector of Factories, was in town yesterday, and favored the Times with a call.

Miss Aggie Patterson has returned home after spending a pleasant week in Lindsay with her uncle, Mr. R. J. Menzies.

Mrs. W. H. Wrighton, McDonnel-st., is spending a couple of weeks in Pembroke with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Ross.

Miss Lizzie Scott, daughter of Mr. W. Scott, Ashburnham, who has been visiting friends in Galt for the past couple of months, has returned home.

Lindsay Post: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robertson and two children, of Peterborough, spent the 24th with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Goodwin. Mrs. Robertson is still here.

Mr. A. D. Griffin, acting principal of the Woodstock Collegiate Institute, and Mr. M. Cameron, student, are in town to attend the funeral of the late Miss Fair.

The many friends of Dr. D. M. Anderson, who graduated M. D., with honors in April last, will be pleased to learn of his success in securing the position of surgeon on board the R. M. S. Empress of India. He is a son of Mr. D. Anderson, formerly C. L. A., Apsley, and brother of Professor H. B. Anderson, of Trinity Medical College.

Mr. J. S. Knapman, local manager of the Bell telephone exchange, has received notification of his appointment as district manager for the company in this district, which includes a territory from Meaford on the north and west, Lake Ontario on the south and Burleigh Falls on the east, in which there are about eighty exchanges.

Mrs. J. W. Garvin left on the 11.35 C. P. R. train yesterday morning for Montreal, where she will sail on the Allan Line steamship for England. Mrs. Garvin will be accompanied by Miss Jessie Munroe, Provincial Secretary of the Sabbath School Association. Mrs. Garvin and Miss Munroe are delegates to and will attend the International Sabbath School convention, which is to be held in London in July. They will return about the end of August.

Broke a Leg

Thursday evening, "Phil." Taylor, a young son of the gate-keeper at the Edison works, fell off a waggon and broke his leg.

Death of Mrs. J. McElroy

Eliza Hill, widow of the late John McElroy, died at her residence in Port Hope on Wednesday last aged 91 years. The deceased lady, who was one of the oldest residents of Hope township and was highly respected, was the mother of Mrs. J. W. Maybee, of town.

FOR WATERTOWN, N. Y.

Two Select Companies of the 57th. Batt. May Celebrate Independence Day in Uncle Sam's Domains

While in Kingston, the 57th Batt. received an invitation from the 39th Separate Co., of Watertown, N.Y., to visit that place on July 4th, and join in the celebration of Independence Day.

While in Kingston the 57th and 39th were close friends and the invitation resulted probably from this fact and the recently formed friendship for Britons and Britain.

Last night a meeting was held in the drill hall to consider the invitation and a committee composed of Captains Miller and Matthews was appointed to look into the details. All present were in favor of the trip, which will likely take definite form within the next day or two.

It is proposed to take two companies—each 40 strong—of picked men, and also the bugle band, which will be greatly strengthened for the occasion. An excursion will also be run in connection with the trip.

There is every probability that proposed trip will take material form within the next few days.

—Mr. T. Cavanagh has received a communication from the agent of the U. S. Government at Chicago regarding the purchase on a number of horses suitable for cavalry purposes for one of the Chicago regiments. The letter states that Mr. Cavanagh was recommended as a good judge by Mr. Thos. Dunn, formerly of town.

—Something should be done to prevent small boys from smoking cigarettes. It is bad enough for young men to injure their constitution by the habit, but mere children should not be allowed to. There are hundreds of lads between the ages of ten and sixteen who continually smoke cigarettes. If they cannot get money to buy them, they pick up stubs on the streets.

They Want the Best

Mr. Thomas Sothern, proprietor of the house of that name in Millbrook, was anxious to secure a Peterborough daily paper, and was advised to take the Times, as it was the best Peterborough paper. He says that the best is none too good for the guests of his house. Mr. Monte Wilson, of Perrytown, also sent an order for the daily Times, as he is anxious to keep thoroughly posted. Everybody reads the Times.

Looking Over the Streets

Yesterday Mr. W. Mills, Mayor of Ingersoll, and Mr. Geo. Norton, of London, Ont., were in town making an inspection of the streets. Mayor Mills is president of a Granolithic Pavement Co., operating in Western Ontario and Mr. Norton is the practical manager of the concern. The company desires to tender for the pavements for George street and Water street, for which specifications have been made, and came to town to look over the field and consider all the circumstances in connection. They were entertained by Mayor Davis and Councillors Best and McWilliams.

Mayor Bennett of Lowell

Heartily Endorses This Testimonial--Hood's Sarsaparilla Triumphant in a Severe Test

The testimonials in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla are worth reading because they tell things worth telling. Just spare a few moments to read this statement below:

No man is more favorably known in and about Epping, N. H., than Mr. Joseph Stokes, the husband of the lady referred to. His word is as good as a U. S. bond, and every statement from him or his family may be most implicitly relied upon. Read this:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—For fully twenty years my mother has been seriously troubled by a sore on her nose. For some time we thought it of a cancerous nature, and it was removed three times. A physician in Boston said the sore was not a cancer, but

"A Catarrhal Sore."

It discharged and was, of course, very annoying as well as painful. Sometimes it was as large as a half dollar, and it was necessary to keep it bandaged and protected most of the time. About two years ago the sore seemed to be spreading over her face, and was larger than when the Boston physician removed it. There is no question but that its origin was in

The Scrofulous Humor

with which my mother has always been troubled. Two years ago she decided to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a faithful trial, also using, as an outward application, Hood's Olive Ointment. It was soon noticed, to the joy of the family, that the sore was diminishing in size and was becoming less troublesome. This encouraged her to continue the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. She took 11 bottles, and now

Her Face is Well.

The sore has entirely disappeared, leaving not a scar, but only a slight mark, which we think may in time totally disappear. It is such a comfort to her and such a joy to the rest of the family that we feel indebted more than we can express, to Hood's Sarsaparilla, that she has been cured after twenty years of suffering."
MISS E. A. STOKES, Epping, N. H.

From Mr. Stokes.

"I am glad to say that the cure of my wife is exactly as stated in my daughter's letter above." JOSEPH STOKES.

Hon. J. W. Bennett,

Mayor of Lowell, takes pleasure in voluntarily adding his endorsement to the above testimonial, as follows:

"I know the parties referred to in the letters above, and endorse them as thoroughly reliable. I have known about this case for some time, and am glad this testimonial has been sent to C. I. Hood & Co." J. W. BENNETT, Lowell, Mass.

A Hot Chase off the Coast of Newfoundland—Reforms for the Philippines—A Spanish Vessel Runs the Blockade—No Reliable News of Cervera—The Spanish Torpedo Gunboat Terror Escapes the American Fleet—No Battle Yet

(Special Despatches to the Times, 4 a.m.)

CERVERA'S FLEET ESCAPES

Port au Prince, May 28.—A despatch received here from Monte Cristi, on the north coast of Santo Domingo, reports that a Spanish squadron has been sighted near there. It is believed to be Admiral Cervera's fleet making its way to Porto Riko. This despatch, however, lacks confirmation.

REFORMS FOR THE PHILIPPINES

Madrid, May 28.—In the Chamber today one of the deputies questioned the Government respecting the submission of the rebels in the Philippine Islands. He urged reforms and amnesty and that the chiefs of the insurgents be deported to Spain. The Minister of the Colonies, Senor Romero Girca, said that an enquiry was proceeding with a view of granting amnesty to the most deserving of the rebel prisoners and that inquiry would also be necessary before reforms could be granted.

ESCAPED THE AMERICAN SHIPS

Port Au Prince, May 29.—The Spanish torpedo gunboat Terror, according to advices received here, has arrived safe at San Juan de Porto Rico, having escaped the American warships which have been on the lookout for her since she left Port De France Island off Martinique, where her boiler tubes were repaired.

RUN THE BLOCKADE

Madrid, May 29.—It was announced here to-day in a despatch from Havana that the warships of the United States which have been blockading Santiago de Cuba disappeared yesterday off that port, their destination being unknown to Spanish authorities. Advcies received here to-day from Havana say that a big sailing ship from Barcelona having on board a cargo of provisions and arms arrived yesterday at Newvitas. The northern part of the city of Porto Principe, capital of the Cuban province of that name after running the blockade.

NO RELIABLE NEWS OF CERVERA

London, May 29.—It is semi-officially announced that reliable news regarding the whereabouts of the squadron of Spanish ships commanded by Admiral Cervera is not obtainable. But it is rumored that the Spanish vessels left Santiago de Cuba yesterday. No official confirmation of this rumor can be had.

A HOT CHASE

St. Johns, Nfd., May 28.—The telegraph operator at Trepassy shortly after 7 o'clock this evening wired as follows: "Three strange vessels, apparently warships, have been manouevring off here since 5 o'clock. Two of them are large steamers, apparently cruisers, and the third is a smaller steamer, much faster than the others, probably a torpedo boat destroyer. The latter is within a couple of miles of shore, apparently keeping in neutral British waters. The others are two miles further off dodging smaller craft. Crowds of people witnessed the spectacle, until the fog closed down covering the ocean, but the whistles of three steamers are still heard in the offing."

The magistrate at Trepassy telegraphed later that three steamers were plainly visible off there. The vessels were sighted first about five o'clock crossing the horizon in a westerly direction at a rapid rate of speed. They remained in sight until about seven o'clock, when they ran into a fog bank and were lost to view.

THE CORRESPONDENTS RELEASED

Key West, May 28.—The U. S. gunboat Woodbury arrived here this morning, bringing Hayden Jones and Chas. Thrall, the newspaper correspondents captured by the Spaniards in Cuba and exchanged off Havana for Lieut.-Col. Vincette de Cortiji, Surgeon-Major Julian and two servants, Spanish prisoners, who have been confined at Fort McPherson, Atlanta.

WHAT THE WAR COSTS.

Washington, May 28.—The Secretary of War has sent to Congress an estimate of deficiencies in appropriations fort he Quartermaster's Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, and available until January 1, 1899, amounting to $11,000,000. The items of the estimate are: Regular supplies, $1,000,000; incidental expenses, $200,000; barracks and quarters, $200,000; horses for cavalry and artillery, $1,000,000; army transportation, $9,000,000. This increases the total amount appropriated and asked for to date on account of the war to $312,285,000.

DEWEY IS IN GRETA NEED

Captain of the Zafiro Reports Him Short of Provisions

Nearly 500 Prisoners Have Been Captured on the Various Prizes of War—The Spanish Cadiz Fleet Sails

Hong Kong, May 28.—There is absolutely no truth in the report that the United States cruiser Baltimore, now at Manila, has been damaged by an internal explosion. The U.S. auxiliary cruiser Zafiro, which arrived here at midnight yesterday, reports that Rear-Admiral Dewey is short of provisions and ammunition.

NEARLY 500 PRISONERS.

Key West, May 28.—Of the 446 persons captured on all the prizes of war, 444 attached to the Spanish navy in various capacities, will be held as prisoners under instructions from the Attorney-General to-day. The others will probably be paroled. All are to be treated with the fullest consideration and accorded every possible privilege. The ships held to be legitimate prizes will be sent north to be sold. The naval reserves who arrived from Chicago yesterday will be distributed among the ships of the fleet.

CADIZ FLEET SAILS.

Madrid, May 28.—9 a.m.—It is officially announced that the Spanish reserve squadron, commanded by Admiral Camara, has left Cadiz. But, it is added,t hat before going to its destination, the squadron will manoeuvre probably for several days in the open sea, afterwards sailing immediately "for the Philippine Islands, Cuba or the United States, as the Government may judge most opportune.

The squadron is understood to be composed of ten or twelve vessels.

IS SCHLEY A DEWEY?

Cape Haytien, Hayti, May 28.—A rumor has reached here of an important United States success, but no confirmation of the report can be obtained here.

Since the rumored arrival of the Spanish fleet at Santiago de Cuba, no news has been received, though the cable between this place and Santiago de Cuba is intact. The significence of this mysterious silence is not known, and excites great wonder. No explanation is furnished.

The theory that the Spanish admiral allowed himself to be bottled up in the bay of Santiago de Cuba is not entertained here. On the contrary, the Haytien officials say it is far from likely that such a thing has occurred.

It is hoped that the message from Commodore Schley will soon be received.

EVADED THE AMERICANS

Admiral Cervera Outmanoeuvered by Commodore Schley

Has Succeeded in Completely Concealing His Movements, Though His Opponents Have Seventy Vessels in the West Indian Waters

London, May 28.—A despatch to The Daily Telegraph from Kingston says: Despite the most energetic search the whereabouts of the Spanish Cape Verde squadron remain unknown to the American authorities. On Thursday last Cervera was reported to be at Santiago de Cuba, and Schley left Key West for that port. The next morning I learned where the squadron was bound and was enabled to follow, aboard the British ship Premier. Since then we have been engaged in a fruitless search for the Spaniards in the gulf and the Caribbean Sea.

Monday morning we came up with the American ships off Cienfuegos and learned that Commodore Schley believed Admiral Cervera was in the Cienfuegos harbor, but owing to the nature of the port it was impossible to learn from the sea whether this information was correct.

The American squadron, which consisted of the battleships Iowa, Massachusetts and Texas, cruisers Brooklyn and Marblehead, and gunboats Castine, Vixen, Eagle and Dupont, maintained a close blockade of the entrance. The topmasts of three or four large ships, could be seen in the harbor over the promontory which conceals the entrance, and it was believed that these were the Vizcaya and the other cruisers under Cervera.

INSURGENT INFORMATION.

Tuesday evening the Cuban insurgents sent a boat with positive information that the Spanish fleet was not in Cienfuegos harbor, and just after sunset Commodore Schley's squadron sailed away southeast, bound for Santiago de Cuba. We followed in the Premier and despite a heavy gale from the southeast, kept in touch with the squadron until 4 o'clock Wednesday. A severe rain squall then hit the vessels, and when it cleared we found they had altered their course and disappeared. We stood along toward Santiago, but as the gale increased in severity and our supply of coal and water was dangerously low, the Premier was obliged to run for Kingston where she arrived on Friday at 6 o'clock. After losing touch of the fleet we sighted the United States gunboat Hawk returning from Cienfuegos and Santiago de Cuba with the news that the Spanish fleet under Cervera was not at Santiago. I am afraid that there is little chance of meeting the Spanish fleet. The probabilities are that Cervera, after discharging ammunition and supplies for Blanco at Santiago, put out again, and ran down the Caribbean to Martinique and got out into the Atlantic by the same way he entered.

In this way it appears the Spanish fleet has completely outmanoeuvred the American commanders and has succeeded in concealing its movements though the Americans have seventy war vessels patrolling the West Indian waters. It is reported that severe fighting took place between the insurgents and Spaniards near Cienfuegos on Sunday, in which the Spaniards lost 300 killed and wounded.

PROVISIONS WERE LANDED.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 28.—The latest advices from Porto Rico say that freighters recently landed at San Juan considerable provisions. From the same authority it appears that war preparations continue.

It is reported that after the bombardment Spain offered to send warships to Porto Rico from Martinique, but the offer was refused because of the confidence of the military that they could successfully repulse the American fleet.

The Spaniards at San Juan declare that they will burn the city before they will surrender. It is impossible to ascertain which cable or cables the auxiliary cruiser St. Louis cut.

GUNS LOADED AND READY

The Signal Corps on Gunboats Always at Their Posts

Strict Guard Maintained at Tampa in Expectation of the Appearance of the Spanish Fleet—Prepared for All Emergencies

Port Tampa, Fla., May 28.—A correspondent telegraphs: Everything at Port Tampa to-day has a more warlike aspect. During yesterday afternoon and last evening six more transports and Clara Barton's hospital boat, the State of Texas arrived in port, and are now anchored about a mile off the docks. The ten transports previously here occupy all the wharf room. Six guns of the Eighth Battery, 2nd Regiment of Regular Light Artillery, have been posted on the wharf, and ranged on the entrance of the harbor, about two miles ahead of the small gunboats, the Bancroft and Helena.

A strict guard is maintained, and secret service officers stand at the different points before the entrance and along the pier. They very diligently interview any strangers who may be seen loitering about.

The batteries are fully manned, and the guns loaded. A good stock of ammunition is in readiness in sheds behind the cannons, and a sharp lookout is also constantly kept on the dock. The signal corps, on the gunboats and on land are always at their posts. Evidently the reported nearness of the Spanish fleet, and the uncertainty as to the result of Sampson's engagement, has caused the Government to take these steps, so as to be prepared for emergencies.

THE SUSPICION GROWING.

New York, May 28.—The suspicion that Cervera's fleet is no at Santiago is now growing to a conviction. It is probable that the Spanish fleet has not been there for four or five days. Cervera is probably on the high seas, but noting is known regarding her whereabouts.

ANNOYING GREAT BRITAIN.

New York, May 28.—A despatch to The World from Madrid says: The concentration of troops at Spain's southern ports from Cadiz to Malaga is serving a two-fold purpose.

In the first place the Government is catering to public sentiment by annoying Great Britain.

Secondly the Ministry is making the people believe that some deep design is harbored by which these forces and the reserve fleet will be shortly in the direction of the West Indies.

The new Foreign Minister, the Duke Almodovar de Rio, who knows England thoroughly, and the Minister of War and of Marine do not like these concessions to the patriotic papers, but the Cabinet is so sorely divided that it is doomed to another reconstruction soon, and is obliged to live from hand to mouth.

HOSPITAL BOAT.

The hospital boat, the State of Texas, is one of the largest vessels in the harbor. She is painted a dull black, with white facings. A huge red cross on a white background appears boldly on either side, about ten feet from the bow.

There are now five thousand volunteers camped at Palmatto Beach, Ohio, North Georgia and Michigan militia are represented, besides some heavy artillery from New York State.

There are a great many foreigners in Uncle Sam's service; a fact that was much commented on by the Spaniards before the Manila engagement. They are engaged in different capacities, and always apparently very patriotic to their adopted government. The Sixth Cavalry has a thoroughbred Chinese cook, Lung Gee by name. While walking over this camp yesterday we beheld the Celestial perched upon an upturned lard tin, stirring some tasty looking broth, and singing at the top of his thin voice, in broken English, and with many false notes, the favorite soldiers' song "All Spaniards Look Alike to Me."

The following transports are now loaded with supplies and await the troops: Miami, Decatur, H. Miller, Concho, Almo, Comial, San Marcus, Berkshire, Florida, Alleghany and Olivette.

THE CITY OF WASHINGTON.

The steamship City of Washington arrived yesterday. This was the ship that was lying in Havana harbor, close to the battleship Maine, when that ill-fated vessel was destroyed. She was the object of great interest to sightseers yesterday. The steamships Vigilancia and the Iroquois came in last night, and the Cherokee is expected to-day. Most of these new arrivals were fitted up for the accommodation of troops and horses in New York harbor, and all were provided with an abundance of water and supplies preparatory to taking on troops at short notice.

Seated in the shade of palmatto tree a trooper in one of the volunteer cavalry regiments sat and slowly pulled the white petals from a Marguerite daisy. He muttered as each waxy section fluttered to the ground. "She loves me, loves me not." Yet his air was one of certainty. He was not made alternately happy or dejected as the petals fell, but watched with an unmoved expression. If there was any doubt as to the final result of the daisy test, he did not wait to see. He tossed it away after half of it had been sacrificed, and assumed a comfortable attitude; an attitude loaded with confidence and pride, which expressed his belief that "She loved him," and that his country was proud of him, and loved him too.

And indeed he has good reasons to feel certain that he merits the sympathy and praise of every true American. It must be remembered that these men volunteered their services, and that it was not for the mere novelty of the affair or the Government pay that they left good positions and comfortable homes to carry a gun and camp in Cuba. They knew that they should have to face all manner of hardships, and be constantly shoulder to shoulder with death in the shape of yellow fever. They enlisted because they felt it was their duty to do so, and because they wished to avenge the Maine.

ANOTHER MASSACRE

In Africa—Rev. and Mrs. McGreer Barbarously Slain

(Special to the Times.)

London, May 28.—The Governor of Sierra Leone cables to the Colonial Official here that the Rev. and Mrs. McGrew, the American missionaries, were massacred about May 8th at Taiama, near the scene of the other massacres. The Governor's information comes from Col. Woodgate, the commander of a British West African force, which has just captured Taiama with the loss of three men killed and five wounded.

LOOTING THE MISSIONS

Fresh Outbreaks in China Against the Anglo Saxons Reported

London, May 28.—According to a special despatch from Shanghai, the "American" mission at Tung Chou, near Wu Chou Province of Kuang Seo, on the Hong Kiang, has been looted and burned by a mob in a riot that broke out against the foreign element.

It is believed that the "American" missionaries escaped.

The United States Counsel at Canton, Mr. Edward Bedloe, has demanded that the viceroy of Quang Tung send troops to Tung Chou to suppress the disorder.

An anti-European riot occurred at Sha Shi, China, in which the British Consulate, customs house and the stores of Jardine, Mattheson and Co., and Butterfield & Swire were destroyed by fire. The British Consul was severely beaten, and the European residents were forced to take refuge in the tea and silk hulks lying in the river. No one was killed.

Sha Shi is a large city on the Yang Tsei Kiang river, about 100 miles from its mouth. It was one of the ports that was opened to foreigners after the Chinese-Japan war. The feeling against foreigners is still very bitter.

Two British gunboats had been ordered to Sha Shi.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 30, 1898

A DANGEROUS BOTTLE

The contents of that "bottle" at Santiago de Cuba may prove a very deadly dose to the United States. If Cervera cannot get out, neither can Sampson or Schley get in. The passage which is too narrow to allow the Spaniard to take the sea is apt to be too narrow to allow the Yankee to take the Spaniard. It is to be remembered also that the Spaniard is at the business end of the harbor, and that the wires to the mines in the harbor are in his hands.

The Spanish admiral therefore might easily keep the United States fleets hanging about the Santiago harbor until he should be reinforced by the fleet from Cadiz. If that fleet were to leave Spain and cross the Atlantic and appear off Santiago, the United States fleets would be taken between two fires. They would be caught between two Spanish fleets, which there is no present reason to believe are of an inferior class in any conceivable respect of armament. The result of such a meeting might easily be a naval battle of the most prodigious and direful proportions.

But if the Cadiz fleet were to leave Spain, cross the Atlantic, and make straight for the United States coast cities, the United States fleets must divide their forces. One part would have to go north to prevent the devastation of the coast. The other part would remain to look after Cervera, and it would not be likely that Cervera could be looked after unless the blockade of Havana were abandoned.

Cervera may be in a "bottle," but the bottle may burst and cut Jonathan's fingers.

INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP

The cordial relations now existing between Great Britain and the United States are new on one side only. For many years John Bull has been willing to meet Uncle Sam more than half way in a thorough reconciliation, but has met with little encouragement. Canadians have sometimes felt that the British Government in its intercourse with the American was in danger of being misunderstood, but of impairing its own dignity without effecting any useful purpose. Good-humored generosity could expect to meet with no better reward than sullen unconcern.

The state of affairs may be variously accounted for. Conscious of the greatness of their heritage, and familiar with the thought of their invincible power, British statesmen felt that they could afford to be magnanimous. As a smaller and younger nation, the Americans were comparatively self-conscious and sensitive. Just as Chicago continually prates about itself, while New York pursues the even tenor of its way, unconscious of any rivalry, so the United States cherishes the fancy that she has already surpassed the Mother Country in commerce, industry, and warlike strength, while the parent state continues to dominate the world with only a passing thought for the growth of her lusty boy. Further, Englishmen habitually regard the United States with that perfect impartiality which comes from the serene height in which they stand in relation to the world at large, and an entire absence of prejudice arising from old scores. On the other hand, every American from his earliest school days is fed upon hatred to England and everything English. During the past hundred years the Revolution has been continually recalled, and the notion instilled into American youth that the United States is able at any time to "lick all creation." The fact that whenever England fought the American States she was at the same time embroiled with France has been forgotten; or remembered only to encourage intimacy with France or Russia at the expense of Great Britain. Yet further, the two forms of government will account for much of the difference. The British system gives expression to the thought of the best element of the British people. The American system gives loudest expression to the thought of the rabble. The classes which would rule in the United States under a constitutional monarchy are sufficiently enlightened and sensible to see things as they are, and for at least twenty years have favored amicable relations with Great Britain; but under universal suffrage, Congress is at the mercy of "the great unwashed," and the irresponsible multitude can see only with distorted perspective.

Happily, events have brought the truth down to the level of the substratum of the American populace. They cannot but see that if a war with Spain is a heavier task than they imagined, a war with any first-class European power would be impracticable. And they cannot but appreciate that voice in London which holds all Europe in leash until the war with Spain is ended.

If Cervera is bottled up, he's gone. The Americans are adepts with the corkscrew.

* * *

No great advantage will follow the bottling up of the Spanish squadron in Santiago if Admiral Sampson has to use the entire United States navy as a cork for the bottle.

ASKING A BONUS

Cotton Mills at Kingston State Their Conditions to the City Council

Kingston, May 28.—A meeting of the Civic Committee on franchise was held last evening to meet Mr. Walter Barwick and C. N. Whitehead, representing the Dominion Cotton Mills Company. A scheme was presented the committee in behalf of the company. A bonus of $25,000 is asked and exemption from taxation for twenty years. The matter will be further discussed by the committee before a report is prepared for the Council.

KICKED TO DEATH

A Farmer Found by His Wife Lying Dead in a Field

North Gower, Ont., May 28.—Dan McEwan, a farmer residing about half a mile from this village, was found dead by his wife last night. He had been rolling grain in a field and apparently had been unhitching his horses, when he was kicked on the side of the head. When found he was lying between the horses and the roller, but life was extinct.

Shaving a Pursued Bandit.

"I shaved Jesse James, the once noted outlaw, down in southern Kentucky a long time ago," said an old gray haired fellow on the train the other day, "when the man's life wasn't worth a penny. Jesse rushed into my little country place, down in the Red river country, one day in the latter part of December and asked me if I wouldn't shave him while he looked after his colt's revolvers and watched the door. I was not a barber by trade, but those persuaders Jesse had induced me to try my hand with a new Wade & Butcher razor I took out of my showcase. As I shaved, the man of iron nerve sat with a cocked pistol in each hand and told me in a few hurried words that a posse was pursuing him, bent on capturing him, dead or alive, on the charge of robbing a bank at Russellville, a crime, he averred, of which he was not guilty. He wanted his beard shaved off that he might fool his pursuers if they should happen to catch up with him. I finished the job of scraping. The much wanted individual thanked me, and, mounting a horse, which had been hitched in the rear of my store, bade me good evening and rode away. I didn't know for certain who my visitor was, although I suspected it, until the next day, when I heard that a man in the neighborhood was telling that he had seen the elder James the afternoon before. I suppose that was the last shave Jesse James got in Kentucky, and I have never seen him after that day."—Louisville Post.

SPECIAL WAR NEWS

CORRESPONDENT CAPTURED

Key West, May 27.—Mr. E. P. Knight, the correspondent of the London Times, who on Sunday night when seven miles off Havana was lowered over the bow of a despatch boat and rowed ashore in ten-foot skiff was heard from to-day. He has been thrown into prison and is now in the Cabanas fortress. The British Consul at Havana has instituted proceedings for his release.

ALL QUIET AT MANILA

Hong Kong, May 27.—The United States auxiliary gunboat Seafiro, formerly a British merchant steamer but now commissioned, mounting four guns and in charge of a Lieut.-Commander of the U. S. navy has just arrived here from Manila, having on board the captain of the first-class cruiser Olympia flagship of Rear Admiral Dewey and two officers, who have been invalided, the situation at Manila is unchanged. The insurgents are quiet. Beef costs $250 per pound at Manila. The repor that the commander of the Spanish gunboa Callao was tried by cour martial and shot for no firing on the American ships which captured the Callao is untrue. The Seafiro will return to Manila on Monday next.

THE MANILA EXPEDITION

San Francisco, Cal., May 27. — The steamer China, which stopped at Honolulu on her way from the Orient reports that the people of that city were making great preparations to secure the transport fleet which left this city for Manila, and which will stop at Honolulu en route. The town was being decorated with flags and bunting and the freedom of the city will be offered to the men on the steamship. The China passed the transports City of Pekin, City of Sydney and the Australia last night and reports the three vessels as proceeding westerly at Great speed with all well on board.

FIRED ON THE SENTRY AT NIGHT.

Key West, May 27.—Sergt. Charles W. Richards, Battery B, First Artillery, on duty at a mortar battery near Fort Taylor, was fired upon early this morning by three unnkown men whom he says he knows to be Spaniards. The fire was promptly returned, but the men escaped.

The affair, which is involved in a good deal of mystery, began yesterday afternoon, when three swarthy men who looked liek Spaniards, even if they were not natives of Spain, made an attempt to enter the gate of the reservation, but were summarily turned off byt he sentry. No further attention was given to the incident until last night when between 10 and 11 o'clock the sergeant of the artillery guard, near the mortar battery, discovered the figures of three men a few yards ahead of him. Almost simultaneously with the discovery they opened fire on him with pistols. Three bullets whizzed harmlessly past the sergeant, but a fourth lodged in the fleshy part of his left arm, just above the elbow.

The sergeant dropped his raised rifle and before he could raise it again, the men turned and fled out of range. He sent several shots after them and then went for the guard. A sharp lookout was kept for the strangers and soon after midnight a suspicious noise was heard outside the gate near which the mortar battery is located. An investigation resulted in the discovery of a carriage int he street just outside the gate. The sergeant gave orders to fire and a volley was sent at the vehicle. A moment later, three men were seen running up the street and the fire of the soldiers was directed upon them, but without effect, the suspects escaping apparently unharmed. The sergeant declares that on the occasion of the last visit of thue strangers one oft he latter carried a suspicious looking package about three feet long.

COMMODORE SCHLEY'S CHALENGE

Key West, May 27.—Commodore Schley is said to be master of thesituation at Santiago. He sent a message to Admiral Cervera yesterday asking him to come out and give battle or to remain in the harbor and starve.

THE FIRST ACROSS.

Key West, Fla., May 27.—The Oregon is the first American battleship that has crossed the equator. When she passed the line Father Neptune went on board in his legendary garb and performed the orthodox role of the sea god, baptizing every marine with buckets of briny water.

WILL SOLVE THE PROBLEM.

New York, May 27.—The Press says: J. J. Holland, builder of the Holland submarine boat, has gone to Washington with Colonel C. E. Creecey for the purpose of making an offer to the United States Government, which, if accepted, perhaps will solve the problem of how to destroy Cervera's fleet. Mr. Holland will submit his proposition to the Secretary of the Navy at once. He is willing to undertake to sail his submarine boat into the channel of the narrow entrance to Santiago harbor, destroy the mines planted there and, if necessary, proceed into the harbor and deal a few blows at Cervera's vessels.

Mr. Holland declares that his plan to do this is entirely feasible, the boat is in shape and ready for the work and he will agree if the Secretary of the Navy thinks favorably of the proposal, ,to obtain a crtew of volunteers for the woirk.

Allt hat he will ask of the Secretary is the transportation for his vessel and ment o Cuba. Once there he agrees to do the rest.

Mr. Holland proposes to take his boat to Santiago, fitting her out and getting everything in readiness under the protection of Commodore Schley's squadron. Then, when the opportune moment arrives, probably just at dawn, the Holland will start on its mission before it comes within sight of the fortifiactions which frown on both sides oft he entrance, it will sink beneath the surface of the water and steal quietly toward the main channel. When this is reached it will reconnoitre to get the lay out of the minefields, and then, withdrawing to a safe distance, discharge one or more of its sumbarine torpedoes among the mines This is the regular process known as countermining, which is similarly conducted, but by a vessel above the water which lays alongside the harbor mines another series, which, when exploded, opens up the whole channel. Mr. Holland believes that by this method the channel in Santiago could be opened without great difficulty.

He is prepared, if necessary, after this task has been accomplished, to proced in his craft underneath the water into the harbor and attempt to blow up one or more of Cervera's battleships. If the Navy Department has not another plan for disposing of Cervera, Mr. Holland's scheme may be considered.

A BAYONET CHARGE.

San Francisco, May 2?.—Officers of the United States steamer Alert say that vigorous measures had to be taken by the cruiser to secure coal on her recent trip from South America. At Acapulco, a Mexican town, of which half the inhabitants are Spanish, the captain applied to a steamship company for coal. He was told that he could have coal at the rate of $20 per ton in gold, provided $he took it himself, as the company could not deliver. The captain accordingly took posession of a lighter and sent the ship's marine guard to protect the coal passers. When they arrived at the wharf it was crowded with natives, who attempted to prevent the coal leaving the dock. The marines cleared the wharf with a bayonet charge, and then stretched a rope across, loaded their rifles and informed the natives that the first one to cross the rope would be shot. After that 150 tons were loaded on the ship without further molestation. Previous efforts had been made through the consul to secure coal, but without success.

THE MINNEAPOLIS SIGHTED.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 27.—The cruiser Minneapolis has been sighted headed south for Monapaumage. Another warship, probably Spanish, has been sighted in the Bahamas, steaming south.

CANADA TAKES ACTION.

The collectors of customs at the various Canadian ports, including those on the lakes, received instructions this morning regarding the clearance of vessels with contraband of war and the coaling of warships.

"Clearance may be granted to any trading vessel carrying goods in the ordinary course of commerce to a port which is not blockaded, without regard to the kind of cargo.

"When officers of customs have reason to believe that coal, or articles considered contraband of war, are destined for use of the powers at war clearances are to be withheld until a report has been forwarded to the department and instructions issued by the department.

"All coal cargoes destined for St. Pierre, Miquelon, and West Indies are to be reported to the department and clearance is not to be given without instructions from the Customs Department."

250,000 CURED.

Thousands of young men are made nervous wrecks, unfit for business, social pleasures or home duties by evil habits in youth, later excesses, or private diseases. W. C. Andrews, of Akron, O., says: "I read this paper and have seen many reports of remarkable cures made by Drs. Kennedy and Kergan. I decided to treat with them. Indiscretion was the cause of my trouble. I was weak and nervous; no ambition; back weak, pimples on the face; thin and haggard; eyes sunken and cheeks hollow; dreams and drains at night; memory poor; varicocele and weak parts, irritable; sinking spells; specks before the eyes; lack of confidence; no energy; and many other complaints. I had tried fourteen doctors, bought four electric belts took scores of bottles of patent medicines—all failed. I tried the New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, and it cured me. I am a Man Again. I have gained twenty-six pounds and am strong mentally, physically and sexually. It is a wonderful treatment."

Blood Disease—with the worst symptoms: Ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, blotches, eruptions, hair fallen out, bone pains, eyes red, stomach troubles, sore throat, etc., positively cured forever. You dare not marry unti cured. Cures guaranteed or no pay.

STELLA STERLING.

BY JULIA EDWARDS.

"Why, what I say, of course. You are too pretty to be running about the streets alone.

"Stand back, and allow me to pass. I know you; you are the man who has been dining with Mrs. Derwent in company with your wife.

"Ne'ver mind my wife; she won't trouble us. Come and take my arm, that's a good girl.'

He rudely grasped her hand, after looking up and down the street to see that there were no witnesses to his attack upon the defenceless girl.

"How dare you touch me!" cried Stella, dragging her hand from his grasp.

"My dear, what is the sense of all this fuss? I am sure you would like to form nice gentlemen's acquaintance."

Again he tried to take her hand, but she stepped back, and, raising the umbrella which she carried, dealt the cowardly wretch a stinging blow in the face.

So unexpected was this retort, that he staggered back, nearly measuring his length on the sidewalk, while blood streamed down his evil face.

With a foul oath he sprang after Stella, who was running away, and once more caught her by the shoulder.

"You shall pay me for this, you cursed flirting jade, or I shall have you arrested."

"Stand back, or I shall repeat the blow."

He drew back, but by no means gave up the design he had in view.

Just then an officer strolled around the corner, and came upon the pair. He stared in astonishment, as well he might.

An elegantly dressed man stood mopping his face, which bled freely from a cut over his right eye, while a pale, determined-looking girl stood near.

"What does' this mean?" adskde the officer.

"It means that this woman addressed some remarks to me, and when I told her to go about her business she struck me.'

"That is a lie! This man followed me from Mrs. Derwent's house, where he was a guest at dinner. I called there to see a parlor-maid, who is a friend of mine. He attempted to force me to accept his arm and walk with him, and I struck him with my umbrella and was about to do it again."

The policeman was a truculunt scoundrel, a few of which disgrace the force. He recognized Wardwell Marshall and knew he was rich enough to pay him well for listening to his account of the mysterious affair. He also knew that Marshall was a worthless libertine.

"See here, young woman, that won't do. I guess I know your stripe. If this gent says the word I'll take you to the station house on a charge of disorderly conduct."

Stella looked with contempt at the cowardly traitor to his duty and to all manhood.

""Let me go on my way unmolested, or you will both have reason to regret your conduct." she said, with quiet dignity, which impressed the ruffian in uniform.

"uJst as the gentleman says," he replied, willing to throw the blame on Marshall in case any unexpected 'result should follow.

"I say she—"

At this moment the term he was about to apply to Stella was abruptly shaken out of him. He found himself int he vice-like grasp of Walter Derwent, whose noble nature and trained muscles enabled him to handle the craven as a bull dog might worry a cat.

"You brute, did I not tell you if you dared molest this lady I would knock you down."

Het hrew him from his hand, and if his ally the policeman, had not caught him, Walter would have made good his promise.

As it was, the valiant Waddy kept in the background mumbling out threats explanations and promises of dire vengeance to be executed in the future.

"What share have you taekn in this disgraceful business, officer?" asked Walter, sternly.

""He was about to arrest me on Mr. Marshall's complaint," replied Stella, clearly.

She had put aside her vail soon after Marshall accosted her, for the night was sultry and it seemed to stifle her.

"What!"

"Shure, how did I know? This gentleman here, sed the lady was disorderly, or—"

"Be careful," exclaimed Walter, indignantly.

"I'm shure I beg yer pardin. Shure the lady can tell you phwat he sed."

"He is a scoundrel, and followed this lady from my mother's house, where he shall never be received as a guest again."

"That's what the lady sed, an' I did not know phwat to do, when you kem up; well, I'll have to be goin'."

"Go! and in future try to protect the innocent, or you may chance to lose the star of the force, which you are certainly no credit to."

The gallant defender (?) of the innocent slunk off, and Waddy Marshal followed his noble example.

"Now, madam, permit me to see you safely home, or would you prefer to return to my mother's house and allow me to send you home in a carriage."

"No; if you please, Mr. Derwent, I would prefer to walk. I am not nervous usually, but I admit I feel a little agitated to-night."

"I should think so, the scoundrel,' Walter ground his teeth; "and the policeman was as big a ruffian as Marshall himself."

"He was. It bought a lady might walk alone in a respectable neighborhood at any hour, in an American city, but it seems I was mistaken."

"It is always best for a lady to avoid walking alone after dark."

"All ladies are not in positions which necessitate so much formality."

Stella was not aware of it, but there was a certain tinge of bitterness in her tone which did not escape Walter Derwent.

"I am certain, madam, though I have not the happiness of even knowing your name, that you are a lady by birth and education. I know less than nothing of the position you occupy, but I would stake my life that it is an honorable one.'

"Yes, you are right, and I thank you from my heart. I am a girl who seemed to be fortune's favroite, but in an evil hour reverses came, as they will to the noblest in the world. I am now earning my bread as a teacher. My employer is Mr. Jameson, of No. —— Michigan avenue, to whose house I am now returning. I am the governess of his niece, Miss Dunlap."

"Mr. Jameson, the lawyer? I know him well."

""He is a splendid specimen of the true American gentleman. Dignified, yet kind and courteous to all. He is a man the weakest child would instinctively trust in a moment, and yet the strongest man would never dare tot reat with disrespect."

LITTLE SISTER.

Little sister's prim and sly,
With a keen and knowing eye,
With a bright and roguish glance,
Sharper than a soldier's lance.
At that glance my faint heart goes
Down and hobnobs with my toes.
Can she know the boon I seek—
Why I call three times a week?
How she watches all my moves—
Ah, I hope she quite approves!
And she treats me to such airs,
While my darling is up stairs.

She's discovered why I call!
Little sister knows it all!

—Harry Romaine in Ladies' Home Journal.

SHE THOUGHT IT STRANGE.

Naggley Went Out For His Little Walk Anyway.

Naggley threw down the evening paper he had been reading, yawned and stretched and said he guessed he'd go out for a little while, whereupon Mrs. Naggley said:

"Where are you going?"

"Oh, no place in particular."

"No, I s'pose not. It's anything or any place to get away from home with you. It's mighty strange that you can't content yourself for any length of time in your own home—mighty strange. I was reading this from Goethe today, 'He is happiest, be he king or peasant, who finds peace in his home.' I said to myself when I read it, 'I wish to the Lord Joe Naggley felt more like that.'

"Mrs. Goethe must have been a happy woman to have a husband who could say that. I'll bet a dime she did not have to sit alone evening after evening while Mr. Goethe ripped and paced around anywhere and everywhere, just so he needn't have to be at home with the wife he'd promised to love and honor and cherish, and who had done all she could to make home pleasant for him, and I'll bet Mr. Goethe didn't belong to three or four lodges and clubs that ought to be wiped out of existence, so the members of them would stay at home with their wives, where they belong.

"It's mighty strange that a man can talk so sweet and nice about a home of his own when he's trying to delude some girl into marrying him, and then when he gets her and a home he wants to be on the gad all the time. I say it's mighty strange.

"How many times before we were married did you make me sing 'Home, Sweet Home,' for you, and now if I try to sing it you look as if you'd taken a dose of ipecac. And look at that motto, 'There's no place like home,' that you made me work before we were married so as to have it all ready for our own home. It doesn't appeal to you any more than it appeals to that lamppost out there across the street. I'd like to know why.

"The land knows I do all I can to make home peaceful and pleasant for you. You couldn't scrape up a tablespoonful of dirt in this whole house, and I'll put my cooking against that of any other woman I know of—yes, I'd put it against Mrs. Goethe's even.

"I'll bet that her husband appreciated her a good deal more than you appreciate me, and I'll bet her home wasn't a bit cleaner than mine, nor her— What's that? What did you say about her tongue? I pity the poor woman if she didn't have a tongue.

"There never was a married woman yet who didn't need all the tongue the Lord gave her, and I don't know what I'd do if it wasn't for my tongue, and—Oh, yes; rush off as usual right when your wife is speaking! It shows just bow much you respect her. It's mighty strange how soon men change after they are married—mighty strange!"—St.

Power of the Marseillaise Hymn.

Nothing of the kind in this world can be more impressive than the way in which an audience of 6,000 French radicals receives that wonderful air (the "Marseillaise"), says Colonel T. W. Higginson in The Atlantic. I observed that the chorus of young men who led the singing never once looked at the notes, and few even had any, so familiar was it to all. There was a perfect hush in that vast audience while the softer parts were sung, and no one joined even in the chorus at first, for everybody was listening. The instant, however, that the strain closed, the applause broke like a tropical storm, and the clapping of hands was like the taking flight of a thousand doves all over the vast arena.

Behind those twinkling hands the light dresses of the ladies and the blue blouses of workingmen seemed themselves to shimmer in the air. There was no coarse noise of pounding on the floor or drumming on the seats, but there was a vast cry of "Bis! Bis!" sent up from the whole multitude, demanding a repetition. The moment the first verse was sung through for the second time several thousand voices joined in the chorus. Then the applause was redoubled, as if they had gathered new sympathy from one another, after which there was still one more great applauding gust, and then an absolute quiet.

Nothing Remarkable.

Smith—Hear about the fire over on the West Side this morning? Nine persons barely escaped with their lives. Remarkable, wasn't it?

Brown—I fail to see anything very remarkable about it.

Smith—Why not?

Brown—Well, suppose they had escaped without their lives; then it would have been truly remarkable.—Chicago News.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL AND THE TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE

LATELY in the Toronto Globe publicity was given to a report of the Railway and Transportation Committee of the Toronto Board of Trade, condemning the completion To the Editor of the Morning Times: of the Trent Valley Canal, a work that has been under construction for a number of years. The present and past Governments of the Dominion having pledged themselves to the completion of this most important work, notwithstanding the protests of the Board of Trade, which says that it has by various resolutions been the settled conviction of the Board that the best way of reaching tide water from the western lakes is by the Welland and St. Lawrence canals, and that the expenditure on the Trent Valley Canal is unwarranted as a commercial undertaking, and can result in no practical benefit to the country.

In the first place, wemust consider the composition of the Board of Trade; they are not a representative body in a public sense but composed of men whose interests are in the City of Toronto. True, they may have large commercial or financial interests, but they don't own the country and can see no good in any public work that does not immediately benefit their city. They are men who only represent the commercial interests of a section of country, four miles by two, or abuot eight square miles of territory, who take it upon themselves to condemn the construction of a great public work.

These gentlemen advocate the enlargement of the St. Lawrence and Welland canals, to a depth of fourteen feet. To this the adovcates of the Trent Valley Canal have no objection, it would be much more pleasure to the people of Toronto to be able to see with a telescope from the top of the City Hall any trade that might find its way from the west through the Welland Canal on its course to Montreal than to have it pass through the Trent Valley Canal, seventy-five miles to the north of them. The whole trouble is, Toronto is not situated geographically in the gateway of commerce, hence her desire to head off every public expenditure that does not point in her direction, and especially the Trent Valley Canla, a work when completed that will carry the produce and products of the western lakes and the Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario and thence to tide water. Gentlemen, what about the Toronto and Georgian Bay Canal? If that has been found impracticable for the want of funds and water, why try to stop the Trent Valley and act the dog in the manger or cry sour grapes? What about the Ottawa and Parry Sound Railway side-tracking Toronto, and the proposed Toronto and James Bay Railway with large bonuses and land grants sought after to be controlled wholly in the interests of Toronto? The whole report of the Board of Trade is simply a piece of irresponsible assumption and cheek to defeat the completion of this great work, in which the whole country north and east of Toronto are largely interested.

Now as to the Trent Valley Canal. The distance between Lake Ontario at Trenton and the Georgian Bay by this route is about two hundred miles, assuming that a section of country ten miles wide, each side of the canal and water stretches, are locally and more directly benefitted than more remote sections of country, would give an area of four thousand square miles with a population at least of two hundred thousand as against eight square miles at the city of Toronto, in which are located many towns and villages to be served by the canal, along which is a good agricultural country, with large areas of timber and mineral lands tributary to it, now practically valueless for want of a cheaper outlet than at present exists. It is quite certain that had the outlet of the Trent River been at the city of Toronto, an entirely different report would have been manufactured, and any government would have been denounced that would not have completed a canal on its route half a century ago. The promoters and advocates for the completion of the Trent Valley Canal, take a larger view of its construction than from a local standpoint, and look upon it as forming the shortest possible water route, when completed, between the Georgian Bay and the St. Lawrence. The Board of Trade proceeds to now minimize the whole canal by giving the receipts and expenditures of only a half completed work; the cost to date being stated at two million and twenty-six thousand, three hundred and fifty-five dollars; and the receipts for 1897 at $9522.00, and from this proceed to condemn the whole work; a work that is only partly completed cannot be expected to show a large earning power, and from this proceeds to base a report that the whole canal would no tproduce a revenue sufficient to warrant its completion, a weak and unreasonable assumption and about as unreasonable as to expect a railway half completed and neither end finished to begin to pay dividends as a matter of direct returns of revenue from canals or public works sufficient to pay interest on the cost or outlay. No government expects such returns. If they did, and all government work was based on this principle, there would be no government works or canals built in this country. It is the indirect advantages to the country from their construction that it looked for. What return does the government expect from the giving of railway bonuses, the dredging and deepening of our harbors; the building of light houses; the build, enlarging or deepening of our canals, none of these works paying more than a fraction of the interest, yet they are necessary. How much interest does the government receive from the large amoung expended in Toronto ahrbor, yet works of this kind are being built in this and every other country in the interests of the people, and with the people's money. The advocates of this canal look forward to its completion from Lake Ontario to the Georgian Bay as a whole canal in a proper manner to afford a profitable traffic for barges and other light draft vessels engaged in the carrying trade to all who choose to enter into it. Then it will be time for the Toronto Board of Trade to amend its report whose opposition should be considered of little value when it is considered from where it emanates.

Now to state the case. In the first place there are only two possible water routes for a canal between the Georgian Bay and the St. Lawrence besides the present Welland Canal route which are the Trent Valley and the Ottawa and French River routes. Neither the enlarging of the St. Lawrence and Welland Canal for ocean or any other class of vessels can control the trade of the western lakes down the St. Lawrence, that its advocates claim, while it has to pass through Lake Erie in any expenditure for such purpose the western producer reaps four fifths of any benefit in cheaper competing rates Canada paying the whole cost of the work. Any competition this would produce or forcibly create with the 18 railways, 52 elevators and Erie Canal at Buffalo to New York, would be met by those engaged in the carrying trade from that point of which the western shipper would take advantage, at the same time giving American routes from there to New York the preference. The geographical situation is such that so long as the lake trade of the west has to pass through Lake Erie in sight of Buffalo and the Erie Canal to reach the Welland Canal and St. Lawrence. The Erie Canal and shipping and railway interests at Buffalo are of such immense proportion that every opposition would be given against the St. Lawrence route, which would have to compete and carry produce at less rates via Buffalo and New York before it would find its way down the St. Lawrence. From the geographical situation of the present trade channels via Lake Erie it is and will be impossible for all time even with enlarged waterways to control a reasonable share of the trade of the upper lakes through the St. Lawrence. A evidence of this fact we have only to turn to the trade report of Montreal and Buffalo and the Erie Canal for the past ten years which shows an enormous increase in the tonnage of this latter route over that of the St. Lawrence, which shows comparatively but a small increase. In the items of grain alone the receipts at Buffalo for 1896 were two hundred and fifteen million three hundred and fifty thousand bushels, including flour, grain an average of over one million bushels per day during navigation while for that year the grain receipts at Montreal were only twenty-four million three hundred and fitfy thousand bushels, a small proportion only of this coming through the Welland Canal when we deduct the Ontario and Manitoba grain. The increase of trade at Buffalo coming through Lake Erie in 1896 over 1895 was one million six hundred and seventy-five thousand tons, the increase in grain being over forty million of bushels, a large amount of Manitoba garin going via Buffalo to New York for shipment to Europe. With these facts is it possible to come to any other conclusion, than that the only possible way to control the trade of the Georgian Bay and western lakes through the St. Lawrence is by a shorter and cheaper route through an all Canadian waterway to tide water.

The State of New York recently appropriated nine millions of dollars to enlarge and deepen the Erie Canal, which is now being expended in the work, and a further sum of seven millions of dollars is under consideration, a commission having been appointed to investigate and report on the requirements for further perfecting its navigation. There is also another proposition before the general government at Washington to take over the canal and make it a national work, enlarging it for Ocean vessels, with locks five hundred and fifty feet long, sixty-five feet wide and twenty-eight in depth, two hundred and twenty-five thousands of dollars having been voted for surveys, for a ship canal between Lake Erie and tide water at New York, all for the purpose of making a clean sweep of the trade of the lakes coming through Lake Erie, and if possible scooping in the trade of our own north-west. What then is Canada going to do about it under such a presentation; is she to lag behind and allow our own Canadian trade and that of the western states for which the St. Lawrence is the natural outlet to be forcibly diverted from its natural and shortest outlet, the St. Lawrence, to the detriment of Canada and Canadian commercial interests. During the year 1896 two hundred million feet of sawn lumber was received at Buffalo and thirty-eight millions at Tonawanda, the entrance to the Erie Canal from the upper lakes, nearly all of which was from our Canadian forests, either as lumber or logs taken to Michigan, and sawed, and from there sent on to Buffalo, and from thence east by canal, not even using the Welland Canal to Oswego. If the Trent Valley Canal was completed a large proportion of this lumber would find its way through this canal and thence to Oswego or for shipment to Europe by the St. Lawrence. In addition to lumber, during the same year, there was received at Buffalo, largely the product of our forests in the Georgian Bay district one hundred and three million shingles, one hundred and ninety-six thousand railway ties, three million cubic feet of timber, nineteen hundred and seventy thousand staves, and three thousand seven hundred and seventy-three cords of stave bolts. A large proportion of these and other forest products would also find the Trent Valley its natural outlet, that now, perforce, goes to Buffalo, which has to take the present Lake Erie route. From this showing is it not most important that the Dominion Government should at once give the matter of opening up and completing her internal waterways their most serious attention, especially so in respect to the completion of the Trent Valley Canal route. Then as to distance from Sault Ste. Marie or the outlet of Lake Michigan, the distance to Montreal via the Trent valley, is seven hundred and three miles, and by the Welland canal route nine hundred and fifty fifty miles, making a difference in favor of the Trent Valley of three hundred and ninety seven miles as against the Erie Canal to New York, and by the Trent Valley route the distance to Liverpool is eight hundred and ninety seven miles shorter than by New York. One thing is certain Canada is losing ground in the trade she is entitled to by neglecting or postponing the prosecution of canal navigation for barges and medium sized vessels between the upper lakes and the St. Lawrence through the Province of Ontario. The completion of the Trent Valley Canal would do for Ontario what the Erie Canal has done and is doing for the State of New York, and as a water route, is one hundred and fifty miles shorter than the Erie Canal, and with abundance of water at all seasons would be in every way superior to the Erie Canal, and would have the effect of fixing rates on grain or other products between the Georgian Bay and the St. Lawrence beyond the control of railway combines and at much lower rates than by the Welland Canal or Buffalo routes. With sufficient transportation facilities on the upper lakes connecting with the Trent Valley Canal, and sufficient elevator capacity, there is no reason why the carrying trade of this canal in a few years should not equal or nearly equal the Erie Canal, which carried in 1896 a tonnage equal to ninety-five million bushels of grain, employing thousands of men in the carrying trade. The Trent Valley Canal one completed should become an immense earning power to thousands of people all along the line in the carrying trade and other pursuits connected with its operation, increasing facilities in the way of cheap transport for through as well as local freight for manufacturing industries of all kinds, both for their raw material and manufactured products. With the Trenton end completed and a small section at Peterborough now under contract barges and vessels could pass from Trenton on Lake Ontario to Balsam Lake, the summit level, one hundred and forty miles. The people more directly interested insist on this canal being completed, which will be a benefit to the whole Province; in fact, the whole Dominion, except Toronto, and will be to them ultimately a benefit only they cannot see it in that way, just now. Don't try to strangle the infant; wait until it is full grown and it will take care of itself.

JOSEPH BIGELOW.

Trenton, April 19th, 1898.

AT REST IN THE ABBEY

Britain's Greatest Commoner Honored by the Noblest

A SIMPLE STATE FUNERAL

Obsequies of the Late Mr. Gladstone Celebrated on Saturday

His Grave is Beside that of His Life-long Adversary, Disraeli, Whose Marble Effigy Looks Down Upon it, Decked With the Regalia Which Gladstone Had Refused

(Special to the Times.)

London, May 28.—In Westminster Abbey, in the northern transept, where England's greatest dead rest, the body of the late William Ewart Gladstone was entombed to-day, with the ceremonies of the nation he had served and of the church he had loved.

His grave is beside that of his life-long adversary Disraeli, whose marble effigy looks down upon it decked with the regalia which Gladstone had refused.

HONOR OF THE NATION.

Two future kings of Great Britain walked beside the great Commoner's coffin, and all the nobility and learning of the State surrounded it, though the wish of the deceased had been for simplicity. This official funeral, the first since that of Lord Palmerston, was rendered an imposing spectacle by the magnificence of the building in which it was solemnized. The coffin rested on an elevated bier, before the altar, its plainness hidden beneath a pall of white and gold, embroidered with the text: "Requescat in Pace."

Six tall candles burned beside it, and on either side stood the supporters of the pall. The Prince of Wales and the Duke of York were at the head of the coffin, and ranging behind them were the Marquis of Salisbury, the Earl of Kimberley, Hon. A. J. Balfour, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Duke of Rutland, Lord Rosebery, and Mr. Gladstone's two old-time friends, Baron Rendel and Mr. George Armistead.

THE CLERGY.

Within the chancel stood the Dean of Westminster, and behind him were gathered the cathedral clergy, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the scarlet and white surpliced choir, filling the chapel.

The mourners, who sat in the stalls nearest to the bier, were Mrs. Gladstone, her sons, Herbert and Stephen, and other members of the family, with little Dorothy Drew, Mr. Gladstone's favorite grandchild.

The Princess of Wales and the Duchess of York occupied the Dean's pew, opposite.

In tiers of temporary seats in the north and south transepts were assembled the members of the House of Lords and the House of Commons, the Mayors of the principal cities, delegates from Liberal organizations, and representatives of other civic and political organizations; while the long nave was crowded with thousands of men and women, among them being most of the celebrities in all branches of English life, and every gallery, balcony and niche high up among the rafters, held a cluster of deeply interested spectators. In all 2,500 persons were assembled in the Abbey, all clothed in the deepest black, save a few officials, whose regalia gleamed brilliantly from this sombre background.

BIG CROWDS OUTSIDE.

Thousands thronged the square outside in order to witness the passage of the funeral procession from Westminster Hall. Numerous fakirs mingled with the crowd, hawking Gladstone souvenirs, refreshments and toys.

THE PROCESSION.

The chief officials had assembled in Westminster Hall at 10 o'clock this morning. The Bishop of London, the Right Rev. Mandell Creighton, D.D., read a brief prayer there, and at 10.30 o'clock the procession was formed and slowly passed through the uncovered crowds, and along a short pathway a distance of three hundred yards, to the western entrance of the Abbey, between two ranks of the Eton Volunteers in their buff uniforms.

All euotations suoject to sale or charge.

The past week has been marked by the demand for "War Eagle," "Iron Mask," "Cariboo McK.," "Josie," "Deer Park," "Monte Christo," "Van Anda," "Tin Horn," and "B. C. Gold Fields," all of which are being held very steady, and we think at present prices are good investments. The market has been very steady considering the unsettled state of industrials owing to war rumors.

We are pleased to note that "Cariboo" (McKinney) has paid another dividend of 2c. per share ($16.000), and after paying this they have still on hand about $35 000.

The recent strike on "Deer Park" has stiffened the stock considerably, and we look forward to an advance in price at an early date.

The last copy of the "British Columbia Mining Record" gives some valuable information relative to the "Van Anda Copper and Gold Mining Co.," who are now negotiating with the City of Vancouver in connection with the erection of extensive smelting works. We consider this stock at present figures well worth picking up. This paper also gives some information regarding the recent strike made upon the "Tin Horn." We think this stock a good buy at present prices.

The last issue of the weekly "Rossland Miner" states that the new gallows frame of the "War Eagle" cost $25,000, and will be when completed, one of the largest in the world. We are pleased to see by the same issue notice that work has been commenced on the properties belonging to the "Big Three" Company (which adjoin the "Northern Belle"), viz. the "Southern Belle" and "Snowshoe," while the "Mascot" is already being developed by a large force of men.

Probably the largest deal consummated in Canada for some time is that of the "Le Roi," which we understand has been sold to the British-American Corporation for $3 000,000. Canadian investors will be pleased to note that British capital is seeking investment in Canadian mining securities.

We would advise clients to send in their orders for "Frontenac Lead Mining and Smelting Co," stock at once, as negotiations are now pending by which the whole of the unsold block of stock will be withdrawn from the market. We unhesitatingly recommend it as a profitable and safe investment.

Great Masonic Convention

The Grand Lodge of Masons of Canada has arranged to hold a convention in Toronto on July 18. It is expected that between 1,200 and 1,300 delegates from all parts of the Dominion will be present.

For the Men of St. Peter's

The special mission services, which have been conducted during the past week for women at St. Peter's Cathedral were largely attended and the results most gratifying to the clergy. This week services will be devoted to the men of the parish, the special services beginning this evening at seven o'clock.

Whitsunday Services

Yesterday was Whitsunday and a special sermon on "The Ideal of the English Church," preached by Rev. H. Symonds, in St. Luke's church in the evening. The musical part of the service was particularly good. Mrs. A. Parker sang Mendolssohn's "Hear my Prayer," and "O, for the Wings of a Dove."

LACROSSE.

The Madoc Athletics are anxious to arrange an exhibition match with the Young Torontos or Elms for July 1st at Madoc.

* * *

Freddy Milner, of the Brampton Excelsiors, is said to be playing faster lacrosse than ever this season.

* * *

The Kingston Lacrosse Club will play Renfrew a return game in Renfrew July 1st.

* * *

"Bob" Cheyne, of Toronto, is in goal for the New Westminster team, and is doing great work in the new position.

* * *

Mr. Harry O'Laughlin, ex-president of the C. L. A., will be here to referee the match between the Peterboroughs and the Orillias on Thursday next.

* * *

"Tommy" Wilkinson, an old-time Elm lacrosse player and one of Markham's last year's star players, has come to reside in Orillia, having taken the position of clerk at the Daly House. Mr. Wilkinson will in all probability play on the Orillia team the remainder of the season.—News-Letter.

* * *

The Latimer brothers and Booth are a great strength to the Markham lacrosse team. The town thinks that with Graham and Sanders, the old Stouffvilles, and with the addition of Querrie, Wales and Snell, they will have a team "as is a team."

* * *

The Seaforth Beavers were without a number of their best men at Clinton, when the Young Torontos won. The Jacksons, Bethune and others were playing football in Berlin.

* * *

The triangular fight for the Toronto Junior District championship promises to be of unusual interest, the three teams, viz., Mimico Stars, T.A.C. and Elm II., classing very evenly. The T.A.C., with "Barney" Kelly in the flags, and Farley, Iler and Nichol, will have a splendid defence. "Jimmy" Murray, from last season's Rosedales, will hold down center; Heweston at inside home, and Staples at outside home are three men on the home capable of intermediate lacrosse.

* * *

In the Western District C.L.A., when the clubs cannot agree on a referee, Messrs. McFadden, of Stratford, or R. E. Jackson, Seaforth, will be called upon to officiate.

* * *

According to the revised rules of the Senior League the playing time will be one hour and thirty minutes, instead of two hours as formerly. After games which last three minutes or less no rest will be taken, while after games lasting more than three minutes a rest of five minutes only will be taken.

* * *

The Elm-Tecumsehs will arrange an exhiibtion game on the Island grounds with Orillia some time next month.

WHEELING.

That the C.W.A. Racing Board intends to be very strict in its government of racing men is shown by the following paragraphs of a bulletin just issued by A. E. Walton, chairman:

The Brantford Sporting Club, Brantford, Ont., shall not receive further sanction during the year of 1898 for holding professional races without sanction.

For competing in unsanctioned races at Brantford, May 24th, the following riders are hereby suspended for 15 days from that date: Angus McLeod, Toronto; T. B. McCarthy, Toronto; A. Booke, Toronto; E. Cooper, Brantford; Fred Loughead, Sarnia, and F. Dunbar, Toronto.

CRICKET.

The Cricket Club held a very enthusiastic meeting at the Oriental Hotel Saturday night. The Club proposes arranging a number of matches and putting on a good list of games during the season. Considerable routine business was transacted.

BASEBALL.

The boys' Y.M.C.A. Baseball Club, as now organized—the organization of which appears in antoher column—are open for challenges.

* * *

The senior Y.M.C.A. team had a splendid practice Saturday evening. The club has some good men and will, no doubt, give a good account of themselves during the season.

S. O. E. Band at Lakefield

The Sons of England band, accompanied by a large number of members of the local lodge, went to Lakefield yesterday afternoon to attend the church parade of the Lakefield lodge. There was a large turnout and the parade was very creditable.

More Long Wheat Stalks

The Times yesterday received a bunch of fall wheat stalks of the Clawson variety, from Mr. John Porter, lot 5, 9th concession of Douro, which average 4 feet in length. If you doubt this talk you are at liberty to stalk into the Times office and measure our stock of stalks.

Verdict of Wilful Murder

Ellen Darrah, adopted daughter of one of the Darrahs residing near Marmora, was tried yesterday before Coroner Sutton and jury for infanticide. The jury returned a verdict of wilful murder. The young girl was employed as domestic servant by John Terreon, near Marmora village. She is not considered mentally sound.

The Canoe Season Begun

The first of the season's long list of boating fatalities is reported from Guelph. The machinery is, as usual, a canoe, and three boys who could not swim. Two of them were drowned. The third escaped by clinging to the boat. We may expect to hear that stroy repeated again and again in the news columns during the summer. Often the victim will be feminine, and her escort will cling to the canoe. But it is useless to protest. The ignorant cannot be warned. The deadly canoe cannot be deprived of its victims. People who frequent our back lakes with their little ones, should exercise rigid caution.

If you are not feeling well, why don't you take Hood's Sarsaparilla? It will purify and enrich your blood and do you wonderful good.

—The boys of the Y.M.C.A. have organized a baseball club, with the following officers: Pres, G. H. Williamson; Sec.-treas.—John Laing; Manager, Sanford Hall; Committee, Officers and N. Cameron and E. Best.

—The steamers North Star, Beaver, Eclipse and City of Peterborough were all at the wharf on Saturday. They brought many passangers from down the river and the landing presented a busy appearance.

—Detective Ross, of the C. P. R. created a sensation at Havelock station one day last week, when he attempted to arrest two individuals who were stealing a ride on the noon express. The men escaped, paying no attention to several blank shots fired after them.

—The annual excursion under the auspices of Christ church, Bailieboro, will take place on Thursday, June 2nd, per steamer Beaver and palace scow, from Bewdley to Jubilee and Idyl Wild.

—Victoria County Cheese Board met in the Council chamber Thursday mornnig at 11 o'clock. Buyers Whitten and Flavelle were present, but as only 109 boxes were boarded by seven factories out of 23, it was decided to hold them over till the next sale on Tuesday June 14th, when the whole of the May make will be offered.

—Campbellford's new paper is dead. Mr. Chester, of Clifford, who purchased part of the defunct Gazette plant, and announced by circular that he would this month commence the publication of a paper to be called the Plain'dealer, after summing up matters, in connection with the enterprise, and his chances for success, has abandoned the project and left for other fields.

—The annual field day of Albert College, Belleville, was held on Friday last. We notice by the Toronto daily papers that Mr. J. Girven, of Dummer, was one of the most successful competitors, taking first place in the 100 yards dash, open to all; second in the 100 yard dash, open to students only; first in the half mile run; second in putting the shot; second for high jump, and securing second place for general proficiency.

Ross Remanded

Harry Ross, who is accused of burglary, received a preliminary hearing Saturday night, and was remanded for trial until Thursday, June 2nd. He elected to be tried by jury.

Would this Suit Mr. Stratton?

The Toronto Mail and Empire, of Saturday, says:—"Mr. John Dryden, through his friend, John I. Hobson, is still circulating the petition asking Mr. Hardy to wait upon Mr. Dryden and urge Mr. Dryden to retain the agricultural portfolio. Why does not Mr. Dryden go to Mr. Hardy himself and say that he wants to stay there always, whether he has a seat or not? Or, what is better, why does not Mr. Dryden get Mr. Stratton to resign in his favor."

Our Circulation

It is said that Kohlsaat, of the Chicago Times-Herald, recently offered to pay $5,000 if it should be shown that the circulation of the Chicago Tribune exceeded a certain figure specified. A committee of advertisers investigated and found the Tribune's issue to be 41,628 copies above Kohlsaat's figures. Kohlsaat paid the $5,000. Bully for Kohlsaat. We are willing to wager $10,000 that the circulation of the Times on investigation, has doubled itself in the past three months. Bully for us! Everybody reads the Times.

SUMMER SICKNESS

CAN BE AVOIDED BY USING

MADILL'S

Sarsaparilla Compound

Easily taken and gives most satisfactory results. Every person should use a Blood Purifier at this season. $1.00 expended now may save you many dollars during the summer.
